TELLS OF SERIOUS SITUATION IN SWAY THROUGHOUT INDIA

Newly Arrived Minister Compares New York's Criminal Wave to That in India

Des Moines, Ia., June 25.—Newly arrived from his work among the 4,000,000 hereditary members of criminal tribes in India, the Rev. Samuel D. Bawden, the militant missionary who "preaches the gospel with the Bible in his hand and a revolver in his pocket," and who was awarded the Kaiser-I-hind medal by the Viceroy for his services, last night contrasted Indian's method of dealing with her criminals with that in vogue in the United States, at the Northern Baptist convention in this city.

Des Moines, Ia., June 25.—Despite an attitude of indifference on the part of many Americans toward newcomers to this country, the use of English is increasing to a marked extent in most of the foreign-language churches in the Northern Baptist convention territory. This was the report made today by Dr. Charles A. Brooks of the American Baptist Home Mission society, and head of the committee on foreign speaking bodies. There are 75,000 foreign speaking Baptists in America.

ENGLISH SPEAKING IS ON INCREASE IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES

Baptist Convention Notes Marked Increase in Foreign Speaking Denominations

Warning is sounded, however, that there is need of a better understanding and those born in this country; that a between the foreign-speaking Baptists more definite policy on the part of the Northern Baptist convention is needed. The convention was urged to send fraternal messengers to the organizations of Baptist churches using other languages and to seek close unity and greater co-operation.

NEW BERN BEARS TAKE SLUGGEST FROM THE ROBINS

Free Hitting Contest Staged—Many Runs—And Many Pitchers Were Used

Thirteen or fourteen hundred fans saw the Robins pile up a safe lead of runs yesterday only to be bettered in the fatal seventh inning by the Bears when that aggregation fell upon Padgett and then Hines for free passes and hits enough to gather in six runs and win the game. To say it was a heart-rending game is putting it mildly, but let it be said that the Bears know that they are up against something when they tackle Kinston.

Over Action of Roads in the Traffic Question

General satisfaction is expressed by officials of the Pitt county chamber of commerce over the announcement received this morning from the North Carolina Traffic association in Raleigh that the railroads had withdrawn their proposal to raise rates from the middle west to points in North Carolina.

The announcement of this morning indicated, however, that the railroads would make another attempt to rearrange their rates upward from western to Carolina points and the reason for their present withdrawal was that they chose to take time to study the effect the Virginia decision would have on their case.

Plans were made by local chamber of commerce officials to participate actively in the fight against the proposed increases. The initial step that had been decided upon was to send representatives to the shippers' conferences scheduled for Raleigh.

Coolidge says spiritual strength is what the country needs. And he is no doubt right, but he also might have added that a little more attention to business would help.

People residing in the mountains of North Carolina are in favor of good roads and mean to exert every influence in their interest. This and mighty good indicates the entire State will be linked together much earlier than anticipated.

New York police are having the time of their lives in handling the radical element of the great city, and so far seem to have accomplished much. The task is one of the greatest yet tackled and will require considerable time in completing.

Reduction of freight rates in this State is the result of activities of chambers of commerce. That such organizations prove of great benefit to every community goes without saying. They proved their value in this single instance and deserve the support of thinking men and women.

If Russia favors such characters as Bill Haywood, then the public should have little sympathy for her. The country has been in a sad plight for months and it is hardly probable such men will be able to do its people any good.

President Harding says he wants to speed up tax and tariff legislation. That may be so, but it looks like he might be more in favor of slowing down such issues. The public would possibly feel better about it.

Reduction of cotton and tobacco acreage means the farmer will receive the best the market has to offer in the way of prices during the next several months, although it is certain the best won't compare favorably with those of the inflation period. However, everyone will be able to live, especially so long as the farmer continues to grow plenty food crops and people who worry over the inevitable do them selves a gross injustice.

It is particularly gratifying to note that a number of countries in Europe are disposed to give peace issues favorable consideration. This indicates that the world will be back to normal sooner than anticipated, especially if peace programs are adopted immediately. The greatest trouble confronting all nations now is that they waited too long to definitely determine what to do, so it's natural to suppose immediate application of peace terms will bring about a favorable change. The United States has waited too long to settle with Germany and consequently disturbed conditions are probable for the next year or so. This is not pessimism at all, in fact, it is simply looking at the situation in a plain way.

The large attendance reported by various summer schools of the State shows how much interest people are taking in education. The truth is, North Carolina is awakening to its great possibilities, and both men and women are preparing themselves to meet demands of the future. This is gratifying in every sense of the word, for it gives other States an impression of what we are really accomplishing along educational lines.

Pitt county planters, it is pleasing to note, have planted surplus acreage with food crops, so people who preach starvation and panics from morning to night may rest assured of getting something to eat, although it's true the money shortage may effect them as everyone else. The country is returning from a state of extreme abnormality to normal, and it is perfectly natural for times to be unusual. However, the hard times gossipier might abandon his job long enough to consider the truth of the situation and maybe he will be able to see how foolish such talk is.

Mrs. Beckwith Entertains

The faculty and officers of the Training school and a few friends were charmingly entertained by Mrs. Beckwith on Thursday evening on the stage in the woods on the hillside on the west campus.

The guests first took their places at tables and the game of "Hearts", with the word "Seniors" substituted for "hearts" was played, the winning couples progressing. In this way the guests had an opportunity to get acquainted with each other. A majority of the members of the faculty are new, and are from a distance, therefore are strangers.

A number of stunts caused a great deal of amusement. Among these was a clever dramatization of a love story, that Miss McClelland had charge of. People were called out to take not only the parts of the characters, but represented such things as the piano and the pillow on which the ring was placed. A group of the ladies sang a motion song. A spelling backwards match was amusing. Games with a trick, and fortune-telling with Chinese sticks were entered into with spirit and fun. The bowl of punch was popular throughout the evening. Ice cream cones were served near the end of the evening.

The pavilion was lighted and decorated with stands of flowers. Butterflies were in evidence everywhere, and were given as favors. It was altogether a thoroughly delightful occasion.

Master James Wilson Entertains

On Friday evening Master James Wilson, young son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wilson entertained a few friends in honor of his ninth birthday. The little guests gathered about seven o'clock and enjoyed games on the front lawn. At eight o'clock supper was announced and was served in a breezy nook on the rear lawn. Covers were laid for eight and the table was decorated with sweet peas and candles. A large white birthday cake, surmounted with nine pink candles, formed the centerpiece. Japanese lanterns, suspended from the trees above, shed a cheerful glow over the happy scene. A most tempting supper was served, after which the guests attended the picture show.

Those enjoying Master Wilson's hospitality were Masters P. T. and Edward Anthony, Billy Norman, Max Munford, Charles Forbes, Louis Skinner and Howard Wilson. The little host was the recipient of several nice birthday gifts.

After the ball game Tuesday, June 28th, attend the big dance in Forbes and Morton's warehouse. Music furnished by "Tar Baby's Five," Carolina's own. Script. 24x28

Bridge Club

Mrs. C. A. Bowen was hostess to her bridge club yesterday morning. The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and many progressions were enjoyed. At the conclusion of the games an ice course was served. Mesdames Roy Batchelor, Norman Warren, C. S. Forbes and W. H. Rodgers, Jr., were guests of the club.

Law—Spier

Winterville, N. C., June 25.—Wednesday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock in the Baptist church a wedding of much interest to friends throughout the State was solemnized when Miss Fannie Lee Spier became the bride of Mr. Sidney Benjamin Law of Pelham, N. C. The church was simply but effectively decorated, a color scheme of green and white being used. Prior to the ceremony, Miss Aileen Jones sweetly sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly". She was accompanied by Miss Helen Winbourne of the faculty of the East Carolina Teachers Training school, who rendered all the music for the occasion, using as a processional Lohengrin's wedding march, and as a recessional, Mendelssohn's. At the first strains of the wedding march the ushers, Messrs. P. S. Daniel of Fayetteville, C. F. Hardee of Greenville, Malone Tucker of Winterville and Tyree Wyatt of Winterville, entered and took their places. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Thelma Spier, youngest sister of the bride. She was charmingly gowned in a girlish creation of pink taffeta with picture hat to match and carried an armful of pink Killarney roses. Master James Buckman the third of Washington, N. C., was manly in a suit of white linen, came in carrying the ring in the heart of a lily. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. A. C. Spier of Tarboro, who gave her away. She was met at the altar by the groom accompanied by his best man, Mr. Irvin King of Pelham. Rev. James Turner of Greenville impressively performed the marriage rites using the ring ceremony. The bride was beautiful, being attired in a striking traveling costume of navy blue Poiret Twill with gray accessories and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and orchids with a shower of sweet peas. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Law motored to Goldsboro where they took the train for Western North Carolina. After the eleventh of July they will be at home in Kinston.

Mrs. Law is a graduate of the East Carolina Teachers Training school, and for the past year has been teaching in Kinston. Mr. Law, who is connected with the Export Tobacco company, has been making his home in Kinston for some time. Both young people are well known and liked here.

Among those present from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Law, Miss Anna Law, Messrs. Frank Law and Irvin King of Pelham; Mrs. Fannie Jenkins of Darlington, S. C.; Mrs. James Buckman, Jr., of Washington, James F. Buckman, Jr., of Washington, Spier of Ayden; Miss Julia Holt Black of Carthage; Miss Ruth Harris of Fayetteville; Mrs. A. C. Holloman, Mrs. W. Z. Morton, Mr. David Hoose, Misses Gladys Bagwell, Alma House of Greenville; Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Worsley of Oak City, and Mrs. Claude Burney of Ayden.

Tuesday evening Mrs. Spier, mother of the bride, entertained the members of the bridal party and house guests immediately after the rehearsal of the wedding. Punch was served in the reception hall by Miss Julia Holt Black and Mr. A. C. Spier. An ice course was served in the dining room by Miss Dora Cox and Mrs. Roy Davenport. Miss Ruth Harris and Mrs. P. S. Daniel presided over the bride's book. The feature of the evening was the cutting of the wedding cake, and toasts to the bride.

WASHINGTON SAILORS DEFEAT GREENVILLE BY SCORE 6 TO 4

Sailors Take Boll Weevils in Tow in Second Game of Series by Piling up Total of Five Runs in the First Inning Which the Locals Found Impossible to Overcome. Wood's Triple With Bases Full Featured for Washington

In decidedly one of the slowest and most uninteresting contests here since opening of the league Greenville yesterday afternoon dropped the second game of the series to Washington by the score of 6 to 4. Both clubs played listlessly after the first inning, and apparently were unable to recover at any time throughout the remainder of the game.

Washington literally won in the first inning when they succeeded in sending five runners around to the checking station. Greenville at times tried hard to overcome the lead, particularly in the eighth frame, but failed to do so because of inability to hit when hits would have resulted in runs. The Sailors at such periods played in airtight form, and absolutely refused to yield the slightest kind of an advantage either in the field or at bat.

The exhibition was witnessed by a pretty fair attendance, both the bleachers and grandstand being well filled withstanding excessive heat of the day. Rooters started out in old time form, but after the visitors gained the overwhelming lead even the most noisy appeared momentarily subdued and failed to exhibit as much spirit as on other occasions. Both clubs, it must be admitted, fielded about as good as usual having two errors charged against them.

Greenville, however, didn't lose so much by erratic fielding as by Jones' wildness in the first inning when he issued a free pass to one batter and hit two almost in rapid succession. One runner was forced in this way, three later scoring when Wood lined the old apple out to center field for three bases, later scoring himself on Rowland's timely single. The drive only would have been good for one base under ordinary circumstances, but Kit-trel permitted the pill to roll squarely between his legs, and gave chase at a mile a minute pace. When he recovered it however, Wood had reached the third sack in safety, and romped in to the checking station with the fifth tally when Armstrong binged.

After the unfortunate first inning Jones settled down to business in earnest, permitting only three more bingles which resulted in two other runs.
Baird hurled a beautiful game for the Sailors, holding the locals practically hitless and scoreless until the eighth frame when they succeeded in scoring four men. This came about as a result of the hurler losing use of his pitching arm. He was forced to retire in the eighth because of condition of the limb, being relieved by Ludwig who pitched the ninth inning in an excellent way.

Neither club showed particularly good form. To tell the truth, every player appeared tired out at the beginning and couldn't handle the old apple quickly and consistently to save their lives. Of course fielding was best and as a result things dragged fair at times, but nothing extra at the from inning to inning without the slightest sign of life or animation.

Kittrel came in for the biggest share of hitting in behalf of the local club, securing a triple in the eighth frame which was partly responsible for Greenville's four runners reaching the checking station. Wood featured in fielding in the ninth inning by a brilliant stop of a hard hit ball which easily looked good for extra bases.
There were a few other good stops, but no more better than expected.

The box score follows:

Greenville:	A	B	R	H	E

DIAMOND DUST

Stringfield also had on his batting clothes yesterday as he found Manning for three singles out of four times at bat. That's a rapid pace, and would mean something if he managed to do the same thing every day.

We are sorry it was Washington, but we had to win somehow. New Bern was greedy enough to take three straights from us the first part of the week, so it is natural the boys had to do something to keep from getting too far into the cellar.

If we could have piled up those fourteen bingles against the formidable New Bern Bears the story would be entirely different. As it is, we weren't able to hit when hits meant runs, therefore, it was natural we got three sound thrashings.

Manning beat us two straight games of a double header last Fourth of July, so yesterday's victory did the boys about as much good as to beat New Bern.

The Boll Weevils lived up to their name for one time. They proved destructive to Washington, and here's hoping they will be able to repeat the performance next time they get hooked up with the Bears.

It's a safe bet that Kinston people did some celebrating last night after the Robbins' trimmed the invincible club from New Bern. The truth is, Greenville people were extremely interested in the encounter also, may expressed great joy at the outcome.

We don't wish New Bern any hard luck, but it's to be hoped we will be in form when they come again so those six victories may be evened up the slightest bit. If Kinston and Washington are able to turn the trick, then that leaves Greenville to go one better. We have been able to handle both the Robbins and Sailors with comparative ease, but the Bears have baffled us beyond endurance. Revenge in this instance will be sweet indeed.

If we succeed in taking three games in succession from the Sailors the cellar can't hold us any longer. And it's to be hoped the Bears can't either.

Leon Kittrel, who is the only local man playing with the Greenville club, has exhibited comparatively splendid form of late, and promises to prove something to be considered with the willow. He fields his position well also, therefore, it is presumed Barnes will keep him on the bench ready for work at any time.

"Mug" Massey hasn't been living up to his reputation with the willow of late, but came back into his own yesterday and lined the old apple out for couple of safeties. It looked good, too, for generally when the hefty first baseman hits the old apple it finds its way to a far end of the lot.

It's to be hoped this puzzling brand of baseball will change soon and give Greenville a chance of walloping New Bern. We have been able to handle Kinston and Washington exactly as

Lyle rf	3	0	0	0
Wood 3b	4	1	1	1

desired, but New Bern had us hoodooed in the beginning and actually won six straight games, or equivalent to that.
Things can't continue the same way all the time, and when the change comes there's no telling what in the world will happen to this set of bruisers.

If Washington repeats yesterday's feat today, then we are cellar bound, that's all there is about it. The Sailors played like they meant business yesterday, and will stage a determined fight for honors today.

Wood turned the trick on Greenville yesterday. He was released the early part of the week and immediately signed up with Washington. In the first game against us yesterday he tripled with three men on bases and made a sensational play in the ninth inning that did the locals much damage. The former member of the Scotland Neck Hyphens played good ball last year, but appeared out of form while with Greenville. His first work with the Sailors was creditable in deed and indicates he is gradually assuming old time form.

Washington didn't have much hope of beating the hard hitting Boll Weevils but they did, and made a good job of it. Baird hurled a mighty fine brand of ball for the visitors, and in all probability would have been able to prevent any scoring if his arm had remained in shape throughout the game.
As it was he gave out completely, being relieved by Ludwig.

It's a pity Kinston had to lose yesterday's exhibition after holding the New Bern Bears 10 to 5 for eight innings when the lucky league leaders succeeded in sending six runners around the circuit. That's what we call luck as well as heavy work with the willow.

Jones pitched mighty good ball after the first inning in yesterday's affair. If that disastrous frame could be blotted out everything would be all right, but as it is the Sailors have the big end of the bargain.

Today's contest will determine whether the Sailors are to continue to occupy the cellar or are ready to yield it to Greenville. They've held it long enough, and if the Boll Weevils don't play like the dickens today they will find themselves holding supreme sway.

Kittrel is handling the willow in a mighty gratifying way now, and promises to develop into one of the most reliable men on the team. He is the only local man capable of playing in this league, so every time he makes a good play Greenville folks are pleased over it.

That was a mighty large score between New Bern and Kinston yesterday, but shows the Robins are putting up opposition to be reckoned with.
The Bears heretofore have found winning easy, but Kinston is going to turn the trick if they keep on fooling.
Luck has played a prominent part in New Bern's many victories, and when Kinston succeeds in breaking the streak, the formidable bruisers may be forced to hunt a hole.

It is gratifying to note the local club has been able to secure the services of Bill Ellis, second baseman who played with us last season. Bill is not only a fast base runner, but ready with the willow and a good fielder.
We need such a man badly, and the sooner he reports for duty the better we like it.

Greenville has played in tough luck this season, but maybe things will change pretty soon and give the boys a chance of showing what is in them.

Critics, of course, say we lost through inconsistent playing. We admit that, but it must also be acknowledged that the boys have been out of form and unable to really get in trim so far.
We can't continue playing as usual.
Everyone admits that, so it's to be expected this accentuated state of affairs will change things considerably within the course of a few days.

Say what you please, but if the Boll Weevils don't do better than they've been doing then it is difficult to understand what the consequences will be. New Bern will soon have enough games to their credit to win the series, so if we are going to do anything it's time to start something. Washington is trying like the mischief to push us into the cellar, and are going to do it unless a change occurs mighty soon.

Saxe Barnes had better take the boys out for a little morning practice.
In fact, if they don't pull together better, we might as well start out practicing about two hours before the regular game and be ready for business.

THE DOT RED CROSS
By Clifford Leon Sherman

Don't you sometimes wonder if the very rich little girls don't get bored once in a while with having so many people looking after them? I should think it would be lots nicer to get away alone and have some fun. What difference does it make if one's hands get dirty or one's truck gets torn? We are not going to live forever. Now, I don't know whether our little heroines got bored or not, but sometimes I used to feel sorry for her when her mother would send her out for carriage exercise. There would be the mail, and the driver and sometimes two, but surely always one — (14)
