

ANTHRACITE COAL MINERS TO STRIKE ABOUT APRIL 1ST

Complete Suspension of Work in All Mines Ordered Unless Wage Scale Is Adjusted

OPERATORS DETERMINED TO MAINTAIN POSITION OUTLINED AT THE FIRST

Situation Grows in Seriousness as Discontent Begins to Spread Among Workers

Shamokin, Pa., Jan. 21.—Complete suspension of work in all anthracite coal mines beginning April 1st, unless the new wage scale is executed by that time, has been recommended by a scale committee at a tri-district convention of hard coal miners held here this morning.

The situation is growing in seriousness daily, as discontent over low wages in rapidly spreading among the miners. Operators have made no move to meet demands of union heads, and unless action is taken within the next few days it is probable the situation will become even more accentuated.

In a letter from Dr. Winters to Mr. Pace, he has the following to say: "You will make no mistake in recommending either the Cleveland or Mexican. Both these varieties have given splendid results in all our test over the state and have done well in your neighboring counties." Pitt county farmers should begin right now to fight the boll weevil getting the best varieties of cotton.

WHY THE BUSINESS PEOPLE ADVERTISE IN THE REFLECTOR

While that price is not charged for it, an advertisement in The Reflector is worth three times as much as in any other Pitt county newspaper, because the circulation of this paper is three times as large as any other. Advertisers who want to may come count the press run any day and see the papers mailed to subscribers. A thousand copies are distributed daily by carriers in Greenville and on the rural routes served from Greenville, to say nothing of the large number going to all other sections of Pitt county and outside the county.

Pope Benedict XIII

POPE BENEDICT XIII DIES TODAY AFTER INFLUENZA ATTACK

(By International News) Rome, Jan. 21.—Pope Benedict XIII died today, death being due to pneumonia and heart weakness which was complicated with bronchial catarrh and influenza.

The pontiff had been ill only five days. The final attack of illness dated back until last Tuesday when he contracted a heavy cold.

The Pope was living at midday today, but had grown steadily worse. During the morning hours he was in extreme agony. Breathing was very difficult and little hope was entertained for his recovery by physicians who had been at his bedside almost continuously.

Masses were held at every altar throughout Rome this morning.

Solemn high mass for the Pope was celebrated at Westminster cathedral in London this morning. The mighty church was crowded and many wept as they took part in the services.

FORBES ARRESTED ON TWO SEPARATE CASES BY POLICE

Operator of Store Across River Given Hearing For Handling Whiskey and Alleged Prostitution

John Forbes, white man who operates a store on the other side of the river bridge, was given a preliminary hearing before Magistrate J. T. Smith this morning on charges of handling contraband liquor and alleged prostitution and bound over to the next term of superior court under bond of $500.

The arrest of Forbes resulted from a raid on his store last night by Sheriff Dudley, Chief Lester Jones and other members of the police department in which four gallons of moonshine whiskey were located. The store was thoroughly searched for other supplies, but four gallons constituted the haul.

The charge of prostitution grew out of previous evidence obtained by members of the department, in which it is alleged that the man had carried a woman to his store for immoral purposes.

Forbes plead guilty in the preliminary hearing this morning, and as direct disposition of the case was not within jurisdiction of the magistrate's court it was continued to the higher court.

Sea Turtles Fill Gulf

San Pedro, Cal.—Thousands of large sea turtles have taken possession of the Gulf of Tehuantepec, on the coast of Mexico, according to reports brought to this port by officers and crew of the freighter Cape Romano. As evidence the ship's crew had four turtles, caught in a net without reducing the speed of the vessel. Shells of the turtles measured three and one-half feet in width.

GREENVILLE TAKES FIRST GAME FROM WASHINGTON CLUB

Local Club Wins From Strong Washington Outfit in First Game of Season, Score 41 to 17

KUGLER FEATURES FOR VISITING CLUB WITH FOUR FIELD GOALS

Brown, Williams and Barber Take Prominent Part For Greenville in Every Part Game

The Greenville high school basketball team came into their own last night when they won from the strong Washington club by the score of 41 to 17. The game was one of the hardest fought played here during the season, and featured in superior playing by the Greenville club in every part of the game.

A fair sized crowd attended the game despite inclemency of the weather, and the locals were cheered on to victory possibly as they were never cheered before. Washington battled hard to overcome the definite lead gained by the locals in early stages, but without success, as goal shooting was accurate and almost amazing at times and resulted in the visitors losing ground after their short spurt forward in the last half.

The outstanding feature of the game so far as the visitors were concerned was the excellent work of Kugler, the little fellow who shot four out of the entire five field goals made by his teammates. He also scored seven fouls, and played a strong defensive game.

Brown and Williams were outstanding stars for Greenville, with Barber also taking a prominent part. Zeno Brown is credited with nine field goals, shooting eight of these in the first half. Barber shot five field goals and had three fouls credited up to him. Williams made four field goals and fouled one.

Coach Duncan was highly elated at the splendid showing of his club in the fifth game of the season and expects even a better showing against the Vanceboro club which plays here Tuesday night. The boys go up against Tarboro Friday night in a double header in which Greenville and Tarboro girls feature in one of the games.

The line-up of last night's game was: J. Barber, captain, r. f.; Zeno Brown, l. f.; R. Hardee, c.; T. Foley, r. g.; R. Williams, l. g. Washington: Kugler, r. m.; McIlhenney, l. f.; Baker, c.; Potts, r. g.; Jefferson, l. g. Substitutes: For Greenville, Winslow for Foley; Smith for Williams. For Washington, Burgess for Burgess. Referee Tom Kennedy.

Immediately after the contest, the high school girls gave members of both teams a social, which was given at the home of Miss Rose Hadley. This was one of the most enjoyable events of the season and proved a fitting climax to the game.

Government Begins Campaign Against Bootleggers Within Hospital Areas of Nation

Undesirables Ploek to Hospital Areas on Pay Days and Sell Supplies to Get Horse Money

(By International News) Washington, Jan. 21.—The lives of American crippled war veterans are constantly endangered by an army of "human vultures" which hover over hospital areas. It was learned in official quarters today.

The situation has become so grave that officials and members of congress are now planning to exterminate this new menace to the disabled heroes.

It was brought out officials said, that bootleggers and purveyors of drugs and other undesirables have been flocking to the hospital areas on pay days to ply their trades among the disabled men.

OUTLINES DEFINITE PLAN PRODUCING COTTON NEXT YEAR

County Cotton Grader Gives Good Ideas For Planting in Face of Coming Pest

The following matter concerning the coming of the boll weevil was made public this morning by R. E. Banks, government cotton weigher of Pitt county. This information is of great value to cotton planters, and they should abide by it as far as possible.

We are now aware that our cotton in the future will be grown under boll weevil conditions. At first it was feared that only the earliest small boll varieties, such as King, Sugar Leaf and Simpkins could be grown in the presence of this pest. More recently we have learned that this is not the case.

When the Gulf States were first infested with weevil, small-boll varieties were substituted for medium boll varieties but it was found that the extra early varieties had no advantage over the medium boll varieties of cotton. One of the first steps to take in growing cotton under boll weevil conditions is to get a variety which will not only set fruit early but will continue to form squares throughout the entire growing season.

Under boll weevil conditions the Division of Agronomy recommends Cleveland Big Boll, Mexican Big Boll and Edcombe Cook. These cottons are medium boll varieties and have been grown successfully under boll weevil conditions. The above varieties are recommended because they have cultivated all other varieties under field conditions and are being further improved in our own State by field selection each year.

If interested in getting better cotton seed suited to your conditions, get in touch with your county agent or write the division of Agronomy, State College Station, Raleigh, North Carolina.

CONGESTED DOCKET BEFORE MAYOR IN CITY COURT TODAY

Number of Cases Heard in One of the Most Lengthy Dockets of the Month This Morning

MANY CHICKEN CASES IN COURT RESULTING IN WARNING BY CHIEF

Chief Jones Issues Warning Against Allowing Chickens to Run at Large in City

Another comparatively heavy docket faced Mayor D. M. Clark in this morning's session of police court, but each case was disposed of with great dispatch and resulted in adjournment before the noon hour.

The majority of cases before the mayor this morning consisted of charges of chickens running at large. In each case the defendants were released upon payment of cost, but were warned to keep their chickens up in the future.

The chicken cases also caused Chief of Police Lester Jones to warn the public against permitting chickens running at large, as people who prefer chickens and allow them to rove all over the neighborhood are likely to disturb people preferring a garden. The garden is permitted and so are chickens, but either one or the other must be eliminated, the chief warned, and in the future violations of the ordinance will be vigorously prosecuted.

W. A. Hudson, charged with turning an automobile around in the center of a block, paid cost of the action.

R. E. Carrin, for driving an automobile without sufficient lights at night, was fined $5 and cost. The defendant appealed to superior court.

Fred Clark, charged with driving an automobile while in an intoxicated condition, was bound over to the next term of county court.

SOIL IMPROVEMENT CAMPAIGN BEGINS HERE IN FEBRUARY

Farm Department Arranges With the State Department to Send Demonstrator Here on First

TO WAGE CAMPAIGN FOR IMPROVEMENT OF SOILS IN ALL PARTS OF COUNTY

Effort to Be Made to Produce Better Crops Through Attention to the Soil

County Agent W. B. Pace has arranged to have Mr. E. C. Blair, Soil and Crop Specialist of the North Carolina Extension Service, Raleigh, visit Pitt county February 1, 2 and 3rd. They will conduct a campaign for the improvement of the soils of the county. Meetings will be held at as many farms visited as possible. Farmers are invited to attend the meetings and bring their soil fertility problems along for discussion. Some of the subjects taken up will be: The proper kind and amounts of fertilizers to use for different crops; whether it is best to buy fertilizers ready mixed or to mix them at home; the use of legumes to supply nitrogen and humus for soil improvement; lime for sweetening sour soils; and good rotations for systematic soil improvement.

Mr. Blair will be able to discuss these things in the light of experiments carried out by the North Carolina Extension Service, Raleigh, that lead to the leading types of this county. The soils and climate of Pitt county give excellent opportunities for diversified, year-round farming. This should be taken advantage of, both for rapid soil improvement and for keeping up the fertility of rich soils. It is conceded that this system is the only basis for permanent and prosperous agriculture. All farmers of the county are urged to attend these meetings. The following schedule has been arranged:

Wednesday, Feb. 1, 7 p. m. Simpson; Thursday, Feb. 2, 2 p. m., Grifton; Thursday, Feb. 2, 7 p. m., Farmville; Friday, Feb. 2 p. m., Ayden; Friday, Feb. 7 p. m., Bethel.

St. Catherine's Day is when all French girls who have attained the age of twenty-five without finding a husband put on the bonnet of spinsterhood.

at the Philadelphia Conservatory of Music. All the Philadelphia papers from time to time have had words of the highest praise for Mr. Ezerman. Wherever he has appeared in recitals he has had complimentary reports in the papers.

The movement for getting a portrait of Mr. J. L. Fleming for the walls of the college has met with the heartiest approval from the townspeople. The members of the Poe Literary Society feel themselves particularly fortunate in being able to render double service to the town and school by having so worthy a cause and by being able to offer such opportunity to the music loving public to hear a great musician.

Mr. Schorling is a representative of a group of teachers in this country, who believe that mathematics can be taught in the high schools in such a way as to mean something in the lives of the students. Therefore, what he has to say should be of great interest to those who are engaged in the teaching of high school mathematics.

Teachers of mathematics in all of the colleges and high schools of the state and all others who are interested in the teaching of mathematics are invited to attend the meetings.

The opening session at 8 p. m. Friday, February 3, is very important, and all are urged to be present at this meeting.

JUDGE CRAMMER TO ADDRESS CLASS AT METHODIST CHURCH

Superior Court Jurist to Talk to Young Men at Jarvis Memorial Church Here Tomorrow Morning

Judge E. H. Crammer, who has been praiding over the civil term of Pitt county superior court in Greenville this week, will address members of the Young Men's Class of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church tomorrow morning at 9.45, according to an announcement made by J. B. James, president of the class, late yesterday afternoon.

This information will be received with interest by members of the class, as Judge Crammer has established an enviable reputation during his short stay here, and his message should have a direct appeal to the young men so fortunate as to hear him.

The Young Men's class of the Methodist church is one of the largest in the city, and it is probably the entire membership will be present to hear what the distinguished jurist has to say. Judge Crammer is well acquainted with conditions confronting the young men of today, and will have a great message for every member of the class.

It is gratifying to note that little violence is featuring the strike of street car workers in Richmond and Norfolk, Va. So long as this situation prevails it is likely the dissatisfaction may be settled amicably, with all parties concerned feeling they have received proper treatment.

Greenville, Wilson and Kinston are called the "big three" independent tobacco towns of the world. Wilson plans to run four sales simultaneously next season, Greenville three and Kinston two. If there's any tobacco left when these markets get through selling, the co-operative movements may pool or do whatever they please with it, according to old standbys.

If the government has lost $1,500,000 since beginning negotiations with Henry Ford, it looks like it might pay to close the deal. Practically a quarter-million dollars will be lost every month hereafter until the deal is concluded. The administration might do well to forget opposition and let Henry show the world what he is capable of doing with the project, as it is certain the government is not going to do much with so many senators butting in.

American farmers believe Henry Ford will be able to produce a cheaper grade fertilizer at Muscle Shoals and are planning to use their influence in his interest. That they are on the right track goes without saying. Ford has been very successful in practically everything undertaken and there's no reason why he should not make a success of Muscle Shoals. With farmers supporting him, Ford ought to come out winner in the long run.

General Pershing says the United States army can't be reduced below 150,000 men. The majority of people will agree with him on this point, realizing that this number would be necessary in case of serious labor disorders or other things threatening the peace of the country. An extensive peace program is all right and very acceptable, but jeopardizing public interests by radical reduction of the standing army is more than the public will endure.

The boll weevil was given a decided setback at the meeting of cotton growers at New Bern this week. Many interesting facts were presented the

OPEN FORUM

For the convenience of those desiring to present some matter to the public for the upbuilding and welfare of the town and community, The Reflector today begins the publication of an Open Forum. Personal grievances, however, will not be accepted, and it is best that these matters not be submitted. All articles must be signed by the author. The first of the Forum numbers, from Henry T. Must Ayden Boast of Furnishing Greenville a Postmaster?

What will other towns and outsiders think of a town which goes to another town to get a postmaster?

As it looks now we have the prospect of Ayden furnishing Greenville with a postmaster. Such postmaster will be a man with no real interests here except the job. His citizenship is based upon a short residence as a wage earner, employed by a firm whose principal business is at Ayden, and for several months he has been engaged in business in Ayden, maintaining a quasi residence here only. He stands lowest on the list of eligibles as put out by that commission up there in Washington city. He is physically disqualified for the greater part of the post office duties.

After more than eight years service your present postmaster is declared not qualified for the job and an outsider put up for it. So if Greenville's citizens, chamber of commerce, Kiwanians, Mowees and other tribes stand for this, let no more be said about foreigners doing business here.

HENRY T. KING.

farmers, and if they will abide by them the year should be very successful despite the weevil. The secret of success lies in a reduction of cotton and tobacco acreage and the planting of food crops on surplus acreage.

It is gratifying to note so many Pitt county people are responding liberally to the Woodrow Wilson Foundation campaign now in progress in this county under the direction of J. C. Gaskins, register of deeds. The cause is a very worthy one, and de-

The government seems to think profiteering is still continuing in some sections of the nation and is exerting every influence to bring it to an end. This action should have been taking long ago when gouging was at its height. At the present time the profitteer works carefully, and handles that mass of people not acquainted with changing conditions. However, if the investigating committee goes about its work in earnest, we suppose it will be very acceptable.

That the Greenville tobacco market will be in position to look after the farmer's interest to a greater extent than ever before is now an assured fact. The triple sale plan to be adopted next season has been needed since the market has grown to such great proportions, and the farmer should realize great benefits from it. Sales will be speeded up to such extent that all floors can be cleared daily and the farmer will be able to sell and return home the same day. It will be a great change, and one every market this size is very much in need of.

A dispatch says farmers' woes are to be analyzed by an investigation of the agricultural department. Impossible.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Complimentary to Mrs. Jane Forbes Who Celebrates 72nd Birthday.

On last evening at six o'clock at the home of Mrs. Hortense Moye, the children of Mrs. Jane Forbes delightfully entertained in her honor at a buffet dinner, the occasion being her 72nd birthday. The dining room was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and ferns. Every member of the family was present with the exception of two grandsons, Messrs. Bert Moye and George Hadley who are away at school. Covers were laid for thirty-five, and a happier crowd never gathered to do honor to "mother," even if Messrs. Moye and Hadley were not present in person they were in thought, and each sent an appropriate telegram of love and wishes for many returns of the day.

After dinner had been served, Messrs. Charlie Forbes and Fred Forbes carrying a large clothes basket, beautifully decorated, and containing a kitchen shower, entered the room and presented the basket to the honoree. Each member of the family from the youngest grandchild had remembered Mrs. Forbes with a gift. Each present contained a small verse, "To Mother," and the opening of the packages and reading the verses required quite a bit of time but each was opened and the givers were thanked in words which only "mother" can express.

The Forbes family which is composed of Mrs. Jane Forbes, two sons Messrs. Charlie and Fred Forbes and five daughters, Messdames Hortense Moye, Rosa Quinerly, G. W. B. Hadley, W. L. Best, S. T. White is one of the happiest and most congenial families in Greenville. They all live in the same section of the town and a few minutes walk to their mother's, who lives at the old home place. Every year on their mother's birthday the children gather at one of the homes and entertain in honor of the event. Each time it is a surprise to Mrs. Forbes as she is not told until sent for.

Mrs. Forbes is one of Greenville's most beloved ladies and to know her is to love her. She is one of Greenville's oldest citizens, and each and every friend wish for her many happy returns of her birthday.

Much fund and merriment at the home of Mr. D. D. Overton's, Feb. 13th at 8 o'clock by ladies of Circle No. 8, of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church.

Mrs. Bowen Tells How Rats Almost Burned Her Home Down

"For two months I never went in our cellar, fearing a rat. One night in bed I smelled fire. Sure enough the rat had been nibbling at the 21 matches. If I hadn't acted promptly my house would have been burned. Later we found the dead rat. RAT-SNAP killed it. It's great stuff."
