SEVERAL CASES IN FIRST WEEK OF CRIMINAL COURT

First Week of Criminal Term Adjourned Yesterday After Disposing of Two Remaining Cases.

FRANK JOHNSON GIVEN SIX MONTH SENTENCE ON COUNTY ROAD FORCES

Number of Cases Continued Until Next Week On Account of Sickness of Witnesses.

The first week of the criminal term of Pitt county court adjourned yesterday after one of the busiest sessions in many months. The docket was cleared almost completely, with the exception of a few minor cases which were continued until next week when criminal work will be resumed. Sickness of witnesses was accountable for the continuations, but it is believed that with favorable weather the criminal docket will be relieved almost entirely of the congestion which featured virtually every term of the past year.

Short work was made of the two remaining cases coming up for consideration yesterday morning, and before defendants in either issue realized what happened one found himself bound to the county jail with a sentence of six months hanging over his head, the other leaving the court room completely exonerated of a charge of assault with deadly weapon. Frank Johnson was sentenced to six months in jail for work on the county roads after the jury found him guilty of carrying concealed weapons. He was recently indicted for assault with deadly weapon.

W. W. Moore, second character in the day's proceedings, was found not guilty of assault with deadly weapon almost immediately after the case went to the jury. The State proved unable to present evidence to bring about his conviction, and deliberation by the court was short and effective.

The session next week promises to be filled with probably greater activity than that just closed. The docket is considerably heavier owing to the number of minor matters being continued from the present week. However, with favorable weather an available witnesses it is hoped the calendar will be cleared sufficiently for beginning next session with an entirely new mass of cases.

Judge Cooper made a favorable impression upon the court by the decisive way in which each case was handled, which combined with determination of the jury to speed up activity, did much toward making the week one of the most auspicious in several months. Sickness of witnesses was chiefly responsible for continuation this week, and if this can be avoided there is little doubt about the success of the second week's session.

MRS. EMMA M. FIELD

Chicago has an art spirit mystery that centers about Mrs. Emma Matfel Field. For ten years she has been drawing strange pictures of Egyptian figures, symbols and scenes. She started the work when she was thirty, and with no preparation, ignorant of both art and mythology, with no conception of draughtsmanship or Egyptian decoration, Mrs. Field says she began suddenly in 1910 to turn out a series of fascinating pictures. These develop into remarkable drawings of Egyptian symbols. Mrs. Field is to be investigated by the psychologists of the University of Chicago.

SENATE SKIRMISH LEAVES TICK ISSUE FOR SPECIAL ORDER

Senator Stubbs Gets Through Motion to Defer Action on Verge of Direct Passage.

Raleigh, Feb. 11.—After four hours spent in discussion of the tick eradication bill and the Burgwyn bill to reduce the exemption of personal property for taxation purposes from $300 to $25, the Senate adjourned at three o'clock until eleven o'clock today without taking final action on either measure. The tick eradication measure was made a special order on Wednesday.

Having listened unmoved during two hours of debate and parliamentary skirmishing on the tick bill, Senator Harry Stubbs arose and with an eloquent plea to the remainder of the Senate to "listen to the voice of the ages, speaking through experience," succeeded in putting through a motion to defer consideration pending final action by the House, the bill being placed as a special order for next Wednesday.

Senators Long, of Halifax, and Burgwyn, of Northampton, succeeded in the face of stiff opposition to force the tax exemption bill through its second reading by a vote of 24 to 19, but the Senate wearied of the prolonged fight and a motion to adjourn was carried by a vote of 22 to 19 with Senator Long's motion to suspend the rules and pass the measure on its third reading still pending.

Proponents of both measures agreed to amendments, Senator Taylor offering an amendment giving the State Veterinarian the power to substitute the spraying of cattle for dipping, within his discretion, and Senator Burgwyn offering an amendment to his bill, which was adopted, making the exemption $100 instead of $25, as was first proposed.

BEGINS PROBE INTO POLICE SCANDAL IN NEW YORK DISTRICT

Former Governor Charles S. Whitman Promises to Disclose on Grafting and Vice Corruption

SUBPOENA ISSUED FOR MAYOR HYLAN AND MANY MEMBERS POLICE FORCE

Financial Assistance From Private Source Promised to Carry On Uninterrupted Program

New York, Feb. 11.—Disclosure of police scandals rivaling those of the days of Police Lieutenant Becker and the Herman Rosenthal murder, for which Becker and an East Side gunman's gang went to death in the electric chair is forecast by former Governor Charles S. Whitman who, cloaked with authority by the district attorney is probing into alleged grafting and corruption in New York city officials. He has termed the situation grave and threatens to unfold a vice ribbon of many hues.

Several Persons Killed And Injured By Tornado In Small Georgia Town

GEN. LORD RAWLINSON

Gen. Lord Rawlinson has been appointed by King George to what is the blue ribbon of the army—the office of generalissimo of the British military forces, white and native, of the empire of India. It is a post that carries with it a salary of $60,000 a year, allowances and perquisites of at least as much more.

Two White Persons and Nearly Thirty Negroes Killed by Terrible Storm At Noon Hour.

CHILDREN SWEEPED BODILY FROM GROUND WHEN WIND STRIKES SCHOOL HOUSE

Stretch of Land Five Miles Long and Half Mile Wide Swept Bare as if by a Comet.

Oconee, Ga., Feb. 11.—It was definitely established today that one white boy and twenty-eight negroes were killed in the tornado which swept through this section of the State yesterday. So far as known twenty-three persons, chiefly negroes, were injured and seventy-five houses occupied by negroes among structures destroyed. Three women teachers probably saved the lives of many white children in a school house when one end of the building crumpled with the other end of the roof hanging over the heads of seventy-five pupils. By main strength the teachers held up the sagging roof with their hands until all children had passed out, and then leaped to safety themselves. A negro woman and baby were killed on a farm near Eddie, eighteen miles from Augusta when high winds blew down the house in which they were living. It is believed the disturbance was the offshoot of the tornado which struck here. Later reports have brought the list of injured up to fifty-four, which includes six white persons, three men, two women and one small girl.

Oconee, Ga., Feb. 10.—A tornado that struck the Gardner settlement, one mile from here shortly after the noon hour today brought death to two white persons and nearly 30 negroes and injury to five white persons and more than a score of negroes.

A stretch of land extending from Oconee almost to Toombsboro, in Washington county, nearly five miles long and about a half a mile wide is as barren as a prairie tonight, not a building nor a tree being left standing. Among the dead is Benjamin Franklin Orr, fourteen-year-old youth, who was decapitated.

The only other white person who met death in the tornado is the three-year-old daughter of E. L. Minor, manager of Shepherd's commissary at the plant of the Cleveland-Oconee Lumber Company.

Eighty-two children and three teachers were in a school building in edge of the Gardner settlement when the tornado struck. The building was literally twisted to pieces and the fragments scattered for miles around. Children were picked up by the wind and carried for some distance but it is officially announced tonight that only one child was seriously hurt.

Approximately forty houses were blown down in the Gardner settlement. The Shepherd brothers' commissary at the big lumber plant was reduced to kindling wood, Orr and four negroes meeting death there. Ten feet away from the commissary was the general office of the Cleveland-Oconee Lumber Company, which was untouched by the storm.

The fifteen acre plant of the lumber company, which practically owns the settlement site of Gardner, was not seriously damaged by the wind, although millions of feet of lumber piled in the yards was scattered.

MASONS OBSERVE TENTH BIRTHDAY BY SPLENDID BANQUET

Sharon Lodge Entertained Members Last Night In Social Rooms of Christian Church.

Sharon Lodge A. F. and A. M. celebrated its tenth anniversary by a banquet in the social room of the Christian church on Eighth street. Worshipful Master A. R. House called the party to order and requested Brother F. H. Scattergood to ask the blessing, after which the members of Sharon Lodge, with their wives and invited guests, attacked the tempting spread prepared by the ladies of the Christian church.

At the end of the first course, the Master introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. F. H. Scattergood, who in a most pleasing manner emphasized some of the great principles of Masonry and what they had meant to individuals and people at various times in the world's history.

At the conclusion of his remarks the Master turned the meeting over to the tender mercies of Brother H. E. Austin, secretary of Sharon Lodge, and District Deputy Grand Master of the Fifth Masonic District, toastmaster for the occasion. At the first shot he broke through the crust of formality, if any was present, and the spirit of good fellowship and the satisfaction that comes with intercourse with friends, reigned supreme.

With appropriate stories or with a song which contained a pertinent truth, he introduced the several speakers who were to respond to the ser- (Continued on Page Eight)

PRESENTS PLAN TO SETTLE ELECTRIC RAILWAY PROBLEM

Adoption of Service-At-Cost Plan Proposed by Melvin Taylor At Chicago Meeting

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Adoption of a service-at-cost plan of operation with municipal financial aid as a solution of the Electric railway problem, was advocated today by Melvin A. Taylor, of Chicago, at the Mid-Year Conference of the American Electric Railway Association.

Mr. Taylor justified his suggestion of municipal aid for electric lines by saying that good transportation development meant better housing conditions and consequent higher standards of citizenship.

The Service-at-cost plan was endorsed by Mr. Taylor, because of its fairness to both the public and the company in the matter of giving good service to one and a fair return to the other. Adoption of such a plan he said would make it possible to develop new districts in which the laboring class can live comfortable and still reach their places of work under proper conditions.

But it must be always be remembered that as things are at present, he continued, the railway is unable to obtain credit for necessary improvements. It is the civic duty of the municipality to bring about a change suggested and the increase in taxable real and personal property values will afford an economic justification for a loan of municipal credit when needed to finance costs of extensions of local transportation systems.

EARTHQUAKES ON DECREASE IN THIS SECTION COUNTRY

Fewer Disturbances in United States Last Year Than Recorded for Several Years

Washington, Feb. 11.—There were fewer earthquakes in the United States and throughout the world last year than in 1919 but those of a destructive character were more numerous and there also was much more volcanic activity.

Records compiled by Prof. Francis A. Tondorf, director of the Seismological observatory and head of the department of geology of Georgetown University here, show 93 earthquakes were felt in the United States compared with 97 in 1919, while reports from all parts of the world show 161 quakes were reported compared with 468 in 1919.

Eleven of the earthquakes last year resulted in destruction of life or property while in the previous year only 7 caused such losses. The most destructive during 1920 were those at Mendoza, Argentina and the Tepelini Districts of Italy both of which occurred in December; and those reported from Mexico City and Vera Cruz, Mexico; Minas Geraes, Brazil, the Island of Yap, in the Pacific Ocean; Cadix, Spain; the Island of Formosa, the Island of Malta; Japan; Fivizzano, Italy; Giar, Italy; and Gerenda, Spain.

California reported the largest number of earth tremors of any locality in the United States in 1920 with a total of 62, while in 1919 California reported 80. The Georgetown University seismographs recorded 82 quakes during the year. None of the earthquakes reported in the United States resulted in any loss of life extensive destruction of property.

In addition to California's 62 reports for 1920 five were felt in Utah; three each in Washington, Oregon, Missouri, Illinois and Colorado; two each in Maine, Tennessee, and South Dakota and one each in Wyoming, New Hampshire, Montana, Virginia and South Carolina.

In Italy and the immediate vicinity of that country there were 17 earthquakes reported during the first eleven months of 1920 as recorded by the Royal Central office of Meteorology Geodynamics.

Anticipation of Embargo Caused Germans to Send Large Consignment to Nation

London, Feb. 10.—Many thousands of tons of German dyestuffs were poured into the United Kingdom in anticipation of the coming into force Jan. 15 of the Dyestuffs Act, which placed an embargo upon the importation of foreign dyes, except under a strict licensing system. This German dumping will no longer be stopped.

The embargo does not apply in the case of dyes entering this country for re-exportation or in transit.

The importation of single consignments may be authorized by the board of Trade which issues a special license for this purpose, in each case subject to the approval of a committee of 11, consisting of three dyestuff manufacturers, five consumers and three persons not connected with the dye industry.

Shipments of German Dyes under the Reparation Act will not be effected by the new law, and the prescribed deliveries will continue to be made for distribution to the trade here.

The productive capacity of British dye manufacturers already exceed 25,000 tons a year as compared with only 1,000 tons in 1913.

During the next decade, British chemists will be put on their mettle to secure for Great Britain a complete independence from foreign producers, for the life of the present act is limited to ten years.

PAYING THE MORTGAGE

If the money you are earning today is to be paid for debts on Saturday, or at the end of the month, you are "owned" by those from whom you have borrowed or who hold bills against you. They have a mortgage on you—a lien on what you make. Isn't it worth while to work and save and pay off this mortgage? Wise spending and regular purchases of government savings securities and other profitable investments will help you.

Willie Jennings Bryan and brother plan reorganization of the Democratic party. That sounds like Bill, but we hardly thought it would come so soon.

McAdoo has left Mexico after a brief rest. That's assuring, just so he doesn't bring back troublesome railway problems. The country has enough of its own, statements of prominent railroad officials say.

A navy equal to that of any other power of the world has been advocated by the committee investigating the situation presented by Senator Borah. The sentiment is entirely contrary to that of Mr. Borah's, and will be a source of much worry to other irconcilables.

Mr. Harding saw enough of Florida to convince him that they raise something else beside alligators in that section. Hospitality by Floridians, it is stated, was one of the outstanding features of the trip. Being a Northerner, it is pleasing to note the new president got home without being skinned.

The Ku Klux clan has been condemned as an enemy to labor. So it is if it should inspire belief that the organization's influence may be used in furthering labor's interests. The clan would come in mighty handy in case of riots and other disturbances, but secret alliances among the masses can not take the place of law and order.

It is pleasing to note that members of the Legislature see far enough ahead to support operations of the State welfare board. Their action in passing the bill after such a strenuous opposition is commendable indeed and deserves consideration from those who have also been hearty in approval of the board's activities. Public welfare work is absolutely essential to every community where people appreciate the worthy men and women, and North Carolina has blazed the way for greater progress along this line by giving the measure favorable action. Other parts of the country have been watching the State to see just what would be done with the institution, and it is certainly probably they will be influenced to no little extent. Opponents of Public Welfare work are too engrossed in selfish purposes to see its influence in public life, and it is easy to pick out such persons in every community where one may go. The future demands much of the coming generation, and if corruption and crime prevail in public mind the general trend of sentiment will be influenced likewise. North Carolina is forging to the front in almost everything and if its lawmakers continue to support progressive issues there is a bright and rosy future ahead.

LIBRARIES AS ASSETS

The public library of Greenville has created considerable comment of late, but hardly enough to cause people to realize what an asset it is to community progress. The Silver Tea conducted in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Thursday night to raise funds for increasing the library's usefulness was not the success it should have been by any means, but this must be attributed to inclement weather rather than lack of public interest.

One good feature came out during the Silver Tea which should be inspirational to every citizen in town feeling a strong personal interest in the library's future. It was this: One interested person offered to give the library one good book a month for a period of twenty-four months. If several persons in town will do the same thing the next several years would witness healthy growth, and in course of time Greenville would have an institution that everyone would be proud of. This might be done easily if the public should become sufficiently interested but little progress will be made until this takes place.

The kind of people any town is made up of may easily be judged by provisions made for libraries. In many instances this is not the case, but generally a progressive people first develop a firm religious educational spirit through libraries and other organizations and then turn to other sources of material progress. The future will test the ability of the American more than ever, and unless children are given free access to every educational advantage much cannot be expected of them. The library is accessible to people in all walks of life, and as a consequence its influence assumes a scope not conflicted by financial stringency on the part of any seeking knowledge which could not be gained from any other available source without a great outlay of money.

Greenville is seriously in need of a larger library and the sooner its citizens find some way of providing funds for its support the earlier industry will be filled with men and women fully capable of handling questions vitally affecting their country and themselves. The day of advancement is here, and the town falling to respond to its demands will lag behind in the determined race for higher development in citizenship.

GOMPERS AND CALDER BILL

Organized labor is "apprehensive" lest price fixing provisions of the Calder bill be direct against labor organizations, so we are told by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who appeared before the Senate committee investigating the bill and gave his views concerning the matter. The measure, he believes is designed to prevent combination in industry and will be applied to limit activities of the workman.

The proposed bill has created considerable amount of comment among the various laboring elements of the country, and for that reason the investigating committee is finding it rather difficult to determine what parts of the bill are not advisable. It is realized that such a price fixing measure would produce entirely new conditions in the coal industry, although much needed. Profiteering which has been playing such an ascendant part in the past will certainly be eliminated and the country as a whole should derive such benefit.

However, as Mr. Gompers says, labor probably has a perfect right to be apprehensive of the powers provided by the bill, for court interpretations in other measures have been applied in such way that changes entirely unexpected arose involving considerable time and trouble in finally settling. The bill should be specific and direct in application, and if it is to govern wages of the laboring element, let it be so explained at the outset.

In his appearance before the investigating committee, Mr. Gompers said, "I am influenced largely in my judgement upon this matter by the interpretation which the courts have placed upon similar regulative statutes in the past. Laws designed to prevent combination in industry have been applied to limit activities of workers seeking to promote their individual rights by collective action. Labor, or at least that section of labor which has intelligence enough to act in its own future interests, is apprehensive about this species of legislation, for experience has made us so."

The American Judiciary, Mr. Gompers said further has not shown as much understanding of rights of workers as legislative and executive branches of government. He told of many instances when courts had ruled against labor rendering decisions that tended to destroy any foundation which organization built for future actions. His explanations were comprehensive and embraced as a wide score of unfairness against labor, but it is not probably the committee will be influenced to deviate from original provisions of the bill by anything to deprive it of intended significance.

Persons charged with trying to unseat George White, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, at least had the courtesy to deny statements to that effect. The matter seems to have gotten tangled up considerable but it leaves one under the impression there's something at work somewhere. However, it is pleasing to know that the enterprising and versatile chairman is still on the job, or will be probably during the next campaign.

A Southern man is being urged as a member of Harding's cabinet according to the latest information coming from Washington. After spending such a long time golfing and fishing in the South the new President may take to the suggestion without any urging. He is indebted to one state of the South for his victory and this fact no doubt will mean something when time for appointment of cabinet members rolls around.

The trick eradication measure suffered inglorious defeat in the House yesterday. But that doesn't mean that the trick has been killed. The issue has suffered slight delay, but if the country expects to accomplish anything in the way of successful cattle raising the pest must be expelled. The legislature may settle the question for the time being on account of pressure brought to bear by operations, but it is inevitable that will not be for long. Healthy sound stock is absolutely essential to progress in cattle raising and the only direct way to bring about this is to continue regular dippings in the same vats throughout the State. The bill is dead, but its provisions must be revived before the tick is dead too.

Even if the Democratic party is overwhelmingly in control of affairs in North Carolina, there are plenty of people who are not pleased with prevailing conditions. What is most needed now is the enactment of laws looking to practical economy in administration and a lessening in expenditure of public money. Just as well look at these things as they are, and start about reform.

To the very end of his term Congressman John Small is continuing to put in some of his best ticks for the people he has served so faithfully for twenty consecutive years.

Four entertainments at one time, as was the case in Greenville last night, made more than the folks could get around to.

Hats off to the cattle tick. According to the vote of the legislature ticks are preferable to healthy cattle. All right, let those who want ticks have them.

Woodrow Wilson

By L. T. Rightsell.

Our chief the laurel wreath has won,
His duty well and nobly done,
His course resplendent as the sun,
His deeds for him are speaking;
He reasoned with a matchless mind,
He ever sought the truth to find,
With zeal that passion could not blind,
The best and noblest seeking.

Ideals tranquil he admired,
With love of peace his soul was fired,
With docile spirit he aspired
To reach a golden era
Of peace on earth, good will to all.
When trump no more to strife should call,
Nor manhood sink in useless brawl,
Was his a vain chimera?

No, no! the coming years shall tell
He wisely planned and reasoned well,
Nor from the plane of honor fell,
Though bitter foes assailed him;
Not once his head in shame he bowed,
And in defeat he stood as proud,
As when he heard our plaudits loud,
When we as victor hailed him.

The base are like the morning mist:
Soon as the sun of truth has kissed
The hills no longer they exist—
They are dispersed forever;
But some, though few men's awe invite,
They bring the day, disperse the night,
He is our matchless orb of light,
In spite of foe's endeavor.

MRS. J. R. MOYE ENTERTAINS

The Round Table Club spent Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Jesse Moye in one of the most interesting meetings of the club year.

Continuing the study of the Master and Master of Art, Mrs. J. R. Turner gave a fine characterization of the Court Painters of France, accompanied by an exhibit of copies with descriptions of several of the greatest works of Lorrain Watteau Poussin and the Vandyke of France, Van Dyck and Lancelotti.

Mrs. Underwood gave an account of Raphael the Master of his Art. Among the copies especially enjoyed were the 'The School of Athens' and 'The School of Medicine'. The Master of the Veil that was the one great love of the artist for whom he provided though not allowed to be shown for these last two, as interest.

The club was delighted to have guests Mrs. Milton Moore, House and Mrs. M. Moore. A sweet sociable and a delicious salad course, served and assisted by Mrs. J. R. Moore. Miss Lorella Moye spent afternoon.

MR. J. B. KITTRELL MEMBERS OF

Mr. J. B. Kittrell, of the B. Y. P. U. of the church entertained the union and a few friends at a delightful dinner at the dining room of the Club, in which the dinner was decorated to suggest the season, hearts and other Valentines being artistically used. Place cards were miniature Valentines. Mr. Kittrell was assisted in receiving by Misses Ward Moore and Emily Little.

Miss Ernestine Forbes gave a short talk: "What B. Y. P. U. Social Is." She was followed by Mr. W. T. Lipscomb, Jr., who spoke on "What A B. Y. P. U. Means to the Church." Mr. Frank Little delighted the guests with an account of "His Funniest Experiences." Several other guests made short talks. During the dinner several of the ladies and men furnished splendid music.

It was a most delightful occasion and will be long remembered by the fortunate guests present.

GREENVILLE FINDS WASHINGTON BALL TOSSERS EASY PREY

There was a game of basketball in town last night, but it looked more like a practice affair. The local lads played the tossing aggregation from Washington, and the outcome of the affair was a score of 71-13, with Greenville holding the long end of the stick. From the start there was no doubt at all as to who would be the winner. The visiting team showed a lack of training in every department of the game. Some of them displayed plenty of pep and dash, but it was not used to advantage. In fact, the Washington centre perhaps put more dash into his game than any other player on the floor, but his dashing style got him only into collisions with his own and the Greenville players. For the local lads the premier honors of the game doubtless go to West at center, who was deadly accurate both his shots from the field and from the free-throw line. He scored 28 of the points gathered by the locals. Jolly, although playing guard, found time to score 17 points. Hadley at forward played a very excellent game scoring 18 points. Brown, at the other forward position, scored eight points, and Barber, at guard, made 5. For the visitors, Allgood, E., did the best work, scoring eight of their thirteen points.

Tonight the local lads go to Wilson for a tryout with that ancient rival. The fight is going to be fierce, and the lads are very anxious to have a number of supporters go up with them. The team will leave on the 4:15 train and will come back at 1:30.

Tonight also will see the girls stage a battle royal with New Bern. New Bern recently defeated the local lassies, and it is needless to say that the Greenville folks are anxious to avenge the defeat.

The game will begin at eight o'clock in the Centre Brick warehouse. Admission, 15c and 25c.

IMPORTED COTTON SEED FOR SALE

I purchased last spring 300 bushels Wanamaker Cleveland improved cotton seed from Mr. D. O. McGilhorn, clerk of the Superior court of Hertford county. These seed were grown under the supervision of Mr. E. W. Gorthu, government demonstration agent, and I bought them on his recommendation. I found it the best cotton I ever planted. The yield was more than 40 per cent. line and it matures from ten to fifteen days earlier than most cotton. Price of seed, single bushel, $1.50; twenty bushels or more, $1.25 a bushel. If you plant cotton, plant this kind and you will have the best.

PENSIONS PAID TO LATE EMPLOYEES STEEL CORPORATION

Annual Report of Corporation Shows Aggregate of $776,716.66 Paid to Employees

TOTAL SUM DISBURSED SINCE ESTABLISHMENT FUND IS $4, 880,381.60

Pittsburg, Feb. 10.—An aggregate of 779,700.00 in pensions was paid to retired employees of the United States Steel Corporation and its subsidiary companies during the year 1920, according to the Tenth Annual Report of the U. S. Steel and Carnegie Pension Fund made public here tonight. This is $46,050.15 more than was disbursed last year, and greater than any year since the Establishment of the fund in 1911. There were 3,204 participants, 2,940 being on the list at the beginning of 1920 and 324 added during the year. Two hundred and ninety five were discontinued because of death or other causes, leaving 2,960 as active participants.

The total amount disbursed since the establishment of the fund is $5,890,581.60, and starting with $281,457.37 that year, it has increased annually the amount being for 1912, $358,780.02; 1913, $422,815.14; 1914, $511,967.90; 1915, $659,380.42; 1916, $711,130.33; 1917, $712, 506.05; 1918, $709,059.82; 1919, $733,707.54; and for 1920, $779,600. For ten years the average age of the pioneers has been 65, 78 years the average service, 30.41 years and the average payment of 22.10 monthly.

The beneficiaries make no contribution to the fund. The money is derived from trusts of $12,000,000 Established by Andrew Carnegie and the United States Steel Corporation.

Because so many of the Corporations activities are in the Pittsburg district naturally a large portion of the fund is distributed here. The Carnegie Steel Company leads the subsidiary companies with $168,715.79, more than $8,000 increase over the preceding year. The Edgar Thomas Works at Braddock Pa. led all units of this company with $36,387.17 awarded its retired employees while the Homestead Plant was second with $35,873.80. The old mill of the company known as the City Mills received $22,142.24 while $12,453.97 went to the Youngstown, O. Plants.

THE DOT RED CROSS By Clifford Leon Sherman

But all girls grow up, and, as they do, they show a tendency to change. I remember when she went away to school for the first time. I went away so, and, when we came back, I remember we both seemed many years older. I met her one day in the garden, and we had quite a serious talk. I told her of my ambitions and asked her if she intended to go in for anything seriously. She told me a good many of the girls in her set had been talking to her, and she had about decided to go in for Cret.

Investigative into New York City's administration early in January. Already two police captains have been indicted for alleged grafting, charged with accepting fees from business firms in exchange for police protection during strikes. They are Captain William A. Bailey, Manhattan, and Captain Percy DuBois, Brooklyn. More were said to be slated to follow them.

Mr. Whitman has had his fights with higher city officials, and resorted to subpoena to bring Mayor Hylan and Police Commissioner Enright before him. Of these, he demanded that his force be given a certain number of detectives, the particular men he wanted to aid in the investigation. He exhibited State laws which he said authorized him to have what he wanted, without interference by Mayor or Commissioner.

MANY EDUCATORS TO ATTEND SOCIAL EXERCISES FEB. 15TH

se of dedication will take place of Feb. and the speakers will include a representative of Lincoln College, England; President David Kinley of the University of Illinois; Bishop Francis J. McConnell of Pittsburg; and bishop Thomas Nicholson of Chicago.

On Sunday, Feb. 13, Bishop William F. McDowell, of Washington, will dedicate the International Rooms of the new social center. These rooms were made possible by a gift of $10,000 from Mrs. Fannie E. Jolly, of Gayville Ill.

The rooms are set aside for the use of the more than two hundred foreign students representing thirty two nationalities who are in attendance at the University of Illinois.

An All day conference on the subject of Religious Education will be held on Monday, Feb. 14.

The feature of the evening program on Monday will be the presentation of a series of episodes from the life of John Westley by members of the faculty and student body of the university under the direction of Prof. Charles L. Woolbert, of the University of Illinois.

The Westley Foundation has as its purpose the furtherance of agreeable relations between countries and the bringing of international chasms thru Christian brotherhood and common understanding. In attempting this the foundation more than 200 students from twenty two countries represented for the university to meet in common fellowship.

MASONS OBSERVE TENTH BIRTHDAY BY BANQUET

eral toasts. As the speakers had not been forewarned, they as well as the whole party were left in a delightful state of expectancy as to where the lightning would fall next and what the result would be. Some of the efforts were gems and will long be remembered by those fortunate enough to hear them. The following toasts were responded to:

Our Lodge—Bro. B. B. Sugg. Greenville Lodge No. 284. Our Mother and Nurse—Bro. R. Williams. Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten—Bro. E. E. Griffin, District Deputy Grand Master, Sixth Masonic District.

The Mason and His Community—Bro. James Turner.

Our Wives, Daughters, Mothers and Sister—Bro. W. L. Best.

Mrs. F. H. Scattergood, in a most charming way expressed for the ladies present their pleasure in being present.

A most pleasing incident was the reading of a telegram, from the two Goldsboro Lodges of Masons, expressing congratulations and a "God speed you."

The whole evening was so delightful that it is assured that a birthday party will be an annual event in the life of Sharon Lodge.
