CAN ACCOUNT FOR ALL MONEY SPENT BY SHIPPING BOARD

General Comptroller Declares Careful Audit Reveals No Evidence of Any Fraud NO UNDUE INFLUENCE TO OUST ABDIE REPORT DECLARES IN FULL

Tweedale Tells House Committee That R. W. Bolling Never Used High Influence

Washington, Feb. 2.—Emphatic assurance that the shipping board would be able to account for every cent spent for the construction of vessels was given today to the House Committee, which is concluding an inquiry into the board's operations, by Alonzo Tweedale, general comptroller of the board. Searching audits of accounts, he declared, reveal no evidence of fraud or misappropriation of funds.

During his testimony, Mr. Tweedale also contradicted the assertion made before the committee by Col. E. H. Abadie his predecessor as general comptroller, that he (Abadie) had been "railroaded" out of his job by Martin J. Gillen, former executive assistant to the chairman of the Shipping board. Mr. Gillen repeatedly defended Colonel Abadie's methods which did not meet with approval of some members of the board, according to Mr. Tweedale, who declared also that he had made any attempt to dislodge Colonel Abadie in order to get his job.

Declaring that when he was elevated from treasury of the shipping board to general comptroller he was given complete freedom to recommend his successor as treasurer the witness asserted he had elected Chritttriththoo as treasurer. He had selected R. W. Bolling, a brother-in-law of President Wilson, who had been serving as assistant treasurer.

No influence whatever was brought to bear on him to make such a choice Mr. Tweedale declared. Questioned by committee members he said that to his knowledge Mr. Bolling never had used his influence officially or unofficially, in behalf of contractors building ships for the board.

Dismissing the audit made by Perley Morse & Co., New York, of the account of the Bethlehem Shipping Corporation, which it was charged at a previous hearing, had brought to light a $200,000 voucher for the personal expenses of Charles M. Schwab while in charge of the Emergency Fleet Corporation's construction program Mr. Tweedale declared the audit had been called off because it was expected to cost at least $750,000, perhaps $1,000,000.

Although the Perley Morse auditors later were authorized to resume their examination of the Bethlehem accounts Mr. Tweedale said, they have failed to make good their promise to make "startling disclosures" which he heard until

MR. AND MRS J. C. BIDDLE

After living the life of a trappist monk in a monastery at Gethsemane, Ky., for 20 years, James Cornell Biddle, member of a prominent Philadelphia family, was married to Miss Mary Lena Gaines of Warrenton, Va., at St. Matthews rectory, Washington. Mr. Biddle is fifty-two years old, while his bride is forty-eight. Through his family connections in England, Mr. Biddle had the right to the lands and title of Lord Wyville, but he preferred to remain in this country.

GOLDEN RULE WAY OF BUSINESS GETS GREAT ATTENTION

Plan Recently Adopted by Cincinnati Firm Drawing Interest From Other Sections.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 2.—Since employees of the A. Nash Co., a manufacturing concern of this city, voted to take a voluntary vacation is necessary to give work to the unemployed there have been other developments in this business which is being run on the Golden Rule basis. Mr. Nash outlined today these recent steps:

"Business men of Chattanooga, Tenn. have become so interested in results obtained by application of the Golden Rule to this business that they have subscribed stock to open a Tennessee company.

Employees of the Cincinnati factory have bought into ownership to the extent of $50,000 since opportunity was given them in January.

"Employees are so much interested in the Golden Rule that they conducted a service in the Cincinnati People's church in January.

"Arrangements have been made to conduct classes in business management and economics for employees.

"Business has expanded so much since employees presented their petition proposing that they take a vacation that a new shop has been opened.

"This growth has employed a large number of men out of work and with the reopening of activity for spring, the need of Nash employees stepping out to make room temporarily for others has passed."

Mr. Nash said he had salesmen in many other cities and that the goods of the firm were sent to nearly every state in the union.

"I am not interested in this business simply from the standpoint of production, but from seeing what results can be obtained when everybody works from the basis of doing to others as he would have done by," Mr. Nash said. "I am not interested in making money. I have already more than I ever dreamed of having. In fact I am worried about the money, for I have seen too many crimes committed under the shadow of great wealth."

"That the Golden Rule pays in the operation of a business I think has been demonstrated in ours."

ZANE GREY GAINS FAVOR WITH BOYS OVER IN GERMANY

Story of Adventure in American West Favorites With American Troops In Germany.

JULIUS CAESAR'S GALLIC WAR RUNS CLOSE SECOND WITH AMERICAN STORIES

Coblentz, Feb. 2.—Tales of adventure in the American West are the favorite reading matter of the American forces in Germany and Zane Grey is the most popular author.

Strangely enough, Julius Caesar runs a close second with the doughboys who are very keen about translation of Caesar's Gallie Wars. This is due to Caesar's activities in the Rhine Valley and the ruins of a bridge he built across the Rhine, which lifts Caesar's work out of the schoolbook class and makes it a guide book that carries the American back nearly 2,000 years.

Books which describe the legends centering about the Rhine are also popular, especially with the soldiers who are musically inclined and attend the Wagnerian performances given by the various German grand opera companies which play in Cologne, Coblentz, Wiesbaden and the other cities near the Rhine frequented by soldiers on leave.

All-story magazines which specialize in adventures are more popular with the American soldiers than any other periodicals and the American Library Association has been unable to supply the demand for publications of this sort.

With the assistance of the Young Men's Christian Association, which aids in the distribution of reading material in the American area, Miss Ala Weyth, who is in charge of the American Library Association's reading rooms has been able to make a general poll of the reading taste of the army and finds that foreign residence has not won the young Americans away from fiction laid in America, particularly (Continued on Page Four)

CHAMPION HORSE IS TO BE RECEIVED IN ROYAL MANNER

Man O' War, Thoroughbred, Has Private Groom, Feed Boxes and Pasture at Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 2.—Every luxury lavished on royalty is to be the portion of Man O' War, world champion thoroughbred, at Hinata farm, near here, where he has just been retired to the stud.

A private groom, private feed tubs, a private pasture, where he is allowed to run loose, these are some of the things that are being allowed by his owner Samuel D. Riddle, of Philadelphia and Miss Elizabeth Danigerfeld, noted woman breeder of thoroughbreds under whose care he has been placed.

Animals such as Man O' War are not allowed to do the many things their plebeian brothers and sisters do that might expose them to danger. When the famous racer left the farm at Berlin, Maryland, where he was stabled after his return from his triumph over Sir Barton at Windsor, he was placed in a padded automobile van and hauled to the express car. On his arrival in Lexington he was unloaded into another van and taken to the Kentucky Jockey Club race track for exhibition to admiring thousands of Kentuckians.

When he was taken from the track to Hinata farm, a distance of six miles, he was again placed in a van and hauled over the smooth highway to the farm. There he was unloaded and placed in a stall specially prepared for him, with the companion of all his travels, Major Treat, the old steeple chase racer, on one side and

ECONOMIC AFFAIRS MAY THROW HUNS INTO BOLSHEVISM

President of German Free State Says Only Economic Conditions Can Produce Such Change.

ENTIRE NATION WILL RESIST UNTIL FORCED TO DESPERATION ISSUE

Oldenburg, Germany, Feb. 2.—President M. Tautzen-Heering of the German free state of Oldenburg, one of the powerful political figures of northwest Germany, declares that the spread of Bolshevism through Western Europe, and eventually to the Americas, depends upon economic issues over which the German people have lost control.

The Germans will never turn to Bolshevism until economic conditions have driven the into desperation, the president told the Associated Press correspondent.

"This desperation will only come when, with a good will to work—and that will here is very strong—work cannot be had," he continued. "Up to this time Bolshevism has found no sound footing in Germany, although there are some cranks who are chasing the soviet rainbow. Germany is standing like a wall against the spread of Red Russianism over the ocean, and so long as the wall holds there is no danger."

"The character of the people of Germany and particularly of Oldenburg, is too sturdy, quiet and sensible to tolerate the sentimental foolishness of Bolshevism. Only economic cause could drive the into Bolshevism, but at this time they have lost control of these causes. The Treaty of Versailles made us strongly dependent economically upon the victorious nations. Economic pressure has been brought to bear. Reduced production and its consequences are keenly felt. Necessaries of life are strictly rationed. Prices have been driven up; our money has lost its buying power. The working people will not endure the aid for workless which they properly feel lowers them morally."

SUPERIOR COURT ADJOURNS UNTIL FRIDAY MORNING

Sick Witnesses and Absence of Prosecutors Places Court in Bad Situation

The third week session of the civil term of Pitt county Superior court adjourned here yesterday at noon until Friday morning when several cases awaiting hearing will be disposed of. A number of cases had been continued up until yesterday and it is quite probably resumption of court will feature in similar measures.

Lack of witnesses and failure of prosecutors to appear in interest of their cases brought about the decision to adjourn yesterday. It was found that no case could be reached today and Thursday, mainly on account of sick witnesses. It is believed, however, it will be possible to resume hearing Friday morning and that nothing will be left undone in finally concluding every action possible.

The utility court is now in session. The first of the week featured principally in non-suits, and several minor matters which had been hanging over from session to session without receiving attention. Continuances, however, were found advisable in numbers of instances, and regardless of a general desire to relieve the docket, the court found itself handicapped more surely than several sessions.

LISTEN LESTER IS WELL RECEIVED IN CITY LAST NIGHT

Gus Shy Featured Largely in Comedy Company Which Appeared at White's Theatre Last Night.

The first appearance of "Listen Lester" in this city was witnessed by a fair sized audience at White's theatre last night, and proved to be a very amusing offering, featuring numbers of comical scenes and humorous song numbers. The show was just a little different from anything presented here this season and received a large measure of applause from time to time.

The company on the whole was a good one, featuring the inimitable Gus Shy, who with other principal characters, kept the large audience in a state of expectancy and good humor from the rise to fall of the curtain. Joseph Mack as "Listen Lester," amused at every appearance, and while he didn't appear very often his personality and way of doing things strengthened the slim plot of the play to no little extent.

There was a chorus of girls, or "ladies of the ensemble," as they were billed by the advertising man, who did much toward keeping something going throughout the entire play. In fact, there were such a great number of principals singing and dancing that it was difficult to tell who was who. But they were there and entertained in such way that encores were constant and unrestrained.

Something was happening every minute as there was no effort to intersperse nonsense with common sense, and consequently there was something to laugh about with nearly every change in plot and specialties. While the show is not the best that has ever been here, it was above the average and proved an excellent pastime for curing a bad case of blues.

TARIFF ISSUE GETS MANY HARD SLAMS IN SENATE DEBATE

Senator McCumber Features As Only Consistent Supporters of Measure During Discussion

PROSPECTS OF CLOTURE GETS AMENDMENTS FROM MANY DIFFERENT SOURCES

Senator Harrison Charges Republicans With Trying to Gag Majority of Members

Washington, Feb. 2.—With Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, as its only consistent defender in the debate, the Fordney emergency tariff bill went through another series of hard knocks in the Senate today, opponents of the measure accepting every opportunity to attack.

Whether the bill will be sidetracked or consideration continued under the limitation of debate will be decided tomorrow when the Peurose resolution for cloture comes to vote. The most ardent supporters of the cloture and of the bill admitted tonight that defeat of the resolution to limit future speeches on the bill was inevitable. They conceded that opponents of cloture would control from eight to ten votes more than would be necessary to defeat the resolution.

Prospects of cloture, however, caused a deluge of amendments, especially after Vice-President Marshall had ruled that all amendments must be submitted and read before the vote on cloture, set for 1 o'clock. Every senator wanted changes in the bill, therefore began loading it down and demanding that they be read.

Then, there was the declaration of Senator Townsend, Republican, Michigan, that he proposed to call up the postoffice appropriation bill for consideration immediately after the cloture vote. He criticized the Senate for wasting time when important legislation was pending and challenged opponents of the Fordney measure to continue filibustering against legitimate legislation and take the consequences.

Mr. Townsend's statements precipitated a heated debate in which half a score of senators participated. It was the first day in which the bill actually was to the fore in all discussion and its enemies picked flaws in every item. Although Senator Thomas, Democrat, Colorado, delivered a lengthy speech against it, the full force of the attack developed afterward and continued until the senate recessed.

Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, entered the fray and answered the Townsend challenge with the accusation that the Republican leadership was attempting to gag and hamstring the minority and throw the burdens of the bill on the people without a full and free discussion. He said the Republicans, with the exception of Mr. McCumber had not spoken a word in behalf of the bill and that the North Dakota senator had discussed only the wheat rates.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY PLANS WAGE REDUCTION

New York, Feb. 2.—Reports here are to the effect that the Standard Oil Company is planning a ten per cent wage reduction affecting its employees in all parts of the United States. It was added that reduction is to take form of suspension of the ten per cent wage bonus granted during the war to offset the high cost of living.

All kinds of views have been expressed as to the coal situation in this country, but that fails to eliminate the profiteer.

If there were a few more Reserve Boards in this country the present period of depression wouldn't last long.

Dry leaders want to tighten up, and the wets want to loosen up. As both can't be pleased the dries certainly will have their way.

American railroads are facing a period of bankruptcy. Maybe they will be able to recover after wage reductions go into effect.

A charge of profiteering has been entered against five coal corporations. That's not surprising in the least when considering the slow way prices have declined.

Mexico wants her army increased. That won't do, for the country is getting along too good now to get ideals of militarism mixed with those of a stable government.

Lack of funds will not halt the building program now in progress at American navy yards. The information is gratifying, indeed, and causes the public to have little more regard for the safe.

Prohibition leaders expect Congress to make the Volstead act bullet-proof, so it is understood. The job sounds easy, but certainly will not be harder than stopping the flow of the Atlantic ocean.

President Wilson refused to commute the sentence of Eugene V. Debs, Socialist leader, who is now serving a sentence for violation of the Espionage act. And the President evidently knew what he was about. He probably thinks Mr. Debs can do the country more good behind the bars than if free.

The unemployment situation is becoming acute in the South, according to reports. However, it is certain the South has fewer men unemployed than other sections. A return to the farm movement would employ nearly every man out of work in the United States just at this time, and the sooner this is realized the quicker the country will solve the problem.

Equalization and not repeal is what will happen to the Revaluation act, if opinion of members of the Finance committee at the Capitol counts for anything. The matter has been discussed from virtually every angle, and it seems generally agreed that equalization is the only practicable way of settling the matter. Revaluation has had many severe critics since it became a law, but it has done more to solve questions of taxation than any other one thing. Taxation is one of the greatest questions before the public just at this particular time and any action that may be taken toward equalizing it will be received with genuine interest in all parts of the State. There is no question about practicability of the measure, it is simply impressing the public it has been equalized and that everybody is receiving a square deal.

PORTO RICO'S TRADE

Commerce between the United States and Porto Rico is greater than the trade of the United States with the whole of Central America or with any South American country, excepting only Argentina and Brazil, it is pointed out by the National Bank of Commerce in New York in the February number of its magazine, Commerce Monthly. In the fiscal year 1920 the United States took 88 per cent. of the total value of goods exported from the island and supplied 94 per cent. of the imports.

Owing largely to the high prices received for sugar the value of the exports from Porto Rico in 1920 was much greater than for any previous year, says Commerce Monthly. Total exports were valued at $150,811,449 as compared with $79,496,040 in 1919, an increase of $71,000,000, of which nearly $51,000,000 was accounted for by the increase in the value of sugar exports. In both years all but an insignificant amount of the sugar exported went to the United States. The total value of exports to the United States in 1920 was $133,207,508 an increase of $62,192,157 over the previous year.

The value of imports into Porto Rico was likewise much higher in 1920 than ever before, amounting to $96,388,534, an increase of $33,988,174 over 1919. The principal increase was in cotton goods, which were valued at $18,021,275 in 1920 as against $7,122,932 in 1919. The next largest gain was in leather goods, which were valued at $3,918,335, an increase of $2,137,941. Rice, valued at $14,194,688 and coming entirely from the United States showed an increase of $2,073,025 over the previous year in value, but a decrease in quantity from 155,069,940 to 133,449,140 pounds. The value of the total imports from the United States increased from $57,898,085 in 1919 to $90,724,259 in 1920.

By far the larger part of each of the leading exports from Porto Rico is regularly sent to the United States with the single exception of Porto Rican coffee which appears to suit Cuba and Spanish tastes better than it meets American requirements.

BETTER TIMES AHEAD

The Federal Reserve Board's business review of the conditions for January carries with it a decidedly cheerful note, and seems to forecast greater improvement in an economic way than noticeable during the past several days. Banking conditions, the review states, have undergone a decided improvement. This has been due chiefly to a steadier and more rapid movement of agricultural products to the market, and a tendency on part of the public to more freely place large sums of money in circulation.

Of the cotton situation, the report says, it is generally believed most of the unpicked cotton will be saved as planters are able to secure labor at nominal prices. Favorable weather and a slight stiffening in prices has been mainly accountable for activity on part of the planter, and should prices hold for a while it is believable the entire crop which was neglected on account of high labor prices will be ready for sale and distribution.

The report stated that tobacco prices still continue unfavorable in both bright and burley belts, but that good grades are bringing fair prices. Realization by large buying interests that crops will be curtailed next season has been the cause of the slight increase in prices, it is believed, and this fact will make the situation more favorable as the season comes to a close.

The report contained much valuable information and conveyed the impression that there is no reason in the world for despondency or depression. Conditions were played up in an optimistic way, and as improvement in prices for such products may be considered an index to better times, it is hardly probable anyone will find anything in the report from which to plead hard times.

INTEREST IN MASS MEETING HELD HERE LAST SATURDAY

Several Speeches Made—People Want Tax Redress—Adjourned to Next Saturday When Resolutions Will Be Heard.

BY HENRY T. KING

Will you please publish a little account of the peoples' meeting in the court house Saturday last, in the interest of the tax payers of the county, favoring economy in public affairs, fewer officers, no increase in salaries and redress from exorbitant taxation?

At the time of the meeting, 1 o'clock, there was a large crowd present, which increased until the court house was well filled. G. T. Tyson started things by making a short talk partly explaining the object of the meeting. Organization was effected by making J. C. Galloway chairman and the writer secretary.

G. T. Tyson, Dr. B. T. Cox, J. D. Cox, S. T. Hooker, J. J. Laughinghouse and several others made talks, discussing briefly the evils of overtaxation, increased salaries and extravagance in public expenditures. Showing that this low price for farm products and high taxes and cost of living was general, the writer read from a Decatur, Mississippi, paper, a call for a similar meeting at that place recently, for a mass meeting to consider measures seeking relief and redress from the same causes as burden our own people. The last speaker was Julius Brown, the only one of our representatives in the legislature who was present. He was thoroughly in sympathy with the movement and outlined something of the proposed taxation remedies and pledged himself always ready to assist the people in their fight for remedial measures from public burdens.

The question of resolutions memorializing the legislature for some remedial legislation brought on much discussion and a committee of one from each township was appointed to present the resolutions at the meeting to be held next Saturday in the court house at 11 o'clock a. m. The committee was appointed by the chairman, the following being named: Ayden, Jesse Cannon; Beaver Dam, G. T. Tyson; Belvoir, A. L. Thigpen; Bethel, J. E. Martin; Carolina, J. L. Perkins; Chocod, J. Marshall Cox; Falkland, J. E. Smith; Farmville, J. R. Davis; Fountain, H. L. Eagles; Greenville, J. R. Moye; Griffon, E. J. Chapman; Paeolus, J. E. Satterthwaite; Swift Creek, Paul Moore; Winterville, J. D. Cox.

This committee will meet here Saturday morning at 9 o'clock to draw the resolutions and have them ready at the meeting at 11 o'clock. The members are urgently requested to be on time and have their work ready at the proper hour. A preliminary meeting of the members of the committee was held in the grand jury room, right after adjournment.

The matters to be considered by the meeting Saturday next will be the most important held in many years, as nothing now more concerns everyone of all classes. Each man present was asked to be present next Saturday and bring another not present at that time; to take part in its most important proceedings. The court house should be filled and will be if the people are alive to their own interests.

Come everybody, is the request.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING.

The Woman's Club will hold its regular monthly meeting, Thursday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock in the Princeton hotel. All members are urged to be present. The regular Thursday afternoon Bible class will also meet at the regular hour, three-thirty, which will not interfere with the business of the club.

Personal

Mr. R. B. Simpson, of Wilson, was a business visitor in Greenville today.

Mr. E. J. Davis, of Raleigh, spent several hours in the city today on business.

Mr. J. W. Taylor, of Washington, spent several hours in Greenville Tuesday.

Messrs. K. S. Woolard and C. F. Perkins, of Stokes, were in Greenville yesterday afternoon.

Mr. T. R. Hodges, of Washington, spent Tuesday afternoon in Greenville.

Mr. E. C. Futrell, of Goldsboro, was numbered among business visitors in Greenville yesterday.

Mrs. Alex Blow has returned from a visit to Selma.

Prayer meeting will be held in the several churches of the town at 7:30 tonight.

The ground hog was not able to see his shadow today up to the hour of going to press. Whether or not winter is over remains to be shown by what comes hereafter.

There was a little more snow last night which melted as fast as it fell.

ENTERTAINS BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Ernest Gorman yesterday afternoon delightfully entertained members of her bridge club at her home on Pitt street. Mrs. Alex Blow won the prize for the highest score. At the conclusion of the game a delightful salad course was served.

LADIES' AID TO MEET

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Memorial Baptist church will hold an important call meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. R. J. Cobb. Every member is urged to attend.

SAN SOUCI BOOK CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. HOOKER

The San Souci Book Club held its regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon. There was a very good attendance. After a short business session the program "Children in Art" was enjoyed. Mrs. Jim Elies gave an interesting selection from Beautiful Children, which was followed by short sketches of the lives of the three portrait painters, Murillo, by Mrs. Hadley; Millet, by Mrs. Carey Warren; Reynolds, by Mrs. W. H. Dail.

The works of these men were illustrated by small pictures which were then passed.

Following this, current events, led by Mrs. Dail, were discussed, this always proves one of the most enjoyable parts of the program.

Miss Jessie Moye delighted all present with two lovely songs.

The hostess then served delicious refreshments.

Mesdames Judson and Marvin Blount and Miss Jessie Moye were guests of the club.

THREE MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED SINCE YESTERDAY

The following marriage licenses have been issued by the Register of Deeds since report of Monday:

Colord

Coria Spain to Augustus Baker, both of Greenville township.

Letha Wilson, of Greenville, to J. T. Cox, of Ayden township.

Estelle Noble, of Beaver Dam, to Walter Person, of Farmville.

DR. SPILMAN TO BE AT THE TRAINING SCHOOL

Dr. B. W. Spilman will tell Uncle Remus stories at the Training School on Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock. Admission will be twenty-five cents. The proceeds will go to the Chinese Famine Relief Fund. He comes under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A.

Dr. Spilman is noted for his wonderful story telling powers. He knew Joel Chandler Harris, and knows the old-fashioned darkey, so he knows how to tell the stories of Uncle Remus and the Creeturs.

Phone your orders to the Exchange for embroidery, knitting, crocheting, plain sewing for children. Also candy, cakes, sandwiches, etc. Exchange open daily from 10:30 to 1 in Reflector office. Phones 36 and 261-J.

LIEUT. TAYLOR BURIED TODAY

Lieut. J. C. Taylor, who was killed by a sentry at Norfolk naval base Sunday night, was buried today in the family burying ground about seven miles from Greenville. Funeral services were held at the home of his parents on Eighth street, conducted by Revs. Walter Patten and W. P. Shamhart. From the residence the body was taken in charge by the Masons and the burial was with the honors of that fraternity.

Nothing more definite has been learned in connection with the shooting of Lieut. Taylor by the sentry.

END OF THE CENTURY CLUB TO MEET WITH MRS. MOYE

The End of the Century Club was the guest of Mrs. Hortense Moye on Tuesday afternoon. After the transaction of business an enjoyable program was rendered. Mrs. L. C. Arthur read an essay by Arnold Bennett on the Abolition of Slavery. Mr. Bennett in this essay brings out clearly some reasons for sex-discord. Mrs. Steidley sang two songs and Mrs. Goode gave several readings and piano selections. A delicious ice course was served.

FRANKLYN FARNUM

Greatest Screen Exponent of Western Life To Be Seen at White's Theatre in "The Galloping Devil"

Franklyn Farnum, who is considered the greatest exponent in the world of western screen drama, will be the star attraction at White's theatre in his latest picture, The Galloping Devil, on Thursday.

Young Franklyn Farnum has long been a close student of the motion picture science, and in this picture he brings to his work not only reckless daring, but a rare knowledge of dramatic effects.

The picture has been shown in New York and other large centers with great success, and it is expected that The Galloping Devil will duplicate its universal success in Greenville.

In the Galloping Devil young Farnum is at his best. He plays the role of a devil may care young cowpuncher who goes his merry way making love to the prairie beauties and turning up at the critical moment to deal out justice and to protect the weak and needy.

The picture is said to be remarkable for its story, acting and scenic settings.

NORTH CAROLINA, Jitt Clunty. In the Superior Court.

Lillian S. Jones vs. Notice of Taking Deposition. Beverly M. Jones

The defendant, Beverly M. Jones, will take notice that the plaintiff will, on Monday, the 21st day of February, 1921, at 10 o'clock A. M., at the office of W. G. Britt, in the city of Goldsboro, N. C., before the said W. G. Britt, commissioner, take the deposition of Capt. J. B. Edgerton, witness for the plaintiff, and others, which said deposition will be used in the trial of this cause to be had in the Superior Court of Pitt County.

The defendant will further take notice that the taking of said deposition may be adjourned from time to time until completed, and this notice is given that the defendant may, if he so desires, be present and cross examine said witnesses.

This January 20, 1921.

"THE GALLOPING DEVIL"

The mysterious romance of the far western prairies—of man's lion-like courage in the face of evil—a story of thrills and gasps—of rapid-fire gun display and reckless horsemanship, with love and laughter—this is the kind of a tale told in "The Galloping Devil."

larly in the west. The American Library Association has about 30,000 books available for Americans, French, Belgians and English residents of the occupied area and has also circulated many books by mail to Americans living in other parts of Germany. Three hundred copies each of 36 American weekly and monthly publications, in addition to a large number of newspapers, have been taken by the organization and circulated through the branch libraries at Andernach and Mayer, as well as through the American Base Hospital and the main library in Coblenz.

With the beginning of 1921 the American Library Association turned its books over to the Y. M. C. A. and is no longer supporting the work.

The main library in Coblenz was formerly a German officers' club and is ideally suited to library purposes. It has a great hall room which makes an excellent reading room and also has sun-parlors and large drawing rooms with many windows.
