SAYS GOVERNMENT SHOULD DEVELOP ALABAMA PROJECT

Military Committee Hears Testimony of Colonel Cooper, Designer of Muscle Shoals

FURTHER HEARING OF FORD'S PROPOSITION DEFERRED TO MONDAY

Cooper Says Electrically at Project Would Supply Three Million People of Nation

(By International News.) Washington, Feb. 18.—The House military committee weighing the testimony of Colonel Hugh Cooper, government consulting engineer and designer, regarding Muscle Shoals, said today that the government and not Henry Ford or any other private enterprise should develop the great water power project.

Further hearings of Ford's offer will be postponed until Monday in an effort to give committee members an opportunity to fully assimilate the testimony which shows characterized as a shooting holes through Ford's offer.

Offsetting this testimony is a deluge of communications received by Chairman Kahn from southern chamber of commerce and civic organizations, urging immediate acceptance of the Ford offer.

Engineer Cooper, Muscle Shoals designer, promised to show figures that five hundred and seventy-one thousand horsepower can be developed and supply electricity needs of three million people and save millions of tons of coal yearly. Chemical possibilities at the place are beyond computation, he asserted.

TOBACCO MARKETS OF STATE READY FOR CLOSING DAY

Average of Prices Shows Markets Were Two Cents Higher Than Last Season

With the 1921 tobacco marketing season almost at its close in North Carolina the market reports are especially important and in most cases, conclusive of the season's results. The price average for the season to Jan. 31, was about 2 cents per pound higher than at this date last year. The producers sales for the season however are only 75 per cent of last year's sales to this date.

Eastern markets: "Very poor quality" "Practically all sold, grades holding up well" "Mostly common," "about all gone," a few scattering loads left. Prices good on good grades. "Offerings scrappy," "Finishing up now and the offerings are very poor odds and ends."

Piedmont markets: "Offerings poor to medium," averages all tobacco offered now is of a very poor quality, our trade just about through selling. Prices getting weaker on better grades, 10 per cent good, 30 per cent medium, 60 per cent poor or common. Poorest crop in years through this section, good tobacco selling better. No change in common tips, crop 95 per cent sold, winding up of season, but average has held very well for the past month" very few lugs, mostly leaf. Prices high according to grades received. Farmers urged to curtail crop and make better quality which will bring better prices. "More sulphur of potash should be used in fertilizer to produce better tobacco, scrap poor."

BOYD IS JAILED HERE IN DEFAULT OF $1,000 BOND

White man Charged With Criminally Assaulting Niece Held in the County Jail Today

RECENTLY INDICTED BY GRAND JURY OF PITT CRIMINAL COURT

Case First Came Up About a Year Ago When Grand Jury Failed to Take Action

James Henry Boyd, white man of this county indicted on a charge of criminally assaulting his niece, alleged to have been under 14 years of age at time of the reported assault, was lodged in the county jail yesterday afternoon by Sheriff Dudley in default of $1000 bond. The defendant made an attempt to raise the bond when brought here and up until a late hour this afternoon had failed to do so.

Witnesses in the case against Boyd were subpoenaed for appearance before the grand jury at the November term of criminal court, when the charge against the defendant was first presented. No indictment, however, was returned until the recent term of court when a true bill was returned by the grand jury.

Boyd, it will be remembered, was some time ago arrested on a charge of complicity in the burning of a home in the Grimesland vicinity, but was later found not guilty. The present charge was brought against him following an investigation by the county welfare department, in which it was alleged that environment of his niece was not what it should be.

The court ordered that the girl be taken from the Boyd home and sent to some State institutions where she would be given proper attention. The case has created considerable interest in this section, and especially in the Galloway's Cross roads section to which Boyd recently moved.

ALDERMAN FAIL TO ACT ON PROPOSAL TO WIDEN STREET

Inability of Committee to Complete Signing Petition Delays Decision Widening the Avenue

The meeting of the board of aldermen which was to have been held last night to consider widening Dickinson avenue was postponed because of delay of the committee in completing its plans. It was not stated when the meeting would be held, but it is expected the committee will complete its canvassing the first of next week.

The committee has been busy the past several days signing up business men and property owners along Dickinson avenue desirous of seeing the improvement made. Numbers have already signed their willingness of defraying their part of the cost involved, but there are some who 'Nifogreehaven't' shrdiuu u u uu haven't yet been interviewed. It is believed, however, the petitions will contain the names of all important property owners when it is presented to the aldermen.

The importance of widening the street has been fully impressed upon everybody, and it is either make improvement or up to the town to provide provisions for a one way street. Traffic is heavier on this street than any other in town, and unless it is widened as proposed conditions in the future will be worse than the past.

IMMIGRATION TO AMERICA HAS FALLEN OFF LATELY

Washington, Feb. 18.—Only 200, 121 immigrants have been admitted to the United States during the last six months, according to an announcement issued today by the department of labor.

"If there had been no restrictive laws, the number would be limited only to the number ships could bring," said Secretary Davis. "The lowest types of Europe and Asia were preparing to move to America," he said.

GREENVILLE WINS THE FIRST CONTEST FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Locals Down Washington High School in Elimination Series by the Score of 42 to 17

ZENO BROWN FEATURES PROMINENTLY IN SCORING FOR GREENVILLE CLUB

Washington Made Splendid Showing in First Half, But Couldn't Keep the Pace

The Greenville high school basketball team defeated the Washington high school club in the first game of the championship elimination series at Forbes & Morton's warehouse in this city last night by the score of 42 to 17. The game was one of the finest exhibitions of basketball staged in this city during the season, and featured in excellent playing despite the lead gained by Greenville in early stages of the game.

Washington battled stubbornly, but the ending of the first half found Greenville leading them by the score of 17 to 11. They made a desperate effort to overcome the lead in the opening of the second half, but Greenville tightened up and positively refused to yield the slightest advantage.

The game was attended by a large crowd despite the extremely cold weather, and the locals received the best support of the year. Fans were elated over the victory and the warehouse literally shook during the storm of cheering accompanying the victory.

Zeno Brown figured prominently in the scoring for Greenville, having a total of nine field goals and one foul to his credit. Jimmie Barber, captain of the victorious club, also starred, having four field goals and one foul to his credit. West made a total of four goals, Williams three, while Foley at left guard played an exceptionally fine game.

Kugler was the outstanding figure on Washington's side, and it was mainly through his effort that the score increased so rapidly in the first half. He made two field goals and nine fouls. Hoyt had one goal to his credit.

Coach Duncan was gratified at the outcome of the game, and felt confident the boys would continue to make the good showing during the remainder of the championship series.

The line-up of both clubs follows: Brown, rf.; Williams, lf.; West, c.; J. Barber, rg.; Foley, lg. Washington—Hoyt, rg.; Kugler, lf.; Brid, c.; Gaker, rg. Potts, lg.

Substitutes: Washington, Cotton and Wimple. Referee, Kennedy; timekeeper, Evans

WINTERVILLE MAN LOSES ARM IN GIN DURING MORNING

Lester McLawhorn's Arm Mangled so Badly That It Had to Be Amputated

Lester McLawhorn, about 22 years of age, son of Louis McLawhorn, who resides two miles from Winterville, had his arm painfully mangled near the shoulder at a cotton gin shortly before the noon hour today, according to information reaching this city during the afternoon.

The arm was injured so badly that amputation was necessary, it is said. The injured man was attended by physicians from Greenville.

How the accident occurred could not be learned, as information reaching here was meager.

NEW BERN GIRLS TAKE FAST GAME FROM GREENVILLE

Greenville Girls Lose to Visiting Club at Forbes & Morton's Warehouse, 26 to 9

A basketball club composed of New Bern high school girls defeated Greenville school girls at Forbes & Morton's warehouse in this city last night by the score of 26 to 9. The visitors succeeded in gaining a definite lead in the first half, and in spite of an occasional rally by the locals maintained it throughout the remainder of the game. Greenville fought hard and stubbornly, but fortune favored the visitors who had more success in goal shooting.

Miss Aileen Critcher, playing right forward, stood out prominently in the scoring by the local club, registering two field goals and three fouls. Miss Blanche Evans also played an excellent game, and displayed rare skill in every half. Miss Gaskins, for New Bern, also featured prominently, making a total of four field goals and two fouls. Miss Sorley made three field goals for the visitors while Miss Wright was credited with two.

Miss Corinna Mial, coach of the Greenville team, was gratified at the excellent showing made by the club, and believed they would have made much better showing with another team, under similar conditions.

The line-up of last night's game follows: Critcher, rf.; Moye, lf.; Wayne, c.; King, rg.; Evans, lg. New Bern, Gaskins, rf.; McSorley, lf.; Wright, c.; Hawk, lg.; Dickerson, lg. Substitutes: Greenville, Miss Hadley; H. H. Duncan, referee; Evans, timekeeper; Norman, scorer.

NEW ADVERTISING RATE EFFECTIVE FEBRUARY 20

Beginning Monday, February 20th, a general increase in advertising rates of The Reflector will become effective. All outstanding contracts will be fulfilled, but everything after the above date must come under the new rate. This action is made necessary by the splendid service now being given by the paper, and desire of the management for a continuance of same.

FIRST SHIPMENT OF MATERIAL FOR WHITE WAY HERE

The first shipment of material for the Greenville white way has arrived, according to information given out this morning by E. E. Williams, superintendent of the water and light commission. Bills of lading have also been received for other shipments, it was stated, and it is expected construction work will begin within the next several weeks.

The action of Greenville in providing funds for establishment of a modern white way system has attracted wide attention, and at this time Rocky Mount and Washington are contemplating following Greenville's example. In fact, the two towns have become so interested that they have written members of the committee requesting data as to the cost involved.

The Greenville system will be the most modern and complete of any town of its size in the State and local people will be proud of the improvement after it is established. The system will be installed on Evans and Fifth streets, and while Dickinson avenue property owners haven't provided sufficient money for having it extended to that street, it is hoped they will come in before it is too late.

Members of the water and light commission have been busy making way for the new system, and when all material arrives, it is expected everything will be in readiness for construction work to begin.

STEWART LOSES HIS LIFE IN A FIRE IN KINSTON HOME

Machine Superintendent of Imperial Burned and Suffocated When His Home Burns

Kinston, Feb. 18.—Charles Stewart, age 46, was burned to death last night at home at midnight, 210 West Lenoir Avenue, when the rear rooms of the house were totally enveloped in flames and all efforts on the part of his wife failed to get him out of the burning structure. The house was turned in by telephone at 11:15, and within a short time the fire was under control. Stewart's body was found after the fire was partially put out, in his bed-room, lying against the door in the hall of the house. His arm, face and other parts of his body were burned badly and apparently he had suffered from suffocation also.

Prior to the arrival of the fire department, private citizens, answering the cries of Mrs. Stewart, attempted to gain entry into the deceased's room but were unable to do so. The window of this room was smashed out however, to let the smoke out as the fire was gradually put under control, firemen were able to enter the front of the house. Sulfide would have been the result of any attempt to go to Stewart's room for many minutes. When one of the firemen did open his room door he was dead and had apparently been so for some minutes.

DEPOT COMMITTEE TO MEET IN CITY TUESDAY EVENING

Dr. K. B. Pace Calls Meeting to Consider Plans For Union Station

The Union depot committee of the county chamber of commerce will meet Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in rooms of the chamber of commerce on Evans street, in response to a call issued yesterday afternoon by Dr. K. B. Pace, chairman of the committee.

Every member of the committee is urged to be present, as the union depot question is one of the most important that has come up for consideration in some time. This is the second meeting of the committee, and definite plans no doubt will be the outcome.

Members of the committee stated yesterday afternoon that nothing of any note has been accomplished, but it is hoped some progress will be made in the near future. Other towns the size of Greenville have better depot facilities, and the committee contends that this place is prominent enough to get early recognition.

RELIEF CAMPAIGN EXCEEDS QUOTA IN THIS TERRITORY

Total Funds on Hand This Morning Amounted to Approximately $1,600.00

DR. SCHULTZ GREATLY PLEASED AT OUTCOME OF CAMPAIGN LOCALLY

Contribution From Bethel This Morning Brings Total Up to the Present Mark

That the Jewish relief campaign is going to surpass expectations in this county was made very evident this morning when Dr. A. M. Schultz, chairman of the county committee, received contributions from Bethel swelling the total to approximately $1600, or exactly $600 more than the county's apportionment. The final report from the Bethel Methodist church contained $60.40, making the total of that town 33 1-3 percent over their apportionment. The Free Will Baptist church of Greenville also contributed $5.45.

The campaign will be brought to a conclusion this afternoon, Dr. Schultz stated this morning, and funds will immediately be sent to campaign headquarters at Raleigh. The showing is by far better than at first anticipated, and committee members as well as the chairman are highly gratified at the excellent way Pitt county people rallied behind them.

The reports this morning practically covered the entire country, Dr. Schultz stated, and hardly a single community remains that hasn't contributed something to the suffering people of eastern Europe. Ayden, Farmville, Bethel, Grifton, Oriskany and Ruffin behind the movement in a way that indicated success in early stages of the drive. Their committees worked incessantly and have been rewarded by one of the best results of any other county in the State.

Dr. Schultz said he wished to express his sincere thanks and appreciation of the splendid support given in each community, as success would have been impossible without it. The cause, he said, is one of the greatest the country has had an opportunity of giving to. Thousands are dying daily because of starvation and great diseases, and unless the United States goes to their aid entire towns will be depopulated by next spring. The success of the campaign will be received with gratification in every community, as everybody has been intensely interested despite the inclement weather which made canvassing of the committee almost impossible at times. Greenville and Pitt county have done the big thing, and deserve great credit.

CAROLINA CLUB OUTLINES PLANS FOR NEW HOME

Committee Appointed to Draft Contract For Third Floor of the Blount-Harvey Building

Discussion of plans for securing new quarters was the outstanding feature of the meeting of the Carolina Club held in club rooms on Evans street last night, although general business issues were disposed of and other matters considered. The meeting was well attended, being presided over by J. C. Lanier, president.

Discussion of the new quarters resulted in the appointment of a committee to draw up a contract for the third floor of the new Blount-Harvey building to be erected on the corner of Evans and Fourth street. The committee will have power to act in the matter, and it is expected it will be settled within the next several days.

The third floor of the new building, it was said, will give the club adequate room to make every improvement desired, and will be the most commodious of any institution of the kind in this part of the state. The members were highly gratified at the prospect of being comfortably established in a new home, and favored immediate action of the committee.

Debate on the four power Pacific treaty has produced such harmony that only one power may be left.

The Greenville white way will become an actuality during the summer months, so those who may be in doubt concerning the matter may take it easy and rest assured things will brighten up on Evans and Fifth streets after awhile.

The potato storage warehouse question has aroused considerable interest in this section at the present time and may result in the erection of several houses in the county.

The union depot question should be agitated as much as possible by members of the chamber of commerce, as it is something in which everybody in Greenville is intensely interested.

County boards of health are doing great work in the prevention of diseases, but could accomplish much more by proper co-operation from the public.

The Republican party may be making an effort to regain public good will, but it isn't apparent in action of the administration.

The Far East relief campaign will begin in North Carolina as soon as Jewish relief funds have been raised and it is the duty of the public to give to this cause as liberally as to any.

Superintendent Brooks says the great growth of state schools must be met by greater economy and proposes certain changes which he believes will have desired results.

Chairman Hall, of the Democratic forces of the middle west, says the Republican party is "regardless" at the present time, and that the rest of the world is crying for relief.

Pitt county men who attended the sweet potato school in Rocky Mount are gratified at the splendid spirit in evidence, and believe it will have much to do with growing of the product in the future.

Every man who fought in the recent war against Germany should be a member of the American Legion, as this organization is one of the most powerful in the country.

That the boll weevil will invade this country this year seems to be almost a certainty at this time, and if the farmer desires to enjoy a season of prosperity about the best thing to do is to reduce acreage as much as possible.

Chinese officers propose to go the armament conference one better by scrapping the entire navies of the world. The reason for this is because the government is behind with their salaries, and they find living isn't easy without a certain amount of cash.

It is said that taxes are highest times are hard, and this seems to be so judging by conditions at the present time. The Republican party in fairness to the people should consider the fact and see what can be done in relieving the public.

The farmer intending to increase cotton and tobacco acreage is making a mistake and should reconsider before planting season comes. The tobacco market has been congested beyond hope for months, and if a large crop is produced this season the situation will be more serious than in years.

The resignation of J. R. Turnage, of Ayden, as a director of the Pitt county chamber of commerce is to be regretted, as he is one of the county's most influential business men, and always ready and willing to do his part by anything for community advancement.

Free dental clinics established in different counties of the state should be a great asset in preserving the health of public school children, who unfortunately, have been greatly neglected in past years.

MIGHTY SOUND ADVICE.

The Reflector carried a highly informative article in yesterday's edition from the pen of J. F. Brinkley, one of the best known tobacco men in this section.

ure can not make prices better when the market is already glutted with tobacco of every grade, and despite everything that can be done the season will prove disastrous to the grower if he attempts to produce larger acreage than last year.

Mr. Brinkley has had sufficient experience in the industry to speak with authority, and the farmer that disregards this sound advice may have cause for regret.

This is the time to give the matter clear thought for after planting season is over it will be too late for regret.

GERMANY MUST IMPORT TOBACCO.

Germany's Finance Minister has submitted to Parliament a bill authorizing him to reduce the duty on leaf tobacco to 60 marks. The Economic Council has already adopted the bill, according to latest reports, and the Reichstag will probably do the same if it does not go a step further and remit the whole duty.

IS THIS YOUR TOWN?

(By R. S. Bailey, M. D., Health Officer of Pitt County.)

A fly one day in hungry mood began to search around for food, and coming to a grocery store, it flew right through the unscreened door.

It got its breakfast long before within the closet just next door, and where a typhoid carrier stayed who every day a visit made, and left excretions in the shack—a filthy hole with open back.

And here the fly at peep o' day went in to eat as was its way, and incidentally laid some eggs within this filth and human droppings, and from this mess six score would pass in half a score of days—alas!

A fly has taste, is fond of sweet, and when a savory dish it meets, it vomits what it ate before, and then begins to eat some more. It may alight on your dessert, and vomit there—ah, does it hurt?

Stand in a store and look around, and soon the filthy pest is found promenading on the fruit. In an unscreened box—the brute! Sugar's sweet, and there it goes, and there it stays till time to close.

Can one who sells such food as this ever claim that he is not remiss? As sure as God in heaven lives, a man's murderer if he gives infected food to man or child—to close that store—a sentence mild!

And yet disease and death are spread, and not a single word is said, and if there is a law for such, it surely can't amount to much. Disease and death may claim the street.

And what is said above is true; you know it, what will you do? "A dirty town it is," they say, "and others are the same old way, is your reply—you let it rest, and nothing's done to fight the pest."

WEDDING GOWN STYLE DOES NOT WORRY PRINCESS MARY

By EDNA HUBER CHURCH,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London.—Mark this one down, girls.

Princess Mary is one future bride who is not much concerned with styles in the making of her wedding gown.

Short skirts may come and go, but they are not for princesses who are about to become brides, it seems. Fashions in wedding dresses for princesses are somewhat restricted by precedent and the gowns worn by the royal brides of the past, it seems.

The wedding gown worn by Princess Mary will be of empire brocade, with a gorgeous train several yards long and with short sleeves. The brocade for the wedding gown is now being woven in the north of England.

The brocade gown will be decorated with the rose, the shamrock and the thistle—floral emblems of the Empire. It is said that the brocade will be one of the most gorgeous interweavings of gold and silver wire that has ever been turned out in England.

The wedding is still some time off, and no one knows just what the exact fashion of the gown will be, for Rexille, the court dressmaker, is said to be planning a few surprises on his own behalf.

The wedding gown will be cut with a moderate V in front, however, and will be draped over the shoulders with lace. The court train is to be of silver cloth on one side and white satin on the reverse.

Also English Lace

English point lace, famous for the world over, played a prominent part in the building of the wedding gowns of Queen Mary and Victoria, and it is understood that Princess Mary has expressed a desire that this beautiful product of her own land be used generously in the making of her own gown.

Queen Mary is greatly interested in the making of the wedding gown, and it is expected she will supervise the fittings at Buckingham Palace personally.

The fashions of the moment are not considered in the making of this gown, but just watch the fashions that are copied from it! Every June bride will want a Princess Mary wedding gown this year. Let's hope she gets it.

NEW BIRTH RATE

With a total of 89,623 births registered for the past year North Carolina has broken its own record for the highest birth rate in the Union established in 1920. At the same time a new low level in the death rate for the state is established with a total registration of 29,984 deaths. These figures are preliminary, and are subject to slight alterations as delayed certificates for 1921 are filed with the State Board of Health. Such delayed returns, however, cannot be sufficient to materially affect either the birth or death rate.

In 1920 the birth rate in the state was 31.8 per thousand population as compared with the rate of 23.7 for the registration area to the country. The death rate was 12.6 per thousand and population for the state as against 13.1 for the registration.

In 1921 the birth rate goes up and the death rate is lowered. On the preliminary figures available the birth rate for the year is 33.1, and the death rate is 11.4. Figures for comparison with the remainder of the country will not be made available by the United States Bureau of the Census until late in the present year. In this connection, however, it is of interest to note that the state of New York announces a death rate of 12.2 for the past year, a new low level for that state but one higher than for North Carolina. The city of Chicago announces a death rate of 11 for 1921, and the health commissioner of that city states that probably this is the lowest rate possible of attainment.

The net increase in the total population of the state for the past year, that is the excess of births over deaths, is 59,659, or a rate of increase of 2.3 per cent. If this rate of increase is maintained the population of the state will have passed the three million mark well ahead of the next decennial census.

While the birth rate is a matter of pride, yet it is the death rate that health officials watch most closely, and the constantly declining death rate in this state is the cause of genuine gratification. In terms of lives saved the lowering of the death rate for 1921 as against the previous year means that approximately 3,292 more Tar Heels are today alive and serving their respective communities than would have been if the 1920 rate had prevailed. Compared with 1914, when the death rate was 13.8, it means that approximately 19,656 more citizens are alive today, a population comparable with that of a number of the larger towns of the state.

Year by year since accurate statistics have been kept the birth rate in the state has been steadily climbing upward, and at the same time the death rate has been even more markedly declining. The figures eloquently attest the fact that North Carolina is a good place in which to be born and to live, and that its people as a whole are constantly growing healthier and happier.

CHINESE ARE NOT OVERJOYED AT THE RESULTS OF MEET

Do Not Believe Foreign Interference Has Been Removed, as the People Wish

By EDNA LEE BOOKER International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Shanghai.—The Chinese are not overjoyed at the accomplishments of the Washington conference relative to Far Eastern affairs, though thankful for what was done to lessen the pressure of the Japanese heel on the neck of their prostrate land.

The year 1921 was a gloomy one for patriotic Chinese statesmen, they admit. Torn by civil dissension the Washington conference in the fall of 1921 loomed as the star of hope for solution of Chinese problems and ridding the land of foreign interference. The conference has ended, but there is still civil dissension, two governments—one of Peking and one at Canton—and China still is not able to regulate all her own internal affairs without the aid of leading foreign nations.

Comment in the street is that the Chinese delegates at the Washington conference did not come within a thousand miles of dissipating the real Chinese questions. And Chinese students, members of labor unions, educational associations and chambers of commerce declare that in the great test of friendship the Washington conference—failed.

Because of this feeling an anti-foreign movement is sweeping all China. A National Citizens' Association has been formed to deal with diplomatic affairs.

While the Chinese are enthusiastic over prospects of soon ousting foreign-operated postal systems—chiefly Japanese—the Chinese are clearly outspoken in their desire and aim to get rid of international settlements, extra territoriality restriction on her customs tariff and foreign shipping on her rivers.

Most foreigners in China assert that while China's government remains in its present divided and chaotic condition foreign nations will not jeopardize their interests and the lives of their subjects "by handing them over to the money-grabbing politicians and mandarins."

Dispatches telling of the demonstrations of the Chinese residents in Washington in connection with the Shantung question fanned the enthusiasm of the Chinese, and larger and more important mass meetings and parades were held throughout China.

Then the powerful war-lord, Chang Tso-ling decided to deal the cards and made a surprise trip to Peking. In his first deal he threw out the old Cabinet, which was very unpopular and put in a new Cabinet, with Liang Shih-yi at the head, and it was reported that Liang Shih-yi was acceptable to South China and that the star of peace was rising.

CANTON SEEKS TO UNITE CHINA AND OPPOSE THE JAPS

President's Aide Says Arms Conference Leaves Japan Mistress of the Orient

By EDNA LEE BOOKER, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Shanghai.—"I have laid it down that we of the South China government have gone to Canton in the interest of a unified China," said Dr. Eugene Chen, secretary to Dr. Sun Yat Sen, President of South China, in setting forth, through international News Service, the objectives of the revolutionary movement.

"This explains the politics of the expedition which the South is sending forth to battle with the foes of the Republic in the Wu-Han center."

The Wu-Han center of China is the district around Hankow, the commercial center of the Hu-peh province. Directly across the Yangtze from Hankow is Wuchang the capital of Hu-peh and the city which Dr. Sun hopes to make the seat of the Southern government instead of Canton. Wu-Han is now held by Wu-pei-Fu, a military chieftain, who is hostile to both Chinese governments.

"We see the problem in these terms," said Dr. Chen. "First political unification is an immediate necessity if China is to be saved from the gravest consequences of Mandarin misgovernment. Unification blocked by Peking.

"Second, unification, however, is impossible unless there is an end to the state of things prevailing in Peking, where government is carried on frankly in violation of the organic law of the land. No one denies that Peking has ceased, in reality, to be a governing body and that it continues in being simply because the Foreign Powers recognize it as the government of China.

"Third, at Canton we have a constitutionally organized government whose authority is recognized by the great block of southwest provinces—Kwangtung, Kwangsi, Yunnan, Kweichow and Szechuen. Hunan is now, for practical purposes, part of the block. Other provinces would join if adhesion could be effected without exposing them to reactionary reprisals.

"Fourth, the transfer of the seat of President Sun Yat Sen's government from Canton to Wu-Han would create a situation in which existing political values would be profoundly changed. It is certain that the illegal regime in Peking would come to an end that the political unification of the country would follow.

"It was hoped to effect this change in the seat of the government from Canton to one of the Hu-Han cities before the opening of the Washington conference.

How Conference Was Viewed.

"We considered the main assumption of the Washington conference to be that of armaments, unless arrested or limited, might end in creation of condition likely to break modern society in its existing political and economic forms. This possible upheaval, we inferred, might be the result of taxation becoming so burdensome in order to meet the cost of armaments that people would have to choose between a greatly reduced standard of living and a revolt against this system of pauperization of national life. On this view it seemed to us that the question of armaments was changing from a concept of war as between nations to a destructive concept directed against modern civilization in its traditional and characteristic features.

"We held and we hold still that a limitation of armaments is impracticable unless the Pacific question can be settled in the sense of an open sea in which the existing status quo shall continue relatively unchanged instead of a Japanese sea in which the status quo shall be fundamentally changed. And such a solution of the Pacific question depends on a right and permanent solution of the Chinese question.

"Japan frankly claims that her territorial expansion is a national necessity in order to secure room for her surplus population.

GIVING PURGATIVES UNWISELY.

(By R. S. Bailey, Director Pitt County Health Department.)

So many mistakes, many of them fatal, are made by people, especially mothers, in giving purgatives when they are not indicated that it may not be amiss to say a few words on the subject.

When wisely administered, purgatives are among our best remedies, but so often are they given as a treatment without any good reason that many fatal mistakes have been made; and chances of recovery destroyed. The wonder is that so little harm is done.

The great majority of intestinal troubles start with pain in the region of the stomach, nausea, vomiting and constipation or diarrhoea, with a slight fever. It is during this stage, before the symptoms are well marked enough to make a diagnosis, that mistakes are made in giving purgatives. It has been found that at least 75 per cent of cases of peritonitis have already received a purgative either taken by the patient himself or given by some well-meaning person. The thing to do is to first find out what is the matter before rashly giving a purgative, and it often takes the close observation of a doctor to find the trouble. It is extremely unwise to attempt any treatment before consulting a physician.

In the case of appendicitis, ulcer of the stomach or intestine, of obstruction of the intestine, a purgative may burst the bowel and throw its contents into the peritoneal cavity, thus producing fatal blood poison before the real trouble is found. In other words, purgatives when given unwisely without consulting a doctor may produce fatal results. It is far safer to operate in these cases than it is to give a purgative.

It is the advice of the health officer to always send for a physician in cases if threatened appendicitis or other diseases ushered in by pain near the stomach, nausea, vomiting, fever, or constipation. Don't take a chance when you don't know what is the matter. Send for the doctor; imprudence may mean death.

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

G. O. P. SENATORS ASSERT BONUS BILL WILL PASS

But Democratic Leaders Are Confident Benefits Will Be Long Delayed

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON, International News Service Staff. Washington.—Republican senators and leaders are confident that a soldiers' bonus act will shortly be passed. Democratic leaders are equally confident that no legislation benefiting the former service men will be passed for months, probably not until just before the elections next November.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota, spokesman for the Republican side on all financial questions, has openly declared his party will enact soldier bonus legislation "very shortly."

"I am very certain that a soldier's compensation bill will pass and pass very soon, he said. I think the President expects the bill to pass, and I think it is very proper for me to say that he expects that provision will be made for its payment."

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, the Democratic financial leader, declared the Republicans had adopted a watchful waiting policy toward the bonus.

The Republican party has again said to the soldiers, "You must wait a little while longer for your pay," he declared, after the Senate had rejected the bonus amendment he sought to link to the foreign debt funding bill.

Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, the Democratic firebrand, charged Republicans with open delay.

It is a year and a half since we heard the Republican majority in the Senate say they were going to put the bonus right away, he said.

Senator McCumber said the Democrats make the bonus a partisan measure. It does it will be because a Republican secretary of the treasury has sought the measure from the President ordered the bill back to committee hearing at the request of the Democratic majority.

It will be because there are not enough Democratic votes, plus the right of ten Republican senators to block the bill, he said.

"I have the utmost respect for those senators who opposed the soldiers' bonus on principle; that is their right. But I have a different sentiment toward those senators who cringe in their seats every time the soldier bonus bill is mentioned because they have promised the soldiers for over three years they were going to pass a bonus," Mr. Pittman in debate.

They have deceived the soldiers every hour and they know it in their hearts. They have been corralled and cajoled and whipped into line by the secretary of the treasury and the great interests of this country which are antagonistic to paying out any money except to the barons of Wall street.

If it takes as long to pass the next bonus bill as it did to pass the last one that came from the House it will not be passed until about a week before the next presidential election, he concluded.

RENTS OF RICH MAY FALL IN NEW YORK

But the Poor Will Continue to Pay the High Charges, Declare Realty Experts

(By International News)
New York.—Rents in New York will come down in the year 1922—for the rich, but not for the poor. This is the consensus of opinion among New York's builders and real estate men, who are sorry to have to smash the popular illusion that the rent break will be in direct ratio to the price of the apartment. The day of the $30-a-month steam heated flat is gone forever, they say. In fact the only apartments that will come down appreciably in price, according to expert opinion, are those in the class of $5,000 a year or more. The firm of Pease & Elliman, which offers the most optimistic of rent prognostications, believes that the drop may even touch the class of homes renting at $1,200 a year. About the only ray of hope held out by the real estate experts is that if the steady building of new apartments is continued for eight or nine years, there may be a return to the normal.

REPUBLICANS BEGIN CANVASSING STATE COMMITTEES TODAY

Washington, Feb. 18.—House Republican leaders are canvassing State delegations to ascertain how Republicans would line up on the general sales tax to pay the soldiers bonus. The hostile attitude of many has changed since it became evident there might be no bonus if not tax. Five way bills have been agreed upon by the House ways and means committee. Many features of the original bill remain unchanged.

FEUDAL WAR THREATENS SMALL FLORIDA TOWN AS RESULT OF SHOOTING

Jacksonville, Feb. 18.—With one man wounded and another in the hands of kidnappers the town of Macclenny was on the verge of feudal war at the noon hour today. Jake Wilkinson seriously hit William Williams, formerly of Milton. Appeals have been sent to the sheriff of Jacksonville for assistance. Military aid may be necessary.

MOTORING TALKS.

These are the mornings when the average motorist gives his vocabulary of profanity a thorough tryout. Cool mornings when the thermometer is hovering a few degrees above the freezing mark, cause air about the family garage to become possessed of a azure hue.

Mr. Motorist steps on his starter pedal and the motor turns over a few times, but so far as starting is concerned there's nothing doing.

But "There's a Reason!" The Willard Storage Battery Company of Cleveland, say this is the worst season of the year on a battery. This is the season when the motorist is suffering from a congested carburetor. He has not adjusted this most important part of the car to winter conditions. The mixture of gas with which he tries to start the engine is the same as that which was used all summer. It's too lean and will not ignite. The longer the driver holds down the starting pedal, the more current he is using from the battery, and after a morning or two of such doings the battery will need recharging.

It's far better to adjust a carburetor and save the battery—and it's cheaper in the long run.
