NEGRO DRAWS SIX MONTHS ON ROADS IN COUNTY COURT

Ear Sugg and Rufus Tell, Ayden Negroes, Given Road Sentences and $200 Fine in Court Yesterday

MISTRIAL ORDERED IN CASE OF LAGRANGE MAN FOR RECOVERY OF CAR Car Confiscated by Ayden Policeman and Held by County Brings Hotly Contested Case

After disposing of some seventy odd cases during the past two weeks, the criminal term of Pitt county court adjourned this morning shortly before the noon hour. Adjournment followed immediately after completing the case against Nell Nobles, Greenville negro charged with selling whiskey, which was taken up yesterday afternoon. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty although the State had a considerable amount of evidence bearing directly upon the negro's past activities in the liquor traffic. The docket was cleared almost completely with the exception of several minor matters which were continued to the next term.

Dan Sugg and Rufus Tell, colored men hailing from the Ayden section, were convicted of assault with deadly weapon and carrying concealed weapons before Judge Cooper in yesterday's session of criminal term of Pitt county court. Tell was sentenced to six months on the county roads, and Sugg fined $200 and costs. The case grew out of an affray between the two men sometime ago, in which deadly weapons played an important part. No one was injured, however, and they appeared before the court Tuesday apparently willing to accept their fate without mummery.

The first case taken up for consideration during the morning hours was that of E. H. Hatcher, of LaGrange, against S. A. Whitehurst, Ayden policeman and county authorities for the recovery of a Ford automobile containing whiskey captured by the Ayden officer last December, the car later being turned over to the county authorities. Hearing was begun Tuesday afternoon, but after several hours of deliberation the jury failed to agree and a mistrial was ordered. The action will be transferred to superior court court for further consideration, but evidence of the State is of such nature it is probably the car will remain property of the county.

The car was confiscated by the Ayden policeman after finding that it contained whiskey, but the driver disappeared and so far has evaded apprehension. Mr. Hatcher contended that the car was taken from LaGrange by some unknown person without his consent, and consequently felt it should be returned to him. He failed to substantiate claims sufficient to justify favorable action, and the jury therefore agreed, disagreed and finally reported mistrial to the court.

T. N. Wildman, white man of Grifton, charged with assault with deadly weapon was found not guilty. Judgment was suspended upon payment of cost in the assault charge against Sam Willis.

PLAN LONG STRIKE AGAINST HOTELS IN OMAHA TERRITORY

Over 600,000 Travelers Urged to Institute Thirty Days' Strike to Bring Down Prices.

PUBLIC CONVINCED PRICES HAVE REACHED THEIR PEAK AND DEMANDS REDUCTIONS

Omaha, Feb. 17.—Letters have been sent to the 600,000 commercial travelers urging them to institute a 30-day strike against hotels that charge what the organization terms exorbitant prices for room and food.

"Jesse James was a piker in his palmyest days when compared with the prices some hotels are asking," says the letter.

The letters have been sent out by the Hotel Committee of the International Federation of Commercial Travelers' organizations and says in part:

"Traveling men all over the country have reached the conclusion that the prices charged by hotels for rooms and meals have reached the peak. The traveling fraternity has the same weapon with which to wage warfare upon the hotel proprietors and hotel corporations that the general public used in refusing to purchase wearing apparel and shoes at prices which they thought unreasonable and out of proportion. Therefore, the hotel committee of the International Federation of Commercial Travelers' organizations urges the recipient of this letter to refuse to patronize such hotels as are charging so exorbitant prices for rooms and food. This letter is being sent to six hundred thousand (600,000) traveling men and each and every man must do his part for only in unison is there strength, and only by the concentrated efforts of the army of six hundred thousand of your craft can it be expected to get results.

DRIVE FOR REFORM IN DRESS STARTED BY GIRL STUDENTS

Young College Women of Springfield, Mass. Desire to Have Middy Blouse to Replace Usual Dress

Springfield, Mass., Feb. 17.—A drive for dress reform among girl students by installing the middy blouse as a standard part of the scholastic costume led to a free for all, no decision, debate by the pupils' parents at the Central High School here. More than 250 mothers took part in the lively exchange of ideas, which included attacks on silk stockings, elongated heels, low cut waists and high cut skirts.

A majority of the girl pupils have voted to wear the "middles."

The middy blouse has been urged by several members of the faculty to promote democracy in dress and, according to a teacher who said that she made notes in the school hallways, it was needed. Skirts can be lowered, she added, but the waists, transparent web mesh, short sleeved without a support of a neck cannot be remedied by tailor's art.

As an inducement to the esthetically inclined students, it was suggested that the garment might be fashioned from colored crepe set off by a neat neckerchief chosen from any opposite hue of the rainbow.

One of the 250 mothers emphasized the interest taken by girls in the mode of dress adopted by teachers and implied that missionary work could be started by the ruler of the class-room. Another parent declared that the middy was a sloppy-looking garment and by interjecting a style issue into the controversy, almost scored a success for rejection.

DECLARE REDUCED WAGES INEVITABLE IN LONDON SECTION

Labor Correspondents Claim Reduced Cost of Living Will Bring Salaries Down Soon.

WAGE CUTS TO AFFECT TRADE BODIES FIRST LABOR LEADERS THINK

London, Feb. 17.—Labor correspondents of various London newspapers assert the cost of living has declined in Great Britain and that a reduction of wages is inevitable. They report decreases in wages already have occurred in cases where sliding scales of pay were based on the selling prices of the goods produced.

These wage cuts, however, are mostly in trades which are poorly organized. There is a good deal of speculation among the labor writers as to the attitude of workers in highly organized trades when they are called upon to accept a lower wage, in accordance with previously arranged plans based upon the cost of living.

The Ministry of Labor official figures on the cost of living for working class families show that at the end of December the percentage was 100 higher than in 1914 against the November figure of 176, while for January it was expected to reach 165.

This, while alienating the lot of the worker to some extent and assisting employers, will not solve the present acute unemployment situation and many agreements have been come to during the past week or two whereby workers have decided to go on short time or accept less money in order to avoid actual closing down of works.

The Furness Iron masters and representatives of the men's union have met and the latter decided to accept a reduction of wages from 22 shillings and eight pence to 19 and seven pence a day, so that work may be resumed in the iron mines.

MY GOLDEN GIRL PROMISES MANY GOOD FEATURES

Victor Herbert's Latest Musical Production to Play White's Theatre Friday Night

"My Golden Girl," Victor Herbert's latest and best musical show is announced at White's Theatre Tomorrow night.

Surely Victor Herbert's name needs no introduction, for he is without doubt, America's foremost composer of music and has to his credit such well known successes as the Violet Lede Princess Pat, The Red Mill, His Modeste, and many others. Mr. Herbert's scores are noted for their delightful melody, and swing, and "My Golden Girl" easily surpasses any other that this brilliant composer has turned out in recent years.

Frederic Arnold Kummer is responsible for the book and lyrics and has worked into the libretto a highly interesting and humorous plot, and for those who have read any or all of this brilliant authors books or short stories appearing each week, or month in the magazines, "My Golden Girl" will naturally contain an additional interest. A truly wonderful combination, this Kummer play.

It was announced by the press, as one of the season's greatest hits, during highly successful run at the Casino Theatre in New York City this past season.

"My Golden Girl" promises a strictly high class company, of excellent singers and dancers, a large and pretty chorus, whose gowns will cause a furor among the women. Elaborate scenery and lighting effects are carried. You surely cannot afford to miss this Kummer-Herbert musical gem.

SAYS PRISONERS IN SOVIET RUSSIA ARE SHOT DURING NIGHT

Socialist From America Tells of Experiences Gained in Recent Investigation in Russia.

Berlin, Feb. 17.—Prisoners in the jails of Soviet Russia, when condemned to death, are called out to be shot by soldiers who stalk into the cells after midnight, declares Mr. Schwartz, of San Francisco, the socialist who went to Moscow to attend a congress of the Third Internationale and was imprisoned there for four months.

(In a previous statement Mr. Schwartz told of the death of his wife as a result of a hunger strike she began to end her imprisonment in Moscow, denounced communism in Russia and said he was going back to America to tell the workers there the actual facts about the Russian situation.)

Tall and gaunt, his black hair and beard heavily streaked with grey, the American, who had been a Bolshevik before a visit to Russia "saddened and enlightened" him, described in a supplemental statement, the cold fear and trembling in which Soviet prisoners wait for the visits in the dead of night.

"They always come between the hours of one and two o'clock," he said. "A Bolshevik soldier walks into the crowded cell and in the instant silence calls out the names of the men, or women, who must die. In the jail where I was, they marched the prisoners down a stairway and into the courtyard. We could hear the volleys of the firing squads. Many men were called out for execution from my cell during those four months. Few of them knew why they had been condemned, but generally it was understood they were 'counter-revolutionaries.' They were shot without trial."

After a time the prisoners became inured to these visits and, in the fifth and monotony of prison life, ceased to care whether their names were called or not, Mr. Schwartz said. Cheerful greetings were often passed as the condemned men were marched out. The men about to die would say their goodbyes, wave their cell comrades a so-long, and those remaining would cry out: "Goodby. See you later."

TARIFF BITTERLY ASSAILED BEFORE SENATE ADOPTION

Republican Senator From New Hampshire Hammers Bill As Designing Attempt to Fool Farmer.

MOSES DECLARES NOBODY CAN DEFEND THE ISSUE AS IT IS INDEFENSIBLE

Regardless of Many Amendments the Fordney Tariff Measure Passes By Vote of 43 to 30.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Loaded down with more than a score of amendments, the Fordney tariff bill tonight passed the Senate. The vote was 43 to 30 and the measure was immediately sent to conference.

Action on the bill, designed and rushed through the House as an alleged aid to the farmer, came after a protracted session during which four Republican Senators broke away from their party alignment and two of them, Edge, of New Jersey and Moses, of New Hampshire, bitterly assailed the measure and its Republican supporters. Likewise solidarity of the Democratic ranks could not be maintained, nine of the minority members being recorded in favor of the bill.

The roll call as follows: Republicans for: Bail, Borah Brandegee, Capper, Curtis, Elkins, Fall, France, Frelinghuysen, Gooding, Gronna, Hale, Johnson, (California) Jones, (Washington), Kellogg, Kenyon, LaFollette, Lenroot, Lodge, McCormick, McCumber, McLean, McNary, New, Penrose, Phipps, Poindexter, Smoot, Spencer, Sterling, Sutherland, Townsend, Wadsworth and Willis.—Total Republicans—34.

Democrats for: Ashurst, Gay, Henderson, Jones, (New Mexico) Kendrick Myers, Pittman, Ransdell, and Shepard. Total Democrats for—9.

Total for—43.

Democrats against: Beckhaf, Dial, Fletcher, Gerry, Glass, Harris, Harrison, Hefflin, Hitchcock King, Kirby, McKellar, Overman, Pomeroy, Simmons, Smith, (Georgia) Smith (South Carolina) Stanley, Swanson, Thomas, Trammel, Underwood, Walsh, (Massachusetts) Walsh, (Montana) William and Wolcott. Total Democrats against 26.

Republicans against: Colt, Edge Keene, and Moses. Total Republicans against—4.

Total against—30.

The broadside by Mr. Moses temporarily unsettled the Republican program, so much that three amendments offered by Senator Lodge, the majority leader, were killed. From the time the vote was called on the Lodge amendments all of which had to do with protection for manufactured products of wool, the Senate rode rough shod over all changes proffered. But it already had accepted so many changes from the form in which the measure came from the House that the most ardent supporters predicted trouble in getting an agreement with the House.

The following senators were appointed as the conference committee to attempt to iron out the difference with the House: Penrose, McCumber, and Smoot, Republicans and Simmons and Williams, Democrats. It is expected the committee will be able to start work with a similar committee from the House late tomorrow.

Savings And Shoe Leather

who are usually aoin shrlu
Men who do not spend wisely and are usually "broke" wear out many pairs of shoes running from the bill collector. The man who is ahead of the game not only saves shoe leather but his self-respect as well. He has money when he needs it. He has learned to save.

Turkey says she is ready for peace if the Allies are. It seems to be entirely with the Allies, but unfortunately, Turkey so far has failed to discover the fact.

President-elect Harding has asked Congress to pass regular appropriation bills in time to give things full way after March the Fourth. He seems to be looking further ahead than in the past.

Republicans have opened another campaign against President Wilson, apparently in an effort to bring about defamation. As usual, however, no one but the Republicans will believe in their sincerity.

A Fayetteville woman has been awarded $50,000 by superior court for alleged alienation of her husband's affections. That's a mighty high price but if the old man feels the other woman is worth it, the public ought to be satisfied.

That's a pretty good fish story coming from Kinston regarding the use of cellars as fish ponds, and if it was more practical the public might take it more to heart. It's hardly possible the "private" fish has been examined so quickly.

Normalcy seems to be hitting it in high places just at this time if reports received from other parts of the State mean anything. Everytime news dispatches arrive they report increased briskness in the business world, and this fact tells in no uncertain terms of the general improvement in evidence everywhere.

Reduction in prices of soft drinks in other communities brings one to the fact that Greenville has been faring mighty good on this line since the ending of the war. Local dealers have been mighty reasonable and succeeded in holding prices considerably lower than those in other cities. However, this is more than may be said for other lines.

A sensational decline has been noted in the turpentine market, according to advices from Savannah, Georgia. The decline will be received gladly in every section where people have suffered from high prices for such a long time. Decreasing prices are a source of pleasure everywhere, and it matters not what hits the toboggan, just so it comes down as swiftly as it went up.

Will Hays, of Indiana, and Harry Daugherty, of Ohio, are planning to visit President Harding. The meeting ought to let out some slightly interesting facts for the public, and at least settle curiosity regarding the cabinet members. The president has maintained absolute silence about the matter long enough and this meeting of "leading minds" might at least be a determining factor in present issues.

It begins to look like cotton and to hacco planters of the State are going to listen to advice about reduction of acreage this season. Reports from acreage this season. Reports from many districts indicate that pledges are being carried out minutely, and this being the case it is believable the season will be one of the most prosperous in years. There is absolutely no demand for inferior tobacco, and if the planter will confine his time exclusively to the production of better qualities it is certain he will be well rewarded. Surplus acreage should be planted in food crops and forage, an in that way thousands of dollars will be saved by persons who last year purchased such things shipped from other parts of the country. The change will be beneficial in many ways, and the farmer will be better prepared to meet future exigencies.

Information that hundreds of Chinese parents are committing suicide in preference of seeing their children suffer pangs of starvation is evidence enough that the country is face to face with one of the gravest situations in history. Recent statements regarding conditions have been taken too lightly in many localities, and people have failed to give as they should. The time has come, however, when aid cannot be withheld and every person who does not give liberally to funds being raised for China's relief is doing the coming generation a gross injustice. Think of it. Three million five hundred thousand children suffering for want of food and clothing, and being daily denied the comforts which every American child is accorded. Is not the call for relief imperative, even urgent? If it is not the world probably will never see the time when it will.

The good roads measure seems to be taking up considerable time in the Legislature; in fact, so much that the public is getting slightly impatient. Sentiment seems divided over the issue but the more progressive citizenship in every part of the state realize that roads, or permanent hard surfaced thoroughfares as proposed, is absolutely essential to futur commercial developments, and means to do every thing in their power to make them possible. Governor Morrison some time ago sounded the keynote to progress in recommendations before Legislature, and good roads played an ascendent part. He realizes the need of the State, and if lawmakers rally behind him it is certain improved conditions will be noticeable at all times.

Donald O'Callaghan, Lord Mayor of Cork, continues to plead for recognition as a "political refugee" in this country, but so far the Department of Labor has failed to listen to his persuasions. Experience should have taught the Lord Mayor many aliens hide behind the political refugee bluff, when in reality they are nothing more than breeders of discontent. If he desires to plead for Ireland, why not go back home and begin sending out propaganda. Results would be about the same, if not better.

The proposed baseball league for this part of the State is being discussed animatedly by other towns, and it is about time Greenville became more enthused over the subject. Kinston, New Bern and Washington are going after the matter in an interesting way, and it really seems something is going to materialize. The sport will tend to drive away the blues this summer, and this ought to justify many merchants becoming actively engaged in promoting plans for Greenville's participation.

The birthrate in England and Wales has reached the highest figures in years, according to official dispatches received in this country, while the mortality rate was the lowest. The information is pleasing in every since of the word, for it shows England is recovering from the awful result of of note in every section and shows conclusively that people are looking to the future for unbroken prosperity.

Senator Simmons continues to battle with the tariff measure in the Senate, and so far has succeeded in accomplishing his purpose. Tariff may be all right, but it is hardly acceptable at this time when deflation is carrying pain into camps of thousands of business organizations. The North Carolina Senator is doing his part for the public, if proper support should be given there seems to be little doubt about the outcome.

Raleigh women are going to make their own hats this year and see if they can't reduce the cost of living. If they had inaugurated such a movement two years ago it would have been mighty acceptable, but there seems to be no advantage to it just now with evidence practically on every line of goods. However, there is in all probability several hundred proud husbands in the capital city who even at this time may be figuring to invest saving in millinery in something to create a future "slush" fund.

BILL'S IN TROUBLE

Selected.
I've got a letter, parson, from my son away out west.
An' my ol' heart is heavy as an anvil
in my breast.
To think the boy whose future I had once so proudly planned Should wander fro mthe path o' right to sich an end!
I told him when he left us, only three short years ago,
He'd find himself a-plowin' in a mighty crooked row—He'd miss his father's counsel, an' his mother's prayers, too, But he said the farm was hateful, an'
he guessed he'd have to go.
I know thar's big temptations for a youngster in the West,
But I believed our Billy had the courage to resist;
An' when he left I warned him o' the ever-watning snares, That lie like hidden serpents in life's pathway everywhere.
But Bill he promised to be keerful, an' allowed He'd build a reputation that'd make us mighty proud;
But it seems as if my counsels sort o'- faded from his mind,
And now the boy's in trouble of the wistes kind.
His letters come seldom that I somehow sort o' knowed
That Bill was a-tramping a mighty rocky road,
But never once imagined he would bow
my head in shame
An' in the dust'd waller his ol' daddy's honored name
He writes from out in Denver, an' the story's mighty short,
I just can't tell his mother, it'd break
her poor ol' heart, An' so I reckon, parson, you might break the news to her—Bill's in the legislature; but he doesn't say what fur.

MISS DINWIDDIE SPEAKS

AT TRAINING SCHOOL

Miss Dinwiddie, a representative from the National Headquarters is spending a few days in the Training School in the interest of Health Education. She is giving talks to the students on the essentials of health and showing them how to create an interest in health work among the children in the schools.

She makes very clear that if we do the right thing we need not worry about the wrong. Her definition of health is that it should give that abundant life, overflowing with energy, that makes it a joy to begin a new day's work. This is in contrast to the old idea of feeling that one must take care of themselves to keep from succring the consequences. The old idea seemed to be to keep out of bed and get through the day, and payed more attention to disease.

She gave six of the eight rules that are learned and followed by the children. These are: Take a full bath more than once a week; brush the teeth at least once a day; sleep long hours with the window open; drink plenty of milk and no tea or coffee; eat plenty of fruits and vegetables, and take plenty of play and exercise.

She showed how to present the necessity for each of these by showing the rewards for keeping them, rather than the punishments for breaking them.
She presented it as a game, with certain rules to follow.

Miss Dinwiddie will later take up the work in detail. Her visit should mean much to these young women who are going out into the State to put into practice her teachings.
