Dr. Nobles attended the child and did everything possible to alleviate the intense pain. Both eyes were badly burned, but it is believed one can be saved.

Leading Business Men Pay Tribute to Accomplishment of the Club in the Days of Old

The annual banquet and dance of the Carolina club was held in the club rooms on Evans street last night, and proved one of the most delightful social events of the season.

Judge Lloyd Horton, of Farmville, was scheduled to deliver the principal address of the evening, but he found it impossible to be present and his place was filled by R. H. Wright, president of the East Carolina Teachers College.

Other speakers of the evening were Dr. Charles O'H. Laughinghouse, W. H. Dail, Jr., and H. A. White. Each talked about past achievements of the club, and of what great service it has been to the city.

At conclusion of the banquet, tables were cleared away and dancing began in real earnest. Several couples participated in the dance, which continued until a late hour.

CONSPIRACY TO REDUCE WAGES OF BRITISH WORKERS CHARGED IN TRADE UNION MANIFESTO

Declares Employers Taking Advantage of the Industrial Slump to Increase Working Hours.

London, Jan. 4.—British industry has cut its wages bill more than one billion dollars a year.

There exists an organized conspiracy to secure unreasonable reductions in wages and a drastic extension of the normal working week. These facts are doing more to ferment revolution, disorder and bloodshed than all the activities of the extremists of the labor world.

Such are the declarations of the General Council of the Trade Union congress, in a manifesto just issued. It contains a strong message of warning to the industrial chiefs of Britain and to the vast middle-class public, who, as labor sees it, permit this alleged campaign of alteration of labor conditions to proceed without protest.

"The existence of a serious slump in trade and abnormal unemployment," the manifesto reads, "appeal to be considered by employers as an opportunity for imposing reduction in wages and increases in hours. In some quarters the spirit of getting their own back appears to inspire the employers, by which is meant the determination to punish the workers for their audacious attempt to keep wages up during the war."

"We have to warn employers that a policy of reprisals is one likely to lead to disastrous consequences. Stability in industrial organizations would be quite impossible, and a policy of attack and counter-attack, as determined by opportunities, would take the place of negotiation.

"The worker has a moral right to claim improvement in working conditions.

"Organized labor will refuse to accept the theory that the proper function of industry is to provide a bare living for the worker and opportunity for wealth accumulation for the employer.

"As representatives of 6,000,000 workers we refuse to accept the present standard of life as the highest possible.

"We are prepared to work for the constitutional changes necessary for the attainment of higher standards, but we warn those among the employers who would sabotage present labor conditions that the extremists on their side are more likely to create undisciplined revolt, chaos and disorder than the extremists on our side.

1921 RACE BETTING SLUMPS MILLIONS

Baltimore, Jan. 4.—A slump of millions in the betting at the four one-mile race tracks in Maryland during 1921 over the preceding year was noted recently by track authorities. It was estimated that "plungers" on the four tracks bet $24,500,000 less during 1921 than in the racing seasons of 1920.

The State of Maryland, through its $6,000 a day license fee and a 15 per cent tax on net revenue of the four tracks, will obtain approximately $700,000 from the track owners. In addition to this Baltimore county will receive $72,000 from Pimlico track by an extra tax of $3,000 per racing day.

During the entire 1921 racing season of ninety-three days it is estimated that $39,500,000 was bet through the pari-mutuel systems. The Fall racing season of 1920 almost equaled this amount, when $38,700,000 was bet on the horses. The whole 1920 season, however, saw approximately $64,000,000 change hands on the results of races at the four Maryland tracks.

ILLINOIS PLANING INDUSTRIAL AID OF THE SMALL TOWN

"Balanced Community" Idea Will be Tried by State Commerce Body to Relieve Unemployment

(By International News) Chicago.—The Illinois chamber of commerce has undertaken the solving of the "unbalanced communities" problem.

Major cities in Illinois, explained Harvey T. Hill, secretary, make no development frequently because only one-half or one-third of the population can be producers. They must support the remainder of the population. The others must remain in enforced idleness.

The plan is to build up these communities. Mr. Hill is preparing booklets giving in detail the industrial opportunities in each city in the State where there is an unbalanced industrial situation.

An illustration Mr. Hill pointed out the situation in West Franklin. He said that there have been 1,000 houses built there during the last year but that the only employment is in the coal mines. For women, girls and others who cannot work in the mines there is nothing and when the coal mines shut down the city is prosituted.

This is the condition we will endeavor to correct," said Mr. Hill. We are going to carry on a nationwide campaign in 1922 to discover industries in the east and elsewhere that are looking for a change in location.

DENTON'S CAR IS FOUND AT PLACE NEAR NEW BERN

Local Attorney Returned Last Night With the Buick Automobile Thought Stolen

Kinston, Jan. 4.—John R. Denton, local attorney who lost his Buick Six automobile from in front of his residence in the Hudson apartments several days ago, has found his car, his "hunch" being correct that a straying car near New Bern was his. Mr. Denton left here yesterday through the country and brought back his car late in the afternoon, safe and sound and undamaged, except for distributor connection, which was repaired in a few moments by the member of the local bar.

Mr. Denton received a letter this past Saturday from J. E. White, who lives on the road leading from New Bern to Morehead City and Beaufort, that he held "a car". Mr. White merely asked Mr. Denton for a description. It was found out later that Mr. White had already written J. Bryan Grimes at Raleigh, secretary of State, and had found out that the number of the car he found abandoned was that of a Buick belonging to Mr. Denton.

On Mr. Denton's arrival yesterday following a second letter from Mr. White, the car was further identified and brought back to Kinston.

It seems that the car remained on the side of the road near Mr. White's place, four miles below New Bern, for three days, and that a member of the county board of commissioners of Craven County had Mr. White to put it under a shelter on his place. Mr. White found but the owner, wrote Mr. Denton for a description, received same, and then restored the car to its rightful owner. Mr. Denton stated last night that this "paper's" "hunch" was correct after all and that he was "tickled to death".

Several Matters of Interest Taken Up at Meeting Entertained by Davo Turnage at Rotary Club

AMERICAN LEGION ENTERTAINED HERE DURING LAST NIGHT

Members of the executive committee of the Pitt county post of the American Legion were guests of Mr. D. L. Turnage at a chicken dinner tendered at the Rotary club last night.

It was the first meeting of the new year, and numbers of things of interest to the organization were discussed during the evening. The meeting was presided over by Dr. Grady G. Dixon of Ayden, post commander, who outlined plans for the new year, and asked the members to get busy and perfect them.

Plans for entertaining some 75 odd members of the State executive committee to meet here January 18th, were outlined. Citizens will be asked to meet trains with automobiles and show the visitors over the city. Entertainment of the visitors was placed in the hands of J. C. Lanier, chairman of the entertainment committee.

It was decided to buy an issue of The Daily Reflector and call it "American Legion Issue," of about 24 pages. The paper will be issued some time in February, but in the meantime, committees in Farmville, Ayden, Bethel, Grifton, Winterville and Fountain will be busy soliciting advertisements for this issue. This will be done principally for the purpose of raising money for future use.

The next regular meeting of the post will be held in Greenville January 27th. It will be a full membership meeting and every member is expected to be present and take an active part in the work. All members will be advised where the meeting will be held, the kind of things they will have to eat and other important features. A Woman's Auxiliary will be organized, and members are urged to bring mother, sister, wife, or sweetheart. C. T. Munford is chairman of the committee.

The adjutant stated that he was in communication with a firm in Atlanta regarding the holding of a Legion show some time later. Information regarding the show will be issued at a later date.

Every ex-soldier honorably discharged from the army, navy, or marine corps may become a member of the Legion, and it is hoped many new members may be taken in later on.

The executive committee consists of Dr. C. G. Dixon, Ayden; Messrs. Lloyd Turnage, Ayden; LeRoy Rollins, Farmville; Vance Bunting, Bethel; W. V. Clark, Grimesland and D. L. Turnage and L. J. Smith, Dr. K. B. Pace, Greenville. All were present but W. V. Clark who found it impossible to attend.

The following date regarding the state executive meeting will be of interest to members here: "At 4:15 o'clock in the afternoon (Continued on page 2)

BETTER CROPS NECESSARY

Cotton and tobacco growers who have been wrought up over marketing problems of late should remember this is only one of the great problems connected with the industry at the present time. In fact, it isn't as significant as some would have us suppose and certainly deserves no more consideration than has been given it in the past.

Marketing problems are of minor importance compared to the production of better crops, for so long as the product continues to be of inferior grade the grower cannot hope to receive any great thing from the most careful kind of marketing. The past season should have taught every farmer a great lesson, as it proved conclusively that only good tobacco is in demand and the only kind receiving prices in proportion to cost of production.

With this important fact in mind it is imperative for the grower to begin to outline plans for the production of better crops. This can be done in one way only and that is through careful study of conditions and application of facts as we find them.

The first step in this direction lies in reduction of acreage. The second in careful handling from the field to the barn and from the barn to the warehouse. These things have been neglected to a greater extent than advisable in the past and the farmer has been forced to lose through prices below cost of production.

It can be easily seen then that marketing isn't as important as agitators would have us believe, and unless the farmer awakens to the situation his future is even more bleak and dreary than in the past. Pitt county growers must be impressed with the necessity of handling his crop with greater care, and it is to the advantage of every business man to get busy and do his part in effecting the change. If it isn't done, we feel safe in saying the industry is faced by conditions even more serious than during the inflation period.

The Republican administration seems strangely Republican in every sense of the word.

The Greenville white way will become an actuality in the near future, we have been reliably informed, so those who have been advocating the new system may not feel their efforts have been in vain.

The political situation in the United States is by no means the brightest in the world, but from all indications the administration intends to fulfill some of those promises made during campaign days. It's to be hoped they will. The public has been losing confidence for sometime and must be shown results before believing anything less in the form of propaganda.

Muskie Shoals may have been a white elephant to the government in past days, but the way bids are being received by the government it is to be a great boom in the future. Henry Ford started the ball rolling, and if there's anything in the white elephant the automobile manufacturers will certainly bring it out quicker than others trying to attract attention with their bids.

If the average tobacco grower will plant food crops instead of so much tobacco the present year will be successful in every sense of the word. By diversifying crops more than can be given to the cultivation of better tobacco. That is what the market desires, and then we are destined to be among the most prosperous people in the United States.

President Harding may be conforming to tradition in the appointment of colored men to high executive positions, but he is certainly giving the administration a black eye. The country would appreciate his services much more if he would only place responsible white men at the heads of such departments, and leave the colored men in the pursuit in his own happiness among the people of his race. The party may be successful in some things, but in this instance it has made a miserable failure.

The tobacco industry is yet to become of more importance in this country, and the farmer is destined to see a greater change in price than ever before. The proposal to market all tobacco co-operatively and the decision of warehousemen to keep their houses open may result in a spirit of competition that should be of benefit to the grower.

This spirit of competition has produced more favorable conditions in other branches of industry and there is no reason on earth why it should not prove beneficial to the bright leaf producer. The outcome of the co-operative plan will be watched with general interest throughout the land, as the future of tobacco will be largely determined by the way it is received by the farmers and manufacturers.

The auction system has prevailed so many years it will be difficult indeed for the farmer to get used to any other method, and in event the new plan should not succeed as expected supporters of the old system will continue to dominate. It can be said of the warehousemen that they worked faithfully to build up the industry in past years, and may be relied upon in the days to come.

Prices are not controlled by the warehousemen. They are governed mainly by the quality of tobacco produced by the grower and foreign and domestic consumption. When this fact is carefully considered by the farmer, he will give more attention to the cultivation of better tobacco. Then prices will be in proportion to cost of production and prosperity will reign supreme in every tobacco producing district of the country.

Marketing the crop is only one part of one of the greatest industries in the world and when it is given proper attention farmer will be too engrossed in his success to listen to plans other than which has been accustomed to all his life.

The tax on certain forms of luxuries has been dropped, and the average man who has been forced to pay out this additional money the last several months is about the happiest man alive. The government may make up for the shortage at other points, but even then it's consoling to know we are to have a short respite from the oppression.

If the Republican party succeeds in reducing taxation it will have won a great victory. If on the other hand it fails to accomplish this important matter the public will lose some of the confidence in evidence during campaign days. Taxation has been oppressive since the war, and the sooner the burden is lifted the earlier this country is destined to recover from the deplorable situation prevailing in many districts.

The Reflector is busy making improvements in the mechanical end of the office now, and in a few days the public will see quite an improvement in the paper. We have always endeavored to give the best service in every way, and with this new equipment will be better prepared than ever. We hope our readers will bear with us until these improvements are made.

Government officials look forward to a prosperous new year, and if the rest of the people will get the spirit we are going to pull out of a bad situation after all. Conditions are brighter now than any other time in many months, and by conservative dealings the average business man will be able to turn the corner towards better things with greater ease than imagined.

Some rivers of Siberia flow over ice many years old and almost as solid as rock. A tributary of the Lena has a bed of pure ice more than nine feet thick.

VIRGINIA WOMAN WAS ON VERGE OF BREAKING DOWN

Mrs. Deaner of Covington, Va., Recovers And Is Now the Picture of Health

Just think how much happiness it would bring if everybody could start the new year with a new Buick.

Look over the list of Buick owners in this community; you will find among them the most representative people of our city. Next to the pride that we feel in having the best automobile buy in the world, is the pride we feel in the type of people who are driving Buick Automobiles in our territory.

"I don't exaggerate when I say I regard what Taniae has done for me as one of the greatest blessings of my life," said Mrs. W. H. Deaner, Rivermont, Covington, Va. "When I began taking this grand medicine I was on the verge of a complete breakdown and was firmly convinced I would have to take to my bed for good. I dreaded to eat as I knew I would have to suffer misery afterwards. I was as thin and pale as a ghost and was so worried and miserable all the time that life was really a burden to me. "Since taking Taniae I have changed so much my friends hardly know me. It's a fact I have gained sixteen pounds on three bottles and everybody tells me I am the picture of health. I know I never felt better in my life and it certainly is a joy for me to be well and strong again." Taniae is sold in Greenville by the Greenville Drug company and leading druggists everywhere.

PICKING SQUARES AND POISONING

It is important that hand picking of adult weevils from the young plants be started as soon as an average of 50 weevils per acre can be found. The sign of the presence of the weevils at this time can be determined by noting the small, black, dead leaves in the head of the young plants. Picking infested squares should be done thoroughly, those on the plants and the fallen squares on the ground. This work should be repeated every fifth day at least for six weeks. All adult weevils and infested squares collected should be destroyed by burning, or dropping the adult weevils in a can of kerosene oil. It is believed that turning under the cotton stalks before frost in the sunset and most effective method of suppressing the weevils and checking their destructive influence and numbers the following spring. Community co-operation in these matters is far better than individual effort, but no man should delay taking advantage of every possible safeguard to protect his own crop because of the indifference of his neighbors.

If the weather is hot and dry during the months of June and July, with but little rainfall, it is doubtful if dusting the plants with calcium arsenate poisoning is necessary. Under such conditions where the thermometer will register above 90 degrees in the fields, and hot sunshine predominates, a normal crop of cotton can be harvested even under boll weevil conditions.

The three worst enemies to boll weevils are, first, clean fields on which to plant the crop and clean surroundings; second, a cold winter, and third, hot sunshine in June and July with light rainfall.

In the use of calcium arsenate poisoning farmers should provide themselves with about thirty pounds of the poison per acre of cotton planted. This will be sufficient for five different applications per acre, with the ordinary hand guns, for small acres of cotton, and four applications with a power machine for larger farms. It is highly important to purchase the right kind of poison and samples should be sent in early to the Delta Boll Weevil Laboratory at La Tallah. La., where the government chemists will make the analysis free of charge.

of Wednesday, January 18, 1922, there will be held a Legion Conference at Greenville, in the Dance Hall of the Carolina Club; the Carolina Club Building being on Evans street, near the Proctor Hotel. All local Posts are urged to send representatives to this Legion Conference; and particularly do we urge that the Posts in the first, second and third congressional districts send representatives to this conference. Such enterprises as Membership Campaigns, Club Rooms, Women's Auxillary, etc. will be discussed in this conference, by veteran legionnaires, men who have served the Legion since its initial organization. First district committeeman Dixon of Ayden will preside at this Greenville conference and arrange the program for the same.
"During the morning of that date, January 18th, the State executive committee of the Legion will hold its meetings; and already we feel safe in stating that practically every state officer of the Legion will be in Greenville on that date. Legionnaires attending the conference will have an opportunity to meet and hear all of the state officers speak on different topics.
"We are counting on having representatives from Elizabeth City, Gatesville, Winton, Belhaven, Washington, Wilson, Tarboro, Warrenton, Scotland Neck, Windsor, Weldon, Kinston, Snow Hill, Rich Square, Lenoir, Warsaw, Mount Oliver, Beaufort, Morehead City, New Bern, Clinton, and Goldsboro. Any Post in three Congressional Districts that fails to send representatives to this conference will miss a great opportunity; the newly elected commanders and adjutants, particularly, should attend this Greenville conference. Constantly we receive requests for information concerning the Legion and for full instructions as to how "to carry on" with a successful Post of the Legion; the Greenville conference will be the golden opportunity for the Legion leaders in the eastern part of the State to learn about all these matters.
Fraternally yours,
TOM BIRD, Commander,
CALE BURGESS, Adjutant.

Teach car owners to use their cars and take care of them.

Not take advantage of their ignorance to press upon them unnecessary repairs or work of any kind for our own profit.

Only charge for actual work done; not for the education of incompetent apprentice mechanics.

No fix, no pay. If it can be fixed, say so.

Use the best quality parts for repairs—never the inferior. Let the name of the manufacturer mean something and never use a substitute for the extra profit in it, because it makes it imitate a better article with a reputation that is worth buying.

We are prompt to serve. These are some of the reasons why we keep our customers satisfied and coming to our place again and again.

We employ six ex-service men and we want your business.
