BANK PROFITEERS TO BE PROSECUTED BY UNITED STATES

Federal Reserve Board to Begin War-fare on Banks That Charge Excessive Interest

WHITE HOUSE ALARMED AT CONDITIONS SAID TO BE IN EXISTENCE

Actual Proof of Activities Is Being Sought by Federal Agents, It Was Said Today

(By International News.)
Washington, Jan. 31.—Bank profiteers who borrow money from Federal Reserve banks at five percent and extortion at ten or twelve per cent from farmers will be blacklisted, administration officials declared today. Drastic action will follow the president's expose of methods of some bankers in farming regions. Government agencies are engaged in hunting profiteers. Something more than idle rumor is basis for the White House statement, expressing alarm that government funds were being used recklessly.
Actual proof of activities will be sought, and those found guilty no doubt will be prosecuted.

SECRETARIES PLAN FUTURE ACTIVITIES AT WINSTON SALEM

Secretary Smith Tells of Eventful Meeting Just Concluded in the Twin City

MANY DISCUSSIONS FEATURED SESSIONS DURING THE WEEK

Secretary Roberts Outlined Plans for "Products Week" in This State

Looking toward acquainting the people of North Carolina and the entire country with the advantages which this state has to offer, President C. W. Roberts of Greenboro presented a unique plan to be known as North Carolina Products Week to be held the latter part of April or the first of May. This week is to be put on and sponsored by the Secretaries' Association, Chambers of Commerce, University and other educational institutions of the State, State departments and other Trade Organizations of the State.
The mid-winter meeting of the North Carolina Commercial Secretaries' Association convened Saturday morning in Robert E. Lee Hotel, with nineteen secretaries, representing as many towns, present.

Several very important topics were taken up during the morning, and were ably discussed by Messrs. N. Y. Chambliss, N. Buckner, T. F. Moffatt, and Burke Hobgood.

At 12:30 o'clock the members of the Association enjoyed a luncheon in the Robert E. Lee Hotel. H. R. Dwire of the Sentinel acted as toastmaster, and Mr. P. A. Gorrell, President of the local Chamber of Commerce, delivered a short address of welcome, in which he spoke highly of the Secretaries' Association and the work being done by the secretaries. The feature of the luncheon was a fifteen minute address by Mr. Leslie W. Sprague of New York. This address was of an inspirational nature and was thoroughly enjoyed by every one present.

The following secretaries took part in the afternoon discussions: T. L. Riddle, W. T. Ritter, L. T. Moore and G. E. Comer. Following these discussions a most helpful round table period was conducted by N. Y. Chambliss.

Mr. Robert's Plan.
Mr. Roberts in presenting his plan for North Carolina Products Week said: "We need a systematic well-developed plan for securing publicity and advertising out of the State. Mr. Roberts presented the following:
Tuesday,
"Home Products Dinner. On this day there should be held in every community of the State a large dinner for all citizens. The food for that dinner to be the products of that community or the State. Appropriate."

TURNING RICHES AS DROSS, SOULMATES WOULD SHARE GARLAND'S SPIRITUAL LOVE

What Garland and Portion of Triangle Think of Marriage

Charles Garland Says:
"I think the time will come when all laws and conventions will be abolished. They will be abolished when people become self respecting."
Lillian Conrad Says:
"I love Charles Garland for his ideals—not for the man himself. I will sacrifice my love at any time for those ideals."
"My first duty is to Charles. He is free to go back to his wife, whom he still loves. He is free to go to any other woman, even as he came to me. I will share him with any one else, or I will give him up forever. It all depends on his spiritual growth."
"To accept money from the man I love would destroy the idealism of our relations. I will go out and die for the sake of my love."

So much for the power and fear of money, as shown and practiced by Charles Garland of North Carolina, married to a youth who once rejected a fortune of a million but finally accepted it to give away.
Garland is not interested in accumulating dollars. The personal equation diverts him more and in it he finds adventure, not to be equalled by the hoarding or spending of wealth. Because of his insistence upon living as he thinks best Mrs. Charles Garland who was Miss Mary Wrenn, has left her idealistic husband. Is she selfish to leave or is the blame to be placed elsewhere.

GERMAN EX-PRINCE TODAY RECOGNIZES REPUBLICAN REGIME

Frederich Hohenzollern Is Content With Present Form of Government in Germany
AS EXILE ON NORTH SEA FORMER HEIR IS UNABLE TO HELP IN NATION WORK
German People Fail to Recognize Him as Even a Private Citizen With Similar Rights
(By International News.)
Berlin, Jan. 31.—Frederich Wilhelm Hohenzollern, German ex-crown prince, recognized the republican regime of Germany as a legally constituted form of government of the country he was once destined to rule as emperor.

The former German heir is now an exile upon the Dutch island at Wieringen, in the North Sea. He still believes the monarchial system "does more for the people." But since the majority of German people at Weimar choose the republic he accepts that as an irrefutable fact in the face of which he admits his own opinion "cuts no ice."
He opposes any coup by factions, saying that his country has suffered enough in the past. The Fatherland must not be subjected to fresh upheavals.

COX LOSES LIFE WHEN CAR TURNS OVER INTO WATER

Kingston Man Pinned Under Car and Drowned Despite Effort of Louts Whitener

OTHER OCCUPANT MAKES NOBLE STRUGGLE TO SAVE HIS FRIEND, BUT FAILS

Occupants of Another Car Arrive Just in Time to Save Whitener From Drowning Also

David Cox, age 22, lost his life Sunday night about 9:30 o'clock when the roadster in which he was returning from Washington, with Louts Whitener, struck a rickety bridge a few miles the other side of Ormondville, on the Trenton-Greenville road and turned over into the creek on the right of the bridge, pinning both men under the car in a foot or more of water. Cox was securely held down by the car that he was never able to get his head out of the water, and drowned in a few minutes despite the efforts of Whitener to save him.
Both young men are from Kingston, Cox being employed by the H. H. Hodges Company and Whitener an employe of the Lenoir Drug Company. The young men had gone to Washington and were on their way back to Kingston when the accident occurred. The car was being driven at a low rate of speed but due to the slippery side of the road went over the bridge before it could be stopped.

Whitener put up a noble struggle to get out and aid his companion, but was barely able to save his own life. The gurgling sound which Cox made assured Whitener that he was dead and for a short time after Whitener had made every effort to extricate himself from the mud and water he sought to get help.

An old colored woman passing heard the yell and went for aid. A car driven by Jesse Bowen, accompanied by Johnnie Bowen and Robert Oakley, of Ballard's Cross roads, arrived on the scene at this time and did everything possible to aid Whitener, who was still struggling in the water in an effort to free himself.

In a short time they succeeded in lifting the car from the water, and removed the dead body of Mr. Cox. Whitener was carried to the home of William Darden where he was later given medical attention.

The body of Mr. Cox was placed in a nearby tobacco barn until morning, when the coroner carried the body to Kingston. The funeral was held today at two o'clock at Mount Pleasant church, in Jones county. The deceased was the son of James J. Cox, of near Trenton. Both young men are well known in Kingston and held in the highest esteem.

Last report from Whitener stated that he was resting comfortably, and is expected to recover in a short time.

He was later released under bond for his appearance in Mayor's court Wednesday morning.

COUNTRY CLUB IS GAINING IMPETUS THROUGH RUMORS

Rumor Has It That Club Is to Be Established on Jim Cobb Home Place Near City

Rumor has it that the old Jim Cobb home place, located on the hard surfaced road from Greenville to Farmville, is to be converted into a country club, but so far nothing of any definite nature has been ascertained. The rumor is said to have been chased by W. H. Dail, Jr., of Greenville, and is considered an ideal location for a country club. While Mr. Dail has given out no information concerning the matter, it is known that he heartily favors the country club idea, and would do his part by such a proposition.

The result of the rumor will be received with general interest in both Greenville and Farmville, as people in both places would be materially benefited by the club, especially during the summer months when diversion of many kinds would be open to members.

Country clubs have been talked considerably by people in this city the past several months, but this is the first time that one has materialized even so much as a rumor. There are no doubt many persons who would gladly welcome the plan and do their part by it, and for this reason further developments are awaited with interest.

"Your judicial poise and fairness, your painstaking and conscientious care touching each case that came before you, together with your manifest concern for the protection of accident."

EX-MAYOR STARTS A PLAN TO FIGHT THE PROFITEERS

Will Form Co-operative Company With 2,000 Members and Sell Supplies at 10 Percent Profit

(By International News)
Lawrence—William P. White, who has just completed a two-year term as mayor, has announced a plan for combating high prices and conducting a veritable war on profiteers. White says he will invade various Massachusetts cities with a coast plus a team of merchandising all human necessities outside of food.

In his open-air speeches he told the mall employees that profiteering was going on in cities throughout New England and especially in Massachusetts. He declared he held no more grievances against Lawrence business houses than those of any other city, but announced his preference for trying out the idea here.

My plan is to secure the membership of 2,000 persons to begin with, he declared. Each member will pay in advance $10 for one year's membership in the White system, giving the proposition a 20,000 capital. With this capital I will deal directly with the manufacturers of cloth and clothing and eliminate jobbers, wholesalers and retailers. I have leased a large tract in the center of the city, on which I plan to build my tobacco and warehouse.

The membership ticket bears the signature of the person to whom it is issued and can be used by any member of his family, but is otherwise non-transferable.

Presenting the ticket at the White headquarters entitles the holder to probable savings of from 25 to 50 per cent. He plans to cut clothing prices in half and says that he will show people in shoe cities how to sell 80 shoes for $2.50.

He will pay the rent on his warehouse $30 a week and will take care of all overhead expenses on 10 per cent profit. He plans to enter the fuel field later if the plan works out and believes he can cut the price of coal in different cities. White's tobacco will be of the Billy Sunday type and will be of wide dimensions, according to present plans.

White claims to have received many applications for membership in his plan.

AN ARMY MARCHES ON ITS STOMACH, SAID NAPOLEON

The Great Corsican Knew That Success in Life Depends Upon Your Strength, Energy and Endurance

By HARRISON VAUGHN

When Napoleon led his victorious armies through Europe, his worst enemies were not the nations defending themselves against his crushing onslaught; but he was confronted by the graver question of how to provide nourishing and strengthening food for his soldiers.

The Great Corsican realized long ago a century ago, as has every commanding general since, that men's bodies must be perfectly nourished if they are to remain their natural strength, energy and vigor; in fact, that the very health of the human being is regulated almost entirely by the stomach.

Under feeding, insufficient nourishment, means loss of flesh, anemia, loss of red blood and subsequent weakness of the entire system.

What such people need to enable nature to bring back their strength and their restore their lost weight, and put them in fighting trim, with rich red blood coursing through their veins is Tanlac, the powerful reconstructive and body builder.

A man or woman suffering from sour stomach, bad breath, biliousness, indigestion, or pain on stomach, is unbalanced either for physical or mental life. Sufferers from these ailments find life a burden; they look on the world through blue glasses, the joy and rewards of the vigorous, happy, normally healthy person is not theirs. Their troubles hinder them against the world, destroy their ambitions and make their lives dull and unhappy.

How foolish to continue in this condition when on every hand throughout the length and breadth of the land, people by the thousands are daily trying to the remarkable powers of Tanlac, in conquering stomach troubles. This powerful reconstructive medicine builds up the weak and the despondent; gives them new hope and a new lease on life.

Tanlac's name has been praised by hundreds of thousands. Testimonials from every corner of the United States and Canada have shown conclusively that even in cases where patients had almost given up all hope, Tanlac has brought them back to normal so Nature can bring back the flesh you've lost, and the bloom of health in your cheeks, the spring of energy in your step and the sparkle of happiness and contentment in your eye.

NOTE—Tanlac Vegetable Pills are an essential and vitally important part of the Tanlac treatment. You cannot hope to get the most satisfactory results from Tanlac without first establishing a free and regular movement of the bowels. Tanlac Vegetable Pills are absolutely free from calomel and are sold on a positive guarantee to give satisfaction.

Tanlac is sold in Greenville by the Greenville Drug Company and leading druggists everywhere.

MAIN NAVAL ARMS ARE STILL INTACT

Conference Reduces Number, But the Dreadnoughts, U-Boats and Sea-plane Ships Remain

By T. N. SANDIFER,

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Washington.—Despite the months of hacking and redaction, every nation at the Washington conference has emerged with the modern "three-plane navy," essentially intact.

In summing up the general result of the recent arms conference naval experts feel that the effect was to limit generally every branch of the navies of the world, but no essential of those navies has been eliminated. The result is that while the navies of the world are appreciably reduced, their fighting parts are still present in the air, on the waves and below them.

The navies of the world are to have airplane carriers, and the airplane has been virtually untouched by the conference. The backbone of the navy, the battleship, has been reduced in number but is still on the muster roll. The submarine has been technically barred from its principal function in war, but it is still a potential menace.

Lessons from Jutland.

In considering what this means, naval experts point to the battle of Jutland, in the World War, as an illustration of what new weapons of war may be expected to do in the future.

Each of the major powers is to have five airplane carriers. The British navy had one at the time of its big battle, but it was not with the fleet in action. One British seaplane was in action, coasting for the German fleet, and, according to the official report, the plane found it all-

most impossible to work properly because of low-hanging clouds, fog, and the conditions of battle. For the same reason the German dirigibles could not locate the British ships.

The general work of these aircraft was such during the war that the American navy today is using every opportunity to develop this branch. The fact that the conference did not hedge it about has lent it double value in future operations, in naval opinion. Each big ship of the American navy today carries, or has available, a dirigible, scout planes and anti-aircraft batteries. Besides, the American Navy will shortly have two converted airplane carriers, although these are not strictly the type which a ship built for the sole purpose would be. Except for the limitation of carriers, the air is still free to the navy.

Guns' Size Limited.
One of the results of the conference, the limitation of size of guns, naval experts point out, is a real limitation to the extent that it equalizes somewhat the powers of opposing fleets in battle. Ships having guns approximately the same calibre cannot outrange each other. The general effect of the conference on surface craft was to equalize as far as possible the fleets of the major powers with regard to their possible strategic uses.

Submarines have been hedged somewhat also, navy men feel, but as weapons of war they are still on the accepted list, so that, essentially, the "three-plane navy" is a thing for the future and to be dealt with as such.

The officers' Reserve Corps of the United States Army has two major-generals and seventeen brigadier-generals, all of whom served during the world war.

Whether You Wear Knickers or Skirts You'll Want Oxfords for Spring

These last few months there's been quite a bit of talk about Knickerbocker suits for women. Many wear them on outings. Even shoe manufacturers gave the subject serious thought, because Oxfords and Knickers would naturally be worn together.

But we claim that you'll want good, sturdy, comfortable Oxfords whether you wear Knickers or skirts, for your pleasure out on a hike, picnic or camping trip depends upon keeping your feet happy. These Oxfords are medium weight and built for "comfort first," although they're good looking enough to wear with your tailored suit for street wear.

Reduced prices of coal are being urged, but results are not yet in evidence.

Fertilizer interests are beginning to fight Henry Ford's proposal to purchase Muscle Shoals, fearing probably that he will produce a cheaper brand and cause them to lose profits.

England's health record was better last year than ever before. That's something any nation should be proud of.

Henry Ford may have the right idea about developing Muscle Shoals, but government officials seem to have doubt about it.

People with a little cash on hand should deposit it in some reliable banking institution immediately, realizing the danger of being held up and robbed by bandits infesting practically every section of the country.

The terrible tragedy in Washington shows that too much care cannot be used in protecting public life. No one thought the mammoth theatre building would give away under the strain of two feet of snow.

The Red Cross has completed a survey of the Gritton community, and within the next few days will begin organization work. The county chapter can be of great benefit if people will co-operate as they should.

The public should make an effort to aid suffering Jews of Europe, as they are facing conditions today more serious than in years. Our people have been called upon to contribute to some cause ever since the ending of the war.

About the most direct way of relieving the unemployment situation in this country is to lease Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford. He says he will be able to employ a million men, in which case the majority of jobless men will be at work again.

The White Way to be established in Greenville will be one of the best in the state, and ought to be paid for in full by the time it is installed. There are probably many people who have not yet contributed their proportionate part.

THE COTTON OUTLOOK

The price of cotton in the international market and the position of the United States as the world's leading producer will ultimately be determined by the cost of production under new conditions necessitated for the control of the boll weevil.

The destructiveness of the boll weevil and the difficulty and cost of combating it make clear the grave consequences of the invasion of this insect on the economic future of the cotton States.

"The invasion of the boll weevil into the American cotton belt will have an effect on the price of cotton throughout the world. This area has normally produced about 65 percent of the total cotton supply.

"Such progress has been made in methods of fighting the insect as to offer fair assurance that it may yet prove possible to grow as much cotton per acre under boll weevil conditions as before the invasion.

"The world's supply of cotton and the ultimate working out of the situation in the southern States will thus depend to an unknown degree on the effects of this higher production cost on cotton production in other countries.

The depreciation of the boll weevil, the bank points out, will tend to further crop diversification in the southern States.

"Not all of the results of the destructiveness of this insect have been bad," the National Bank of Commerce in New York says. "There are ways in which the cotton States have been benefited, but whether the sum of effects is good or ill a new system of agriculture must be faced.

"In those parts of the South where the weevil is well established and has been most destructive, the lesson has been learned."

Unemployment may be causing many of the robberies resulting in various parts of the nation as some like to claim, but it's about the poorest way of getting a living so far advanced. There's no excuse for a man robbing another to get a living.

Judge Louis G. Cooper has a right conception of the law, and that he is using it to public advantage is very much in evidence every Monday morning when his court is in session.

30 BANK FAILURES CUT INTO GUARANTY FUNDS

(By International News)
Lincoln, Neb.—Suspension of thirty banks in Nebraska in the past two years has drained approximately $4,000,000 from the State Bank Guaranty fund. As a result the State department of trade and commerce has made a special assessment against the remaining 986 State banks of 1 percent of their average daily deposits. Under Nebraska law, bankers must make good all deposits of suspended banks immediately. Amendment to this statute will be proposed at the coming extra session of the State legislature by a bill to place part of the burden on taxpayers.

COUNTY FARMERS NAME DELEGATES FOR CONVENTION

Tobacco Growers Yesterday Named Delegates to Attend Conference in New Bern, Feb. 10

The election of delegates to attend the district conference of members of the Co-operative Tobacco Growers association to be held in New Bern February 7th featured the meeting of a small gathering of farmers at the court house in this city yesterday. The meeting was lively and full interest throughout and resulted in a number of plans looking to the future success of the organization in this immediate territory.

The following delegates were elected: J. R. Turnage, J. C. Galloway, S. M. Crisp, F. F. Cox, Dr. W. W. Dawson, S. M. Jones, Dr. T. G. Bassnight, William McArthur, J. H. Coward, J. H. S. Hodges, G. L. Moore, Oscar Speight and C. D. Smith. These delegates will attend the meeting and New Bern and vote for the election of a director to represent this district in the association. Each section of the state will send similar delegations, and the meeting no doubt will be one of the most interesting in history of the organization.

The district conference was to have been held Wednesday of this week, but during the meeting yesterday Mr. Pace read a telegram from A. W. Swain, state secretary, stating that the conference had been postponed until the 7th. No reason was given for the deferred date, but it is expected it resulted from a desire to give every section more time to select delegates.

CASE ENDS IN LESS THAN HALF HOUR

(By International News)
Lamyra, Ohio.—What is believed to be a record in disposing of a case has been established by the Lorain county common pleas court here. A damage suit was disposed of in twenty six and a fraction minutes. Time consumed by the court in disposing of similar cases heretofore ranged from one week to a year. Names George, his son, filed suit for $2000 alleged damages against the Richwine Ice Cream company. The suit sustained a broken arm when thrown beneath the wheels of the defendant's auto while sleighing. The ice cream company immediately filed an answer. Testimony was submitted, the case argued, the judge charged the jury and a verdict for $875 was returned. The defendant filed a motion for a new trial; the judge overruled the motion, and the plaintiff was given a check for $975. From the time the first petition was filed in the court up to the time the check was paid only twenty six and a fraction minutes elapsed.

For Ever and For Ever! (Tosti) Emilio de Gogorza 66019 10 1.25

This is one of the finest of all Tosti's English lyrics, and Emilio de Gogorza realises to the full, for you, its simple and yet at moments tempestuous beauty.

Alice, Where art Thou (J. Asher) Mischa Elman 74724 12 1.75

Not thousands, but millions, probably will call for this old favorite tune. Everybody knows "Sweet Alice," but comparatively few have heard it as Elman plays it.

Quartet in D Major—Allegro moderato (Hayden) Flonzaley Quartet 74726 12 1.75

Hayden, when he wrote string quartets, rose above all other giants of music. This number, for four simple instruments, has all the bigness and joyousness and breadth of a movement from some great symphony.

O! Car'lina (Cooke) Amelita Galli-Curci 66014 10 1.25

Galli-Curci's record this month is not a coloratura number, but a swinging dialect song in the American popular manner, sung with wonderful cool voice-quality.

Canzonetta (Goethe-Leowe) Hula Lashanska 66021 10 1.25

In this and the next record a new Victor Red Seal artist is heard. She has a voice of amazing purity and sweetness, and the soft high phrases of this song reveal it in all its beauty.

Sweet and Low (Tennyson-Barnby) Hulda Lashanska 66020 10 1.25

Four masculine voices, in this tender lyric, do not obscure the quality of the solo voice, but show it in relief, for what it is—a fresh and vigorous lily-bloom in the garden of song.

Where My Dear Lady Sleeps (Weatherly-Breville-Smith) Reinald Werrenrath 66018 10 1.25

Werrenrath's record this month is a beautiful serenade, interpreted with rare sympathy. Its climax, with soft high notes, is one of the most wonderful things he has done.

Russian Dance (Zimbalist) Efreim Zimbalist 64955 10 1.25

A wildly capricious little violin-dance, full of snap and fire, played by its own composer with splendid and vigorous musicianship.

NEW EPIDEMIC OF FLU IS LAID TO THE HOUSING PROBLEM

Health Officer Blames Crowded Flats of New York For Outbreak of Dread Malady

(By International News.)
New York.—New York is in the throes of another influenza epidemic, according to Health Commissioner Copeland, to the housing condition. Little effort is being made to combat the malady.

On one day 225 cases of influenza and pneumonia were reported, a larger number than for any single day since the subsidence of the 1919 epidemic.

"The city," said the Commissioner, "is worse off today than it was during the terrible epidemic of 1918, because of the housing situation."

Crowded Subways Spread Disease.

During the week of January 14 to 21 1,581 deaths were reported, as compared to 1,481 deaths the previous week, an increase of one hundred deaths. This increase is largely due to diseases such as influenza and pneumonia. The mortality from influenza has steadily climbed since the last week in December.

Dr. Copeland has notified the quarantine authorities to notify the Health Department of any influenza cases on incoming ships.

KU KLUX KLAN IS SUED BY MEMBERS IN ATLANTA, GA.

Imperial Kludge Clark is Assailed by Goblins and 250 Others in Joint Action

(By International News.)

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 28.—For the first time in history the Ku Klux Klan was forced into court here today when a suit demanding that a receiver be appointed and asking that Edward Young Clarke be restrained from further connection with the organization was heard in superior court. Headquarters of the order are in this city. The attack is mainly directed at Clarke, Imperial Kludge of the Klan, because of the alleged statement by Harry B. Terrell, former grand goblin of the Great Lakes domain, and of several other former grand gobblins that have been expelled from the order because of their animosity toward Clark on account of a printed "expose" of the Klans activities.

The suit was filed last month in the names of Harry B. Terrell and Z. R. Upchurch, the latter a former employe of Clark in his work as head of the Klan. Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler also is named as a party to the suit and, according to Terrell, will not be dropped from it because of her recent resignation as associate of Clark in the propagation work. He contends this resignation was only a blind.

When the suit was filed December 28 a temporary restraining order was immediately issued by Judge Pendleton of superior court, directing the defendants to cease expulsions of members which it is charged in the suit, have been wholesale and also restraining Clark from paying out any of the Klan's money.

Terrell and his associates in the suit, of whom there are 250, asks that the court order permanent injunction against expulsion of members and that both Clark and Mrs. Tyler be permanently enjoined from having any connection with the order. It also asks that a receiver be appointed.

The petition alleges that the Ku Klux Klan has grown until it now numbers something near 100,000 persons and between 500 and 600 branches located throughout the country.

Terrell, Upchurch and other former officers of the Klan contend in the petition that Clark had no legal right to expel them under the Klan's charter and for this reason they have demanded that every scrap of paper bearing on the Klan's activities be produced in court. No written charges they contend, ever have been filed against them, although the laws of the order provide for this.

NORTH CAROLINA IS RECOVERING RAPIDLY

Raleigh, Jan. 31.—Fair play is due everyone in a contest. The enviable position that North Carolina holds in the value of her crops is due further enlightenment, and so the Co-operative Crop Reporting Service offers it herewith.

The Old North State has recovered first rank in the total value of the Sweet potato and peanut crops, while she also holds first place in the tobacco and soy bean crops.

A preliminary approximation of the rank this state would hold was made by this service in November and the result was finally exactly in line, although the adjustment with the federal census was not made until afterward. Forecasts can be approximated, even before the crop is planted, as is done each spring with crop acreages.

The large value in this state was due primarily to tobacco, cotton, corn and several other crops. But that North Carolina has a diversity of crops is evident from the 33 per cent acreage being in corn; 20 per cent in cotton; over 10 per cent in small grains; have about the same; improved pastures 8 per cent; soybeans, cowpeas, and peanuts combined over 8 per cent; while tobacco has but about six per cent of the total cultivated area. It would be interesting to study other states' crops in this respect but only a value basis is available.

Texas ranks first on the 22 principal crops and has half its value in cotton, Illinois is second with 43 per cent in corn, Iowa is third with 39 per cent in corn alone, while Kansas has over sixty per cent and Nebraska 37 per cent of their crop values in wheat.

The Tar Heel is, therefore, less of a one crop state than these so called model states. In fact this state can with credit, compare its year's money return per acre of improved land with that of the other leading states. These values are as follows, North Carolina $28.00 per acre, New York $15.80; Texas $10.90; and Iowa with only $10.00 per acre.

In comparison with these states we rank fourth in value, but an analysis of our per cent of farm land and value of crops is surprising. The value of all crops and the acreage of farm land in North Carolina compared with that in the other leading states is respectively as follows; Texas 65, and 25 per cent; Illinois 85 and 30; Iowa 68 and 29; New York 110 and 62; while of California's crop value we have 212 per cent and of her improved acreage, this state has only 9 per cent.

Domestic life and affection are very highly developed among wild ducks.

PREPARE FOR WEEVILS.

Business interests are doing everything possible to get the farmer to realize the importance of planting this year, but so far they have met with very little success. Reasons for the reduction are very plain. The boll weevil is inevitable and if a large crop of cotton is planted his destruction will be greater than if the crop was small.

The farmer knows more about the weevil than outside people, but there are certain leaders in agriculture acquainted with the conditions and know how things are going to be in the future. They study conditions and are far-sighted enough to see whether the demand is going to be great or small or whether conditions along other lines will be favorable.

The destruction wrought in other sections by the weevil caused us to believe that North Carolina will be affected likewise if preparation are not made for his coming. To be prepared the farmer must plant good crops on surplus cotton and tobacco acreage, and be in position to feed himself the year round without having to purchase food from stores as of old.

WARDEN'S WIFE HELD UP ESCAPING CONVICTS

Paris.—How a young woman fought for an hour with a number of armed convicts and prevented them from breaking out of jail at Ajaccio, the capital of Corsica, was told here recently.

The convicts had escaped from their cells by knocking down and seriously injured two guards who were bringing the evening meal. Unruffled by the leader of a convicted murderer named Fogacci, they sound the alarm and locked them in the guard room. Then they rushed into the warden's office, through which they had to pass to get to the main gates of the prison.

The warden was wounded by the convicts, but his wife, Colomba Rogacci, a forty-year-old woman full of first courage for which Corsican women are famous, seized her husband's revolver and rushed out to meet the convicts. The latter were armed with rifles, taken from the guards and with large steel bars which they found lying around. Mrs. Rogacci was the first to fire, hitting the leader, Fogacci. She then proceeded by the convicts to shut the door of the office and barricade it.

A second attempt was made by the convicts to escape, but by that time Mrs. Rogacci was reinforced by policemen whom she had summoned over the telephone. Two of the gangsters were wounded before the minutes were up.

Greetings and Success to You During the Year 1922

DO YOU KNOW ME? IF YOU DON'T, LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

Do you remember in the years 1915 and 1916 when I was running the leading Feed, Seed and Provision store in Greenville and you were buying food stuffs for humanity and beast at the right prices? Since my retirement from this line of business you have no doubt paid enormous profits and others have waxed rich from your surplus as profit from the sweat of your brow. High prices soared until the strong arm of the government had to take a hand to check the greedy profiteers who made the high cost of living almost unbearable. Having had considerable experience in this line of business and being placed in a position to sell as low or lower than any firm in Greenville and prompted by a desire to be of some service to help cut down living expenses I have decided to resume business again, but in a different location. Selling your patronage and co-operation that I may work to your advantage and help make your living expenses less than they have been in 5 years. I submit herewith just a few of the reasons why I am entitled to your consideration and patronage in justice to yourself and your family.

- 1st. I have more storage room than any merchant in the line of business in Greenville. I own the buildings and don't have to pay my rent.
- 2nd. I buy in car load lots, several cars rolling now. I deal in bulk with the leading wholesale business concerns in the United States.
- 3rd. My list of cash known my business, get the benefit of all discounts coming to me and get best prices obtainable.
- 4th. I sell for cash, with no bills or bad accounts and you don't have to help pay the bills; follow a debit. Come and trade with me and you get full benefit of lowest prices for yourself.
- 5th. By permission of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad cars are placed and unloaded almost in front and only a few feet from my store and storage rooms. I load and unload 50 box cars only last week in two hours by the method, giving me the advantage of saving time and money over hauling stuff way down town.
- 6th. My expenses are far less than any firm in this line in Greenville, consequently I am placed in the best kind of position to give lowest prices possible. Take it from me and back it up with my reputation and all that I am worth or ever expect to be that I will pay you to look me up and let me give you the best service at the very best efforts to help you save the exorbitant prices you have been paying for the benefit of your own family and the education of your own children.

A special message and encouragement to the farmers of Pitt county and Eastern North Carolina. Many of you no doubt remember me and have realized benefits by our dealings together during the years 1915 and 1916. 1922 was a hard year for you, but you know that while he holds his hands towards other profiteers or speculators of life, yet his fullness of heart, highest justice and noblest sympathy go out to the man who tills the soil. It was on the farm that he himself first saw the light of day and from those early associations he has drawn inspiration for whatever worth or good there may be in him. He too, has felt the pinch of the summer heat and the winter blast of bleak December. He too has known what it is to meet high prices of foodstuff while produce failed to stretch itself enough to cover the cost of living. Personal realization of what the farmer is an unpaid suggestion for the year taken and a desire to help him obtain goods at about wholesale prices prompted the efforts. This intended history is one of the main reasons for this newly launched enterprise and I intend to make it to those who patronize this establishment the well and deserved slogan "3333 Allen is the Farmer's Friend".
Thinking you see and all that I can do in advance a liberal share of your patronage, I am

MILLIONS MADE BY BOOTLEGGERS

Booze Disguised as Hair Tonic Sold in Great Quantities to Small Towns—Abolition of Annual Liquor Permits is Advocated.

(By WILLIAM J. HUSKE)
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Cleveland.—There are millions in Ohio today who owe their wealth to abuse of the government permit system for the release of alcohol, William A. Weygant, former Federal Prohibition Inspector attached to the Cleveland office of the dry enforcement organization, told International News Service today.

Weygant was for two years head of the permit division of the Cleveland office charged with enforcement of Federal prohibition.

"Bootleggers and their confederates are amassing fortunes through deceiving government agents," he declared. "Somehow they seem to be a little shrewder than the men hired by Uncle Sam to prevent the unlawful withdrawal of intoxicants."

He advocated abolition of the basic or annual permit. He declared that he believed it was through the abuse of these annual permits that the greater part of the illicit alcohol reached the hands of bootleggers.

Records Are Doctored.
Bootleggers operating on a wholesale scale get control of some business that legally would require the use of large quantities of grain alcohol, Weygant said. This legal use, however, is frequently only a blind cover for the real operations of the bootlegger de luxe, who, by doctoring his books and records, is enabled to color and dilute his alcohol and sell it for many times its commercial value.

"One such bootlegger," Weygant continued, "is reported on the streets of Cleveland to have made over a million dollars last year before his permit was finally revoked. He sold vast quantities of 'hair tonic.' I understand that one Ohio city, with a population of 8,000, used 442 gallons of 'hair tonic' in a single month from this 'manufacturer'—enough to grow hair on all the Mexican hairless dogs in the world and give to every bald-headed denizen of the town a hairsute covering that would make Godiva—if she still lived—turn green with envy."

The big fellows, Weygant said, are rarely caught. They have men on their staffs who are paid a salary to go to jail if the worst comes. Wages for this work are high, too. The average wage is said to be $50 per day for serving a prison sentence.

Adroit bookkeepers, adept at falsifying the records, also have no trouble in finding employment with these concerns, he said. Sooner or later these manufacturers are detected, but generally when that time comes the real owners have made a fortune and slip out of the concern, leaving some of their hirelings to hold the bag, it was said.

"North Carolina Post Card Day. For this day we should have prepared a sufficient number of triple fold post cards to be sold at a minimum cost to the State, and a special effort made to have each citizen to send at least five post cards. If we can succeed in getting the equivalent of five post cards mailed by each citizen, it would mean that some 12,000,000 pieces of literature about our state would be distributed in one day.

Thursday.
Exhibition Day. On this day particular attention should be given to having every merchant display in his window, products or merchandise handled by him, which may have been grown or manufactured in the State. This exposition to be in the form of placards about 18 x 20. Each placard to be devoted to some one item of natural resources, or manufactured products, or products of the soil. These to be attractively displayed in each community.

Friday.
"Should be a special School Day. On this day we should arrange a special program to be observed in every school room in the state of North Carolina. The program to be interesting and understandable, to convey to the students information to resources of the state.

STEEL MAKERS FIND THAT THE BUYERS DOMINATE MARKET

Further Cuts to Consumers Looked For If Railway Charges Come Down

New York.—Steel makers recognize that this is a buyers' market. Railroad executives know it. Other steel consumers are alive to the situation.

At the same time the margin of profit is so small that steel producers hesitate to make the plunge in prices. Yet, to secure business in sufficient amount to yield specifications that will keep plants operating 50 per cent of capacity some inducements must be made to consumers.

Producers and consumers are a unit in demanding lower freight rates. The carriers are not averse to a lower tariff if operating expenses can be reduced in proportion to the proposed rate cut.

Lower railroad operating expenses can be brought about only by a lower wage scale and by reduction in prices for supplies, especially coal.

Granted lower freight rates, lower production costs of steel and of manufactured products would result. Lower selling prices would follow reduced cost of output; at least makers would be placed in a better position to grant concessions demanded by consumers.

Thus, in the last analysis, the present as well as the future of business in iron and steel is dependent upon labor. This means organized labor, because the unions are more strongly entrenched on the rail lines and in the coal mines than in other industries.

All of the trouble experienced now and impending could be avoided if the railway union men involved, it is held, would accept their share of the burden of readjustment in trade and industry.

Subsidiaries of the Steel Corporation continue to fare better than competitors, but even the former are falling to maintain operation schedules. Last week's output of steel fell below 46 per cent of capacity, and the average of operations since January 1 was less than 45 per cent against 49 per cent in December.

Independent steel companies are not getting the share of current business which their productive capacity would seem to indicate they should have. This is shown in average operations of 30 per cent of capacity in January and a 31 per cent average in December. These percentages indicate that independent mills as a whole are falling about 5,000 tons a day below the Steel Corporation's output.

It is not surprising under these circumstances that independent mills find it necessary to attract buyers through special inducements. The avenue chosen is through disregard of the Pittsburgh basing system. More mills at Buffalo and Cleveland, as well as at Chicago and even in eastern Pennsylvania, are endeavoring to protect themselves in their natural territory against Pittsburgh competition by quoting prices f. o. b. their own mills, not f. o. b. Pittsburgh.

Railroad buying in January was disappointing. Fabricated structural steel orders, also have not fulfilled expectations. Oil companies' orders have fallen off. One encouraging feature is the buying of wire products by Western jobbers and dealers who serve the agricultural industry. Stocks of wire products in hands of Western jobbers are low, the lowest in several years. One jobber is borrowing from another while awaiting mill shipments to fill orders. The bulk of this business is going to the largest interest. Export wire orders are satisfactory. The larger orders, however, are at the expense of price, as is to be expected in a buyers' market.

Minister Thanks Judge For Work in County Court

ety at large, have won for you a very high place in the estimation of all good citizens. Many have been the commendatory remarks to this effect in my hearing since court adjourned. "We all feel that without giving just cause for offense to any, you have certainly done much toward creating a sentiment of respect for law in the minds of the 'sons of Belial,' and at the same time have made the law-abiding feel more keenly their individual responsibility for law enforcement.

"We thank you, Judge, from our hearts. May your tribe increase till every Judge throughout our fair land shall be like you, the incarnation of respect for law and its fair and impartial enforcement.

"But not only has your judgeship won our hearty approbation, but your personal Christian character has excited our admiration and esteem. Your magnificent talk to the large class of young men at our Sunday school last Sunday morning is bound to bear fruit.

"May our Heavenly Father continue to supply you with the wisdom and grace which He alone can supply and which one in your responsible position so much needs, and that He will continue so to do, we have not the slightest doubt.

"We thank God that you have been among us, and together with all others who 'fear God and love righteousness' we will look forward with pleasure to your return visit when the spring term of court convenes."

The Disease That Killed Pope Benedict XV

(Thursday Health Talk No. 5)
(By J. B. Ball D. C. Ph. C.)

It started as a cold and developed into pneumonia. The Pope refused to give up and rest and this failure to appreciate the seriousness of a so-called "mere cold" gave the disease its chance to develop.

Air is the most important of the life elements. If it is withheld for five minutes death ensues. A cold that settles on the lungs starts in to do that very thing—shut out the air from the lungs. In pneumonia, the congestion or filling up of lung cells, unless checked, gradually spreads until the lungs cease to function and death results.

The newspapers said "all that science could do had been done." In Italy the science of chiropractic is comparatively unknown. There are less than a dozen chiropractors there. The record of chiroprac-

PNEUMONIA IS CONQUERED
"I feel that I have given chiropractic a thorough test. Not only have I been cured of sciatic rheumatism but my little girl was cured of a severe case of pneumonia. Her fever was running 103 and 104 and she was having hemorrhages. There was a terrible congestion in her throat and lungs. On the second day after chiropractic spinal adjustments were started, the fever was reduced. In four days she was out of danger. In a week she was able to go to the chiropractor's office and after a course of adjustments she is now as sound and well as ever."—H. O. Money, sworn statement before J. B.
