CRIMINAL TERM OF COUNTY COURT HERE APRIL 11TH

Number of Cases on Calendar for One Week Term Which Includes Number of Important Cases

A one week term of Pitt county court will convene in this city Monday Apr. 11, with Judge L. G. Cooper presiding and Solicitor P. R. Hines prosecuting. There are a number of important matters on calendar for the week, and it is expected that more than ordinary interest will be displayed in each instance.

County court has been doing some mighty effective work for the past several months, and as a consequence finances for county schools increased considerably. Either heavy fines or road and jail sentences predominate every Monday morning session, and it would not be surprising if the lawless element of the county doesn't have more regard for legislation within the next several months. The following cases are on calendar for the week, Monday April 11th, 1921.

State vs. George Cannon; State vs. William Seale & Green Parker; State vs. J. R. Van & E. Burnette; State vs. R. E. Carrin; State vs. William Wilson and others; State vs. Ashley Page; State vs. Moses Battle; State vs. Jim Duncan, George Lang, Elias Thigpen, and George Atkinson; State vs. Tom Little; State vs. Austin Knight; State vs. Austin Knight; State vs. James Atkinson and Austin Knight; State vs. James Atkinson; State vs. Leon Teale; State vs. James Linton; State vs. Raymond Williams; State vs. Claude Joyner; State vs. Wiley Jones; State vs. Richard Hordee; State vs. Nick Saleeby; State vs. Nick Saleeby; State vs. John Boston; State vs. John Biggs; State vs. Bettie Peyton; State vs. Ed Hill; State vs. Nick Saleeby; State vs. Ed Country; State vs. Lether Avery and others; State vs. Lonley Speight; State vs. J. M. Suggs; State vs. Wiley Dunn; State vs. Wiley Dunn; State vs. Wiley Dunn.

Tuesday April 12th, 1921
State vs. O. H. Smith, Guy Baker, and Sam Person; State vs. Herbert Dixon; State vs. Noah Hardee; State vs. Washington Edwards; State vs. B. F. Anderson; State vs. Lonnie Weddell; State vs. Walter Mills; State vs. Mitchell Saleeby; State vs. James McCline; State vs. Ed Fleming; State vs. Edgar Williams and Joseph Hinton; State vs. Major Meeks; State vs. Thomas Simms; State vs. James Brown; State vs. James Brown; State vs. Charlie Barnett; State vs. Eddie Carr; State vs. Thomas Simms; State vs. Levy Teale; State vs. Seymore Rollins and others; State vs. Cleave Alford; State vs. William Johnson; State vs. Erner Johnson; State vs. Ray Dixon and others; State vs. William Langley; State vs. B. J. Wooten; State vs. B. J. Wooten.

Wednesday, April 13th, 1921
All subsequent cases docketed prior to April 11th, wherein a jury is requested. These will be placed and called according to their serial number.

JAPAN CONSIDERS PLACING BANS ON OPIUM SHIPMENTS

Heavy Export of Morphine from United States Causes Question to be Considered Seriously

Tokio, Mar. 31.—Morphine brought from the United States every year to Japan for re-export to China amounts roughly to 65,000 pounds, Baron Fujimura, raising the question of the opium traffic in China asserted at a session of the Budget committee of the House of peers.

It is impossible under existing conditions, Baron Fujimura said, for China to prevent the importation of opium and morphine and the Chinese are compelled to endure terrible sacrifices in consequence.

A large quantity of morphine is brought every year to Kobe from England, said the Baron as well as from India and other places. It is re-exported here to Tsingtao and to Kwantung.

The Japanese Government-General of Kwantung derives a revenue of ¥ 3,000,000 (about $1,500,000) very year through opium, Baron Fujimura said, under these circumstances, he declared, it is not surprising that the Chinese charge the government with conniving at this nefarious trade.

In reply Mr. Tokonami, the home minister, said the Japanese government has been controlling the opium traffic in accordance with provisions of the Opium Law of 1915. This law required that all those who exported opium should first obtain permission of the home minister. The home office allowed no permits for the exportation of narcotics except under the condition that they were to be used solely for pharmaceutical purposes. On account of persistent talk regarding the smuggling of opium, the government framed a new law in December which came into operation at the beginning of January. It was hoped he said, that this would prevent the smuggling alleged to be going on in the past years.

W. L. HALL SUMS UP HIS POSITION FOR CITY MAYOR

Candidate Favors Law Enforcement Economy In Government Definite Plans for City Improvement

To the Citizens of the Town of Greenville, Believing that the citizens of the town of Greenville should know what a candidate stands for, it is my purpose to let the people know my views regarding the municipal affairs of our good town and I take this means to give these views.

1st. Law enforcement. I believe the law written upon the statute books should be rigidly enforced without favor or bias and it will be my duty as well as my desire, should I be your next mayor, to see that justice is done in good shape. I am at least, entitled to less. This I will do to the best of my ability, if elected.

2nd. Economy. At this particular time I think it to be the best policy to spend as little money as possible in administering the financial affairs of our town and my best effort will be to lighten our taxes.

However, I believe that enough money should be spent to keep our affairs in good shape but what money that has to be spent should be spent economically and prudently.

3rd. I will say further that I will be dominated by no person or set of persons but will be your mayor if elected, in every sense of the word to the best of my ability and for the good of our town that I have chosen to be my home for the last eighteen years.

4th. I have had experience as your alderman in the town government about as long as any citizen in Greenville and if our town affairs are in good shape, I am at least, entitled to some small credit for same.

Most truly yours
W. L. Hall

RAYMOND STANCIL IS ARRESTED FOR HAULING WHISKEY

Young Man of Belvoir Township Arrested in Farmville Last Night With Seven Gallons of Boozie

Raymond Stencil, young white man of Belvoir township, was confined in the county jail in this city this morning charged with transporting contraband liquor. He was arrested last night while passing through Farmville in company with Ryan and Wyatt Polard who were released later under bond for their appearance at the next term of court in which the case will be heard.

The young men were arrested by members of the Farmville police department while passing through Farmville last night in a Ford automobile. In searching the car the officers found seven gallons of blockade whiskey together with a double barreled shotgun loaded with buck shot. The defendants were given a preliminary hearing this morning, and evidence was so convincing that the case was continued to a higher source of jurisdiction. Stencil was placed under bond of $500 being later sentenced to jail to provide the required amount.

Stencil has been connected with the whiskey traffic in this part of the state for sometime, according to officials, and has appeared in a number of cases in which the lawless element played an ascendant part. His automobile was confiscated following his arrest last night, and will be included among many other valuables captured by county authorities apprehending members of the whiskey traffic.

DENIES REPORTS OF MISTREATMENT IN JAPAN DISTRICT

Reports That Travelers From United States are Not Treated Right Denied by Head of Tourist

Tokio Mar. 31.—Reports from the United States of alleged mistreatment in Japan purporting to come from returned travelers from the Orient caused Mr. C. Inomata of the Japan Tourist Bureau to issue a denial of such charges.

Mr. Inomata's statement is contained in a letter written to San Francisco for the purpose of letting would-be travelers know that contrary to stories circulated in the United States in some quarters travel in this country is as safe as it ever was.

In explaining the letter Mr. Inomata said that if such reports continued in the United States it would be a serious injury to tourist trade, not only to the travel in Japan but to the entire Orient, for the reason that Japan has in the past been one of the chief attractions to choose contemplating Oriental tours.

We feel that Japan is being misrepresented in American the statement says in part. This emphasizes the importance, not to say necessity, of more Americans coming to Japan. Japan should not be judged by utterance spoken or printed, of prejudiced or self interested people. The truth of these utterances should not be blindly accepted, but tested by personal observation and experience.

American tourists in Japan, many of whom call at our office, are unanimous in their expression of satisfaction regarding the treatment they have received in this country. Americans are assured of courtesy and politeness and the good-will if our people.

PROCTOR HOTEL TO CHANGE MANAGERS ON FIRST OF APRIL

Five Year Lease and Interest of T. T. Hollingsworth Secured by R. L. Moore and W. R. Hudler

A business deal of considerable interest to people in this section of the state was consummated in this city today when R. L. Moore and W. R. Hudler secured a five year lease on the Proctor Hotel building and purchased the interest formerly held by T. T. Hollingsworth who has been in charge of the hotel for the past five years. The hotel will go under the new management April 1st, it is understood, and after that time is to be operated under improved facilities.

Of interest also is the announcement that Mr. Hollingsworth will assume direct charge of the Princeton hotel which has been run in connection with the Proctor for the past six months and will place the institution in position of more extensively catering to the traveling public. Mr. Hollingsworth conducted both hotels in a commendable way under trying circumstances, and his retirement from management of the Proctor will be received with keen regret by hundreds of persons who patronize the place all through the year.

Mr. Moore is a former resident of this city, being connected with hotels in Raleigh and other cities. He has gained considerable experience and combined with that of Mr. Hudler is expected to bring about a greater period of industry and enterprises in affairs of the Proctor. Mr. Hudler was formerly connected with the Atlantic Coast Line railway at Wilmington. Both are married and will bring their families here.

TELLS OF EFFECT OF NEWS STORIES IN OTHER NATIONS

British Head of Foreign Affairs Discusses Way Articles are Considered in America and England

Chicago, Mar. 31.—There is a very great difference in the effect created by the report of some startling item of news which occurs in a country itself and one which is reported overseas, according to Sir Arthur Steel Mainland, British Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs and head of the British Department of overseas trade the last part of the world war. Sir Arthur pointed this out while in Chicago delivering the 1921 N. W. Harris lectures at Northwestern University.

If for example, Sir Arthur Steel Mainland, said any public man of the United States were to be guilty of an indiscretion it would be quite quickly understood here and no harm would result. It might be spoken as far west as California but though Washington is nearly 3000 miles away it would be discounted there and not put above its proper value.

The trouble is that when the 3000 miles intervening miles are miles of sea and not miles of land, it makes it quite a different proposition. There is a continuous interchange of views from New York through the middle west, and right through California and Oregon. But no half way house, is to be found in the Atlantic where people habitually meet and discuss.

The result is that if one in London says a foolish thing even if he says something that is quite right but happens to be reported without enough background to put it in its proper meaning, it tends to get reported over here without being corrected.

What is more, it is just a thing of that kind that perfectly natural comes to be reported instead of something that may be eminently good and truthful but dull.

The reason I lay stress upon this is that it would be a real pity if statements which are not typical are allowed to obscure general good feeling between the two countries.

Every Well dressed woman needs gloves. We have them in silk and kid, short and long, extra good values.

AMERICA SAMOA TO DEVELOP NEW SYSTEM OF LAWS

New Code of Laws Based on American Statutes to Do Away With Disturbances

Pago Pago, American Samoa, March 31.—A new code of laws based on American statutes has developed in American Samoa from the disturbance of last year which culminated in the suicide of governor, Commander Warren T. Terhune.

The revised laws, drawn by Captain Waldo Evans, the new governor and Judge A. M. Noble and submitted to the native chief, mark an interesting change from the early laws provided for the Samoans.

When in 1900 the first secretary of native affairs Judge Gurr, asked the native rulers of the Samoan villages to submit laws to him for recommendation to the first governor, he received from various villages a copy of the ten commandments of the Bible. This accompanied with the suggestions that penalties for their violation should consist of a fine in the shape of a hog and a barrel of beef.

These recommendations were not adopted in whole, for such penalties would have resulted in every offense paying the way for a feast in the village. This officials decided would prove too much of a temptation for the natives.

It is the custom of the Samoans, and was then, that when any offense is complained of and the offender not known, for the native pastor, or native magistrate to compel each person in the village to declare his or her innocence by oath on the Bible.

On one occasion some church money was stolen from the box of a Samoan pastor where it had been placed for safe keeping. The native pastor immediately went from house to house with a Bible, swearing in every inmate but everyone declared innocence. He, however, forgot to take the oath himself and the theft remained a mystery.

FOUR LEGGED CHICKEN CURIOSITY OF THE CITY

Mr. E. B. Ficklin has something of a curiosity in the way of a chicken which was hatched out yesterday by an industrious old hen that has been putting in full time setting for the past three weeks. The chicken in question has four legs, and gets a bout as spry as any in the poultry yard. He is of a mixed breed, and finds that four legs has mixed him up so nicely that he may be placed on exhibition at some state or county fair. Only two of the legs are used in ordinary walking, but it is probable all four might be placed in action if he had reason to get in a hurry. Mr. Ficklin says he is one of the most unique chickens ever seen in this city, and there are few who will not agree with him.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES MEET AT THE E. C. T. T. S.

A very important meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Training School was held yesterday. The time was spent in mapping out building program of the school for the next two years, and in making adjustments that were necessary because of certain changes made by the recent Legislature in the administration of State schools.

The sum of $325,000 was appropriated for permanent improvements. The school authorities will take great care to spend every dollar of it to the best advantage possible for the school and the state.

MUSIC RECITAL HERE THIS AFTERNOON AT 5

THE MARKETING PLAN

(By W. B. Pace)

The work of signing up farmers in the co-operative marketing association is now going on in about fifteen counties of the State. The work has been put off in Pitt county for a few days on account of the illness of some of the leaders of the movement, but we have been assured, that they will be here soon, and stay until the work is finished. There is no doubt but that all the counties of the state will be putting on intensive membership campaigns within the next few weeks, and before the year 1921 closes the farmers will be in position to market their farm products for the first time in the history of North Carolina.

1. What is the plan of co-operative marketing?

The plan is as simple as can be. The first principle is to get into a common association the growers of a sufficient amount of the product in question to control effectively the market in that particular product. The nearer the association approaches a monopoly the stronger it will be, but a monopoly is not essential. All the association needs is to have sufficient strength to be the largest single factor involved in the industry. Ninety-two per cent of the almond growers of California are in the association, but California does not produce 20 per cent of the almonds consumed in America. The most of them come from Spain, yet California practically sets the price on almonds in this country.

2. Wherein does the success of the association lie?

The success of the association will come from concentration. This concentration of power is necessary from the outset or the association had better not come into existence at all. The association is organized by means of a combined association contract and marketing agreement to be signed by the individual grower, but which does not become effective until signed by enough growers to constitute a majority of the growers of a majority of the product in question, in the area covered.
The association is organized on a commodity basis purely. One section of the area involved does not compete against the other.

The organization is composed of growers only (land lords are included of course). There are no dealers, no manufacturers, no bankers unless they are themselves growers as well. The interest of the lowliest tenant farmer, and of the biggest landlord on the board of directors must be exactly the same throughout.

The organization is permanent, iron clad and on a strictly commercial basis.
When a man signs, he signs for a period of years, generally ranging from five to eight, and he cannot back out.
If he tries to, he can be sued and compelled to deliver on his marketing agreement.

3. Does the grower have to deliver any certain amount?

The answer is no and yes. He simply has to deliver to the association all that he grows. But he may quit growing if he wants to. Of course, if he should quit, he could not deliver any to the association.

4. Does the marketing association have capital stock?

No, there is no capital stock. The organization is a selling unit purely and requires no considerable advance.
The expenses of the marketing are deducted from the proceeds. This marketing is done under supervision of a board of Directors by experts which it employs, experts in merchandising economics, financing, advertising, selling, grading, packing and storage, railroad routing, product improvement etc., experts who were formally enlisted entirely upon the side of the buyer. The grower is given a warehouse receipt for the amount delivered to the association and the grade of the commodity is designated on the receipt.

5. Where does the money come from Where does it come from under our present system? Where do the buyers bet their money? The association arranges for the financing of these warehouse receipts for the individual grower, (1) through the local banks for as much as they care to undertake, (2) through larger or distant money sources unavailable to the individual or (3) by lending the money itself which it can obtain from banking institutions, or, sometimes when the banks are tied up, by the sale of debentures against the community itself.
Just two points should be born in mind First that the financing is done by experts who have the identical collateral which the individual would have, only in larger and more stable quantity, and therefore it stands to reason that they should secure better terms and use better methods than the individual who is not an expert. Second, that long past experience with these associations has proved the truth of their logic.

Experience is a great school and most people learn that way. The wise man learns from the other fellow's experience the average man learns from his own and the fool never learns at all. Lets line up and put it over in Pitt county. The man who is against the plan of co-operative marketing is against it because he is ignorant of the plan, or because he has not the interest of his community at heart.

For Whom Will You VOTE

When you go to vote for the next Mayor of Greenville, I believe that you will vote for the man that you think will make the best Mayor, and the one that most deserves the place. From present indications, the coming mayoralty election will be decided by the mass of indepent voters, who, uninfluenced by personal friendship or political affiliation, or social ties, will cast their ballot for the man who can fulfill these qualifications.

Why I Ask Your SUPPORT

I ask your support and your vote because I feel that I can serve you better than the other gentlemen who are candidates. I have never been in politics before. Therefore I am a party to no political faction, nor am I "lined up" with any certain group of men, and in the event that I am elected, I will be in a position to serve all with equal justice, whether they be rich or poor, great or small. The best interest of the town will be my guide-post, and toward that I will work, unfettered by prejudice or partisanship.

I am in favor of rigid economy in the expenditure of public money, to the end that the town's finances may be placed on a sound basis and remains throughout the year. I believe that public money should be so spent that value shall be received for every dollar, and if elected Mayor it will be my purpose to see that no money is spent unless value is received.

I am unqualifiedly in favor of good schools and good streets. On these questions, and on the question of morality and civic cleanliness, I stand four-square, and pledge myself to them. In the past, as editor of a newspaper and as a citizen, I have fought the liquor traffic, and if elected Mayor, will use every means in my power to curb this evil, and others of kindred nature

The police force and the fire department deserve the support and encouragement of the town, and it will be my earnest purpose to cooperate with them in every way, so that we may build up both to the point where they will be an object of pride to the citizens of the town, and a trained body in time of danger.

I have lived in Greenville all my life, and all my interests are here.
Because of my two years service in the army, I have had to build a new my business. I submit that my being in France at the last election, should at least not be a handicap to me when I ask for your support in this campaign. I ask that you give my candidacy fair consideration, irrespective of the fact that the present incumbent has been in office one term.

My campaign is clean cut. I am asking the honor of being next Mayor, on my own merit. If you think that I will best represent you and the average citizen of the town, then I ask that you make up your mind and vote for me.

Respectfully,

J. C. LANIER

MRS. C. T. MUNFORD, HOSTESS

Mrs. C. T. Munford Sr., was hostess to the Round Table Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by the President and the usual order of business followed. The Literary program for the day included a very interesting description of the famous art gallery 'The Louvre' by Mrs. Jeter, and the presentation of photographs with short sketches of the artists by Mrs. Tilghman and Miss Wyman.

The guests of the afternoon were Mrs. Nobles, Mrs. Zanzler, Mrs. Corbett and Mrs. C. T. Munford Jr. The topic for Round Table discussion—'Civics' in Greenville was led by Mrs. Milton White and very forcefully called attention to several conditions which should be remedied in order to make Greenville was led by Mrs. Milton but more sanitary.

The hostess served a delicious ice course, with Easter decorations.
