

WARM POLITICAL CONTEST TO FACE NEW GOVERNOR

Governor to Be Greeted by Unusual Situation in Many Sections of Porto Rico

San Juan, P. R., June 22.—When E. Mont Riley of Kansas City, Mo., recently appointed governor of Porto Rico by President Harding, arrives here to take up his official duties probably in July he will find an interesting political situation brought about by the fact that the legislature, which was in session at the time of the announcement, immediately took a recess without passing the government budget for the year which commences July 1. Neither did it pass tax bills which are considered necessary to produce revenue for the insular government.

The legislature is in control of the Unionist party. Antonio R. Barcelo, president of that party and of the Senate, has received a letter from Governor Riley requesting the legislature complete its work as quickly as possible and adjourn. There is no indication that this request, the first of the new governor, will be complied with.

Apparently the legislative recess was taken with the idea that it would afford Governor Riley an opportunity to come to Porto Rico and participate in the framing of laws which will be enforced during the first two years of his term of office.

Although the budget for the next two years has not been passed this does not seem to be particularly worrying the legislature. If there is no new budget at the end of June the budget now in force will be continued for another year. The present budget calls for an annual expenditure of approximately $8,000,000.

The income tax, which has been in operation during the past two years, becomes inoperative on July 1, unless a new income tax law is passed, or the present law is reenacted and there will be no income tax for the year 1920, unquestionably the most prosperous year in the history of the island.

The Unionist leaders are far more concerned regarding the attitude of the new governor on appointments in the departments than they are with legislation. With the exception of the offices of auditor and commissioner of education, Unionists are at the head of every insular government department. Before proceeding to carry out a legislative program the Unionist leaders want to know what treatment the party may expect in the matter of further appointments by the new governor.

Having had consideration from former Governor Yager the Unionists are not disposed to sacrifice any position of advantage which they have attained.

PROMINENT CITIZEN OF KINSTON SHOT BY KINSMAN

Kinston, June 23.—Bert B. Sugg, prominent local tobaccoist and business man was shot and probably fatally injured here at 8:45 last night by John D. Poplin, business man and brother-in-law of Mr. Sugg, following a verbal and fistie encounter. The trouble was a family nature, it is understood, growing out of alleged abuse of Mrs. Poplin by her husband yesterday and a number of times in the past.

FARM DEPARTMENT MAKING PROGRESS VACCINATING HOGS

W. B. Pace, Demonstration Agent, Vaccinated Over 100 Pigs Yesterday and Plans Same Today

W. B. Pace, farm demonstration agent of Pitt county, left this morning for the Stokes community where he will spend the day in vaccinating hogs against cholera. Mr. Pace is waging an intensive campaign against the disease at the present time, and has been quite successful because of the hearty co-operation of farmers in communities which he has so far visited.

He spent yesterday morning and part of the afternoon in the Grimesland district, vaccinating some over a 100 hogs. Practically all farmers of the section were highly pleased with the work, and intimated that his services would be more in demand later on. It has been found that the method of preventing cholera is highly successful and stock raisers in all parts of the country are taking favorably to the new plan.

Mr. Pace is of the opinion that stock in the near future will be much healthier than formerly as the vaccine eliminates the probability of further cholera and makes the hogs immune, in event they are kept away from those already infested.

Pitt county, he says, loses thousands of dollars annually because of cholera and it is the purpose of the farm demonstration department to do everything possible to do away with such heavy losses. This may be accomplished without any great trouble by proper co-operation of the farmer, and it is urgently requested that every man do what he can to extend operations of the department.

Mr. Pace has been exceedingly diligent in handling the department's business and consequently it is assured the farming and stock raising industry will make considerable progress in the future if people affected do what they can to further the work. Mr. Pace will visit a number of territories before the week is over and several hundred hogs will be included in his records of activity for the week.

COLLEGE CREWS TO RENEW RACES ON HUDSON RIVER

After Lapse of Five Years Ancient Rivals to Clash on Historic College Course

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 22.—Rival college crews, after a lapse of five years, will renew their struggles for supremacy here today over the historic Hudson river course, the scene of more than a score of hard-fought races for intercollegiate rowing honors. The east's greatest college oarsmen's carnival has not been staged here since 1916.

Last night, hotels and gathering places of all kinds in this city and surrounding towns were filled with rowing enthusiasts while stalwart members of a half-dozen varsity crews, one of them from the Golden Gate, are resting in preparation for principal contest. Final practice spins were taken in the gathering dusk two or three hours ago and only one or two coaches plan to send their charges through light early sessions.

BUSINESS MEN TO WAGE CAMPAIGN FOR LOWER RATES

Chamber of Commerce to Use Influence to Bring About Better Conditions

Members of the Pitt county chamber of commerce are almost unanimous in asking that the organization use its influence in bringing about relief from the high freight rates. This was revealed in the thorough survey of the members made recently and from which the program of work for the chamber is being developed. Action on this and other matters in the program will be taken after the board organizes and gets down to work. The meeting for organization is called for Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Coming just at this time the action of the members of the chamber is particularly significant for announcement has just been made by the State corporation commission that the railroads are striving for further increases in rates to North Carolina points. Hearings on this are set for Friday at 11 o'clock in Raleigh. H. L. Smith, the secretary, has received notice of the hearing from W. G. Womble, rate clerk of the commission.

The plea of the railroads will be presented to the Interstate commerce commission in Washington June 28. It is being made by carriers of the South and applies to practically all important shipping points. Local shippers and all organizations of shippers are invited to the conference Friday in the commission's office.

General Meeting Friday Night
Indications that the first meeting of the members forum to be held Friday night in the court house will be well attended and interesting were shown today. Assurances had been received from practically all the newly elected directors that they would be on hand and would speak briefly. The meeting will be informal and very general in nature.

MISSION SOCIETY CELEBRATES ITS 50 YEARS GOOD WORK

Afternoon and Evening Sessions Given Over to Impressive and Unique Golden Jubilee

Des Moines, Ia., June 22.—The afternoon and evening sessions today of the Northern Baptist convention were given over to the impressive and unique golden jubilee anniversary of the Woman's American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, in celebration of 50 years of successful work in foreign lands. A picturesque jubilee procession, comprising women who had come here from eight foreign lands to attend the golden jubilee celebration, led a long procession of missionaries and Northern Baptist women to the convention headquarters. Dr. Ina M. Tustin welcomed the professional, speaking with high appreciation of the Woman's American Baptist Foreign Mission society, which in 50 years has grown from 2 missionaries to 257 missionaries, and which today has 112 stations. Mrs. Helen Barrett Montgomery of Rochester, New York, president of the society, responded to his welcome, telling of the high plans of the society for future achievement. A jubilee offering of 5,000 subscriptions to "Missions" was made. During the year 1920 the women of the society made a daily gift of $1000 a day for a special golden jubilee gift to foreign lands, and a report was made, on what is being done with the jubilee money.

The chief address of the afternoon was made by Mrs. Andrew MacLellan of Glencoe, Illinois, home administration vice president of the society, on "The Work of Our Society at the Home Base".

TOWN OF AYDEN TO VOTE BONDS TO IMPROVE STREETS

Citizens to Hold Election for Purpose of Issuing $225,000 to Pave Principal Streets

According to a report reaching this city today Ayden has called an election for the purpose of issuing $225,000 in bonds for street improvement. The election is to be held as soon as possible so that the bonds may be sold and construction work gotten under way at an early date.

Ayden has made many progressive movements within the past several months, but it is believed this surpassed all of them. Practically all streets of the town are in bad condition and almost impassable following heavy rainfalls. It is for the purpose of eliminating this inconvenient feature and also to improve appearance of the town that the issuance of bonds has been found necessary.

The town has a municipally owned electric light and water plant, a splendid city market and other business industries, but it has been found that improved streets are imperative if its people keep pace with progress. The entire sum of the bond issue will be spent for street improvement, it is understood, and will be sufficient to pave virtually all principal streets.

Ayden has made considerable progress under the administration of S. J. Worthington, who recently defeated Evan E. Settle for the office of mayor, and the town as a result has a very bright future. The administration is planning a number of other improvements and with good times predicted these may become possible earlier than anticipated.

"Don't throw ashes on the floor" is a simple command, but has a big effect in many households. "What's Worth While?" will, too.

GOD OF COMMERCE IS GRINDING AWAY IN HISTORIC ROME

Palaces Falling Before Irresistible Demands of Commerce and City is Losing Ancient Character

Rome, June 22.—Slowly the god of commerce is grinding away a little at a time the romance and antiquity of this cradle of civilization.

The Corso, from the time of Roman emperors the busiest thoroughfare of the city, is losing its ancient character. The four huge triumphal arches which once spanned the street, were destroyed centuries ago. Palaces and churches were left but the palaces are falling before the irresistible demands of commerce.

Two huge old palaces occupying a site half-way up the Corso have already gone down before the commercial onslaught. In their places have been reared two big, gaudy structures to be occupied by banks, which stand out in bold contrast to the quiet coloring of the ancient gems of architecture.

When the palaces are not torn down, they are modified in such a way that the interior decoration, some of which has stood the test of centuries, is effaced and sometimes plastered. Numerous alterations are made to suit the necessities of business.

In the quarter where the church of St. John Lateran is located, a new amusement company has taken possession of a large square of vacant ground and has erected carousels, roller-coasters, ferris wheels and side shows. The romance and beauty of the spot has vanished.

ROTARY MEMBERS ATTEND A MEETING IN KINSTON TODAY

Ten Counties to be Represented at the First Inter-City Conference Held in This Section

Twenty-six members of the Greenville Rotary club left this morning for Kinston to attend the Inter-City Rotary conference to be conducted in that city today, which comprises ten counties of this district. All members had Greenville printed on their lap bands, so it is hardly probable that they will be mistaken as members from other towns.

The Greenville club is conceded to be one of the most progressive in this district, having won two loving cups already, and plans to repeat the performance at the very next opportunity. It has not been definitely stated whether any loving cups will be awarded at the conference today, but if there should be it's safe to say Greenville will make a determined trial to get them, or at least one of them.

Kinston, according to reports reaching here this morning, is gaily decorated for the occasion, and plans to entertain the visitors in keeping with the importance of the first event of the kind ever before held in this section. The opening session this morning promises to be a most interesting one, as prominent men of the organization are scheduled for addresses.

Members of the local club will return probably this afternoon or tonight. They made the trip by automobile.

WILL UNDERTAKE CAMPAIGN TO FEED GERMAN CHILDREN

Friends Service Committee Undertaking to Raise $3,000,000 Commended by Pres. Harding

Philadelphia, June 22.—The American Friends Service committee, which is undertaking a campaign to raise $3,000,000 within the next year to feed German children, has received a letter from President Harding commending the humanitarian efforts of the committee. The letter is directed to Ferdinand Thun of Reading, Pa., vice chairman of the committee organized to conduct the campaign. It reads: "My sympathy has been aroused in the effort your organization is making to raise funds for suffering and destitute children of Central Europe. I am impressed that the time has come when the old asperities of the war period may properly be forgotten in the face of such humanitarian efforts. The real ideal of human brotherhood will best and soonest be realized through the encouragement of such works as this."

MANUFACTURERS TO DEVELOP PLANS FOR WATER POWER

Business Men Gather in New York For Purpose of Developing Streams

New York, June 21.—Manufacturers interested in the subject of water-power from the standpoint of the consumer, assembled here today for a conference called by the Water Power league of America to discuss the questions of power, power shortage, cost of fuel and amendments to be asked to the Federal reserve act. The league hopes to induce private capital to invest in the enterprises of water-power development to relieve power shortage and reduce the cost of power to the consumer.

The Water Power league assails the workings of the Federal power act as "detrimental to water-power development" and asserts that the act has made its practically impossible for private enterprises to engage in these undertakings. The league also asserts that the Federal act has taken from the several states all their rights to intrastate within their borders and places them in charge of the Federal power commission, which is composed of the secretary of war as chairman, the secretary of the interior, and the secretary of agriculture. Also it is asserted that the act takes from congress the powers it has exercised and also takes from the war department the authority vested in it by the constitution and relegates these powers to the commission.

Officials of the Water Power league assert that there are on file at Washington today more than 200 applications for permits and licenses to develop water powers. The total horsepower of these projects is estimated at more than 20,000,000 and if they were carried to completion it would require several billion dollars to finance them. League officials say that without exception, all these projects have been halted by rules and regulations promulgated by the power commission which passed out of existence March 4 with the change of administration.

The league declares that "American financiers refuse to consider the investment of hundreds of millions of dollars in projects which are made uncertain by the vagaries of a body of men subject to the changes which occur in American politics every four years." It is to discuss these features that the water power league has called the conference.

"WHAT'S WORTH WHILE?" CAN YOU ANSWER OFFHAND?

If you were asked "What's Worth While?" what would you answer? In a vague sort of way you have always told yourself that you know, but the chances are that you have never given the subject serious thought.

Telling yourself a thing is easy, but how would your thoughts on this subject sound, if spoken?

Louis Weber has adapted the thought "What's Worth While?" to the screen and it's not a sermon, but a picture of gripping heart interest from stem to stern, in which this producer-director has won fresh laurels. The picture will be shown at White's theatre Thursday. Claire Windsor and Louis Calhern have the leading roles.

A grave meat shortage is claimed by packers in Chicago. There are, however, very few farmers who would substantiate the assertion.

The Allies have succeeded in restoring peace in Silesia. More argument that the league of nations is capable of doing things opponents claimed it could not.

It is authoritatively stated that Colonel Harvey has halted speech making in England. It's safe to say he didn't do so because he wanted to.

The public seems to be extremely worried over the monetary situation at this particular time. And judging by the shortage in the immediate territory it has a right to be.

President Harding plans to divert attention of negro aspirants from the pie counter. That being the case it really looks like he might arrange to create more room for the South which so far has been unduly slighted.

Moonshine stills seems to be suffering greatly in Anson county. Pitt county has been waging some mighty strenuous campaigns, too, but the traffic still assumes grave proportions. The government might get better results to placing more help in the revenue department.

Admiral Sims and Colonel Harvey apparently have a decidedly poor opinion of the proposal for home rule in Ireland. The United States, indicated approval when the issue was first taken up, but since that time it seems to have gotten rather careless. That is to say, if Colonel Harvey and Sims are expressing prevailing sentiment.

Senator Edge is in favor of repealing the excess profit tax. There are, we feel assured, quite a number of persons of the same opinion, especially that class of people who have had the brunt of issue to bear ever since it became a reality.

William Jennings Bryan, according to late reports, is filling engagements with the Redpath Chautauqua this summer. Maybe he will prove more successful with the Chautauqua than in politics. Assuredly he will not be a more abject failure.

The Allies are now trying to restore peace between the Greeks and Turks. In event they succeed maybe the United States will think more seriously of the league of nations. At least it certainly would deserve more attention than so far in evidence.

The farmer that reduced acreage this year ought to be in position to receive the best the market has to offer when prices really improve. Conditions are really serious at this time, but it is certain no one will be on the brink of starvation so long as food crops are produced in the place of cotton and tobacco.

Proposed legislation to regulate the packing industry which has created such a stiff fight in the United States Senate seems to have been definitely set aside for the time being with the understanding that it is to be taken up and considered at a later date. The bill carries with it quite a number of amendments which were responsible for its deferment. The matter is no doubt advisable, but it is mighty hard to see where it is worth the time already put into it.

HOG AND HOMINY

We do not believe more timely or saner advice can be given our farmers than to continue to make every arrangement to live at home during the ensuing twelve months. To produce every possible pound of food and feed which will be consumed on our own farms by man and beast for a period of twelve months.

Every student of affairs believes the dark period of depression is ended, and that the dawning of a new era of prosperity is at hand; but we will make a grievous mistake if we do not realize there are still troublous days before us, during which we must harbor every resource, in order to reap the full rewards which are sure to follow.

Barns full of grain, smoke houses hanging with meats, carry very heavily the same satisfaction as does a fat bank account.

Raise your own supplies with always a surplus for the sustenance of your city neighbors. This insures contentment at home, and a welcome at your bank.

The proposed special session of the State legislature has been deferred for a short time. In fact, the governor discovered there is not quite so much need for it as some endeavor to make him believe and as a consequence he means to take the question up with the council of State before proceeding any further. This is a very commendable step and to some extent will help relieve the public scare which has proved so demoralizing in the past few months.

The meeting of the North Carolina Federation of Women's clubs recently held in Raleigh indicates the women are going to make a desperate effort to forge to the front in many lines of industry now that they have been given the right to vote. This is a very commendable position, and it is to be trusted they will meet with that success at every turn in the road.

NEW BERN BEARS WIN SECOND GAME OF SERIES FROM GREENVILLE 3 TO 1

Series of Errors and Wild Throws Combined With New Bern Ability to Hit Opportunely Resulted in Locals Defeat; Both Clubs Showed Excellent Form Until the Fourth Frame

In a game generally conceded to be about the fastest seen in this league New Bern yesterday afternoon succeeded in taking the second game of the series from Greenville, at New Bern, by the score of 3 to 1. The contest was decidedly superior to that of the day before. Both clubs showed splendid spirit and battled for three innings before Greenville scored the first run of the game. New Bern tied the score in the fourth frame, and gained a decisive lead in the fifth and eighth innings by sending two other runners to the checking station.

That fast fielding and heavy hitting featured at times goes without saying, but it also must be admitted that the game would have been decidedly more gratifying to the hundreds of fans swarming the grandstand and bleachers had both clubs been able to omit this feature. Greenville several times had an opportunity of sending runners to the checking station, but inability to hit when hits would have resulted in runs was accountable for their loss. The Bears, on the other hand took advantage of such opportunities, and when runners got on bases timely hitting invariably sent them to the checking station.

New Bern as usual played with a considerable amount of luck. This has been very noticeable throughout the entire season, although it must be admitted that good ball playing features more prominently than luck. Both were largely responsible for the victory yesterday, for it is certain the Boll Weevils would have made a much better showing in every sense of the word. Six errors for Greenville and three for the Bears sounds mighty bad for both sides, but taking other things in consideration it is assured New Bern could have asked for no better advantage than was opened from time to time by constant errors by the visitors.

Jones hurled a wonderful game for Greenville, allowing New Bern six well scattered hits, with the exception of one or two instances when the bingles were bunched just enough to mean runs. Batter after batter were retired by the young hurler, but poor support with runners on bases resulted in his loss more than New Bern's ability to hit when they counted for something. His control in pinches proved extraordinary, and as a consequence the Bears many times were deprived of runs when they seemed the easiest things in the world to get.

Johnson appeared on the mound for New Bern, and to say that he hurled a good game of ball, goes without saying. It was not the first time he had faced the Boll Weevils, for as everyone probably remembers he succeeded in beating them on their home diamond in the first conflict of the season. Johnson last season played with the Scotland Neck Hyphens and showed excellent form throughout the entire season. Old records show he beat Greenville in two or three games during that eventful period, and had a record to be envied. He again asserted his prowess in the contest yesterday, allowing only three well scattered hits, and pitching airtight at critical stages, of which there were very few.

Greenville scored her only run in the third inning when Kittrell hit to Johnson, getting safe on error; Kittrell later went to third on another wild throw by Johnson; Jones bunted, Kittrell scoring on a squeeze play.

New Bern started scoring in the fourth frame when F. Morris singled to center field, later going to second when Shirley hit through pitcher; Llewellyn hit to second, F. Morris scoring, runner being forced out at second retiring side. In the fifth frame the disastrous work continued, Neal hit a long fly to left field, getting same when the ball was dropped, later getting to third; Semler sacrificed down third base line, Neal scoring. In the eighth frame the final tally of the game was secured when F. Morris was issued a free pass to first; Shirley singled and later stealing home

DIAMOND DUST

New Bern people admit the game yesterday was about the prettiest seen on that diamond this season. The Boll Weevils started out like they meant business, and really did, but costly bobbles as usual proved their disaster. The Bears, naturally, played splendidly, but we were in their class until the errors occurred.

New Bern plays fast ball, one is bound to admit, but it must also be remembered there's lots of luck with it.

Same Jones pitched a wonderful game against the heavy hitting Bears yesterday, and would have won easily if he had been given the right kind of support. The youngster is developing into one of the best hurlers of the league, and probably may have the pleasure of winning over New Bern before the season is over.

If Greenville was lucky Mark Webb's foul ball over right field fence yesterday afternoon in the ninth inning with two runners on would have been New Bern's defeat. That's the kind of luck the boys have had through the entire season, and unless it changes, we are beat and badly so, that's all there is to it.

Johnson hurled a splendid brand of ball against the Boll Weevils yesterday, but not better than Jones if the latter had been given the same kind of support. The game was converted into a regular pitcher's duel at the outset, neither having an advantage until the eighth frame when the Bears scored the winning tally.

Those six errors proved costly to Greenville yesterday, but not any more than others occurring during the week. New Bern people are of the opinion that Duncan is about the best they have with the willow. That may be, but it seems Shirley and Morris are also in a class by themselves, that's all there is to it.

Shirley managed to steal home yesterday, which is about the first time this has been accomplished this season. It happened to be the winning run he carried to the checking station, too, so it may be seen how very unpleasant the sensation of the theft was.

That double play without assistance pulled off by Ratchford at third was fortunate, but not fortunate enough to win the game.

Greenville and Washington apparently are trying for honors of the cellar. Washington has the distinction at the present time, but if Greenville continues at their present pace the Sailors will be forced to pass over the keys.

Anyhow, maybe we will be able to win one more game from Washington. It will certainly feel good to have another victory checked up to our credit, maybe the rest of the clubs will feel like they have one more chance at being in the race for the pennant.

Opportune hitting seems to be about the only thing responsible for New Bern's many victories. And errors seem to have played havoc with the other crews.

It's to be hoped those new players will hurry and get here. We need them, that is if the boys now here aren't able to do better than usual.

Sam Jones seems to be about the only dependable hurler Greenville has. The youngster so far has pitched two games and has the unique distinction of winning them both. While this, quite naturally, doesn't sound out of the ordinary to anyone not informed concerning prevailing conditions, nevertheless it is something to be proud of and Sammy ought to feel gratified over it.

That's a long, long trail to the camping grounds of John Ivey Smith's crew, but it is estimated that at least two hundred people from this city attended yesterday's affair. It's a pity they had to witness such an inglorious defeat as our boys received, but when remembering it all comes in a lifetime, we should worry.

KINSTON MAKES IT TWO STRAIGHTS BY TRIMMING SAILORS

Jim White's Robbin Infield is Setting a Pace That Can't Be Bettered, it is Said

Washington, June 21.—Jim White's Robbins easily defeated the locals again today, the final score being 6 to 2. Ludwig local pitcher, who is credited with being the winner of one of Washington's two victors and the only conqueror of the New Bern Bears to date, was in the box, but fared rather badly at the hands of the Robbins, who played a sensational fielding game, making a total of three double plays and running bases at will. Features of the game were few and far between, however, the chief thing of interest being Turnbull's running catch of a long fly, and the work of the Kinston infield.

The two teams leave tonight for Kinston where they will play the third of the series as per arrangement between the two teams.
