ARMS CONFERENCE ENDS BY SIGNING OF LAST TREATIES

President Harding Delivers Farewell Address to Distinguished Delegates

SAYS TREATIES SHOULD LIGHT THE TORCHES OF WORLD UNDERSTANDING

Pledges of Conference Must Be Strictly Observed by Nations in the Future

(By International News)

Continental Hall, Washington, Feb. 6.—In the same brilliant setting that saw the conference open three months ago the world's leading statesmen gathered again this morning to sign the last five treaties that embody it.

The tension that marked previous sessions had gone and joy felt at the end of the long drag appeared to every face. The treaties were signed in alphabetical order, America, Britain, China, France, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands and Portugal.

Amid tremendous applause Secretary Hughes led the way to a small table in the center of the horseshoe on which rested the treaties. The conference then adjourned sine die.

The conference in truly great achievements has taken the first big forward step toward permanent outlawry war and established peace and concord among all nations. President Harding statesmen concluded the signing of said in a farewell statement as the treaties.

"The torches of understanding have been lighted," said the president, "and ought to glow and enliven the globe." He concluded with a warning to the entire world, declaring the pledges must be strictly observed or achievements of the parley will count for naught.

The hounded, hanging Jew can well afford to die. We cannot afford by indifference or inaction to have his blood on our hands."

STATON ELECTED DIRECTOR OF THE COTTON GROWERS

H. V. Staton of Bethel, Receives Splendid Lead Over the New Bern Candidate

H. V. Staton, of Bethel, member of the county board of commissioners, was last week elected director of the Third district of the North Carolina Cotton Growers Co-operative Marketing association, according to information made public by state headquarters Saturday afternoon. There were 1,817 votes cast in this district, the Pitt county candidate receiving 1,005 and H. M. Jacobs, of New Bern, a total of 812.

The result of the election will be received with interest throughout the county, as the nomination of Mr. Staton at a convention of the association recently attracted much attention and assured him of a large following. This means that Pitt county will be well represented when the association begins to function. There are four or five counties in the district.

Mr. Staton is well known in all parts of the county having served nearly two terms on the board of commissioners. He is also a director of the Pitt county chamber of commerce and very active in the work of that body. He is prominently identified with the business interests of Bethel and in position to serve the farmers war devastated regions may have a in a highly efficient and satisfactory manner.

The New Bern candidate received good support, but the large number of members in this and adjoining counties gave the Pitt county candidate an early lead that was well maintained during the campaign.

MRS. SANGER IS TO SPREAD HER VIEWS IN CHINA

Birth Control Advocate Plans Three Months Tour in Orient to Further Movement

(By International News)
New York.—Mrs. Margaret Sanger, birth-control advocate, who created a sensation here a short time ago when she attempted to stage a birth-control meeting which was broken up by the police, has planned a three months' lecture tour of China and Japan. Before departing for the Western Hemisphere, however, Mrs. Sanger announced she would conduct another meeting in New York tonight.

"My plans," said Mrs. Sanger, "have been made for a three tour of Japan and China. There have been during the last year and a half more than twenty-five representatives of the Japanese government who have made world tours seeking solutions for Japan's immediate problems. I am informed that twenty-one of the twenty-five investigators have returned to Japan with the message that the birth-control movements in America has the most important message in the world today and one which Japan should listen to with open mind.

"I am, therefore, invited to come there under the auspices of a group of patriotic citizens. I am informed that there is a great deal of interest and preparation being made for my coming.

Brisk walking will do as much to restore health as any form of exercise.

SUNDAY DECLARES ARMS CONFERENCE IS GREAT SUCCESS

Noted Minister Says the Conference Makes "Hell Growl and Heaven Smile"

(By International News)
Spartanburg, S. C., Feb. 6.—The disarmament conference "makes hell growl and heaven smile," according to belief of Billy Sunday, in a statement prepared for the International News Service today.

"The disarmament conference is the greatest achievement in the history of international relations," Mr. Sunday declared. "It muzzles dogs, calls in wrecking crews and sends out construction gangs, hangs for real sign on munition factories and scraps tons of T. N. T."

"Nations will study war no more. The golden rule slogan has been proclaimed to all the world," he declared.

Mr. Simmons Improved.

MRS. BRINKLEY HOLDS SERVICES AT LOCAL SCHOOL

Local Woman Conducted Vesper Services at Teachers College Yesterday Evening

Mrs. Brinkley of Greenville conducted Y. W. C. A. Vesper services at Teachers College Sunday evening. The Scripture lesson, was taken from John XV. Mrs. Brinkley's subject was "Growth in Grace." "Peter tells us," she said, "to grow in grace and in the knowledge of God. The first thing that must be done before growth can begin is a study of the Bible."

References on slips of paper were distributed among the girls and as they were read Mrs. Brinkley brought out these points that will help in the growth in grace through the study of the Bible, search the scriptures, learn to love and serve God. His approval is what we desire.

A second means of growth in grace is prayer. Mrs. Brinkley quoted this sentence from Billy Sunday, "Prayer is the golden key that unlocks the store house of God, and only those on hinged knees can unlock it." The references brought out this points: Watch and pray lest yet enter into temptation. "Another reason for prayer given was that it prevents worry. Take your troubles to God in prayer.

A third means of growth in grace is love. The points brought out here were; love worketh no ill to his neighbor and to follow Jesus we must love. Mrs. Brinkley mentioned St. John as an example of what love for one's fellowman can do for a person. He was a hot-headed impetuous man when he began his work with Jesus but was completely changed later through love. If we keep the commandments "As I have loved you, love ye one another," we have kept all the commandments that tell how to deal with our fellowman. We are Christians when we love our neighbors. We glorify God by loving Him.

Throughout her talk Mrs. Brinkley made many beautiful references to Mr. Wilson, showing how he was filled with love for God and his fellowman; and that because of such love

PEOPLE ARE NOT OBSERVING TWO IMPORTANT LOCAL LAWS

Two ordinances on the municipal statute books seem to meet with very slack observance by the people of the town. One of these is scattering handbills in the streets and front yards and the other is allowing chickens to run at large. Recently several persons whose chickens had been running out were before the mayor and taxed with costs for violating this ordinance, but the large number of chickens that can be seen running out every day shows the disregard for the law. If the offenders are called before the mayor to answer for this they cannot claim insufficient warning.

The Republican party finds it easy, as the past has shown.

The armament conference is completed and forgotten so far as the average American is concerned.

Business is looking up, according to latest predictions. If business men will do likewise the future is bound to be bright.

Postmaster general Hays recommends that American people should teach thrift to their children. That's what many have been doing, but few have seen results.

The armament conference has pledged to stand by China, which isn't much consolation unless it agrees to furnish some money to relieve human suffering.

President Harding is to be present at the conference on the soldier's bonus. That's the best reason in the world to believe the bonus is to be a failure.

Andrew Carnegie says the best way to accumulate money is to resolve to save and bank a fixed portion of your income, no matter how small the amount. You ought to know as he has accumulated his point.

If potato storage warehouses have proven advisable to other communities it is certain that any should do the same in this section. Pitt county farmers haven't planted enough food crops in the past, and unless they do the present period of prosperity isn't likely to continue very long.

Farmers who have a great portion of their cotton crop on hand should ask for the aid of members of the state agricultural department, and get it graded and marketed as soon as possible. The department is ready to aid the planter as much as possible, but can't do so unless notified.

Republicans are beginning to realize that the armament conference cannot begin to take the place of the league of nations. In fact, achievements of the armament conference have been entirely different from that expected, and indicates the league must eventually be accepted before American people will get what they want.

With building and loan associations to invest in there is no reason on earth for Greenville people to remain without homes, and the sooner those who pay out hundreds of dollars annually for rents realize the fact the sooner relief will be in sight. Building and loans afford a direct means for home owning, and the person that invests money in this way is sure of reaping rich returns in the future.

Greenville and Pitt county people should do everything possible to help in the work to relieve suffering in Eastern Europe. The relief committee in this city at the present time is endeavoring to raise funds to relieve suffering of the Jews, but unless the public responds liberally this cannot be done. The county is asked to contribute a thousand dollars, which is a small amount indeed compared to the great prosperity which this section has enjoyed the past several years.

The Eastern Carolina chamber of commerce should be able to accomplish much for this part of the state after it becomes permanently organized, and business men in all cities should do everything possible to cooperate with the members. The chambers in each town can be of great help also, and it is hoped nothing will be left undone in helping the new institution to become the great factor it is destined to be.

That thrift produces prosperity has been evident in thousands of cases. But to develop individual thrift is one of the most difficult problems faced by the average American, who has been accustomed to enjoying life and spending to the limit—and sometimes beyond. The future, however, demands greater programs of thrift than ever before, and the man or woman that continues to live as usual may find things entirely different from the past.

THE BOOTLEGGER.

On furtive feet along the street in darkness they are going; from store and slum they bring the rum that keeps the boneyard growing. They make their rye of poisoned lye of rough on rats their brandy, and he who drinks is wise, me thinks, to keep a coffin handy. They fill their vats with old dead cats when they would make sour mash; and one small drink will put a gink in line for dust and ashes. They make their gin of rusted tin and upas leaves and granite, and he who sips curds up and skips from this our well-known planet. They make their booze from cast-off shoes brought in by vamps ghoully, and he who quaffs finds epitaphs the goods he' needing mostly. Ah, when you swig a bumper big of bootleg rye or bourbon your works will spit; you' throw a fit no doc can put a curb on. You' bite the chairs and fall down stairs and start a rough house gaudy, and when you are through the crowner true will sit upon your body. Few, few escape the shroud and crape who drink the bootleg mixture, and with a spade men's beds are made where headstones are a fixture. The bootleg knives are peddling graves; they're selling bottled slaughter. Oh, then, with me drink honest tea and pop and milk and water!—Walt Mason, from Chicago Daily News.

The proposal to widen Dickinson avenue should continue to receive serious consideration among those interested, as it means much to the future of the city, especially that part of town which the street passes through. Tobacco town is vitally affected, as it is along Dickinson avenue that most of the traffic is conducted during tobacco season. Traffic becomes so congested at times, despite stringent regulations, that the street is almost impassable, and unless some improvement is made the future will see even more serious conditions. The board of aldermen are on the right track, and if they carry out the proposal every member is due much credit.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENTS VALUABLE TO READERS

A newspaper does much more for its readers than give them the daily news happenings as they occur. By publishing in the advertising columns what is from every point of view a buying directory, there is a value not always taken into consideration by the subscriber. These advertisements bring the markets right into the homes of the readers. It is true you now and then hear some one say he does not care for the advertisements in a paper, but he does care just the same. You may not need a pair of shoes just now but your neighbor does and your time is coming. An insurance announcement may not appeal to you right at the moment, but some day you will wake up to realize it is the very thing you needed. You may pass over lightly a suggestion that the bank is the safe place to deposit your money and say hiding it around the house is good enough for you, and some day loss by robbery or fire shows different. Groceries and clothing and drugs and automobiles, the baker, the butcher and scores of other things to which your attention is called in advertisements, have a value no men were around he used "cuss words" freely and spoke insultingly to a service in carrying these to you. Bear these things in mind and never skip the advertisements in your newspaper. Every day these is merchandise and other business find information in The Reflector that should not be missed.

Greetings and Success to You During the Year 1922

DO YOU KNOW ME? IF YOU DON'T, LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

Do you remember in the years 1915 and 1916 when I was running the leading Feed, Seed and Provision store in Greenville and you were buying food stuffs for humanity and beast at the right prices? Since my retirement from this line of business you have no doubt paid enormous profits and others have waxed rich from your earnings wrought from the sweat of your brow. High prices soared until the strong arm of the government had to take a hand to check the greedy profiteers who made the high cost of living almost unbearable. Having had considerable experience in this line of business and being placed in a position to sell as low or lower than any firm in Greenville and prompted by a desire to be of some service to help cut down living expenses I have decided to resume business again, but in a different location. Soliciting your patronage and co-operation that I may work to your advantage and help make your living expenses less than they have been in 5 years, I submit herewith just a few of the reasons why I am entitled to your consideration and patronage in justice to yourself and your family.

- 1st. I have more storage room than any merchant in this line of business in Greenville. I own the buildings and don't have to pay any rent.
- 2nd. I buy in car load lots, several cars rolling now. Keep in touch with the leading wholesale business concerns in the United States.
- 3rd. Buy for cash, know my business, get the benefits of all discounts coming to me and get best prices obtainable.
- 4th. I sell for cash, take no risk of bad accounts and you don't have to help pay the other fellow's debts. Come and trade with me and you get full benefit of lowest prices for yourself.
- 5th. By permission of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad cars are placed and unloaded almost in front and only a few feet from my store and storage rooms. Unloading carload 90 day oats only last week in two hours by the watch, giving me the advantage of saving time and money over hauling stuff way down town.
- 6th. My expenses are far less than any firm in this line in Greenville, consequently I am placed in the best kind of position to give lowest prices possible. Take it from me, and back it up with my reputation and all that I am worth or ever expect to be, that it will pay you to look me up and let me give you the best service and use my best efforts to help you save the exorbitant prices you have been paying for the benefit of your own family and the education of your own children.

A special message and announcement to the farmers of Pitt county and Eastern North Carolina. Many of you no doubt remember me and have realized benefits by our dealings together during the years 1915 and 1916. Those who know Bill Allen best know that while he holds no enmity towards other professions or avocations of life, yet his fullness of heart, highest esteem and noblest sympathies go out to the man who tills the soil. It was on the farm that he himself first saw the light of day and from those early associations he has drawn inspiration for whatever worth or good there may be in him. He too, has felt the scorching sun of the summer heat and the whirly blast of bleak December. He too has known what it is to meet high prices of foodstuff while produce failed to stretch itself enough to cover the cost of living. Personal realization of what the farmer is up against suggested the step taken and a desire to help him obtain goods at almost wholesale prices prompted the efforts. This intended history is one of the main reasons for this newly launched enterprise and I intend to prove to those who patronize this establishment the well and deserved slogan "Bill Allen is the Farmers' Friend".
Thanking you one and all and bespeaking in advance a liberal share of your patronage, I am,

Yours to serve,
W. H. ALLEN

MISS DORA KENDALL DIES IN KANSAS CITY AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Miss Dora Kendall, age 24 years, died Sunday morning at 6:30 o'clock, in Kansas City, Mo., after only a few days' illness with influenza-pneumonia. Mrs. H. G. Crisp, of Tuscaloosa, Alabama, sister of the deceased left with the remains early this morning for Laurinburg, N. C., and expects to reach there either Tuesday evening or Wednesday morning. Mr. S. N. Graham, of this city, who left Friday for Kansas City, was stopped in Memphis by a telegram announcing Miss Kendall's death. He will join Mrs. Crisp there and accompany her to Laurinburg. The interment will take place in the Kendall burying ground a few miles from that city.

Miss Dora Kendall was born in Hamlet and spent her childhood days in that town. Three years ago she came to Greenville to accept a position with the E. B. Ficklen Tobacco Co. At the expiration of her contract with that firm she accepted a position with the Hughes-Thomas Tobacco Company which position she held until last September when she left for Kansas City to take a course in Scarritt's Bible Training school. She was a member of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, of this city, and was one of its most loyal and devoted members. She was leader of the Christian Endeavor, also Sunday school teacher and served in any capacity where her services were needed. She possessed a charming personality and lovely disposition. Her whole life was given to others with never a thought of self. She was taking the course at Scarritt's Training school in order to better fit herself for duties in the church.

The deceased is survived by her mother, Mrs. Dora A. Kendall, who is matron at the Kennedy home, Kingston; four sisters, Mrs. John Eakes of Greenville, Mrs. H. G. Crisp, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., Mrs. J. D. Grady, Kingston, Miss Lillie Mae Kendall, Kingston; three brothers, Mr. Fred Kendall, of Johns, N. C., and Masters Frank and Harry Kendall.

Mr. D. B. Carter, secretary of the Greenville Building and Loan association which began business Saturday, says that more than 13 hundred shares were written that day, and enough additional shares are spoken for to increase the number to about fifteen hundred. This is a remarkably fine beginning and assures the splendid success of the new association from the very start. With two good building and loan associations in operation here, Greenville's home building activities will go forward.

SUPERINTENDENT ROSE INJURED IN FALL FROM HORSE DURING SUNDAY

J. H. Rose, superintendent of Greenville public schools, is confined today, suffering from injuries received when thrown from a horse which he was riding in the vicinity of the Dudley farm late yesterday afternoon. While his injuries are not considered serious they are of a painful nature and will result in confinement for several days.

Mr. Rose was riding along the road at a pretty lively clip when his saddle slipped and threw him off against a large tree at the side of the road. He succeeded in mounting the horse again and rode to a negro house where he remained until a colored man went over to the Dudley home and notified Mr. Dudley of the accident.

Mr. Rose was later brought back to town where an examination of injuries by a physician showed that he had sustained painful injuries of the hip and back.

COMMISSIONERS REFUSE TO LOWER SIDEWALKS AND IMPROVE THE LAWN

The board of county commissioners were in regular session at the court house today and up until the noon hour nothing of any importance had been taken up. The morning hours were devoted almost entirely to regular routine. This afternoon, however, there are a number of matters of public interest to be taken up.

The board this afternoon positively declined to lower the sidewalks on Third and Evans streets and also to return the lawn as requested by a committee composed of representative citizens. A proposal to place four lights of the white way on the court house square was presented but this the board also turned down.

Sunday was about the rainiest day of the year so far.

CONWAY TEARLE IN "THE MAN OF STONE" AT WHITE'S THEATRE

A Powerful Drama of Love and Adventure in Arabia

The White's theatre is scheduled to show the big Selznick spectacle, "The Man of Stone," starring Conway Tearle tonight. Always good, Selznick's productions have never surpassed this romantic tale of the Arabian desert, in wealth of local coloring, atmosphere, spectacular effects and consummate acting on the part of Mr. Tearle, in the title role, and Miss Betty Howe and Miss Martha Mansfield supporting him.

The story deals with the love affairs of Capt. Neville Deering, D. S. C., British Army, and takes the action to British Arabia, where love and war are almost inextricably involved. In fact, the incident of war is admirably employed to solve the problem of love.

The whole story develops naturally, and quickly gets into its stride, carrying its human elements irresistibly toward the climax which comes, however with startling suddenness and power. The rich background of the Orient filters in through the warp and woof of the romance and, perhaps, more than any other single feature, stamps this photoplay with unusual character. The photography is all that could be desired. The direction, at the hands of George Archinbaud, leaves little to be said in its praise. The cast includes Colin Campbell, Warren Cook, Arthur Barry and Charles Brown. A vast number of supernumeraries was employed to make the battle scenes in the desert and the native environment is complete in every detail.

BETHEL NEWS.

Officers Capture Distilling Plant.

Bethel, Feb. 5.—Early Saturday morning prohibition enforcement officers, W. J. Manning and I. W. Snell and Deputy Sheriff J. L. Nobles made a raid on a location that has been suspected for some time and located a modern distilling plant about two miles east of here.

The plant as captured consisted of one copper still cap and worm of about one hundred gallon capacity. Sixteen barrels and two large vats that would hold five hundred and eight hundred gallons respectively.

Conditions indicated that the operators had just gotten away from the plant as they had not used up all the mash. It seems that these law breakers have perfected the wireless message plan far beyond its use in every day business.

Blounts to Help Farmers.

One of our enterprising mercantile establishments, M. O. Blount and Sons, have advanced a plan to rendering practical aid to our cotton farmers in fighting the boll weevil. They are offering to furnish all the slips ready to set, 800 pounds of 7-55 truck of fertilizer per acre, and half the barrels to ship them in, for one half of the crop. In this plan the farmer puts his labor against the investment of fertilizer and plants.

They are advocating planting the Big Stem Jersey variety that comes off about two or three weeks earlier than any other variety, thereby enabling the farmer to get his potatoes on the market possibly three or four weeks earlier than the Virginia growers which will insure a good price. This firm planned to build hot beds and grow the potato slips here in immediate community thus enabling the farmers to get the slips in the very best of conditions to set at the proper time.

With a crop of Big Stem Jerseys for the early market and a crop of the Portirican yam to be stored in a warehouse for the winter market it seems that the farmer ought to find this a good substitute for cotton.

Since the potato is a quick grower the expense of making a crop should be small as compared with a cotton crop. The land is left in fine shape to follow with a fall forage crop for hogs or small grain.

HAYS, AS SUPREME CENSOR, TO HAVE VETO ON FILMS

By JOSEPH M. SCHENCK.

(By International News.)

Los Angeles.—Arrangements have been made for a review of each picture that is prepared. The report of this review will go to Mr. Hays and his decision will be final. If he orders the picture changed it will be changed. If he orders it "scrapped" it will be discarded without argument.

We felt that in selecting Mr. Hays for a position of this kind we had done wisely when we picked a man who has had no previous connection with motion pictures. He can not be prejudiced, and he will favor no one. We know that his usefulness in the past to which he has been chosen will depend wholly upon his complete independence of action. He was not chosen by me, nor by Mr. Zukor; he does not represent Mr. Fox nor Mr. Goldwyn; he is not the friend of the Universal nor of Famous Players-Lasky. He stands for the whole motion-picture industry, and his job is to view the interests of the entire industry as against any individual producer or collection of producers.

Discrimination Eliminated.

For instance, let us suppose that some film concern turns out a picture that is below moral tone and that Mr. Hays decides this must not be exhibited. It is very natural that this concern might, if this decision were rendered by a collection of its business rivals, feel that discrimination was being practiced against it. But when the picture is "scrapped" by order of a man who represents the interests of the entire industry this same feeling cannot exist. Added to this is the fact that the associated producers also have agreed that whenever a picture is rejected for cause they will repay to the producer whose film is denied presentation a sum of money representing one-fourth of what he expended in preparing the picture.

Mr. Hays will be in close touch all times with the exhibitor—an exhibitor is the individual who knows best just what the people wish to see. Some one produced might think that a certain type of picture would bring him rich returns. And his belief might be true so far as he individually was concerned. But the exhibitor to whom the film was extended for presentation would know that the showing of such a picture would be bad business. It might increase attendance of a certain class for one week, but it would lower the tone of the theatre and would make for heavy losses in the long run. Mr. Hays will get the views of exhibitors and will take them intimately into account when he is perfecting the close-up organization which we expect will result from his taking hold.

CO-EDS IN FURY OVER CAMPUS JOKE BOOKS

Northwestern Girls Say Snappy Puns Misrepresent Them, But the Editors Laugh

(By International News.)

First Co-Ed—What are you going to wear to the prom?

Second Co-Ed—I don't know. I've decided on nothing.

Chicago.—It is such jokes as this in campus magazines that "grossly misrepresent the fair co-ed, according to the co-eds themselves—and who should know if they shouldn't?"

At Northwestern University 300 co-eds held a mass meeting to protest against the literally output of the campus publications the chief offenders, according to the young women students, being The Purple Parrot and The Daily Northwestern.

Members of the faculty readily agreed with the co-eds. Prof. Franklin Bliss Snyder said, "The Purple Parrot is insane and not humorous" and that he couldn't get a laugh out of any of the suggestive jokes.

These Are Jokes.

Some of the squibs printed in the latest issue follow:

She—What are you thinking of?

He—The same thing you are dearie.

She—I won't let you, and if you try to I'll slap your face.

And this—

"According to Prof. Pooley some of the students are so ignorant they think the Battle of Brandywine was fought in a barroom."

And this one, which the co-eds insist is "grossly" misrepresentative.

First Co-Ed—You've been drinking whiskey.

Second Co-Ed (amateur distiller)—Thank you.

Called Too Snappy.

President Walter Dill Scott, who has received letters from alumni protesting against stories as "too snappy" and "too highly sophisticated," announced that some action will be taken in the immediate future.

James W. Egan, a senior business manager of the Purple Parrot, professed unconcern about the furor the publication has created.

"What our smoke," he said "They haven't seen anything yet."

Stop "dosing" rheumatism. It's pain only. St. Jacobs Oil will stop any pain, and not one rheumatism case in fifty requires internal treatment. They are going on the same ship. The wife will go in steerage and the cow in "storage." They will sail from New York.

It cost more for the cow's passage on the ship than for the wife's. Kubeck says he intends to go along since "things look more rosy over there now than for a long life."

The Kubecks are thrifty and homesick. They made money in this country. They believe their dreams have at last come true.

CURFD OF DESIRE TO BE FEMALE CARUSO

Mrs. William Meng

A year on a lonely South Sea Isle and a thousand miles from the nearest inhabited land, with coconuts and copra for breakfast, dinner and supper, has cured Mrs. William Meng of wanting to be a female Robinson Crusoe. Together with her husband and a Hawaiian boy, she went to the Isle to establish a trading company. Business was bad, and they went bankrupt. A navy boat came to their rescue.

Never again, says Mrs. Meng.
