SAY PRO-GERMAN PROPAGANDA STILL EXISTS IN NATION

American Legion Issues Warning to Posts to Watch for an Early Revival

DECLARE MASS MEETINGS ARE BEING PLANNED IN EVERY PART OF NATION

Powerful Political Machine to be Created in Every Territory Where Advisable.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 20.—American Legion posts throughout the United States were asked today by the Legion's national headquarters here to watch for a revival of German propaganda in this country:

A bulletin sent out by the national headquarters said the object of the propaganda seemed intended to turn American sentiment against the allies, and to create a "powerful national political machine by the amalgamation of the disloyal elements in our population." Mass meetings in New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Chicago, Milwaukee, Louisville, Omaha and Cleveland have been planned, the bulletin said as "one of the first national manifestations" of the propaganda campaign.

The bulletin, which was sent to all State headquarters of the Legion said: "There has come to the attention of the national headquarters information indicating a move for a nation-wide revival of German propaganda activities in the United States which are the result of a carefully conducted national campaign, the object of which seems to be:

- First: The disruption of the accord which exist between the United States and our allies with particular reference to France and Great Britain by the turning of American popular sentiment against the governments of the countries, and.
- Second: The methodical creation of a powerful national political machine by the amalgamation of the disloyal elements of our population and their elevation to a place of power in American affairs by the invisible influence of this organized minority.

LOCAL ROTARIANS CELEBRATE ROTARY'S BIRTHDAY FEB. 20-26

The week of Feb. 20-26th has been set aside for the celebration of the Sixteenth Anniversary of International Rotary. The local club is doing considerable publicity work to make it known that Feb. 23rd is Rotary's sixteenth birthday, the first club being organized Feb. 23, 1905, in Chicago. Read the papers daily to learn of the history of International Rotary and the organization of the Greenville Club. Ask any Rotarian to tell you about Rotary.

Some Facts About Rotarians.

- First Club organized in Chicago in 1905.
- Name "Rotary" adopted because original club rotated their meetings among business offices of members.
- Limit membership plan is one of foundation of Rotary's strength.
- Rotary has no "paid" organizers, and the international association is "mighty particular" about accepting new clubs.
- There are now over 800 clubs with a total membership of 65,000.
- There are many Rotary clubs in foreign countries.
- No Rotary club has ever failed to make good; none has ever surrendered its charter.
- Rotary clubs have a higher percentage of attendance of members at its meetings than any other organization made up of business and professional men. Average attendance of all clubs in the United States and Canada, in December, was 77.40 per cent.
- The local club was organized in September, 1910, with twenty charter members. It now has thirty members.
- Rotary principles and activities are based upon the belief that "He profits most who serves best."

MRS. JETER CONDUCTS Y. W. C. A. VESPER SERVICES

Mrs. Jeter conducted the Vesper services of the Y. W. C. A. at the Training School Sunday. Her theme centered around the 25th chapter of Matthew.

Mrs. Jeter attractively read Tolstoy's story, "Where Love Is, There God Is," in which was clearly brought out the idea that God visits one every day, and if one watches he will find an opportunity to render aid and comfort to his fellowman.

COLLEGE BAND IN SPLENDID CONCERT AT LOCAL SCHOOL

Musical Organization, Headed by Col. Olds, Pleases Training School Audience.

SENIORS ENTERTAIN IN WEST DORMITORY FOLLOWING CONCERT

Col. Olds Acted As Master of Ceremonies and Did Much to Make Occasion Pleasant.

The State College Band gave a remarkably good concert at the Training School on Saturday evening. They gave their audience real music, such that the musicians present enjoyed genuinely, yet those who are not discriminating in their taste found just as much to please them.

The band has improved very greatly in its playing since last year. Conductor Price has done excellent work in building up a fine organization. The fact that a band can play well was evidenced by a selection from Gounod's Faust. The playing of the serenade "Twilight Hour" was perhaps the best on the program. It was like an organ, the tones were so subdued and the blending of the instruments so perfect. The band was generous in its response to encores. The cornet solo was greatly enjoyed by the audience and gave a variation to the band numbers. The swinging of the tubs by Mr. Price also made a pleasing variation.

PRESENTS PLAN TO PROLONG LIFE AND HOLD BACK OLD AGE

Off-Discussed Question Revived By Professor Huxley, Scientist At Oxford College

London, Feb. 21.—Popular interest in the off-discussed question whether it is possible to keep old age at bay indefinitely and correspondingly, prolong the span of life has been revived by Professor Julian Huxley of Oxford. Julian is a grandson of the Great Huxley and inherits no inconsiderable measure of his talent for painstaking scientific research.

The common-sense view of the life-cycle, drawn from the observation of man and the familiar animals, said Professor Huxley, is that it proceeds always inevitably in a definite direction with a definite plan. The normal life-cycle of man, for instance is as follows: The individual starts as a minute single cell, then follows a period of rapid growth accompanied by differentiation, then growth without differentiation, then senility and finally death, which supervenes as a natural phenomenon, even if not through disease or accident.

Experiment had shown, however, that this process was not irreversible, and was not inevitably similar in all animals; that it was possible to modify the rate of growth and the length of the period of growth and thus prolong life. It has been shown, Professor Huxley continued, that by alternately starving and feeding planarian flatworms they can be kept not only within certain definite limits of size, as was to be expected, but also within certain definite limits of age. One animal has been kept of the same age—that is, form, the same type of behavior—for a time during which the rest of the brood have passed through 19 generations; a period which, translated into human terms take us back to Chaucer. Thus, age does not merely depend on the lapse of time; it is the expression of eternal processes.

FRENCH LEADERS SAY TEUTONS MUST MEET FINAL TERMS

Premier Briand Opposes Reduction of Amount Agreed Upon at Conference.

CONDITIONS MAY BE CHANGED, BUT NOT SUM RECENTLY AGREED UPON

Ten Per Cent. On German Goods Not Regarded as Export Duty But As Standard.

Aristide Briand, the French Prime Minister and General Berthelot arrived in London this evening for the allied conference with the announced resolute purpose of not reducing by as much as a centime the total reparations that Germany must pay as a result of the world war as agreed to at the recent Paris conference. But the Premier is disposed to examine attentively and even sympathetically the conditions of payment, should the German delegates come to London with proposals reasonably within the scope of the allied decisions.

Although B. Briand does not regard the 12 per cent. tax upon the value of German goods sent abroad as an export duty, because it may be paid from internal or any other revenue, yet in view of American criticism, that clause may be modified if another suitable standard to meet Germany's expanding prosperity can be found. Exports within M. Briand's definition of the word, were scheduled simply as variable National contributions.

German reparations will not be considered formally until the near Eastern questions are settled; but reparations dominate the thought of the French delegation, and this fact probably will have an important influence on the decision of the conference respecting the Turkish arrangements. The French and British governments are not in entire agreement upon the Sevres treaty. It is the impression that Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain will ask M. Briand to yield in some respects to the Turkish treaty in return for steadfast British support with regard to reparations.

HEAVY BLANKET OF SNOW OVER MANY SOUTHERN STATES

Warmer Weather in Southern States Expected With Probably Heavy Rainfall and Storm

Washington, Feb. 20.—The storm that came up from Alabama left in its wake a heavy blanket of snow and sleet in the middle Atlantic Coast States, Western Tennessee, Ohio Valley and North Atlantic States.

Along the coast heavy gales were blowing tonight, ships were putting in to the nearest harbors and marines exposed to the elements feared for the safety of their crafts. Storm warnings were issued by the weather bureau on the Atlantic coast from Cape Hatteras northward.

In some sections railroad transportation was reported delayed by snow drifts and communication in the rural sections was made difficult by a heavy coating of snow and ice. Some damage to fruit was expected in the Southern States where premature budding was encouraged by the unusually warm weather which had prevailed for the last few weeks.

The weather report for the night indicates that the worst of the storm had passed and that generally warmer weather may be expected in the Southern states. The center of the storm was reported tonight off the coast of New England.

LEGION BANQUET TUESDAY NIGHT, FEBRUARY 22nd

So far there have been only one hundred and twenty reservations made for the Legion Banquet tomorrow night, February 22nd. There ought to be at least four hundred. In fact, every ex-service man in Pitt county should have a plate reserved and be on hand for this real get-together meeting. We will have plenty of good eats, drinks, (coffee and tea) singing, talking, playing and everything that goes to make up a good time. You'll have only yourself to blame for missing this real good time party if you are no there, but you will certainly miss it if you do not hurry and notify me that you want a plate reserved. For fear that there are some who have overlooked this meeting I am going to give them an opportunity to get one at last minute. If you will notify me immediately I can have a plate fixed for you but you must advise me at once.

Don't forget we meet at 7 o'clock Tuesday night, the 22nd, in the Carolina Club reception hall. Be on time and do not eat any supper.

BUSINESS SHOWS SLIGHT CHANGE ON AMERICAN MARKET

General Sentiment Seems Slightly Mixed, But Improvement Noticeable in Some Lines

LOWERING IN RETAIL PRICES NECESSARY TO BRING ABOUT CHANGE

C speculative Middleman Partly Eliminated by Constantly Falling Off in Prices

New York, Feb. 21.—Business sentiment is somewhat mixed and while in some lines there is improvement, all signs indicate a period of hard to mouth business, based upon immediate requirements for prompt delivery. What ever opinion may have been entertained a month or two months ago, it is now clear that the process of placing business upon a level fairly comparable with that which prevailed prior to 1914 is in progress. The process will be hastened by the readjustment of those basic commodities which have as yet remained almost untouched by the movement toward lower prices. Particularly in this case with regard to iron and steel, the necessary materials for practically every industry.

Retail prices and labor costs have not kept pace with falling commodity prices. Labor costs must be readjusted to new price levels in an orderly fashion with the greatest possible recognition of the social problems involved. Viewing the matter as a whole, further lowering of retail prices to come before the business situation action can be said to be once more in stable equilibrium. Retail prices, as is usual on a falling market, have lagged behind the downward movement of wholesale prices and their adjustment has been delayed by the introduction during the past few years of a temporary speculative element into the circles of distribution. These speculative middlemen, who for the most part serve no economic purpose, have largely been eliminated by rapidly falling commodity prices, but the effect of their presence is still felt to some extent in the unduly high cost of much of the present retailers' stock, as well as in a general lowering of the standards of commercial morality and a disregard of trade conditions.

SNOWSTORM PREDICTED THROUGH TENN. AND NORTH CARO. TONIGHT

GROWTH IN COAL EXPORTS

Coal exports from the United States in 1920 were $432,000,000 in value against $169,000,000 and $92,000,000 in the year before the war the calendar year 1913. These figures, says a statement by The National City Bank of New York, include the anthracite and bituminous coal exported to all parts of the world plus the bunker coal supplied at our own ports to vessels engaged in the foreign trade. The value of bituminous coal sent to foreign countries in 1920 was $304,000,000 against $84,000,000 in the calendar year 1919, and 45,000,000 in the preceding year. Anthracite exports in 1920 were valued at $16,000,000 against $37,000,000 last year and $22,000,000 in the year before the war; and bunker coal supplied to vessels engaged in foreign trade in 1920 was valued at $82,000,000 against $48,000,000 in 1919 and $25,000,000 in 1913.

These figures, added the bank's statement, are those of values merely and show a much greater growth proportionately than do those of quantity, in which, however, the gain is very large. The quantity of bituminous coal exported in 1920 was, in round terms, 34,000,000 tons against 18,000,000 in 1919 and 18,000,000 in 1913. The big increase in quantity occurred in bituminous coal sent to foreign countries which was, stated in exact terms, 34,290,254 tons in 1920 against 17,969,514 in 1919, and 17,986,757 in 1913.

The increase in export prices, especially of bituminous coal, has been a very important factor in the large increase in total value, for the average export price of bituminous coal sent to foreign countries was in 1920, $8.85 per ton against $4.66 per ton in 1919, and $2.55 in 1913. The average price of the coal supplied foreign war vessels for bunker purposes in 1920 was $8.81 per ton against $4.66 per ton in 1919, and $2.55 per ton in 1913. Even these figures of increase in our own export prices of coal are far less than those of Great Britain whose coal exports in the calendar year 1920 averaged $19.45 per ton against $3.36 per ton in 1913.

These big increases in quantity exported in 1920 as compared with 1919 occurred especially in the shipment to Europe and South America. To France the exports of 1920 were 3,640,000 tons valued at $42,415,000 against less than $1,000,000 worth in 1918 and $3,000,000 worth in 1919. To Italy the total for 1920 was 2,387,000 tons valued at $21,000,000 against 1,633,000 tons valued at $9,989,000 in 1919, while there were equally large gains in the shipment to Netherlands, Sweden and Switzerland. To Cuba which is a large purchaser of American coal, the quantity shows an increase of about thirty-three per cent, while the value more than doubled; to Argentina the quantity exported was 1,718,000 tons, valued at $20,157,000 against 487,000 tons valued at $2,931,000 last year.

CROP REDUCTION NECESSARY

The campaign being pushed in various sections of the country to get the farmer to reduce cotton and tobacco acreage has brought the planter face to face with conditions which are probably the most extraordinary in the history of the country. It seems generally agreed that numbers of planters are going to cut crops in keeping with programs outlined by State and national organizations, while on the other hand there are many who will not.

This fact calls for one to realize that organization should have been conducted upon more tentative basis in every community where both crops are grown. It has always been a difficult matter to get the farmer to organize, probably because they never had the opportunity of seeing where organization bene- however, is of such serious nature it is hardly probably that even the most obstinate is going ahead and plant something for which he knows there is absolutely no demand. This would be contrary to nature and chances for recovering from the hardships of low prices be worse when over.

It is the duty of the business man to do everything in his power to help the farmer realize that this year is going to mean to him, unless this is done there is no hope that any improvement in the situation will ever be noticeable. It is imperative that crops not only be reduced, but the farmer plant his surplus acreage in something to eat and feed his stock with. Heretofore these necessities were purchased in town at high prices, and hundreds of housewives went without garden products simply because every bit of available land had been planted in the most lucrative crop.

Today the demand for garden and truck farm products are greater as ever, and the farmer that cuts his crops from one-third to one-half is going to be the one to raise such things as people demand. The smokehouse should be filled chock full this year, and when harvest season comes around the prices of crops will interfere very little with the way the farmer live. His barn will be filled to bursting, plenty of feed available and he will not be forced to go down and purchase that raised in some other section, products from which the other kind of farmer realized good prices at the year around

When farming is more extensively diversified in this part of the country conditions ought to improve in many ways. Both the tobacco and cotton industries will be given a chance to recover, the world market will be relieved of congestion, and as a consequence prices will improve along with demand. It is imperative to reduce this year, and the farmer that fails to do so expecting to reap a great harvest because the other fellow cut will be the one experiencing the greatest disappointment. Facts can't be denied. And the farmer that fails to curtail acreage will pursue a perilous course, one to be feared by everyone depending on the farm for support.

The reception given by the Seniors after the concert was one of the greatest social affairs in the history of the class. The parlors in West Dormitory were effectively decorated in blue and white of class, and red and white of State college.

The lights were red, giving a warm shade of welcome to the whole scene. The red of the State college was carried out in the punch room by the use of a mass of beautiful red japonicas arranged around the punch bowl.

In the receiving line were President and Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Beckwith, and the officers of the class, and one faculty representative. Miss Blanche Cannon won the prize for the first, a "squealer." Misses Irma Yause and Worth Allsbrook won prizes for the second, kewpie dolls dressed in State colors and Miss Elfy Holloway and her partner won the 1921 emblem for the third contest.

FORMER GREENVILLE MAN

MARRIES SUFFOLK GIRL

Miss Laura Twitty Becomes Bride of Hayes McMurray White.

Suffolk, Va., Feb. 19.—Main Street Methodist church was the scene this afternoon at five o'clock of one of the most beautiful marriages of the winter season, when Miss Laura Leigh Twitty, daughter of Mrs. James Fitts Twitty and the late Rev. J. F. Twitty, became the bride of Hayes McMurray White, of Petersburg, Va. The chancel of the church was covered in white and elaborately decorated in palms, ferns, smilax and numbers of tall, white cathedral candles. Brass vases of white freesias with candles in brass candelabra completed an attractive decorative scheme.

Immediately preceding the ceremony, James Wesley White, of Boston, Mass., sang "Holy Spirit, Breath of Love," and the wedding music was rendered by Miss Josephine Lawrence, Lohengrin's and Mendelssohn's wedding marches were used and during the ceremony "O Thou Sublime Sweet Evening Stars" was softly played. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Arthur Winn, of McKendree Methodist church, Norfolk. The bridesmaids, Misses Evelyn Twitty, sister of the bride, and Sallie Beaman, of Norfolk, cousin of the bride wore grey georgette dresses elaborately embroidered and carried arm bouquets of Russell roses.

Master Archer Martin, nephew of the bride, dressed in a white satin suit, held the ribbons for the bridal party.

The bride entered with her uncle, Mr. Nathaniel Beaman, of Norfolk, who gave her in marriage. She wore a handsome wedding gown of white charmeuse, hand embroidered and trimmed in pearls. Her tulle veil, edged with real lace, was fashioned with a Juliet cap and caught to a train which fell from the shoulders. Her flowers were a bridal bouquet of roses and sweet peas.

The groom entered with his brother, Mr. H. A. White, of Greenville, N. C., who acted as best man.

The ushers were James William Ferrell, E. V. Ferrell, N. G. White, all of Petersburg; Robert P. Beaman, of Washington, D. C. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. White left on a northern wedding trip and on their return after March 15th will be at home in Petersburg.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. James P. Twitty and is a popular and attractive young woman with a large number of friends here and in Petersburg. She is a graduate of the Suffolk High School and of the Farmville Normal school. The groom is a rising young business man of Petersburg and is vice-president of the Atlantic Coast Realty Company in that city.

Among the out-of-town guests present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Beaman, Miss Sallie Beaman, Robert and Nathaniel Beaman, of Norfolk; Miss Susan Prentiss, of Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hobbs, Miss Florence Robertson, Miss Alice Leigh Mason, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ferrell, Miss Mary Lou Ferrell, M. C. Ferrell, E. H. Ready, W. P. Johnson, E. V. Ferrell, and N. G. White, all of Petersburg; E. H. Crutchfield, of Washington, D. C.; James Wesley White, of Boston, Mass., and H. A. White, of Greenville, N. C.
