

COMMERCE BODY GREATEST INTEREST SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE

Canvassing Teams Report Great Success in Activities Yesterday

COMMITTEES PLAN TO MAKE LAST DAYS OF CAMPAIGN STILL BETTER

Campaigners in Farmville District Make Good Record on the First Day

Reports this afternoon in the membership campaign of the Pitt County Chamber of Commerce brought the total to date to 172 members. The additions this morning to the totals reported at the noon luncheon at the Rotary club yesterday were 54. Major Blow's division reported 17 additional memberships; Major Clodfelter's division 21 memberships, Mrs. Winslow's division 2 memberships and the special committee reported 13 additional memberships. The county was heard from to the extent of 1 membership.

Spurred on by the success of yesterday, when one hundred and eighteen memberships were reported in the chamber of commerce campaign members of the ten teams in Greenville met this morning at campaign headquarters and renewed their efforts to enroll citizens. Reports received from Farmville were that six teams were at work there under the personal direction of Prof. Wheeler, superintendent of schools. The men on the street are passing around the word that Greenville is going to attain the goal set by the executive committee before the drive is two thirds over.

Names of all who subscribed yesterday for memberships are published below. Those listed in the Pitt Memberships column are individuals or concerns that took out two or more memberships which will be assigned later. Following are the names:

- J. E. Winslow 10
- Blount-Harvey company 5
- Farmers Bank 5
- Greenville Oil & Fert. Co. 5
- W. L. Best 3
- Daily Reflector 2
- J. B. Kittrell 2

The following individual memberships were reported: B. G. Abeyounis, P. T. Anthony, Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, Louis Baker, Batchelor Brothers, M. K. Blount, A. L. Blow, Jr., W. A. Bowen, J. Frank Brinkley, J. Key Brown, Mrs. J. Roy Brown, Busy Bee Cafe, Dr. P. J. Chester, D. M. Clark, E. L. Clark, P. L. Clodfelter, J. Hicks Corey, S. B. Curry, E. R. Dudley, M. G. Duke, F. A. Edmundson, C. J. Ellen, A. B. Ellington, James L. Evans, E. G. Flanagan, R. C. Flanagan, C. Heber Forbes, F. J. Forbes, and Forbes & Baker.

Pender, C. L. Perkins, T. A. Person, Mrs. H. S. Ragsdale and Henry L. Rivers.

To A. M. Schatz, Dr. W. P. Shumhart, D. S. Smith, Jesse Smith, M. H. Smith, Southern Pine Company, Dr. E. P. Spence, J. I. Starkey, R. B. Starr, Stephens Shoe Company, Taft and Van Dyke, Claude D. Tunnell, D. L. Turbins, M. J. Turnage, R. F. Tyson, Union Grocery Company, B. S. Warren, Warren Brothers, Mrs. H. W. Whedbee, C. A. White, H. A. White, Mrs. H. A. White, E. E. Williams, Frank Wilson, W. B. Wilson, Mrs. J. E. Winstead, A. H. Woolard and J. K. Young.

It was a gala day yesterday at the Rotary Club when the teams reported. A very satisfying dinner was served by J. B. Kittrell, chairman of the meetings committee, after which those present joined in singing several songs. R. L. Crow, chairman of the teams committee then called upon Major A. L. Blow for reports of his four teams. Major Blow called upon Captain J. L. Horne, commander of team No. 1 for his report and the first memberships

SPLENDID BANQUET GIVEN BY PHILTHEA CLASS LAST NIGHT

Members of Philthea Class of the Immanuel Baptist Entertain Baraca Class

One of the most enjoyable banquets of the season was last night tendered by the members of the Philthea class of the Immanuel Baptist church to about two hundred guests including the members of the Baraca class and a large number of their friends. Rev. J. B. Turner, pastor of the church, acted as master of ceremonies, and he delighted the many guests with his wit and timely talks. The Sunday school rooms in which the tables were arranged were beautifully decorated with red roses, red burning tapers and red crepe paper. The entire decorations carried out the red and white color scheme. Music was furnished by the young ladies of the East Carolina Teachers Training school, who sang many solos and quartettes while the three course luncheon was being served.

After the Rev. Leland W. Smith, pastor of the Memorial Baptist church had returned thanks, the Rev. J. B. Turner spoke a few words of welcome which made the number of guests feel entirely at home. He was followed by a song by the members of the Philthea class, 'Philthea.' Mr. S. J. Everett, teacher of the class, gave a brief account of the work accomplished by the class this year and told of the work planned for the future that of helping the rural communities with their social and religious problems. He touched upon the part which women are to play in politics, and brought out many interesting points. Mr. Everett has made the most efficient teacher, and the young ladies showed their appreciation of his work by toasting him many times. Miss O'Brien, of the E. C. T. S., and the incoming president, spoke on the work which the convention accomplished in Henderson, and pledged the class her most loyal support during the coming year. Miss Noblin, also of the E. C. T. S., the retiring president, spoke on the work which the class has accomplished and expressed her pleasure and delight at being able to serve the class during the past year and pledged her support, through prayer, for the coming year. Both presidents, old and new, were toasted appropriately by members of the class.

Rev. Leland W. Smith spoke in a happy vein expressing his delight at being present and congratulated the class upon its success during the past year. Mrs. L. A. Stroud, teacher of the Memorial Baptist Philthea class, expressed the desire of both classes to have a closer relationship, stating that her class would be delighted to know the Immanuel class better. Dr. Turner then introduced the speaker of the evening Dr. Le. White, pastor of the Kinston Baptist church. Dr. White is a gifted speaker and his talk was enjoyed by every one present. He and Dr. Turner were class mates both at Wake Forest and Louisville, and both had helped each other when they left single blessedness and started on the voyage of married bliss. After joking with Dr. Turner and telling of their friendship, Dr. White expressed his delight at being present and touched upon many points which proved very interesting indeed. Mr. Pierce also spoke for a few minutes in response to a toast. Mr. W. B. Pace, from the Baraca class, toasted Mr. Everett in behalf of the members of his class. Several other toasts too numerous to mention were given in the course of the evening. The solos by the young ladies from the E. C. T. S. were an outstanding feature of the evening.

Mr. Everett gave a brief account of the work accomplished by the Immanuel church during the few years of its existence, and brought out in a complimentary manner the wonderful part which Dr. Turner has played in placing the church in the forefront in religious activity.

The three course luncheon consisting of grape fruit, with fresh strawberries, a salad course, and an ice course was served by members of the Ladies Aid Society and was thoroughly enjoyed by the large number of guests.

KITRELL TO HEAD LOCAL ROTARIANS IN FUTURE ACTIVITIES

J. B. Kittrell Elected President of Club Succeeding S. B. Underwood at Meeting Last Night

The regular Monday night meeting of the Rotary club last night featured largely in the election and installation of officers for the ensuing year, together with usual supper and routine business. The meeting was full of interest from beginning to end, and those present enjoyed themselves about as much as they always do.

In the election of officers J. B. Kittrell was elected president, succeeding S. B. Underwood. J. E. Winslow was chosen vice president, succeeding P. L. Clodfelter, while W. L. Best was reelected as secretary and treasurer. The following were installed as directors, which also includes the three officers: Paul Clodfelter, P. J. Chester, S. B. Underwood and R. H. Wright. The new officers expressed their appreciation of the high offices to which they had been chosen, and admitted they had a big job before them if principles made extant by the retiring officials were perpetuated. They pledged to put forth every effort in interest of the organization and to make every meeting as interesting as former ones. If no more so. They proved optimistic in outlook for the future and believed Rotary is destined to be the great factor in progress that it has always been. The club has established a mighty enviable reputation since its organization several months ago, and the erection of its new home on Fifth street

CHRISTIAN CHURCH ENTERTAINS MANY ITS NEW MEMBERS

Reception Last Night, Tendered Additions of Recent Revival Services

The reception tendered by the church to the new members was the most unusual ever attended by any of those present. The auditorium was not large enough to hold the audience.

Dr. Edwards made an interesting address to the members of the church and called for all of the new members to come to the front and let the pastor introduce them to the audience by name. After this was done much amusement was caused as each one of the old members tried to call the new ones by name as the pastor and personally greeted them. In the midst of this the unique feature occurred. Five men came to the front and gave themselves to Christ and His church. There was no appealing music but just natural decision to live the Christian life. The ladies, who never fail to please, now invited all to go to the spacious basement where a fine lunch was served. During the lunch time the men who had come into the church during the revival got together money and this morning presented Dr. Edwards with a fine Kodak.

The lunch was followed by a most impressive baptism of a large number of men and two young ladies. These meetings will close tonight with a special program given by the Pollocks who have so delightfully led the most of the revival. All should hear them.

PATIENT CIRCLE OF KINGS DAUGHTERS MEETS

The Patient Circle of the Kings Daughters met at 8 o'clock on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Emma Bryant. Thirty two members were present. The meeting was opened with the president reading the 13th of Cor. touching upon charity. This was followed by the prayer of the order. After the reading of the minutes several cases under the supervision of the patient circle were brought up and discussed.

MODEL SCHOOL TO PRESENT EXHIBITS IN ART THIS WEEK

Over Two Hundred Beautifully Illustrated Pictures to be Displayed at Model School Three Days

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 12, 13 and 14 there will be on display at the Model school an exhibition of pictures of more than ordinary interest. It consists of some two hundred cartoon photographs, photogravures, prints in full colors, etc., loaned by the Elean Art Publishing Co., Inc., of Belmont, Mass. and contains only the very best representations of the masterpieces of art of different countries and different periods.

On Thursday afternoon each of the grades at the Model school will give entertainments in their respective rooms after which the people will go to the exhibition room where the pictures will be seen. A small admission fee of 25c for adults and 15c for children will be charged. Nearly every art gallery in the world as well as many of the private art galleries would have to be visited in order to see the originals of these pictures.

After deducting the expenses of the exhibit the proceeds will be used to purchase pictures for the schools, each school sharing equally in the proceeds. The purpose of the exhibition is to give the people an opportunity to see a collection of the world's famous masterpieces of painting, sculpture and architecture, to encourage and foster the study of art in the schools as well as the teaching of art appreciation and to raise funds to place pictures

CALIFORNIA MAN TO SPEAK IN CITY THURSDAY MAY 19

Abram Sapiro, Authority on Cooperative Marketing, to Appear at Court House That Morning

W. B. Pace, farm demonstration agent Pitt county stated this morning that he had received a letter from the State extension department saying that Mr. Abram Sapiro of California, would speak to the farmers of Pitt and surrounding counties Thursday, May 19th. He also said that arrangements will be made to make the event one of the greatest of the entire cooperative campaign because the California man is one of the best informed men in the world regarding the cooperative marketing plan.

Mr. Sapiro has had years of experience with the new marketing measure in his position as legal representative for the organization in California, and has a mass of information that should be of great value to the people of Pitt county now preparing to give the same medium a try. He will speak at a meeting of state representatives in Raleigh when the issue was first considered several months ago. He presented such sound logic hundreds of leaders in agriculture immediately became members of the association, pledging their every effort to make it a going proposition in every part of North Carolina.

The campaign in Pitt county has resulted in the signing up of about 65 percent of cotton and tobacco growers. The campaign committee, however, is not satisfied with this and means to get at least ninety percent of both crops signed up before planting. It is necessary that fifty percent of the entire crop of the state be signed up before the association will become a possibility, and so far prospects are very bright. About twenty counties have already been worked, and there is every indication the remainder will respond even more greatly than the first.

Mr. Pace means to have a big crowd out to hear the gifted California man and if each community cooperates as it should there is no reason in the world why the occasion should not be an epochal one in every sense of the word.

BASEBALL SEEMS TO BE CERTAIN IN THIS PART STATE

Meeting of Representatives in Kinston Last Night Results in Definite Formation of Plans

Several representatives of Greenville, Washington and Kinston baseball clubs met in Kinston last night to definitely outline plans for the formation of an organization to be known as the Eastern Carolina League, which has been under discussion in this section of the State for several weeks. It is possible that everything connected with the entire season would have been completed during the session had it not been for the fact that absence of New Bern representatives and their declination to become a member of the League because of alleged advanced preparedness by the Greenville-Washington clubs prevented action.

However, even with the handicap, the large delegation from the three towns represented went ahead with organization plans, and when the meeting was completed it had been decided to give New Bern a few more hours in which to determine what action will be taken and to offer Mount Olive the privilege of taking New Bern's place. Bylaws were drafted and tentatively accepted with only a few amendments, and are to be presented to stockholders of each club in the course of the next several days.

It had been known for sometime that Mount Olive desired to become a member of the association, but this was given little consideration at the first because the four towns to constitute the league had already been secured. However, when the meeting was called to order and New Bern failed to show up, the Wayne county town was immediately notified of its opportunity of obtaining a berth, and it is expected something definite will be decided upon within the next few hours.

The main contention of New Bern, which was ascertained by telephone in Kinston last night is that Greenville and Washington have already hired their players for the season which would be very unfair to that club if it should come in at this late hour. They would not have the advantage of securing the services of the best college men, it was declared, and consequently general opinion condemned participation under such conditions.

The fact is neither Washington or Greenville have yet hired their entire clubs. It's true they have consulted with a number of players who worked in the Eastern Carolina league last year, but so far as going ahead and chasing in a number of players at this time of the year is clean out of reason. This argument is considered extraordinary, coming as it does from a large town like New Bern, but regardless of contention, we are going to have baseball and everyone may figure definitely on that.

A report from Kinston this morning stated that promoters will continue their drive for subscriptions during the next two or three days, and it is expected the latter part of the week will see that club in position to weather the worst kind of reason in good form. Greenville probably will do the same thing, while it is certain Washington is not going to remain idle with all this activity reported in opposing towns.

SALE BEING CONDUCTED AT ABEYOUNIS' STORE

A great sale is now in progress in the Abeyounis store on the corner of Evans and Fifth streets. The sale is under the management of Mr. M. L. Robbins, an expert salesman. Mr. Abeyounis carries a complete line of both ladies and mens clothes and his prices have been cut considerably. He says that his goods must go, and at the prices most popular with his customers. He carries an advertisement in today's issue which shows what a great cut price sale he is really carrying on. For other prices watch his ads which will appear in the columns of this paper.

MEMORIAL DAY IS WELL OBSERVED IN GREENVILLE TODAY

Activities Begin With Business Session of Veterans at Court House

ATTORNEY GAYLORD PAYS GLOWING TRIBUTE TO THE SPIRIT OF CONFEDERACY

Occasion Concluded With Dinner Served on Training School Campus About 1 O'clock

Memorial Day was observed in this city today with exercises that proved a fitting tribute in honor of those who some fifty odd years ago fought so bravely and fearlessly to sustain the inalienable rights of the South. The exercises included numbers of interesting features, the most prominent being the address of Attorney Louis Gaylord, a parade to the cemetery to decorate the graves of the Confederate dead and dinner which was served shortly after one o'clock on the Training school campus.

Old veterans of the Confederacy began arriving at an early hour this morning and when the roll was called at the opening session of the J. Bryan Grimes camp at the court house at ten o'clock this morning about fifty responded. The camp has been growing smaller with each succeeding year, and the tattered faces and wrinkling forms of those who responded to the call showed plainly that in the course of a few years the country will have to perpetuate the deeds through memory alone.

The camp at the termination of the war contained some six hundred members, but during the fifty odd years intervening between that time many have succumbed to disease and old age. Each year the roll call has shown many missing, but it is believed the past year has been the best in the history of the camp. Those surviving are setting records in longevity, and although showing signs of time and age, the gray haired followers of Lee and Jackson appear contented in the fact that they have done their best in the name of humanity and mean to enjoy the remainder of life in the best of spirit.

The business meeting featured largely in routine and a general discussion of things which have happened since the last meeting. It was a great scene; one which is seldom accorded the public. Lieut. Commander Laughlinhouse presided, and directed activities of the camp in his usual energetic manner.

Immediately after the meeting concluded the old soldiers marched to Cherry Hill cemetery where they awaited the arrival of Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and hundreds of children from various schools of the city, bearing flowers with which to decorate the graves of the fallen heroes. The parade was an impressive one in every sense of the word, being led by the Boy Scouts in command of Scoutmaster J. H. Rose, followed by a long line of school children bearing flags and flowers in profusion. The Girl Scouts brought up the rear.

At the cemetery the high school glee club sang an appropriate selection, followed by prayer by Rev. J. B. Turner, and an impressive talk by M. K. Blount, who paid a glowing tribute to the unselfish sacrifices which the veterans made in sustaining the imperishable spirit of Southern traditions. Immediately afterwards many graves were decorated, then the Boy Scouts sounded Taps, and the long parade again fell in line passing back over the same course to the high school auditorium where Mr. Gaylord delivered the principal address of the day. The veterans appeared in automobiles in center of the parading school children.

The order of services at the high school included a song by the glee club, prayer by Rev. B. K. Phillips, and introduction of Mr. Gaylord by Superintendent J. H. Rose of the city schools. In his address Mr. Gaylord paid a glowing tribute to the great part which Pitt county heroes paid in preserving ideals of the South. He enumerated hardships of reconstruction days, the cause of the war, the principles and morale of the South

An oil stock salesman has been jailed in Gastonia for defrauding an old woman out of $500 through a fake investment. This is the right action. If other states adopt the same measure it is not very likely wild-cat schemes will continue and the country will at last be free from such demoralizing influences.

Farmers who reduce cotton and tobacco acreage this year may rest assured of being able to plant surplus land in something that will prove as lucrative as the staple. This is the only way of producing better conditions, and the sooner every farmer realizes the fact the better off every one ought to be in the days to come.

The state plans to curtail expenses by calling in prohibition forces which have been operating in various parts of the state for the past several months. While there may be urgent need of economy in the department it seems mighty unwise to relinquish the fight against the constantly increasing traffic simply for this purpose. There are no doubt many other departments that might curtail activity without sacrificing so much as the prohibition forces are necessary to do. And it is believed that the matter they would see if the same way. Think of the bond issues being voted in many towns at this time for civic improvements. But what will these improvements be worth if we are to permit whiskey manufacturers and sellers to have greater liberty? The question is of serious import. It is up to the government to protect the people and then provide for their development afterwards. If this is not done economizing will be of little use, for the demoralizing influences of whiskey will gain prettier proportions and in the course of time education and improved social conditions will be beyond hope. If prohibition is to be strictly enforced it is up to special agents to do it and not to special agents in other cities and counties. It can be done by one set of officers. This is impossible, but probably not until the curtailment takes place will those responsible for it realize what they have done.

The fact that mothers are being fitfully observed in all parts of the United States is very gratifying indeed, for it goes to show as nothing else the high esteem in which American mothers are held by their children. That this is the right spirit goes without saying. There is nothing more enduring and steadfast than a mother's love, and her influence in after years has saved millions of young men and women of every generation from taking the wrong path. It appears the American child is becoming rather precocious these days, but when it is remembered that changing time brings about wonderful evolutions it is hardly fair to accuse our children of not showing proper devotion and deference towards their parents. A child must be a child regardless of everything, and even the roughest and most uncouth love their mothers with a love that's more than love. A mother's love, however, borders closely the indefinite depth and beauty of things eternal, and when she has passed after rendering a life of self-sacrifice and sublime devotion to her children it is perfectly natural that they should honor her memory in the best way to pay honor to her unspicable sacrifice. In behalf of a better civilization Greenville did its part splendidly but it is hoped the next year the day approaches that everyone will be ready to observe the day on a more extensive and impressive scale.

MILITARY TRAINING

General Pershing has issued an appeal to the young men of America to attend army training camps whenever possible and be in readiness to serve the country in the case of an unexpected call to arms. "Our position and influence in world affairs, he says "are not measured by our wealth and population, not by our free and liberal form of government, but by our purpose to maintain the highest principles of justice and humanity upon which our institutions are founded. The fulfillment of this purpose depends upon our readiness to defend its integrity.

"Our traditions are opposed to the maintenance of a large standing army, but we have failed persistently to train our citizen soldiers in time of peace and have waited until war was declared before taking any move to that end. While recognizing the principle that every citizen may be called a soldier, we have never emphasized the obligation of the individual to prepare himself to serve his country. Yet that is a debt to the country that falls upon all of us.

This argument, coming as it does from one whose familiarity with world conditions makes him an authority next to none, should be seriously received in every section of the country. It appeals to the best side of even those opposed to continued preparation for war when everyone desires peace, and explains that preparedness is necessary under all conditions and that it is the part of every man to defend the principles of this great nation. No one desires anything that even promotes war, but it is against common horse sense to dispute the facts which General Pershing has set forth for earnest consideration.

COMMUNITY ACHIEVEMENT

When achievement is desired, the strength and virtue of organization are undisputed. That is the reason for a Chamber of Commerce. A city may possess manifold advantages, a county may have unlimited natural resources, but if its alert and forward seeing men and women are not combined so that their efforts can be concentrated and coordinated, the community has little chance of making itself felt or of reaping the benefits it deserves.

This is a civic-commercial organization slogan which asserts that "cities do not happen—they are built by the energy and intelligence of men. No truer phrase was ever invented. New York, Chicago, Cleveland did not happen, nor did they grow. They were built. Men of vision were the builders. Not alone, nor in little groups, but by combining in the largest way their population would permit.

Pitt county has reached a point in its career where it must decide what it will make of its wonderful material progress of the last few years. Many other communities are looking into the future. Their citizens are cheerfully assuming their civic responsibilities and finding glory in their achievements.

The use of cosmetics by teachers in the public schools has been forbidden by the school board in New Bedford, Mass. It is not to say whether this is a good or bad thing, but it is a precedent for the school to obtain the services of a woman if the right kind of powder is of small importance in comparison to regular school work and seems very imprudent for a superintendent to make such extraordinary demands. Women like to look good and when they feel that they do not they cannot be expected to render efficient services.

The expansion drive of the chamber of commerce continues to meet with great success, according to reports from campaign headquarters. And why not? It is one of the most direct ways of improving civic conditions and when this fact is realized generally the organization will become one of the greatest factors in the county. It is the duty of every person possible to become a member, therefore, strict attention should be paid to the subscription drive now in full swing.

L. W. SMITH CONDUCTS TRAINING SCHOOL SERVICE

Mr. L. W. Smith conducted the Vesper service of the Y. W. C. A. at the Training school Sunday. His text, "And Thy Mother," was deeply instilled in the minds and hearts of his listeners.

Mr. Smith brought out clearly that mothers should be honored. One can do this by yielding loving obedience to her commands and by caring for her in every way possible.

He further said to build a monument to her memory, not a monument of stone but by a character noble and pure.

This service was an inspiration to every one who heard it.

CHILDRENS FINE ARTS CLUB ENTERTAINED BY MRS. WILSON

The Childrens Fine Arts Club composed of club womens children from six to twelve years, met with Mrs. Frank Wilson Saturday April 30th. The president Miss Jones, presiding. After the business meeting Miss Lillian Sugg told a wonderful story of children in far away countries. Then the thirty five young folks were invited to the kitchen and given a lesson in candy making. They were very successful and each child carried some home to her mother. The club will meet again Saturday at 4 o'clock with Mrs. A. M. Moseley.

The new Spring clothes are such a temptation to every woman who loves pretty things—and sometimes she cannot afford quite all she wants. So we are suggesting a real economy—a corset which is dependable in style and fit and which gives wonderful service in long wear.

The prices of Warner's are not only unusually low, but they are even lower when you consider how long one of these corsets will last and that it can be washed again and again to be just as good as new. We are showing plenty of styles from which to select your model.

in the Pitt county chamber of commerce were reported. The total of seven was chalked on the blackboard as the result of the morning's work by Captain Horne and his workers.

Captain J. B. Kittrell was called next to report for team No. 2. He more than doubled Capt. Horne's report, for his total was fifteen. Captain N. O. Warren of team No. 3 reported eight memberships and Captain W. L. Hall of team No. 4 twelve memberships.

Major P. L. Clodfelter of the West division was then called upon by Chairman Crow. He thereupon called for reports from Captain W. L. Best of team No. 5 who reported thirteen memberships. Captain George Clark of team No. 6 then reported twelve memberships. Captain J. C. Gaskins of team No. 7, eight memberships and Captain D. L. Turnage of team No. 8, thirteen memberships.

Mrs. J. E. Winslow, major of the Women's division was next called to report. She in turn requested Mrs. T. E. Hooker and Mrs. A. L. Porter of teams No. 9 and 10 respectively, to report. Mrs. Hooker reported two memberships and Mrs. Porter three.

None of the teams at work in the county were heard from. The special committee headed by J. E. Winslow consisting of Mr. Winslow, J. L. Little and B. W. Moseley, reported twenty-five memberships, that are listed in the plurals, above.

Major Clodfelter's division was in the lead yesterday, with forty-six memberships to its credit.

Team No. 2, Captain J. B. Kittrell, was the banner team for the day, reporting fifteen memberships. Workers on this team were J. Key Brown, C. D. Tunstall, Z. P. Van Dyke, B. S. Warren and J. H. Waldrop.

ern armies, and last, but not least, the true greatness of the men who led the Confederate States throughout the great struggle. He declared that the nation was not born in the South, but in the North, particularly in Massachusetts which threatened to sever relations with the nation long before the Civil war was dreamed of.

He paid a glowing tribute to the unspeakable sacrifices made by Southern men and women in tenaciously clinging to principles which they believed to be right. Their ideals were the greatest of any people of the world at that time, and they fought for supremacy not because of slavery, but that the inviolate things of their fair land might remain safe and free from oppression. The South withdrew because it believed it was the right thing to do, and criticism can be made against the great leaders who fought and died believing that they were right.

Immediately after the address the high school was presented with a large picture of General Robert E. Lee by Hon. F. C. Harding. A prize for the best essay on the life of the illustrious leader was presented to Joe May by Mrs. R. R. Cotten, which was followed by singing the Star Spangled Banner.

The dinner served on the campus of the Training school was one of the best which has been prepared for the veterans in many years, being served by United Daughters of the Confederacy and other organizations of the city. The old soldiers ate as they never did before, and entered into the spirit of the occasion in a way that proved they mean to be present at many other such occasions.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Under the law persons must list property for taxation during May, unless listed during that month, you will be doubly taxed, and all tax payers failing will also subject themselves to criminal prosecution.

Take notice of this.
