FARMVILLE ROAD TO BE OPENED TO PUBLIC AUG. 20TH

Hard Surface Thoroughfare be Completed Latter Part July According to Commissioners

The hard surfaced road from this city to Farmville will be opened for traffic August 20, according to information issued by the county highway commission yesterday afternoon. Construction work will be completed the last day of July, and the road will immediately be cleared of debris and machinery in order to give the public an opportunity of making the first trip to Farmville certainly not later than August 20.

Construction work has been carried on rapidly for the past several months but probably not so much so as desired. There have been many days in which work was held up because of inclement weather and shortage of material, but they have been few and far between, according to members of the highway department who are gratified at the progress they have so far been able to make.

When construction work was first begun it was stated that the road would be finished and open for traffic the middle of July, barring unforeseen difficulties. While everything has been done to live up to the promise, delay has been inevitable and as a consequence contractors are a few days behind, but not enough to cause any complaint from anyone.

The road is considered one of the best in this section of the country, being built entirely of brick and cement. It is nine feet in width, affording adequate passage for automobile and trucks going in opposite directions. The department discussed the question of width considerably when construction was first taken under consideration, practically every member agreeing that a thoroughfare nine feet wide ought to be adequate for many years to come. This is at least three feet wider than such roads in other counties, but still it seems generally conceded that twelve feet would not have been too wide.

The commission, however, figured that more roads could be built nine feet wide than twelve and funds provided for the work caused them to definitely decide in favor of roads similar to the one now nearing completion.

Work on the road to the Lenoir county line is progressing nicely, but so far contractors are unable to say when it will be completed. Progress has not been so favorable as on the other, and as a consequence it cannot be said definitely when traffic will become possible.

Miss Higgs Entertains

Tuesday evening Misses Marguerite, Lella, Madeline and Elizabeth Higgs entertained a few of their friends at their home on Dickinson avenue in honor of Mrs. J. F. Lynch of Duke, who is in Greenville spending some time with her mother, Mrs. R. Hymann. The gentlemen guests of the evening arrived at eight-thirty, when each was given a fair partner for visit to the moving picture show and added attraction at White's theatre. After the show the party motored back to the home and a delicious salad luncheon was served on the porch where they sat in a large circle venturing opinions as to what became of the duck, pigeons and rabbit, which the magician caused to disappear mysteriously at the theatre. No one, however, knew certainly how the trick was done. But the salad luncheon could not be excelled and there was no guessing as to its disappearance among that happy party, composed of Mrs. J. F. Lynch, Misses Margaret Canady, Josephine Tillery, Helen Winbourne, Marguerite, Lella and Madeline Higgs, and Messrs. June Rose, C. C. Piece, J. J. McKenna, Closs and Roy Hearne.

Nobody seemed to realize that time was a factor any more, and twelve o'clock arrived without any warning whatever. Of course when that hour was discovered they just had to bid the hostesses good-night.

Last day of June.

BORAH AMENDMENT GETS APPROVAL OF MEMBERS IN HOUSE

Lower Body Votes 330 to 4, to Concur With the Senate on the Borah Provision

Washington, June 30.—The House agreed late today to the Borah disarmament amendment to the naval appropriation bill, voting 330 to 4. Representatives Moore, Indiana, Republican, and Representatives Campbell, Pennsylvania, Carey, New York, and O'Brien, New Jersey, Democrats, voted in the negative. Lineberger, Republican, California, voted present.

Wild shouts greeted Representative Kelly, Michigan, in charge of the bill, when he moved to concur with the Senate in the Borah amendment to the naval appropriation bill. In no mood for extended debate, many members rose, applauding and cheering, and began to chant, "Vote, vote, vote".

They quieted down, however, when Representative Mondell, Republican leader, had the clerk read a letter he had received from President Harding in which the President declared it was "wholly desirable" to have an expression of a favorable opinion on the part of congress relating to world disarmament.

The letter said it was "not of particular concern to the administration what form the expression shall take". When the reading of the communication was concluded cheering broke out with renewed vigor.

Debate which lasted half an hour, was confined to Mr. Mondell, Representative Garrett, Tennessee, and Representative Byrnes, Democrat, South Carolina. Contrary to the expectation of some members, no attempt was made to offer the Porter substitute, which was considered broader than the Borah amendment in that it would not restrict participants in the proposed conference to Great Britain, Japan and the United States, nor discussion solely to reduction of naval armaments.

KNIGHT TEMPLARS TO HOLD MEETING HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Bethlehem Commandry to Confer Degrees on a Number of Candidates

W. H. Horne, eminent commander of Bethlehem commandry, Knights Templars, this morning called a meeting of the organization for Friday night at which time conferring of degrees will take place. This meeting will be preparatory to the coming next Tuesday night of Grand Commander R. C. Dunn of Enfield, who will preside over exercises featuring the initiation of candidates.

The local order was just recently granted dispensation and since that time has been making considerable progress in the way of increasing its membership. Mr. Horne says it is imperative that all members be present at the meeting tomorrow night in order that plans may be perfected for the coming of the grand commander Tuesday. The occasion promises to be the greatest in the history of the commandry, and for that reason it is desired that everyone attend.

J. MILTON JOHNSTON NEW PROCTOR HOTEL CLERK

Mr. J. Milton Johnson has accepted a position as day clerk at the Proctor hotel, succeeding K. W. Cobb who resigned the first of last week. Mr. Johnson was connected with Hotel Kenyon, Goldsboro, prior to accepting the position here. He is a former resident of Greenville and well known throughout the entire county.

The temperature and humidity together make some people think the weather was never hotter. But it has been.

DIAMOND DUST

Well, it looks as if we are in for three more wallops, as we go up against the Bears again this afternoon. Washington succeeded in beating them yesterday, but it must be remembered that the Sailors have strengthened many weak points the past week. And that's exactly what Greenville hasn't done.

It was mighty humiliating for New Bern to beat us three games in succession, but when Kinston does the same thing, well, that's going entirely too far. It looked like we had the Robins outclassed in opening games of the season, but if results count for anything it's just the other way.

That game yesterday was enough to make even the staunchest supporter sick and faint at heart. Imagine Kinston beating us two straight games with scores exactly double. If that isn't the limit, then we want some well informed person to tell us what limitations look like.

Boll Weevil supporters are ready to acknowledge that both New Bern and Kinston have us outclassed in both fielding and with the willow. The honor was at first conceded to the Bears, but Kinston made such a great showing in the series just ended that everyone is ready to admit they are somewhat stronger. Naturally, it is mighty hard to admit it, but we are duty bound to do so in fairness to the public and players themselves.

Everyone thought Jones would be able to stage a winning contest against the Robins, but, like the rest of 'em, he failed absolutely. The youngster succeeded in beating them on home grounds, but they were too much for him yesterday.

Robins are able to put a better fight away from their nest, that's a cinch. Jim White, captain of the club, had rather beat Greenville than any other club of the league because of the two successive wallops last week. That his desire or ambition, whichever it be, was gratified in the three games here goes without saying.

Greenville is making the same mistake this year as we did last. Instead of finding our weakness and strengthening it in the beginning, we continue to play practically the same men, with the exception of two or three changes. That's the reason Kinston found us easy, and that's the reason Washington will beat us in the next series if some strengthening isn't done right away. New Bern had the most formidable set of players at the outset, and didn't need any new material, but other clubs found what they needed in opening games and are in position to make a determined fight for the pennant. If we are going to do anything, it's time for a beginning immediately, that's a safe go.

Triples, doubles and innumerable singles were in season here this week, but Greenville failed to make only a very few of their number count for anything in the way of runs. The visitors bunched them opportunely, and that's the reason the heavy end of the scoring went to Kinston.

The Boll Weevils used two hurlers in an effort to stem the tide of victory yesterday, but to no avail. Jim White's crew had on their batting clothes, as the boys say, and handled the old willow as if they were brought up on it. Greenville is pretty well fixed in the way of infielders, with exception of one or two positions, but there's plenty room for improvement in the outfield. Think of the number of easy chances lost by bad fielding and then ask yourself what a difference results would have been if so many flies had not been dropped.

Baseball is a great game, everyone is bound to admit. In fact, it is so great and requires so much skill that Greenville hasn't had the opportunity of seeing anything out of the ordinary this season. The locals have pulled off some pretty good fielding and stick work from time to time, but taking it all in all, we have been seeing some mighty ragged playing, we are bound to admit. The club would be considerably stronger with additions to the pitching staff and outfield, so

LUMBER PLANT AT NEW BERN BURNS WITH HEAVY LOSS

Pine Lumber Company Destroyed Early This Morning With a Loss Estimated at $175,000

New Bern, June 29.—The Pine Lumber Co., caught fire early this morning, and burned to the ground, the loss estimated at $175,000 is covered to the extent of $50,000 by insurance. The fire which is still burning was the worst that has occurred here in many years and endangered the whole mill section, including the Slater Lumber Co., and Roadus and Ives Lumber Co., the New Bern Cotton Oil Mill and Rogers' Mill and but for the veering of the wind the loss would have been in the millions.

The lumber in the yards and sheds of the Pine Lumber Co. over 2,000,000 feet made an awfully hot fire and hard work was done by the fire department to save the homes on the west side of Griffith street. The fire which started in the center of the lumber sheds swept so fast that the man discovering it just barely got out of the building and soon the lumber piled for shipment by water at the pier was burning.

The Slater Mill was saved by heroic work by the firemen, although several of them received severe burns in this work. W. F. and John M. Averly are owners and operators and expect to rebuild, it is understood. It is the second time their plant has been leveled by fire. The saw mill was in operation at the time.

TICK ERADICATION WORK MAKING RAPID PROGRESS

Reports from several of the Southern States where cattle fever ticks have hindered the progress of the live stock industry, show that tick-eradication work this spring has made rapid progress. Work was begun early in the spring, for experience has shown that ticks killed during March will prevent the development of thousands of blood-sucking parasites later in the season. The eradication work in Georgia is especially noteworthy, say specialists of the United States department of agriculture.

In that State approximately half a million cattle were dipped during March and 833,434 in April, the work being done under the supervision of Federal, State and county officials. This is a large number of cattle to be dipped, the specialists say, in a cotton-growing State, where the cattle industry has in the past been neglected on account of the presence of ticks. There are 3,201 dipping vats in operation in Georgia, in which the cattle are immersed every 14 days.

It is hoped these acquisitions will be provided before things go too far and we lose all chances of winning the pennant. The first half is out of grasp now, but we can get in position to put up stiff opposition for the last lap if the right kind of men are secured. The public wants baseball, and it is hoped the remainder of the season will witness an entirely different brand from that of the past several days.

Greenville only had seven errors chalked up against them yesterday, so no wonder the Robins found victory decidedly easy. Ragged fielding and inability to handle the stick opportunely have been too disastrous features in the last nine games, therefore, it's to be hoped something will be done to eliminate this undesirable feature as soon as possible.

Triples were in order yesterday, as the score keeper gave five players credit for one each. Massey, Carson and M. Webb secured them for Greenville, while G. Kuyk and Barron featured for Kinston.

WASHINGTON MAN DIES AS A RESULT OF A PISTOL SHOT

Leslie Cox, Would-be Slayer of Lola Ecklin, Passes Away—Girl in Serious Condition

Miss Ecklin Dead
Washington, June 30.—Miss Lola Ecklin, 18 year old girl, who was shot by her crazed sweetheart Sunday afternoon, died in a hospital here this morning.

Washington, N. C., June 29.—Leslie Cox, who shot Miss Lola Ecklin Sunday afternoon because she was walking in company with another man, died at the hospital here this morning at 3 o'clock. Miss Ecklin's condition, it was reported tonight, had taken a turn for the worse and there are grave doubts as to her recovery. She had several spells of unconsciousness during the day and is in great pain tonight according to reports.

Cox did not want to live and he begged several times that he be allowed to die. He never referred directly to the shooting after he was taken to the hospital nor did he make any injuries. On several occasions he spoke of the trial he would have to stand when he got out of the hospital. "I suppose I will have to spend several years in the penitentiary," he remarked last night. "I hope that I die right here," he is said to have remarked on another occasion.

Cox was held in good repute in Washington and had never been in any trouble of any kind, although it is true that he warned Miss Ecklin about two weeks ago that if he ever saw her in company with another man he would kill her. His friends do not believe that the shooting was premeditated. They hold that his jealousy reached the stage of temporary insanity Sunday afternoon and that he did not know what he was doing.

CONDUCT COURSE COTTON GRADING AT CAPITOL CITY

Ten Thousand Samples and Capable Staff Features of the Training

Raleigh, June 30.—Ten thousand samples, each sample representing a bale of the South's greatest staple, expert cotton men detailed as instructors by the U. S. department of agriculture, a strong lecture staff drawn from the college and extension forces in the division of agronomy, and a large, modernly equipped laboratory conveniently arranged as to light are some of the facilities offered for conducting the course in cotton grading now running a part of the State College summer school.

P. H. Hart and J. I. Johnson, employed co-operatively by the United States and North Carolina departments of agriculture, are in charge of the practical instruction in grading and stapling, while W. H. Darst, head of the department of farm crops in the college, takes care of the lecture work.

The quality of the work being done, together with the unusually high class personnel of both the teaching force and the large and representative class taking the course, makes this cotton grading school stand out as one of the most unique in the country.

Four and a half hours are devoted to the course each day. The class assembles at 8:50 in the morning and for an hour listens to a lecture by Professor Darst, or some other member of the college or extension staff, on some phase of the cotton industry. While the lecture is in progress the samples for the day's work are arranged on the classing tables. These samples have been previously graded and stapled by the experts.

After the lecture, the class grades and staples each sample, the grade

BOMBING AIRMEN SCORE TWO HITS ON RADIO IOWA

Bombing Planes Locate Radio-Controlled Battleship Iowa

On Board U. S. S. Nevada, at Sea, June 29.—The radio-controlled battleship Iowa, representing an enemy fleet attacking the Atlantic coast, was located in a few minutes less than two hours by army dirigibles today when about 50 miles off shore and 90 miles north and east of Cape Henry. More than a score of bombing planes, manned by naval and marine corps personnel, rushed to the scene in response to radio messages from the blimps that the "enemy" had been located and hurled 80 dummy bombs of various sizes at the Iowa, registering two hits in the forecabin.

The ease with which the air forces located the Iowa, knowing only that the vessel was somewhere between Cape Hatteras and Cape Henlopen, a distance of about 215 miles, was a source of surprise to most of the naval officers who witnessed the bombing and of gratification to the army men.

Weather conditions were ideal for the test, which was postponed yesterday because of fog. At 8 a. m., the "zero hour," the Iowa was about middle way between Capes Hatteras and Henlopen and 60 miles off shore, steaming directly toward the coast. Accompanying the ship, the battleships Pennsylvania and Nevada, the transport Henderson, and a number of destroyers and mine sweepers, giving a more distinct impression of a battle fleet as the vessels steamed toward shore.

A woman has been appointed forest ranger in the Yellowstone district. Yet there are men who say they are not fit for public offices.

If all facts concerning Sims and Harvey are taken under consideration looks like Harvey deserves dismissal if the admiral was sufficiently guilty to justify reprimand.

Republicans want peace established by the Fourth of July. That being the case, looks like they had better speed up more than usual.

The proposed sale tax is nothing more than greater oppression to the public. The Senate might consider those facts before going deep into the matter. In fact, the public would be more favorably impressed by its desire to do the best by the country.

The charge that people are economizing in North Carolina is set aside by the great reduction in applicants for automobile license this year. Only 40,000 applications have been received so far against 130,000 last year. If facts are necessary to conviction it seems we are in the midst of a great economy program.

Federal land banks are getting back to action in the United States, which assures everyone that the panic is more imaginary than anything else. If people would stop talking hard times and get down to work conditions would be better any way. But they can't be convinced of it, and continue prating about low wages and the high cost of living. Things aren't so pleasant now by a long shot, but in the near future money will be easier and business should be better. If you have been depressed, forget it and look for things to improve.

The Reflector has endeavored to give the best service possible of late in the way of baseball reports and other news features, but it cannot successfully build up a complete news service without the co-operation of the public. There are many things happening which are never put in print because the person in possession of facts doesn't inform the paper of them, and as a consequence the reading public is deprived of main issues at hand. If you happen to know anything, call up the office and let us have it. We are in the business and are striving to give all the local news possible, in a brief yet comprehensive way.

In the belief that a wife's place is in the home and not in the schoolroom the Chicago school board has dismissed all married teachers and replaced them with single women. This is an entirely new phase of the teacher question that wouldn't have been applicable during the year when shortage of teachers was the most serious in years. The plan now, however, may be worked all right so long as teachers are plentiful, but if another war should happen to come Chicago will do as all other cities, and hire whatever kind of teacher happens to be available at the time. Married women, without children, are probably as competent if not more so, than single ones, therefore, they should make excellent teachers. The trouble with unmarried teachers nowadays is that they are too busy hunting husbands, dancing and enjoying social life to really think seriously of duties at school, and married women under such circumstances are very acceptable in every sense of the word.

The probation method of dealing with juvenile delinquents in New York costs only one-eighteenth as much as institutional care, but still a number of counties in North Carolina have found it advisable to dispense with the board of welfare and charity. Pitt county is keeping to the forefront in this line, as monthly reports of Probation Officer Futrelle indicate, and anyone opposed to the work is prejudiced by some mote of an entirely selfish nature. The various departments have accomplished many commendable things, and it is of great interest to the public to support the movement in every way possible. Proper attention to juvenile delinquents has a tendency of reducing crime in years to come, thereby producing a higher type of citizenship, and if this is worth public consideration, then we are at a loss to know what is.

During one hundred and forty-five years, the United States has been engaged in 110 wars or military expeditions, according to statistics recently published by the war department. The country, as a result, has been forced to pay out billions of dollars for every war, so it looks like the best thing to do is to become a member of the league of nations and save our life and property. That's exactly what the organization plans to do, and the United States is very unwise to remain on the outside, jeopardizing life and property of the country as if they were of no importance at all.

The Evanston, Illinois, police department has an airplane police force to regulate traffic. This shows to what extent the airship is gaining in importance and sets aside charges that they would never be of any benefit to the country, further than for flying purposes.

The farmer shouldn't be discouraged if prices for products are not favorable this year. In fact it is hardly to be expected that they will be reviewed within the next year or so. Inflation and abnormality work a great havoc in an economic way, and it is very natural indeed for things to be in a depressed state at the present. Pitt county enjoyed the best to be had while high prices were in sway, so the farmer shouldn't kick now they are low. Time will bring about wonderful changes, and it is assured we will get the best going when the changes come.

Miss Margaret Fleming Entertains

On last evening at her home on Greene street Miss Margaret Fleming delightfully entertained a large number of guests at a beautiful lawn party complimentary to her house guests, Misses Francis Perry of Mount Olive, Iola Wall of Lexington, Thelma Johnson of Clinton and Louise Woodard of Wilson. The lawn was decorated with Japanese lanterns and seats were arranged in many different places. Upon arrival the guests were welcomed by the hostess and introduced to the guests of honor. A large punch bowl was artistically arranged near a beautiful rose bush and delicious fruit punch was served.

Edmond's orchestra furnished music throughout the entirety of the evening. After many games appropriate for such an occasion an ice course was served.

GREENVILLE DROPS THIRD GAME TO KINSTON ROBINS, SCORE 12-5

Visitors Again Succeed in Hitting Opportunely, Sending Runners Around to Checking Station Almost at Will, Greenville Struggled Hard to Overcome Early Lead, But to No Avail

Well, it's all over. Jim White came over from Kinston with his flock of Robins Monday morning and yesterday afternoon won the third straight game from Greenville by the score of 12 to 5. The contest was a virtual repetition of that of the day before, in which the Robins hit the old apple almost at will and sent runners to the checking station without the slightest difficulty. Greenville, of course, rallied desperately at times, but failed miserably in securing hits when they would have resulted in runs.

There were no particular features connected with the game yesterday. In fact, it proved to be a decidedly ragged affair as far as Greenville is concerned. Kinston put up a pretty fair piece of fielding in practically every frame and hit when hits were necessary to send runners around to the checking station. The Boll Weevils on the other hand had seven errors checked up against them, the majority of which proved costly in every sense of the word and enabled the visitors to get their runners to the rubber without more than ordinary trouble.

Jones started out to do the hurling for Greenville, but was relieved in the fourth inning by McLain who fared little better. The Robins gained a definite lead in the first part of the contest, gradually increasing from time to time until twelve tallies had been secured. Greenville found Peffer decidedly easy and caused him to be relieved in the fourth by Padgett, who succeeded in curbing the local hitting spirit in a convincing way.

The old apple was slugged to every part of the lot every inning, the visitors getting thirteen safe bingles against seven by the locals. Three base hits and doubles featured principally. Massey, Carson and M. Webb for Greenville leading in triples. G. Kuyk and Barron made the long drive for the Robins. There was only one two base hit credited for the entire game, Massey of Greenville getting that.

John, D. Kuyk, Briggs and G. Kuyk came in for batting honors for the visitors, the first getting two hits and two runs out of four trips to the plate. G. Kuyk out of four times up secured three hits and two runs, the remainder succeeding in getting two hits each. Practically every member of the club hit when they were needed the worst, and this fact is largely responsible for the definite lead the Robins piled up in early stages of the affray.

For Greenville, Carson, Massey and Webb probably outdid the remaining members of the club, Massey securing three hits and three runs out of three trips to the rubber. Carson probably didn't do so good so far as runs are concerned, but he lined the old pill out for two safe hits out of four trips to the plate. Webb out of four times up got one hit and a done run. He, however, had two errors credited against him, which made the hit and run absolutely necessary to make up for the mischief of the errors.

The locals have been defeated so much of late that they expect it as a natural daily affair. They go up against New Bern again today, so there is nothing in the world to do but get in readiness for three more wallpings. Now, of course, it is possible the extraordinary may happen in the way of Greenville getting one out of the three games scheduled, but that is hardly probable and about the only thing to do is to anticipate continued defeat. Some may call this pessimism, but we've been defeated so often that too much nerve is required to look out for anything more. However, we can't expect the same thing all the time, therefore, we may get in line when weak positions are strengthened.

WASHINGTON GETS THIRD ONE FROM NEW BERN BEARS

Jeanette's Sailor Boys Tame Bruins For Second Time of the Season, 2 to 1

New Bern, June 29.—Washington played errorless ball behind the superb pitching of Lefty Austin today and the Sailors defeated the Bears in the third game of the series, 2 to 1. It was indeed a pitchers' battle, with south paw opposing south paw. Lefty Wilson doing the pitching for the locals. The latter allowed Washington only five clean hits while Austin allowed six. Both clubs earned one run each.

New Bern drew first blood in the third inning. McGee was safe on an infield hit. Duncan sacrificed him to second and he scored on Neal's double to left field.

Washington clinched the game in the fifth. Austin singled, Jeanette sacrificed him to second. Armstrong flew out to left field. Decker singled to left, who threw to Neal at second to catch the runner who was trying to make two bases. He missed the ball and Austin counted. Rowland walked on four wide ones. Johnson singled over short and Decker scored. Wood fled out to short.

Only a small crowd attended the game, which was one of the best of the season. Greenville comes tomorrow for a three-day's visit. Since last Thursday the locals have won two games, lost two and tied, an even break.

The police will be on the watch tomorrow for cars running without the new license tag on them.
