FREIGHT RATES OF SOUTHERN ROADS BE INVESTIGATED

Interstate Commerce Commission to Begin Exhaustive Investigation Soon

SHIPPERS COMPLAIN OF DIFFERENCE OF RATES IN EVIDENCE

Rates on Both Long and Short Shipments Said to Be Out of the Ordinary

(By International News.) Washington, Feb. 21.—An exhaustive investigation of freight rates between the south and the north was ordered by the Interstate highway commission today.

The investigation was requested by shippers of southern railroads who claim that they are paying higher rates than they should.

The hearings, which will be held in various cities of the south, will be announced at a later date, it was stated this morning, and it is expected that of vital interest to shippers will be brought out.

The material difference in rates over some lines for long shipments and short hauls is given as one of the reasons for the investigation.

The commission plans to make the probe one of the most exhaustive in years, and it is probable prominent railroad officials and business men will be heard.

ROTARY BIRTHDAY WELL OBSERVED BY MEMBERS LOCALLY

Service of Club Members Offered Every Member of City Department as Birthday Greeting

Unique among birthday gifts is that which the Rotary Club of this city is distributing this week as a remembrance of the seventeenth anniversary of the organization of the first Rotary Club in Chicago in 1905.

The Rotary gift took the form of a free offer of services to every one of the heads of city executive departments from the mayor down and to the heads of all civic organizations.

The officers of the local club explain that this is done for the purpose of getting before the city officials and the heads of organizations in the city that the purpose of a Rotary Club is to be of service to other organizations.

Rotary, the officers, explain, rarely takes up for the purpose of carrying on itself any civic movement. The whole object of the organizations is service to the community through the existing organizations.

Because of the fact that there are agencies at hand to carry on almost every form of civic enterprise, Rotarians act only in initiating movements and turning them over to the one of these existing agencies whose regular business it is to handle such things.

But the responsibility of Rotarians does not end with the turning over of such movements. It develops upon the Rotarians who are members of the organization to which such a movement is given, to see that the organization carries it out and to call on the whole Rotary club for further assistance in carrying it out, being understood that the movement is a movement of the agency selected and that such agency and not the Rotary Club, shall receive all the credit of the accomplishment.

It is thus, the Rotary officers explain, that the club seeks to emphasize its creed of "He Profits Most Who Serves Best."

The seventeenth anniversary of the organization of Rotary finds the movement has spread to twenty-five countries where more than a thousand clubs have approximately 80,000 members.

In every club this week anniversary exercises are being held and pledges of service given similar to those that are being given here.

WHISKEY TRAFFIC MEMBER ARRESTED BY OFFICERS TODAY

Ralph Roberts With Jug of Whiskey Under His Arm, Nabbed by the Cops During Morning

Ralph Roberts, colored man of this city, is confined in jail today awaiting trial on a charge of transporting contraband whiskey. He was arrested this morning about ten o'clock by Chief Jones and Patrolman Guy Catton on the Stantonsburg road on the edge of the city.

Roberts had a jug of rum under his arm at the time of his arrest, and while he protested against the officers interfering with him, they investigated the contents of the jug and found it to be exactly what expected. Roberts was immediately brought to the city and placed in jail to await trial.

The negro had been carefully watched by the officers several days, and this morning they happened to catch him while in the act of bringing the liquor to town to dispose of it. It is said he is one of a gang keeping the city supplied with an inferior grade of whiskey.

NEGRO SHOT IN CHASE WITH COP HERE LAST NIGHT

Charlie Bell Receives Painful Injury While Escaping With Buggy Said to Contain Whiskey

Charlie Bell, colored, is confined at the Skinner & Smith emergency hospital today suffering from a pistol wound of the leg received while escaping from local officers last night with a buggy supposed to have been loaded with contraband whiskey. The wound is not considered of a serious nature, however, and Bell may be able to appear before the court in a few days.

Bell appeared in the city at an early hour this morning with a buggy supposed to have contained contraband whiskey, and when finding that Patrolman Catton was on his track, whipped up the old nag hitched to the buggy and made haste to get out of the city. Catton pursued, and when the negro failed to halt as commanded, fired upon him several times. Bell couldn't be stopped, however, and made good his escape for the time being, but was arrested this morning.

It was not known at the time that Bell was injured, but when arrested this morning the officers quickly discovered there was something wrong with his feet. He explained that he had been shot in the leg in the chase last night.

FARMVILLE ROAD TO BE COMPLETED BY STATE FORCES

Construction Work on Bad Strip of Road Near Greenville Begins, Be Completed Soon

Construction work on the connecting link of road between the hard surfaced road from Greenville to Farmville and pavement on Dickinson avenue, was begun today, and within the next several weeks the two Pitt county towns will be linked together by a solid stretch of hard surface road. The work is being conducted under supervision of the State Highway commission and the Pitt county highway commission, the expense being defrayed by the state.

The state highway commission and city authorities recently engaged in an extended controversy over the paving of this piece of road, the state contending the town should pay for the work, and the town contending that it was up to the state. After considerable delay, the work notified Mayor Clark that the state would be done, and expenses incurred will be settled to the satisfaction of both.

This piece of road, although only two or three hundred feet long, has been an eyesore to people traveling between Greenville and Farmville, and news that it is to be paved like the other part of the road will be received with general satisfaction by everyone. The road is one of the best to be found in any part of the state and is the pride of Pitt county people, especially those who make daily trips from Greenville to Farmville by automobile. It will have much to do with the business relations of the two towns in the future, and should be a means of establishing closer relations among business classes.

MANY CASES HEARD BY JUDGE CRANMER IN SUPERIOR COURT

Congested Civil Docket Relieved of About 150 Cases in Yesterday's Session

PRESENT CALENDAR IS TO BE CONSIDERED IN TODAY'S SESSION

Judge Cranmer Making Effort to Clear Docket of as Many Cases as Possible

After disposing of about one hundred and fifty cases yesterday the civil term of Pitt county superior court this morning began the hearing of the calendar for the present term, and it is expected the remainder of the week will feature many contraband cases of an interesting nature. The calendar contains some thirty cases or more which in all probability will be completely disposed of before the term is brought to a conclusion the end of the week.

The civil docket has been hopelessly congested several months, but the action of Judge Cranmer in ordering judgments in the 150 cases yesterday improved the situation to no little extent. Many of the cases have been hanging for several months, and even years in instances, and it is probable if drastic action had not been taken they would still remain several months longer. Judge Cranmer believes in relieving congestion in every way possible, and expects to be able to produce a wonderful change during the next few terms he is on this circuit. He produced a pronounced change at the last session, and before the present is over will be able to make even a better showing.

The work of Judge Cranmer in carrying terror into the camp of the lawless element at the last criminal term has received wide attention, and from all indications crime will be on a decided increase while he remains on this circuit. He believes in enforcement of the law regardless of persons involved, and has created favorable comment in this section.

MANY REGIMENTS OF BOLSHEVISTS FACING LISBON

Nation Wide Revolutionary Strike in Portuguese Government Expected Any Moment

(By International News.) London, Feb. 21.—A nation-wide revolutionary strike is scheduled tomorrow by several regiments of Bolsheviks and Monarchists to gain place in the Portuguese government, according to dispatches reaching here today.

According to dispatches received from Lisbon today everything was quiet in that city, but troops were patrolling the streets in preparation for the expected outbreak. The situation is said to be critical and will be of great seriousness unless the unexpected happens.

The strikers have gained a large following, and several regiments are expected to launch a crushing blow against the city of Lisbon, although troops are in readiness to repulse the attack as far as possible.

HUSBAND HUNTERS PRESENT POETRY AT CITY THEATRE

Women Admitted Free at Theatre Present Ages and Kind of Husband Wanted

"Women Who Wait," an interesting picture shown at White's theatre last night was attended by a large crowd and resulted in many interesting circumstances because of the fact that all unmarried ladies over twenty five were admitted free, with request that they leave their names, ages, address and type of husband preferred.

As expected, the offer attracted considerable attention among movie lovers of the city, and numbers of appropriate poems or verses, giving vivid descriptions of the kind of husband desired, were turned in at the ticket office. Three of these were of a particularly interesting nature, and for that reason they are being reproduced for the benefit of the public.

The poems follow:

A Mixture Necessary. I am a young bachelor-maid of sixty-five winters, Born in the South, but not in the pine splinters, If you look on your map, you'll find London, Ky., The town of my birth, you see I'm quite lucky. My ambitions have been to travel at will, That accounts for my being in your town of Greenville. But now I've decided my ambitions are to blame For my having to keep my melodious name.

So today I advertise for a husband so true, That anything for me he'd be willing to do. He must be a man between forty and fifty, A business-like man, tall, handsome and thrifty. He must know how to cook, sweep, dust and sew, And be willing to go with me wherever I go.

He must enjoy the out-of-doors and take walking as sport, To golf, tennis, boating, swimming, and horse back riding he must resort. A good disposition he must have and much self. To spend on my pleasures as well as himself. A few more requirements I surely will plan, To give to this young handsome bachelor man.

An Appalo Desired. My age is sixty years, five months, and one day. My ambition—a husband, in the month of May. My chief characteristic—I never mope; My motto—"While There's Life, There's Hope."

He—handsome and amorous as Appalo must be, And match his strength with Hercules. Unless you fully qualify—to apply, do not dare; I give you warning: Beware! Beware!

Mild Tempered Lad Will Pass Forty-five my age you'll find If you'll search the book in time. Blank is my name, But I'd like to change the same. My ideal is well defined In this simple little rhyme, A little taller than I he must be And a little but older, say two years or three. He must be even tempered for as you all know, Two high tempered people together won't go. He must be well educated although I will spurn A man that is too old or too wise to learn.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN BURN TO DEATH WHEN HOME IS DESTROYED

Aiken, S. C., Feb. 21.—Mrs. E. Mounts and three children were burned to death and her husband critically burned when fire destroyed their home early this morning. The family was asleep when the fire started and was carried into the ruins when the second floor caved in.

Home Brew Clogs Sewers

(By International News.) Lawrence.—The sewers of this city are clogged by refuse from home brew. Alderman Patrick McNully, head of the department of public engineering, made the declaration. He has appealed to Alderman Peter Carr, head of the police department. Acting upon the suggestion of the engineering head the police find it easy in following clues in the districts where the brew-clogged sewers are. Raids in the affected sections are planned.

Stonepile Return Urged

(By International News.) Elyria, Ohio.—Local municipal officials are considering the proposal that the old stonepile, within a stockade, and the custom of making prisoners work on the streets, inaugurated by Mayor Reedy here twenty years ago, be revived in an effort to check the tramp evil. Transients boycotted Elyria as long as the "work gang" existed.

EUGENIC BRIDE IS WEDDED BY EUGENIC PASTOR

Mrs. Andrew McCoy of Berkeley, Cal., and her husband, a well known San Francisco business man, had to qualify as a eugenic couple before they could be married by Rev. Robert F. Leavens, who when he took over the pastorate of a Berkeley church, posted a notice that he would officiate only at eugenic marriages.

GREENVILLE CLUB TO PLAY BELHAVEN OUTFIT TONIGHT

Second Game of Championship Elimination Series to Be Played at Belhaven Tonight

Members of the Greenville high school basketball club left this afternoon for Belhaven where tonight they will play the second game of the championship elimination series with the high school team of that place. This game promises to be one of the hardest fought of the current season, and from all indications Greenville will come out with colors flying.

In event Greenville wins the second game of the championship series the third and final game will be played with New Bern at Forbes & Morton's warehouse in this city Friday night. In event they do not win, Coach Duncan has seen to it that no one will be disappointed, as arrangements have been made for the high school outfit of Ayden to play here.

Greenville is in prime condition for the fray tonight. The boys went through strenuous practice last night and improved weak positions as much as possible. Goal shooting was one of the principal things practiced. Inability to find the goal at critical stages has been largely responsible for our defeat against some of the strongest clubs of the State but the boys have improved remarkably and should be able to give a good account of themselves.

Coach Duncan said this morning that success of the club in tonight's game will be largely determined by support from their followers, and it is hoped Greenville people will attend in large numbers. Seeing numbers of faces from home will inspire the boys to fight with greater determination. Coach Duncan said, and it is the duty of the people to stand behind him.

BOLL WEEVILS WILL BE THICK IN 1922.

Cotton farmers are now busy arguing pro and con the advisability of reducing or increasing the cotton acreage for 1922...

The number of boll weevils emerging from hibernation each spring depends on two things; the number entering hibernation in the fall and the percentage of these surviving.

These records are made in a number of different ways but the most comparable criterion is the figure based on the number of live weevils found hibernating in Spanish moss...

Clothing wool drawn from all sections of the world shows an average import price in December, 1921, of 19.3c per pound against 24.1c in December, 1920...

From these figures it is seen that we have far more live weevils per ton of moss in sight now than at any time since these records were started and only a very few dead weevils.

Finished manufactures exported from the United States in the calendar year 1921 formed a larger percentage of our exports than in any pre-war year...

Of course, it was to be expected, says the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York, that the group "Manufactures for use in manufacturing" would form as large a percentage of the exports in 1921 as in pre-war years...

damage. No man is justified in gambling in such luck, and the only sane course to pursue is to anticipate a year of great abundance of boll weevils and to make all plans accordingly.

BIG FALL IN FOREIGN PRICES.

World prices of manufacturing material show a greater fall than those of food, and foodstuffs show a greater fall than those of manufactures.

the exports of the country in the calendar year 1921 against only 31 per cent in the fiscal year 1914, 29 per cent in 1910, 24 per cent in 1900, and 15 per cent in 1890.

It is quite apparent from these figures, adds the bank's statement, that our manufacturers are sending abroad a constantly increasing share of their products.

Manufactures produced in 1919 show an increase of 544 per cent over 1889, while all manufactures exported show an increase of 1401 per cent, and finished manufactures alone an increase of 1833 per cent.

Girl, 18, Offers to Marry For $1,000 to Help Family

(By International News.) New York.—A girl, 18 years of age, is doing a very serious thing, but there is no other alternative.

This was the comment of the mother of eighteen-year-old Theresa Katona, who has offered to marry on her next birthday, November 28, any man, providing he is a Christian and is healthy, who will contribute $1,000 to the support of her mother, father and younger brothers and sisters.

Theresa refused to talk, though she occasionally pushed her head into view long enough to listen and to confirm the report that she had made the offer.

It was learned that Katona has been ill for some time and that the girl also had been unable to get work. The couple have been in this country for nineteen years.

"The Black Panther's Cub." The W. K. Ziegfeld photodrama, "The Black Panther's Cub," starring Florence Reed, and directed by Emile Chautard from a story by Ethel Donohoe based on Swinburne's immortal poem, "Faustine," will shortly be shown in this city, on Thursday, February 23rd.

This spectacular photodrama, which is said to be one of the most magnificent and gorgeous screen productions offered in many seasons, presents the Broadway favorite, Miss Reed, in a dual role during which she is seen in four separate and distinct characterizations.

The cast which the producer has assembled to support Miss Reed is one of unusual brilliance. Hadd by Norman Trevor, the popular English actor who is now starring in "Enter Madame" at the Fulton Theatre in New York, it contains such well known persons as Tyrone Power, Earle Foxe, William Roselle, Henry Stephenson, Mlle. Dazie and Paula Shay.

"The Black Panther's Cub" is said to establish a high-water mark for screen productions of exceptional beauty, power and investiture. It is a photodrama of almost unprecedented proportions. Florence Reed, star of the production, is generally recognized as Broadway's favorite actress. During the past season she held enthralled record-breaking crowds at her performances in rapid succession, while the colorful scenes and spectacular developments lend an air of enchantment and fascination to the picture seldom seen on the screen. The air of realism which Director Chautard has developed, the wonderfully superb acting of Miss Reed and the magnificent lighting effects all tend to make "The Black Panther's Cub" one of the screen masterpieces of the season.

COLLEGE BAND TO GIVE CONCERT AT TEACHERS COLLEGE

State College Band to Play at the Training School Evening of March 6th

The band of the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering will give a concert at East Carolina Teachers College on the evening of March 6th. The Senior Class is having them come.

Two years ago the band gave a concert at the college and the public was invited to it free of charge. The band had just been re-organized and was just beginning to show what it could do. Last year they at the school again and had improved so greatly that it was difficult to realize that it was the same band.

The concert they gave last year was a high class, splendid entertainment. They have spent quite a sum of money on new instruments and have been practicing constantly until they have made an enviable reputation for themselves and for their college. It is perhaps the finest band in the State. They have a real musician at the head in Capt. Price. Most of the men have been in the band for several years and are good musicians. The public can look forward to an excellent entertainment.

POTATO SCHOOL AT ROCKY MOUNT GREAT SUCCESS

W. B. Pace Tells of What Was Accomplished at Two Day Meeting Last Week

By W. B. PACE

The first school ever conducted by the Extension Division in North Carolina for the purpose of studying sweet potatoes from every angle was held in Rocky Mount last Thursday and Friday. This school was conducted under the direction of Mr. C. D. Mathews, State horticulturist, and with the able assistance of Mr. L. H. Nelson, sweet potato specialist and Mr. B. F. Brown of the department of markets. Those attending this school were county agents, district agents, and interested farmers and bankers.

At this school the sweet potato was taken up from the farmers' viewpoint mainly, and I shall not endeavor to go into the details here; but simply state some of the things that were decided upon, in regards to the development of the sweet potato industry in North Carolina.

It was first agreed that we should adopt a State wide policy, which has been previously drawn up by leader of the Extension division. This policy was accepted with a few minor changes made, and the object of such a policy is to guide the development of the sweet potato business in North Carolina so that there will be a somewhat uniform system working in unison. There are many phases of this policy, all of which are expected to aid materially in the potato game, but some of the outstanding features are as follows: First, that all local associations formed should be organized cooperatively; that the farmers themselves should grow and market their potatoes through the storage house and not sell their potatoes out to the other fellow at digging time, when they are necessarily low in price. Second, that all contracts signed by sweet potato growers in North Carolina be identical in the same, with the exception possibly of local name given that particular association, and that the contracts provide that all associations shall merge, or federate as soon as they grow to the extent that they compete with each other. Third, that all houses built be of the standard government type, just as the one now in operation at Rocky Mount Fourth, that we adopt a uniform container for all potatoes shipped out of the State.

Fifth, that we grow either the Porto Rico or Nancy Hall varieties, and as near as possible have only one variety grown by any local association.

There are many other features of this policy that I cannot recall just now. Another, however, was that all bedding potatoes shall be passed upon by the local manager, and must be treated before bedding, and that the local manager shall have the right to accept or reject potatoes at the warehouse door. The storage house is by no means a hospital, and if you put diseased potatoes into the house, you not only will have diseased potatoes after they are cured, but others in the house might have diseased potatoes due to your negligence.

Mr. Brown discussed the economic aspect of the sweet potato business, and his talk was very instructive. He said that we should never lose sight of the objective—that being to increase the farmers income. He said that no man should go into the sweet potato business, as a business, and so simply make money out of sweet potatoes, but to go into it with the view of making the farm pay better as a whole. Do not get the idea that you can grow sweet potatoes in the place of cotton or tobacco, but work them into the general scheme of diversified farming that should exist instead of the one or two crop system, that we now have. He also said that the farmer should not look upon the storage house as the thing that will make him money, but to ever thinking of his patch of potatoes, how to grow them disease free, how to cultivate to the best advantage, how to grade the potatoes and how to pack them and get them to the storage house in good condition. That is the farmers part and it is not properly carried out, the storage house will not make money or that particular farmer that does all to carry out his part.

This leads up to the great big subject of producing disease free potatoes, on which we might spend hours discussing; but time and space will not permit here, and in an early issue of the Reflector I expect to have an article telling how to do this.

PLEMMONS GIVES UP PASTORATE IN CAMDEN, ARK.

Recently Chosen Pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, Tells Congregation He Will Leave

The following story of the resignation of Dr. T. H. Plemmons, recently chosen as pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church of this city, from the Camden, Arkansas, Daily News, will be read with interest by people of this city.

Dr. Thomas H. Plemmons, who has been pastor of the First Baptist church of this city for nearly two years and a half, tendered his resignation at a meeting of the members of the local church at prayer meeting service last night. Dr. Plemmons announced his plan to resign before a call meeting of the board of deacons last Sunday evening, following the evening service, but The News withheld the story until today, at the request of Dr. Plemmons.

Dr. Plemmons leaves Camden to accept work in a much larger field as pastor of Immanuel Baptist church at Greenville, N. C.

Dr. and Mrs. Plemmons came to Camden in the fall of 1919 from the First Baptist church at Helena. During their stay in Camden they have made themselves very dear, not only to the members of their own church, but to the entire Camden community. Both of these good people have been on the job here and have done a great deal to further the religion of Jesus Christ in this community. During the short time of Dr. Plemmons' pastorate, over 150 members have been received into the fellowship of the First Baptist church, and the various departments of the church have grown considerably. Especially has the work among the young ladies of the church been on the increase under the leadership of Mrs. Plemmons. The young people's work, the Sunday school and the woman's work have flourished during Dr. Plemmons' pastorate.

Not only has Dr. Plemmons been pastor of the First Baptist church since coming to Camden, but he has also been a leader in the life of the community. He was one of the instigators and a great worker for the great Stephens revival last spring. He has been a good attendant at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, and at all times has been ready to assist in the work of this organization. Dr. and Mrs. Plemmons expect to leave Camden about March 1 for Greenville, N. C., their new home. Greenville is a beautiful little city in the tobacco and manufacturing belt of North Carolina, with a population of approximately eight or nine thousand people. The city has miles and miles of beautiful paved streets, and is located half way between Raleigh and the coast.
