Registration for City Primary In Rapid Progress

Total Registration at This Time Approximates 232, of Which Fifty Are Women Voters

Registration for the municipal primary to be held in this city May 2nd made moderate progress yesterday, and the report of Registrar L. H. Bowling at the opening of the books this morning showed a total of 63 registrations during the day, 8 of which were women and 55 men. Approximately 232 persons have registered up to the present time. Forty women are included in this number, which is considered a fairly good record for the first three days in which the books have been open.

Registration will continue for a period of twenty days and the books will not close until April 28th. This will give every person desiring to participate in choosing the next city officials ample time in which to enter their names, and if they fail to do so they have no one to blame but themselves. It is absolutely imperative that everyone register for this election because of the elimination of certain features of the old law by the last session of the General Assembly. No person will be eligible to vote unless their names are contained on one of the five ward books which will be open at Horne's Drug store through Wednesday after which they will be open at the Greenville Drug Company.

In order to accommodate the public in every way possible, Registrar Bowling plans to be in every ward for a certain number of days. He has not yet ascertained at what place he will be after leaving the Greenville Drug Company, but the public will be duly notified through the columns of this paper so that no one can possibly fail to keep up with progress of registration and where the books are to be found.

It is roughly estimated that the total registration of the city, including the woman vote will approximate seven hundred votes, of which it is conceded that 375 will be women. This is not positive, however, for it is probable the registration will be larger, all depends entirely on the interest which the women take in the issue.

The contest this year promises to be possibly one of the most interesting in many years because of the prominence of those already entered for the majority contest. There are two candidates pitted against Mayor Clark, whereas there were four two years ago in which Mayor Clark succeeded Algion Dunn who declined to enter the race. So far no names have been mentioned in connection with the race for aldermen, but it is expected things will warm up considerably in the course of a few days, and that the field will be pretty well filled by the date of the primary.

Enfranchisement of the women since the last municipal primary will have a tendency of throwing a cloak of uncertainty around the coming contest, for it is certain the man who best represents the moral side of life will be the victor regardless of his political qualifications or former affiliations. The women have an idea in their heads that they want better government, and there is little doubt but their vote will in a great measure be one of the determining factors of the race. The situation is similar in Greenville to that in other places and as a consequence politics will be fraught with more than ordinary uncertainty.

DR. VINES SPEAKS TO STUDENTS OF TRAINING SCHOOL TODAY

Dr. Vines made an excellent talk to the student body of the Training School at assembly hour. His theme was Learn of Me, taken from the eleventh chapter of Matthew. He brought out that Jesus Christ is the one supreme teacher and he also gave several incidents showing how he stands out above all others.

Education is physical, mental and moral. The Bible is the basis of education and everything in life is a mistic maze if you leave out Jesus Christ,

Baptist Revival Is Still Drawing Splendid Crowd

Dr. Vines Delivered Another Powerful Sermon Last Night on the Unpardonable Sin at Immanuel Church

The Unpardonable Sin, was the subject of Dr. Vines' sermon in the Immanuel Baptist church last evening, and although it is a subject that has been preached on from every pulpit numbers of times, Dr. Vines handled it so differently that new ideas and new phases of the subject were brought out in perhaps one of the most striking and convincing ways ever heard by the large audience. Dr. Vines developed his wonderful sermon from the text Mark-3-29. But he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Spirit hath never forgiveness but is in danger of eternal damnation.

In order to show that this sin is unpardonable, Dr. Vines brought out the following points, Authority, Analogy and Analysis. He based the Authority of the text on first, the old Testament, second the new testament; third human conscience, and fourth observation. Old Testament, Gen. 9-3 My spirit shall not always strive with men; Proverbs 29-1 He that being often reproved hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy. The new testament was quoted in the same way. Dr. Vines then showed where conscience can come to the point of being killed. It refuses to accept God, it comes to the place where it does not know evil from good, nor darkness from light. Isaiah good, and good evil; that put darkness 5-20 Woe unto them that call evil for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter. Observation, man observes man He sees him live a life of sin He sees him refuse God time and time again, and finally he comes down to death, and fills a sinner's grave. He was given the opportunity but committed the Unpardonable Sin. In his discourse on Analogy of sin, Dr. Vines showed the relation of God to science. God is truth, science is truth. God is God of truth and revelation, and here Dr. Vines produced today's Bible text: "Vines proceeded to bring all the sciences, ethics, anatomy, teology, sociology, psychology and several others, to show where people can commit an unpardonable sin. Analysis was (Continued on Page Four)

Information from Ayden this morning stated that the singing class from the Oxford Orphanage rendered its program before a large audience at the Seminary auditorium in that place last night. The attendance was probably the largest of any other town in this section of the state. Approximately $250 represented the evening's receipts. The program of the orphans is one of the most delightful in many years and has been a matter of much comment in every place which they have so far visited. They delighted a fairly good audience in Greenville Saturday night and also Sunday when they sang before a large congregation at the Memorial Baptist church.

Masons Enjoy Fish Fry

Members of the Ayden Masonic lodge were last night guests at a fish fry given by the lodge. The event was attended by wives and friends of the members of the lodge and was one of the most enjoyable in sometime. It is said thirty large shad constituted the fry, which, combined with other features of the evening made the occasion long to be remembered.

Jack Frost In Evidence

The Ayden frost also stated that the section was visited by a heavy frost last night, which is expected will damage crops considerably. The cold has been intense in some localities every since the wind and rain storm Sunday afternoon, and it is probable the farming industry will be occasioned heavy loss as a result. The frost this morning was general throughout the entire county. It is stated and while much of the vegetation has matured too much to be damaged to any great extent, it is certain however that young crops are ruined almost completely.

URGES ABOLITION OF PASSPORTS IN AMERICAN PORTS

President Singer of the American Consular Association Believes Requirement is Unnecessary

Chicago, April 12.—Abolition of passport requirements on the American continent is advocated by President B. Singer, of the Pan-American Consular association. President Singer who is consul general and who represents the consulates of Salvador and Costa Rica here, in a letter to Secretary of State Hughes contends that the doing away with the passport requirements entirely or at least make the United States Passport serve for the twenty one countries on this continent, would develop trade with the Latin-American republics as well as serve to make the peoples of these countries combine business with pleasure in their visits.

The letter to Secretary of the State, Hughes which also was sent to Secretary Hoover, the director general of the Pan-American union and Senator McCormick says: To develop the trade between the Latin-American republics and the United States, the Pan-American Consular Association in Chicago started a campaign in the year of 1919 with good results. The manufacturers' association and individuals were induced to visit the Central and South American republics.

American citizens must pay $10.00 for a passport. By the time they secure the visas it costs them $100.00, and figuring the time required for having the visas attached to the passports it costs more.

Mr. John R. Sider, of Atlanta, Ga., representing the Dodson Printers Supply Co., was a business visitor in Greenville during the morning.

Orphans Heard By Big Crowds Of Ayden Folk

Evening Receipts Represented $250; Masons Enjoy Fish Fry While Jack Frost Makes Visit

Citizens Urged To Observe Big Clean-Up Drive Here Yesterday

Campaign Delayed Because of Advertising Matter, but Everything In Readiness Now

Some delay has been occasioned in the Anti-Fly Campaign because the advertising matter did not come promptly. But the literature is now available and will be distributed during the week. It is urged that every person read carefully the material when it is distributed, for by following the directions will mean better health conditions.

During the general Clean-Up-Week, which will be announced at a later date, it is requested of every household to do their part towards a sanitary city: towards better health conditions. You can help by gathering all rubbish for the carts, which will be available; by destroying all growth which makes for breeding places for mosquitoes; by preventing any standing water; by keeping all the premises in absolutely clean condition. If we would have a health-record which would cause a just civic pride, then of necessity flies and mosquitoes must go.

The Clean-Up-Week Campaign will not only be waged against the fly, pestiferous as he is, but also against the mosquito which is so delighted when he is dealing malaria to the population of Greenville. It is against these two enemies of health, and in behalf of the men and women, boys and girls that this campaign is to be waged. Community pride and patriotism calls for every one to do his part.

MINNESOTA TOWN PROUD OF BEING IN EXTREME NORTH

Little Town Glorifies in Fact of New Postoffice and Geographical Location

Penasse, Minn., April 11.—Proud of its recently established postoffice which has the distinction of being the farthest north of any in the United States, this little hamlet which boasts of 150 inhabitants receives its mail once a week.

Composed of several townships all separated from Minnesota by the lake mainland and many small islands, and of the woods on the South, it is necessary to employ horse and sleigh freighters to transport the post over the stretches of ice in winter. During the warm summer months, a motor boat will be used.

Two days to town, a 24 sojourn there and two more days for the return trip is the schedule of the mail and freight carrier who augments his load with a cargo each way.

Situated about 30 miles north of latitude 49 degrees, which for the most part marks the northern boundary of the United States in the West, Penasse lies at the furthestmost end of the Northwest Angle, which incidentally is the most northerly point in the country. Lake of the Woods, which form a portion of Minnesota's northern extremity, and the Canadian province of Manitoba, for the Angle's southern and western boundaries, respectively.

Although far away from large towns and cities, Penasse nevertheless boasts of a school, even though it houses but seven students.

CIRCLE NO. 4 MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of Circle No. 4 of the Missionary Society of Jarvis Memorial church was held with Mrs. D. S. Smith Monday afternoon, April 11th with thirteen present.

Business was transacted, and plans made for securing a Larkin order which will be another source of revenue for this circle.

The hostess served tea and cakes and a social hour was enjoyed. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. S. B. Curran.

Rotary Club Is Off for Norfolk and Convention

Thirty odd members of the Rotary club of this city, a number of whom were accompanied by their wives, left last night at eleven o'clock on the special Rotary train for Norfolk where they will attend the district convention to be conducted in that city beginning today and continuing through Thursday. When the train pulled in Greenville shortly before ten o'clock it contained four pullman cars, two of which contained members from Raleigh and Wilson. The third car was occupied by members of the Greenville club, and the fourth was filled at Washington, the last stop before reaching Norfolk.

Greenville probably sent the merriest bunch of any town in this immediate district and that they will do their part in making Norfolk lively throughout the convention is not doubted in the least. Numbers of young members purchased everything capable of emitting a noise before leaving the city and, combined with the animation and life usually dominating the club when together, will give Norfolk people something to think about for sometime to come.

The regular Monday night session of the club was conducted at the usual hour before departure, and during this session definite plans were formulated for the part which Greenville is to play at the convention. Regular business was transacted in an expeditious way, after which President Sam Underwood presented the club with a center piece to cover the table on which the loving cup recently won by the club is to be placed. This was the gift of Mrs. S. K. Phillips, wife of Rev. Sam Phillips who keeps up the religious standard of the organization. The gift was accompanied by a short note of presentation.

A special message from Norfolk this morning stated that Greenville had the fourth largest delegation present, Richmond taking first place. Three states are represented, but none so well as North Carolina and Virginia. It is expected that the total attendance will approximate at least 1,800 which does not include wives of members who are reported to be present in unusually large numbers.

URGES AMERICAN TO LET SOLDIERS REMAIN ON RHINE

Duchess de Rohan Urges Women of This Country to Use Influence of Protecting Germany

Paris, April 12.—The Duchess de Rohan urges American women and the United States government, to let the American soldiers remain on the Rhine. The Duchess with other members of the Comite France-Amerique, were guests of General Henry T. Tihen at Orleans February 15, when the troops celebrated the anniversary of the day American soldiers took their places on the Allied front as an American army. She tells of her trip in the March number of France-Etats-Unis, the committee's magazine.

My joy is profound, she says in her diary of the trip, to see the American flag on Ehrenbreitstein and I do hope it will remain there a very long time for the security, not only of my own country but of Europe and all the lovers of liberty and humanity.

The American troops, she says are magnificent. The men are tall and handsome. They walk majestically and with great regularity never one behind the other. It is wonderful to see them parading.

During the review, she says, The Marquise de Rochambeau and I were so enthusiastic that we asked permission to have the honor of kissing the American flag.

And in closing the Duchess exclaims: America in this war has been the way separating domination and Justice, ambition and Humanity. She has been our Province.

The Greenville representatives carried everything with them but the beautiful Rotary building, which is the only home owned by Rotarians in the world. This fact will cause them to hold first place in activities of the convention. They have established a record to be truly proud of in every sense of the word. They even carried along the dusky janitor as a mascot, which makes the body one hundred percent strong. The splendid showing will give them a chance at winning another loving cup, and if they do there will be some celebrating going on in and around Greenville for some time to come.

The tentative program as arranged by the Norfolk club provides for all trains and boats to be met by automobiles which will convey the visitors to hotels. After that registration, morning of the convention, an automobile trip and evening session with oyster roast followed by evening session. At 10.00 a. m. the visitors will be given a trip to the navy yard at Portsmouth, a harbor trip and buffet luncheon to be followed by a trip to Langley field and Newport News, then Norfolk and home.

PRAYER MEETING WITH MRS SPAIN WEDNESDAY

The West Greenville Prayer Meeting will meet with Mrs. D. S. Spain, West Fourth Street, Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. All the community is cordially invited to attend.

FROST CAUSE DAMAGE

Both yesterday morning and this morning there was much frost over this section. The result was shown in much wilting of young foliage. No doubt fruit and early vegetables prospects have suffered considerably.

Tuesday Afternoon, April 12th

The community sing held in Arthur Sunday afternoon goes to show what people can do in the way of diversion when they come together. Many towns throughout North Carolina have found the community sing plan a sure way of bringing about better co-operation and it is gratifying to know that it has been introduced in Pitt county.

The Sampson county man who decid- ed he would rather serve a road sen- tence than conform to certain require- ments of the board of health has queer ideas as to what is right. He is not by himself, however, for there are hun- dreds of people who do not appreciate sanitation sufficiently to make their homes and places of business safe for themselves and the public.

According to estimates it now costs ten times as much to educate a student in medicine as it did thirty years ago, and twice as much as it did ten years ago. However, the number of students being turned out by the various colleges every year. Medical men are plentiful, and even rural communities are much better pre- pared than they have ever been before. The profession has always been one of the greatest in the world, and there are very few men who follow it that are not rewarded for the great service which they render suffering humanity.

School improvements seem to be in progress in practically every section of the country at this time, and indica- tions point to greater progress than ever in the future. Bond issues have been found absolutely necessary in many places, but the depression should not detract from the true greatness of the issue. The depression of the money market had little to do with the necessity for extending education, and every community that provides mon- ey for improving school facilities need have any fear of going backward in the days to come. Money spent for education and good roads is spent in the very best cause. The fact has truly been realized everywhere, even in rural districts, therefore, it is believable edu- cational systems are going to meet re- quirements in every way.

The public is easily deceived into purchasing worthless stocks. This has been apparent for the past several months of prosperity. The Blue Sky stock salesmen have reaped great wealth by unfair dealing with people in every part of the country, but today are not to be admitted to this state as a source of protection. That people like to be fleeced is beyond doubt. Not that they like to be fleeced of any great sums of money, but they like to be stung sufficiently to justify them into believing the rest of the world is crooked as they. This state of affairs has in some measure been responsible for the excess of stock salesmen, but it has not altogether been a source of enormous losses occurring from time to time through large investments placed with supposedly responsible firms. North Carolina will not be troubled with the Blue Sky representatives this year owing to action by the state in- surance department, so several thou- sands of dollars will be saved which other wise would have been lost by the unwary investor.

BETTER TRAFFIC LAWS

The accident which occurred at Five Points yesterday morning shows con- clusively that city authorities ought to adopt some measure of protection of pedestrians in that section of the city. It may be argued of course that they are protected by legislation forc- ing all cars to stop at the point. But it cannot be denied that a traffic police man would be far more advisable, and probably be the cause of saving many lives.

There are hundreds who abide by the law, but there are others who invari- ably take advantage of absence of policemen in the district and speed across the intersection without thought of the great danger which they subject the public to. This should be discour- aged, in fact stopped, before it is too late, and about the only way anything can ever be accomplished is through adequate police traffic regulations.

Hundreds of cars pass across Five Points every 24 hours, but very few of the drivers are persons who regard the law in a proper light. They be- lieve it's right to speed when they have an opportunity of doing so, and they would as soon do it at Five Points as anywhere. With this sentiment in prevalence, is it not advisable that the police department station a man on a beat in that immediate section of the city to be at Five Points especially when traffic is heaviest? This would solve the problem and remove the prob- ability of anyone getting killed through the carelessness of those who have no regard for the law. Immediate action is imperative, and it is to be hoped the department will get busy and provide this urgent need.

PERILOUS TIMES

A large stock of tobacco on hand to compete with the 1921, according to a recent report of Frank Parker, direc- tor of the State Crop Reporting Service. This information goes to show that the situation is not so favorable as one time thought and is convincing enough to bring about more than serious con- sideration among principal growers and business men in every section of the country. It has been apparent all along that the market is congested be- yond hope of relief any time within the next several months, and now as it has been pointed out beyond doubt, it is up to the farmer to do everything in his power to co-operate with present plans for his benefit.

The total crop of 21,000,000 pounds brought an average price of $14.17 per pound according to a careful estimate presented by Mr. Parker. These fig- ures offer slight comparison to those last season. The slump in prices has brought about unparalleled conditions which the country will be long in re- covering from. There is not the slight- est chance of improvement unless some definite means of marketing is accept- ed such as involved by the co-operative marketing association, and the farmer who doesn't support this movement will be doing himself a direct injustice as well as his neighbor. This is not time for indecision and parleying. That stage has passed. The future demands something definite, and unless the busi- ness man and banker urges the former to take steps in his own defense there is little reason to believe the future is going to witness any change for the better.

The past period of depression should have been sufficient to bring about concerted action without argument, but there are hundreds of farmers in the country afraid to act, and willing to place their faith in a future that is very uncertain at the best. Various organizations of the country have dili- gently tried to establish a better state of affairs, but they failed to do so be- cause of the lack of co-operation. With this in evidence it is hardly probable the future will be filled with more than the present. This should be considered in its real seriousness, and when it is done there will be very few willing to continue along in the same old rut, offering themselves and their labor as sacrifices of a treacherous market.

SOMETHING ABOUT EYES THAT ALL SHOULD KNOW

There are forty-three distinct and easily traced pairs of nerves in the human body. Thirty-one pair are given off from the spinal column. Twelve pair are given directly from the brain, two pair which run down to the lungs, stomach and heart, etc. The tongue is supplied with two pair, one for the motion and the other for the sense of taste. The eyes have 4-3 pairs, no other organ in the body have as much as one whole pair exclusively. This tells us that nature regards the eyes and tongue a two important organs. Poets have called the eyes the window of the soul. Accident insurance companies regard them as much value as life, paying your policy in full if you lose both eyes and half if you lose one eye.

Normal Vision Does Not Mean Normal Eyes—

A great many people have normal vision, but suffer from headaches, indigestion, skin eruption, loss of memory, irritable temper, mental dullness and many other nervous derangements, simply from the nerve strain involved in seeing clearly.

The eyes are the only organs of the body supplied with facilities for overcoming the most common anatomical defect, but these facilities were not put there for that purpose. The static or natural condition of a normal eye is when its focal apparatus is adjusted a long distance such as twenty feet or further, when there is no nerve demand whatsoever, but when such eyes are used for near points, the power of the crystalline lens is increased by applying nervous energy to a circular muscle around the lens and the mechanism acts automatically and subconsciously to keep the retina in focus. When the eye is deformed because of deficient development, this apparatus is used to keep the retina in focus, thus neutralizing the deformity but at a fearful expense. Almost anyone can take up a pair of ordinary convex lenses with 40-inch focus and see very well at a distance, though most people would call these window glasses, yet for a person with an error requiring that much for correction, has an excess demand on their nervous system of 23 percent daily, and we find many people in our practice who have three times that much, or 69 per cent strain. Is it any wonder they have nervous trouble? Yet many of these people have normal vision and do not want to wear glasses all of the time.

Some of the effects of eye strain is directly on the eyes, cross eyes are one exhibit, inflamed lids is another, styes, granulation, tumors of the lids; itchy eyes, winking eyes, and etc. All internal ones, such as pain in the eye ball, retina inflammation, atrophy and etc, are signs of eye strain.

If you have eye trouble, and been unable to get relief from other doctors you should try a McCormick Graduate.

divided into the deliberate, willful malicious and peristene refusal of Christ. Dr. Vines in each instance used illustrations to show that when man goes through life and rejects the Holy Spirit, he is guilty of the unpardonable Sin, and is punished accordingly. There is a line, which if passed over, means the everlasting wrath of God. Dr. Vines will preach again tonight at 7:45 o'clock. Tomorrow night he preaches his farewell sermon. The public is cordially invited to hear these sermons.

CIRCLE NO. 3 MEETS WITH MRS. MARGARET BARDEN

Mrs. Margaret Barden was hostess to Circle No. 3 of the Methodist Missionary Society on Monday afternoon. She was assisted in receiving by her charming daughter Mrs. John Hassell. Mrs. K. R. Cobb, presided. After reports from the secretary, treasurer and different committees the Circle enjoyed a delightful social hour.

The hostess served a delicious ice course. The next meeting will be on May 9th with Mrs. W. L. Best.

MINUTE OF THE RED ROSES FEATURE OF SENIOR PLAY

One of the most beautiful features of the Senior Play Monsieur Beaucaire which will be presented at the Training School on the evening of April 22, is the Minuet of the Red Roses danced by the Lords and Ladies. The red rose as the emblems of romance runs like a thread throughout the play and adds to the scenes. Monsieur Beaucaire's love both to the beauty of the idea and of of red roses and of romance work out beautifully in the play. This idea is wonderfully shown in the opera, which has recently been produced and which has been such a great success.

Mrs. Nathan and the members of the cast are working constantly on the play and there will be no letting up until after the final performance.

HIGH SCHOOL HONOR ROLL

To be on the honor roll one must make a grade of 90 or more in each subject; a grade of 90 or more on conduct; no unexcused absences; and not over two tardies. The above requirements have been met by the following:

MRS. NATHAN ARRIVES TO TAKE CHARGE SENIOR PLAY

Mrs. Adele Gutman Nathan arrived yesterday morning from Baltimore and has taken charge of all arrangements connected with the Senior Play. Monsieur Beaucaire, which will be presented at the Training School on April 22.

She walked in and started to work immediately, with two full rehearsals the first day, and she will keep at the same pace until the performance. This alone is a promise that the play will be fine. Mrs. Nathan has charge of Everybody's Playhouse, a municipal theatre in Baltimore. Mrs. Nathan did such wonderful work as director of Community Service Work during the war, that when the war was over the people of Baltimore would not let the work stop. They could not see why the people of the city should not have the advantage of what the soldiers had seemed to enjoy so much, so the community service work has continued, but under another name.

Mrs. Nathan and a staff are working on the stage setting. She has been looking after the costume also. She did not wait until her arrival here to begin her work on the play.

FEW CASES HEARD IN COUNTY COURT HERE YESTERDAY

work to be considerably lighter during occasional week and two week sessions.

George Cannon, charged with carrying concealed weapon, was adjudged not guilty. J. R. Vann and Elizabeth Burnette charged with engaging in acts of prostitution were again subject to mistrial.

The case has been continued from session to session for several months, and even when it seemed that settlement alone is a promise that the play will failed to agree on a verdict, necessitating continuation until another term.

Ashley Page, colored, charged with cruelty to animals, was found guilty and sentenced to four months on the county roads. Attorneys for the defense immediately filed notice of an appeal to superior court.

Richard Hardee, colored man formerly employed in the culinary department of the Eastern Carolina Teachers Training school was found guilty of stealing a ham from the school. Evidence presented was sufficiently convincing to make the culprit tremble perceptible throughout the entire hearing, but he was given a momentary relief when Judge Cooper announced that judgment would be reserved for further consideration. This will be announced probably during the afternoon session today.

Our Daily Earnest Effort Is To Serve You Well---

We suppose that it is too much to hope for, that our service may some day become perfect. It is too much to hope for, that no customer of ours will find fault with our service at one time or another.

It is human nature to err, and all of us are human; and knowing this our friends will accept one excuse, and we always expect to have this apology to make:

We regret the accident, or the casual fault of the employee. We shall make every effort to see that it does not happen again—if you let us know that it happened and when and how; so that we may find and correct the fault and the cause. And we further promise never to let up on our daily earnest effort to eliminate all weaknesses of our service and to add every facility and method that will make shopping in our store more comfortable and satisfying to every customer.

This is your store—used by you, we trust, many times each month and year—and it is your interest as well as ours to make it better—yours to suggest improvements, ours to put them into operation.

What can you suggest today?

Money Buys More And More Every Day Now

People whose income is growing less have little need to be despondent. Every dollar that comes in is worth much more than the dollar of a year ago.

After all, it is not dollars that indicate the comfort and happiness that we get from our wages or salaries. The measure of our remuneration is indicated entirely by "What our money will buy".

See how much more your money will buy this Spring than it did last, in this store.
