

FORD WINS OUT IN THE DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST CARSON

J. J. Ford Awarded $1,450 and $200 Interest Following Lengthy Deliberation by the Jury

MANNING ESTATE HEIRS ALSO WIN OUT IN CAVIAT CASE AGAINST EXECUTOR

Court Decides to Appoint Receiver of J. L. G. Manning Estate in Fairness to All the Parties

After deliberating a day and night a jury in the civil term of Pitt county superior court early this morning returned a decision in the case of J. J. Ford against J. J. Carson, awarding Ford the sum of $1,450 and $200 interest, of the $1,700 which he was suing for.

Another case in which the public has been particularly interested was concluded late yesterday afternoon when a decision was returned in the caviat proceedings against W. J. Manning, of Bethel, executor of the estate of J. G. L. Manning, which was recently instituted by other heirs holding a will to the estate also. The court ruled in favor of the plaintiffs, declaring it advisable to appoint a receiver in fairness to all parties concerned. The receiver, however, was not appointed at the time but probably will be before the session is completed.

The Ford-Carson case was taken up by the court Monday afternoon, and was soon stubbornly contested that argument was not completed until Tuesday afternoon when the issue was turned over to the jury. The jury also experienced difficulty in reaching a decision, and not until an early hour this morning did its members finally decide to report to the court.

The case was precipitated over the sum of $1,700, which the plaintiff contended was paid to Carson to be applied to some debts. Instead of applying the money to the debts, it was alleged that Carson appropriated it to other purposes, and declined to make satisfactory settlement when called upon to do so. It was at this juncture that Ford appealed to the court for a decision, and since that time much interest has been centered around the case.

In the caviat proceedings instituted against W. J. Manning many interesting points were brought out, and the case rapidly assumed form of one of the most complicated heard here in many years. It seems from all evidence produced that the deceased had made two wills two years prior to his death. The first, which was made in 1920 placed the estate in possession of the heirs. That made in 1921 appointed W. J. Manning as executor of the estate, and when both were presented to the clerk of court to be filed, the last was accepted and Mr. Manning duly acknowledged executor.

This action precipitated immediate action on part of the heirs, and caviat proceedings were immediately instituted. The public has been greatly interested in the case because of the number of complex points involved, and the final outcome will be received with considerable interest in Bethel and surrounding community.

PUBLIC RESPONDS TO CAMPAIGN FOR WOODROW WILSON

Chairman Gaskins Believes Pitt County Will Go Over Its Goal Within a Short Time

Pitt county people are responding liberally to the Woodrow Wilson Foundation campaign now being waged throughout the nation, according to an announcement made today by J. C. Gaskins, local chairman appointed by Mrs. Josephus Daniels the early part of the week.

The total amount so far contributed has not been ascertained, but is believed will go far beyond its goal, Chairman Gaskins said. The women have responded in an interesting way, and it is probable they will out number the men when the final count has been made.

The campaign is attracting attention in every part of the county and splendid contributions have been received from Ayden Farmville and other places. Mr. Gaskins believes that practically every town will measure up to expectation before the campaign is over and that his report to the State committee will be favorable indeed.

It was first announced that committees would canvass the city for funds, but this was a mistake. No committees will be appointed, and the public is asked to send all contributions direct to Chairman Gaskins. The same plan has been adopted throughout the entire nation as it is believed the necessary million dollars can be raised without individual solicitation.

The great part which Woodrow Wilson played in behalf of the nation can not be denied him, and it is to perpetuate his great deeds that the foundation movement was inaugurated.

The outcome of the committee's strenuous campaign is being watched with considerable interest in every farming State of the Union and the results of the credits bill will largely determine the future of the industry.

WASHINGTON CLUB IS TO PLAY INITIAL GAME HERE FRIDAY

Greenville Basketball Club Confident of Winning First Clash With Boys From Salisbury

One of the most stubbornly contested basketball games of the season will be played in this city tomorrow night when the Greenville high school club tackles Washington for the first time this season. Both clubs are in splendid condition for the fray, Coach Duncan stated this morning, and if Washington intends to win they will have to put up a fast class of basketball.

The schedule provided for a double header during the evening, the other game to have been played by Greenville girls with a club from the New Bern high school. This game, however, was abandoned until an indefinite date because of the inability of the girls to secure a definite lineup in time for the contest.

The boys, however, are in prime condition for the fourth game of the season, Mr. Duncan said, and unless unforeseen difficulties arise Washington will find opposition greater than expected. The Greenville club has gained considerable experience with other teams of superior ability, and should be able to capture their second game of the season.

Washington is also confident of winning as they have a well trained set of players fully capable of contending for honors against a much stronger team than Greenville. The outcome of the contest, however, will be watched with interest, and if Greenville comes about victorious it will probably mean renewed confidence for other successes.

The lineup for the game tomorrow will be: Barber, captain, r f; Zevo Brown, l f; Roy Hardee, manager and center; R. Williams, r g; J. Moye, l g. Other players are R. Mayo, Gaston, Wilkerson, Smith, Perkins, Winslow and Harvey.

Admission to both games will be 25 cents, Coach Duncan announced today, and it is hoped as many persons as possible will attend and encourage the clubs.

WATSON CONTINUES TESTIMONY BEFORE SENATE COMMITTEE

Charges That Two Soldiers Were Killed by Being Held Under Cold Water Until They Died

(By International News). Washington, Jan. 19.—Two American soldiers died in France from the effects of being held under cold water by military police as punishment for coming into camp late at night, according to testimony given today before the senatorial committee investigating the charges of Senator Tom Watson of Georgia that soldiers were killed indiscriminately in France during the world war.

The witness was James Elliott, of Newark, N. J., and his testimony was listened to with great interest by members of the committee, who have heard damaging testimony within the past few days. It is not known then the investigation will be completed, as Senator Watson claims to have much more evidence to produce from men said to be well informed concerning conditions in France.

(By International News). Richmond, Jan. 19.—The fourth day of the great street car strike shows that the workmen are standing solid despite efforts to bring them to terms. They are working jitters twenty hours a day, and the car service is not missed to any great extent in all three cities affected. About twenty street cars were in operation today, it was stated. So far there have been no disorders, and authorities are making every effort to preserve order under all conditions. Overtures of the city's mayor to arbitrate have been rejected and workmen are determined to stick to first decisions.

COLORED MAN OF GRIFTON SHOTS ABUSIVE WOMAN

George Brown Fires on Essie Leary, Producing Probably Fatal Injuries Yesterday

CONTROVERSY RESULTED FROM ARREST OF WOMAN'S RELATIVES IN KINSTON

Charged Brown With Causing Arrest of Relatives Whereupon He Fires With Fatal Results

Essie Leary, colored, of Grifton, is confined in a Kinston hospital today suffering from injuries received when shot by George Brown, also colored, in a heated argument occurring yesterday afternoon about six o'clock. The woman was in a precarious condition when carried to the hospital a short time after the shooting happened, one of the bullets of a .32 calibre revolver penetrating her abdomen and the other lodging in her breast.

Brown escaped and so far authorities haven't been able to ascertain his whereabouts, but it is expected he will be apprehended within the next several hours.

Reasons for the shooting so far remain a mystery, but authorities are of the opinion that it resulted from an altercation over the arrest of the Leary woman's nephew, who was implicated in the attack recently made on a Grifton officer.

After assaulting the officer the nephew went to Kinston, and while there he was recognized by Brown, who immediately reported him to the police, according to reports reaching Grifton. The Leary woman was infuriated with Brown for causing her nephew to be arrested and it was during the heated argument that Brown fired the shots which probably will result in her death.

Brown is said to be one of the most reliable and trustworthy colored men of the Grifton community, but the woman, it is alleged, has a bad character and is a regular defendant in the courts.

Cale K. Burgess Outlines in Brief Way Accomplishments of the Legion While Here

MENTIONS REPORTS OF VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS AND ORGANIZATION HEAD

Express Appreciation to the Town of Greenville For Splendid Reception Tendered Them

Cale K. Burgess, adjutant of the American Legion, issued the following report of the meeting of the executive committee of the North Carolina department which was held at the Carolina Club rooms in this city yesterday.

The executive committee of the North Carolina department of the American Legion, in accordance with the call of the department commander, assembled in the Carolina Club rooms, in Greenville, at 10:15 A. M., on Wednesday, Jan. 18th, 1922. The meeting was called to order by Commander Thomas W. Bird, invocation was pronounced by Chaplain Vickers, and upon roll call, the following members of the committee were present: Commander Thomas W. Bird; Vice Commander J. R. Hollis, Adjutant Cale K. Burgess, Chaplain T. G. Vickers, first district committeeman Dr. G. G. Dixon, second district committeeman R. T. Allen, Third district committeeman, Tom C. Daniels; Fourth district committeeman, Daniel W. Terry; Fifth district committeeman, Robert E. Denny; and Sixth district committeeman, Robert S. MacNeil, and Tenth district committeeman, J. Will Pines, Jr.

Commander Bird made a very brief report, explaining the three functions: The legion function in this state, service to disabled veterans, education regarding the death and aims of the legion and increased membership for the North Carolina Carolina department of the legion. Adjutant Burgess reported briefly regarding the expansion of the legion and finance of the organization.

The following members of the executive committee presented effectively the following subjects: Allen discussed club rooms, Daniel, American Legion Auxiliary; Terry, Post Membership Campaigns; Denny, State Finances; Dickerson, State Membership contest; MacNeil, County Organizations, and Vickers, Americanism Education.

As a result of the report by Denny, Chairman of State finance committee extensive discussion was given to the alleged debt to National Headquarters. (Continued on page 2)

TRAFFIC SIGNS PROTECT CITY SCHOOL CHILDREN

Traffic signals have been placed at the limits of every school district of the city, warning automobile drivers not to run over ten miles an hour while traversing streets passing through these centers. The lives of small children attending city schools have been jeopardized by reckless automobile drivers in the past, but if the signs are carefully observed accidents should be avoidable in the future. Authorities are determined that recently enacted legislation restricting driving within the school zones shall be fully enforced, and violators no doubt will be vigorously prosecuted.

Senator Watson, has produced enough charges in the senate to convict somebody but so far hasn't been able to accomplish anything of any note. The public would be glad to see something of interest transpire, but so long as evidence continues to be of an indefinite nature this can't be expected.

The city is doing the thing in installing electric traffic signs on principal streets, as they will be of far greater service dark nights than the ordinary sign. Traffic conditions can't be too carefully looked after and this advance step on the part of city officials bids fair to further developments along this line.

Improved fire fighting facilities are needed in Greenville, and it is hoped officials will give this matter the consideration it so surely deserves. Tobacco town is greatly in need of such a department. Millions of dollars are invested in that section, and should not be jeopardized by not having the best fire fighting facilities available.

There's probably some truth in Watson's charges of indiscriminate killing of American soldiers in France but getting the public to believe them and enough evidence to bring about convictions seems to be another thing altogether. Mr. Watson, no doubt, is working for the best interests of the country, but the hearing has proceeded so far it is becoming tiresome and ought to be abandoned.

Greenville people should respond liberally to the White Way funds. The new system will be one of the best assets the city has, and should not be forced to begin operation with debts unpaid. Other cities the size of Greenville have had the improved lights many years, and paid for them in the beginning. Therefore, it is seen why it is so imperative for this city to do the same.

The railroads should not forget that wage cuts cannot be made successfully before rates receive similar action. The men won't stand for it, and that they assume the right attitude is very apparent. The public has been discriminated against long enough, and the sooner rates are reduced in proportion to reductions in other branches of industry the earlier the country is destined to recover from effects of inflation and subsequent depression.

The plan to restrict organization of banks in this state is a wise one and should receive greater attention. Numbers of institutions have been organized from time to time without adequate funds, and it is such that have given away before the strain of depression. Legislation looking to the creation of stronger organizations will do away with so many failures and place the state in a better position to enjoy a long season of prosperity.

The city has just completed the installation of electric traffic signs at Five Points, Third and Fourth streets. These signs are the latest things produced for regulation of traffic, and Greenville is the second town in the state to install the system. Several red lights are at the bottom of the post, whether at day or night, and it excuse for any driver not observing the "stop" sign at the top of each post, whether at day or night, and it is probable officials will enforce traffic legislation more vigorously than ever. The signs are attractive and reflect credit upon the taste of city officials.

The triple sale plan to be inaugurated by the Greenville tobacco market will greatly facilitate the sale of bright leaf here next season, and enable the market to make even a better record than heretofore. The plan should have been adopted years ago, but for some reason or other an agreement could not be reached with the large purchasing concerns. Conventions of the past will be done away with entirely when the new plan becomes effective and hundreds of farmers who have been selling on other markets will be attracted here. It is one of the most forward looking steps the industry has taken, and bids fair to revolutionize the sale of bright leaf in this territory.

COMMONSENSE IN PLANTING.

Pitt county farmers should plant carefully this year, remembering experiences of the past few seasons, and the warnings sent out by state departments concerning the coming of the boll weevil. The way crops are planted this year will largely determine the prosperity of the grower, and the matter should be given the attention which it so surely deserves.

The man that plants too much tobacco and cotton cannot hope to enjoy the prosperity of his neighbor, who planted small crops of both, and confined his attention to the cultivation of food crops and raising his own meat. A congested tobacco market will mean greater disaster the coming season than last year. The boll weevil will ruin large crops of cotton, because under no conditions can the farmer give large acreage the same attention as the small.

These facts should be carefully considered, as the future of the farming industry is largely depending on what action the farmer takes in his own behalf. A carefully cultivated crop of tobacco will mean that the grower will have a superior grade to offer the market, and in return will receive prices in proportion to the cost of production.

On the other hand, the man that produces large acreage will have more than he can possibly give proper attention, and as a result will have nothing to offer the market but inferior grades for which there is no demand.

Even should the boll weevil destroy the entire cotton crop and low prices prevail the farmer that makes it a point to produce food crops and raise hogs and cattle will be able to live comfortably. Heretofore these things have been purchased at the supply store, and the farmer had to pay for them out of funds obtained from cotton and tobacco.

Such conditions must not prevail this year. The farmer should make it a point to use commonsense and judgment during planting season, and at harvest time reap what he sows. If he sows wisely, he will reap prosperity, but if he sows carelessly he can't possibly hope to reap other than destruction.

Adjutant Burgess Makes Report on American Legion Meeting

ters, said debt being alleged by National headquarters to be in the amount of $563.75, the same being what National Headquarters claims was due by the North Carolina department in May, 1920, when Mr. C. A. Gosney resigned as department ment-state adjutant and finance officer. Upon motion made and unanimously adopted, the department commander and adjutant were instructed to negotiate an adjustment of the said debt to National Headquarters, while these two officers are in Indianapolis on Jan. 20th and 21st, with instructions to pay immediately whatever the compromise amount happens to be.

It was reported to the executive committee that Huber T. Prosser of Hamlet had never definitely accepted his election as Seventh District committeeman. It was moved and carried that Commander Bird communicate with Mr. Prosser and learn his pleasure in respect to the office to which the Hendersonville convention elected him. Also, Commander Bird was authorized to appoint immediately a successor to Mr. Prosser in case he could not prevail upon Mr. Prosser to accept this position.

Commander Bird stated that Chanley of the Ninth district had requested the appointment of an associate committeeman to assist him in his work in his district. Commander Bird was authorized to make such an appointment.

Tom C. Daniels of New Bern was elected to represent North Carolina on the National Committee for Naval Affairs.

It was moved and carried that all local posts be directed and urged to follow this policy in respect to the passage and the announcement of resolutions indorsing or condemning any proposition or personal, affecting matters other than those that are purely and entirely local. All resolutions concerning anything not entirely local should be announced and promulgated only through state headquarters.

Telegrams were received from the following persons to express their regrets because of their inability to attend this Greenville meeting: Eighth district committeemen, Thomas B. Marsh, Jr., of Salisbury; Ninth district committeemen, S. S. Chanley of Marshal; Mrs. E. W. Bert of Salisbury and Robert B. House of Raleigh. The executive committee directed that the greetings and message from Mrs. Bert be answered with telegram expressed in fitting terms.

The morning session was adjourned at one o'clock and the afternoon session convened at 3:15 in the afternoon.

Pless, Chairman of the State membership committee, addressed the meeting concerning state membership and service campaigns. In respect to the work along the line of Americanism and patriotic education, Vickers, Denny and Dixon were directed to prepare in co-operation with Robert B. House and the State department of public inspection, appropriate essays and articles on this subject.

After the adoption of the following resolutions, upon motion of adjutant Burgess, the executive committee adjourned:

Whereas the Pitt County Post of the American Legion and First District Committeeman Dr. G. G. Dixon, have provided every possible entertainment and hospitality for the state executive committee during its visit and meetings in Greenville on January 18th, 1922, therefore;

Be it resolved that the members of the state executive committee express their great appreciation and thank to the Legionnaires of Greenville and Pitt county, and to Dr. Dixon particularly, for their generous hospitality on this occasion.

NEW DEVICE RAPIDLY CONVERTS SNOW INTO WATER

(By International News)

New York.—The latest patented snow removal device will be given trial, and the demonstration will be a tryout here during the next heavy fall, and the demonstration will be watched by city officials, according to William F. Guerin, inventor, who has recently received letters patent from the government on his removal and heating device.

The invention consists of an inverted trench constructed of brick work egg shape placed in the gutters of the street, which have a series of steam pipes supported on movable brackets connected by a two-inch steam pipe to supply steam from boiler at the end from a return steam trap. The condensation is discharged into the bottom of the invert and finally into the sewer.

The trench is covered with heavy iron frames and covers to permit with safety the movement of traffic. All of the snow can be shoveled or plowed into this trench on top of steam pipes under high or less steam pressure and the snow water falls to the bottom of the trench and discharges into the sewer.

On Tuesday afternoon little Miss Elizabeth Pugh Carr, delightfully entertained a large number of her friends in honor of her sixth birthday. The drawing room and library were beautifully decorated with crepe paper, ferns, and spring flowers. Upon arrival the guests were welcomed by the hostess and invited into the library where they were presented crepe paper dresses in rainbow colors. After putting these on several games were enjoyed. The birthday cake was arranged on the dining room table. It was very pretty with the initials E. P. C., 6, 1922, engraved in the icing. Miss Sharp, the hostess' teacher-cut the cake and the little folks thoroughly enjoyed the "cake cutting." An ice course was served. After several other games the guests departed wishing Miss Carr many happy returns of the day. The little hostess was the recipient of a large number of pretty presents.

Reception.

Immediately after the wedding, Mrs. I. F. Lee, mother of the bride, was hostess to a large number of friends at a reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Burgess. The entire lower floor was thrown into one room and was beautifully decorated, with the color scheme of pink predominating. Potted plants and tapers were used in profusion.

Upon arrival the guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Warren and presented to the receiving line which was composed of several members of the bridal party and the family. Those assisting in receiving were Dr. and Mrs. C. O'H. Laughinghouse, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gaylord, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. White, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. James, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Warren, Miss Kathen Cousins, of Danville, Va.

In the hall punch was served by Misses Pattie Wooten, Ruth Andrews Frances Whedbee, Jessie Moye and Messrs. Robert Phillips, D. J. Whitehead, Jr., Charlie White and Charlie James. The dining room was especially attractive. A miniature wedding covered the table. An ice course was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Burgess were the recipients of one of the largest and most handsome arrays of bridal presents ever seen in Greenville.

BURGESS-LEE.

Beautiful Wedding Solemnized in Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church.

One of the most beautiful weddings ever solemnized in this section of the state, took place in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church last evening at 9 o'clock when Miss Edith Lee became the bride of Mr. Cale K. Burgess, of Raleigh.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with Shasta daisies, the American Legion flower smilax, maline streamers, potted plants and pines, carrying out the color scheme of green and white. Electric lights, with maline shades were placed at different places among the flowers, and these, with the church darkened, shed forth mellow rays on the wedding scene.

Mrs. S. T. White presided at the organ and while the hundreds of friends were gathering she rendered a beautiful musical program. Prior to the entrance of the bridal party a chorus composed of Misses Jessie Moye, Lillian Parke, Mrs. Percy Forbes, Mrs. J. B. James, Messrs. C. B. Rowlett, D. S. Spain, Jr., W. T. Lipscomb, Jr., and Charlie James sang the bridal chorus from Lohengrin. This was followed by two solos "Because" and "Tillie" sung by Mrs. Harper Holliday, of Dunn. Each member of the chorus and Mrs. Holliday, have splendid voices and the music was one of the outstanding features of the wedding. An organ pealed forth Mendelssohn's wedding march the bridal party entered in the following order: First the ushers, Messrs. Charles White and D. J. Whitehead, Jr., of this city, Mr. Raymond Cromartie of Dunn and Robert F. Phillips, of Raleigh. As they reached the chancel rail, they divided and stood on the steps leading to the rostrum. The ushers were followed by two of the bride's maids, Misses Pattie Wooten and Ruth Andrews. Miss Wooten wore a beautiful gown of crepe back satin, American Beauty shade, with slippers to match and carried Ophelia roses tied with maline to match her gown. Miss Andrews was gowned in purple with gold trimmings and carried Kilarney roses. They were followed by Dr. G. G. Dixon, of Ayden and Mr. William Pless, of Marion. Miss Frances Whedbee, beautifully gowned in a jade green satin, with slippers to match and carrying Kilarney roses, and Miss Charlotte Hodges, of Kingston, in a frock of gold colored satin, with slippers to match, and carrying Ophelia roses, tied with gold maline, were the next to enter. All four bridesmaids stood on the rostrum and formed a most beautiful crescent with the ushers at either end. The next two groomsmen to enter were Messrs. R. S. McNeil, of Fayetteville and R. T. Allen, of Kingston. The groomsmen were the single members of the executive board of the North Carolina department of the American Legion.

Mrs. James E. Thiem, of Raleigh, an aunt of the bride, and Mrs. R. C. Stokes, Jr., matron and dame of honor were the next to enter. Mrs. Thiem was gowned in a beautiful creation of black lace over satin, trimmed in jet with a court train. She carried a shower bouquet of kilarney roses. Mrs. Stokes wore a handsome Sapphire satin gown and carried Ophelia roses. Miss Nellie Burgess, of Raleigh, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, preceded the bride. She wore a lovely frock of Corral satin and carried Ophelia roses. She was followed by little Miss Francis Cromartie, of Dunn, wearing a pink accordion pleated crepe de chine dress, and carrying a basket filled with rose petals which she scattered before the bride. As she entered Master James Thiem, Jr., of Raleigh, entered down the opposite aisle bearing the ring on a white satin pillow. He wore a white satin suit. The bride entered with her sister Miss Maude Lee, who gave her in marriage. She wore a beautiful gown of white brocaded satin with touches of georgette and real lace, trimmed with pearls and court train. Her veil was of lace held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. Her train was covered with hand-made roses. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, valley lilies and orchids. Miss Lee was becomingly attired in a gown of orchid satin with sequins trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of Kilarney roses. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. T. W. Bird, of Asheville, commander of the State division of the American Legion. Rev. T. G. Vickers, of Henderson, chaplain of the North Carolina division of the American Legion, and Rev. V. P. Scoville, the bride's pastor performed the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony. While this was in progress, Mrs. White played "O, Believe Me, If All Those Engaging Young Charms." She used the wedding march from "Tanhauser," as the recessional.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Burgess motored to Wilson, from which point they left for Indianapolis, headquarters of the American Legion, where on the 20th and 21 will be held a meeting of the state commanders and adjutants.

Mrs. Burgess is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Lee, of this city, and is one of the most popular and attractive members of the young social set. She was born in Dunn, but moved to Greenville when a small girl. She was educated at the Greenville High school and Randolph-Macon Women's College, Lynchburg, Va. The past fall she taught history and English in the Warsaw high school.

Mr. Burgess is a promising young attorney of Raleigh, a member of the firm of Burgess and Joyner. As adjutant of the North Carolina department of the American Legion, his duties have carried him throughout this state and other states, where with his attractive personality he has won a host of friends. He was educated from the State University and was a member of the class of 1912.

The Reflector was late in reaching its readers yesterday afternoon because of an unexpected breakdown in the mechanical department. We are making every effort to give the best of service in our circulation department with improvements along other lines, but will not be able to do so unless readers notify us immediately when they fail to receive their paper. Under ordinary conditions the paper should leave the office every afternoon between four and five o'clock, and readers after that time should notify the circulation department if the carriers fail to reach their homes. By so doing we will be enabled to correct any irregularity, and render the efficient service which we are so anxious to do.

Kiwanis is a euphonious, coined word, which originally had no meaning save that ascribed to it by its originators. Yet it has come to have a very definite meaning through the constructive work of Kiwanians. In every community in which Kiwanis exists we find it standing for unselfish service in the interest of the community, the state and the nation. Our motto, "We Build," is the outward expression of the spirit which is Kiwanis.

The first Kiwanis Club was organized at Detroit, Michigan, in January, 1915. During the following year, two more clubs were established, one at Cleveland and another at Pittsburgh. In the second year 35 clubs were established and in the third year 35 more clubs were added to the list, so that in 1918 there were 73 clubs. At the time of the Birmingham convention in 1919, there were 137 clubs with about 16,500 members. In 1920 we had 367 clubs and 37,000 members. Today we have 640 clubs and a membership of nearly 57,000 of America's leading business and professional men.

The mission of Kiwanis in a community is not in the largest sense the accomplishment of the specific thing. The mission is two-fold. First, it creates that spirit in a community which enables other existing organizations to accomplish more easily the things for which they were organized. Kiwanis readily lends its support to the Chamber of Commerce, the Church, the School, the Boy Scouts, the Y. M. C. A. and other organizations working for the public good.

The second mission of Kiwanis is the development of community leaders. It is taking the man who has been indifferent to community affairs and teaching him that he has a definite responsibility to his community. Kiwanis is transforming the indifferent American business man into a worker who is thinking along the lines of civic betterment and national improvement.

During the seven years of its existence Kiwanis has succeeded in doing a great amount of good in civic welfare work and in charity. Besides this the following are some of its outstanding accomplishments:

Kiwanis has introduced the Golden Rule into Business Life. Kiwanis has fostered wholesome competition, because of the fact that under our system of dual classification, competitors become acquainted with each other in the club and instead of being enemies they become friends to the profit of both.

Kiwanis is gradually bringing the farmers and business men into more friendly business relations with each other.
