

Wilson Declines Request Of Labor In Wage Proposal

Will Not Investigate Contentions of Executives Nor Present Them Before Congress

DECLARES QUESTIONS SHOULD BE SETTLED BY USUAL FORMALITIES

Entrusts Decisions to Railroad Labor Board and Members Interstate Commerce Commission

Washington, Feb. 7.—President Wilson today refused the request of Railroad Labor Union representatives that he investigate railroad executive's claim before the railroad labor board that the carriers must adjust wages or face bankruptcy. He also declined to submit the matter to Congress.

The President set forth his position on the appeals made to him in a telegram addressed jointly to two of the railway labor unions and to the Association of railway executives who also had sent a communication to the White House.

Confidence was expressed by the President that all questions dealing with railway labor and management might be left safely to the two bodies entrusted under the transportation act with such matters—the railroad labor board and the interstate commerce commission. He accordingly informed the labor and carriers representatives that he was submitting copies of telegrams received from them to these two bodies as the only action deemed necessary. The President telegram read as follows:

I have carefully considered the several telegrams addressed to me during with the labor questions and railroad management now under consideration by the railroad labor board in Chicago.

The transportation act approved Feb. 28, 1920, to a greater extent than any previous legislation places all questions dealing with finances and railroad management and necessary rates under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission hence all questions involving the expense of operation, the necessities of the railroads and the amount of money necessary to secure the successful operation thereof, are now under the jurisdiction of the commission. At the same time the act places all questions of dispute between carriers and their employers and subordinate officials under jurisdiction of the railroad labor board, now sitting in Chicago. This board is composed of three members constituting the labor group representing the employees and subordinate officials of the carriers; three members constituting the management group, representing the carriers; and three members constituting the public group, representing the public. So far as I am advised the board may be relied on to give careful and intelligent consideration of all questions within its jurisdiction. To seek influence either of these bodies upon anything which has been placed within their jurisdiction by Congress would be unwise and open to grave objection.

Two week term of criminal court opens in Greenville today

The two week term of the county court, for the trial of criminal cases, convened in this city this morning with Judge L. G. Cooper presiding and Solicitor P. R. Hines prosecuting. There are eighty some odd cases on docket for the present term, consisting of several charges for manufacturing and selling whiskey, larceny, etc. One week civil term of Superior court will begin immediately after county court completes its work, and for that reason an unusual number of the people will be here during both terms.

DECLARES NATION FACES PERIOD OF GREATER PROGRESS

Washington, Feb. 7.—The country is now in many respects on a sounder financial basis economically than for years. Comptroller of Currency Williams in his annual report. The period of deflation obviously inevitable a year ago has come he said, and prices for many basic commodities and raw materials have returned to pre-war levels or below. It now remains for the middlemen to adjust his profits to new prices before the ultimate consumer will receive any benefit from the reduced cost of living, the Comptroller declared. Labor conditions, however, Mr. Williams said, must soon determine whether shutdown and wage scales which take in consideration lower cost of living, idleness is preferred to lower

Noted Explorer About Ready For Dash To Arctic

Dr. McMillan Plans To Leave Maine Soon As New Boat Now Being Constructed Is Completed.

East Boothbay, Me., Feb. 7.—Work is almost completed on the hull of the Bowdoin in which Dr. Donald B. MacMillan, explorer, will make his next dash for the Arctic regions. The launching of the schooner will take place in the early spring and the vessel will be in shape to depart from this port by May 1.

Dr. McMillan is perfecting plans for an expedition, to begin next summer, which will include an attempt to circumnavigate Baffin Land and penetrate its western coast, 1,000 miles in length, said to be the longest stretch of unknown coast line in the world. He is a frequent visitor here and keeps careful watch over the construction of his ship.

The Bowdoin, which is being built on the sturdy lines needed in an exploration vessel to withstand the ice grind, is of the knockabout fishing schooner type. It will be 88 feet in length, over all, 26 feet wide and equipped with 45 horsepower oil burning engines. Three inch oak plank material is being used for the hull.

Before his departure for the far north Dr. MacMillan will make an exhibition cruise along the coast during May and June. About July 1, with a party of six men, the explorer will sail from Boston for the polar regions.

Under favorable conditions the Bowdoin should reach Fury and Hecla Strait early in September. There the ship will be frozen in.

County Board Of Agriculture Will Help Farm Agent

Organization Perfected at Meeting of Prominent Planters Here During The Morning.

A forward step looking to the agricultural development of the county was taken at a meeting of prominent planters conducted in the office of W. B. Pace, farm demonstration agent, this morning when a county board of agriculture was organized and plans perfected for extending work of the farm demonstration department. Several interested planters related their experiences in grappling with problems of the past, and it was deemed advisable for the body to outline so far as possible economic methods of farming for planters of this district.

Mr. O. L. Joyner was elected chairman of the board, with the following men as active members: K. R. Wooten, Fountain; S. A. Congleton, Parmelee; A. L. Thigpen, Greenville; Paul Davenport and J. J. Elks, Grimesland; W. A. Quinerly, Ayden; McD. Horton, Farmville; G. L. Moore, Bethel; R. L. Bell, Fountain; G. T. Tyson, Beaver Dam.

It is the purpose of the board to work in connection with the farm demonstration department and assist in every way possible in making the county one of the greatest farming sections of the country. There are many ways in which this may be done, and at meetings to be conducted the first Monday of every month individual problems will be discussed from every angle and outlined to the farmers' advantage.

The question of high priced fertilizers was taken up at the first session this morning, and it was mutually agreed that home mixtures were cheaper and of more direct benefit in every way, although analysis in many instances could not be made. The subject will be taken under consideration more fully and when some definite plan has been decided upon county planters will be advised and directed as to the best course to pursue.

To Investigate Movie Schools Of The Nation

New York District Attorney to Wage Warfare On Schools Giving Fake Lesson In Art.

New York, Feb. 7.—Schools claiming to teach the art of motion picture acting in the future must be a bit careful and see that they really teach the art, instead of luring embryo screen stars and their money to so-called studios where the money remains while the would-be dramatic artists return to the prosaic typewriter or kitchen.

This was brought out when it was learned that assistant District Attorneys Owen W. Bohan and Frederick Sullivan have started a sweeping investigation of such school and concerns that advertised in the "help-wanted" columns of newspapers for chorus girls, or motion picture people. These attorneys say they intend to put out of business any such concerns that mislead girls into expecting immediate employment and they have begun investigation of several which appear to be suspicious.

The "studnets" of these schools, say the attorneys, are usually girls. The investigation was instigated by Frank P. Donovan, who said he was a former motion picture director. He said he personally visited one such school and found some prospective artists acting before a real camera, except it was minus a film. The whole proceedings, he declared, were a farce to anyone who knew anything about motion pictures. Three girls swore out affidavits saying they had been orally promised positions with big film companies, but thus far they had not seen even a train bound for Los Angeles.

Ohio Legislature Registers Vote By Electrical Device

Representatives Now Vote With Fingers Instead of Roll Call and Response With Lungs.

Columbus, Feb. 7.—Representatives in the Ohio legislature vote their opinions on roll call now with their fingers. No longer does the clerk call the roll and the member vote with his lungs. The result of the change is a saving of fifteen minutes to half an hour in the case of a roll call vote.

When a question is put to a vote each representative may vote at the same time. It is difficult for any to vote and see what someone else will do and let the vote follow.

Only the session two years ago an electrical device has been installed in the house, and already has been used. On each member's desk is a little device which carries a key. No two keys are alike. There are three small lights to show him who is voting. When the question is put the legislator inserts his key, and then manipulates the device. What he does is not only recorded on his own benefit by the light on his desk, but shows on a board above the speaker's head. The members are all seated on the board. Opposite the name are three lights and a slot. If his name is "aye" a red light shows, and a "N" appears in the slot. A blue light shows and the letter "N" for a negative vote. To merely be recorded present and not voting a white light is used. Within twenty seconds after the vote is completed a photograph of the complete record on the board, taken automatically, is delivered to the desk of the clerk. In the meantime, however, the total has been flashed on the speaker's and clerk's desks, so the result will be announced immediately. The photograph is the state's record.

The machine is controlled by the clerk, who unlocks it and sets it when the vote is called for. As soon as completed he again locks the machine.

To Raise Money For City Library With Silver Tea

Tea Will Be Served In Rooms of Chamber of Commerce Wednesday Evening At 8:30.

On Wednesday evening at eight-thirty in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce there will be a Silver Tea served for the purpose of raising funds to help buy books for the Greenville Public Library. The Greenville Library has had a rather eventful career. It has travelled quite a bit to say the least. It has been more or less a bird of passage without a home. The Winslow building, Five Points building, the Graded School, Farmers Bank and Chamber of Commerce rooms have taken their turn at housing it. It is now located in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, and will shortly be open to the public. The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce will act as librarian. The town of Greenville is in debt to Mrs. W. A. Bowen for her untiring efforts to give this town a library. In this great work she has been supported somewhat by the town, certain civic organizations and clubs and individuals, but there has never been that concert of action that should mark a movement of this sort. The library has served a very useful purpose in the life of the community. All parents are aware of the fact that children as a rule are great readers. And unless they can be furnished with the good sort of books, they will certainly form the habit of devouring the trashy stuff that goes for literature at the present time. The average home cannot afford to buy all the good books necessary, and hence it is very necessary to have a source of good books which a public library supplies. Good books cost money, and hence the library is in need of funds. New books are needed. A great number of books have been taken out so many times that they are worn completely out. Then, too, the fire recently destroyed a number of volumes. The school children of the town are the greatest beneficiaries of the library. Since it has been out of commission the children have suffered. The schools require a certain number of books to be read by each child, usually with the understanding that these books can be secured from the public library. It is too much to expect that the children can buy these books. Hence, the work of the school suffers when the books cannot be had from the library.

All thinking people are aware that the children of this town are like all other children. They want something too, some way in which to spend their spare time. Give them books, books, books—of the right sort. The library will help you do this. Get in behind the Public Library. Show that you are behind it by attending the Silver Tea Wednesday night in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at 8:30.

German Premiers To Make Proposal For Reparations

Will Offer Counter Proposal to Entente Invitation to Send Delegates to Conference.

GERMAN INDUSTRIES GREATLY INTERESTED IN FINAL OUTCOME

Press Advises Government Against Pining Faith On Possibility of Support from America.

Berlin, Feb. 6.—The Premiers of the several federated states of the German nation were in session with the Berlin cabinet here until late this evening over the reparations questions, the meeting being followed by the announcement that complete unanimity prevailed among all the participants in the conference. The speech of Foreign Minister Simons in the Reichstag had been given unqualified endorsement by the representatives of Bavaria, Baden, Wuerttemberg, Saxony and the other states, it was said.

The conference was presided over by Chancellor Fehrenbach. Dr. Simons spoke at length and was followed by other members of the cabinet after which the visiting premiers were heard the debate continuing until 7 o'clock.

The invitation extended by the entente for Germany to send representatives on March 1 to the London conference on reparations is construed here as indicating that the allies expect Germany to submit counter proposals and that the negotiations at Brussels by the experts on financial and economic affairs are therefore superfluous for the time being.

Leaders of German industry, shipping and finance have been arriving in Berlin during the past few days for consultations with the government staff of economic experts who under the direction of Under Secretary Bergmann, of the ministry of economics, are engaged in drafting of the German counter proposals.

Much of the press comment in regard to the situation warns the government against pinning its faith on the possibility that the attitude of the new government at Washington will supply Germany with moral backing. These commentators urge the government to present Germany's case strictly on its own merits.

LOW PRICES PLAYING HAVOC IN THE SOUTH

Raleigh, Feb. 7.—On account of the low prices that have been paid for tobacco and cotton this season, many Southern farmers have experienced great difficulties in meeting their obligations.

As reflecting the plight of one planter, former Governor Richard L. Manning, of South Carolina, at a meeting of tobacco and cotton growers here recently, read the following letter which, he said, was sent to a South Carolina fertilizer company:

"I received your letter about what I owe you. Now, be patient. I ain't forgot you, and soon as folks pay me I'll pay you, but if this was judgement day and you were no more prepared to meet your God than I am to meet your account, then you sho' going to hell."

REV. WALTER PATTEN AT THE TRAINING SCHOOL

Rev. Walter Patten conducted the evening services of the Y. W. C. A. at the Training School Sunday. He brought out clearly the universal message of God's love: Christ is willing to become humble and humiliated before man, if man will become reconciled unto God.

Mr. Patten impressed his listeners with the idea that God has spoken to his people some time in their lives, but whether they will answer this call of not no one but they can answer.

INCOME TAX FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW

"Ordinary and necessary expenses" in the conduct of a business are deductible from gross income in making an income-tax return for the year 1920.

What constitutes ordinary and necessary expenses, however, is a question that puzzles many taxpayers. Numerous inquiries have been received by the Bureau of Internal Revenue from automobile owners regarding purchase price of an automobile and upkeep of such vehicles and allowable deductions therefor. The purchase price of an automobile, even though the car is used wholly or partly for business by the taxpayer, is not a deductible item because it represents a capital investment. If an automobile, such as a motor truck, is used exclusively for business purposes the cost of gasoline, repairs and operations may be taken as a necessary expense. If an automobile is used one-half the time or one-third of the time for business purposes, the same fractional part of the cost of repairs, gasoline and upkeep may be taken as a necessary expense. If an automobile is used solely for the pleasure or convenience of the taxpayer or his family, no deduction may be made.

"I employ a man to assist me in operating my farm and a woman to assist about the house," writes a farmer. "Is the compensation paid to each allowable as a deduction?" Unquestionably as to the amount paid the man, but a line must be drawn as to the amount paid the woman. If her time is employed entirely in taking care of milk and cream produced for sale, in the production of butter and cheese, the care of milk cans and churns, or if her services are used entirely in the preparation and serving of the meals furnished the laborers and in caring for their rooms, the salary paid is an allowable deduction. If, however, she is employed to assist in caring for the farmer's own household, no deduction can be claimed for this being a personal or living expense.

A frequent inquiry from business men is whether salary paid a minor son or daughter as assistants in their business or trade may be claimed as a deduction. The answer is "no," unless the minor has been emancipated by his parents.

GENERAL BUSINESS CONDITIONS

The general business situation is marked by greater confidence than was manifest in the last weeks of 1920, and there are tangible evidences of improvement. The apprehensions and rumors of impending trouble which are always a demoralizing influence when the credit situation is under strain, have been largely cleared away. The irresponsible talk about a panic has been silenced. The epidemic of business failures predicted for the end of the year did not come. The number of reported bankruptcies has increased, but has not been alarming, and the cases have been mainly of small concerns of mushroom growth, who extended their business rapidly upon small capital while prices were rising and did not have the reserve resources to meet the losses that were inevitable when reverses came. The substantial business structure of the country is unshaken, and whatever anxiety there may have been upon that score has been relieved.

This does not mean that heavy losses have not been taken. Only the fortunate or sagacious few who began to trim their sails early in the year, and deliberately restricted their business, escaped. Some made good profits in the first six or nine months and lost most of them in the last three months, while many have come out of the year not only without a return upon the investment, but with an impairment of capital. Official price regulation, which curtailed profits while prices were rising, and prevented the creation of a cushion to absorb the losses while prices were falling, is held largely responsible for the dissipation of capital. Heavy taxation, of course, had a similar effect. Nevertheless, the leading business concerns of the country had been building up reserves for years in conservative fashion, and the proportion of important business houses that have failed or been seriously embarrassed has been smaller than any previous crisis approaching this one in gravity. This is a very reassuring circumstance and promises well for recovery.

PERMANENT PASTURES FOR PIG

The farmer who provides pastures for his hogs is the one who makes the production of pork most profitable. Every farmer should have a permanent pasture, but this pasture should be supplemented by quick growing, heavy yielding, temporary forage crops.

Every farmer who has not already a permanent pasture should plant one, and whether this is done or not, he should prepare for a succession of quick growing and heavy yielding crops in order that his hogs may have something green every day in the year. And remember this, the native woods grass and herbs, combined with the pine roots that many of them have to eat is NO SUBSTITUTE FOR A PASTURE. So the problem for hog raisers to solve is to combine dependable permanent pastures with heavy yielding forage crops.

The following crops may be used in season as a forage for hogs: oats, rye, rape, cat-tail millet, sorghum, early dent corn, peanuts, soy beans, velvet beans, cowpeas, and sweet potatoes. There are many other crops that could be used, all of which are discussed in a recent bulletin entitled "Systems of Hog Farming in the Southern States." This is a very valuable bulletin and may be had free of charge by applying to your county agent. It is Farmers Bulletin No. 985, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Send for one and begin your plans for a more profitable crop of hogs this year.

How A Few Hogs Pay Small Farmer

I am writing to tell what I have done with one sow since February 2, 1919. She farrowed Feb. 2, 1919, seven pigs; October 20, 1919, eight pigs; May 28, 1920, eleven pigs; total 26 pigs. I have sold $441.00 worth of pigs and meat, and have killed and used 2,500 pounds and still have on hand the sow and five pigs.

C. P. Parker, Crenshaw, S. C. What Mr. Parker did in South Carolina any man can do in North Carolina, and if every man who owns a farm in Pitt county would do as well the low prices of tobacco and cotton would not hurt as much as it does when all this is to buy. The world has got to have meat, but it is better off without your tobacco. Grow less tobacco and more meat, and if the home demand is no sufficient to use it you can co-operate with your neighbors and ship to Richmond, or some other livestock market. If Pitt county farmers would grow and ship one million dollars worth of hogs to market, it would leave more money in the pockets of the farmers than five million dollars worth of tobacco does.

Yours very truly,
W. B. PACE,
County Agent.

He was a Primitive Baptist minister and was always interested in the up-building of his community. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Sallie Brooks, before marriage; seven daughters, Misses Lucy, Myrtle, Loula, Stella, Lillie, Mesdames Oscar McLawhorn, of Winterville, and Allen Forves, of Greenville; two sons, Messrs. Henry Tucker, Jr., and Oscar Tucker; two brothers, Messrs. C. A. and C. M. Tucker.

The interment will take place tomorrow afternoon at the Tucker's burying ground near Greenville.

The sympathy of the entire community goes to the grief stricken family.

IMPORTED COTTON SEED FOR SALE

I purchased last spring 300 bushels Wanaamaker Cleveland improved cotton seed from Mr. D. O. McGilhorn, clerk, of the Superior court of Hertford county. These seed were grown under the supervision of Mr. E. W. Gorsha, government demonstration agent, and I found them on his recommendation. I found it the best cotton I ever planted. The yield was more than 40 per cent. line and it matures from ten to fifteen days earlier than most cotton. Price of seed, single bushel, $1.50; twenty bushels or more, $1.25 a bushel. If you plant cotton, plant this kind and you will have the best.
