TWO STILLS TAKEN IN EXTENSIVE RAID OF LOCAL OFFICERS

Hundreds of Gallons of Beer Destroyed in Determined Raid Near the Craven County Line.

DISTILLERS ESCAPE
SHORT TIME PRIOR TO
ARRIVAL OF OFFICERS

Deputies Corbett and Williams Returned to City Last Night With Splendid Capture.

The illicit whiskey traffic in this section of the State was given another effective setback yesterday and last night when county officials succeeded in capturing two large copper stills several miles south of this city. No whiskey was taken at either still, but several thousand gallons of beer were destroyed together with much whiskey in the first stages of distillation. The captures were made by Deputy Sheriffs Corbett and Williams who returned to Greenville late last night and deposited the stills in confiscated liquor cells at the county jail.

The first still was captured during the afternoon in Creeping Swamp, near the Craven county line, and had just been placed in operation a short time prior to the arrival of the officers. Over five hundred gallons of beer was destroyed together with much liquor in the first process of manufacture. The still was of forty gallon capacity, constructed of copper being taken complete with worm and accessories. Operators were warned in advance of the officers' approach and were forced to make a quick exit to carry anything with them.

The night haul was made in the vicinity of Smith's Mill, 13 miles south of this city. The still, an eighty gallon affair, also built of copper, was captured complete with accessories, but the operators succeeded in making way with all whiskey on hand, but not in time to rescue their apparently precious source of production. The officers so far have been unable to bring about apprehension of parties connected with the traffic at either place and were unable to ascertain whether they were white or colored.

The approaching of a new year will witness more than usual activity on the part of county officers against the blockade whiskey element of the section, so it is stated, and unless the traffic becomes suddenly demoralized quite a number of additional stills will supplement the confiscated lot in the county jail. Traffic members have been decidedly wily and ralphine in movement for several weeks, but unless they hibernate in the most remote and isolated sections there is little doubt but they will become victims of a determined campaign to relieve the county of their demoralizing influence.

GERMAN DISTRICTS RESENT ACTION OF FRENCH OFFICIALS

Baden, Wurttemberg and Bavaria Almost Completely Overrun With Refugees from Alsace.

THOUSANDS OF REFUGEES
STRONGLY DENOUNCE PLAN
OF FRENCH GOVERNMENT

Refugees Think Unyielding Policy of Germany Justified France in Recent Action.

Karlsruhe, Germany, Dec. 31.—Baden, Wurttemberg and Bavaria are overrun by refugees from Alsace and consequently the feeling against the French is more bitter here, perhaps, than in any other part of the old German Empire. In the Karlsruhe area all the old prison camps and many barracks are filled with families which were deported from Alsace, or left because they refused to live under the French rule.

Several thousand refugees from Alsace are sheltered in long wooden shacks which formerly housed British prisoners in the main recreation park in the center of Karlsruhe. These former prison have all been converted into residences by Alsacians who have draped the windows with lace curtains and given the wire-enclosed compound a homey appearance by the display of potted plants.

The Alsatian refugees are bitter in their denunciation of the French. They tell tales of how the French expelled families from Strasburg and other cities on the statement of unfriendly neighbors that the suspects have been propagandizing for Germany and working against France.

The Alsatians are especially indignant because German has been abolished from the schools of Alsace, where they say a great majority of the population is German-speaking and will migrate rather than abandon its native language. Refugees from Metz and other parts of Lorraine are less critical about the language question. They admit French was the predominant tongue in Lorraine.

Nearly all the refugees with whom The Associated Press correspondent talked were very sharp in their criticism of the attitude of the old German government toward Alsace and Lorraine and frankly admitted the unyielding policy of Germany toward the two districts afforded the French an excuse for their attitude toward the distinctly German population.

IRISH AUTHORITIES FINALLY ROUND UP LEADING RADICALS

Operation of Police and Military in Dublin Features in Apprehension of Suspects

PRESSURE OF MILITARY
HAS BEEN MIGHTY CLOSE
IN COUNTRY DISTRICTS

Raids of Private Houses Have Been Repeated Again and Again Without Desired Results

Dublin, Dec. 31.—A good deal of the military and police activity in Dublin in ridding all sorts of houses is explained by the fact that the government has rounded into the city many of the suspected men.

There were men in most districts of Ireland who were sought by the police. They were, in the Irish phrase, "on their keeping" and it is a tradition in Ireland that any man "on the run" from the government is entitled to those who disapprove of outrages share this feeling and would be willing to harbor such men without inquiry.

The pressure of the police and military throughout the provinces has been so close that no country district is safe for the fugitives. Some of them have sought refuge in dugouts in the hills, and the risk of receiving them in a house and the terror of a visit from the "Black and Tans" is so great that many of the men suspected have been gradually hunted into Dublin. Here they are diligently searched for day and night and few of them, it is believed, ever spend two nights running in the same bed.

The police are regarded as more than the homes of the sympathizers and hence the frequent invasion by the crown forces of even the best hotels in which the ordinary visitor is startled out of his sleep and with a revolver pointed at him is required to lie still till his identity is satisfactorily established.

"MY HAVANA GIRL" TO APPEAR HERE ON JANUARY 5TH

Jean Tynes in Jimmie Hodges' Latest Production to Play White's Theatre One Night.

The announcement of Morris Telen and Jean Tynes in Mr. Hodges' newest musical show "My Havana Girl," coming to Whites Theatre on Wednesday, January 5th, for performance, will be welcomed with the same joy by musical comedy patrons as the announcement of a big double header of the National pastime for one price of admission. After playing in separate companies for the past three seasons they will be seen again this season for a short tour, in this gem, his latest and best show. "Since leaving the Hodges' attractions, Miss Tynes has been seen and won very favorable comment with Raymond Hitchcock in his 1919 version of Hitchy Koo and last season won new laurels with "McIntyre and Heath in

"Hello Alexander." She will co-star for the Super-Clown Jimmie this season in the towns where they broke all box office records four years ago. Miss Tynes is a woman with not only physical charms but her beautiful voice and graceful dancing has endeared her to a vast clientele of American theatre-goers. They will be assisted in the new show by some thirty-five sterling performers, including Ollie Hodges, a brother of the famous star; Lester Garvey, Charlie LeRoy, Mary Farrell, Flo Hill, a quartette of harmony singers and a splendid chorus of youth and beauty who not only look nice and wear beautiful gowns designed by the premiere modiste Hilaré Mahlu, but were also picked because everyone can sing and dance which makes every musical number rendered a real success.

HOUSING SITUATION REPORTED SERIOUS IN GERMAN CENTER

Over Five Thousand Persons Reported
Homeless in City of Cassel,
Germany

LARGE NUMBERS HOUSED
IN SINGLE ROOM HOMES
IN EVERY PART OF CITY

Police Discover Many Attempts to Evade House Regulations Among
Wealthy Classes

Cassel, Germany, Dec. 31.—In this city of 170,000 population 5,300 persons are without homes, according to the report of the City Housing Commission which is "rationing" rooming houses and hotels in an effort to shelter everybody during the winter months.

Because of the great shortage of houses, due to suspension of building operations during the war, it has been necessary to house large numbers sometimes in a single room. Regardless of ability to pay, the citizens now are compelled to occupy only such room as is absolutely necessary and the extra space is apportioned among the homeless.

The "housing problem," while under the jurisdiction of a special commission, really is controlled by the police who keep a record of dwellings and the number of occupants and report their findings to the commission. The police have discovered many attempts to evade housing regulations. One wealthy woman, who before the war had a fine house and many servants, moved into less pretentious quarters—an apartment of ten rooms. Before a widow without children she was entitled to one room, but to evade the regulations she invited many of her old friends into her apartment, and there they lived, without charge. The police reported her apartment was "fully occupied" and took no further action.

BRITAIN PLANS TO HARNESS WATERS OF SEVERN RIVER

Plan To Erect Power Plant Greater Than That of the Niagara Falls in the United States.

London, Dec. 31.—The British Ministry of Transport has just made public a scheme to harness the tidal waters of the river Severn at a cost of 30,000,000 pounds sterling and to erect a power plant greater than that of Niagara Falls. The Severn divides England from Wales.

The project is an outcome of the efforts of Sir Alexander Gibb, chief engineer of ports and harbors in the British army during the war and the builder of the great naval dockyard at Rosyth. It is calculated that the power plant could produce 1,000,000 horsepower at its peak load capacity and that it would save 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 tons of coal a year. It is claimed that it would revolutionize the whole industry of the west of England and even supply London with cheap electric current.

A concrete dam would be placed across the river creating a locked basin 27 square miles in extent into which vessels could pass through a channel. It is estimated that the undertaking would provide work for 250,000 men for seven years.

In the spring tides the Severn rises 38 feet, the second highest tide after the Bay of Fundy. The fact that tidal waters have never yet been used for the generation of electricity on such a vast scale, coupled with the big estimated cost of the scheme, make engineering experts cautious in expressing views as to its feasibility.

The Times editorially refers to the project as "somewhat flamboyant." The consent of parliament must be obtained

NAMES DELEGATES TO STATE MEETING AT CAPITAL CITY

Chairman Brinkley Appoints Township
Representatives at Tobacco Meeting January 11th.

Mr. J. F. Brinkley, who was appointed chairman of the meeting here last Wednesday to determine what action Pitt county was to take in reducing tobacco acreage, this morning reported selection of township representatives to attend the meeting of the North Carolina Tobacco Growers' association which is to be held in Raleigh, January 12th. The delegates are composed of men well acquainted with the tobacco situation in this county, and probably will have many suggestions to present at the Raleigh meeting.

Members of the committee are F. O. Cox, Winterville; Paul Davenport, Falcous; S. M. Crisp, Falkland; G. L. Moore, Bethel; Richard Harris, Belvoir; Marvin Taylor, Grifton; W. O. Jolly, Ayden; M. G. Moye, Greenville; Charles Moye, Stokes; L. A. Stocks, Chicod; C. D. Smith, Beaver Dam; R. R. Davis, Farmville, and W. M. Smith, Fountain.

Mr. Brinkley has urged upon every representative the importance of attending the meeting and presenting Pitt county's organization work and future outlook. He realizes that reduction in acreage as recently proposed is the only direct way of bettering present conditions, and organization as the only means of bringing this about. Acreage must be cut at least in half, and if planters do not take warning and overplant the industry will be crippled for several years.

Pitt county planters produce mighty fine crops of bright leaf tobacco, but it seems generally conceded that curtailed production will give them greater chance of improving and marketing what is always in demand. There has been practically no demand for common tobacco this year, yet good grades have been in demand and sold for good prices. The congested market will be able to take care of decreased production and better grades next year, and if the planter will plant surplus acreage in food crops there is little reason to expect anything but continued improvements until normal tobacco production will become more favorable.

Have your New Year's resolutions ready for in the morning.

Many Institutions Report Settlement
Of Accounts and Unusually Active Trading.

SMALLEST MAN IN WORLD
ARRIVES TO GIVE AWAY
PRIZES SATURDAY, 4 P. M.

Barrel Rolling From Court House to Five Points Promises to be Interesting Feature.

Closing days of "Pay-Up and Trade Weeks" campaign have witnessed active trading and settlement of accounts with practically every institution in the city issuing coupons entitling customers to an opportunity of winning one of the splendid prizes to be given away tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock, but it is expected that today will come nearer eclipsing any single day since the campaign opened two weeks ago. The trading public has entered into the spirit of the occasion in a decidedly interesting way and all merchants so far have expressed themselves entirely satisfied with the final outcome.

The arrival this morning of the mid-gut representative of the Meditation Cigar company, who will give away the prizes at Five Points tomorrow afternoon, has created additional interest in the campaign, and all who have seen him and know his purpose here have started in trading and settling accounts in a decidedly pleasing manner. Major Barnett is claimed to be the smallest man in the world, and when he mounts the large hoghead filled with tickets and picks out the winner it is easy to surmise there will be hundreds of persons present waiting to hear the name of the winner.

It is expected the rolling of the large hoghead from the court house to Five Points will be one of the outstanding features of the day, as immediately after coupon boxes close at three o'clock tickets will be dumped into the large barrel, which will be either rolled or carried to the court house where the rolling is to begin. Four prominent business men of the city have been assigned to positions on the rolling force, therefore, it is natural to believe that Main street will be completely lined with people to witness the procedure.

Major Barnett will be blindfolded prior to drawing of the coupons, and his movements therefore will be watched with great interest as he draws out ten coupons deciding the winners. This part of the campaign is what hundreds have been looking forward to hopefully for several days, and while there will be many disappointed, the fortunate ten, however, will be the happiest people in town. Coupon boxes will be closed promptly at 3 o'clock and persons now having coupons in their possession are advised to deposit them at once in order to prevent undue rush at the closing hour.

LYNCHINGS REPORTED ON SLIGHT DECREASE IN MANY TERRITORIES

Tuskegee, Dec. 31.—Lynchings were less numerous in 1920 than last year, records of Tuskegee Institute show. Sixty-one persons, including eight white men and one negro woman were lynched compared with eighty-three last year and sixty-four in 1918. Authorities have prevented lynchings in fifty-four instances this year, of which forty-six were in the South. Armed forces were used to repel mobs on fourteen occasions. In four instances mobs were fired upon, seven attackers being killed. Lynchings by States: Texas, 10; Georgia, 9; Mississippi, Alabama and Florida, 7 each; Minnesota, North Carolina, Oklahoma and California, 3 each; Arkansas, Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, Ohio, South Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia, 1 each.

All notices of entertainments for profit, whether for schools churches lodges or any other institutions, also cards of thanks, obituary notices and resolution of respect will be charged for at the rate of one-half cent word, and must be paid in advance.

Friday, December 31, 1920.

The man who hoes his own row in the future has no easy job, you can bet your life on that.

If this year is to prove a stepping stone to the future, better let those resolutions be considerably more constructive than of the year just passed.

Tinted cigarettes are becoming a fad among women in Paris, so statements say. That's all right just as long as it is confined to Paris alone.

That proposed cabinet of President-elect Harding's looks like a mighty weak affair compared with that which has looked after the affairs of the government for the past eight years.

Resolutions become effective at 12 o'clock tonight. Have yours in readiness for Father Time is different from train time in this part of the country.

D'Annunzio has at last given up his fight around Fiume, and intends to fly away by airplane. That's about the best way to get out of the country, as the air is not so full of assassins.

President Wilson has refused an offer of $150,000 from a syndicate for writing anything he might choose on grounds that it would not be worth it. If other writers thought that way about it literature might be much cheaper in this country.

The Swedish delegation to the league of nations is of the opinion that the United States will soon become a member of the organization. This goes to show the Swedes have little idea how determined certain "irreconcilables" are.

New Bern iron workers are not in favor of the profit sharing plan recently instituted by a plant in that city, and threaten to go on strike if wages do not increase. That speaks mighty bad for the company's earnings and goes to show that sharing where there "ain't nothing" to share fails to pay living expenses.

Statistics presented by the national health service show that out of 1,250,000 deaths occurring in the United States annually from disease, at least 1,000,000 could be prevented by application of medical knowledge. This fact shows that every county should do everything possible to extend operations of its department of health. In this way the death rate can be decreased considerably, and communicable diseases also curtailed to a great extent.

It will be interesting news to hundreds of people without homes to learn that Mr. Straus, an authority on building, has predicted that it will not be so very long before housing conditions become normal in this country, and that present congested communities will be relieved of situations which have been deplorable in many instances. Mr. Straus believes a great building program of residences will be an outstanding feature in American industry this year. Decreasing prices of building materials, the availability of utilities and labor conditions are prime factors for the expected development, he thinks. There is plenty of money and energy, too, and with all these features combined it is hardly probable the summer will come without witnessing realization of the prediction.

AT COUNT
Such a state of affairs should not continue. There is no reason for depression except low prices, and this certainly will be overcome within the next several months through decreased acreage. The thing for the farmer to do now is to get busy and house crops as quickly as possible as leaving it out in the weather will bring about great loss. Action is imperative, and the sooner the planter realizes this fact the better off the country will be.

Some think representation from the South should be cut down in the house. But since there has not been any undue discrimination against the negro voter, as some claim, it is hardly probable advocates will accomplish their purpose.

Other states may lag behind in carrying for products of the farm but Oklahoma has decided to do otherwise. An appropriation of $2,000,000 to establish a state system of bonded warehouses for storing cotton and other food products will be asked of the legislature during the approaching session, and while this will not be adequate for all products it is a forward looking movement and should result in greater activity of the kind in the future. There are very few states that are not in need of such warehouses for protecting farm products. But, somehow, business men have not awakened to the fact as they should. North Carolina has established several buildings in a number of districts, but yet there is not a sufficient number. The legislature should be asked to make some provision for enabling the farmer to house his crops, for when this is done great losses will be prevented and the states resources will be increased considerably.

The day for concentrated action has come at last. And if America is to stand out in bold relief from other nations torn and destructed from war and social discontent, American people alone must bring it about. It is no one man job, but requires the energy and perseverance of braves hearts, such as helped make the great nation it is today. Do your part. Make 1921 a year to be proud of, so that in years to come you may feel you were one of the dynamic forces of progress that helped place civilization upon a higher plane.

Very little progress has been made in picking cotton in many of the Southern States just at this time, according to a report just issued by the weather bureau. This fact has been noticeable in many parts of North Carolina for several weeks, and it is not due to labor shortage either. The fact is low prices seem to have depressed the farmers considerably more than they should.
