STATE MACCABEES IN ANNUAL SESSION HERE DURING DAY

BALLOTING CLOSES IN RECENT DRIVE OF COUNTY CHAMBER

Convention Convened This Morning at Ten O'clock Featured by Election of Officers and Addresses

The State convention of Maccabees convened with the local lodge this morning with a program providing for a day filled with the most intense activity. A number of notables of the organization are in attendance and scheduled to make addresses both in the morning and afternoon sessions. Immediately following the afternoon session the members will make a sight seeing trip over the city and possibly attend the ball game between New Bern and Greenville, although this is not included in the regular program.

The day's activities began this morning at nine o'clock with registration of delegates at the Maccabee hall during which time cigars and refreshments were served. At ten o'clock the morning session convened with prayer by Rev. C. H. Bascom, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, Greenville.

Mayor D. M. Clark delivered the address of welcome and told the visitors that the keys of the city would be turned to them. He was unusually happy in his remarks and left an impression that Greenville is always glad to entertain visitors and endeavors to do everything possible to make their stay as enjoyable as possible.

The response was made by Special Deputy O. F. Richardson of Lexington, who expressed his thanks in behalf of the lodge and assured the mayor that they appreciated the freedom of his city.

This was followed by a report of the credentials committee and an address of the grand commander which was inspirational in every sense of the word.

Reports of various committees showed practically all State organizations to be in splendid condition and flourishing regardless of economic disorders and unusual depression in the business field. These proved decidedly encouraging and indicate the order intends to extend the scope of its work as well as influence in the near future.

The morning session also featured largely in a number of five minute addresses by State Sergeant Archie Bilbro of Greenville; H. W. Amole, Greensboro; T. I. Moore, Greenville; L. J. L. Barr, Greensboro; E. A. Timberlake, Lexington; R. L. Kirby, Rockingham; H. E. Walters, Asheville; A. F. Cheek, Greensboro; J. F. Stokes, Greenville.

Immediately following the morning session a barbecue dinner was served at the hall.

The afternoon session convened at two o'clock with a flag ceremony. Addresses, business, election of officers and the selection of the next meeting place will feature until five o'clock when members of the convention will gather at the courthouse and have their pictures taken.

The evening session is to convene at 8 o'clock and will include class initiation and flag ceremonies by the Greenville lodge. At nine o'clock State officers are to be installed, followed by the awarding of prizes and resolutions. A social hour begins at ten o'clock concluding activities of the convention.

London June 15.—Rear Admiral has gone to South Hampton to board the steamer Olympic for home. The Rear Admiral's special car was burdened with floral tributes and just before his departure he told a reporter that he had nothing to say "and nothing to retract."

ENGINEER AND FIREMAN KILLED; PASSENGERS SHAKEN

Hattiesburg, Miss., June 15.—Engineer Jackson and Fireman Blort, both of New Orleans were killed and passengers shaken up when unidentified person pulled spikes from two lengths of rail, piling up engine, tender and four coaches.

Messrs. F. Grover Britt and L. M. McKenzie of Lumberton are here today attending the State convention of Maccabees.

Names of Officers Nominated Given in Detailed Report of the Campaign

Nominations for directors of the Pitt county chamber of commerce made in the ballot that closed last night were announced to be as follows:

W. L. Best, J. H. Blount, M. O. Blount, P. L. Clodfelter of Greenville; J. H. Coward of Ayden, W. H. Dail, Jr., of Greenville; J. R. Davis of Farmville, Dr. W. W. Dawson of Grifton, Dr. C. J. Ellen, E. G. Flanagan of Greenville; J. C. Galloway of Grimesland; F. C. Harding of Greenville; J. R. Harvey of Grifton, Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse, James L. Little of Greenville; J. L. Perkins of Stokes, G. S. Porter of Chicod, W. E. Proctor of Grimesland, H. V. Staton of Bethel, J. R. Turnage of Ayden, T. C. Turnage, John T. Thorne of Farmville, H. A. White, J. E. Winslow of Greenville.

One of the features of the election that has been the source of much favorable comment is that exactly half the nominees are from the county districts. Leaders of the movement to build up a strong Pitt county organization have been frank in their approval of this feature.

There was a heavy vote cast and the judges and tellers were busy till a late hour checking and tallying. The work was done by the following judges—Frank Wilson, J. I. Morgan of Farmville and H. A. White. The following served as tellers—J. H. Blount, C. H. Forbes, F. J. Forbes, Paul L. Clodfelter and W. H. Woolard.

H. I. Smith, secretary, had arrangements under way early this morning for distributing to the members the ballots for the final election. They will be returned to the chamber for counting next Monday night.

TRADE AGREEMENT WITH GERMANY IS ISSUED IN RUSSIA

Text of Agreement Negotiated with Soviets Made Public in Both Countries

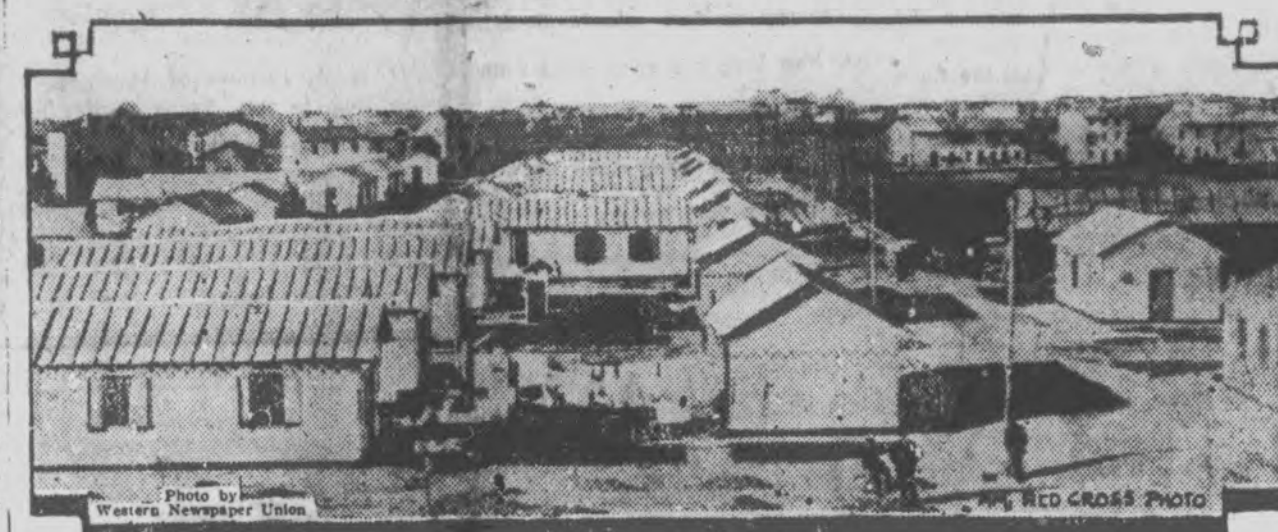

Riga, May 30.—The text of the trade agreement recently negotiated between the German government and the Russian Socialist Federative Soviet Republic has been made public here. Its provisions are significant in view of the fact that this is one of a series of similar agreements already negotiated or in process of negotiation between Russia and other nations, such as Great Britain, Italy and Czechoslovakia.

The provisions may be of peculiar interest to the United States owing to the attempt if the Russian government to effect a trade agreement with the United States which resulted in notification by the American State department to Russia that the Soviet government had no chance of recognition in any form by the United States so long as Americans were held prisoners in Russia.

One of the most interesting provisions of the Russo-German agreement is that the representatives of both Germany and Russia are bound by it to refrain from every form of agitation or propaganda against the government or the state institutions of the country in which the delegation is located.

These delegations will be composed under the new agreement, to missions already existing for the purpose of looking after the affairs of war prisoners in both countries. The scope of the activities of these delegations is extended so that they are authorized to protect the interests of citizens of both Germany and Russia. The membership of the missions is increased by attaching to them additional delegates whose duties are to develop economic relations.

Model City Being Erected for Italian Workers

San Oswald, near Udine, Italy, is to become a model city. The photograph shows permanent stucco homes being built for workmen. Wide streets and model sanitary conditions are promised for the new city. Hundreds of homes were destroyed by a recent great powder explosion, and hundreds of children are being cared for at present by the Red Cross (junior division) of America.

YOUNG MEN CLASS ENTERTAIN LADIES AT AMUZU PARK

Methodist Sunday School Class Gives Lady Friends Good Time at Park Last Night

The young men's class of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Sunday school entertained their lady friends at an enjoyable social conducted at Amuzu park last night. The occasion proved one of the most interesting in some time, featuring principally in bathing, boating and dancing, interspersed with refreshments.

Amuzu park is becoming one of the most popular outing places in and around Greenville and those who attended the social last night greatly enjoyed the numbers of things provided for their pleasure by management of the park. The social began at an early hour and continued until late into the night. The courtesy of park attendants proved to be one of the most conspicuous features, and resulted in everyone enjoying themselves.

The young men's class is doing everything possible to make it interesting for its members during the hot summer months, and while this is the first time they have been on an outing it is expected arrangements will be made for several others before the summer months come to a close. Class leaders realize that recreation of the right kind is essential even to the Sunday school classes and they mean to do everything to provide this whenever possible.

WALLY REID DRIVES LOCOMOTIVE IN BLIZZARD

To drive some sort of machine, be it an automobile or a locomotive is all in the days work for Wallace Reid, the athletic Paramount star. In The Love Special, his latest starring vehicle which comes to White's theatre tomorrow, Wally drives a railroad engine over a mountain in a driving snow storm with the same ease and poise he displays when at the wheel of a roadster in a gruelling auto race.

It was great sport to feel the big engine pick up when I pulled the throttle, said the star, but I felt lost without a steering wheel. At times when we went around a sharp curve I would instinctively grab for the wheel, only to remember that I was in a locomotive.

The story upon which the picture is based is said to be one of the best railroad stories by Frank H. Spearman, a well known fictionist.

GIRL SCOUTS TO GIVE PICNIC AT AMUZU PARK

The Girl Scouts will hold their annual picnic at Amuzu park Saturday and will have as their guests the Boy Scouts. All Boy Scouts are requested to meet at the Evans street school at 10:30 Saturday morning and trucks and automobiles will be provided to convey them to the park.

Mrs. T. H. Bowen from near Baldards X Roads is in town today. She has just moved in her new home near Adams bridge.

DESCRIBES WAY NATION SOLDIERS ARE CARED FOR

Surgeon Smith Gives Vivid Description of How Things Are Going

New York, June 14.—Steps taken by government agencies to provide treatment for tuberculosis soldiers of the world war were described by Dr. F. C. Smith, surgeon of the United States Public Health service, in an address he delivered today before the National Tuberculosis association, holding its annual meeting here.

Dr. Smith said that 35,150 of the former soldiers treated in hospitals since the war risk insurance act was passed were tuberculous. Approximately half of these, he said, have been cared for since March 3, 1919, in hospitals owned or operated by the public health service.

Thirteen of the 61 hospitals conducted by the United States public health service are devoted to tuberculous patients, said Dr. Smith. The largest of these is at Fort Bayard, N. M. Other large ones are at Prescott, Ariz.; Asheville, N. C.; Camp Kearney, Cal., Greenville, S. C. and New Haven, Conn. There are other smaller hospitals and in all service hospitals separate wards or rooms are provided for tuberculous soldiers.

It was necessary to utilize several abandoned army base hospitals, said Dr. Smith. The results of treatment, however, have been gratifying and the morale of the institutions well maintained.

DIAMOND DUST

Whew! Another like yesterday and we will be undone. Talking about luck, and especially hard luck, well, we seem to be in for our share of it. Fortunately, however, the sun doesn't shine for any particular person long at a time, therefore, today many of the tables turned on the car at New Bern.

Mark Webb and Lefty Wilson pitched seven innings of the most brilliant ball ever seen in this section in the game yesterday, and it seemed the huffy Pinetops hurler had the game sewed up when a couple of errors and his own momentary wildness let four Bears romp around to the checking station.

Woods certainly looked good at the second corner yesterday after being out of the game Monday because of an injury received in practice during the morning. The former member of the hyphenated crew from Scotland Neck is in a class by himself and handles the old pill like he was mixed on horsehide.

Duncan didn't have much idea of beating Greenville yesterday, because he knows Greenville from last year's experience. It has been favor so far, but wait until the boys pull themselves together, they'll give him something to remember them by.

UNION OF FOUR ANNOUNCED FOR CENTRAL REPUBLIC

Central America Countries Ready to Begin Business Soon as Possible

Guatemala, June 14.—Just at the time that the union of four of the Central American republics is being announced by its supporters as a fact, a question of the boundary between Honduras and Guatemala has come to the front. It is reported here that armed forces from Honduras have occupied the disputed territory.

Honduras lays claim to a strip of territory to the south and east of the Motagua river which has been in the possession of Guatemala, if not since time immemorial, at least since Guatemala became independent. It consists for the most part of a tropical wilderness covered with interminable forests. A range of mountains forms the southern boundary of the wilderness. With the building of the railroad from Puerto Barrios to Guatemala City and the development of banana plantations along its route and on the Motagua river, settlements have naturally sprung up in the wilderness and purchase of vacant lands have followed.

Now Honduras bases its claims to this territory on some old Spanish maps and surveys said to have existed when the whole of Central America was known as the Kingdom of Guatemala and was governed by a viceroy at the old city of Guatemala.

Sensational reports have been published in two of the daily newspapers here recently concerning this claim of Honduras in which insinuations are made that representatives of Guatemala actually sold the interests of Guatemala to the Hondurians.

NUMBER OF OFFENDERS BEFORE MAYOR CLARK

RUSSIAN LECTURER GRIPS AUDIENCE IN STORY OF RED RULE

Chautauqua Lecturer, Former Labor Minister Under Kersky, Tells of Conditions in Russia

The Swarthmore Chautauqua is still drawing considerable interest from people in Greenville and indications point to a splendid attendance during the remainder of the week. While the crowd was rather small yesterday afternoon last night witnessed a capacity audience and much interest in the lecture on Russia by Dr. Zilboorg, who was minister of labor during Kersky's reign. The Knox entertainers also came in for much attention with a number of musical numbers, songs, stories and impersonations. Miss Knox in a diversification of songs won repeated applause and proved the crowning attraction of the evening.

The lecture by Dr. Zilboorg covered conditions in Russia in a way that commanded the attention of his hearers throughout its entirety. He told in a convincing and impressive manner of extreme conditions which have faced that country during the past several months, painting a gloomy picture of the future and the great fight which his people will be compelled to stage when reconstruction begins.

As a physician in a military hospital during the war, Dr. Zilboorg saw the crumbling of Russia's imperial government in 1917. As a representative of the Kersky government he watched from the trenches the great offensive against Germany, saw the collapse of the Russian army, the eventual downfall of his government, and the rise of the red tide of bolshevism and happened to be in the little town where the Czar was murdered.

He was hated intensely by the bolsheviks and his flight from Russia was filled with many thrilling experiences. He landed in safety in other parts of the country, his escape proving little short of miraculous.

Being compared as neither a supporter of the dynastic rule in Russia nor of the mob rule of the bolshevik, Dr. Zilboorg views the history of his ill-fated country from an impartial standpoint. As a result his lecture set forth in a comprehensive manner many incidents not in the possession of but very few characters from the country. The perplexities of government during the period he acted in the capacity of minister of labor were many, and their vivid description held the undivided attention of the audience in a gratifying way.

The lecture proved one of the most instructive heard in this city since ending of the war and was highly informative, especially since it dealt with inside facts concerning the internal troubles of Russia. The tide of criminality as a result of bolshevism made many persons in the large audience shudder at the ruthlessness of their deeds. In fact, he omitted nothing and left the impression that Russia has a long, hard road to travel before recovering from long months of warfare and strife.

The Knox entertainers, which includes the McGrath brothers and Mr. Mowbray, a piano soloist of exceptional ability, provided a class of entertainment to be appreciated, and won constant applause. The program has a number of splendid features for the remainder of the week, and it is expected attendance will be even better than heretofore.

PROFITEERS HAVE SPECIAL PRICES FOR AMERICANS

Rome, June 14.—Roman profiteers are sometimes candid. While hundreds of "fleecers" step in the way of the American tourist and try to hold him up when he is not aware of it, one, a photographer, boldly announces on a placard displayed in his show-cases: Special prices for Americans.

Mrs. Chas. D. Lefler of Salisbury, after attending Trinity college commencement and visiting relatives in Raleigh, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon to visit her daughter, Mrs. K. F. Futrell on Ward street.

Peanut growers of Edgecombe county are organizing and preparing to market their crops along the co-operative marketing line. This is a very commendable movement and ought to be instrumental in producing favorable results.

The News and Observer seems to think good times are coming because blackberries are ripening in Moore county. If this is an index to prosperity it is safe to say Pitt county will soon be in position to vie with Moore county.

It's been a mighty long time since people in this section had to put up with disagreeable things brought on by the panic, but they are in hot water up to the neck now, and may sputter and sizzle more than expected before things get better.

There's one consoling thing about conditions in this part of the State, and that is the crops are looking good, especially truck crops, and it is hardly to be supposed anyone will go hungry; it matters not how tight money may become. Panics are to be deplored, but so long as the farmer continues to produce plenty of food crops, we should worry.

America thinks more of resolutions than peace. Proposal after proposal has been presented with a view of bringing about peaceful relations with Germany and other belligerent countries, but we haven't accomplished anything yet. The Knox resolution was abandoned in the interest of another, and the only thing we find them doing now is still proposing, that's all there is to it.

Governor Allen of Kansas is in favor of government control of railroads. That may be all right, but remembering the deplorable conditions of the roads when they were turned over to government after the war it is hardly probable anyone could receive any advantage from further government interference. If Uncle Sam couldn't make things pay when inflation and prosperity was at its height it is not to be presumed that any improvement to be expected now. The railroads are having a difficult time keeping their heads above the water, and it is certain they are better prepared to look after their own business than the government is.

The opening of the Eastern Carolina league has livened up things in this part of the country, and if nothing happens the next two months will witness more than ordinary life in all four towns comprising the league. Right at this time there is much interest being aroused in the game, and before things are over it is safe to say there will be very few not interested in the way things are panning out for in the interest of the local club.

The recall of Admiral Sims by the Secretary of the Navy should be instrumental in quieting Colonel Harvey. Both men have made very unwise utterances, and the country as a result will have to suffer. Sims, it seems, had too much to say about conditions in Ireland, and quite naturally the Irish up and told the United States government about it. It's perfectly all right to talk as much as we want when we know what we're talking about, but when the subject isn't exactly clear about the best thing to do is to be quiet until we learn. Mr. Sims probably by this time wishes he had done so.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Mr. Thomas says the business outlook in Europe for the next several months is about as gloomy as anyone could imagine. All countries in that part of the world have borrowed to the limit of their resources and find themselves unable to repay loans from the United States. Is it any wonder that people are suffering in this country when such state of affairs exist in other parts. We hardly think so, in fact, about the only thing to look forward to is hard work, and even then it is not expected that this will be very remunerative.

Abnormality may exist for a short time in all sections, but it is not to be expected that it will stay all the time. American people are in the best position of them all, and if production is normal recovery ought not to be so far away.

Reports coming in from various sections of the State indicate that crops are in much better condition than at present cool weather did much damage. Cotton is received with genuine interest by everyone for it was believed the recent cool weather did much damage. Truck crops, it seems, are flourishing especially well, so there is every indication we will have something to eat even though the boll weevil seems to have charge of numbers of people.

John Ivey Smith didn't anticipate any such success as he has met with. And we didn't either, for that matter. But the same wind can't blow in the same direction all the time, so when it changes we feel safe in asserting that New Bern will receive the soundest thrashing any club of the league has had so far. They don't know the Boll Weevils like we do.

Personal

Miss Scotia Hobgood of Kinston is visiting in this city at the home of her brother, Mr. A. E. Hobgood.

Mr. Stancill Hodges of Ayden was in Greenville this morning on business.

Dr. M. M. Sauls of Ayden attended the ball game in this city yesterday between New Bern and Greenville.

Mr. K. A. Pittman of Ayden spent some time in this city yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Potter of Greene county were on Little Contentnea creek fishing yesterday. Both are aged, between 70 and 80 years old.

This was their first fishing trip in 20 years and were well pleased with their luck.

That game yesterday was enough to make even the staunchest Roll Weevil supporter turn pale. Think of it, Webb succeeded in making twelve visitors whiff the air in vain, and then had the misfortune to receive poor support and to issue a couple of passes resulting in four runs.

The boys are determined that the work of yesterday will never be repeated. It is to be hoped so, for another of the same brand will prove demoralizing to the hundreds who sit out in the brilliant sun, weltering simply to see Greenville win.

FORCED TO FIGHT FOR HIS BREATH DECLARES RAFF

Philadelphia Man Almost Physical Wreck Is Built Back to Vigorous Health by Taulac

"I had heard a great deal about Taulac and since trying it myself I can conscientiously say it is the best medicine I have ever seen in all my experience," said David Raff, 250 N.

DAVID RAFF
250 N. 59th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

59th St., Philadelphia, recently. Mr. Raff has lived in Philadelphia all his life and is well known and highly respected.

"My health was all broken up," he explained. "My stomach was all out of order and gave me so much trouble that I actually dreaded to go to the table. I would simply rather go without eating than suffer the awful misery I knew would follow. I would bloat up so with gas that my heart would beat a terrific rate and it seemed sometimes I was being smothered to death. I just had to fight for my breath. My nerves were all undone, I slept poorly and was all the time having headaches that were almost blinding. I lost weight and felt so weak and run-down all over I could hardly do any work."

"Sometime ago a good friend of mine told me he knew Taulac would help me and he spoke so positive about it that I took his advice. And I can say right now that Taulac is the first medicine I ever saw that will do exactly what they say it will. Five bottles have the same as made me all over again. I can eat anything I ever could in my life and have gained fifteen pounds in weight. I'm no more nervous than a child, sleep fine and I just makes me feel happy to be enjoying such good health. Taulac certainly is a great medicine."

Stringfield assuredly had an off day yesterday. The fast traveling short stop of the Boll Weevils had three bobbles chalked up against him which is more than he made during the entirety of last season. However, everybody has off days, and while it is something unusual for String it must be remembered that he is a ball player and has the same prerogative as other players.

SPORTS

NEW BERN TAKES SECOND CONTEST FROM GREENVILLE BY SCORE 5 TO 0

Bears Succeed in Blanking Boll Weevils After Six Innings of Ball Featuring in Fast Fielding and a Veritable Pitcher's Battle Between Webb and Lefty Wilson

In what is generally conceded to be one of the most unfortunate occurrences seen in this part of the state in many a day, Greenville yesterday afternoon dropped the second game of the season to the strong New Bern aggregation by the score of 5 to 0. The Bears succeeded in blanking the Boll Weevils following six innings of the fastest ball witnessed at the fair grounds in many a day, but after that time the best men on the local club had their day off and erred the easiest kind of chances in a way that carried terror to the hearts of hundreds of fans who sat in the grandstand packed up like sardines, hoping against hope that the tide of victory would eventually swing around in favor of the hard working home club.

However, it cannot be said that errors were entirely responsible for the disastrous defeat, for they were not. Mark Webb, after hurling a brand of ball which would have compared favorably with the big leagues, suffered the misfortune of becoming wild and ineffective, issuing a couple of passes to first, hitting a batsman and then permitting Shirley to double. All of this combined enabled the Bears to gain an advantage which resulted in four runners reaching the checking station in absolute safety. Stringfield made the first error to begin with, and after that time Webb seemed unable to pull himself together, although it is true he succeeded in making three batsmen whiff the air in vain during the same inning.

These features transpiring as they did caused the exhibition to be considered into one of the most unusual imaginable. The hefty boy from Pine-tops had twelve strike outs to his credit, also having the credit of fanning three men in succession in the third frame without a single man even so much as attempting to straighten out the old pill for a safe bingle. Beside this he had a hop on the ball that baffled the visitors as if it had been "conjured" and was enabled to hold even the heaviest sluggers at his mercy in every stage of the game with the exception of the inauspicious seventh and eighth frames when the hard streak of luck gained absolute ascendancy over the entire club.

Pitted against the big southpaw Lefty Wilson, former pitching ace of Carolina, it seemed the game was destined to be a long drawn out pitcher's duel from the first to the final frame. And that's exactly what it was, too, until the seventh when the tables turned in favor of the visitors, giving them a definite lead which the locals found absolutely impossible of overcoming during the remainder of
