LEGION POST TO BEGIN DRIVE FOR MORE MEMBERS

Organizing Women's Auxiliary and Other Matters Discussed at Meeting Last Night

TO PUBLISH LIST OF MEMBERS WHO SERVED IN THE WORLD WAR

Pertinent Facts Why the American Legion Should Be Joined to be Published Soon

Plans for launching an intensive membership drive, securing new quarters, organizing a local chapter of the Women's auxiliary and the issuance of an American Legion edition of The Daily Reflector were definitely outlined at an enthusiastic meeting and chicken supper of the Pitt county post of the American Legion held at the Rotary club in this city last night, which was presided over by Dr. Grady G. Dixon, of Ayden, post commander.

The meeting was well attended despite inclemency of the weather, and some fifty odd members did their part in making the occasion one of the most interesting in many months. Optimism as usual prevailed during the meeting, and the several short talks were to the point and carried with them a spirit that is bound to mean progress in the future.

The importance of a chapter of the Women's auxiliary for the Pitt county post was set forth in an interesting way by J. H. Waldrop, who spoke principally of increasing membership in the future. He said an auxiliary would augment the membership considerably, and help the post grow in a surprising way.

Adjutant Smith informed the meeting that the necessary number of women had already signed their intention of joining, and that a charter had already been applied for. He said the women would hold a meeting at an early date for the purpose of organizing the auxiliary.

In regard to securing permanent quarters for the local post, Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse, chairman of the committee having this work in charge (Continued on page 4)

MAYOR CLARK EXONERATES OFFICER CHARGED WITH GROSS MISCONDUCT BY WOMAN OF THE UNDERWORLD DISTRICT

In Statement Today Mayor Declares Guy Caton is Innocent of Any of the Charges

SOME EVIDENCE FOUND AGAINST STOKES, BUT THIS IS VERY SLIGHT

Says Evidence Against Stokes Isn't Sufficient to Convict in Regular Course of a Trial

Mayor D. M. Clark when interviewed by a representative of this paper regarding the recent published charges of one Lucile Pollock against two of the police officers and a Deputy Sheriff, made the following statement:

As requested by officers Caton and Stokes at the time of their resignations on account of the newspaper statement by Lucile Pollock, I have thoroughly investigated every possible source of information upon which a charge against said officers could be based, and as to Caton I find nothing of a substantial nature that would warrant even the remotest consideration, in fact I find that everything charged against him was based on rumors, the source of which I have been unable to find, insofar as they relate to his conduct since being on the police force, or even for some time prior to his said employment as police officer. This fact together with the fact that Chief of Police Jones informs me that Lucile Pollock prior to her leaving here stated to him that her charge against Caton was based on what she had heard about him, and not what she had seen him do or knew of her personal knowledge, causes me to unhesitatingly exonerate Guy Caton from any possible blame or guilt of the charges lodged against him by said party.

As to Officer Stokes, there is some evidence, but I am of the opinion that it would not be of sufficient force to convict in the regular course of a trial, however in his case I am refraining from further comment, unless further facts should be developed prior to con.

DAUGHERTY GIVING PERSONAL ATTENTION TO THREATENED STRIKE

Washington, Feb. 16.—Attorney General Daugherty is giving his personal attention to reports of investigators concerning industrial controversies which may result in a nation wide mine and railroad strike in April. He promises a new policy toward industrial disputes. One of the first steps to prevent interference in transportation necessitates the serving of subpoenas on union leaders of railroads who are to appear before the grand jury investigating the strike.

GREENVILLE FAIR IS TO BE STAGED EARLY IN OCTOBER

Nothing to Rumor That Fair Will Not Be Held Again This Year, Secretary Says

ATTRACTION WILL BE GREATER THAN EVER WITH MANY FEATURES

People Can Make it Still Greater by Getting Behind it and Giving Their Support

In reply to rumors that Pitt county would not have any fair this year, Secretary Fred Hancock stated last night that the fair would be held either the first or second week of October this year, and will be conducted upon a more extensive plan than ever before.

The rumor gained credence the first of this week as a result of a meeting of fair secretaries in Rocky Mount and the subsequent publication of dates of other North Carolina fairs. Greenville isn't on the circuit embraced by the Rocky Mount meeting, Secretary Hancock said, and it was this fact that caused our name not to appear in the list.

Mr. Hancock stated that the attraction this year will be larger than ever before, and that nothing will be left undone to make its industrial and agricultural exhibits as good if not better than any other fair of the state. It is here, Mr. Hancock stated, and it is up to Greenville and Pitt county people to get busy and do what they can in advertising what they are capable of doing.

The success of the Pitt county fair the last two years has been a matter of considerable comment in all parts of the country, and it is the purpose of the promoters to make it measure up to expectation in this year.

This can be done in one way only, and that is to get the people thoroughly interested in showing the rest of the world what they are capable of doing and getting them to do it at the fair.

Greenville in all probability has one of the best fair grounds in North Carolina, and there is no reason on earth why its fair should not be staged on more extensive plans than surrounding districts. We have a large area to draw from, embracing a population consisting of the most prosperous people of the South, and if they desire to have a fair to compare favorably with even the largest, then it can be easily done.

BARTLET CHOSEN HEAD OF EASTERN COMMERCE BODY

Georgia Man Elected as Co-worker at Meeting in Goldsboro Yesterday Morning

J. R. EDDY CHOSEN AS FIELD DIRECTOR OF ORGANIZATION

Live at Home and Feed Ourselves to Be One of Big Slogans of the New Body

After several months of work, the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce assumed a 'definite step yesterday at Goldsboro, in that two men were selected to head the work. Prior to this meeting it was the consensus of opinion that only one man would be selected to foster the activities of this organization, but it was decided that the progress desired could not be attained with only one man.

Messrs. N. G. Bartlett of Dublin, Ga., and J. R. Eddy of Paradise, Pa., were chosen co-workers for the work of the Eastern chamber. While they will work together, yet it was the decision of the body that Mr. Eddy would be the field man, helping in the way of finance, while Mr. Bartlett would have charge of the actual objectives of the organization. Mr. Eddy is very highly recommended by Messrs. Hugh MacRae and W. A. McGill of Wilmington and no doubt will make a valuable man. Mr. Bartlett comes highly recommended by a number of bankers, county commissioners and State officials of Georgia. Members of the Pitt County Chamber of Commerce were privileged to hear Mr. Bartlett on the occasion of their banquet on the evening of the 14th.

Craven county has already taken a forward step towards the solution of the boll weevil problem. The New Bern chamber of commerce was successful in getting their county commissioners to see this situation in its true light and make a substantial appropriation toward an educational program looking toward crop diversification and better cultural methods for cotton under boll weevil conditions.

The Pitt County Chamber of Commerce, adequately financed and supported in a moral way, can save the people of Pitt county thousands of dollars during the immediate few years. With every one pulling together a wonderful work can be accomplished.

The work of the Eastern chamber is not to supplant that of the local chamber of commerce, but to supplement. The purpose of the Eastern chamber of commerce is to increase the taxable wealth by bringing in new capital, which will be realized, in a very marked degree, by putting into cultivation the thousands of acres of idle land, as well as by increasing the productivity of the land now under cultivation.

The taxes of Pitt county as well as other sections of eastern North Carolina should be increased many fold without the tax rate being increased. This, briefly stated, is the one big objective of the Eastern Carolina chamber of commerce. "Live at home and feed ourselves," will be featured from beginning to end, for it is obvious that we will never rise to those pinnacles of greatness that we should and feel that degree of pride that we ought until we make our farms self sustaining. A pure bred cow, a pure bred sow, a good garden, 100 hens, a sweet potato patch, a sugar cane patch, should dot every farm in Pitt county.

GREENVILLE WINS FAST GAME FROM AYDEN BALL CLUB

Locals Visit Ayden Last Night and Won Out by Score of 25 to 18 in an Exciting Contest

The Greenville high school basketball team added another victory to the long string last night when they defeated the Ayden high school at Ayden by the score of 25 to 18. The game was decidedly close and hard fought in every frame, but by taking advantage of every play Greenville was enabled to pile up a lead which the Ayden lads found impossible to overcome.

Captain Jimmie Barber of the Greenville club again featured prominently, shooting three field goals and making two fouls. R. Williams also came in for honors with three field goals. Foley also had three goals credited up to him, while West secured one.

The Ayden boys fought hard at every stage of the game, but Greenville started out determined to win and did it despite stubborn resistance of their opponents. This was the first game of the season between the two clubs, and the outcome was watched with interest.

Coach Duncan was highly gratified at the showing made by his boys last night, and believes the game put them in splendid trim for the championship game here with Washington Friday night. This game promises to be one of the most stubbornly contested of the season, and Greenville stands great chance of winning in event they are given proper support by the public.

The line-up of last night's game follows: J. Barber, ft.; R. Williams, ft.; West, c.; Tom Foley, rg.; Joe Moyer, lg.; Ayden—Worthington, ft.; Hooks, c.; Hines, rg.; Burney, lg. Substitutes for Greenville, Patrick for Joe Moyer, Referee, Covington; Scorer, Evans.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO RELIEF CAMPAIGN SWELLING RAPIDLY

Grifton and Bethel Contribute Liberally to Funds For Starving People of Europe

OTHER COMMUNITIES EXPECTED TO REPORT BEFORE END OF WEEK

Grimesland Expected to Report Liberal Contributions Either Today or Tomorrow

Committees appointed by Dr. A. M. Schultz to head the Jewish relief campaign in various towns of the county have been doing good work the last several days despite unfavorable weather conditions, and this morning the county apportionment of $1,000 had been swelled above the $1200 mark. The only outside districts heard from the last two days were Bethel and Grifton, the former contributing a total sum of $85.45, and the latter $43.70.

There are still several other towns to be heard from, but the showing of Bethel and Grifton have been of such a splendid nature that the county will rank first with others of the State. Contributions of city churches Sunday brought the total up close to the twelve hundred dollar mark, and it was thought at the time other sections would greatly increase the fund. It is expected that Grimesland will send in their report either today or tomorrow, and while this offering is not expected to be as large as others, it is believed the showing will be exceptionally good. Ayden is the only large town that has failed to respond, but headquarters are hopeful they will come across before the campaign closes.

Dr. Schultz stated this morning that he was more than gratified at the excellent spirit which has prompted our citizenship to contribute so liberally. He is of the opinion the showing will be even more commendable before the campaign is brought to a close the end of this week. Greenville people especially displayed great liberality towards the suffering people, and probably will do even more before Saturday evening.

The committee at Grifton was headed by G. T. Gardner, who exerted every effort to raise as much money as possible, while in Bethel Dr. Cecil Garrington did the same. These two towns are to be commended for their good showing. Dr. Schultz stated, and their leaders deserve much credit.

The campaign to help the suffering people in eastern Europe is being pushed forward with great zeal in all sections of the State at this time, and from all indications it is to be a great success. The plea for the afflicted districts is being carried from mountain to coast and the response so far has been most gratifying, according to committee members.

The following persons contributed to the fund in Grifton: Grifton schools, $13; Methodist church, $10; G. T. Gardner, $2.50; R. E. Nelson, $1; J. C. Griffin, $1; C. C. May, $1; Lloyd Chapman, $1; A. L. Patrick, $1; W. H. Fields, $1; Louie Worthington, $50; W. H. Jackson, $50; E. A. Moore, $25; S. B. Kittrell, $50; W. C. Mewborn, $25; Mrs. G. E. Gardner, $50; J. O. Causey, $25; G. M. Caton, $1; T. C. Hart, $1; P. L. Stone, $1; William Sons, $25; Lam Mewborn, $50; P. W. Brooks, $1; T. E. Gaskins, $50; L. F. Chapman, $1; J. S. Chapman, $25; F. L. Woodruff, $1; Ruth Chapman, $50; Lloyd Patrick, $1; J. R. Harvey, $1; Lonisa Hubbard, $1; W. J. Kittrell, $1; C. E. Gardner, $1; S. T. Moyer, $1.

GOVERNOR TAYLOR AND DELEGATIONS APPEAR FOR FORD

Chairman Worthing Tells Senate They Don't Understand This Man of Genius and His Intention

(By International News.)

Washington, Feb. 16.—"You statesmen don't understand a man of genius and make it most difficult to present engineering development plans to you," declared Chairman Worthington, of the Tennessee River Improvement association, before the house ways and means committee today in support of Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals.

He assured the committee that Ford is not groping in the dark regarding what he could do with Muscle Shoals. He declared Mr. Ford could and would develop sufficient power and electricity for many railroads, and would not have to worry about strikes.

Worthington testified of Ford's intention to manufacture fertilizer. It is the inclination of the committee to dispose of Ford's offer before considering others, it was said.

A Tennessee delegation, headed by Governor Taylor appeared before the senate agriculture committee this afternoon and urged acceptance of Ford's offer. They declared it would be the greatest boom to business in history of the south.

Gleam of Gold Falls to Award Congressional Diggers After Bonus Money For Veterans

SENATOR WATSON SAYS MEASURE DESERVES TO BE ABANDONED SOON

Republican House Leader Mondell Proposes Faring of Appropriation Bills Still Further

(By International News.)

Washington, Feb. 16.—No gleam of gold today awarded congressional diggers after bonus money and the mix-up of congress grew more clamorous.

Representative Watson, of Pennsylvania, suggested that the bonus measure be abandoned, except paid up insurance. This, however, received little support. House Republican leader Mondell is expected to elaborate on the suggestion, further paring appropriation bills and saving about three hundred million dollars.

This measure, with the assistance of a few short term certificates will be sufficient to meet the cash payments, it was said.

NEW BERN GIRLS TO PLAY IN CITY FRIDAY EVENING

Game to Be Staged at Forbes & Morton's Warehouse After Game With Washington

H. H. Duncan, coach of the Greenville basketball club, stated this afternoon that girls of the New Bern high school would play at Forbes and Morton's warehouse in this city Friday night. The game will occur the same night of the championship game with Washington, and spectators will have the privilege of seeing both games at a nominal price.

This game promises to be one of the most exciting and best played of the season, as the girls here are in splendid condition and mean to do everything possible to win from New Bern. The visitors, on the other hand, are as determined to win as the locals, and this is a guarantee of a splendid game.

The girls have been training under direction of Miss Mial and their last game showed especially fine form considering the time they have been playing.

This game will not be a championship affair as that in which the boys are to participate, but it promises to be filled with as much interest. It is urged that a large crowd be present, and give both teams all the encouragement possible.

All big corporations claim they are not on a paying basis. They should recall days gone by when they got it all or tried to.

Governor Robertson, of Oklahoma, advises the government to recognize Mexico. That would be all right if we knew who to recognize.

Those fellows around Belfast had better stop fighting and go to work. That's about the best way to avoid the impending civil war.

The senate might use some of its gas effectively in fighting the boll weevil. Results certainly would be as good as in some issues.

Those Republicans who used to yell "panic" every time they referred to the Democratic party can't say anything now. The trick has been turned.

The Senate wants to take the tax off the wealthy and put it on the poor in the bonus measure. But if that's the only way they can raise it even the disabled ex-soldiers will be inclined to refuse it.

LET THE DEAD REST.

The effort to make something sensational out of the death of the movie director in Los Angeles, California, should be discouraged in every way possible, as ailing facts connected with the private life of such a character will have no good influence on the young generation of the country.

The trouble with the world today is that we are having too much such stuff in the papers, and the public morale will continue to decline so long as the contaminating influences of such people are made public.

The life of the moving picture actor is anything but sublime. Many of them, or we might say the majority, in early life are the most ordinary persons, from common families, with slight vision of life. They possess some particular qualification that fits them for the movies, and are lifted to a life that causes them to lose what little commonsense they might have had at one time.

Suddenly lifting a street gamin, or ordinary chorus girl to wealth by reason of their ability to amuse the public has worked great harm upon the country in many cases, and especially in those where the principals come to an unhappy end. The moral fabric of such people gives away quickly when they begin drawing salaries that would overtop that of the president of the United States.

Taylor is dead and it is hoped they will permit his past life to remain dead also, as producing facts of his illicit love with women of his profession certainly will not have a wholesome influence on people of the outside world who don't understand the intrigues of the life he led. The papers should help silence such things and give their support to the publication of information which will improve the public morals.

POTATO HOUSES NECESSARY.

That potato school to be held in Rocky Mount today and tomorrow ought to be of great benefit to growers in this part of the state where sweet potato production has been known for years, but never fully developed.

The great need of the industry at this time is storage warehouses, such as the Rocky Mount school will advocate, and when one is established in each community the farmers will be saved thousands of dollars annually.

It is startling indeed to consider the loss each year because of improper preservation of the crop. Thousands of dollars are lost in rotten potatoes. Think what the saving would be with large warehouses. It is true the houses will cost something, but consider the cost in comparison to the saving.

It's something to think about, and growers had better begin to think while the industry is in its infancy.

FORD IS THE MAN.

Governor Taylor of Tennessee says no man, interest of corporation can oppose Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals and be a friend to people of the south.

If this isn't straight talking, then we would be glad to hear from Secretary Weeks, or others who seem to be doing everything possible to defeat Ford's offer. The government has too many men with something else at heart than public interest, and it is apparent the majority of these are using their influences in the Muscle Shoals controversy.

There seems to be no doubt that Mr. Ford is the man for the project, and if he doesn't get it the people will have that contrary, stubborn bunch of irreconcilables in the Senate to thank for it.

A COUNTRY MATTER.

"Because the cattle tick has always been in North Carolina is no reason why it should always remain there," says Dr. Hartwell Robbins, inspector in charge of tick eradication in North Carolina and Virginia. When the federal government, after investigating the harm done by this pest, determined in 1906 to undertake systematic tick eradication work its first step was to see that all infested areas were under quarantine. This infested area in North Carolina at that time amounted to 37,365 square miles. Since 1906 the infested area has been reduced to 9,622 square miles, which is located in nineteen counties in the eastern part of the state.

He further states, "It is readily seen that ticks can be driven out. The process of eradicating the tick is a simple one. Regular dipping of all cattle in a county in an arsenical bath for one season will completely eradicate this pest. If, however, the dipping is irregular and incomplete, the work will be delayed beyond one season. There are always some persons, who if left to themselves will neglect to bring their cattle to the vat. In some way these persons must be forced to do their part. But this and other matters can always be overcome. They do not affect the essential point that ticks can be eliminated whenever and wherever the people are determined to do so.

Tick eradication is a county matter and must be accomplished by county effort. The United States department of agriculture, however, stands ready to lend the services of its trained men to any county which is sufficiently in earnest to build the necessary vats and enforce the necessary dipping regulations. If the county is not willing to do this, it is useless to expect anything from the federal men. They can only help those who want to help themselves.

If the people of a county and the county commissioners really want to get rid of ticks so that their county may be released from quarantine, the federal inspectors will supervise the construction of the vats, the preparation of the dipping solution and the actual dipping of the cattle. They will assist the local men in every way possible, but the funds to carry on the work must be supplied by the county. This amount varies. In counties now free from quarantine, tick eradication has been accomplished at a cost to the county of from 19 to 50 cents per head of cattle. Since cattle in tick free counties are worth $10 a head more than those in a ticky county, the investment would seem to be a sound one."

Announcement that "Uncle" Joe Cannon will retire from the house of Representatives of the United States, will be received with genuine regret throughout the entire country. He is the oldest member of the body, and has seen such long service that without him the body will seem almost incomplete. "Uncle" Joe has occupied an enviable position in the nation's politics and the retirement will be keenly felt everywhere.

The farmer that desires to successfully combat the boll weevil should not forget to reduce acreage. This is one of the most important things connected with the campaign against the pest, and the man that fails to do so can't expect to make the showing of others who do. Plant as much as you can tend, and success is assured despite the best weevils can do.

Conditions would be much better if so many people would stop talking "hard" times and get down to real honest to goodness work. This is a sure cure for hard times, in fact, a remedy that will apply to all countries.

The proposal to widen Dickinson avenue will come up Friday night, and it is important that every business man possible be there to throw his weight behind the movement. It is imperative that this street be improved, and if it isn't done now traffic cannot possibly be handled in the future. The only way it can be is to make the avenue a one way street. This would work great hardship, and cause much delay in many ways.

Farmville business men and farmers are doing the right thing in advocating the potato storage warehouse, as this is one of the most direct ways of conserving the crop. The county lost thousands of dollars this year because of the inability of its farmers to prevent crops from rotting. This will continue until houses are erected in every community.

Tobacco farmers, instead of reducing acreage so much this year, should confine their attention to the production of a better crop. Good tobacco is in demand all the year around, and the farmer that makes it is certain to enjoy his part of prosperity. The market is glutted hopelessly with common grade tobacco, and not until it is sold will demand improve.

Persons who haven't contributed to the Jewish relief campaign should do so immediately so the district chairman will be able to send in his report on time. It is true we have already over subscribed, but every cent is precious to the starving thousands in eastern Europe. Get busy and send in your contributions at once, and rest assured of having done your duty by civilization.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion

A well known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

It seems that the modern flapper has revised the old adage to read, never take off tomorrow what you can leave off today.

Why Announce Your Marriage. "Why Announce Your Marriage," the feature picture production tonight at White's Theatre is a society comedy based upon the actual experience of one of America's most noted women writers. It is a Selznick Picture, starring Elaine Hammerstein, and is one of the most interesting women in which this vivacious young woman has ever appeared. Alan Crosland directed the production and collaborated with Lewis Allen Browne in writing the script.

The central character of "Why Announce Your Marriage?" is a very modern young woman, herself a successful artist, who object to marrying the man she loves because she sees so many unsuccessful marriages all about her. She decides that the reason so many married couples are unhappy is that they see too much of one another. So she agrees to marry the young man who has been besieging her for a long time, if he will agree to keep their marriage secret each maintaining a separate establishment.

On this basis they marry. Then the complications begin. The husband is visiting his wife at her apartment at an hour that is not strictly according to the best conventions and lounging in his dressing gown, when a crowd of merry-makers force their way in to take the wife out on a party. The husband managers to hide, but he forgets to conceal the end of a still smoking cigar, and also his hat and stick are discovered. Similar "scandals" occur in his own apartment, until the two are driven distracted by the gossip. Still they stand by their guns. At last something happens more sensational than any of the previous incidents, and the truth is revealed.

Miss Hammerstein plays the part of the artist-bride, ably supported by Niles Welch as the husband. In the supporting cast are such favorites as Florence Billings, Arthur Housman, Huntley Gordon, Frank Currier and James Morrison.

BRITISH ARMAMENT FIRMS WERE HARD HIT BY NAVAL CUTS

Sheffield Manufacturer Hopes Way Will Be Found to Keep Plants Intact

By DAVID M. CHURCH International News Service Staff Correspondent

London.—With Great Britain in the midst of its worst trade depression the results of the Washington conference for disarmament have come as a blow to British steel and armament manufacturers.

"I welcome the decision of the Washington conference, but I think something should be done to allow our armament firms to retain their plant so as to have it available if it ever be required in the future," said Arthur Balfour, head of a large Sheffield steel firm, in discussing effects of the disarmament movement.

The decisions to scrap naval vessels have caused a certain amount of unemployment, Balfour said, but he accepted this as inevitable and pointed out that the British nation is unable to afford anything which is unproductive, even though it may afford a certain amount of unemployment. It is necessary for Great Britain to reserve her capital for productive purposes, which in the long run will bring more employment than would come from the construction of ships Balfour declared.

British armament workers, though accepting the disarmament measures with good grace, are perplexed as to the new fields of endeavor to which they shall turn. There has been some worry caused among British manufacturers because of the fact that American firms, which were at one time engaged in the manufacture of armament, have turned their plants over to the manufacture of cutlery—a field which has been largely dominated by Great Britain. It is also a source of displeasure to British manufacturers that large war plants in Germany are now turning out cutlery.

British armament firms are engaging in many peace-time experiments, perhaps the most successful of which is that of locomotive construction by Armstrong, Whitworth & Company, Cannell, Laird & Company, former armament manufacturers, are now reported to be progressing in the manufacture of all steel railroad cars.

The biggest variety of peace manufacturers has been undertaken by Vickers, Ltd., whose new industries range from all phases of the electrical industry and carriage and wagon building to the making of washing machines and even mechanical toys. The close of the war took many British manufacturers into the sloughs of industrial depression, but now comes the disarmament movement, which threatens an even worse industrial upheaval for manufacturers in steel and armament during the coming months.

It is felt that this association will meet a long felt need in this community, as a number of the houseless families are talking of building their own homes as soon as the association is prepared to make some financial aid.

Legion Post to Begin Drive For More Members

said no definite arrangements had yet been made. He stated, however, that the committee was looking into the proposition.

J. C. Lanier informed the post that the Carolina club was negotiating with the Blount-Harvey, for lease of the third floor of the new building to be erected at an early date, and offered some encouragement for quarters in this building.

It was unanimously decided to foster the issuance of an American Legion edition of The Daily Reflector the advertising space in this issue to be sold by a committee of Legionnaires, with a certain percentage of the money going to the local post. J. H. Waldrop, Dave Turnage and J. C. Lanier were named a committee to conduct this campaign.

A motorcycle race to be staged at the fair grounds was proposed by A. R. Corey, who pointed out that the post might make some money out of the venture if properly conducted. Mr. Corey was appointed a member of the ways and means committee to devise means for raising money for the post.

It was considered advisable to publish a list of all who participated in the world war in the newspapers, omitting the names of those who are members of the legion and directing attention to those who haven't joined. It was also decided to publish certain facts why the legion should be joined.

Miss Louisa Hubbard, executive secretary of the Pitt county post of the American Legion, was one of the speakers during the evening. Others were Dave Turnage, David Whichard, W. H. Rogers, Dr. K. B. Pace and others.

A rising vote of thanks was extended to the Rotary club for use of the building and its service in preparing the supper.

JOINT WALK-OUT OF HALF MIL-LION MINERS MENACES NATION

By H. D. GARRITSON

International News Service Staff
Correspondent

Indianapolis.—The most gigantic strike of coal miners in the history of the United States loomed as a strong possibility as the mine workers began digging in for a last ditch fight against wage reductions.

For the first time in the annals of the American coal industry it appeared likely that miners of the bituminous and anthracite fields would lay down their tools in concert.

Wage agreements in both the hard and soft coal districts expire for the first time on the same date, March 31. Operators all along the line have announced their intention of cutting wages.

Miners throughout the country not only are standing pat for retention of what they have but are demanding increases.

Unless one side or the other recedes, or unless the Federal government intervenes, it is admitted, a strike of the United Mine Workers—most powerful single union in America—appears inevitable.

Half a million miners, 400,000 of them in the bituminous and the remainder in the hard coal fields, are affected by the crucial emergency.

The question of united action of the anthracite and bituminous operators is too important for speculation, said one international official of the United Mine Workers, and yet in the same breath he told the International News Service that a concerted movement is not improbable.

From a man who unquestionably is as well acquainted with labor conditions in the coal industry as any other living the International News Service received this terse statement:

It is a foregone conclusion that the United Mine Workers of America will resist any wage reductions either in the anthracite or bituminous industry after April 1.

If existing contracts are not renewed through joint negotiations cessation of operations will, of course ensure after that date.

Government May be Forced to Act
Possibility of government intervention was seen following the appeal of district officers of the Pennsylvania miners to President Harding, members of congress and administration leaders, asking: Is the government helpless to evolve any plan for meeting the crucial emergency of the miners? and demanding a formal executive governmental investigation into labor conditions in the coal fields of the country.

Thus far there has not been the slightest indication that the miners will yield a single inch in their demand for an American standard of living. Neither do the operators show indications of yielding.

That the stage is all set for a strike in the bituminous fields is the declaration of Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover and his frank prediction of a walkout is echoed in other high quarters.

Cessation of operations in the anthracite fields also is forecast in other quarters. Miners in the convention just closed at Shamokin, Pa., for mulated demands for a 20 percent increase in wages for contract work and $1a day increase for day laborers in the hard coal fields.

Conferring on these demands, anthracite producers have indicated that they will not accede to the miners' program.

John L. Lewis international president of the United Mine Workers, in his keynote speech before that convention, declared there must be no backward step in the miners' attitude toward reduced wages.

TWO YANKS FIND NEW BRAND OF GRATITUDE

(By International News).
New York.—Deported from England because they failed to register under the new alien registration act, George Belmont Wilson and Clarence Southland, both of whom served in British forces during the war, arrived here recently, without money and with very few clothes.

"Gratitude? The British government knows no such thing!" chortled the pair. "We enlisted with the British forces at the outbreak of the war. Both of us were wounded. We had just been deported as though we were two criminals".

Wilson's wife and two children are now destitute in England. While he was in Brixton prison awaiting deportation, they were allowed to see him only once.

Southland was arrested just as he got off the ship taking him back to England from Palestine, where he was discharged in 1921.

Before You Pin A Blue Ribbon On Any Health
Method

Before you pin a blue ribbon on any health method just stop and give these facts consideration. All the healing methods in the world can be divided into three classes.

1. Mental
2. Chemical
3. Mechanical

Under the mental classification comes Christian Science. Its cures depend on your mental conception of what might be done for you by divine power. The same is true of any other method requiring faith.

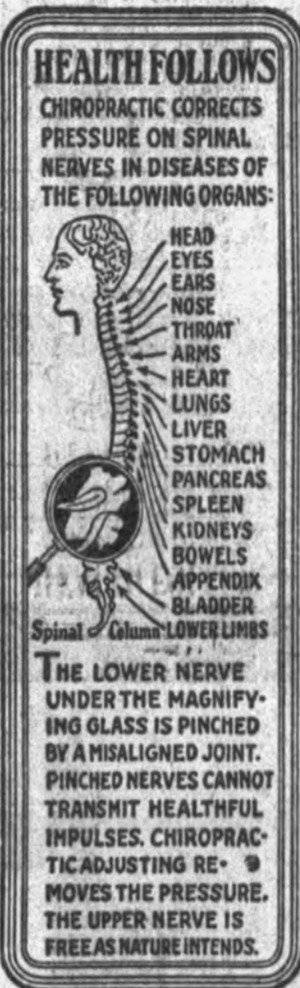

UNCLE BEN SAYS:
"The time to begin taking care of your health, Nervy, is before you get high blood pressure and begin soaking your teeth in a glass at night."

Under the mechanical classification comes chiropractic, the art and science of detecting and removing spinal nerve pressure by adjustment of spinal bones to correct alignment. The chiropractor is the master mechanic of the body.

Under the chemical classification comes medicine, drugs, serums, diets, etc.

The human body is a machine. Upon the correct alignment of its bony parts depends its free and correct operation. If a spinal bone is out of alignment and causes pressure on spinal nerves furnishing life impulses to the stomach, the stomach becomes partially or wholly paralyzed. The victim has chronic indigestion. What he eats causes trouble, because the stomach robbed of its natural nerve energy hasn't the strength of motion and secretion which is necessary to digest food. But with chiropractic spinal adjustments that nerve pressure is removed, and the stomach once more becomes normal. How silly if the stomach nerves are under pressure, to attempt to correct the trouble with chemicals. How silly in fact, to expect anything to right this wrong except a common sense mechanical correction of the trouble.
