SA YS PRESIDENT ORDERED ARGENTINA TO LEAVE LEAGUE

Withdrawal from Assembly Sanctioned By Executive, So Late State

Buenos Aires, Feb. 1.—The withdrawal of the Argentine delegates from the League of Nations' Assembly at Geneva was expressly ordered by President Irigoyen after the chief of the Argentine delegation inquired whether Argentina would be satisfied with a partial compliance with its demand the right of membership in the League. This has been disclosed by official documents now made public here confirming previous unofficial declarations that President Irigoyen had personally directed the action of the Argentine delegation at Geneva.

The documents show that Dr. Honorio Pueyrredon, head of the Argentine delegates, had been instructed before the meeting of the League Assembly that the Argentine delegation must not compromise itself in any way or take any part in the work of the Assembly before a decision had been reached on the fundamental proposition that all the sovereign states were entitled to admission.

Two days after the league assembled Dr. Pueyrredon was instructed by his government that "if for any reason whatever" the Argentine contention should "not prosper or should be postponed," the Argentine delegation must "without delay retire," presenting a note explaining its point of view and its ideals.

After opposition had developed in the Assembly to the Argentine proposal, Dr. Pueyrredon sent a message to President Irigoyen informing him that he had declared his position, as demanded by Argentina that it was probable that all the sovereign states that had requested admission, including two former enemies of the Allies, Austria and Bulgaria, would be admitted. The chief delegate added that this would leave out of the League only Germany, the United States and Mexico, and that these had not asked admission.

GERMANY REGARDS REPARATION TERMS UTTERLY IMPOSSIBLE

Berlin, Feb. 1.—Germany regards reparation terms as recently presented by the Supreme Council as fantastic and impossible of execution, and it is the general opinion that the government cannot agree to them. The cabinet was in executive session until late last night. "Madness" was the term the Reichstag used in discussing conditions.

TURKISH TREATY OF PEACE DENOUNCED IN BITTER TERMS

Document Characterized As "Greatest Travesty of Justice and Monument to Hypocrisy."

SPEAKER DENOUNCES HORROR OF PUNJAB'S REIGN OF TERROR

Allies Must First Disabuse Minds of Race of Supremacy Before The Question Is Settled.

Nagpur, India, Feb. 1.—The Turkish peace treaty was characterized as "the greatest travesty of justice, a monument of hypocrisy and the blackest breach of solemn pledges" by Dr. Ansar in his address as president at the annual session of the All-India Moelem League today. He demanded its revision which, he declared, there seemed little doubt was being considered by the Allies.

The speaker denounced "the horror of the Punjab reign of terror" and supported the non-co-operation movement in progress among the natives as a protest against British rule. "There is a divine injunction to Muslims to practice non-co-operation against the opponents of Islam," Dr. Ansar said. "There appears to be a dealock between the bureaucracy and the people of India which is entirely because India has awakened to a keen sense of self-respect and is determined no longer to submit to a secondary position, whereas the bureaucrat is still thinking in obsolete terms of governing with the mailed fist."

"In order to win the co-operation of the people of India our alien friends must first of all disabuse their minds of the idea of race supremacy and do ample penance for past wrongs."

BUDGET ESTIMATE APPROVED BY CHINA CABINET COUNCILS

Tentative Draft for Next Year Shows General Increase Over That of Former Years.

Tokio, Feb. 1.—The drafts of the next fiscal year's budget estimates for the army and navy were submitted to the Cabinet council yesterday and were approved as submitted, according to Japanese press reports. The estimate for the navy totals ¥ 514,513,000 the figure being an increase of ¥ 296,225,000 on the vote for the current fiscal year. The increase is due to the advance of prices and no fresh enterprises is included in the programme, the estimated expenditure being required for the execution of the previously fixed programme, namely, next year's share of the outlay for the construction of the pre-arranged eight-battleship and eight-battle cruiser squadron. Out of the total expenditure amounting to ¥ 514,513,000, ¥ 108,251,000 will be disbursed on account of the construction of new warships included in the same eight and eight programme; ¥ 62,167,000 for the completion of military arrangements on land and sea; ¥ 7,729,000 for aviation; ¥ 1,908,000 for wireless telegraphy; and ¥ 940,000 for aviation investigation and the construction of aeroplanes carried on warships.

The estimates for the army totals ¥ 245,000,000. This includes ¥ 30,765,000 representing the allotment for the coming fiscal year of the new national defense scheme expenditure. The greater portion of the expenditure is to be appropriated for the execution of the previously sanctioned programme. Owing to the advance of cost through the remarkable increase of prices there is an increase of about 50 per cent on the previous fiscal year's estimate.

CHARGES CHINESE GOVERNMENT WITH USING FAMINE FUND

When People Were Dying By Thousands Papers Charged Officials With Misappropriation.

ENORMOUS FUNDS SAID TO BE USED IN EFFORT OF POLITICAL FORCES

Government Asked by Organization to Present Report of Prevailing Conditions.

Shanghai, Feb. 1.—When people were dying by thousands and the full horrors of winter time famine began to be felt in the great belt of seven provinces in northern China where no harvests have been gathered this year Chinese newspapers that are printed in the International Settlement of Shanghai openly published the charge that misuse was being made of famine relief funds by Peking government officials.

One of these papers, The Sin Wan Pao, asserted that the Famine Relief Association and the Shanghai Missionary Association telegraphed messages to Peking in connection with famine relief work.

In the message of the Shanghai Famine Relief Association, addressed to President Hsu Shi-Chang, the government was asked to announce without delay a definite policy for carrying out relief work. The telegram emphasized that the charitable public, both Chinese and foreign, require a clear statement from the government as to what steps it intends to take to meet present conditions in the north and it was made plain that immediate action was expected.

Measures the Peking government adopted to obtain famine funds included surtaxes of certain kinds and increased railway fares on government lines.

SEVERAL ACTIONS ARE CONTINUED IN PITT CIVIL COURT

Work Yesterday Mainly In Non-Suits And Continuations on Account of Absence of Witnesses.

The opening of the third week of Pitt county superior court in this city yesterday featured largely in tentative arrangements for the remainder of the week when it is expected some forty odd cases on the calendar will be virtually disposed of. Continuations and non-suits were advisable in several instances owing to sickness of witnesses and the failure of complainants to appear and prosecute their actions. Non suits were taken in only three instances, and after they had been eliminated the court settled down to work in earnest, shaping the remaining actions in such way that the rest of the week in all probability will witness the settlement of numbers of actions which have been pending from term to term without receiving final consideration.

The docket is by no means the largest the court has handled during the past year but there are sufficient civil actions to keep machinery moving regularly until Friday afternoon with little time being allowed for intermissions. Judge Devin is adept at keeping things moving in both civil and criminal sessions, and it is believable the week will witness rapid work and practically cleared docket.

Non suit was taken in the following cases in the opening session yesterday morning: Atlantic-Coast Realty Company vs. Arnold; Laughinghouse vs. Shelburn; Stocks vs. House.

CITY ROTARIANS IN SPLENDID MEETING HERE LAST NIGHT

Regular Weekly Meeting at New Building Attended by Several Interested Visitors.

JUDGE DEVIN PAYS SPLENDID TRIBUTE TO RECENT ACTIVITY

Superior Court Official Extols Organization Work in Principal Address of Evening.

If Rotary did nothing else but keep alive the spirit of youth, and bring its rotaries together in the exuberance of boyhood and the freedom of perfect equality, it were well worth while. But Rotary goes much further than that. It has ideals and lives up to them. It stands for those things that are best for the community it represents. Its aim is to serve wisely and well, not confining its endeavors to its circle of membership alone, but bestowing its beneficences to all within reach. This is what gives Rotary the ever present good fellowship of its members one for the other, and its exalted rank in public esteem.

Just a year ago Rotary came to Greenville, organizing with an even dozen members. These men possessed the real get-together spirit and they have wrought wonders in these first twelve months. The membership has already grown to thirty, and their semi-monthly meetings are held in their own quarters. The beautiful building they have erected for a Rotary home is the pride of Greenville. Nor did they build for themselves alone, but with an eye to provision for the boys and girls of Greenville today as well as in coming generations, the entire upper story of this splendid building is being equipped into a modern gymnasium that in a few days will be opened to the children of the community with trained physical directors in charge.

As to the meetings of the Rotary Club, one must get on the inside to fully appreciate what is done, and the man who has that privilege does not come away feeling feeling many years younger and holding a new grip on himself is a fit subject for the cemetery. The first requirement is absolute promptness in attendance and every member must be on hand by seven o'clock or pay the penalty. And as they come together and remain together every fellow is greeted only by his first name, handles and titles being positively barred. If a member even thoughtlessly makes a slip on this rule in addressing or referring to another, the sergeant collects the prescribed fine on the spot. The fifteen minutes between assembling and calling to order is devoted to informal jollity in the reception rooms, groups gathering here and there to try out their voices on the stunts for the evening. Promptly at 7:15 the doors of the spacious dining room are thrown open bringing to view tables laden with a tempting menu, and it is while gathered around the festive board that both business and fun are pulled off. On a rap from the president, by way of roll call each one present must arise in turn and pronounce his name and the business he represents.

At last night's meeting, to the right of all, President Sam Underwood was absent because of sickness, and Vice-President Paul Clodfeiter held down the head of the table, and he proved himself right on the job. Business and fun were rapidly interspersed through the proceedings, the slightest lapse being the sign for Parson Sam Phillips, or Broker John Kittrell to see which could get in first on starting a song. The most side-splitting song of the evening was when chairman Paul ordered Sis Ellen and Bob Crew to come out and sing the Jersey Skooter. They came all right, but would not open their voices until Paul had yielded to the request to order every bald head present to join in. Haywood Dail kicked. (Continued on Page Four)

The Lord Mayor of Cork no doubt feels like a "corker" after the reception accorded him in America.

Republicans are preparing to look into party conditions in the South. They may be able to gain a slight consolation in Tennessee, but that's about all.

Some men get by in life simply because there's a Providence, if it were not for this fact, American labor would have suffered considerably during the past several months.

Members of the General Assembly will be a learned crew before they get through the road and educational programs of the state. His issues are mighty big ones and afford much room for study.

A person eating for his first time in one of the Greenville cafes would never think prices had taken a tumble. Proprietors claim they are not making any money. And if they are not they had just as well tuck their kits and drive on.

Insistent and emphatic demands for better road policies ought to be mighty good reason for immediate action on the part of the Legislature. Public demand is the best evidence of general desire, therefore, procrastination is futile in every sense of the word.

The Supreme Council has decided upon a program of reparation and disarmament for Germany, but the Hun government hasn't decided whether it will be accepted. The matter has been put off so long now that it will hardly be a case of what Germany wants to do, it's what she is going to do.

Factious citizens are taking a forward step in bettering social and moral life in their community by presenting a petition to sustain law and order. The same action should be considered seriously in many parts of the country where the whiskey traffic has assumed alarming proportions. Criminality has reached a broad scope, and unless consistent and determined campaigns are instituted the future is anything but bright.

Dr. Hastings Hart, director of the Department of Child Helping, Russell Sage Foundation, declares that North Carolina's record in Public Welfare work for the past few years has put the State up in front ranks of the Southern States. This little bit of information coming from one presumably well acquainted with work all over the country ought to make North Carolinians proud of themselves. The climb from rear ranks of the procession has been slow, but steady, and today promoters have something to be glad about. No section can prosper with such an organization and it is not conceivable why anyone should try to abolish the office. Pitt county has derived many real benefits from operations of the local board, and believes every county would do the same if adequate support were given willingly. The idea of repealing the law is beyond understanding and must be the outcome of fact enlightenment on part of opponents.

LEADING THE WORLD

Wheat production in the United States in 1920 again exceeded that of any other nation, amounting to 757,000,000 bushels, or 100,000,000 more than the pre-war average and twice as much as was raised by any other country for which statistics are available, according to the National Bank of Commerce in New York. The aggregate output of these countries declined 71,500,000 bushels below pre-war averages, while at the same time this country's crop was nearly 150,000,000 bushels less than the 1919 record, the bank shows in the February number of its magazine, Commerce Monthly.

"Before the war," says Commerce Monthly, "the Russian Empire led the world in both acreage planted in wheat and in total production. Little is now known of the actual situation in the grain-growing areas of Russia, but political uncertainty and disorganized transportation apparently make the conclusion certain that Russia cannot become a factor in the grain market during the next year.

"During the first half of 1920 practically all of the wheat entering the international market came from the United States and Canada. Exports of wheat, including flour, during the last six months of 1920 from the United States and Canada, exclusive of the movement between the two countries, were more than 240,000,000 bushels, compared with 170,000 bushels from July 1 to December 31, 1919. Although there are wide fluctuations in the wheat crops of Canada and the United States, they are both to be described as dependable wheat producers. The only important free wheat markets of the world are those of the United States and Canada.

"The impoverishment of Europe as a result of the war has brought about an extreme degree of governmental control of trading in wheat and flour. The motive of this control has been two-fold. On the one hand it was felt necessary to regulate the cost of bread, to protect the poorer part of the population from exploitation during the difficult period of adjustment following the war. This could not be done, however, unless at the same time the supply could be assured. The various European governments were thus obliged to become buyers of wheat in the international market, and to guarantee the price of the domestic crop with the definite policy of assuming part of the cost of bread if this should be necessary. The bread subsidy has indeed proved costly where it has been in effect.

"The second motive has been prevention of unnecessary imports. Governmental control over imports has brought as its corollaries price regulation of domestic crops, and in several countries, requisitioning, rationing and the resultant use of substitutes, either because of inability to secure wheat flour, or actual regulations. In all the important importing countries of Europe, the United Kingdom, Italy,

Pitt county farmers must not forget that reduction of tobacco acreage is imperative this year. The general program outlined by county and state organization should receive consideration which they deserve, for it's either a case of make or break. Reduced acreage means that congestion of the world market will be relieved in the near future and that prices will be much better than those this year. It was being mighty hard for the planter to make both ends meet with such conditions prevailing, but with assistance from the lenient merchant he will be able to pull through until next year without being seriously handicapped. The world demands food crops, and if this demand is met on surplus acreage there should be an improvement earlier than expected. Crops must be curtailed, however, for unless they are there is nothing in the world to save the industry from ruin.

Governor Morrison's proposal for progressive road policies seems to be meeting with more than usual favor in different parts of the State, judging by reports circulated since his memorable address before the Legislature. His ideas have been expressed in an unequivocal manner and if people just listen to the concrete proposition there is little room for argument left. North Carolina has been plodding along with the same old dirt systems long enough to convince the public that they hamper commercial and industrial progress, and it looks like 50,000,000 wouldn't seem like such a large sum in providing a new system in place of the old one. The time has come for more tentative planning, and the sooner state solons realize the fact the better off the whole country will be.

People who want to improve the money of the county ought to get busy and advocate a Y. M. C. A. Such organizations are proving their worth in every section of the country and certainly would get pleasing results here where the pool room menace has been under consideration for such a long time. Recreation is essential to the business man, and he is oftentimes prevented taking the wrong track by the wholesome environment afforded by a place of diversion. Greenville is plenty large for such an institution and its people would certainly realize from its functions.

SATURDAY WAS GOOD DAY FOR LOCAL MERCHANTS

The last Saturday proved a good day for the local merchants. Several advertisers who expressed themselves said business was by far the best that day than on any Saturday since the new year came in. Cash sales and collections both showed a substantial increase. This is the best talk we have heard lately. It indicates a return of confidence and better times when people turn loose money to supply their present needs and to be paying up their accounts. This in turn will help the merchants to settle their bills and replenish their stocks for more business. The larger the amount of money kept in circulation, that much larger will be the volume of business done, and it will make better conditions for everybody. The merchants have certainly gone more than half way to bring about larger trade and better conditions by making considerable reduction on the price of goods, in many instances the reduction meaning a loss to them. With prices thus reduced the people can well afford to be buying what they need, and the report from Saturday indicates that this is being done.

FUNERAL SERVICES OVER DR. TAYLOR TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Body Held Up On Account of Investigation By Naval Board of Inquiry.

Funeral service over the remains of Lieutenant J. C. Taylor, Greenville man who was shot and instantly killed by a sentry Sunday night at the naval operating base at Norfolk, will be conducted from the home of his parents on Eighth street tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, interment taking place immediately in the family burying ground between this city and Bethel. The body reached Greenville this afternoon at 1:18 after being held up in Norfolk on account of an investigation conducted by the naval board of inquiry.

So far no additional light has been thrown on circumstances surrounding the tragedy, but it seems generally believed by navy officials that the young medical officer came to his death when he failed to hear the sentry's command to halt. It was understood that Dr. Taylor had a pass admitting him to the reservation, and it is considered quite probable he thought he was recognized by the sentry and passed through the gates without thought of stopping.

According to facts disclosed following an investigation of the board of inquiry in Norfolk, Lieutenant Taylor, who was attached to the Base hospital, had volunteered to carry the wife of one of his patients to her home from a visit to see her husband, who is an officer. He was passing thru the Camp enclosure with his passenger and had taken a short cut through one of the untraveled thoroughfares when he was challenged by the sentry who had orders not to allow anyone to pass through that particular part of the camp.

Failing to hear the challenge, the medical officer continued on his way when Guard Blaxen fired at the back of the car. The passenger was not injured although hit by several pieces of shattered glass. The automobile, when the driver's hands fell from the wheel collided with a post. The naval officer's wife was prostrated from a nervous shock and received treatment at a hospital, while Taylor died before medical aid could be reached. The naval board of inquiry, it is understood, will make its report within the next several hours.

Definite arrangements for the funeral will be made by the local order of Masons at a special meeting tonight. However the following have been named as honorary pall bearers: J. Key Brown, Dr. Smith, Dr. Smith, Dr. Skinner, Dr. Nobles, Frank Brown and J. J. Gilbert.

Dr. Taylor was well known in Greenville and his death is deeply deplored. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Taylor, who have resided in Greenville for a number of years, being survived by two sisters and four brothers.

A Great Reduction In Price Of
The Fordson Tractor

FORDSON

More and more every day the demand for the Fordson Tractor increases because the Fordson has demonstrated so much usefulness, so much economy, so much labor saving, so much money saving, along so many lines of activity. The farmer has discovered that not only for plowing, harrowing, discing, seeding, mowing, reaping and threshing, but a multitude of other uses; cutting wood; feed; grinding feed; churning; washing; furnishing water in the house; making electric light possible in the house and around the barns; so that, as a matter of fact, there is hardly an hour in the day when the Tractor cannot be made a profitable servant. There is ditching to do; there are roads to fix; and so on all down along the line of the numerous calls that constantly face the farmer the Fordson steps in and does the work, shoulders the complete burden of the toil and the hard work, one might almost say "drudgery."

This is the Age of Machinery, the day when man plans the day's work, or the year's work, and then turns it over to the Tractor to execute. Get the book, "The Fordson at Work," because it is free. If you cannot call for it, write, and we will mail it to you. The Tractor is not only a necessity to every farmer but it is an established utility along a great many commercial lines. Our allotment is limited to so many each month. Let's have your order now.

SENIOR CLASS GIVES SPLENDID PIANO RECITAL

Students of Training School Show Excellent Training in Number of Renditions.

The Senior Class of the Training School gave a delightful piano recital yesterday evening which lasted exactly one hour. The young women played well showing excellent training and musical appreciation in their interpretations.

The numbers on the program were carefully selected and arranged so that there were various kinds of pieces, from the brilliant numbers played by Misses Watson and Holloway to the soft delicate "Shadow Song," played by Miss Carrie Evans and "The Cradle Song," played by Miss Helen Bahnsen. A quaint Dutch dance was played by Miss Audrey Parker. Miss Mabel Thomas played the Chopin number with feeling. The last number was a soft, beautiful Turkish march for two pianos. Each one on the program interpreted well the number she played, and the piano teachers, Misses Mead, Bartholomew, and Gorrell, deserve great credit for the excellent showing made by their pupils.

The stage was effectively decorated with pine boughs.

CITY ROTARIANS IN MEETING HERE LAST NIGHT

(Continued from page one) ed like an unbroken colt at being classed with the bald heads, but was made to come across. And Olthus Joyner, who might carry a tune if it was given him in a paper bag, had to help out in the chorus. It was great and had to be repeated on encore.

Possibly the leading item of business was a motion endorsing work of the Board of Aldermen in eradicating malaria from the community and requesting that they continue this good work.

The guests, five of whom were present, also had their inning. Each host introduced his guest, the latter making a brief response. Judge W. A. Devin was the guest of honor, and made the principal address of the evening. He spoke eloquently of the splendid work of Rotary, emphasizing that no man reaches his best sphere except in the service he renders his community. The man who is a member of a community and gets his business and living from that community, should in return render his community the best service of which he is capable. The team work brought about through Rotary influence is a factor in making a community great. He was glad to see it making such good progress in Greenville.

AN INDICTMENT OF BLUE SUNDAY MADE

The Hague, Feb. 1.—An indictment of "blue Sunday" advocates was returned in the report of a committee of the second chamber of the Dutch parliament on a bill proposing to forbid amusements, curtail train service, etc., on Sundays.

HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT PLEASES GOOD AUDIENCE

Friday evening at eight-thirty o'clock a concert was held in the High School auditorium for the benefit of the Girl Scouts. The performers were Miss Sue Kyle Southwick and Miss Marguerite Spofford, piano and voice teachers of St. Mary's School, Raleigh, N. C. It was a privilege seldom afforded the people of Greenville to hear such accomplished musicians and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by the good number of people who attended the concert.

Miss Southwick is a talented young pianist in possession of a brilliant technique and a beautifully expressive touch. Perhaps the most enjoyable of her selections were "Blue Danube Waltz," by Strauss-Schulz-Euler; "On Wings of Glory," Mendelssohn-Liszt; Liszt's "Polonaise" and her encore,

"Marche Mignon."

Miss Spofford sang with unusual sweetness, "Thou Art So Like a Flower," while her rendition of "The Dauza" delighted her audience and she very graciously responded with several encores. Altogether it was a musical treat and Greenville should be glad of having had the privilege of hearing these two young artists.
