

CHAMPIONSHIP TO BE DETERMINED IN CONTEST TONIGHT

Greenville and Washington Clash in First Game of Championship Series at 8 O'clock

GIRLS TO PLAY WITH NEW BERN CLUB AFTER FIRST CONTEST ENDS

Both Greenville Clubs Are in Splendid Trim and Confident of Winning Out

The first game of the high school championship series will be staged at Forbes & Morton's warehouse in this city tonight between Greenville and Washington. The game will be called promptly at eight o'clock, and after it is completed the girls club of the high school will play a similar aggregation from New Bern. Both games promise to be hard fought from beginning to end, and fans who attend are assured of seeing something out of the ordinary.

Coach H. H. Duncan said this morning that he was confident the showing tonight would be exceptional good, as both clubs are in splendid condition and capable of handling the visitors with ease. The boys have been going through a strenuous period of training the past several days, and should be able to walk away with Washington more easily than in recent games.

The girls have been going through strenuous training under the direction of Miss Mial, coach, and from all indications, will be able to put up a better showing against New Bern than ever before. The visiting club is considered one of the fastest and best trained in eastern North Carolina, and fast playing will be necessary to compete with them.

The line-up for the boys game tonight includes the following players: Brown, cf.; Williams, p.; West, c.; Barber, captain, rf.; Foley, lg. Regular substitutes will be used in case of emergency.

The line-up of girls consists of Allison Crisler, rf.; Clara Moye, lf.; Esther Wayne, c.; Virginia King, rg.; Rose Hadley, lg.; Lucy King, sub-guard; Marietta Sugg, sub-forward.

NEW FILM CITY MAY REPLACE HOLLYWOOD

Model Town Near New York is Suggested to Get Rid of the Movie Scandals

By MAX KASE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
New York.—Hollywood will yield its place as the Mecca of the Movies to Long Island, under plans now being considered by many prominent moving picture interests in this city. Will H. Hays is said to be a leading spirit in the movement.

The purchase of several hundred acres of land in Long Island to be converted into a model township for the staging of movie productions is contemplated. While economy in the making of large film productions was the chief inspiration of the plan, it is learned that a desire to create a model village which will remove some of the odium placed on the movie profession by scandals uncovered by the Arbuckle case and the more recent murder of William Desmond Taylor was a vital factor.

Puritanic standards will prevail in the new movie village, according to the plans. "Rough" parties and wild orgies, such as are reported to have occurred at Hollywood, will be strictly taboo. One of the first buildings planned is a community church which residents of all religions may attend.

PARTING SEEKS ADVICE OF SECRETARY HUGHES IN PEACE TREATY ISSUE

Washington, Feb. 17.—Advice of Secretary Hughes, who is enroute to Bermuda, will be sought by Parting before he sends his letter to the foreign relations committee, explaining how the four power Pacific treaty was negotiated at the armament conference, Senator Lodge, committee chairman, following conference with the president today.

CHARGES GOVERNOR WITH BETRAYING HER

Miss Frances Birkhead, former secretary-stenographer of Lee M. Russell of Mississippi, who has brought suit in the United States Federal court for $100,000 damages against the governor, charging that he betrayed her. She says he ruined her life and later, with friends, threatened to put her in an insane asylum. The governor denies the charges and says that it is part of a political plot against him.

CHAMPIONS FORD PROPOSAL TO BUY ALABAMA PROJECT

Senate Presented With Graphic Estimate of Project by Member of Ford's Party

PROJECT CONTAINS UNLIMITED POWER IF DEVELOPED PROPERLY

Engineer Says It is One of the Greatest Developments in History of America

(By International News.)
Washington, Feb. 17.—Great water power development second only to Niagara Falls was pictured before the House Military committee today by J. Worthington, in behalf of Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals.

In the upper Tennessee river there are millions of horsepower which Ford could develop if congress favors his bids, the engineer declared. Muscle Shoals alone contains over fifty thousand horsepower, he said.

He declared there is no other place in the United States so economically situated for the manufacture of fertilizers. Representative Almon, of Alabama, issued a statement favoring the acceptance of Ford's offer, of which he is confident will receive favorable attention by the members.

GEORGIA REPUBLICANS ORGANIZING FOR NEXT CAMPAIGN IN CONGRESS

Washington, Feb. 17.—Chairman Phillips, of Georgia, member of the Republican committee, told President Harding that Republicans are "bending every effort to build up an organization in Georgia and that a full congressional ticket would be placed in the field this fall. He said there would be no state ticket. The campaign will be under white leadership, and will feature no effort of National Committeeman Johnson.

SALES TAX TODAY RECOMMENDED ON BONUS TO CONGRESS

Washington, Feb. 17.—The sales tax was today recommended to congress as a good way to pay the soldiers' bonus. Trading tax for bonus and bonus for tax went on everywhere. The southern democrats favor the bonus, while opposition is greatly divided. Nearly half of the members are willing to accept the sales tax if the farmers are exempted from taxed products. South Carolina was against the bonus last year, but reported in favor this year. Republican reconcilables were struggling stubbornly this morning to retain their footing.

J. F. BRINKLEY ADVISES GROWERS TO CURTAIL TOBACCO ACREAGE THIS YEAR OR PREPARE FOR ANOTHER BAD SEASON

Local Tobaccoist Declares That Increased Acreage Spells Disaster

ADVISES FARMER NOT TO BE MISLED BY FACTIONS TRYING TO INCREASE CROP

No Movement on Earth Can Save the Farmer Unless He Uses Common Sense in Planting

(By J. RANK BRINKLEY.)
I am not a writer for newspapers, wish that I was:
I want to say something to the farmers that grow tobacco. I know as well as anything that's possible for one to know, that right now the farmers are about to make the mistake of their lives. They are going to plant too much tobacco, whether they depend upon the Co-operative market or upon the open market. Take my word for it this time, and do not do it, if you do, do so expecting low prices in this you will not be disappointed. Where do I get all of this, from the companies that buy your tobacco and sell it.

There has been so much said recently about the tobacco situation, and there seems to be so much confusion over it, that in justice to my large number of friends among the farmers, as well as to myself, I feel it my duty to make a statement of facts.

In the beginning, I want to say with all emphasis that I would be untrue to myself and disloyal to the tobacco farmer, if I permitted my personal interest as a tobacco warehouseman to stand in the way of their progress, and the betterment of their condition and the elevation of their standard of living. I want to see the farmer's condition improved, and if co-operative marketing will do this all well and good, I shall stand aside with all good grace, and bid the work God speed, for what would my little interest or the interest of other warehousemen weigh in the scale against the general uplift and advancement of the thousands of farmers in the tobacco belt. But this is foreign to what I want to say to the tobacco farmers. To those who have joined the co-operative movement, and to those who have not, I am very certain there is a misunderstanding of the true facts in the tobacco trade. It has been circulated that it made no difference how much tobacco was made this year, under co-operative marketing, farmers would get profitable results. It has also been circulated (Continued on page 2)

Five of the men were students of the university of North Carolina who were spending a few hours in Durham. The dead are F. N. Hadley of Mount Airy, C. Peoples, Thomasville; T. Bryant, chauffeur, and H. Boney of Goldsboro.

TURNAGE RESIGNS AS A DIRECTOR OF COUNTY CHAMBER

J. R. Turnage of Ayden Finds Business so Pressing That He Can't Give Proper Attention

J. R. Turnage, of Ayden, has tendered his resignation as a director of the Pitt county chamber of commerce, according to information received here. The resignation will become effective as soon as a successor can be appointed, it was stated.

Mr. Turnage said he regretted to give up the work of the institution, but found business so pressing and requiring so much time that he couldn't give the position the attention which it deserves.

While a successor has not yet been appointed, it is quite probable action will be taken within the next several days.

DR. PLEMMONS TO BECOME PASTOR OF BAPTIST CHURCH

Arkansas Minister Accepts Pastorship of Immanuel Baptist Church, Succeeding Dr. Turner

The vacancy in the pulpit of the Immanuel Baptist church, by the resignation of Dr. Turner, has been filled by the acceptance of Dr. T. H. Plemons of Camden, Arkansas, the church having unanimously called him at the last church conference.

Dr. Plemons is a North Carolinian by birth and has been in the middle west, filling pulpits in Kentucky, Missouri and Arkansas. He is well and prominently known to the Southern Baptist leaders, being at one time president of the B. Y. P. U. Assembly of the South, and chairman of the Mission board of Arkansas. He is a graduate of the Louisville seminary, and for three years was pastor of the First Baptist church of Helena, Arkansas.

Dr. Plemons is a Shriner and a Rotarian and is very popular among men; generally known as a manly man. His wife is a prominent and strong leader of the women of her denomination and in her community in general.

Dr. Plemons comes to this community highly recommended by members of his own calling, his denomination and by the laymen generally who have known him.

The church is to be congratulated in procuring a man of such record as Dr. Plemons bears with him; who adds strength to the church and Christian cause wherever he goes. Dr. B. W. Spillman recommends him as one of the strongest preachers in the Southern Baptist convention.

Dr. Plemons will preach his first sermon on Sunday morning, March 15. The chairman of the pulpit committee has been notified that his household goods are now in transit for Greenville.

DISTRICT BANKERS TO HOLD SESSIONS HERE FEBRUARY 22

Group One, North Carolina Bankers, to Convene at High School Auditorium at 10:30 O'clock

PROMINENT BANKERS TO DISCUSS THINGS OF VITAL INTEREST

Election of Officers and Many Addresses to Feature Morning and Evening Sessions

The seventh annual session of Group One, North Carolina Bankers association, will convene at the high school auditorium in this city Wednesday morning, February 22nd, at 10:30 o'clock, according to a statement issued today by W. H. Woolard, cashier and vice president of the Greenville Banking & Trust company and a director of the association.

Approximately one hundred bankers, representing practically every town in the district, are expected to be present. Mr. Woolard stated, as a number of important matters are to come up for consideration. An elaborate banquet will be tendered in honor of the visiting bankers at seven o'clock Wednesday evening at the East Carolina Teachers college. Hon. F. C. Harding will preside as toastmaster, and prominent bankers are on program for addresses.

The address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor D. M. Clark immediately after President W. E. Stubbs of Williamston opens the morning session. The response will be made by J. B. Sparrow, cashier of the Savings and Trust company of Washington. Rev. W. P. Shamhart, pastor of the Christian church of this city, will pronounce the invocation.

An address on "Agricultural Activities" will be delivered by A. C. Kinbrey of the North Carolina State college, Raleigh. "War Finance Corporation Loans" will be discussed in detail by Charles E. Taylor, Jr., president of the Wilmington Savings and Trust company of Wilmington.

The afternoon session, which convenes at two o'clock, will be devoted to several other addresses and election of officers. Hue McRae of Wilmington will be the principal speaker of the afternoon session. J. W. Simpson, vice president of the Atlantic Banking & Trust company of Greensboro, will speak on the subject "Trade Acceptances". G. P. Wood, vice president of the Carolina Banking company of Elizabeth City will discuss "Advantages of the Federal Reserve to State Banks".

Present officers of the association are: W. E. Stubbs, Williamston, president; W. R. Willis, secretary and treasurer. The executive committee is composed of Dr. J. D. Biggs, Williamston; M. H. Jones, Elizabeth City; W. H. Woolard, Greenville; J. C. Galin, Creswell; R. B. Etheridge, Maneto.

The following committee is in charge of arrangements for the meeting: W. H. Woolard, J. L. Little and P. L. Clodfelter.

DANGEROUS FLOOD THREATENS TOWNS NEAR AUGUSTA, GA

Levee of Savannah River Threatens to Break and Flood Country by High Tides

(By International News.)
Augusta, Feb. 17.—The levee on the Georgia side of the Savannah river was holding back what would otherwise be a dangerous flood when the river reached 31 8-10 feet early today.

It was predicted this morning that the river would go still higher. Large sections of South Carolina are submerged and houses are standing in water five or six feet deep. Traffic at Augusta and Aiken has been suspended due to car lines which have been under water several hours.

Mrs. I. F. Lee has returned from northern markets where she purchased her spring stock of millinery.

THOUSANDS OF ACTRESSES UNEMPLOYED BECOME COOKS IN NEW YORK CITY TO KEEP WOLF FROM THEIR UNHAPPY HOMES

AYDEN COMMITTEE RAISES $150 FOR RELIEF CAMPAIGN

County Total Swelled Near the Fourteen Hundred Dollar Mark by Ayden's Response

OTHER COMMUNITIES TO REPORT BEFORE CLOSING TOMORROW

Dr. A. M. Schultz Gratified at the Splendid Showing Made by Entire County

That Pitt county is destined to make even a better showing in the Jewish relief campaign than at first anticipated was indicated this morning when a report from Ayden stated that a committee of that place had raised $150. This brings the county total near the $1400 mark, and it is expected by tomorrow night when the campaign comes to a close that fifteen hundred dollars will have been raised.

While the Ayden contribution probably will not be included with Greenville funds, it may be counted a part of what the county has raised, and help give this section credit for better showings than larger counties of the state. Other towns also may not report through Greenville, but this is all right just so the money is raised the county people get credit for it.

The committee in charge of the campaign in Ayden was composed of Mrs. C. E. Riddick, Mrs. H. G. Burton, Mrs. Colin Stokes, Mrs. W. W. Salisbury, Miss Virginia Bell Cooper, Miss Theima Little, Mrs. S. J. Worthington, Mrs. C. G. Moore, Mrs. K. A. Pittman, Miss Majorie Hardee, Mrs. J. S. Holton, Mrs. W. T. White, Mrs. R. F. Pittman, Rev. R. F. Pittman, Mrs. J. K. Quinerly, Mrs. T. G. Worthington. Chairmen of the campaign were Mrs. L. E. Turnage, Mrs. Will Wood and R. C. Baggett.

Dr. A. M. Schultz said this morning that funds continued to drift in at headquarters from various parts of the county, and it is probable the fifteen hundred dollar mark may be reached by tomorrow night. This is hoped so at any rate, as the drive must be brought to a close by that time.

It is probable, however, that Greenville people will contribute something more before the closing tomorrow, as there are numbers who haven't given but who desire to do their part by the suffering people of eastern Europe.

Beautiful Show Girls and Well Known Actresses Face Most Serious Flight in Years

JOBLESS THOUSANDS TO BE ASSISTED BY WOMEN ORGANIZING EXCHANGES

Victims of Bad Season Resort to Common Class of Labor to Stave Off Starvation

(By International News.)
New York, Feb. 17.—Thousands of actors are out of employment. Beautiful show girls and well-known actresses are becoming cooks housemaids and dressmakers to tide them over one of the worst seasons in theatrical history.

Three of them, hard hit by the slump, have just organized the Theatrical Women's Exchange to help those jobless like themselves. Prominent society women have come to their aid and shortly the "Stage Door Inn" will make its debut in New York. At the Stage Door Inn one may eat in a cafe served by waitresses with well known stage names. The cook will be a former Broadway star. At the Stage Door Inn lonely bachelors will find many of the beauties who used to dazzle them before the footlights, ready to do their mending and their darning at moderate prices.

Here's a Conundrum.
"When is an actress not an actress? When she is out of a job," said Miss Hilda Spong today. Miss Spong is one of the three promoters of the project.

"Jobless, she turns facile hands to cooking, dishwashing, secretarial work, decorating, millinery or a thousand and one other occupations in which her profession has trained her.

"Miss Margaret Allen, Miss Anne Ciarendon and myself—all victims of the bad season—have decided to take the bull by the horns and embark on this venture, which we believe has every chance of success.

"What we are doing is making an exchange, similar to the woman's exchanges you find throughout the country, where actors and actresses can bring in the things they have made and market them—from pins to baby clothes. We shall charge a two dollars entrance fee and a fifteen per cent commission. This is ten per cent lower than the ordinary price charged.

"The exchange will also operate as an employment bureau.

"They Refuse Charity."
"Actors and actresses are much more talented than the average public is apt to believe. Like every other self-respecting man and woman, they refuse to accept charity. They want to be self-supporting, regardless of the work they may be compelled to do.

"There is a celebrated actress who in desperation the other day took a position as a cook in a private house. Women must work, and if their own line of endeavor is crowded, they must take what they can get. She's a good cook, anyhow.
"I wish matinee girls could see what a fine milliner a prominent Broadway male favorite is in his lesser moments."

Mrs. Fiske Elise Ferguson, William Faversham and Laurette Taylor are among the stage stars who will serve as patrons of the new exchange.

SEVEN PRISONERS TO BE ELECTROCUTED AT NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 17.—John Green was electrocuted here today for the murder of Robert Houston, Anderson county farmer who was killed last July. The execution was the first of a series for the next few days. Asbury Fields will die tomorrow for slaying J. Pierce. Five others will be executed March 1st.

MISS EMILY LITTLE ENTERTAIN

Hostess at Bridge Party Complimentary to Miss Gladys Bagwell Bride-Elect.

Miss Emily Little delightfully entertained with a bridge party last evening at her home on Pitt street in honor of Miss Gladys Bagwell bride-elect. The library and drawing room were decorated with pink carnations and potted plants, with the color scheme of pink predominating. The score cards were brides and grooms and a bride's slipper containing candies was on each table. The table prizes, cupid powders were won by Misses Gladys Bagwell, Mary Warren, Iver Shelburn and Mrs. J. E. Gorman. The table prizes for the men were paper weight fans and were won by Messrs. Herbert Weidrop, Ben Edwards, N. S. Fulford, Jr. and Sam Worthington. The hostess then presented the guest of honor prize, candle sticks, to Miss Bagwell.

After several interesting progresses a tempting salad course was served.

Resolutions of Respect.

On February 1, 1922, the death angel entered our midst and claimed from us one whom we loved and one whom we will sadly miss, Prof. C. W. Wilson.

His death was a great shock to friends and loved ones.

As a member of our society he was true, loyal and faithful to all of its interests, ever ready to do his full duty at all times and under all circumstances.

While we miss his presence and regret his loss, we realize that he is at rest with Jesus.

"Not now, but in the coming years, it may be in the better land, we'll read the meaning of our tears, and there, sometime we'll understand, Then trust in God through all the days, Fear not for He doth hold thy hand, Through dark the way, still sing and praise, Sometime, sometime we'll understand."

We, the Sidney Lanier Literary

Society of East Carolina Teachers

College draw up the following resolutions:

First, That though God has taken him from us to the Great Beyond we humbly bow to the will of our Father because we know that, "He doeth all things well."

Second, We express to his family and friends our heart felt sympathy and pray God's blessings upon them in their bereavement.

Third, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, to the local papers for publication and a copy be placed upon the minutes of our society.

Two Specials For Saturday

Fiber Silk Hose at 59c Don't Forget That Gingham at 19c

Saturday Only at this Price

For Saturday only we shall offer a special assortment of Gordon Round Ticket and Topsy fiber silk stockings at the remarkably low price of 59c. These stockings, in black, white, grey, navy and cordovan, are seamed up the back, fashioned dots and lister garter tops.

Originally they cost us over a dollar a pair. Recently we reduced them to 75c and tomorrow they go on sale FOR ONE DAY ONLY at 59c a pair.

New Patterns Added to Sale

Wednesday morning we placed on sale a lot of 1200 yards of 32 inch Kalburnie dress gingham. In spite of the fact that it poured down rain all day, we sold close to 100 yards that day.

For tomorrow we shall add to the original lot of Kalburnie 32 inch gingham a few pieces of 27 inch dress gingham, now selling for 25c per yard, thus making a wider range of patterns to select from. You cannot pass up this opportunity at 19c per yd.

A Winter Coat For $7.50

We have exactly five suits and seven coats left from this past Winter, Fall and Spring. Not very many; and it will be worth our while to close them out at this seeming ridiculously low price. And it will be well worth the while of anyone who wants a serviceable coat or suit "dirt cheap" to get one of these. So we shall offer them for Saturday's selling at $7.50.

Buick has taken the conversation out of miles and put real mileage in its place. And there is no secret behind Buick mileage. It is an easily demonstrated fact that the Valve-in-Head motor is the most economical of all types.

Coupling economy with ease of operation and smart appearance, and remembering that no one has ever worn out a Buick, isn't it good automobile insurance to drive a Buick?

A 1922 Definition of QUALITY

QUALITY is that invisible, vital element that enables a product to make good. It is the equivalent of the product's brains. Quality cannot be argued or hoped into existence—it must be put there. It costs money to put it there. That is why a quality product requires a higher purchase price. The premium in price that is paid, however, is refunded again and again through the lower cost of results.

There are many substitutes for quality, but no one has yet invented a real substitute for satisfaction.

Only real quality can produce real satisfaction.

After all: it is the use of a thing that measures the cost.

The purchase price is merely a basis upon which to figure cost.

Quality, which governs the sort of service that is delivered, has more to do with the true cost of an article than the mere purchase price.

Some people confuse price with cost.

The price of an article may be very low—very tempting, but the cost of it, figured from the standpoint of service, may be very high.

It is a better investment to pay more to buy and get more in service than it is to pay less to buy and get less in service—for the value of good service mounts up into far greater economy than the mere saving in the purchase price.

Quality gives one happy memories of the day of purchase. It helps to make life a pleasure. It protects the value of one's dollars. But a cheap article at a low price brings continuous hardship. It "collects back" the price-saving through penalties in service. It proves that there is such a thing as the higher cost of the lower price.

Quality insures safety in investment. It means sound value. It means your full money's worth. But cheapness makes a gamble out of a purchase. A cheap article hasn't the stuff in it that will enable it to live up to your expectations. The loss consists not merely of being forced to buy again far sooner than you would have had to buy had you bought a quality article in the first place, but it makes you sustain forfeits in service all the while the cheap article is on the job; besides: there is the annoyance, worry, interruptions and similar handicaps.

Ever since the world began, there has always been a certain class of people who continue to believe that there is some way to get around paying the price of quality—some way to get full value without paying full price. A low price is persuasive to them—it tempts them—confuses their judgment—gives them a thrill. Today's economy in price looks better to them than tomorrow's economy in service. Thus they are extravagant by being too economical.

The shrewdest buyers are not those who are the keenest in picking the lowest prices but in picking the goods with the highest quality. Quality is what makes the value. Price is merely a number; it is not the value itself. Our daily experience in the use of all things that enter into our lives proves that quality is the pocketbook's best friend.

Widening Dickinson avenue will come up for hearing before the board of aldermen tonight, and everyone interested in the proposition should be there and use their influence as much as possible. The city can never hope to expand as it should until this improvement has been made, and the sooner it is done, the earlier we will be able to go forward.

People can scarcely travel, the roads are so bad.
