

CENSORSHIP BILL GETS SETBACK IN HOUSE ACTIVITIES

Special Order Upset When House Sustains Grant in Move to Delay Passage to Late Date

LINEUP REGARDED AS INFALLIBLE INDEX TO OPPOSING ELEMENTS

Sixty Three to Fifty Three Vote Sends Bill to Printer and Delay Probably Until Monday

Raleigh, Censorship of moving pictures, as provided for in the Senate bill coming up before the House on special order yesterday morning got a setback in the initial skirmish when a vote of 63 to 53 sustained Representative Grant in his move to have the Senate bill, with all amendments printed. Opponents to the bill regarded the vote as a clear division of the strength for and against the measure, and Representative Doughton, fighting for the bill, declared that printing the bill would serve only to kill it with delay.

A packed gallery and libby expected a fight and turned away in disappointment ten minutes after the bill was called up. For a day at least the struggle was postponed when everybody had expected a clear cut, straight out fight. It will be some time today before the bill is out of the hands of the printer, and the calendar is well filled with special orders, and there are three hundred bills standing in the waiting list for passage. It is generally admitted that the postponement of action yesterday worked seriously against the bill.

Wallace, new secretary of agriculture and Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce.

THIEVES CAUSING HEAVY LOSSES TO SHIPPING CIRCLES

Great Outcry Against Depredations Raised by Shipping World Over Robbery of Employes

(By Associated Press) London, Mar. 5.—A great outcry has arisen in the shipping world over the heavy losses that are incurred through the depredations of thieves, many of whom are suspected are in the employ of the companies that are the victims.

Lord Aswith states it has been estimated that in transport through the port of London alone, through pilfering in various forms there is a loss of $3,500,000 a year.

One shipping company says that whereas, before the war its losses on cargo attributable to thefts amounted to one shilling and four pence per ton, it now amounts to 26 shillings and nine pence per ton.

Increases of wages, it is asserted afford no guarantee of greater trustworthiness. Rather the contrary. The average wages of stewards are said to be four times their pay before the war but it is those departments on passenger liners with which stewards are most concerned that depredations, it is declared, are most noticeable.

The manager of one line running to Australia said that recently he had to expend well over $2,000 in replacing the linen stolen on one round voyage alone. On this same trip the steward's charge for over time amounted to $2,532.

Even the captain's boy charged 28 for overtime on the voyage, said the manager. If the captain rang for the boy to bring him a drink, the boy charged one hour's overtime for fetching it, provided he had already done his eight hours.

Much plundering undoubtedly takes place before the goods are stowed on shipboard, steamship men declare. Cases of machinery have been found to be full of stowage manure and those supposed to contain gold and silver goods to be found with shavings.

The thieving that is going on at sea and in docks is beyond anything in history, writes Lord Inchcape, chairman of the Peninsular and Oriental Company. Aman recently removed the clocks from the smoking and music rooms of one of our steamers, while the passengers were embarking at Til-Dock and they have never been traced. Within the last few days a piano was removed from one of the steamers in dock and carried off to a cottage where, however, it was recovered.

WOMEN WORKERS OUT NUMBER MEN AT COAL MINES

Woman Labor in Mines and Factories More Numerous in Siberia Than Men Workmen

(By Associated Press)

Rybnik, Upper Silesia, Mar. 5.—Women laborers in mines and factories and on railroads are more numerous than men in several districts of the coal region here. Girls and boys of ten and twelve years are regular employed, digging ditches, ballasting runways, pushing trucks, and doing other heavy work which before the war was done only by men.

This is the territory hitherto a part of Germany but now claimed by Poland. A plebiscite, or vote of the people, soon will be held under the terms of the peace treaty of Versailles to decide whether Upper Silesia will remain German or become a part of Poland.

The German mine owners say short conditions have forced the women and able of labor and post war economic children into this toll which under German administration was forbidden. There is also a shortage of manpower because of the great number of soldiers from here who were killed in the war.

The women engaged in the heavy work generally are Poles, distinguished by the bright shawl-like headress which they effect. Some of them have adopted a modification of man's apparel as better suited to their work. The correspondent saw three women of two score or more constituted a section gang wearing heavy trousers under their short skirts.

The majority of the women wear heavy shoes with thick wooden soles and cloth tops all home made. Some have heavy boots which apparently were once the property of German soldiers.

Coal veins in this section generally follow closely the surface of the ground and the work of taking coal out consists of simply digging it up. Some of the farmers have little mines on their land and when their day's work is done they may be seen digging a night's supply of fuel. The mine owner do not interfere with these individual mining operations, even when they are carried out on rented farms.

Paris Newspapers Express Doubt Of Harding's Success

Feel That Changes in Administration Is Merely One From Frying Pan Into Fire

Paris, Mar. 5.—Paris newspapers commenting on Harding's inaugural address appeared to feel the change in administration is one from the frying pan to the fire as far as Europe is concerned. Disappointment is evident because Harding failed to make any definite statements as to his attitude toward important European affairs.

COTTON MARKET CAMPAIGN IS ON IN MANY SECTIONS

Sign Up Campaign for Co-operative Marketing Favorably Reported by W. A. Swain Raleigh, Mar. 5.—The sign up campaign for the Cotton Grower's co-operative Marketing Association is now on, and according to A. W. Spain, Sec. Treas. of the North Carolina Division of the American Cotton Growers association, will continue until 100 per cent of the cotton growers have signed the marketing contract.

A number of Wake county farmers were waiting to sign the new co-operative association contract when they came from the press, and Clarence Poe, of the Progressive Farmer, signed the first one before the Printer's ink was dry.

A life long advocate of cooperative marketing for farm products, Mr. Poe is acknowledged to be one of the best informed men on cooperation among producers in the United States. He has made a study of the subject in Denmark and other parts of Europe, as well as having followed the growth of the movement in the United States. He has every confidence in the success of the present, or commodity, plan of cooperative marketing association of cotton, which is based upon the experience of successful growers on the Pacific coast.

Dr. B. W. Kilgore, Director of the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service and Experiment Station, signed the second contract, while Dr. Joyner, President of the N. C. Tobacco Grower's Association, signed the third contract. A number of leading Wake County farmers have already signed up and the campaign is to be launched in all counties within the next few weeks.

BLACK BEAUTY MINISTREL WINS MUCH APPLAUSE

Local Talent Affair Presented at High School Last Night Proved Decisively Pleasing in Every Way

Friday night in the high school auditorium a highly entertaining program was rendered by the Black Beauty minstrelers. The first act opened with a song by all Mammy's Arms. Following this the two end men, Tom Foley and Joe Norman, entered and had a few words with each other. After Monk Hadley sang Margie Nick Little the middle man announced that the sinners in the congregation would have a chance and Joe Moye delivered a side splitting sermon on Noah and the Ark. Everyone enjoyed Tired of Me sung by Jimmie Barber, after which Hubby Moye, told about his trials and tribulations as a married man. Bernice Gardner's beautiful song was applauded most heartily, as the curtain was lowered after It's Right Here For You, sung by Tom Foley and the chorus.

In the second act the scene was laid in a forest, and the Black Beauties dressed as tramps were gathered around a camp fire, while the quartette composed of Tom Foley, Monk Hadley, Jimmie Barber and Joe Norman gave several of the most popular songs. Earl Parkerson took the part of a negro soldier, Tom Foley's yoddling was quite a hit and also his Broadway Rose.

Oh, Mother I'm Wild sung by Joe Moye was mirth provoking. Billie Brown frightened Joe Norman almost to death, although he claimed before Billie told his murder story that he wasn't scared of nothing. Since You Crept into my heart was sung very well by Monk Hadley, and the curtain went down as Jimmie Barber sang Ireland Must be Heaven.

C. B. West and the other Black Beauties opened the last act with Feather Your Nest, while Joe brought

CHILDREN IN MANY CITIES HOUSED IN FIRE TRAP HOMES

Chamber of Commerce Reports School Building in 439 Cities Unsafe for Thousands of Children

(By Associated Press)

New York, Mar. 5.—Tens of thousands of school children housed in fire traps and hundreds of thousands of them either on half time or in makeshift buildings is the condition in 439 cities in the United States as disclosed in a report made public today.

The report was issued by the National Committee for Chamber of Commerce cooperation with the Public Schools on a survey conducted by the American City Bureau.

The committee was organized in Feb. 1920, to inquire into school conditions. Its executive committee is headed by George D. Strayer, of Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York.

The evidence presented shows clearly that there are tens of thousands of children now housed in old, insanitary dangerous buildings, says Mr. Strayer in his introduction to the report, many of these structures are best classified as fire traps.

Data was received from 429 cities. The report says. These facts, obtained from 75 per cent, of all the cities reporting, show that in these cities even including those housed in annexes where conditions may be normal, there are more than 453,000 children who are either on half time or because of lack of building space or are housed in portables rented buildings, attics, basements or corridors. It would require an average of two to 30 room buildings in each of these cities to properly house these groups of children alone.

"The report sets forth statistically the inadequacy of playground space. It is clear that in many cities children are now housed in buildings in which is less space on the playground than is supplied classrooms in which they are taught says Mr. Strayer.

Germahy Plans Real Offer By Comig Monday

London, Mar. 5.—Germany's real offer will be forthcoming Monday before the supreme council, it was said in some quarters today. It is declared the Germans are busy while the conference is making time formulating fresh proposals.

INCREASE PENSION FUND TO MILLION AT LAST MOMENT

Senate Adopts Gallert Amendment to Appropriation Bill in Session Last Night

WOULD CAUSE DEFICIT OF OVER HALF MILLION DOLLARS IT IS SAID

Provided Against by Another Amendment Proposing Prorating of Deficit

The Senate last night adopted the Gallert amendment increasing the annual appropriation of pensions to Confederate veterans from $750,000 to $1,000,000 and a committee amendment raising the annual appropriation for the East Carolina Training School from $85,000 to 105,000.

The increase raise the biennial appropriation for maintenance of State institutions to the unprecedented total of $8,863,150, and will create an estimated deficit in the two years of $555,122. However, this deficit will be averted by another amendment offered by the committee and adopted by the Senate which provides that a deficit become apparent the Governor and the Council of State shall prorrate the same among the several appropriations. A proviso, offered by Senator Long of Alabama was adopted which provides that the prorating of the deficit shall not extend to any appropriation which is less than $50,000. It is estimated that the proviso will cause each of the institutions affected to lose approximately three per cent of its appropriation.

The appropriations, all except that relating to pensions, date back to December 1, 1920, and extend to June 30, 1922 in order to conform to the new law changing the end of the fiscal year for the State from November 30 to June 30 of each year.

The action on the appropriation bill was preceded by a lengthy and acrimonious debate on the Bowie bill, already passed by the House, providing for the appointment of a commission by the Governor to investigate the advisability of selling the State's holdings in the North Carolina railroad and the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad and appropriating $50,000 for a survey of the possibilities of building a state owned railroad in Western North Carolina.

Funeral Services For Champ Clark Conducted Today

Hundreds of People Thronged Galleries of House to Pay Last Tribute to Former Speaker

Washington, Mar. 5.—Funeral services for Champ Clark were held in the United States house of representatives today. The galleries were thronged with several hundreds gathered to pay last tribute to former speaker of the house. The casket was completely concealed by great banks of flowers that stood before the speakers stand but no mark of formality nor guard to detract from the service designed to show that he was a plain American citizen without pomp or military rank to whom tribute was paid. Many members of both new and outgoing assembly attended the services.

Saturday Evening Mar. 5

France and Great Britain evidently are tired arguing with Germany, and mean to bring the reparation to a conclusion as soon as possible. Germany is mighty stubborn apparently, but further refusal may make her wish she had yielded sooner.

If the United States had been a member of the League of Nations, Germany would have been more cautious about fussing over the reparation question.
Uncle Sam argues patiently for a while, but after that it pays to tread carefully.

Peace with Germany and recognition of Mexico are two problems facing the Harding administration. They look mighty tough to tangle right in the beginning, but as the president seems to want peace, maybe both matters won't turn out to be white elephants.

The state Legislature finds itself within the shadows of the expiration of the constitutional limit of its sitting with some 600 bills awaiting consideration. Maybe its members will learn that too much controversy is costly during early hours.

The senate has frankly considered how America stands with the Japanese but reports indicate it is still far away from any definite conclusion. A decision may be expected after the Japs force one out.

The fact that a half million dollars worth of booze was seized in New York city indicates the country is far from being dry. Prohibition forces are working overtime to cope with the situation and their success is assured if hauls like that made in New York occur in the future.

March the 5th has been set aside as national fish day in America, and dealers are urged to sell their supplies at reasonable prices. If this means fish are going to be cheaper, that's all right but if no change is to take place why not postpone the matter for a while; at least until supplies increase enough to justify reduction.

Transportation rates of Canadian express companies will be subject to an increase of 20 to 35 percent. The companies desired a general increase of 40 per cent, but this they failed to get. The United States fortunately granted increases several months ago, and will not be troubled now that prices are declining for practically all commodities.

Boll Weevils annually destroy between thirty and fifty million dollars worth of cotton, according to reports of departments of agriculture. This should inspire the farmer to greater activity against the pest, and cause everyone to adopt more destructive measures. The cost is to great to tolerate, and should be decreased considerably by more determined campaigns in communities affected.

The resignation of John Skelton Williams, comptroller of Currency, shows to what extent factionalism in the senate may be carried. His letter to President Wilson explained the reasons and also gave out a few pointers that ought to cause the silent faction to be still more silent. The president reas-ured Mr. Williams of faith in his ability and that ought to be enough for any man serving during the administration of Woodrow Wilson.

THE CENSORSHIP

The Legislature might take careful note of sentiment concerning the censorship of motion pictures in this state before going further into the matter.
It seems generally considered that people like to exercise certain rights of their own in many matters, and particularly in motion pictures. What will suit one locality will not be acceptable in other communities, and no board of state censors will be able to satisfy the people as it should. The country is sufficiently protected by the national board of censors.

Very few picture appear on the screen that are indecent and obscene, as charged by the reformers, for the national board of censorship has been extremely careful, and certainly would not permit anything desecrating to go before the public. The matter deserves greater consideration than one branch of the Legislature seems to think, and the sooner cold facts instead of sentiment dominate the better off all parties concerned will be.

The report of Dr. James B. Turner, chairman of the county campaign for the starving people of China, shows that people are giving liberally, realize possibly that the cause is one of the greatest which American people have ever given to before. Pitt county is a large and prosperous section. Its people have enjoyed peace and plenty for many years; they have given liberally to all issues, but so far have failed to even scratch the surface of their resources. Thousands are starving daily in China simply because they have no means of subsistence and look to America for relief. North Carolina has always done its part by every issue of the kind, and Pitt county has rallied in such a pleasing way it cannot fall at this time. All those who haven't contributed should do so immediately, and have the consolation of knowing they have done their part by suffering humanity.

It is gratifying to observe that the Judiciary Committee of the National House of Representatives rules that the acceptance of Judge Landis of a position as Supreme arbiter of baseball is "inconsistent with the performance of his duties" general opinion seems to be to the same effect for it is believed the judge should give all time possible to official duties. His salary at least is large enough to support him in comfort without turning attention to something else. The committee summed up the matter in the right way, and has opinion of the people with it.

The next Congress will be demanded to thoroughly investigate charges against Judge Landis. By that time the first baseball season will be over, and the Judge will have his first years salary comfortable tucked away for future use. Congress has a weakness for investigations, in fact, so much so it is never able to accomplish anything.

President Wilson retired from office yesterday as one of the most notable figures in America. His service to the nation has been beyond criticism of just critics, and a pleasure to those appreciating the high standard which he supported throughout his administration. Not until he passes on will America really realize and be ready to immortalize one of its greatest statesmen.

BLAC KBEAUTY MINISTREL
WINS MUCH APPLAUSE

In his monkey man, Frank Jolley. Dick Williams, surprised the audience with unusual tricks and Edwin Wilkerson as Black Gal, singing his falsetto, was probably one of the most amusing in the whole minstrel. Gullford Smith sang I Never Knew and of course Joe Norman had to do something funny so he hypnotized To mFoley. To msang Crazy Blues with much feeling. Then came Frank Patrick the Hula Maid to the tune of Palestina and created much merriment. Bernice Gardner gave another Buck Dance and Jim Barber with the other Black Beauties sang Sweet Momma, a recent song hit. And as a fitting climax to the minstrel Tom and Jim sang Sweet Dreams. Proceeds of the minstrel go to the high school basket ball team.
