(By International News) Dublin, Jan. 11.—Evacuation of Dublin by British military forces is in full swing while the new provisional government of Arthur Griffith begins to function. Crowds gathered and cheered as signs of English occupation began to disappear. The Irish Free State is being greeted hilariously throughout the entire country, and the evacuation of British troops begins what is generally termed as absolute liberty of the Irish. Griffith forces immediately assumed charge of the provisional government following the resignation of De Valera, and his leadership is generally accepted as the beginning of nationwide peace.

Number of Important Issues to Be Taken Up at First Meeting of the New Year

The regular meeting of the Pitt county medical society will be held at the Christian church in this city Thursday evening, January 12th, according to announcements mailed out to members of the society in various parts of the county last week.

One of the most interesting programs in many months has been arranged for the meeting, and it is expected a number of important matters will come up for consideration. Drs. Dawson and Whitfield will be hosts to the society at this meeting, and have outlined an exceptionally interesting program for the evening.

The meeting will be presided over by Dr. K. P. Pace, president, and Dr. Alfred Schultz will act as secretary. Much interest is centered on the first meeting of the New Year, and many constructive plans for the future will probably result from discussions of prominent members of the society.

BANKING & TRUST COMPANY MAKES SPLENDID RECORD

Annual Meeting of Stockholders Show Net Profits Amounted to $10,587.00

The twenty-first annual meeting of the stockholders of the Greenville Banking and Trust Company was held yesterday afternoon in the court house with 703 shares represented. The meeting was called to order by President E. G. Flanagan, who after the reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting took the statement of the bank for December 31st, 1920, and comparing it with the statement of December 31st, 1921, pointed out the remarkable achievements of the institution during the year just closed. For example a year ago the loans were around a million and a half dollars, which has now been cut down to a little more than half that sum. A year ago the bank also owed nearly half a million for borrowed money, every dollar of which had been paid before the first of November of the past year. The net profits on the business of the past year amounted to $10,587.00, a little above 10 1-2 per cent, giving the bank a surplus and profits of $58,576.28. The directors at their last meeting authorized the payment of a 6 per cent dividend to the stockholders which, the president stated, was net to the holder, the bank having previously paid all taxes on the stock held in it.

W. H. Woolard, vice-president and cashier, also made his report, showing the main features of the work of the bank, emphasizing especially the loyal interest and co-operation he had received from the directors and several committees of the board.

As an expression of appreciation of the very satisfactory manner in which the bank has been conducted, the stockholders gave a rising vote of thanks to the directors, committees, officers and employees.

Under a vote for suspension of the rules the entire board of directors were re-elected. These are R. L. Smith, A. M. Moseley, E. B. Higgs, J. L. Hassell, W. E. Proctor, S. J. Everett, H. A. White, N. O. Warren, R. R. Cotten, J. R. Moyer, C. O'H. Laughinghouse, J. L. Starkey and E. G. Flanagan. Attention being called to a vacancy in the directorate caused by change of residence and resignation, W. H. Woolard was unanimously elected to fill this vacancy.

Following the meeting of stockholders the directors met and re-elected the following officers: E. G. Flanagan, president; E. B. Higgs and W. E. Proctor, vice presidents; W. H. Woolard, vice-president and cashier; J. H. Waldrop and A. J. Moore, assistant cashiers; Julian White, teller; Miss Martha Lee Cowell, note teller; Miss Estelle Meekins, stenographer; J. S. Brown and J. B. Congleton, bookkeepers.

LAGRANGE PARTY SHOT WITH GUN

Shot Gun Turned Loose But the Load Goes Through Top of the Automobile

Kinston, Jan. 11.—A party of LAGRANGE men, composed of D. L. M. Fields, John H. Rouse, and Dr. J. W. Smithwick, were fired on by an unknown party, while returning from a Masonic meeting in Goldsboro Monday night late, the charge from the shot gun taking effect in the top of the car in which they were riding. The three men were about 7 miles out of Goldsboro and going fairly slow when the assailant turned loose with his gun, without hurting any of the party.

Needless to say the car was pushed to its limit and soon left the unknown party far behind. The following morning, the ground was investigated, tracks found, but no clue as to the guilty one.

GRIFTON OFFICER RECOVERING FROM RECENT INJURIES

Rouse Negroes, Who Assaulted Seymour Remain at Large Regardless of Vigilance

The two Rouse negroes who are wanted by the authorities for assaulting D. M. Seymour, Grifton officer, are still at large, according to reports reaching this city from Grifton today, and no information concerning their whereabouts has been obtained. Officials, however, are hopeful of bringing about apprehension within the next several days, and are working diligently with that end in view.

Officer Seymour, who was hit over the head with the butt of a gun by one of the negroes, is slowly recovering from injuries received in the encounter, and physicians hope he will be able to be on the streets again within the next several days. This is merely problematical, however, as the injuries are of a serious nature, and may involve longer confinement than anticipated.

Seymour was in the act of arresting one of the negroes when the other struck him from behind. Both escaping before aid could be summoned, and covered their tracks so successfully that no clue leading to their whereabouts could be obtained immediately after the affray.

HOLIDAY BUYING WAS SLOW IN SAINT LOUIS

St. Louis, Mo.—The volume of Christmas buying in St. Louis, measured in terms of dollars and cents, was about 20 per cent under the figures of last year.

A canvass of a dozen representative retail houses dealing in commodities most sensitive to the Christmas demand shows that business was "fair." Two or three houses reported business ahead of last year, but they were the exception.

PRESS OF TOKIO FAILS TO SEE THAT JAPAN HAS PROFITED THROUGH PACT

Yorozu Shimbun, an Outspoken Paper, Declares Nippon Has Been Made Slave of Great Britain and United States as Result of Quadruple Agreement Made at Washington

By DUKE N. PARRY, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Tokio.—Checking up on the results of the Washington conference from the angle of Japan, the Japanese press and a section of the public fail to see that Japan profited by the meeting proposed by the United States. While the Yorozu Shimbun and the Kokumin are the most outspoken, as is customary, against the United States there is a disposition even on the part of the Jiji and the Nichi Nichi, two most conservative journals, to doubt the benefits that may come to Japan as a result of the meeting.

As an evidence of the feeling of one section of the public opinion of Japan may be quoted the Yorozu, which says as follows:

"As the Washington conference is now drawing to a close, we begin to entertain fears in regard to the future of Japan, may in regard to the permanent peace of the world. Our fears are all the more intense because of the abstract rather than concrete results of the Washington conference.

REWARD OFFERED FOR CONVICTION OF KINSTON THUG

City Puts Up $100 For Person Who Lands Murderer of Claude Rivenbark Sunday

Kinston, Jan. 11.—The slayer of Claude Rivenbark had not been apprehended up to a late hour last night, in fact, no definite clue had been obtained to put local officers on the track of the murder, although some slight ones had been obtained. No definite action in regard to the murder is expected but sensational developments may result at any time. A reward, however, of 100 had been offered for the apprehension of the guilty party, by the City of Kinston.

The body of the young man was shipped to his home at Wallace, Tuesday evening and the funeral was held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock from the home, which is out in the country near that town. Interment was in the family burial grounds near Wallace.

The police here have been unable to unfold the mystery that has enclosed the case since Sunday night at 8:30 when the young man was killed from ambush, it appears, struck in the neck from the rear. A thorough combing of the facts has shown no definite clue on which action could be taken, but with the local authorities have not given up hope of locating the right man and "getting the goods" on him.

All rumors that arrests had been made were proven false last night at headquarters and no arrests were imminent, it is said. Additional "dope" on the murder has it that Rivenbark had an open knife in his hand while in the mix-up in front of the South side home but indications were to the effect that he did not use it but damaged his fists while pounding on a door.

AGENT BRANDS THE BRITISH VESSEL AS LIQUOR SMUGGLER

Messenger of Peace Said to Be One of Several Vessels Flying Waters With Two Sets Papers

(By International News.) Washington, Jan. 11.—The Messenger of Peace, British ship seized by prohibition agents at Wilmington, N. C., has been branded as a whiskey smuggler by prohibition director, Bergstrom at Jacksonville in a report to the prohibition commissioner today. Washington, Jan. 11.—Captain Joseph Hahn, of Camp Benning faced a special senate investigating committee with dramatic denial of charges that he directed the lynching of two negroes.

"It's a lie," shouted Hahn when he was confronted with sworn testimony of Harry Segal of Dorechester, Mass., in which he said he saw Hahn direct the lynching. Stories of indiscriminate killings in France were both affirmed and denied when the investigation was resumed this morning.

CONGESTED DOCKET TO FEATURE NEXT CRIMINAL SESSION

Over Two Thousand Witnesses Have Been Summoned to Be Here January 23rd

Over two thousand witnesses have been summoned to appear in Greenville at the next term of criminal court which convenes here Jan. 23rd, according to an announcement made by Sheriff Dudley this morning. Practically every member of the department has been busy this week sending out notices to witnesses, and should all appear it will look like circus day in that part of the city where the court house is located.

The civil term of superior court will open one week earlier than the criminal session, and while the docket is congested it is hardly probable as many witnesses will be used as the last week. Civil cases have been increasing in great numbers for the last several months, and only the most pressing will be taken up.

The criminal docket is probably more congested than in many months, but in event no long drawn out issues are encountered the majority will be disposed of. There are a number of important issues to be tried during the term, however, and it is very likely some time will be consumed in these hearings, which, in all probability, will be set for final days of the session.

This is the time of year when witnesses are plentiful, and unless something out of the ordinary happens very few will fail to be on hand as indicated by notices sent out by the sheriff's department.

All but four of the States of the United States are represented in the students of the Yale freshmen class.

THE END OF CENTURY CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

The End of the Century Club held a most interesting meeting on January 10 with Mrs. Travis Hooker.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Ficklen.

After roll call and the reading of the minutes a short business session was held.

During which the club discussed the placing of the portrait of the late J. L. Fleming at the E. C. T. C. with the other two founders of this most splendid institution.

The entire club expressed their approval and to show their appreciation of the steps taken by the Sidney Lanier Literary Society in placing this portrait, the club subscribed twenty-five dollars.

The topic for the afternoon was Bjorson, a dramatist of social problems.

Mrs. Bowens paper, Bjorson's life and works impressed upon us the fact that the world is indebted to Norway for a political and social reformer as well as for the leading exponent of the Modern Theatre of Ideas. Mrs. B. W. Moseley's paper, a criticism of the Gauntlet, held up the different moral standard of the man and the woman, as demanded by the world, Bjorson demands the same for both.

Mrs. Wootens' paper, Beyond Human Power, concluded this part of the program. The club was then most delightfully entertained by Mrs. Proctor, who sang several of her choice selections to the delight of all present.

The club adjourned to meet again Jan. 24th.

GENEVA PLAYERS DELIGHT LARGE AUDIENCE IN CITY HIGH SCHOOL

The Geneva players, the third number of the Redpath Lyceum Course which is being brought to Greenville this winter under the auspices of the Woman's Club and Pitt County Post of the American Legion, presented one of the best programs of the series in the High School auditorium last evening. The program consisted of three parts, two plays and a musical program. The cast was composed of three ladies and one man, and each took their respective parts in a most pleasing and creditable manner. The first play was presented by three of the ladies and proved very interesting indeed. It was indeed sad and brought tears to the eyes of the large audience. The second play was just the opposite and brought forth laughter throughout the two acts. The musical program was well arranged and consisted of several delightful selections.

The Geneva Players will always receive a welcome in Greenville.

12 Reasons For Chiropractic Spinal Adjusting

1. All life is transmitted by way of the spinal nerves.
2. The backbone is the pipeline.
3. Nature made the backbone jointed and flexible to permit bodily movement.
4. The 24 movable joints of the backbone can become out of alignment from nerves at their point of exit from between the joints of the spine.

UNCLE BEN SAYS

Common sense, Nery does more to prevent sickness than drugs. There is no substitute for proper exercise of the brains.

HEALTH FOLLOWS

CHIROPRACTIC CORRECTS PRESSURE ON SPINAL NERVES IN DISEASES OF THE FOLLOWING ORGANS:

THE LOWER NERVE UNDER THE MAGNIFYING GLASS IS PINCHED BY A MISALIGNED JOINT. PINCHED NERVES CANNOT TRANSMIT HEALTHFUL IMPULSES. CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTING REMOVES THE PRESSURE. THE UPPER NERVE IS FREE AS NATURE INTENDS.

5. This defective alignment of any one or more joints causes pressure upon spinal nerves at their point of exit from between the joints of the spine.
6. The exit for spinal nerves is between joints. The freedom or openness of the exit depends upon each joint being in perfect alignment with the next one.
7. The Chiropractor discovers this lack of alignment by the sense of touch.
8. He restores alignment by an adjustment made by hand.
9. The result of the adjustment is to free the nerve for the transmission of its full amount of nervous vigor.
10. After the nerve is freed, Nature restores the normal condition of HEALTH.
11. Neglecting the spinal condition invites disease and unhappiness.
12. Health is YOUR RIGHT and YOUR RESPONSIBILITY.

Three Immense Parts in Gloria Swanson's Paramount Picture "Under the Lash."

A beautiful young wife, married off by her relatives who wished to get rid of her; forbidden even to read, a slave to her puritanical stern husband, leading a loveless, colorless, monotonous life on the South African veldt—

An aged stern, fanatical, eccentric husband, who loves his wife as one loves a horse or dog, keeping her in subjection; a cruel, merciless master who guides his own life by the holy word, but rules all under him with the terrible sjan'kok—a long black whip.

A young Englishman, of fine family, who comes to the South African veldt to learn farming and who is the first man from the outside world to enter the life of the beautiful wife.

These are the three principal characters around which Alice and Claude Askew wove their delightfully entertaining novel, "The Shulamite," which has just been pictured by Paramount under the direction of Sam Wood.

The new picture, "Under the Lash," is the second starring vehicle of Gloria Swanson and will be shown at White's theatre Thurs. Miss Swanson plays the role of the wife, Russell Simpson is the husband and Mahlon Hamilton; popular leading man, is the young Englishman.

The Irish at last are free; but wonder if they will know how to handle themselves after they have been granted the long felt need.

The British are afraid to invite Russia to attend the economic conference because they are likely to take it for recognition. It's a rather embarrassing position, but Russia won't hardly overstep her bounds in event they are invited.

It is gratifying to note final arrangements have been made for installing the Greenville white way. The city has needed such a system for years, but not until recently has it received proper attention. Other cities have derived great benefit from better lighted streets and there is no reason on earth why Greenville should not also.

It is perfectly natural, we suppose, for Senator Newberry, of Michigan, to deny that he had anything to do with the election fraud in his state, but showing the investigating committee he did not is where the rub comes in. It's mighty easy to get into trouble, but it takes a long time to get out of it, as Mr. Newberry and others of his type are learning.

There are a number of unpaved city streets in Greenville that should receive attention of street forces within the next several days, as they are almost impassible in rainy weather. This condition could be eliminated without any great out lay of money, and it is hoped the city fathers will get busy and see what can be done. We refer particularly to streets frequently used but not in the center of the city. They not only detract from the town's appearance, but greatly inconvenience automobile drivers forced to pass over them to reach other sections.

The Republican party is filling its promise to job hunters by fair means or foul, but the Democrats are uncovering many of these schemes, and carrying terror to the camps of the unwary. Favoritism instead of a desire for efficiency is the force behind these appointments, and the sooner these plans are frustrated and made public the better off this country is going to be. The administration made many promises during campaign days it would like to fulfill, but if they can't do it fairly, it might be available to abandon it altogether.

Judge Lewis G. Cooper is to be commended for the way he is handling whiskey and pistol toting cases in his court, and the public should be truly appreciative of the long sentences which he has given numbers of lawless characters. Judge Cooper has adopted the only direct way of breaking up lawlessness in this community, and his efforts will have a telling effect within the next few months after the majority of bad characters have been assigned to road work. Greenville people should support the court in its effort to abide by the law, and the sooner they do so the earlier we are to have better conditions.

AN INROAD TO PROSPERITY.

The financial condition of Pitt county people, especially, depositors in Greenville banks, is better than it has been in years, judging by reports presented at annual meetings of the local institutions. When the banks are able to declare greater dividends than possibly expected and then have a large surplus left over, it really seems that conditions are not so bad as hundreds of people have others believe.

Pitt county people prospered the past year. There is no getting around this point, and if they live economically and adopt programs of thrift the present year there is no reason on earth why they shouldn't be the happiest and most prosperous people in the country.

Banks are something of an index to conditions of every community. When they prosper it is certain its patrons are prospering also. This has been so in the past and certainly should apply to the present. More people than ever before are patronizing some banking institution somewhere. They realize when money is placed in this course it is not only drawing interest, but absolutely safe from unscrupulous stock promoters or some other kind of people endeavoring to fleece the unwary out of their hard earnings.

Is it any wonder then, that our banks should make such an extra fine showin? We think not, as it is becoming a habit for people to place their money on deposit and experience that feeling of confidence always to be derived from something to fall back upon in rainy weather. Greenville bank men should be congratulated upon the fine showing which they have made, as it is through their spirit of thrift such has been made possible.

WHY MINERS FAIL.

From the fact that most of the dwellings in the coal regions of West Virginia are "company owned" the inference has been drawn that the coal companies deliberately deprive the miners of opportunity to own their homes. That this impression is misleading is shown in the Logan field one of the most prosperous and orderly non-union mining districts in this country.

Recently-built houses are attractive cottage-type dwellings with the usual modern conveniences. The coal mining companies provide them, just as they provide schools, churches, protection and other adjuncts of civilized communities, because there is nobody else to do it.

Miners rent their homes consisting of from two to five rooms at the monthly rate of $2.00 per room. For one dollar a month, the miner gets an unlimited supply of coal, paying only delivery charges on the amount used. Electric lighting when available is furnished free of charge. The householder supplies only the bulbs. Water also is free. Generally speaking the mining companies face a monthly deficit from house renting, the receipts falling to equal interest on building costs, taxes, insurance and depreciation.

The majority of the mine properties in Logan county, as in other counties of West Virginia, are leased. The producers are in full possession of the coal rights but have no surface rights.

A Washington newspaper correspondent, uninformed on conditions, asked a Logan producer:

"Why don't the miners own their homes?"

"Because it would be to their disadvantage."

"You mean," said the correspondent, recalling the own-your-own-home campaigns promoted in cities throughout the country, "that the men are not given a chance to buy their homes? Couldn't you sell them the houses instead of renting?"

"We could do that, but what would be the use? We don't own the land

We can do no more than lease the coal rights. One a home is built, the law forbids its removal or demolition. The men would have to buy the surface rights from the actual owner of the land—and then take a long chance on occupying the house only a few years from the time it was built. Coal mining, you know, is unlike any other industry. You must go up where the coal is located. And as the vein is worked out, homes must be moved to new fields."

"Then," inquired the correspondent, "you believe the only feasible plan is the one in effect today—to build homes and rent them at a low cost per room to the miners?"

"I can't see any other way," the coal producer replied. "If the fact we only lease were not enough to discourage ownership of homes, certainly the exhaustion of the vein is. And besides, there isn't sufficient room in man mining camps for permanent homesites. Look at the mountains that hem in Logan!"

The reason the producers have built homes for their workers is because the people must have homes and cannot build them for themselves."

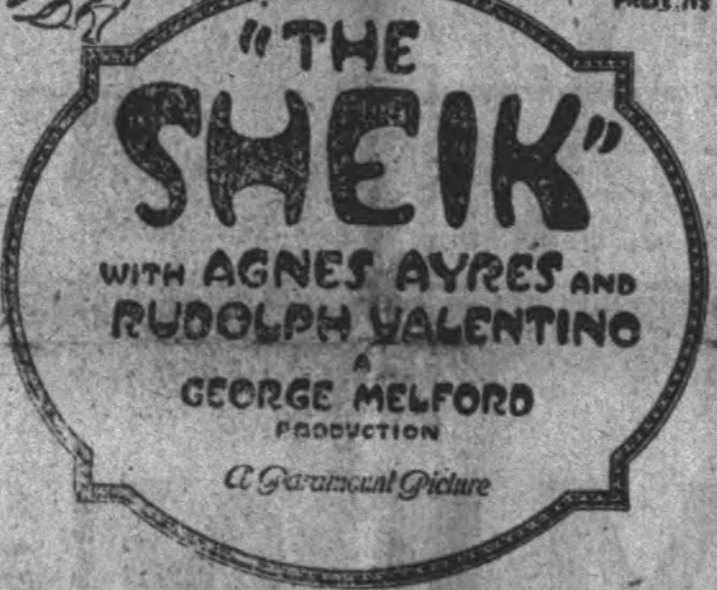

Labor leaders are still wrangling over the wage question. If there were less of these kind of men the laboring class would be better off anyway. Their greatest job is walking around trying to stir up trouble between the employer and employee when really everything is running along smoothly. The American laborer has never fully appreciated the importance of holding his job and help keep the wheels of industry moving. When he does the labor leader won't figure so largely as in the past.

The Greenville business section will be much more in ailing when the white way is installed, and women and children will feel they are fully protected when forced to go up town at night. This is one of the best investments business men and property owners have made in years, but the fact will not be evident until after the system has been installed and given a trial.
