CRAZED FELLOW SHOTS GIRL THEN FIRES ON HIMSELF

Leslie Cox Shoots Sweetheart Twice as She Walks Along Street With Another Young Man

Washington, June 26.—Crazed with heart in company with another man, jealousy because he saw his sweetheart, Leslie Cox, age 24, shot Miss Lola Ecklin, age 18, twice through the body and then turned the revolver upon himself, inflicting a serious wound in the abdomen, this evening shortly after 7 o'clock. Miss Ecklin is at one of the local hospitals at the point of death, while Cox is at the other local hospital begging the physicians to allow him to die. The girl's chances for recovery were said tonight to be very slim.

The shooting occurred on Fifth street and was witnessed by a score or more persons in the immediate vicinity. A large crowd of other people quickly gathered and threats of violence against the crazed young man were heard, but it is not believed that any effort will be made to put them into effect. A special police detail has been stationed at the hospital where Cox is a patient.

Both Miss Ecklin and Cox are well known here. It is said that they have been going together but that they quarreled about two weeks ago and that Cox had not been to see the girl since. He is reported to have told her that if he ever saw her in company with another man he would kill her.

This afternoon Miss Ecklin and a girl friend went out walking with two young men. After taking some pictures in the outskirts of town, one of the young men left them and the other young man accompanied them to the city.

As they were walking slowly along Fifth street about 7 o'clock, footsteps were heard behind but no attention was paid to them until Miss Ecklin was suddenly seized by the arm and swung around. The others in the party turned to see Cox with a revolver in his hand, which he brandished, his face deathly white and his body quivering with excitement.

"What did I tell you?" he shouted, and before anyone could reach him he thrust the pistol against the girl and fired. Her body swayed slightly and he fired again, the second bullet taking effect within four inches of the first.

Dropping the girl he stepped back a pace and placed the revolver against his own body and pulled the trigger, then falling with his face to the pavement. The young woman was taken to the Washington hospital while the young man was carried to the Fowle Memorial hospital.

Miss Ecklin regained consciousness but at 10 o'clock tonight she was in a critical condition. Cox was operated on and the doctors think he will recover.

Miss Ecklin is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ecklin of this city. Mr. Cox is employed in a local business establishment.

YACHTSMAN, JOCKEY, ACTOR—CAN YOU BEAT IT?

Champion gentlemen jockey, race horse owner, yachtsman, bon vivant and actor—this is only part of the life record of Henry Sedley, who plays the role of Henry De Vries, in "The Woman God Changed," a superb Paramount-Cosmopolitan picture which will be shown at White's theatre tomorrow.

Mr. Sedley was born in New York and attended St. Paul's school, Andover and Yale university. He early went in for sports and won the title of champion gentleman jockey for a time.

Then the stage lured him and held him for five years. After that a California studio put him in the pictures. Reginald Owen and E. K. Lincoln have the leading roles in this production. The story deals with the fortunes of a dancing girl who kills her common law husband and who later lands in court to find love and happiness.

JAMES HALLEY

James Halley is a remarkable old gentleman. At least Secretary Meredith thinks so, for he is planning to give him a private reception all of his own at the department of agriculture. And surely 53 years of continuous service entitles old Mr. Halley to this honor. Since July 1, 1862, until his retirement, May 1920, he served faithfully in the department as a cabinet maker. When he retired on his pension of $641 a year, Mr. Halley asserted that he was still able to do a hard day's work.

ELEVEN BODIES ARE LOCATED IN BURNED BUILDING

Foul Play May Have Caused Deaths of Entire Family on Kes-tucky Farm

Mayfield, Ky., June 26.—The bodies of five adults and six children were found in the ruins of the home of Ernest Lawrence, a farmer living about seven miles from here, which was destroyed by fire last night. There were indications that the dead may have been the victims of foul play and at a coroner's inquest held here today a non-committal verdict was returned.

The dead are Ernest Lawrence, 31, his wife, 25, and the three children, ranging in age from five years to eleven months; Otis Drew, 28, and wife 23, and three children ranging from four years to four months, and Delmer Drew, 25. Lawrence and Otis Drew were brothers-in-law and the Drews were brothers.

Neighbors who were attending a picnic about a mile from the Lawrence house, a long structure of only two rooms, saw the blaze about 11:30 o'clock. Two young men, the first to arrive at the scene, were unable to enter the house because of the fire, but climbing a tree nearby could see the bodies lying on the floor.

An examination of the bodies, which were burned beyond recognition, showed that one of the women bore wounds that seemed to have been made by one sharp instrument. The dress of the infant which this woman is thought to have been holding in her arms was drenched with blood.

SEVERAL DEEDS FILED SINCE LAST THURSDAY

The following deeds of transfer have been filed in the office of the register of yesterday afternoon: J. A. Smith of deeds for registration since reports and wife to J. G. Humphrey, consideration $350; S. J. Everett to W. D. Bailey and wife, consideration $13,900; W. C. Thomas and wife to Pitt county board of education, $512.50; W. R. James and wife to Pitt county board of education, $60; Lorenzo McLawhorn to Pitt county board of education, $500; James E. Clark, Jr., et al; J. Bryan Grimes, et al, to Pitt county board of education $1; A. M. Denning and wife to Claudius McGowan, consideration $10; J. D. Johnson and wife to T. J. Worthington, consideration $4,000.

FREIGHT RATES TO BE ANNOUNCED BY COMMERCE BODY

Details of Plans Now Being Worked Out to be Given Publicity Later On

A determined effort on the part of officials of the Pitt county chamber of commerce to obtain freight rate reductions on shipments from New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore to points in Pitt county has been decided upon and details of the plan are now being worked out.

After a close study of rates from the large eastern cities to points in this vicinity it was revealed that because of the large line operating from there to New Bern and Washington the latter cities enjoy a considerably lower rate. Further study revealed that the rail haul from Washington, the nearest water-rate point to Greenville and points in Pitt county should be given the benefit of this competitive rate. Officials of the chamber plan to plead for a reduction fully 20 percent under the present rates that apply from the big eastern cities.

H. L. Smith, secretary of the Pitt county organization, is in communication with traffic experts and a conference of prominent shippers and chamber officials is being considered. The details of the claims of this section would then be formulated.

That the rates into Pitt county points are considered exorbitant and are injuring business is indicated clearly by the large number of members who have asked the chamber to use their best efforts to bring about relief. It was stated at the chamber of commerce office this morning that this is the outstanding plank of the program of work that will be presented to the directors for adoption this week.

TWO MARRIAGE LICENSES FILED SINCE LAST WEEK

The following marriage licenses have been issued by the register of deeds since last reports: Kinsey Wheeler to Floyd Barber, both of Greenville township; Colored, Milton Johnson to Malissa Little, both of Greenville territory.

Post American Legion Meet

The Pitt county post of the American Legion meets tonight at 8 o'clock in the Princeton dining room. A full attendance is urged.

Service for the Asking

The Daily News yesterday furnished the baseball results as the game progressed to 100 telephone calls at the office, not to mention many at the park. This speaks service both on the part of the paper and the ladies in the telephone exchange. And it is all free for the asking. Call us up; we'll tell you.—Kinston Daily News.

APPALING

It is appalling to know that out of 25,000,000 children of the United States of school age only 6,000,000 are in school. The fact should be considered seriously by persons who have been opposing enlarged school programs for the future. It shows there are hundreds of communities in which education is not fully appreciated and that the public is not providing for the schools as it should.

North Carolina, however, is to be blessed along this line, although we have a long way to go before catching up with a number of progressive States. Right at this time hundreds of new school buildings are under construction and great plans for consolidation of rural schools are being worked out. Yet, there are people who are offering stiff opposition to these improvements, and they have to some extent, been successful in the fight. If the country is to reduce illiteracy as planned, then the time for eliminating opposition is here. The sooner the campaign begins the better everyone ought to like it as we are brought near the time when those twenty five million children will be provided for.

NEW SUPERINTEND'T OF EDUCATION TAKES CHARGE HERE TODAY

R. G. Fitzgerald Succeeds S. B. Underwood at Special Meeting of Board of Education

The Pitt county board of education met in special session here this morning to consider plans for turning over the office of superintendent of education to R. G. Fitzgerald, who was sometime ago elected to succeed S. B. Underwood who is to take charge of public schools in Raleigh during the month of July.

The board will meet with the county commissioners this afternoon to work up the county budget for the ensuing year and arrange certain other plans in connection with activities of the department of education for the next several months. There are a number of important matters to come under consideration during both sessions and it will probably be late in the afternoon before work is completed.

Action of the board results from the resignation of Mr. Underwood several weeks ago to assume charge of educational work in the city of Raleigh. After short consideration Mr. Fitzgerald was elected as his successor. The change was to have been made the first of July, but the special session was called for today in order to get things straightened out as early as possible so Mr. Underwood may go to his new field of labor immediately.

LET THE PUBLIC KNOW

A local merchant was talking to another local citizen yesterday afternoon. "So-and-so seems to be selling quite a lot of goods these days, doesn't he?" (The store he mentioned happened to be the store mentioned in the advertisement.)

"Yes, I reckon he's selling a lot of goods," replied the merchant. "However, I've got the same stuff on my shelves that he has and I'm selling it just as cheap."

And that ended the conversation, as far as we are concerned. It gives an apt illustration, however, of business methods.

The two merchants involved in this case carry the same line of goods. The merchant who is doing a good business is also a heavy advertiser. The other merchant, who made the remark quoted above, hasn't had a newspaper advertisement in the last six months.

The first merchant is letting the public know of the merchandise he has on hand and also the prices at which he is selling this merchandise. As a result, he is doing a good business.

But how is the public to find out that the second merchant has just as good values to offer?

People read newspaper more today than they ever have before. They are paying more attention to the advertisements, for it is everybody's desire to save as much money as possible. The wave of extravagance which swept over this country a year or two ago, is a thing of the past. Therefore people are keeping close watch on all advertisements.

The stores in Washington that are enjoying good business today are the stores that advertise.

Stop and think that over for a minute or two and then see if you don't agree with us.—Washington News.

Barbecue Dinner

A few days ago Miss Josephine Skinner was hostess at a barbecue dinner complimentary to her house guest, Miss Dorothy Baum of Salisbury, Mo. The guests arrived at one o'clock and the dinner was served on the lawn. After the dinner dancing was participated in. The guests departed at four o'clock after having a most delightful time.

James Joy Jeffreys is known all over the country as "the Man in Overalls" and as "the Billy Sunday of the Railroad." He is a noted lecturer and evangelist who specializes in good citizenship, care of the body, including food, exercise, morals, etc., as well as purely spiritual talks.

PRISONERS FOILED IN AN ATTEMPT TO GET OUT OF PRISON

Three Colored Men Last Night Had Plans Frustrated by Timely Arrival of Deputy Sheriff

Jack Smith, Tom Edwards and Sam Mitchell, colored men who have been confined in the county jail in this city for a number of days, last night made an attempt to escape through one of the rear windows of the building but were prevented by timely interference of Deputy Sheriff Jackson, who heard the men working at the bars shortly after he had retired for the night.

Mr. Jackson immediately investigated and found that the negroes with a brick and iron bar had succeeded in breaking the lock on the window and would have been free several minutes later. They had been granted the privilege of staying in the corridor during the night because of the excessive heat, and must have secured possession of the iron and brick through the bars some time during the day.

Immediately after the plot had been frustrated one of the men declared he had rather be in Hades than jail and meant to do everything to escape, although chances admittedly were mighty slim at the time.

This is the third time within the past few months that prisoners nearly effected a wholesale jail breaking but were prevented by deputies who happened to get wind of the plots before they could be put in action. Two or three persons succeeded in gaining their liberty through the front door, but happened to be well provided for in the way of keys, hack saws and other necessities.

Success looks easy, but it is really the failures that are easy. And yet there are few failures. Few men go wealth at night to read certain books they attempted, what they saw in their vision, would be a failure or not. They never gave their idea a fair chance. They were simply beaten by the initial difficulties, and never got so far as the real problem. What they attempted has often been a success when taken in other hands. If men were not so easily beaten, if they would not give us so readily, if they believed enough in their vision to stay with it to the end, just as they stay with their families, there would be very few failures. It is fear that kills men. Men have their pet fears. And these pet fears, like spinsters' cats and canary birds, rule the house of life. Get rid of them. Open the doors and let them run away.—Ford's International Weekly.

Don't forget the dance at Forbes and Morton's warehouse Tuesday evening, June 28th. Script.

PLANS ANNOUNCED BY THE COMMITTEE FOR WILSON AWARD

Franklin D. Roosevelt and Hamilton Holt Head Nation-Wide Movement

New York, June 25.—Plans for the nation wide movement for the establishment of the fund to endow an award which will bear the name of Woodrow Wilson were announced yesterday by Franklin D. Roosevelt, chairman of the national committee.

"This award will be known as the Woodrow Wilson foundation," Mr. Roosevelt said. "Its purpose will be to recognize and further ideals for which Mr. Wilson stood. In raising a fund for the permanent endowment of this award the American people will be given opportunity to express their appreciation of Mr. Wilson's services to humanity."

"Hamilton Holt, the editor of The Independent, has been invited to act as executive director of the fund, and he has assumed active charge of the work. The Central Union Trust company of New York is to act as depository and treasurer. Headquarters have been established at 150 Nassau street.

"Cleveland H. Dodge has been named as chairman of the temporary executive committee. Other members of this committee are Frank I. Cobb, Mrs. J. Malcolm Forbes, Edwin F. Gay, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Edward M. House, Adolph S. Ochs, Frank L. Polk, Miss Virginia Potter and Mrs. H. Otto Wittmann."

The movement had its origin last March in a meeting attended by members of Mr. Wilson's former official family and several hundred men and women who wished to honor Mr. Wilson for his service to the world. At this time it was decided to ask friends and admirers of Mr. Wilson in this country and abroad to subscribe to a fund as a memorial to his work. A committee was formed to decide on the means of carrying out this idea and they have adopted a plan for the raising of a fund.

DR. J. B. TURNER ADDRESSES Y. W. C. A. TRAINING SCHOOL

"The Great Surrender" was the subject of an inspirational address by Dr. J. B. Turner before Y. W. C. A. of the Training school Sunday evening. He stated that there are two kinds of surrender; the surrender of self-respect, reputation and character, as typified by the dethroned Kaiser, and the surrender of one's life to God.

He emphasized the fact that a surrender usually means a loss of worldly possessions, and sacrifices of life, but he declared that in proportion as we give up life in just such proportions will we attain success.

He said the surrendered life is one of radiance, inspiration and hope. Dr. Turner explained the Christ life of reality. If we strive for noble things we shall realize noble attributes. He reiterated the importance of finding one's niche that God has planned and that place which no one else can fill for us. In closing he stated we can never be happy unless we follow God's plan.

The successful life walks hand in hand with God.

Maccabees Meet Tonight

Knights of the Maccabees will meet tonight in their hall to transact important business matters. Every member is urged to be present.

President Harding may have some idea of what foreign policy means, but if he has any himself, the public has yet to see or hear of it. This was one of his strong talking points during the campaign, but since that time he has quieted down considerably, and hardly recognizes anything pertaining to foreign questions.

Music will be furnished by "Tar Baby's Five" at the dance in Forbes and Morton's warehouse tomorrow evening.

Heart may know how to handle a newspaper, but Gompers will probably convince him how to be more careful the way he handles his pen.

Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of Labor, has seen fit to assail the record of William Randolph Hearst, American newspaper magnate.
Judging by the past he has something to assail, that's a safe go.

It's going to take exactly $60 for every man, woman and child to run the government next year, according to statistics just made public. That being the case it looks like what we need now is a cheaper government, or some way to reduce the amount to about one-third.

Admiral Sims has submitted to Secretary of State Denby a copy of what he claims to have said in his London speech. The secretary, of course, may accept it, but if the admiral is as slick as people say he is, then we are sure he changes according to his own liking. It might be advisable at least, that is if he means to please the American people and the navy department.

If Admiral Sims didn't say what he intended to say, and didn't mean to say what he did say, then what in to do about it. The incident seems the mischief is Secretary Denby going to have been converted into a most perplexing one and may be concluded after the secretary goes through a great mass of papers covering the address. If Mr. Sims is going to cause further muddles of the kind it's to be hoped he will be mighty careful of what he says in the future, especially about Ireland.

The tariff question may not be troubling the people very much at this time, but when they begin paying for it, then the kick will come. It's mighty nice to talk about how beneficial such issues will be, but when it is realized the public has another burden to bear the entire thing assumes an entirely different aspect. The trouble with us now is taxation and tariffs, and the sooner they are eliminated the earlier people will be able to recover from present distressing conditions.

If Dr. Peacock isn't crazy, then his lawyers or somebody has made a terrible blunder. Judge Finley has decided that his release would prove dangerous to the public, and ordered his return to the asylum for lifetime.
Of course, this may sound all right, but to a man of Dr. Peacock's characteristics the decision means one of eternal misery to him. It would have been wiser, probably if some other plea had been presented as there's little reason to believe he would be in worse position than he is under the last decision. They call him crazy, but after all, he is about the sanest crazy man we ever heard of.

Sentiment prevailing throughout the State seems to be in favor of keeping Dr. Peacock locked up, or out of public life. The Statesville Landmark says the "paranoiac lad" is chief of humbugs and scores the jury that acquitted Dr. Peacock. The case has been of great interest, but people who have merely read what the papers had to say are not prepared to offer serious opinion. The jury considered the facts as presented to them, and acted accordingly. Dr. Peacock may be guilty still, but he has been proved slightly deranged by expert physicians and Once she had reigned in the gayest place on Broadway until?—

GREENVILLE WINS FINAL GAME OF SERIES FROM SAILORS 4 TO 3

By Timely Rally in Ninth Frame Boll Weevils Succeeded in Sending One Runner Across the Rubber Breaking the Ties Washington Succeeded in Affecting in Their Part of Ninth Inning

Greenville Saturday afternoon made it two out of three by taking the final game of the series from Washington by the score of 4 to 3. The game proved decidedly one of the best played at the fair grounds this season, featuring in brilliant fielding and at times heavy work with the willow. Washington put up a superb exhibition and contested each inning in a determined and consistent way, but Greenville sent one runner across the rubber in the ninth after two men were down breaking the tie which the Sailors managed in effecting in first half of the ninth.

Ratchford came in for honors of the day for Greenville by lining the old apple out for three bases in the ninth after two men had been retired, later scoring on a fortunate, well placed single by Massey. This settled the affair so far as the grandstand and bleachers were concerned, but hundreds of fans expressed their appreciation of the victory by rooting which without a doubt surpassed anything during the entire season.

The rally with two men down was simply a repetition of a number of games of last year, and recalling this fact in a vivid way, fans and families gave vent to their delight by unrestrained cheering. The game had been determinedly contested up to that moment, and increased in interest every moment, especially after the Sailors succeeded in tying the score. Some thought extra innings would be necessary, while others were too interested to think at all. So when Ratchford walked up to the rubber after all hope had been abandoned by retirement of preceding batsmen and lined the old pill out for three bags, everyone went momentarily wild, even to the players. Then Massey did exactly what they were hoping he would do, literally taking the game from the Sailors after they did their best with the willow in their part of the ninth.

To say both club handled the ball in old time form would be expressing the matter mildly. Greenville was credited with two bobbles and Washington one. These, however, occurred at times when they yielded only slight advantage, and didn't prove fatal as on the day before when wild throwing and errors gave the visitors the game.

"Lefty" McLain did the hurling for Greenville, being opposed by Ludwig for Washington. Both hurled exceptionally well, particularly in pinches. Ludwig yielded nine hits, the majority of them being secured when they resulted in runs. McLain proved slightly stingy, allowing only seven, which were kept well scattered, especially with men on bases. After the first frame Ludwig refused to yield anything in the shape of a timely hit until the seventh, when the locals put two runners around to the checking station. McLain, on the other hand, allowed scoring in the third, fifth and ninth frames, but fortunately succeeded in tightening up in time to prevent the visitors gaining the slightest kind of an advantage.

The game indicated that both clubs were somewhat stronger than in first games at Washington, although it is true Greenville failed to show proper form in Friday's game. Fielding was of a much better brand than noticeable at Washington, though it cannot be said the outfield showed any improvement.

Kinston comes to Greenville today for three days. This will be the second time the two clubs have come in contact this season, so it is expected they will vie harder than ever for honors. The Robins, it is said, have strengthened positions which appeared weak in our trip to their nest, therefore the three games promise to give the Boll Weevils plenty of entertainment in every sense of the word.

DIAMOND DUST

Well, we managed to make it two out of three against Washington. Here's hoping we can do the same against Kinston, although it is very doubtful.

Jim White's Kinston Robins certainly furnished the New Bern Bears plenty of entertainment the latter part of the last week. The first two games were equally divided, the third resulting in a ten inning tie. This goes to show the Robins are getting back in form in a ten inning tie. This goes to show the Robins are getting back in form or that the Bears are weakening. It is to be hoped the last is correct, for New Bern has already won enough games to give them pretty fair chances of winning the pennant.

It is said a number of new faces will be seen in the Greenville dugout today. If that means we are going to have a better brand of ball, then here's hoping they remain there. The Boll Weevils so far have been able to handle Washington and Kinston with apparent ease, but the Bears have had us hoodooed. Kinston is proving more formidable than in opening game, so it is expected the series here beginning today will be of considerable interest to everyone.

Ratchford increased his batting average considerably with that three bagger in the ninth inning yesterday. In fact, he secured the hit just in time to beat the visitors and that's all anyone could ask for. Mug Massey also came in for his share of honor, as it was his single that later sent Ratchford to the checking station. If the boys keep up the same pace with the willow this week we have a fair chance of taking Kinston in tow. Otherwise, we will be undone, that's all there is to it.

Jones and Mark Webb probably will appear on the mound against Kinston in the first two games of the series, that means we will take these games, although this is merely problematical at the present time. Both hurlers are the best we have, so if they fall it's up to Saxe Barnes to win at least the final game of the series.

The Boll Weevil infield has been working splendidly the past several days, so it is natural to believe they will make a much better showing against the Robins than in first games of the season. Both clubs are admirably matched and no doubt will furnish local fans with a faster class of ball than seen here this season.

It is reported that a rich old geaser recently turned over "two thousand bones" to the manager of the Kinston club with instructions to hire the best players possible. If that is so, and we have little reason to doubt it, indications are that the remainder of the season will see Kinston making a better showing than heretofore. However, the New Bern Bears still believe they are capable of handling anything brought into this league, and will first have to be walloped by the Robins before believing. Greenville is also preparing to furnish a little faster class of entertainment for both clubs, therefore we are confident of seeing things liven up the latter part of the present week.

Carl Jeannette, manager of the Washington Sailors, had no idea of taking a single game from us last week, but he tried like the mischief and really walloped us one time. That shows what "tenacity" means and ought to be noted by members of the Greenville outfit.

Kinston and Greenville are tied for second place, so today's game will determine which will get it. Greenville intended to hold the position after its splendid start the beginning of the season, but six successive wallpings by New Bern gave the Robins a chance of winning out.

Washington is comfortably situated in the cellar now, and may be permanently so after winding up with New things will work out, however, and it Bern this week. There's no telling how may be New Bern defeated instead of the Sailors.

Kinston pounded New Bern's best hurlers at will last week, which assures us of having a chance of making a better showing the next time we meet them. The Bears apparently had it over all clubs at the outset, but before the season is over it is believable practice before the game, he may be they won't find things quite so easy.

If Saxe Barnes gives the boys plenty able to bring them around all right. Insufficient warming up has been the cause of many lost games, so it is hoped the boys will get plenty of it ereafter.

"Lefty" McLain has showed magnificent form in the few games appeared in so far. In fact, he beat Washington easily in the opening series, and would have trounced Kinston if the boys had given him better support. He also lost to New Bern, but that was expected as the boys could drift lay with the Bears, for some inconceivable reason.

If we manage to take three straights from Kinston, well, boys, things will be considerably brighter than heretofore. We have been playing in mighty hard luck for the past several days, but a change is bound to take place, and when it comes we will get everything coming to us, that's a safe bet.

VIRGINIA WOMAN NOW FEELS HAPPY AS A LITTLE GIRL

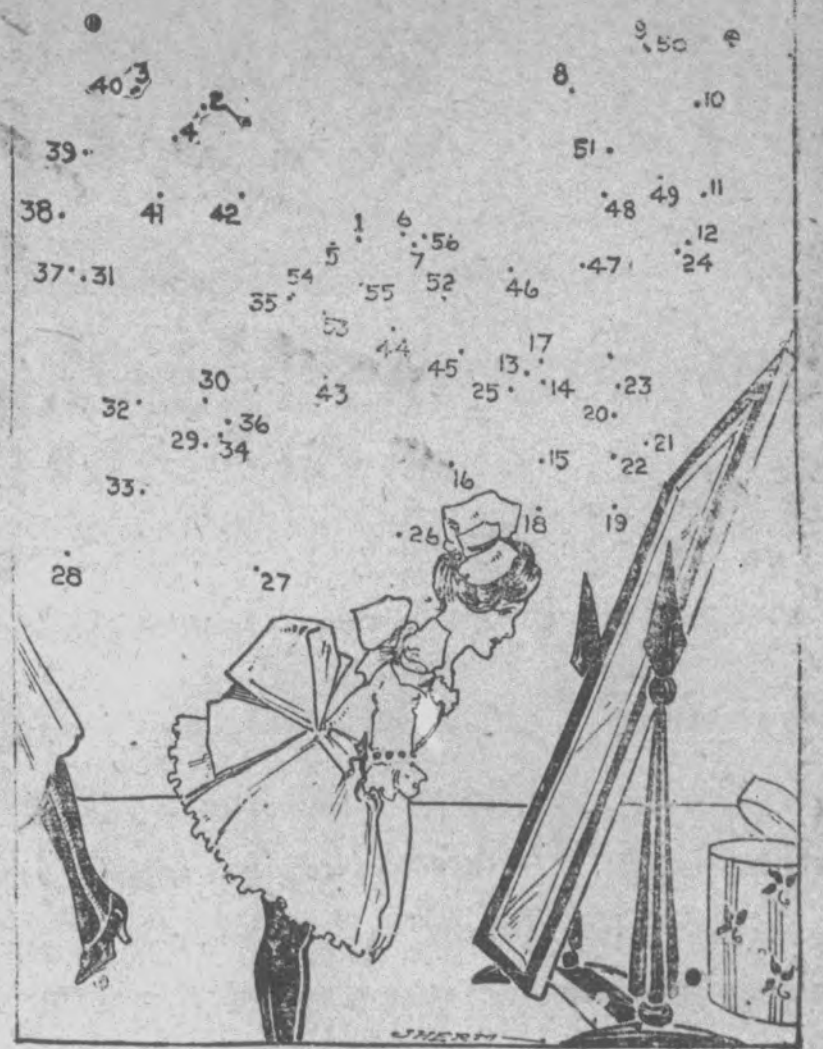

Schoolfield Woman Was Helpless as a Baby When She Began Taking Tanlac—Wants Public to Know

It's hard for me to realize was a girl. I wish there was some even now the big change in my condition. Just think of it I was flat on my back, my left leg and foot swollen almost twice their normal size and hurting me so bad I would sometimes break down and cry. I was on the verge of despair, as I thought I would never be a well woman again. Then Tanlac came to my rescue, and it not only drove the last vestige of rheumatism out of my system, but has built me up so I am feeling better than I have in years.

THE DOT RED CROSS
By Clifford Leon Sherman

Our heroine was brought up so beautifully that she didn't know there were any rough things in life. She was carefully shielded if ever a little girl was. And her manners were certainly perfection. She knew exactly what to do and when to do it. She had a French teacher and a dancing teacher and I don't know what. And she didn't have to do anything for herself. Why, you may not believe it, but when she used to go to the class in deportment twice every week a maid went with her just to carry her.
