COMMITTEE URGES NAVY AS LARGE AS ANY OTHER POWER

Borah's Resolution for Disarmament Declared Not Practical to Meet Future Demands

TO SUSPEND CONSTRUCTION ON NAVAL CIRCLES WOULD BE AN UNSOUND POLICY

Completion of Program Begun in 1916 Advocated by Leading Members of Committee

Washington, Feb. 10.—An American navy "at least equal to that of any other power" is advocated in a report of the Senate Naval committee filed today in the Senate.

The committee replying to the Borah resolution said "it is not practical and is not sound policy to suspend naval construction for a period of six months nor at all." It urged completion of the great 1916 naval program, except that two huge naval aircraft carriers be built in place of 12 destroyers and six submarines which have been authorized, but not yet contracted for.

Capital ships remain the principal units of sea power, the committee said adding that submarine and aircraft were as yet only auxiliary forces.

The committee report to which Senator King, Democrat, Utah, plans to file a minority report tomorrow, expressed a desire that an agreement for limitation of naval armament might be reached among the nations, but said that until some such arrangements were made the United States should continue its building program.

In view of the importance of sea power to the United States, the committee informed the Senate, and the fact that without it we would be at the mercy of other nations, it is the opinion of your committee that this country should maintain a naval at least equal to that of any other power. The lesson of history teach us with indisputable truth that we cannot afford to depend for the maintenance of our rights and the defense of the lives and commerce of our citizens upon the mercy generosity of good will of other power with rival or conflicting interests and ambitions.

It is the opinion of this committee, the report continued that the United States should have under its control a sufficient force to protect and preserve both its material possessions, the policies it has established, the lives and rights of its citizens and the principles upon which its government is founded.

For these reasons we are of the opinion that there should be no suspension of the present building program of the navy, which, as at present laid out, is at the most only designed to place us on a footing of equality with any other power upon the sea.

The report expressed approval of the Navy general board's summary of the situation leading to the conclusion that the capital ship remains the strongest naval unit. It recommended, however, scientific study and development of the submarine aircraft and high explosives.

A naval power armed with these devices but lacking in battleships and battle cruisers opposed to a rival power with all auxiliaries and all heavy ships would be at the mercy of the enemy the report said.

The rival forces of light craft, it said, whether on or below the surface or in the air would neutralize each other, leaving the power with possessed heavy ships, armed with great guns, in undisputed control of the sea.

AMERICAN GAINED STRONG POSITION AMONG SOCIALISTS

Late John Reed Ranked Next to Lenin and Trotsky in Soviet Russian Sections

Berlin, Feb. 10.—The late John Reed, American magazine writer, news paper correspondent and leader of Communists in America, won to a place in Soviet Russia second only to Lenin and Trotsky, M. Schwartz, of San Francisco, Socialist and labor organizer, told the correspondent of the Associated Press upon his arrival here from Moscow where he had been four months in prison following his attendance as delegate to the second congress of the Third Internationale. Reed died in Moscow last Autumn.

When I first went to Moscow some friends told me John Reed was there. Said, Mr. Schwartz. What of it I asked. I asked for I had known Reed in Chicago when, as a big, good natured sincere fellow he had split the Socialist party over the issue of communism and his being in Russia didn't particular interest me. It soon did interest me.

Some of the Russians had asked me about the Communist party in America and I had replied we had no real organized Communist party there, although we had communists. This, apparently, did not jibe with the impression Reed had made. That some day he came coatless and angry, into the dining room where we were all eating and walking up to me put his hand on my shoulder and in a voice which everyone in the room could hear said:

Schwartz did you say there was no Communist party in America? I was surprised and answered that I had not said we had no communists but that we had no legal communist party. I'm glad you didn't say it, Reed declared, still in a loud voice, and walked out of the room.

Shortly after this I was given an exhibition of the power he held over the administration. I had seen him tearing through the streets with Lenin and Trotsky and Zinovieff in official automobiles, evidently on the best terms. Then Lenin put thru it resolution at the congress that only Russian, German and French should be spoken. Reed heard about this an hour or so after the resolution was passed and he came stamping into the convention in a rage. He was a dramatic figure. He wore no coat and his shirt was open at the collar. He walked down the aisle pointing his finger at Lenin, who was in the chair, in the meantime speaking rapidly in English.

NUMBER OF CASES HEARD IN COUNTY COURT YESTERDAY

Will Jenkins Sentenced to Six Months on Roads for Carrying Concealed Weapon

The following cases were disposed of in the criminal term of the county court in session here yesterday:

Leon Tell, charged with carrying concealed weapon, assault with deadly weapon and driving auto without lights was sentenced to six months at work on the county road forces after being found guilty of carrying concealed weapon. The defendant appealed to superior court, his bond being fixed at $500.

John Cox, charged with trespass, was adjudged not guilty.

Lewis and Henry Cox, recently indicted for alleged connection with the whiskey traffic, were found not guilty.

Moses Allen, was found not guilty of refusing to dip cattle according to government regulation in this territory. The case had been pending for action for sometime, being one of several considered by the court for the past several months.

Judgment was suspended on payment of costs in the case against Joe Baker, alleged to have unlawfully moved a crop during the past harvesting season.

Will Jenkins plead guilty of a charge of carrying concealed weapon and was sentenced to six months in the common jail of the county to be employed in county road work whenever advisable.

Judge Cooper has made splendid progress with the docket for the past three days and as a result quite a number of cases have been settled, opening the way for greater activity. There are several other matters to be taken up during the week, but the brunt of the work will be reached probably by next week.

"MY GOLDEN GIRL" TO APPEAR HERE FEBRUARY ON 18TH

Musical Comedy by Victor Herbert to Play White's Theatre February Eighteenth.

America's foremost composer of music, Victor Herbert, and Frederick Arnold Kummer, whose short stories in the monthly magazines have made for him an enviable reputation, are the two men responsible for the big musical comedy success, "My Golden Girl," which comes to White's theatre Tuesday, February 18th.

Surely a better combination could not be found anywhere in America today, for after all, it is the author's who really "make" the play. Victor Herbert's delightful melodies have been sung the world over for the past fifteen years, and many of his successes such as Velvet Lady, Princess Pat, The Red Mill, Mile. Modiste, Babes In Toyland and many others will live forever. My Golden Girl is his latest and public as being his best and most delightful score. It was one of the pronounced hits of the season last year in New York where it enjoyed a long and successful run at the Casino theatre.

Mr. Kummer has based the plot on one of his best magazine stories entitled "Change Partners," the very title of which suggests no end of complicated and amusing situations.

A carefully selected company of artists have been chosen, along with a large and pretty chorus, whose gowns are creations of exquisite beauty. Handsome stage settings, and lighting effects and a special augmented orchestra are carried.

For an evening of real enjoyment and delightful music, Victor Herbert's musical gem, "My Golden Girl," cannot be surpassed.

SHIP CONSTRUCTION CONCLUDED AT BIG BUILDING CENTERS

Hog Island, Largest Construction Center in World, Stops Activities with Completion of the Alaska

ISLAND RENDERED GREAT ASSISTANCE TO EMERGENCY FLEETS DURING THE WAR

Over 36,000 Men Were Employed in Yards While Industry Was At It's Peak

Philadelphia, Feb. 10.—Shipbuilding activity at Hog Island, the world's largest shipyard, has ceased. With the delivery of the steamship Asine to the Army transport service after the vessels trial trips during the latter part of January, not a ship remains to be completed at the great plant.

Hog Island, during the three years of its existence, has been one of the chief factors in placing America in the front ranks of maritime powers. Created as a war time emergency, more than 36,000 men and women were employed there at the peak of its operations.

The first keel was laid February 12, 1918 and since then 122 vessels of a total of 256,750 deadweight tons, more than one tenth of the Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation's tonnage of contract steel ships built at all the shipyards in the United States have been turned out.

The production record of the Hog Island yards reached its height in the one-year period from April 17, 1919 to April 17, 1920 when 79 ships launched every 28 working hours and one delivered every 30 working hours.

The cargo carrying records of Hog Island vessels include the carrying of 3,613,094 long tons of American products to all important ports of the world. To do this the Hog Island ships have steamed 3,775,435 municipal miles equivalent to 157 trips around the world. It is declared that they have functioned "perfectly on all voyages."

TONS OF GERMAN DYESTUFFS SENT TO GREAT BRITAIN

Anticipation of Embargo Caused Germans to Send Large Consignment to Nation

London, Feb. 10.—Many thousands of tons of German dyestuffs were poured into the United Kingdom in anticipation of the coming into force Jan. 15 of the Dyestuffs Act, which placed an embargo upon the importation of foreign dyes, under a strict licensing system. This German dumping will not be stopped.

The embargo does not apply in the case of dyes entering this country for re-exportation or in transit.

The importation of single consignments may be authorized by the board of Trade which issues a special license for this purpose, in each case subject to the approval of a committee of 11, consisting of three dyestuff manufacturers, five consumers and three persons not connected with the dye industry.

Shipments of German Dyes under the Reparation Act will not be effected by the new law, and the prescribed deliveries will continue to be made for distribution to the trade here.

The productive capacity of British dye manufacturers already exceed 25,000 tons a year as compared with only 1,000 tons in 1913. During the next decade, British chemists will be put on their mettle to secure for Great Britain a complete independence from foreign producers, for the life of the present act is limited to ten years.

DISTRICT ROTARY CONFERENCE PLANS TO MEET APRIL 12

Program Being Arranged for Seventh District Meeting to be Staged in Norfolk, Va.

(Special to The Reflector) Norfolk, Va., Feb. 10.—The program being arranged for the Seventh District Rotary Conference which will be held in this city April 12, 13 and 14, will provide a balance between work and pleasure, the first half of the program being arranged by the officers of Rotary with the needs of the organization uppermost. The second half is being arranged by the three Hampton Roads clubs, Newport News, Portsmouth and Norfolk, with the view of balancing the visit of the delegates so that neither one nor the other suffers.

For instance, one of the big features of the entertainment part of the program will be a visit to the United States Navy Yard, where the delegates will be welcomed by Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage, commandant. The Admiral is arranging a rather elaborate program in the yard for the morning of the 14th, the chief feature of which will be the inspection of the super-dreadnaught North Carolina, now building on the ways. This giant battleship will be the largest afloat when completed, and will cost $24,000,000. She is 608 feet long, 106 feet wide, will weigh 43,600 tons when ready for fight. Her construction is well under way, and the visiting Rotarians will be given the privilege of going aboard her.

"It will be particularly pleasing to have the Seventh District Rotarians visit the yard at this time," said the admiral commanding to day. "To see the actual work of construction on this giant battleship will be well worth their while, if there was nothing else to interest them in the yard. But I feel that members of this conference will see many things they will be glad to remember as a pleasing feature of their visit to Norfolk on this occasion."

BUSINESS OFFICES DAMAGED BY FIRE LAST NIGHT

The business offices on Dickinson avenue, occupied by Mr. G. A. Forrest and Mr. J. L. Wooten were damaged by fire last night about eight o'clock. The fire originated from a defective fuse in Mr. Wooten's office, and after causing considerable damage to that office, burned through to the downstairs office occupied by Mr. Forrest. It was impossible at the time of going to press to ascertain the total loss.

PENSIONS PAID TO LATE EMPLOYEES STEEL CORPORATION

Annual Report of Corporation Shows Aggregate of $776,776.60 Paid to Employees

TOTAL SUM DISBURSED SINCE ESTABLISHMENT FUND IS $4, 880,381.60

Money Derived From Trusts of $12,000,000 Established By Andrew Carnegie and Company

Pittsburg, Feb. 10.—An aggregate of 779,706.60 in pensions was paid to retired employees of the United States Steel Corporation and it is subsidiary companies during the year 1920, according to the Tenth Annual Report of the U. S. Steel and Carnegie Pension Fund made public here tonight. This is $46,050.15 more than was disbursed last year, and greater than any year since the establishment of the fund in 1911. There were 3,264 participants, 2,940 being on the list at the beginning of 1920 and 324 added during the year. Two hundred and ninety five were discontinued because of death or other causes, leaving 2,969 as active participants.

The total amount disbursed since the establishment of the fund is $5,880,581.60, and starting with $281,457.37 that year, it has increased annually the amount being for 1912, $358,780.22; 1913, $422,815.14; 1914, $511,967.50; 1915, $630,380.42; 1916, $711,130.33; 1917, $712,506.65; 1918, $700,050.82; 1919, $779,706.60 and for 1920, $776,776.60.

The beneficiaries make no contribution to the fund. The money is derived from trusts of $12,000,000 established by Andrew Carnegie and the United States Steel Corporation.

Because so many of the Corporation's activities are in the Pittsburg district naturally a large portion of the fund is distributed here. The Carnegie Steel Company leads the subsidiary companies with $168,715.79, more than $8,000 increase over the preceding year. The Edgar Thomas Works at Braddock Pa. led all units of this company with $36,387.17 awarded its retired employees while the Homestead Plant was second with $35,873.80. The old mill of the company known as the City Mills received $22,142.24 while $12,433.97 went to the Youngstown, O. Plants.

Revaluation opponents might as well find something else to worry about. They will get excessive valuations corrected, but that's about all.

German delegates seem anxious to attend the meeting in London to discuss reparation questions. They at least will delay action that long.

Harding has said farewell to his vacation ship. Wonder is he asked the ship's crew anything about how to run the government. Advice of leading minds is one of his strong points.

A German war plot that failed has been revealed by the Shipping Board. If the information had been presented to the public sooner it might not have been such a miserable failure for Germany.

Low prices for cotton and tobacco is one of the best arguments in the world for decreased acreage. No one knows this better than the farmer who sold his crop for half what he received last year, and is in a state of almost complete insolvency.

A Louisiana sheriff, so reports say, got so busy with criminal and civil actions that he forgot to hang a negro, convicted of murder. The governor of that State might jog his memory so that he'll keep hanging on the brain in the future.

The public has at last been informed that Mr. McAdoo does not intend to take over Mexican railroads for reorganization work. He probably thinks he might find plenty of room for similar action in this country.

The Revaluation act seems to be weathering the stormy attacks made by a large delegation of farmers from many parts of the State. In fact, the legislation will probably be law when the delegation has passed on to protest over conditions in other regions.

The American Legion regrets that the United States saw fit to apologize to the Berlin government for the attempt to capture a wealthy American draft evader in that country. The Legion is right in its position, too. If anyone is to do the apologizing, let Germany do it. The world has suffered enough from its atrocities, and years will pass before atonement will be deserving of the slightest kind of apology.

A State college experiment expert says give hens more light and get more eggs. The suggestion is not bad at all, for more light generally produces better results in everything. Artificial light, as suggested for creating a desire to lay eggs among hens, is about as good as that provided by nature, just so it doesn't affect the eyesight and cause the chicken to lose time in hunting for its nest.

The Italian government wants to establish trade relations with the United States and pay in macaroni, according to recent reports. Since spaghetti is no longer an available daily dish in this country, the government might make a pretty good trade. Italy sent over a hundred million pounds of macaroni a year before the war, but it is hardly probable any such amount could be sent now. However, any size shipment would be appreciated.

THE PROPOSED CAFETERIA

Because of prevailing high prices at cafes and hotels in this city the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Tuesday night unanimously went on record as favoring establishment of a cafeteria to at least relieve the present deplorable eating situation. The action was the most important taken by the organization in several weeks, and ought to be instrumental in making the cafes realize that the high prices now in evidence are intolerable to those acquainted with the world market.

Much criticism has been directed against the unyielding attitude of cafe proprietors for the past several days, particularly by traveling men, but they have had little effect in bringing about an improvement in the situation. The prices charged in many instances are the same that prevailed during the war. This fact, however, has not troubled proprietors, for during the war, regardless of unfavorable public comment, continued robbing their patrons as if they expected to go on forever without changing conditions of the market forcing them to change.

The cafeteria idea has been favorably received in many parts of the country. Other towns in which they have been established were affected like Greenville, and today the cafeteria enjoys a patronage not only proving a severe indictment against the cafe and hotel price, but means that eventually the business will take the place of the cafe almost entirely. There is little doubt concerning the success of such an eating place in Greenville. This is assured by the tolerant attitude prevailing among cafe patrons of the past several months, which at this time has burst into a veritable flame of fury and promises to bring results.

If the cafes do not want to be succeeded almost exclusively by the proposed cafeteria it is up to their proprietors to make immediate provisions for reductions. The price of commodities has declined to such an extent this may be done without loss. In fact, if anything, patronage will increase and, instead of having criticism constantly flung in their face, managers may conduct their business more successfully than in years. It is a situation in which everyone is interested, and now that the Chamber of Commerce has taken definite action, there is only one alternative, and that is to cut prices or find business reduced to alarming proportions by a progressive cafeteria.

RAILROADS SUFFERING

The serious condition confronting railroads of the nation is considered critical at this time, and statements from leading authorities indicate that many roads will be forced into an almost complete insolvency unless an improvement is noted in the near future. The greatest trouble, it is stated, is in the high prices demanded by the laboring man. The total amount paid out by roads have doubled and nearly doubled again in 1917, and today the situation is so acute that even with recent increased freight and passenger rates no improvement is probable in the near future.

The situation is one which may be relieved considerably by a spirit of close co-operation between railway officials and labor leaders, and unless this becomes possible within a short time service will be demoralized to an almost inconceivable extent. It is true officials are making a determined fight to relieve conditions as far as possible, but urgent financial necessities will not permit delay in action. They are forced to act, and unless the Labor Board comes to immediate assistance there is little hope entertained of an early improvement.

Discussing the situation, General W. W. Atterbury, chairman of the Labor Committee of the Association of Railway Executives, appearing before the United States Labor Board at Chicago, declared that many railroads are not now earning and with present operating costs and traffic have no prospect of earning, even their bare operating expenses, leaving them without any net return and unable to meet their fixed charges.

The emergency presented, he said, can be met either by an advance in freight and passenger rates, or by a reduction of operating expenses. With declining prices and wages in industry and agriculture the country demands that the solvency of the railroads be assured by a reduction in operating expenses, and not by a further advance of rates. The National Agreements, rules and working conditions forced on the railroads as far measures cause gross waste and inefficiency.

As wages of the workingman were the last to go up, Mr. Atterbury declares they should also be the last to come down, but it must be insisted that for an ample wage, an honest day's work shall be given. The public has a right to insist that this be obtained, and also the right to expect that railway executives, with the co-operation of regulatory bodies and the employees, will reduce as rapidly as possible the cost of railway operation so as to eventually insure a reduction in rates. Ultimately a readjustment of basic wages will be required. In the meantime it is up to all concerned, including labor, that the rules and working conditions shall be made conducive to the highest output in man efficiency.

Transshipment of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes from one country to another through the United States is prohibited by the National Prohibition Act, according to information recently presented by authorities in this country. The information, however, is nothing at all new to people who have a pretty good idea of how things should be conducted along this line and is merely for those who have professed to be rather dense about the matter. Shipment of whiskey is the same whether belonging to foreign nations or to private persons here at home, and is as liable to seizure as any other. The statement may be the means of clarifying the matter in many sections where authorities feel decidedly delicate in going beyond prescribed limits of their own knowledge.

Educational forces of the State need have no fear that all available money will be tied up in hard surface roads. Resources are as great now as they have ever been, and improved roads should help the schools much more than one would think. The consolidated school district will be benefitted to such extent they might put up with a slight shortage a short time for such conveniences. However, the State is fully able to take care of its schools and roads too, and the future for both seems to be brighter than in years.

Report of crop acreages shows that North Carolina is forging to the front as a leading agricultural district. This fact is pleasing, for if there is anything in the world needed right at this time it is plenty of food crops such as the North Carolina soil is adaptable to. Curtailed acreage this year will afford an excellent opportunity for improving crops of all kinds and the planter who does not confine his efforts this way will find himself bringing up the rear of industry in the next several months.

MRS. JOSEPH HATEM DIES IN NEW BERN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Joseph Hatem died in the General Hospital in New Bern this morning at 8 o'clock, death being due to complications arising from an operation for appendicitis two years ago. Mrs. Hatem was only twenty-nine years of age and had been a resident of this city for ten years. A day or two ago she complained of a severe pain in her side and on yesterday was rushed to the New Bern Hospital.

She underwent the second operation for appendicitis at eight o'clock last evening and died at eight o'clock today, never recovering consciousness. She possessed a lovely disposition and made friends with everyone with whom she came in contact. She is survived by her husband, also a large number of relatives who live in the old country. The remains will reach this city tomorrow morning and the funeral services will be conducted from the Catholic church at four o'clock by Father Francis Gallagher and E. Zaytown, the interment following in Cherry Hill cemetery.

IMPORTED COTTON SEED FOR SALE

I purchased last spring 300 bushels Wanamaker Cleveland improved cotton seed from Mr. D. O. McGilhorn, clerk, of the Superior court of Hertford county. These seed were grown under the supervision of Mr. E. W. Gorthu, government demonstration agent, and I bought them on his recommendation. I found it the best cotton I ever planted. The yield was more than 40 per cent. line and it matures from ten to fifteen days earlier than most cotton. Price of seed, single bushel, $1.50; twenty bushels or more, $1.25 a bushel. If you plant cotton, plant this kind and you will have the best.
