F. C. HARDING IN LOGICAL ADDRESS TO ODD FELLOWS

Tells Hearers Lodge Cannot Take Place of Church At Get-together Meeting Here Last Night

Probably one of the most interesting get-together meetings conducted in this section in sometime featured the regular weekly session of the local order of Odd Fellows at their lodge rooms in this city last night. The meeting was attended by wives of members of the lodge, who enjoyed to the fullest extent the splendid musical program, refreshments and an excellent address delivered by Hon. F. C. Harding, one of the most prominent members of the organization in this part of the state.

Practically every member of the order was present, with the exception of one or two who were either detained by pressing business matters or out of the city, and took an active part in making the program enjoyable from the beginning to the end. The music furnished by members of the order, combined with refreshments did much to enhance the creditable program, and was enjoyed by the ladies who are only occasionally given a peep in on what is occurring among fraternal societies.

Mr. Harding spoke on the usefulness of Odd Fellowship and what it means to the community. He covered the subject in a comprehensive manner, and brought in numerous sketches that strengthened the subject to no little extent. He said the order represented the very highest ideals of civilization and invariably endeavors to put these ideals in daily practice through members inspired to do their best by their fellowman. It is essential, he declared, for every fraction to develop the very highest order of morality and bring every force possible in the advancement of those principles so necessary in American life.

Stressing the importance of fraternal influence, he declared it is nothing compared to that of the church. Many people get the notion that because they are members of some fraternal organization there is no reason for them attending church. This impression is altogether wrong, for there is nothing in the world that can supersede the work of God, and the church is the only direct medium of His teachings.

Fraternal societies, he said, only represent a spirit of brotherhood that is human in every sense of the word, and while the spirit is very commendable members should not get the impression that it in any way supplants work of the church which is essential to the spiritual welfare of every community. This fact cannot be disputed by anyone. The church represents that which no human element can take place of, and it is highly significant that it is the duty of every lodge member to attend church regularly and be able to enjoy a greater fulfillment of the teachings of His fraternity through those of the church.

The address marked one of the most prominent features of the evening's program as it dealt principally with an issue that is causing considerable concern among leading church workers. It covered in detail reasons why fraternal ideals should be based upon a higher plan, presenting in a forceful and conclusive way that it is the duty of all society members not to neglect the spiritual for that which is earthly and entirely human.

SUPERIOR COURT IS STILL HUNG UP BY DUDLEY ISSUE

Drainage Controversy of Dudley vs Harrington Delivered to the Jury Shortly Before Noon Hour

The snag which the civil term of Pitt county Superior court bumped up against Monday afternoon in form of the Dudley vs Harrington case continued without interruption throughout the entire session yesterday, and it is hardly probable it will be completed before late this afternoon or tomorrow morning. Counsel completed argument this morning, and Judge Horton immediately charged the jury, but there are so many technical points or flaws involved in different phases of the issue that it is considered quite sure the jury will deliberate several hours at least.

Practically fifty witnesses were examined in interest of the plaintiff and defense yesterday, but evidence in virtually every instance was conflicting and failed to bring out with any definiteness principal facts involved. The defense presented a great display of strength in many instances, and attorneys made a desperate effort to weaken every advantage gained, but early this morning neither side had apparently made much progress, and the case went to the jury containing many perplexing points for deliberation before a verdict is possible.

The case is the outgrowth of a controversy over improper drainage from a ditch passing through the land of the plaintiff into that of the defendant, it being contended that the defendant from time to time has obstructed water passing through the ditch and turning it back into the land of the plaintiff. This action, Mr. Dudley contends has been responsible for damage to his crops for several years, and also injuring the fertility of the land. The defendant claims that the improper drainage resulted from no fault of his, and was because of the condition of the ditch.

The plaintiff is represented by Attorneys H. W. Whedbee and Julius Brown while the defense is represented by Abdon Dunn, D. M. Clark and F. G. James & Son. The legal battle has been one of the most pronounced and out of the ordinary in several months, and as a consequence has created considerable interest.

It seemed quite probable the case would be finished when first taken up Monday afternoon, but the subsequent hopelessness of a decision being reached became evident afterwards. It is expected the jury will be in decision sometime after receiving the issue shortly before the noon hour today owing to the number of perplexing points involved. The completion of this case will only mark a slight change in the heavy docket, but it is expected the remainder of the week and next week, however, will be filled with expeditious progress.

POLES TRYING TO FIND NEW SCHEME TO BUILD FLEETS

Officials Seeking Means for Providing Country With Adequate Fleet for Merchant Marine

C. Warsaw, Mar. 23. Polish statesmen are trying to find a way to build up a fleet of merchant vessels to ply the seven seas. Pushed back from the salt water, when Poland lost her independence and was partitioned by Prussia, Russia and Austria, the new republic by the treaty of Versailles, was granted an outlet to the Baltic.

The Polish government is aiding the private concerns to finance the operation of several vessels plying chiefly between English, French and Holland ports. Other firms are extending the service to America.

Poland's Ministry of War has just purchased four monitors as the foundation of the Vistula fleet. Six torpedo boats, assigned to Poland by the council of ambassadors, formerly having been a part of Germany's naval forces, are now undergoing repairs in England.

A navy bureau of the Ministry of Trade and Industry has been formed by the Polish government and a naval school has been established at Tcheb, or Tozew (Polish spelling) on the Vistula just outside the limits of the free city of Danzig. The course of the academy is to be conducted along lines of modern English naval schools, an English naval mission having spent some time in Poland assisting the new government in inaugurating its program.

NATIONAL CROPS TO BE POOLED EARLY UNDER NEW PLAN

Pooling of Grain and Other Crops to Feature Prominently in Co-operative Marketing

Chicago, Mar. 23.—Pooling of farmers' grain, either on a national or local scale, constitutes the outstanding feature of the national co-operative marketing plan proposed by the Committee of seventeen, chairman C. H. Gustafson said here today, explaining its details.

The committee, whose full name is the farmer's grain Marketing Committee of seventeen, is holding state meetings this month preparatory to a ratification conference in Chicago April 6. The committee represents co-operative organizations of farmers interested in grain marketing, prominent among them the American Farm Bureau Federation.

As an alternative to the pooling plan farmers may sell direct.

The national pooling plans calls for pooling grain with a central agency, selling by grade and then distributing the profits equally to each contributor to the pool. Mr. Gustafson said. This would operate to give each producer the average price for grains of a certain grade which he contributed to the pool. It would insure the producer products in this manner has reached its highest development among the California co-operative organizations.

Products so pooled pass out of the control of the individual producer and the grain will be sold by the director of the pool at the time that they deem most opportune.

Provision is also made for a local pool by members of a single community. In both local and national pools the control is centralized and the selling price averaged.

The direct sale plan allows farmers who desire to bring their grain to the cooperative elevators and sell on the current market quotation as it is done at the present time at privately owned elevators.

LISBON PLANS TO FORCE RECLINE IN COST OF LIVING

Portuguese Attempting to Follow Example of America and Prevent Further Climb of Prices

Lisbon, Mar. 23.—The Portuguese are attempting to follow the example of the Americans and force a decline in the excessive prices of food and clothing by refusing to purchase. The people are indignant at the continued advance of the costs of the necessities of living particularly the price of codfish, which is the chief article of food for the poorer families.

The city council of Lisbon and Oporto are attempting to stop the excess of the profiteers by purchasing large quantities of codfish from Newfoundland and selling it at one third the price extorted from the public by shopkeepers. It is hoped that this will bring down not only the price of fish but that of meat.

The newspapers exhort the public to refrain from buying rice in order to bring down the price and announcements have been made of several cuts to come in that food.

The Portuguese public is looking to the United States to rescue them from their plight. Unverified rumors have been circulated that shiploads of foodstuffs, clothing and shoes are on their way from America to flood the markets here at prices available to all. Many householders are refusing to buy at present prices saying I will wait until the American ships have come.

COLORADO RANKS SECOND PLACE IN NATION VESSELS

Battleships Now Nearing Completion At New Port News One of the Largest in the Navy

Camden, N. J., Mar. 23.—The Colorado is the second of the eleven great superdreadnaughts authorized in 1916 to be launched. A sister ship, the Maryland, is now nearing completion at New Port News and probably will be commissioned this year.

There are five ships of this class, the first in the American navy to be armed with 16 inch rifles. The others now building are the Maryland, Washington and West Virginia and all five were given names previously assigned to armored cruisers, which since have been named for cities.

Although far more powerful than any American warship now in commission the Colorado class will be surpassed by the other six battleships authorized in 1916 and known as the Massachusetts-Iowa Class. The Colorado class mount eight 16 inch guns each, where as the others will carry twelve such guns.

The Colorado's main gun will be mounted in four turrets, with two guns each, located along the center line, two turrets forward and two turrets aft of the superstructure. The Massachusetts-Iowa class will carry 3 guns to a turret and will develop two knots more speed than the 21 knots of the Colorado class.

The Colorado is 624 feet long and slightly more than 97 feet wide with a normal displacement of 32,000 tons. The motive power will be furnished by four Westinghouse Electric drive turbines constructed to develop 28,900 horsepower. The crew will consist of 65 officers, 1345 enlisted men and 75 marines.

The second battery of the Colorado will be 14 five inch rifles, four three inch anti-aircraft guns and two torpedo tubes. The Massachusetts-Iowa type will have two additional five inch guns in the secondary battery.

Mr. J. R. Porter, of Charlotte, general manager of the Home Telephone and Telegraph company is spending a few days in Greenville in interest of the company.

WINTERVILLE TO AID IN MARKETING DRIVE OF COUNTY

Farmers and Business Men Last Night Pledged Support in Campaign to Improve Price Situation

LENOIR COUNTY AGENCY EXPLAINS CONTRACT AND URGES CO-OPERATION

C. M. Brickhouse and W. B. Pace, Farm Agents, Principal Speakers of the Evening

Despite a torrential down pour of rain the co-operative marketing campaign which has been in progress in this county for the past several days was carried into Winterville township last night with marked success. The meeting was conducted in a garage in Winterville and attended by a large number of representative business men and growers of the community who listened interestingly to principles of the contract explained by C. M. Brickhouse of Kinston, farm demonstration agent of Lenoir county, and W. B. Pace, demonstration agent for Pitt County.

The meeting last night marked a conclusion of activities until tomorrow night when the campaign will again be carried into the Bethel section for the purpose of signing up planters and business men who last week had the opportunity of hearing the issue explained by men well acquainted with conditions both in America and foreign countries. Plans are now under foot to secure the assistance of Dr. B. W. Kilgore, of the State Extension department, for this meeting. Definite word has been received by campaign forces in this city at a late hour today accepting the invitation.

Mr. Pace briefly explained the nature of the campaign to the audience last night, showing conclusively that it is the only definite way of saving the farmer from present deplorable conditions. He declared the co-operative marketing plan the most advisable way of marketing either cotton or tobacco yet presented in any part of the world, and that it had been generally accepted in other countries because they found it eliminated all uncertainty as to price and conditions of the market when the product is in readiness for marketing purposes. Extensive plans for instituting the movement in other states of this country were explained in a brief way showing that the old plan of dumping products on the market is considered inadequate to meet imperative demands of the farming industry in the future.

Mr. Brickhouse explained in detail the contract by which every member of the association will be requested to adhere to, and declared it to be one of the most binding measures ever before presented in the interest of any public organization. It not only binds the farmer to his pledge to market his product according to regulation of the association, but demands every man to co-operate in every way possible and assist in making individual efforts one of the supreme considerations of activity. He reiterated that the time has come for definite conservative methods of marketing in every state of the Union, and said it is incumbent upon every planter to support this final supreme effort to better the present deplorable state of affairs existing in every part of the country.

Co-operative marketing, he declared, is probably as essential to the industry as cultivation of large crops, for any crop is absolutely worthless to the producer unless he receives prices in proportion to the cost of production. He enumerated the serious price situation that has prevailed on both the cotton and tobacco market, and said there is no use in the world of the farmer continuing to produce something when he is unpaid by a market which has been congested for months. Reduction in acreage this year combined with better marketing out to be the salvation of the American farmer in the future, but unless plans are considered and strictly adhered to, there is no chance on earth of conditions undergoing any improvement in the

SPLENDID SERMON FEATURE SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Although Inclement Weather Large Crowd Attended Service Last Night

Rev. Leland Smith preached another splendid sermon to a large congregation in the Memorial Baptist church last night on the subject, "Heaven and Hell" a contrast. "There are many different kinds and classes of people on earth" declared Dr. Smith, "But when the great day of judgment comes there will be only two classes, those who will enter into eternal joy, Heaven, and those who will enter everlasting punishment, Hell."

In developing his subject and in bringing out the contrast Dr. Smith used the twenty-fifth chapter of Matthew, in which occurs three parables, first, the ten virgins, five wise and five foolish, who went to the wedding, and those who were prepared went in and enjoyed the marriage feast, while those who were unprepared were shut out. "In the great judgment," stated Mr. Smith, "God will say to some of us who are not prepared verily I say unto you, I know you not."

The second parable, used to show the contrast, the three servants to whom the traveling man gave goods, to hold until his return. The first and second servants used their talents, and the third man hid his. When the master returned those who had used their talents were rewarded accordingly, but the one who had failed to use his talent was cast out. Just so will the man who refused to use his talents for the glory of God, be deprived of the joys of heaven.

The third parable used by Dr. Smith was the dividing of the sheep and goats. The sheep, Christians on His right hand inherited the Kingdom prepared for them, while the goats, sinners, departed from Him into everlasting Hell.

"Just as sure as there is a God, there is a Heaven and Hell," declared Dr. Smith, and he further stated that the same words used to describe the duration of Heaven described the duration of Hell, namely, everlasting joy, everlasting punishment, eternal happiness, everlasting Hell, and they are both for ever and ever.

This morning he spoke on, "Your Prayer Life," bringing out the joy and pleasure which prayer affords and stating that there are many kinds of prayer, namely spirit prayer, petition prayer, thanksgiving prayer and communion prayer. Some prayer is merely form, and has no real meaning behind it but as everything worth while has been accomplished by prayer, we must pray with faith, believing that God will grant our requests. Although the weather was inclement a large crowd was present.

The B. Y. P. U. attended in a body and at the conclusion of the service enjoyed a few remarks made by Mr. Montgomery.

The singing at both services under the direction of Mr. Montgomery was thoroughly enjoyed.

The public is cordially invited to all the services.

Wednesday Afternoon March 23

Republican leaders apparently fear proposed tariff revisions. And they have a right to, for by the time the Democrats incorporate a few suggestions the heart of the issue will have been cut out completely.

An anti-tobacco Sunday has been proposed by reformers in the city of Chicago. If people up in that section are as interested in the product as they are down here, the proposition will prove a decided failure in the beginning.

The old wiggling and wobbling policy seems to be interfering with the Republican machinery. This might have been expected, as Mr. Harding started off the campaign wiggling and probably intends wobbling through the remainder of his administration.

President Harding informs Panama that he still feels a friendly interest in its affairs, but believes it advisable that rules be obeyed. The little country evidently doesn't feel that way about it, but probably will do as the president commands.

Accident rates in coal mines in England, France, Belgium, Germany, Austria and Japan are much lower than in America because all miners in one mine speak the same language. That's a peculiar way of solving such a problem, but if it proved effective in this case it should in others.

The department of justice is going to take a hand in the strike of railway employees in Georgia, and it is believable something favorable may be reported in the next several days. The department generally has a way of doing things that bring results, and as such is necessary in this case it is hoped that the strike will be made of the job.

The latest information from Paris says a different odor for every frock is the latest fashionable idea of the Parisian dressmakers. A pink creation should give out the delicate odor of roses, while the lily of the valley is considered more appropriate for white gowns. The scent is sewed into the seams of the frock. Now if they will discover some way of keeping a young lady's cheeks painted and powdered without so many tense situations the idea will be complete.

The fly menace promises to furnish a big problem for the summer months so people who want to be free from the pest had better get busy and screen up every place possible. The fifth carrying insect is a source of much sickness and when it becomes so people can't prevent it from invading their houses the situation ought to improve.
It's better to begin early than late, so it might be advisable to put in the screens now while we think of it.

Needy residents of Muskegon, Michigan, who are out of jobs are being provided for by the city. The city loans funds, taking a note payable on demand without interest. The proposition is a mighty appealing one, but may prove costly in the long run, especially if there is no indication of a recovery in industry. There are many who will accept the loans and not be able to pay them on demand. About the only recourse for the city then would be to lock up the delinquent until a position is open for him, and that's about what most anyone would do under present conditions.

LUMBER EXPORT TRADE

An exhaustive examination of the Swedish lumber industry by the Department of Commerce shows three phases of interest to American lumber men.

First the measures taken to preserve the forests and eliminate waste in lumber; second the inferior character of Swedish lumber, third that by combination of all Swedish lumbermen in the export trade and superior selling methods, they manage to market their inferior lumber for the same price as the greatly superior American lumber.

Sweden occupies the leading position in the lumber world, according to the report, not on account of the quality produced, but on account of scientific forest management and efficient manufacturing and selling methods. Fifty one per cent of the country is comprised within the 55,000,000 acres of forests of which 13,000,000 are public. Because of the realization in Sweden of the supreme importance of forests in the national life, stringent laws with regard to cutting have been adopted. A Swedish forest expert is quoted as saying that the position of Sweden as an independent nation and as a civilized country is contingent upon the existence or nonexistence of forests.

During normal years before the war the exports from Sweden of forest products aggregated $80,000,000, or 44 per cent of the total exports. The Swedish government accordingly considers the perpetuation of the forests of such vital importance that no one is allowed to endanger the future of the timber stands by reckless exploitation for the sake of immediate profit. This point of view is so generally accepted that no difficulty has been experienced in connection with the government's control of the cutting of timber on private lands.

It seems the co-operation marketing campaign forces in this country are going to be handicapped for lack of help in signing up planters this week, but as soon as this fact becomes known it is safe to say there will be plenty of business men ready to lend assistance in the work. They realize it is the only direct way of stabilizing business, and feel no hesitancy in helping something by which everyone will benefit.
The campaign ought to be at its height at this time, but delay has been inevitable and is to be appreciated by those acquainted with conditions. Mr. O. F.
McCrary and W. B. Pace, of the farm demonstration department, have put in mighty valuable work for several days and displayed enterprise and industry commendable in every way. If the committee had a few more men of the kind it is certain fifty per cent of growers would be signed up in considerably shorter time than contemplated. It's a great proposition and should appeal to every person interested in the future of the farming industry.

It is deplored that thousands of bales of cotton still remain in fields in this section of the state, for there is no chance whatever of the farmer being able to get it picked in time to realize even present market value. It has decreased in value because of being subjected to bad weather, and it would be planting time again before it could be removed from the fields. It's a deplorable state of affairs and the farmer is more to blame than conditions.
It is true conditions were not altogether favorable the early part of the year, but this should not have prevented picking and preserving the supply until marketing became better. Prices may be low, but it is much better for the farmer to have his product stored away for safe keeping than out in the fields ruined and without chance of realizing anything at all from it. The mistake is going to prove a costly one and decrease the value of the crop to a greater extent than one would suppose.

It is unfortunate that many sections are confronted with short school terms as result of oppressed conditions, because it produces a situation anything but pleasing when considering that the State at this time is developing into an educational center above the average. The present financial situation developed so unexpectedly that it caught many districts unprepared, and as a consequence funds have fallen to such extent that it is impossible to continue the usual length of time.
There are only a few parts of the State similarly affected, but even this is to be deplored in every sense of the word. School boards should make a desperate effort to gather up all funds available and continue as long as possible. Progress will not be retarded so badly and next year will find things in much better shape.

Some statistics claim that money American women spend on jewelry, feminine fancies and beautifiers in general for one year would pay either half the interest of the national debt or the entire appropriation of the navy, including new ship construction. The assertion is rather startling, but there's not much chance of the women devoting their funds to such purposes.

The Fordney tariff measure which was recently vetoed by Pres. Wilson will be rushed though Congress as the first important piece of legislation. It may be important to Republicans with a grudge against American industry, but to the thoughtful considerate man it is absolutely unnecessary. The country is burdened enough by taxation, and the Fordney measure would be an additional depression.

The country should heed the appeal of President Harding for the suffering people of China as it carries with it a spirit that instantly demands attention of the considerate American citizen.
Funds have been on a general increase for the past month, but contributions have not been what they should by any means. America is about the only country capable of providing relief and its up to her people to get busy and respond before it's too late.

SHAD STILL SELL HIGH

While the high water in the river the past week has increased the catch of shad, it seems to have had no effect on decreasing the price. High prices will be demanded as long as the people pay them.

Slump In Business Hits Register Deeds

Not A Single Applicant Appeared for Marriage Licenses During Monday

This first real effect on the Bellamy legislation, requiring physical examination of applicants for marriage licenses, was observed by Register of Deeds Gaskins in this city Monday when not a single license was issued during the entire day. This is the first time in months that a day has passed without at least one applicant appearing, and the sensation produced considerable concern in official circles.

It is true there was a slight falling off of business immediately after the law became effective in this month, but that continued only for a day or so, and even then one or two anxious hearts braved the perplexities occasioned by the change and appeared before the affable Register of Deeds with a clean bill of health. This tended to relieve the situation immensely, and the next day witnessed the usual activity with the daily average being well maintained.

No definite reason has been advanced for the surprising slump in business, but the optimistic are of opinion that the next day or so will bring things back to normal. The new law seems to have met with general approval in every section of the county, and it is believable it will have little to do with lowering the daily average in the future.

"Suicide By Inches"

Thousands of people commit suicide by inches! If you took minute daily doses of some poisonous drug, no particular effect might be noticed until accumulation of the poison made its action evident. Yet how many realize that poisonous substances are formed constantly during digestion and the preparation of the food waste for elimination. If the bowels act regularly and thoroughly, these poisons are eliminated. But if constipation exists, there results stagnation of intestinal waste, germs multiply; and poisons are formed and carried by the blood to every cell of the body. The victim of self poisoning commits suicide by inches. Pills, castor oil, laxative waters and salts only force and irritate the bowels, and make constipation a habit. Nujol works on an entirely new principle. Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system. Nujol thus prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world. Nujol is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol Trade Mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger".
