RECONSTRUCTION AIDS JOB. LESS IN FRANCE TERRITORY

Paris, Jan. 3.—With only 16,000 unemployed over the whole of France, according to a recent official count, the French people are now beginning to see the silver lining in the terrible cloud of the devastated regions. While the reconstruction of these regions is going on with such infinite slowness as to be a continual tax on the patience of the inhabitants, the building that is being done is sufficient to keep practically everybody in that part of the country employed. It also has a stimulating effect on general business conditions, which are much more favorable in France than across the Channel.

One important factor in keeping down the unemployment totals is national conscription. The standing army of France is now over 800,000 men, 600,000 of which are conscripted from the native population. By retaining this huge army France has avoided the economic shock which has been felt in England and America, when the huge war armies were suddenly demobilized to an insignificant peace footing. In justice to France, however, I should be pointed out that a large standing army has been the rule for the last forty years, and it is thus normal that over half a million men should be removed from economic life and kept in barracks at the expense of the nation. The increase in the governmental bureaucracy is still another factor in

REGULAR BUSINESS MATTERS TAKEN UP AT ROTARY MEETING

Members Look Forward to Better Things During Present Year and Mean to Do Their Part

Considerable business was disposed of at the regular meeting of the Rotary club last night. Several matters of interest were discussed while supper was served and members looked forward to better business conditions during the new year.

Attendance was up to the average and every member entered into the business discussion in an interesting way. The past year was an eventful one for the club, but it is the purpose of every member to make this year even better if such is possible. Conditions at the time are brighter than they have been in months, they declared, and Rotary is going to play an important part in the turn around the corner for better things.

GREENWOOD SEES GREATER HOPE FOR IRISH FREEDOM

Declares International Situation Will be Cleared and Anglo-American Friendship Strengthened

By EARLE C. REEVES International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON.—Sir Hamar Greenwood, the last secretary of State for Ireland, believes that not only Ireland but the whole world has been pacified by the Irish settlement. Although still, during the weeks following publication of the settlement terms, technically the ruler of Ireland, Sir Hamar has taken the lead in setting an example for Britain by advocating a policy of "hands off" the Irish Free State.

When de Valera throw a bombshell into the settlement by refusing to approve it the International News Service went to Sir Hamar for a statement. The prime minister had declared that he, more than any other single man, was responsible for peace. Peace appeared to be endangered.

Greenwood delivered the word of hope, similar to the brief statement with which the elder J. P. Morgan once ended a panic.

"I have always been an optimist regarding Ireland," he said. "I see no reason to alter that optimism today."

It was his optimism, coupled with that of the premier, which held the British delegation and the British nation quiet and determined not to be stampeded into chaos in the face of the most disheartening crisis of the long negotiations.

Shorn by his own act of the greatest political job he has held in his meteoric career, this Canadian-born British statesman will continue to be an inspiration to the new State.

He is all optimism now, in peace as in times of war.

Orlando Hardee, colored, is confined at the Smith & Skinner emergency hospital suffering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident shortly before the noon hour today. The man attempted to jump from a moving car, lost his balance and fell to the pavement with terrific force. While physicians were unable to determine the nature of his injuries at the time, it is believed his skull was fractured. He was in a semi-conscious condition when carried to the hospital.

COUNTY HIGHWAY BOARD CONSIDERS FUTURE ACTIVITY

Several Important Matters Pertaining to Greenville-Grimesland Road and Ayden-Grifton Road

The contract for grading the Greenville-Grimesland roadway, which is to be constructed from this city to Grimesland and beyond to the Beaufort county line, will be let by February 7th, started J. B. Harding, county engineer following the annual meeting of county highway commissioners who met jointly with township advisory commissioners here yesterday afternoon.

Contracts for the construction of bridges and culverts on the Greenville-Bethel roadway, a distance of 14 miles, will also be let on February 7th. The contract for paving this stretch will be let in time for actual construction work to begin sometime in the early spring, it was stated.

Grading on the Ayden-Grifton road, together with embankment of the roadway across the river, will be completed in about ten days, and after that time it is hoped to make even more rapid progress than under ordinary conditions. Paving on this road from the Greenville end has been pushed forward rapidly during the last few months, and at the present time forces are working in close proximity to Winterville. This road will be one of the best of the county, and is the pride of engineers who have had the work in charge.

Regular monthly business was transacted during the meeting, resulting in the paying of regular bills and other matters usually coming up for consideration during such meetings.

J. B. Bell, of Belvoir township, was appointed a member of the advisory board succeeding G. C. Brewer who tendered his resignation during the meeting.

The highway commissioners decided to hold its regular monthly meeting the first Monday of every month, instead of the last Thursday as customary.

ROADS ASK ONLY SQUARE DEAL AND A FAIR RETURN SAYS PACIFIC PRESIDENT

William Sproule Says Lines Enter 1922 With Knowledge That Public Interest Must Prevail Under Labor Board.

By WILLIAM SPROULE, President Southern Pacific Railway Company.

San Francisco, Jan. 3.—In the railroad business 1921 is notable as the year in which the public entered with authority into the settlement of disputes in railroad service, when the managements and the men were unable to reach agreement among themselves on questions of wages and working conditions likely to interrupt the commerce of the country.

In 1921 the principle prevailed that the right of men to strike for the purpose of stopping the service to the public is a blow at the public itself, and the public will not allow its business to be stopped or thrown into confusion by quarrels among railroad men.

So in 1921 the United States Railroad Labor board met a crisis in the

SAUNIER TO PLAY IN ORGAN RECITAL AT CHRIST CHURCH

Prof. Paul Saunier, Noted Organist of Petersburg, to Give Recital Thursday Night

Professor Paul Saunier, organist of Petersburg, Va., will give a recital at the South street Christian church in this city Thursday night. His program will be varied and interesting to the large number of music-lovers in this city, and it is hoped everyone possible will take advantage of the opportunity to hear this noted musician.

As it will cost the church a considerable sum of money to get Professor Saunier here, a free will offering will be taken during the recital.

Professor Saunier is one of the best known organists in the State of Virginia, having played for one of the leading churches in Petersburg a number of years. His services are in demand in other sections a greater part of the time, and Greenville people consider themselves fortunate in having him in the first recital since installation of the new pipe organ.

NIMROD PRESENTS HUNTING LICENSE AT THE WEDDING

Chicago, Jan. 3.—Just as Judge H. Pomeroy Sterling, in Marriage Court, was about to tie the knot, William Taylor, forty-two, a Nimrod, produced the license.

"Why, this is a hunting license!" exclaimed the Judge.

Virginia Ross, the bride-to-be, stalked out of court, big tears trickling down her cheeks.

Finally, after apologetic explanation, Taylor got her to return.

"It was this way," said Taylor to the Judge. "When I went into the clerk's office I saw two signs. One said 'Marriage Licenses' and the other 'Hunting Licenses'. I thought to myself, I've been hunting this woman for three years before she'd marry me—a hunting license is what I need."

BUSINESS IS STILL SOUND CONDITION THROUGHT SOUTH

Unsatisfactory Conditions Last Year Doesn't Mean Things Aren't Sound at the Present Time, President of Central Georgia Railway System Declares in Public Statement.

(By International News)

Atlanta, Jan. 3.—Unsatisfactory business conditions last year in the south don't indicate that anything is fundamentally unsound in the south, said an optimistic statement issued today by W. Winburn, president of the Central Georgia railway system. He asked for further co-operation of other industries to restore normal conditions now that the railway tax burden has been relieved.

SENATE TO FILL POSITIONS HELD BY DEAD LEADER

Both Houses Adjourn Today Out of Respect for Senator Penrose, Who Died Sunday

(By International News)

Washington, Jan. 3.—The passing of Senator Penrose and the adjournment which he exercised on national legislation which he typified was uppermost in the minds of members of both houses when congress reconvened. Both houses immediately adjourned out of respect for the deceased leader.

Realignment of Republican committee assignments necessitated by vacancies caused by the death of Senator Penrose were well under way today with Senator McCumber of North Dakota to succeed him as chairman of the finance committee.

JUDGE SEES NYMPH'S PERFECT SHOULDERS, AWARDS HER VERDICT

San Francisco, Jan. 3.—One good look at the perfectly shaped and pink shoulders of Miss Grace Naughton, comely blonde, by Justice A. T. Barnett and he won a judgment of $10.40 against a beauty specialist, because his preparation to remove freckles had failed.

At the time Miss Naughton submitted her shoulders in exhibit to the court she also submitted the freckles, still present despite the fact she had applied the alleged freckle remover half a dozen times. One peek at these two vital plaintiff exhibits and Justice Barnett ordered the beauty specialist to pay the amount Miss Naughton claimed she had paid for the ointment on a "money back guarantee." "The preparation took off the skin but left the freckles, Your Honor," the demure little miss told the court. Miss Naughton, well known in aquatic circles, stated she got the freckles while swimming and could not wear party dresses because of them.

MOBS BEGIN RIOTING IN CITY OF BELFAST

Tuesday, January 3, 1922

If predictions count for anything this is destined to be one of the best years since before the world war.

It is rumored that another colored man is to be given a big appointment by Harding. As that will be in line with Republican policies, we have nothing to say.

The cherub faced New Year holds prosperity for every man willing to work and do his part by industry, but to those who desire to shirk rest duty, he has nothing to offer but continued depression and hard times.

No one has ever accused the Republican party of having policies, but judging by recent negro appointments, the president is committed to certain things he can't easily forget without trouble. It's a pity he didn't make a better beginning.

This country is in greater need of thrift at this time than any other thing. The country, at least the south, will never prosper as it should until its people learn what it means to save. The north learned this lesson years ago, and has profited in many different ways.

Greenville will have the pleasure of seeing the white way become an actuality this year. That's exactly what everyone has been looking forward to so long. The white way is an indispensable asset to every thriving city, and Greenville is no exception.

Every working man is an asset to the nation while those who shun regular hours are liabilities and parasites. It's the duty of every person to find some kind of work to do. The job may not be filled with so much honor, but so long as it affords a good living and contentment, the workman should worry.

The boll weevil has no terror for the farmer planning to plant food crops instead of so much cotton and tobacco. The need of food crops and less of what the world doesn't need is realized by all leading men, and that's the reason they are doing every thing possible to make the farmer awake to the seriousness of the situation.

The chamber of commerce is presenting some mighty sound advice to growers of the community at the present, and if it is accepted the coming planting season will be even better than the most sanguine anticipates. There is no doubt about the coming of the boll weevil, and if preparation isn't made in advance the inflation period will be mild indeed to the disaster yet to come. Food crops are in demand all over the world, they bring prices in proportion to cost of production and certainly should receive proper attention this season. This is the only way dreaded pests can be cheated and it is hoped the grower will see the point in time to avert the impending disaster.

WAREHOUSES STICKING TIGHT.

The Greenville tobacco market has notified the public that it intends to open again next year regardless of the co-operative marketing association, and quite naturally there will be many farmers glad to hear of the decision. The auction method of selling tobacco is as old as tobacco itself, and as long as the farmer can sell this way he may rest assured of finding a ready market for his product—providing he raises the right kind of crop.

Next year will be like this year in many ways. Manufacturers will offer good prices for good tobacco, but poor grades are destined to suffer. The lack of demand the present season should be a great lesson to the grower and cause him to cultivate his crop more intensively than heretofore. Not until this is done with the industry be what everyone desires. Prices are governed largely by use, and, but as demand is for better grades, it is easily seen that the only thing to do is to produce what the manufacturers want.

The planter should carefully note the condition and be prepared to receive the best the market has to offer next year.

Foreign trade figures of the United States in the calendar year 1921 show a heavy reduction in their stated value of the merchandise entering and leaving the country. In no single year in the history of our foreign trade, says the Trade Record of the National City Bank of New York, have the official figures shown such a percentage of reduction. The total foreign trade of the country, imports and export combined, stood at 12 1-2 billion dollars in the calendar year 1920, the highest total ever reached, and eleven months figures ending with November, 1921, justify the assertion that the total for the full year just ending will not exceed $7,000,000,000 and will probably fall a little below that total as against 13 1-2 billion dollars one year earlier.

The reduction in the total values of the merchandise entering and leaving the country in 1921 will be about 48 per cent in imports the reduction will be approximately 53 per cent and in exports 45 per cent.

This fall off in the value of the foreign trade in 1921, when compared, with 1920, extends to every great group of articles, both in imports and exports. Raw manufacturing material imported shows a fall off of about 53 per cent in total values; foodstuffs 63 per cent, and manufactures 43 per cent, these figures being of course in very round terms, the smaller reduction in manufactures being due to the fact that importers are bringing in large quantities of manufactures in anticipation of a higher tariff. On the export side, manufacturing material shows a fall of 48 per cent, foodstuffs 33 per cent, and manufactures 51 per cent, these figures as to exports being also necessarily in very round terms.

Considering the trade of the country with the grand divisions, imports from Europe show a fall of 38 per cent, from North America 54 per cent, from South America 64 per cent, and from Asia and Oceania 58 per cent. Exports to Europe show a decline of 40 per cent, to North America 40 per cent, to South America 26 per cent, and to Asia and Oceania 39 per cent.

The general cause of this tremendous decline in the value of every group of articles imported or exported and also a reduction in the trade with every grand division of the world, lie primarily, says the bank's statement, in the fact that the prices per unit of quantity are in most of the important articles less than half those of a year ago and that in many instances a given quantity of merchandise being now imported is valued at less than half that at the same date last year. Our biggest imports are of course, in manufacturing materials, india rubber, hides and skins, wool, raw silk, raw cotton, fibers, and tin. The rubber imported in October, 1921, entered at 14 cents per pound against 37c in the same month of last year; cattle hides at 10 1-2 cents a pound against 20c; carding wool at 14c a pound against 40c, a year ago; combined September, 1921, (no import in October) at 23c per pound against 66c one year earlier; raw cotton in September 16 1-2 cents against 54 1-2 cents in September of the preceding year; tin 27 1-2 cents a pound against 52c a year earlier! Manila hemp $135 per ton against $310 one year earlier; the only important manufacturing material which has failed to show a big fall off being raw silk. In foodstuffs conditions are similar, the sugar imports of October, 1921, averaging two and eight tenths cents per pound against 13.9c in October of the preceding year, while in other articles of food there is a material reduction but none as great as that of sugar, which by the way is the biggest single article of foodstuffs imported.

DENIES RUMOR THAT FORD HAD PURCHASED ITS PLANT
(By International News)
Martinsburg, W. Va.—Thomas L. Dunn, president of the Dunn Woolen Mill company, denies a widely circulated report that Henry Ford, wealthy Detroit manufacturer, had purchased the company's mills here. The rumor probably had its origin, Mr. Dunn stated, in the fact that the mills are preparing to fill a large order for automobile cloth for the Ford factories.

PARISIENNE ENJOYS HER BLACK PIPE

(By International News)
Paris.—The fashion of pipe smoking for women may not be said to be growing by leaps and bounds in France, but it certainly is gaining adherents.

Only a few nights ago a beautiful girl in evening dress and with a glittering array of diamonds sat through-out an entire evening smoking a long black pipe in Maxim's famous restaurant. When she arose to dance one of her two male escorts looked after the pipe. She frequently refilled the bowl from a tiny gold mesh bag.

Until a few years ago only the laundry girls of some of the seaport towns or old peasant women on the French farms dared take their tobacco whiffs through a long stem. But now the french newspapers predict that the winter season at Monte Carlo Nice and Cannes will see a great increase in the number of female pipe smokers.

COTTON LEADING AMERICAN ASSET.

Cotton is the leading product in American commerce and international trade. It is the nation's greatest monetary asset. The boll weevil now covers 97 per cent of the cotton producing area of America. The destruction caused by the boll weevil during the present year, as shown by the government records, is the most serious ever known, and unless some scientific method can be secured for combating the inroads of the boll weevil, the destruction of the American cotton crop will become more serious. Methods for combating and controlling the boll weevil damage is not only a national and international, but a world-wide problem. Unless speedily secured, it will have a most disastrous effect upon the nation and upon every line of cotton industry of the entire world.

The monopoly of the cotton producing industry is controlled by America, we producing 84 per cent of the cotton of 3-4 inch staple and over of the world, and this monopoly is in jeopardy as the result of the fearful ravages of the boll weevil, no method having been discovered for combating same. The damage is not only fearfully increasing the cost of production, but has reached such figures as to threaten the very industry. The cotton area north of certain latitude for a number of years

SHOOTING DUCKS FROM AIRPLANE

New Way of Getting Birds is Now Being Used Along the Coast

A Hatteras Beach Special to the New Bern Sun-Journal says:

With the arrival of the steam yacht "White Wings," from New York, conveying a party of "millionaires" wild fowl gunners, and equipped with the latest design de Haveland sea-plane, constructed especially for pursuing and overtaking large flocks of swan, geese, and canvas back ducks, etc.—the old duck shooters, and market hunters with their batteries of decoys, and sink boxes have discovered that they are back numbers and not in the swim anymore.

J. P. Morgan, millionaire New York banker, is accredited with having shot and killed one hundred wild geese in one day.

Mr. Morgan's expert pilot, and flyer selects a certain large flock of migrating geese and soon overtakes them. He steers his machine right into the great flock and then the sports men open fire with their Winchester automatics and many instances they will exterminate the entire gang, not a single one escaping.

The game of draughts is known to have existed long before the time of the ancient Egyptians.
