KINSTON DENIES DESIRE TO DELAY OPENING SEASON

Message Says They Are "Rearing to Go" and Want to Get Through by Opening Tobacco Market

The baseball situation has undergone no material change within the last few hours, although Manager Guy Smith says he is still busy ascertaining the possibility of obtaining a number of players of prominence, both in this State and other sections of the country. He is in close touch with numbers of men, but as to signing them up, no definite action has been taken, with the exception of a very few instances. Mr. Smith means to get the best to be had in these parts, but he doesn't mean to pay excessive prices and go in the hole before the season is half way over.

It was announced yesterday that Kinston and New Bern were in favor of postponing the opening of the season, but since that time it has been learned that Kinston is not and wants the season to begin and be over with before opening of the tobacco season this year. A telephone message from Kinston Daily News to the Reflector last night emphatically denied any intention of postponement, declaring that representatives here had been misinformed.

The news will be received with much interest in Greenville, for it was very difficult to understand why any team should be in favor of postponement. There is, however, something in the air pertaining to the question, but it is impossible to determine exactly what it is until the meeting of all clubs which is to be held in New Bern next Monday night. If the matter is brought up and opposed by Greenville, Washington and Kinston it will receive little consideration, although it is hardly considered probable that New Bern will try to put over such an issue without support of some other team.

Reports coming in from all members of the club are to the effect that plans for opening of the season are rapidly under way, and indications point to early training, especially in Washington where considerable enthusiasm is in evidence. A mass meeting, it is understood, was held in both New Bern and Washington last night at which additional funds were raised for supporting their clubs and other plans so arranged for placing winning clubs on the diamond.

Manager Smith says he doesn't mean to let enthusiasm and interest take a slump in Greenville, and that he proposes to put one of the strongest teams of the league on the diamond at the outset. He is having a difficult time, of course, in getting his prospects lined up, but that means little at this moment. He intends to make a good showing against Washington in the opening game, and barring eventualities, it is certain the day will be one of the greatest in history of baseball in this section of the State.

The infield of the Greenville club is practically an actuality, although much difficulty is being incurred in getting outfielders and pitchers. The club is in touch with quite a number, but deciding on the best is a matter to be considered. It may be necessary to have two or three men for each position show up for training, and in that event, Manager Smith will have little trouble in securing exactly what he wants. Things will warm up exceedingly next week, and the next several days will see actual training spring into being.

MRS. H. L. CHERRY UNDERGOES VERY SERIOUS OPERATION

Mrs. H. L. Cherry of this county underwent a very serious operation in the Kinston hospital this morning and according to reports received this afternoon, the operation was successful and she is resting quietly. Her many friends wish for her a speedy recovery.

FISHERMEN TELL STARTLING STORY OF FISHING TRIP

Rev. Frank Scattergood Comes Near Catching 'Gator While Norman Warren Goes Overboard

Rev. Frank Scattergood, N. O. Warren and Attorney L. S. Spense have returned from a fishing trip to Contentnea creek, a short distance from Chocowinity bay, reporting a pleasant trip and a fish story, or 'gator story as it is, which so far has not been paralleled by others who have been following the sport so diligently the past several days. The narrative is a powerfully interesting one despite the fact that Mr. Warren became so excited over a catch that he lost his balance and plunged overboard from the small rowboat which they had chartered further up the creek. The water at the point where this sensational feature occurred happened not to be of great depth, and consequently the unfortunate fisherman crawled back into the boat regardless of awful admonitions from the occupants not to turn it over in his hurry to get back to safety.

But getting back to the main story which is told in perfectly good faith and confidence by Mr. Scattergood, it seems that he came in contact with a baby 'gator that loved his bait better than safety, and made a plunge for it which nearly resulted in his capture. Mr. Scattergood had rowed his boat into a veritable jungle, and was bobbing his hook over near the bank, when, suddenly, the surface of the still water was ruffled by the appearance of a rough looking object which steered toward the hook. The fisherman maintained absolute quiet, and further and further towards the top came the rough looking object. Suddenly the whole form of a baby 'gator about sixteen or eighteen inches in length, not including tail, appeared on top of the water and made a desperate plunge for the parson's bait.

This unexpected turn in affairs excited the unusually reserved Mr. Scattergood and he jerked his line confidently assured that he had his game. And he did, but somehow or other, Mr. 'Gator disengaged himself in his mad plunge under the water, and that's exactly the reason the fisherman didn't have the pleasure of bringing the much desired alligator back home with them.

Mr. Scattergood, however, doesn't mean to sever acquaintance with the 'gator, for he is now preparing to make another trip with fishing apparatus necessary to get the game. Whether Mr. Warren will accompany him cannot be said, for his plunge overboard, it is understood, was very discouraging affair, in fact so much so that he may be through with fishing for life.

LET US HAVE WHAT YOU KNOW IN SHAPE OF NEWS

The Reflector desires to increase the advertising value of its columns by giving as much local news every day as possible. At times it is absolutely impossible for our reporters to keep track of all current events, and if the public would co-operate with us on such occasions it would be much easier to give practically everything of any importance or interest.

We have covered practically everything in the shape of news the past several weeks, and hope to continue doing so. Therefore, we are asking that if you happen to know of anything let us know at once, either by phone or mail. We shall appreciate the courtesy and endeavor to repay you through continued good service.

Picnic at Amuzu Park

On yesterday afternoon at the Amuzu park class No. 8A of the Methodist church, composed of boys between the ages of 12 and 14 years, enjoyed a delightful picnic. The little boys invited the girls to go with them and this with the good things to eat made the occasion very enjoyable. Mr. M. K. Blount is teacher of the class.

WARD EXPRESSES REGRET FOR NOT ATTENDING MEET

Congressman From This District Wanted to be Present at Mass Meeting Here Last Thursday

Congressman From This District Tells Mr. Pace of the Reason He Wasn't Here Thursday

Mr. W. B. Pace, farm demonstration agent of Pitt county this morning received a letter from Hallet S. Ward, congressman from this district, expressing deepest regret at not being able to be present at the mass meeting of farmers and business men conducted in Greenville Thursday at which time Dr. J. Y. Joyner and Dr. Kilgore were principal speakers. He says he would have been delighted to be here, and would have been had the letter reached him in time. His letter is of an interesting character, and as a consequence we reproduce it in order that farmers may know the interest prevailing in their behalf. The letter.

Your letter of the 17th went to Washington, D. C., after I left there and missed me and did not reach me until yesterday. I do not know any public gathering that I would have been so glad to have attended, and I much regret the loss of the opportunity. If there is another such one, I would be glad if you would write me again. I have some things I want to tell the farmers along the line of the object of that meeting.

When the Tincher bill to regulate the grain exchanges was reported I sent a copy of it to every county in the district, with resolutions of approval, and asked that the farm unions send me the resolutions. Mr. O. L. Joyner, to whom I sent the one for Pitt county, referred it, as I asked him, to the head man in his county. That is the only answer, I think, I received from the district. I wrote a thousand letters and had them ready for mailing, and decided it would be useless and never mailed them out. Telegrams were read out in the House when the bill came up for consideration from all over the Union almost, except North Carolina. The bill went knocking through the House, and is blocked in the Senate, where they propose to kill it or to so mutilate it as that it will be worth nothing. I wish farmers would conduct their organizations with some efficiency and force, but if looks to me like they will never do it in this country.

SCATTERGOOD WILL HEAD RELIEF WORK FOR THIS COUNTY

Josephus Daniels Names County Evangelist Chairman of Old Clothing Campaign for Suffering

Rev. Frank H. Scattergood, Pitt county evangelist, has been appointed chairman of the campaign to be waged in Pitt county for the collection of old clothes for the stricken areas of the Near East. The appointment was announced this morning immediately following a telegram from Josephus Daniels, state chairman of the campaign, Mr. Scattergood accepting the work without thought of refusing. He will immediately select a committee to represent each section of the county and in the course of a few days it is hoped the first shipment may be made.

Mr. Scattergood said this morning that he accepted the appointment because he realized what thousands of people are suffering in foreign countries because of insufficient clothes and food, and is willing to do everything within his power to make the drive a great success in this county. To do this, he says, it is very necessary that he have the co-operation of the public, for collections will be made very difficult indeed unless everyone joins in and helps.

Reports coming from other sections of the State indicate that campaigns are meeting with great success, and the collections of old clothes, it matters not about condition, has been everything that could be desired. The mission is one of the greatest the State has been given in many years, and unless quick response is met with there is little hope of any improvement.

Mr. Scattergood from Mr. Daniels: telegram was this morning received by Mr. Scattergood from Mr. Daniels: "I appoint you chairman of Pitt county Near East Relief Clothing Campaign. Period of campaign May 20 to June 5. We want to concentrate our efforts on one day in gathering of clothing and would recommend that you set aside Wednesday, June 1st, as that day. Am sure that you will, with the aid of your splendid committee, conduct a very successful campaign. Instructions will follow."

GREENVILLE FINDS BETHEL EASY PREY IN CONTEST FRIDAY

Juvenile Clubs Engage in One of the Most Spectacular Contests of the Season; 7 to 2

The juvenile baseball club of Greenville yesterday afternoon took the strong aggregation from Bethel in town at the fair grounds in this city, winning the first engagement of the season by the score of 7 to 2. It was another case of too much Greenville from the very first inning to the closing, and as a result the visitors were had a peep-in on intense activity one or two times throughout the contest.

Bethel had defeated practically every club which it came in contact with this season, and was confident of increasing their laurels. Somehow or other they got the wrong start in the first inning when Greenville got track of the old pill and in terrific bombardment pounded it from one section of the lot to another, resulting in six runners passing across the rubber. Greenville made two errors while the visitors had five credited against them. The visitors also were credited with only three hits against seven for the locals. Bilbro proved fatal to the heavy sluggers from Bethel, having about six strikeouts to his credit and splendid record for conservative work during pinches, of which there were a very few. Andrews started out on the mound for the visitors, but the locals found his curves in the first frame and pounded the old horsehide for six

LOCAL ROTARIANS PLAN MOVEMENT TO GAIN COOPERATION

Meeting of Eastern Representatives Results in Formation of Plans for Future Activity

Sometime ago at a meeting of the Greenville Rotary club, following the Seventh district convention, it was proposed that the Greenville club initiate a movement to bring all the Rotary clubs of eastern Carolina together in some kind of an association and a committee was appointed to write to the clubs and see how they felt about such a plan.

All the replies were enthusiastically in favor, so the committee invited two representatives from each club to be present in Greenville on Thursday, May 19th, to discuss the matter more fully. Lunch was served at the club building, and Kinston, Goldsboro, Wilson and Greenville were represented. New Bern, Washington and Fayetteville found it impossible to be present. President "J. B." of Greenville was nominated by Tom Pettus of Wilson as chairman pro tem, and "Sky-Pilot Sam" was appointed secretary pro tem. The following resolution was adopted:

"It is the sense of this meeting that if possible, an association of eastern Carolina Rotary clubs be formed with the following membership: Wilmington, Fayetteville, Wilson, Greenville, Kinston, Goldsboro, New Bern and Washington, for the purpose of operating through Rotary principles, in the interests of this great section of our State."

Tom Pettus was appointed to get in touch immediately with Governor Buck Perrin and Governor-elect Joe Turner, advise them of this action, and next several weeks. The following telegram was this morning received by Mr. Scattergood from Mr. Daniels:

"I appoint you chairman of Pitt county Near East Relief Clothing Campaign. Period of campaign May 20 to June 5. We want to concentrate our efforts on one day in gathering of clothing and would recommend that you set aside Wednesday, June 1st, as that day. Am sure that you will, with the aid of your splendid committee, conduct a very successful campaign. Instructions will follow."

RECOVER BODY OF YONG LEE STOKES IN NUESSE RIVER

Found Floating in the River a Short Distance From Scene of Drowning

Ayden, May 21.—The body of Lee Stokes, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stokes of this place was recovered about noon yesterday from the Neuse river a short distance from Maple Cypress landing, where the young man was drowned last Sunday afternoon while in swimming with several companions.

The body of young Stokes was found by some parties rafting logs Friday afternoon on Neuse river 1 1/2 miles below the point where he was drowned last Sunday.

Arrangements were immediately made to bring the remains here and prepared for burial, which will probably take place today following funeral services.

Andrews was relieved by Whitehurst, a southpaw, who succeeded in stemming the tide of victory, allowing only one more Greenville man to pass over the counter. The game stands out prominently as one of the best staged here this season and indicates the strength of the material which Greenville has growing for league work in years to come. The boys composing each club were from 14 to 16 years of age.

BARACA CLASS OF METHODIST CHURCH TENDERS BANQUET

Last Night Proved Big Event in the History of the Progressive Institution

For some weeks the Baraca class of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Sunday school have been planning a social meeting and banquet. The committees appointed to make arrangements for the event decided to make it in honor of the birthday of Prof. R. H. Wright, teacher of the class. The date for this came last night, and the Rotary building which had been tendered for the occasion has not held a more spirited and enthusiastic gathering of men than took part in this happy event.

In the dining room plates had been prepared for one hundred and there were no vacant seats when S. L. Bridgers, president of the class, rapped for order and called on Rev. Walter Patten to ask the blessing. An elegant supper consisting of ham, fried chicken, potato salad, green peas, rice, biscuits, bread, iced tea, ice cream, cakes and cigars was enjoyed.

This feast being over President Bridgers extended a hearty welcome to those present. He stated that in order to know just who was there, each one should arise in turn and introduce the one on his right, a requirement in this being to adhere to the Rotarian's rule of permitting no handles in calling anybody's name in the building. He started this by introducing Sam Underwood as toastmaster. Sam felt right to his job and started the introductions, not letting it lag until every man in the room had been called to his feet by the one next to him. Much merriment reigned while this was going on, and everytime a fellow forgot himself and said "Mr." he was promptly called down.

When all had been presented and everybody knew everybody else, Toastmaster Underwood said there were several present who had a speech to work out of their systems and he was going to give them the opportunity to do so with an allotment of three minutes time each. The following were called upon.

G. E. Harris, "Our Sunday school building". He told of the needs of larger quarters for the growing Baraca class, which now has an enrollment of one hundred, that the plan was already on foot for a building and they had just as well get ready for it, as it had to come.

Kenneth Futrell spoke on "Relation of the Sunday school to the church, how that their interests are one and they must be allied in every good work."

T. A. Person told of "Our Educational Movement" and how it appeals to the co-operation and support of every good citizen.

H. E. Austin told of the way to help you community and make it worth while. Those who are alive must keep doing things.

J. H. Rose told of the need of more Sunday school teachers in order that the work may keep going forward.

D. M. Clark spoke on "Relation of the Baraca class to the town," showing the influence the class was exerting in making better law enforcement and ridding the community of places of evil.

Rev. Walter Patten's subject was "Good Fellowship", which is manifest inside as well as outside the church. The spirit of comradeship binds together and such a gathering as they were then in was the best evidence of what it will do. He suggested three words "go," "give" and "pray" as keynotes for every one in his work.

It was for Dr. Laughinghouse to tell the "meaning of this meeting", and he did so elegantly. Following a splendid tribute to Mr. Wright, the class teacher, and reference to his anniversary, he presented him a beautiful silver handled silk umbrella on behalf of the class.

Mr. Wright in accepting the gift said he did not know what to say, it had been one of the most delightful (Continued on Page Four)

BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS IS SHOWING STRENGTH

Men's Class Sets Splendid Record for Interest in Recent Contest for Attendance

It was just four Sunday's ago when the Baraca class of the Memorial Baptist church decided to divide their class into two teams—the Reds and the Blues—for the purpose of creating interest in their work and securing new members. It was agreed that the team making the best record for the four following Sunday's would be given a fish fry by the losing team. The Reds lead the first two Sunday's but the Blues not being satisfied with being outdone got busy and when the report was made for the third Sunday they had exactly equalled the record of the Reds. Keen interest was manifested at this meeting and the Blues gave out the warning that when the report was made for the last Sunday the Reds would have to sit up and take notice. They were certainly true to their word for they beat the Reds about 200 points. When Captain Burnette of the Blues read his report J. B. Kittrell, captain of the Reds began to wither in his seat, for the work done by the boys on the Red team justified their winning. However, the result of the contest showed that the work of the Blues had been greater than the Reds and they congratulated them on their well earned victory.

When this contest began the Sunday school had an attendance record of about 200 each Sunday. To think that this number was more than doubled and to see the auditorium of the church completely filled brought everlasting happiness to Supt. Lipscomb and Mr. Smith the pastor. The membership of the Baraca class increased from 31 to 84 during the four Sunday's this contest was on. The membership of the Philathea class and the Bethany Girls class more than doubled and the attendance of every class in the school showed gains. These records are certainly worthy of special mention, but this Sunday school is made up of such personnel as not to be satisfied with just one great accomplishment and are now busy getting ready to start something to carry their attendance up to 500.

A very cordial invitation is extended to every one in town not affiliated with any other Sunday school to join with these people and visitors from other schools are cordially welcomed. It would be good practice for members of different Sunday schools to visit each other and get different views on different matters. Closer co-operation among the Sunday schools and churches will mean greater work for the Master.

SPRING REDUCTION

I am offering my spring hats at the reduction of 25 to 33 1-3 percent, 50 percent on the regular prices. Only one of a style. Come early for your choice.

Daylight Pictures

You have all attended the movie and sat in the dark while the pictures were being screened. How many of you have ever sat in full daylight and watched the same thing? That is what you will do at the illustrated lecture by Mr. Drew Pearson on the third day of the coming Chautauqua. A newly patented screen makes possible the showing of his stereopticon views in full daylight. The lecture will be given in the afternoon, and not even the side walls of the tent will be lowered.

Another advantage of the "daylight" screen is that it makes it possible for the lecturer to be visible to his audience the entire time. Mr. Pearson's personality, his ability as a speaker, and his distinctively Pearsonian earnestness will thus have opportunity to assert their full influence.

An unprecedented result.

INSPECTS WORK OF THE HIGH SCHOOL ON VISIT FRIDAY

State Inspector Reports Things in Good Condition in Greenville District

Mr. J. Henry Highsmith, State inspector of high schools from the department of education, was a visitor at the Training school yesterday, and made a strong talk at the assembly hour on "The Outstanding situation in Education in North Carolina now."

North Carolina's place in the list of States rated educationally is fourth from the bottom, agriculturally it is fourth from the top, and she should have as high a place in the former as the latter. This was the theme of Mr. Highsmith's talk. How we are going to get her to her rightful place is largely a matter of finance. By tightening more into education we shall get more out of it; sufficient money wisely expended, is the solution.

Startling statistics were quoted showing the amount expended by the nation for various commodities. Nearly three times as much spent for tobacco in its different forms as for education and three fourths as much for cosmetics. Only 10 per cent in the entire country. North Carolina has in automobiles three times the value of all school property in the State. Mr. Highsmith made his comparisons very vivid.

The child in the rural districts, he said, can get a square deal and a fair chance only by consolidation and transportation. He paid tributes to the school teachers throughout the land and closed with an inspirational appeal to them to be the torch bearers carrying the light to the children, the people of the coming generation.

WOMAN'S BOARD REPORTS MANY NEW MEMBERS

Presbyterian Home Mission Board Shows Decided Growth During Past Several Months

Winona Lake, Ind., May 20.—Never before has the Presbyterian Woman's Board of Home Missions been able to report so many women, young people and children, enlisted in the service of home missions as in the year just closed, says Miss Lucy H. Davis, its general secretary, in her report made to General Assembly here. She says in part:

Statistics show a membership of 401,400, an increase of 54,276 over the year 1919-1920. Of this increase 39,500 is in young people's organizations. The report shows 49 new women's societies and 1,239 new young people's organizations. The secretary for missionary education for the world reports 2,050 mission groups for the year.

The most outstanding piece of new work undertaken by the woman's board is that of Christian work for Santo Domingo, an inter-denominational project under a board of trustees composed of two representatives from each co-operating church board. Property in a prominent section of Santo Domingo city has been secured, which is to serve as home for workers, church, clinic and possible school. Several boarding schools new buildings have been erected and some additions provided.

Medical work, too, has advanced steadily—three full-time physicians at the Presbyterian hospital in San Juan and another need, 37,885 patients treated at San Juan as against 28,330 last year.

NEGLECTANCE CAUSES WHOOPING COUGH EPIDEMIC

Parents are required by law to report every case of whooping cough. If you call in your family physician, make sure that he reports the case as you are held responsible. A number of children are coming to me daily for certificates to return to school after having whooping cough and in looking over my records, I find that a big percentage of these cases have never been reported. I regret very much to say that some of these cases have been diagnosed as whooping cough by the family physician. Somebody will be held responsible.

I find that parents are allowing their children to play on the streets as well as go up town after whooping cough has been diagnosed in the child. This is in violation of the State quarantine laws and if parents, guardians and householders cannot stop this, I will be compelled to take steps to enforce the law.

ATTEMPT TO CURB OUTRAGEOUS SWAY OF PROFITEERING

Arbitral Commission to be Put in Action in Rome to Prevent Frequent Exactions in Italy

Rome, May 20.—An attempt is being made here to curb outrageous exactions of profiteers by establishing arbitral commissions which have power to compel traders to refund exorbitant profits and to impose unusual forms of punishment.

One method of bringing profiteers to terms is to first compel them to restore their ill-gotten profits and then display for one month in their shops an official account of their gouging methods and the punishment imposed upon them.

These steps are the results of public exasperation over the excessive profits taken by retailers.

The Italian government first tried other methods to shame the Roman shopkeepers into charging only a fair and honest profit. One of these efforts was to compel the retailers to publish the price they asked for every article; but it was of no avail.

experiences of his life to be associated with the men of this class in the work they are doing. He expressed appreciation of the spirit of this meeting and the gift that was made to him. The token of good will and esteem by his class touched his heart. At intervals between the talks were bursts of song and a finer spirit could not have been shown in any gathering. It was an inspiring occasion and points to even larger progress and usefulness by this Baraca class.

Before adjourning with the benediction a rising vote of thanks was extended the Rotary club for the use of their building.

The following were present:
S. L. Bridgers, president; Luther Herring, vice president; J. H. Waldrop, secretary; W. S. Dahl, assistant secretary; A. C. Holliman, treasurer; Robt. H. Wright, teacher; Rev.
