

FOUNTAIN TOWNSHIP OFFERS ACTIVE HELP IN MARKETING PLANS

Campaign Carried into District Last Night Well Attended by Growers

R. A. FOUNTAIN DECLARES BETTER MARKETING PLAN IMPERATIVE FOR COUNTRY

O. F. McCrary and W. B. Pace Discuss Measures As It Vitrally Affects Farmers of the Country

The intensive campaign for interesting cotton and tobacco growers of this country in principles enunciated in plans for establishing the co-operative marketing plan in this State began in Fountain township last night with a meeting in the town hall, which was fairly well attended by prominent business men, banker and growers of surrounding community.

The meeting last night was presided over by R. A. Fountain, who at the outset called attention of his hearers to the fact that the country is in imperative need for some definite way of disposing of farm products. For the past years, he declared, practically everything grown in this country has been dumped on the market in a reckless manner with the farmer accepting anything in the way of price happening to be proposed by the buyer at the time.

This fact Mr. Fountain declared has been indelibly impressed upon the minds of thousands of merchants thru out the nation simply because they knew the association was a determining factor in farming activities of Florida and California and that prices would conform with conditions prevailing on the world market.

O. F. McCrary, of Washington, district demonstration agent, explained the contract of the association, declaring it one of the most ambitious attempts in history for binding American farmers together in one great purpose. The principal object involved in the plan, he said, is merely to substitute the old policy of dumping products on the market by organized methods now being used by the largest manufacturing enterprises and industries of the United States.

The theory supported by the co-operative movement, he asserted is that each farmer ought to be willing to say I would rather trust the selling judgment of the biggest and brainest organization we can hire than my own judgement. I know too that the plan will insure wise warehousing and fairness in grading and classing which I as an individual cannot possibly enforce to myself.

ONE CONVICTION FEATURED COURT HERE WEDNESDAY

Out of Some Ten Odd Cases Disposed of During Day's Session Only One Conviction Accomplished

Yesterday's session of criminal term of Pitt county court proved decidedly one of the lightest of the entire week, as out of the ten odd cases appearing for trial only one conviction occurred.

Dave Turnage, colored man charged with assault with deadly weapon, was fined $10 and cost of action. The case against James Atkinson and Austin Knight involving separate charges of carrying concealed weapons was continued upon request of legal representatives.

F. S. Corbett, white man of this city, sometime ago indicted for obstructing police officials in performance of their duty, was adjudged not guilty after all evidence submitted indicated that the charge was without foundation. The incident resulted from activity of the defendant in a fight occurring at the Norfolk and Southern passenger station participated in by other parties, in which a policeman was severely abused before the principal was arrested. Mr. Corbett, it was alleged, interfered in a way that caused policemen to believe he obstructed arrest, and resulted in immediate indictment.

Samuel Willis, charged with giving worthless checks was found not guilty after evidence had been examined thoroughly enough to show that the checks were issued without intention to defraud. John Anderson, recently indicted on separate charges of assault with deadly weapon and carrying concealed weapon, was found not guilty. James McClain was found not guilty of larceny.

O. L. Joyner, Jr., recently indicted on a charge of assault with an automobile was adjudged not guilty after evidence tended to show that the accident in which the assault charge was an outgrowth, was unavoidable.

AMERICA SLOWLY WORKING WAY TO RECONSTRUCTION

Nation Dealing With Problems Considerably Easier Than Great Britain Government

London, Mar. 17.—America is dealing with the problem of reconstruction and the restoration of trade more energetically and more successfully than in the case of England, Sir Algernon Firth, former president of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce, declare in a Times interview Sir Algernon has returned from his 51st visit to the United States.

Among factors cited as to American advances in the situation, the British business man states, were a more rapid reduction of values than in England and cooperation of labor in reducing the costs of production. Mill workers in the United States, he said, are accepting wage reductions of as much as 33 1-3 per cent in order to enable manufacturers to turn out goods at prices which the public would pay.

American hours of work are about the same as those in England, he stated, but men worked much harder while they were in the mills.

Sir Algernon expressed an opinion that the trade would improve in America toward April, based on the fact that bottom prices were being reached, promising restored confidence and increased buying. He urged open and frank dealing with Americans and cooperation between the two nations. He said he did not attach much importance to the question of tariffs because of the creditor position of the United States.

AUSTRIA FIGHTING MONARCHISM PLAN IN EVERY SECTION

If Forms of Government is Accepted It Must Come From the Outside Leading Men Declare

Vienna, Feb. 16.—If Monarchism is to come to Austria it must, like Bolshevism, come from without. This is the opinion of men whose business it is to watch and weigh royalist activity.

That there is a royalist activity goes without saying. Carl (formerly Emperor) and his followers, the little court of semi and demi and near of many nationalities he has about him the Switzerland, still intrigue and plot perhaps hope. Here and in the other succession states a portion of the old aristocracy and great land owners and military swashbucklers keep up a movement, but on the whole the monarchist sentiment is decaying.

It dies hard because it has powerful support in Austria from sources that come into intimate contact with the people in their daily life, and from exterior quarters as well, but observers say it has lessened decidedly in the past six months.

They attribute that conditions to several causes. The royalist leaders are, to say the least, hardly an enterprising very daring lot and also are sensible enough to realize that even an anointed Hapsburg must have a treasury to successfully run a government and would present a sorry spectacle with bankrupt Austria and estranged Entente. Then the assiduous propaganda and teachings of the socialist and other liberal elements have begun to take effect on the great body of the peasantry, always considered the backbone of the royalist movement.

OVER 400,000 WAR VETERANS OUT OF JOBS IN AMERICA

Estimate Recently Completed by American Legion Shows Unemployment Situation Is Serious

New York Mar. 17.—There were 400,000 veterans of the world war out of work in the United States on March 1 last, according to an estimate received by the American Legion. This is a reduction of about 100,000 from the peak of more than 500,000 jobless ex-service men in the country shortly after January 1 last and the Legion reports there is promise of further improvement.

The survey of the national situation on which these figures are based was made by the American Legion Weekly, official publication of the Legion which states the unemployment situation as affecting the veterans appears to have taken a turn for the better.

A chain of employment agencies operated by the Legion in every state has done much to relieve the situation, says the Legion officials. The Legion has been instrumental in obtaining work for veterans, in discouraging the migration of unemployed men toward the great industrial centers and has encouraged a movement from cities to the farms. It has demanded that workers who left their positions to go to war should enjoy seniority rights on par with those of military age who stayed at home.

Ex-service men have suffered more in proportion to their numbers than other workers, according to the Legion because the operation of seniority rules and efficiency standards. Nearly a year is required for the returned veteran to get back to his old stride in industry, according to the testimony of large employers of labor. Another thing that has handicapped the ex-soldier is his restlessness and nomadic tendencies, both products of the strain and circumstances of war service.

HUNS MUST PAY BILLION MARKS BY NEXT WEDNESDAY

Allied Reparations Commission Demands Fulfillment of Obligations By That Time

Paris, March 17.—The allied reparations commission, in its note to Germany demanding fulfillment of article 235 of the peace treaty, notified the German government it must pay one billion gold marks before March 23, it was announced today.

The money must be deposited in the Bank of France, Bank of England, or the Central Reserve Bank in the United States, Germany was told.

It must complete the payment of twenty billion gold marks by July 1.

The commission, however, until April 1 to submit proposal to pay the balance of the twenty billion marks otherwise than cash. Germany may submit a plan for a foreign loan by April 1, the proceeds of which shall be payable to the commission. The commission announced that Germany had vitally refused to pay the balance, asserting the 20,000,000,000 marks had been fully paid.

INCLUSION OF AMERICAN BANK CAUSES NO SURPRISE

Washington, Mar. 17.—Inclusion by the allied reparations commission of the American Federal Reserve banks as an optional depository for German indemnity payments brought from treasury officials tonight the statement that the commission possibly had two purposes in view.

First, to enable the German government to call upon vast credits which it is said to hold through private agents in the United States.

Second, to employ in favor of the allied government the tremendous difference in exchange rates.

Outlines Accomplishments of Administration During Seventeen Months of Official Service

DECLARES POLICE FORCE IS FULLY EFFICIENT TO MEET THE DEMANDS OF PUBLIC

Record of Service Submitted for Purpose of Demonstrating Efficiency of Department

To the Citizens of Greenville: As your Mayor I have endeavored during the past twenty months to render service in keeping with the trust reposed. However, under our present form of City Government the authority of the Mayor, in many respects, is very limited; but to the extent of the authority granted I have given my time and best efforts, to an impartial enforcement of the law, economy in administration, and public improvements in keeping with the needs and means of the town.

Therefore, feeling that my efforts are at least entitled to public endorsement, and that you should be given the opportunity of approving or disapproving the stand I have taken. I hereby announce myself a candidate for Mayor for a second term. To my mind the principal involved is paramount to the individual interest or personality of any candidate.

Regarding economy and efficiency in government, I beg to be allowed to call your attention to the fact that the School Board and Water and Light Commission function wholly within their respective bodies, over which the Mayor and Board of Aldermen have no control. However, as to their efficiency you are respectfully referred to their recent published reports and their respective heads.

In town financial affairs we have adhered strictly to the budget system, and due to our efforts to keep down taxes, the general fund, that finances the maintenance and improvement of streets, sewers, water mains, street lights, cemetery, police, etc., is functioning on less revenue than was available last year. All increases in taxes have been devoted to maintenance of our splendid City School System, of which we should be proud. In other words with a limited tax rate it was necessary to suspend public improvements in order that public education might not be stunted.

The Police Department over which the Mayor is given authority by the Board of Aldermen, is efficient. And without fear of successful contradiction I do not hesitate to say, it is one of the best police forces in North Carolina. The record of which compares very favorably with those of such larger towns. The following records are submitted only for the purpose of demonstrating the efficiency of this Department.

Previous administration covering a period of four years from July 1st 1915 to July 1st, 1919

Total fines $5,397.35; Total Cost $4,075.34.

Present administration covering a period of one year and eight months from July 1st, 1919 to March 1st 1921. Total fines $8,728.40; Total cost $6,243.28; Total arrests 1950.

Drinking of intoxicating liquors by any officer while on or off duty is strictly prohibited, the penalty for which is immediate dismissal from the police force. Sleeping while on night duty is strictly prohibited and the penalty for which is dismissal from the police force. The three night police are constantly on the job while you sleep, and in comparison with other towns in this section, Greenville has been exceedingly fortunate regarding burglaries, robberies, etc.

I am perfectly willing to stand on my record, both as to Administration and Law Enforcement and welcoming an intelligent, unbiased investigation of same. I await your verdict with confidence.

Respectfully D. M. Clark

FARMERS PLAN TO ADOPT MARKETING PLAN IN ILLINOIS

Organizations in Every Part of the United States Definitely Determine New Method is Necessary

Chicago, Mar. 17.—Farmers' organizations of the United States today are officially considering the most extensive cooperative marketing plans in the history of the country.

Two well developed projects for handling grain already have been worked out and are now presented to farmers. If adopted, they will go into effect this summer. Efforts are being made to unite the two farm groups on a single system.

The final ratification meeting for the broadening of the plans, which includes the handling of all grain, is set for April 6 here. The other organization, which concerns itself only with wheat, is already signing up members.

On April 7 the first working meeting of a national livestock marketing committee will be here. Its object is to develop a national livestock marketing plan.

Coincidentally with these two meetings, fruit dealers of the country will hold a conference in Chicago, at which consideration will be given the possibility of national cooperative effort.

The national plan for marketing of wheat and livestock are the culmination of much local and sectional cooperative enterprises already established by farmers.

The prime movers in the plan mentioned are the American Farm Bureau Federation and the Wheat Growers' Association of America. Both organizations are developments of the last few years.

The wheat strike of last year first attracted attention to the wheat growers' Association, which has its headquarters at Wichita, Kan. With the assistance of Aaron Sapiro, a California marketing expert, it has worked out a system and is pushing a contract campaign in the wheat raising states. In Kansas effort is being made to sign up 50,000,000 bushels, or about half the crop, in a wheat pool.

Tomorrow will be the last sale day of the local tobacco market for this season.

The cotton market is showing slight firmness after the recent slump, but that doesn't indicate prices are better. They are just sticking where they were, and that is what the scribes call firmness.

It seems that both Costa Rica and Panama are finding out that war is not what it once was, and find it advisable to call off their dogs. Both countries are in good condition at this time, but if they play the game of war long at the time the situation will be entirely different.

It is gratifying to note that Poles and Russians have seen fit to reach an agreement as to signing of the treaty. They have been fighting long enough to have signed a thousand treaties, but it is pleasing just the same that they have at last decided to become peaceful.

It is pleasing to note that excess profits are disappearing in many parts of the country, for it goes to show that merchants who have been enjoying high prices are beginning to realize that the time for reduction has come. There is much more pleasure in buying at reasonable prices, and no one appreciates the fact more than the man who has been forced to pay them for such a long time.

Fayetteville people are planning to raise $40,000 for the erection of a Y. M. C. A. building and at this time have nearly reached the goal of their ambition. Greenville needs an organization of this kind, and if business men should get together and make such a thing possible they would do young manhood one of the greatest favors possible. The Y. M. C. A. has proved its value to many cities throughout the country, and in fact the city of Greenville ought to be without one.

Leading citizens of Lynchburg, Va. are strongly opposing organization of the Ku Klux Klan in that section, and it seems highly probable nothing of any definite nature will be accomplished by the clansmen. There are, of course, many things in favor of the clan and many against it, but in cities where such organizations exist there has not been sufficient disturbance to justify criticism. There are people in every city though who like the idea of opposing anything working in a secret way, but when operations of the clan are considered there is no reason to believe it intends to sanction anything but the very highest plans of citizenship. That's what it stood for in early days; and it is hardly probably any inferior motive dominates now.

The Bellamy law requiring physical examination of applicants for marriage licenses seems to be producing a depression in business of various registers of deeds throughout the State, but so far Pitt county has not experienced any unusual falling off in business. The law is considered very appropriate by prominent physicians, and probably is going to be instrumental in reducing community diseases. Much unhappiness has resulted in past years from unhealthy conditions of young married couples, and there is no reason in the world why the Bellamy legislation should not remove much of this. It at least should inspire greater confidence in those securing licenses as it indicates physical preparedness, which is an entirely essential in every case of the kind.

MIGHTY POOR SPIRIT

Stock yard workers recently affected by reductions in wages are desirous of placing their case entirely in the hands of Samuel Gompers president of the American Federation of Labor, probably expecting something to result in their interest. This is very commendable in many ways, and while it is hardly probable Mr. Gompers is doing to be able to do anything for them, he may at least help the country in this great period of distress by urging the men to remain at work and accept the reductions in the best of spirit.

It must be remembered that conditions at this time are altogether different than they were a year ago in prices for practically all commodities, and it is imperative wages be reduced in order that industry may be continued. Extortionate prices cannot be paid all the time, especially when there has been a general decrease in every line of business, and the quicker the workman learns that he had better accept fair wages and hold his position the better off the country will be.

This period of readjustment is one of the greatest and presents more perplexing problems than in years, and unless people who constitute our government accept changing conditions it is perfectly plain that it is either keep at work or remain idle while a prolonged strike is in progress. American people ought to realize that they have enjoyed everything afforded by the balloon period of inflation and must be the first affected by the rapid descent brought on by deflation. It is certainly anything but pleasant to the many having a weakness of handling large piles of money, but it is one of the inevitable changes accompanying readjustment and should be accepted in the very best spirit possible.

Labor leaders like Mr. Gompers can do the country much good right at this time by advising workers to continue work and accept fair reductions. Industry must continue, and strikes at this time after such a long period of unrest and abnormality would prolong recovery and place the nation in such position that it would be years in experiencing progress. The labor problem is one of the most vital to be dealt with before readjustment becomes an actuality, and unless influential leaders help the nation will be going backward instead of forward.

Railway workers have decided to reject wage reductions, but before it's all over they may be ready to accept. The situation is in no way different from those occurring during the Democratic administration, and may give the Republicans a chance of gaining a little experience through arbitration. The action shows a mighty poor spirit on part of a class of laborers who have been receiving excellent salaries for the past several months, and are unwilling at this time to accept their part of readjustment. The time may come when many will be glad to secure jobs at wages much lower than those proposed by the railroads, and when that time comes conditions will be much better everywhere.

It is gratifying to note that North Carolina people continue to contribute to China relief funds, and also that other parts of the nation are responding in a way which should mean eventual relief for the starving millions. The situation in China is the most serious that has faced any single nation in many years, and it is perfectly natural that people should give as they have never given before. The starving children of Europe aroused much sympathy in America, but it is hardly probable they suffered more than those in China. The cause is one of the greatest which America has had an opportunity of contributing to and its response should be hearty and unstinted.

"Clean Up Week" in North Carolina has been set for the week of April 4th. The date should be carefully jotted down by housekeepers and all others interested in fire prevention as well as civic improvement. Cleanliness attracts attention quicker than any other one thing about any town, and people who appreciate their town ought to do everything possible to keep it clean. Greenville is a mighty fine town, but there is plenty of work ready for those who take advantage of the clean-up period.

Germany says invasion of the territory east of the Rhine is violation of the league of nations covenant and intends to appeal to that organization for assistance. As the League of Nations is composed largely of Allies now endeavoring to make Germany pay the price of her aggression, it is hardly probably any action will be taken, certainly not in the way the Germans appear to think. It's a mighty easy matter to bring about charges of unfairness, but Germany is the last country in the world to appeal for assistance of any kind after causing the world so much trouble.

Dr. E. C. Brooks, Superintendent of Public Institution, says the Legislature was very generous in making appropriations for public education, and believes it has opened up a way for continued progress in years to come. Mr. Brooks ought to know what he is talking about for there is no other man in the State quite so familiar with conditions and needs of the future. He predicts considerable progress, which should be inspirational to every school teacher, both in the city and in rural districts.

Fire losses in North Carolina amounted to $432,000, according to estimates made from the report of the State Department of Insurance. This is a reduction considerably below that of last year, and ought to be received in an interesting way by the people in every part of the State who have been confronted by enormous fire losses from year to year. There are many ways of preventing disastrous fires, and the quicker people begin to learn that it is better to be cautious than experience such losses the better off the country is going to be.

FOUNTAIN TOWNSHIP OFFERS ACTIVE HELP IN MARKETING PLAN

ner in which buyers dispose of my product immediately after it reaches their hands.

The movement for better means of marketing, he reiterated, is both South-wide and nation-wide and vitally affects every farmer as an individual endeavoring to save himself from one of the most abject situations in history of the industry. The wheat growers of the North and West have just decided on practically the same plan, and Oklahoma has already signed up 175,000 bales of cotton in its co-operative marketing pools. Agricultural leaders of Texas are on the verge of signing up 1,000,000 bales of cotton. Georgia will follow soon and consequently it is safe to say every state will adopt the measure at an early date. The plan affects the business man and banker as much as the growers for it helps more than any one thing to stabilize business and produce a direct economic improvement in every locality in which it operates.

W. B. Pace, county farm demonstration agent, briefly outlined what Pitt county planters in other sections are doing in the way of organizing, and expressed belief that the campaign is going to prove a great success in every sense of the word. He lauded efforts of prominent business men and agricultural leaders is assisting to make the issue possible, and declared that the entire country ought to be completely organized and ready for concerted action by the end of the approaching week.

The campaign will be carried into the Bethel district tonight where one of the largest attendances so far is expected. Previous reports stated that A. W. Swain secretary of the American Cotton association would address the meeting, but business exigencies prevented his presence. However, he will be in the county Monday with five members of the Extension department ready for extensive campaigning. The entire county will be canvassed again after that, and every farmer given an opportunity of becoming a member of one of the greatest institutions in America.

Let us make your old home new

Some mighty good material went into the homes of a few years ago. No matter how rickety they look now, it's a safe bet that the framework is still solid and strong. We specialize on making these old homes new.

Usually it isn't so much of a job as you'd think. Careful planning and a little lumber will make a wonderful difference. If your old home needs remodeling, or if you're thinking of building or repairing, give us a call. We're always glad to estimate, no charge, of course.

CAPT. WILLIAMS GIVES DRECO TO MANY POOR PEOPLE

Found From Own Experience What A Reliable Medicine It Is to Re-build Weak, Rundown Systems. Gained 15 Pounds Himself

I frequently give some poor person who is sick and in need of a good reliable remedy, a bottle of Dreco as I have found it a fine medicine in my own case, state Capt. W. J. Williams of the Salvation Army, Danville, V. After an attack of Flu seemed I could not regain my strength. I stayed weak and had no appetite, couldn't sleep sound and my stomach was all to pieces. After meals I'd be full of gas, had gripping pains, my bowels were constipated, liver sluggish and suffered aching pains in my back over my kidneys. Dreco overcame my troubles and put energy on my work. I gained fifteen pounds in weight and enjoy as good health as ever in my life. I often run across some poor man or woman who, if they could get rid of their troubles would be able to earn their living. So I have given many bottles of Dreco to such as these, and always Dreco has been a blessing to them. I strongly recommend Dreco for it has real merit. Dreco is being specially introduced by the Warren Drug Company in Greenville and sold by all leading Druggists.

SELL AT GORMAN'S

Sales have finished each day, so far this week by dinner. We have had each day about a two hours sale. The good and fine tobaccos are selling well while the common grades are very weak. We will be unable to clean up this week and should we get tobacco in next week we will try to dispose of it during the week, otherwise Gorman will be open during the coming week but we advise all to get their tobacco in by the 18th if possible. We have 2nd sale Thursday and 1st Friday.
