PLANS TO WIDEN DICKINSON AVENUE TO BE COMPLETED

Property Owners Favor Proposal and Have Signed Petition to Be Presented to Aldermen

ISSUE TO GO BEFORE CITY FATHERS EITHER TONIGHT OR NEXT WEEK

Improvement Considered Very Necessary to Future Progress and Development of the City

The proposition to widen Dickinson avenue has received favorable consideration among property owners in that section, and it was indicated this morning that the petition recently circulated will be presented at a special session of the board of aldermen, probably tonight, fully signed and indicating their willingness to bear a proportionate part of expenses resulting from the improvement.

The proposal has created considerable interest in all sections of the city, and when it is presented before the board it is expected that a large representation of influential citizens will be present to advocate immediate construction work. It was thought at one time the issue would be delayed, but the committee having the petition in charge canvassed the street faithfully and obtained the signatures of practically every property owner.

The cost of the improvement will be small in comparison to the great benefit the entire city will derive from it, officials stated today, and it is hoped to complete all preliminary details and begin work as soon as possible. The issue was to have been taken up at the regular meeting of the city fathers this morning, but the petition was incomplete at the time and definite action deferred until this matter had been satisfactorily settled.

It is proposed to take four feet from the sidewalk, the town bearing half of the expense and the property owner the other half. This will make the cost to the property owner amount to approximately fifty cents per foot, and the town a similar amount. The cost, however, is of slight consideration compared to the great improvement and general increase of property value to result from the work, officials said, and for that reason it is hoped the aldermen will definitely determine just what action will be taken.

HARDING AGREES TO COMPROMISE ON PEACE TREATY

President and Senator Brandegee Reach Decision During Morning Conference

(By International News.)

Washington, Feb. 24.—Compromise reservations of the four power treaty were agreed upon by President Harding and Senator Brandegee, a substitute for the original Brandegee reservation was objected to by the president it was said.

Agreement followed a conference between the president and Senator Brandegee. The president reported that impatience is increasing over delay of the armament conference. This has been encountered by the committee because of opposition to the Pacific treaty.

The reservation provides that the United States will not commit its policy as to armed forces. No obligation to defend the Pacific possessions are to be included in the treaty.

GROUP CHAMPIONS ARRIVE FOR GAME IN CITY TONIGHT

Belhaven and LaGrange Clubs Already Here, Hearing to Fight For the Honors

BOTH CLUBS IN PRIME CONDITION FOR THE BEST GAME OF YEAR

Greenville People Urged to Attend in Large Numbers and See Champions at Work

Members of the LaGrange and Belhaven basketball teams arrived in Greenville today where tonight they will battle for championship honors of Group one, East Carolina. Both clubs are in prime condition for staging one of the greatest battles of the year, coaches said today, and Greenville people who attend are assured of seeing something out of the ordinary.

Belhaven won the right to participate in the championship series by defeating Greenville in the final game of the elimination series the early part of this week. LaGrange won the same honor by defeating New Bern, and when they clash here tonight fans will have the opportunity of seeing the two clubs that have vanquished the best the section has produced.

Both clubs are made up of some of the best basketball material eastern North Carolina has produced in many years, and when they clash for the first time here tonight people who have been in doubt concerning the approximate strength of each club will have a chance of seeing for themselves, and will not have to take heresy for granted.

Greenville had some hope of participating in the final game of the championship series, but this hope was set aside in the final clash with Belhaven the first of his week. Other clubs were defeated easily by the locals, but Belhaven had seen greater service in the game, and found Greenville an obstacle easy to overcome.

Coach Duncan said this morning that Greenville people should attend the game in large numbers, as other towns of the state would have been glad to have the opportunity of seeing the championship game on their home grounds. In fact, LaGrange and Belhaven are here to be thanked for favoring Greenville as the place for the final fray, and only large attendance can show the city's appreciation.

Price of admission tonight will be about the same of the ordinary game, Coach Duncan said this morning, as they want to give everybody a chance of seeing the game without financial embarrassment. The contest will be played at Forbes & Morton's warehouse at the usual hour.

The winners of the game tonight will not be champions of entire Eastern Carolina, as there are four groups in the section to play off the championship at a later date. The winners in the group series will then be champions and will go to Chapel Hill to play for state honors. The game tonight, however, will establish championship of group one.

BAPTIST MEN'S CLUB ORGANIZED HERE LAST NIGHT

C. J. Ellen Elected President of Organization of the Memorial Baptist Church

ENJOYABLE SUPPER AND INTERESTING ADDRESSES FEATURE THE MEETING

Paul Clodfelter Elected First V. President and W. T. Lipscomb Second V. President

At 7 o'clock last night in the basement of Memorial Baptist church sixty men of the church gathered around the festive board and partook of an elegant supper prepared by the Ladies Aid society of the church. The purpose of the gathering was to bring the men together to consider the organization of a Baptist Men's club, in keeping with a laymen's movement now going on among the churches of the South. Such enthusiasm was awakened that before the close it was decided to effect the organization at once.

Dr. C. J. Ellen presided over the meeting. After singing a hymn the invocation by the pastor, Rev. L. W. Smith, and the rendering of a quartette by Messrs. W. T. Lipscomb, Jr., W. W. Lee, Spruill Spain and C. B. Rowlett, the men proceeded to pay their hearty respects to the good things the ladies bountifully spread before them. Nor was the feast for the inner man all that was enjoyed, for there followed several talks that were good to hear, especially those by two guests from a distance. Each one present was requested to arise in turn and call his name so that we might "know each other better".

The toastmaster first called on three members of the local church for short talks. Mr. H. L. Smith spoke on "Why have a Baptist Men's Club?" Mr. O. S. Fisher on "The Baptist Fellowship worth while" and Mr. D. J. Whichard on "How best to promote Baptist unity". Each of these talks bore pointedly on the subject in hand and were very timely.

The first visiting speaker was then introduced, Mr. L. T. Vaughan of Nashville. He said he had always looked upon Memorial Baptist church as a beacon light to the world. It has accomplished much in its career of nearly a century, and he was glad to be present in such a meeting of the men of the church and see their determination to organize for greater usefulness in the work of their church. This is a time for action, a time to achieve great things. The power of a corporation lies not in the things it produces, but is lodged in its stockholders and directors. The Baptists of North Carolina have grown into a host 300,000 strong. Their great power is not in the churches they have builded, but in personality, the members who are the stockholders and directors in the great work they are doing. We need organization, personal contact, unity of purpose, unity of spirit and such a club as is contemplated is a means to bring this about. He then outlined how a Baptist Men's club should be organized and conducted. If Rotarians and Kiwanians can reach such efficiency in civic work, why cannot the same spirit be exemplified in a church organization for religious work? What better could you do for your pastor than to have such a club stand behind him in his work?

The pastor was asked to introduce the next and last speaker and he presented Rev. Lee McB. White, pastor of the Baptist church of Kinston. Mr. White said he felt more at home in a meeting like this than anywhere in the world. There is no qualification for membership in a club like the one proposed than our common faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. I think it a healthy sign, he said, when the men organize for the promotion of God's work, and are not ashamed to let it be seen where they stand. We need to get together to think and plan. It was Burbank who said "the first thing to do is to make men happy and then then to think." Too many do not want to think. Get ourselves together to think and we improve both our physical and our spiritual lives. We must do some thinking about God's Word, the most wonderful book in the world, for therein we learn God's will and what He would have us do.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR STREET PAVING IN TOWN OF AYDEN

$225,000 Worth of Bonds Sold and Contract Awarded to K. G. Lassiter of Raleigh

CONTRACT PROVIDES FOR 15,000 FEET OF ASPHALT PAVEMENT

Work to Begin Immediately and Be Completed Within the Next Ninety Days

Contract for approximately $225,000 worth of asphalt paving in the town of Ayden was awarded last night to K. G. Lassiter, of Raleigh, according to information received here today. It is understood that work will begin immediately and be completed within 90 days.

Bonds for these improvements were sold last Wednesday night to Sidney Spitzer & Co., of Toledo, Ohio, and although there were many other bidders the offer of this company was considered the only satisfactory one of the entire number.

The town voted for the issuance of the bonds last July, but due to an error in the municipal finance act they were not validated until the special term of legislature last December, at which time the error was corrected and Ayden officials given permission to proceed with plans.

Funds derived from sale of the bonds will be used in both street improvement and extension of the water and sewer system of the city, it is understood. When completed, the town will have one of the most complete water systems in the state according to its size, and the street paving will cover all principal streets.

It was understood this morning that construction work would begin immediately in street improvement and be completed within the next 90 days. The contract calls for approximately 100,000 square yards of paving, and it is believed by officials that this will fulfill requirements of the town for several years to come.

These improvements are considered a forwarding looking movement on part of the town, and are destined to give it greater prominence in the future. While the town is well provided for in way of sidewalk paving, this is the first street project ever undertaken, and has created considerable interest among those exerting every effort for municipal improvement.

CONGRESSMAN WARD VISITS GREENVILLE

Hon. H. S. Ward, of Washington, congressman of the first congressional district, spent several hours in Greenville yesterday and talked with many of his friends regarding important issues before the country. He stressed the importance of diversified farming in this section during the coming planting season, and said the farmer that plants a variety of crops instead of confining his attention to one or two as customary will come out at the big end of the horn. The country is turning the corner towards better times, he declared, but the turning is perilous, and demands the attention of every person with the good of the country at heart.

Mr. Ward said he would spend several days in Washington before resuming duties at the capitol.

NAVY TO BE CUT IN HALF BY BILL BEFORE CONGRESS

Proposed Cut in Appropriation Threatens Existence of Half of the Entire Force

THOUSANDS OF MEN TO BE WITHOUT EMPLOYMENT IF BILL IS EFFECTIVE

Slash of Personnel Will Approximate at Least Seventy Five Percent of the Force

(By International News.) Washington, Feb. 24.—The proposed cut in naval appropriations threatens the existence of more than half the navy yards, naval officials said this afternoon.

Five out of nine yards will be forced to close if appropriations are cut from four hundred million dollars to half that sum.

The unemployment of thousands of men will result, it was said, and one of the most serious situations in years will result. The personnel slash will approximate seventy-five percent of the present number now employed by the navy.

LOCAL PYTHIANS VISIT AYDEN INTEREST DOKIE CEREMONIAL

Messrs. George Woodward, Zeb Whitehurst, L. H. Bowling, T. I. Moore and Bruce Sugg went to Ayden last night in interest of the Dokie Ceremonial which will be held here during the early part of May. Thirteen applications were signed with a promise of seven more from the Ayden Lodge.

The Dokie Ceremonial will be one of the biggest things of its kind ever staged in Greenville. The day will be featured with a parade, a barbecue dinner and a banquet in the evening. At the banquet several distinguished speakers will be present and will deliver interesting addresses. The local lodge is busy making preparations for the event and the exact date will be announced just as soon as all arrangements are completed.

ALABAMA POWER COMPANY BEGINS FIGHT ON FORD

Concern Plans to Begin Lawsuit in Event Government Accepts Ford's Offer

COMPANY'S OFFER TO BE PRESENTED AFTER FORD'S IS COMPLETED

Two or Three Days Will Be Consumed in Hearing, Chairman Said Today

Washington, Feb. 24.—The Alabama Power Company, today began its fight against the government's acceptance of Henry Ford's bid for Muscle Shoals.

The concern claims prior right to purchase of the property because of contract with the government, and today began laying foundation for court action in event the Ford offer is accepted.

At conclusion of the Ford fight the Alabama Company will present its own offer. The fight, however, against the Ford bid in all probability will consume two or three days, Chairman Kahn said this afternoon.

It is understood that Ford has agreed to specify capitalization at ten million dollars, which will be raised through the proposed company.

ACTION AGAINST LOCAL ATTORNEY WITHDRAWN TODAY

Mrs. Hattie White Withdraws Charge of Embezzlement Against N. W. Outlaw

It was stated this afternoon that action against N. W. Outlaw, attorney of this city charged with embezzling Mrs. Hattie White out of $1,000 had been withdrawn and would not come up for hearing this afternoon at two o'clock as at first supposed.

Mr. Outlaw was arrested by Sheriff Dudley Monday night, but was later released for his appearance before the court this afternoon under bond of $1,000.

It was alleged by Mrs. White that Mr. Outlaw misappropriated approximately a thousand dollars which he had collected for her and never paid. Mr. Outlaw left town and it was during his absence that preliminary steps in the case were taken.

The plaintiff is represented by Colonel Albion Dunn, who stated this afternoon that the defendant had made satisfactory settlement to his client and set aside further action.

TUCKER WILL CASE RECEIVED BY JURY DURING NOON HOUR

Case Proceedings Completed by Court and Decision Is Expected Momentarily

CASE HAS BEEN HARD FOUGHT AND REQUIRED CONSIDERABLE TIME

Entire Session Yesterday Consumed in Hearing Testimony of Both Sides Involved

The jury in the Tucker will case shortly after three o'clock today returned a verdict holding Mrs. Tucker perfectly sane when the will was made and refused to break the will as desired by the caveaters.

Caveat proceedings in the Nan Tucker will case were turned over to the jury after a forceful charge by Judge Cramer shortly before the noon adjournment hour today, but it is hardly probable that a decision will be returned until a late hour this afternoon. The case, as expected, has been one of the most stubbornly contested heard here in months, and featured a long string of important witnesses from sections in which the property under dispute is located.

Practically the entire session yesterday was consumed in the hearing of testimony of the caveaters and propounders of the estate, and facts dealing with early history of the case were brought out. Heirs of the estate contended that undue influence was used in purchase of the property, and that Mrs. Tucker acted contrary to sound judgment if this influence had not been used.

Propounders of the will headed by W. H. Harrington have stubbornly contested every point presented by the caveaters, and through their attorneys succeeded in greatly prolonging the issue by the introduction of additional testimony.

The outcome of the case was a matter of considerable speculation when it went to the jury today, and as many people of Ayden and Falkland districts are interested. Decision of the jury will be awaited with interest. All parties involved are prominently connected, and the battle therefore has created greater attention than under ordinary circumstances.

READJUSTMENT OF ADMINISTRATION MADE AT COLLEGE

Death of Prof. Wilson Makes Many Changes Necessary in the School Work

A number of readjustments in the administrative work in East Carolina Teachers College have been made in order to take care of the special duties for which Prof. C. W. Wilson was responsible. It has been necessary to distribute the work among those familiar with it and it has been done in such a way as to interfere as little as possible with the teaching schedule of the different ones. Prof. H. E. Austin has charge of all inside matters and will take President Wright's place during his absence and attend to a number of details in the office. Another position of importance that falls to his lot is the chairmanship of the appointment committee, having in charge the recommendation and placing of its teaching positions not only of the girls as they leave the school, but of the old girls who wish to change places. This is the chief connecting link between the college and the superintendents and schools.

Prof. L. R. Meadows has been made director of the summer school for next summer. The plans had been made and the bulletin was in press, most of the faculty had been selected and the chief work will now be to carry out the plans. The prospects are that this will be the most successful summer term the college has ever had. This work has fallen into capable hands.

Man works for money. If he saves money will work for him.

The coming of the boll weevil has carried terror into the hearts of hundreds of farmers in this section, but this is mostly imaginary at the present time, and won't amount to anything more if the farmer gives proper attention to facts presented by the various departments of agriculture. The pest must be fought systematically and scientifically if success is to be experienced, and it is the duty of the grower to co-operate in every way this becomes possible.

The tobacco growers should be careful about planting this season, as there is great danger of over planting. Right at this time it is very evident hundreds of growers are going to increase instead of reducing acreage, and while we wish they could find market for every pound of it, we are sorry to say that this will not be so. The markets are already congested beyond hope of relief in the near future, and another large crop on top of it will produce one of the most serious situations that has faced the industry in years. There is no demand for common grades of tobacco, and the market for the good, so-called, grades is very tight and over plants in need of sound advice will suffer more than they ever suffered before. With this wasn't so, but facts are facts wherever they may be found, and they happen to be serious in this case, too. More serious than the average man at the present time anticipates.

The administration has made some mighty great blunders in the past several months, but it's a dead cinch no one realizes it more than its members.

Judge Cranmer believes in enforcing the law as has been in evidence since he began presiding over court in this section and the man who wants to stay clear of the roads had better make it his business to keep out of court while the judge is in this district. He has introduced a new kind of court in this section, and will be able to make his influence even more far reaching in event the public co-operates as it should. Law enforcement is absolutely essential to every community where there are law abiding people, but this cannot be made effective unless the people encourage it. So far Judge Cranmer has received hearty commendation and assistance in this city, and the future for reduction of crime is better today than it has ever been before.

The farm demonstration department will be able to serve the farmer better than ever in the future if they will listen to its members, but those who think they know more than the men who have been trained for this work have an unhappy experience coming to them. There are many things in which the people are interested at this time, and unless they are given proper attention conditions won't be near as favorable as in the past. Get busy and do your part and see things improve more favorably than ever before.

President Harding would like for people to believe the Republican party is going to fulfill some of the promises made during campaign days, but it is very evident at the present time that he has another thought coming to him. The public realizes the party has played a losing game, and at this time would vote overwhelmingly in favor of the democrats should the chance be presented to them. This is a great change in sentiment since election day, but it is true nevertheless. It's an old, old saying come true. "You can fool the public some of the time, but not all the time."

A Record Breaker in a Newly Launched Feed, Seed and Provision Business by W. H. Allen Thirty Days Ago.

With uncovered head I wish to make my most humble acknowledgements of the highest appreciation and extend to each and everyone my heartfelt thanks who has favored me with their patronage since opening business just thirty days ago. The liberal patronage given me at home and the volume of business received from the adjoining counties of Martin, Beaufort, Craven and Greene has passed the most sanguine expectations. The record I have made in just one short month has been encouraging and given inspiration to aspire to be of greater service to the people of eastern North Carolina. I realize that I am not located in the most public place on the commercial centers of Evans St. and Dickinson Ave., but be it to my credit and to the use of good judgment and wisdom on the part of my customers. Many have already made a "beaten pathway" to my door and profited thereby. Others are on the "trail".

A RECORD BREAKER ON THE SALE OF WASEO FLOUR

I have made a record on the sales of flour in this short time that has probably astonished and far surpassed the old profiteers and all competitors by disposing of and selling carload containing 210 barrels in twenty days. Not a single whisper or a single murmur have I heard against Waseo Flour by those who have tested it and used it. On the other hand hundreds of satisfied customers have come back with their happy smiles praising Waseo Flour and calling for more. During the year 1916 when I was in business I sold 2500 barrels of this same Waseo Flour without a single come back. I find that since I resumed business this time it still stands the test of the highest quality by giving satisfaction to the most exacting. In giving a definition and explanation of the quality of a brand of Flour I would say that Waseo Flour is a clean, unadulterated pure wholesome Flour that contains the cream and essence made from the heart of the best pure winter wheat easily digestible to the most delicate system, wholesome enough to comply with the king's relish and palatable enough to give a joyous smack to the queen's taste. Waseo Flour is good enough for anybody. The most highly polished, the most refined, the most fastidious, the most exquisite and the most exacting. The only thing about the quality part of it Lyon & Greenleaf, millers and manufacturers of this Flour have not yet polished it with skyward prices beyond the reach of the people's pocket book, nor have I given it an extra coat of varnish making the consumer pay an exorbitant profit and thus cut off the biscuit supply of four down to three. It is town talk and county chat, too, that "Bill Allen's Waseo Flour gives perfect satisfaction; his prices are right and his store is the place to trade."

Abraham Lincoln never uttered wiser or truer words than when he said you can fool all of the people part of the time, you can fool part of the people all of the time; but you can't fool all the people all of the time.

Try a sack or a barrel of Waseo Flour and you will be pleased, satisfied and gratified. I am unloading a car load today fresh from the mills. While the prices of wheat have soared aloft and flour has advanced more than a dollar a barrel since my last advertisement, I am advancing only 60c per barrel, quoting prices as follows:

- Good for ten days only if present supply should last from date of Feb. 24. Differentials as follows:
- Waseo Flour—plain (48 lb. sacks).....$7.80 bbl.
- Waseo Flour—self rising (48 lb. sacks).....$7.95 bbl.
- 48 lb. sacks plain.....$1.95
- 48 lb. sacks self rising.....$2.00
- 24 lb. sacks plain.....$1.00
- 24 lb. sacks self-rising.....$1.05

LARD

- 50 lb. cases pure hog lard.....13 3-4c lb.
- 25 lb. cases pure hog lard.....14c
- 10 lb. cases pure hog lard.....$1.60
- 90 Day Burt Oats.....60c per bu.—$3 per bag as long as they last.

As I have predicted in my last advertisement old profiteers that have waxed rich on your hard-earnings when they saw my prices would squirm, fuss, cuss and chafe as I brought them toppling down with their heels up on an unwilling rough ladder from the perch of their soft and downy beds of high prices. While I am not a prophet nor a son of one, yet my predictions seem to have been verified as I understand they have become very much alarmed over my future welfare in business by saying that I am selling goods below cost and for less than they can buy them. Doesn't it look like they would take advantage of it by buying from me and save money, but no. In my opinion they are not so interested in my welfare as they would have us believe and still have their hearts bent on and their faces turned to wartime prices and wartime profits and the following picture consoles their nightly dreams—

Almighty Dollar, your shining face
Bespeaks your wondrous power,
Come fill my pockets every day,
I need thee every hour.

And what disturbs them most I have turned my back on this ideal and beautiful picture of theirs and painted on the other side of the wall my slogan "A desire to give service, small profits, volume of business, peace and plenty and a full dinner pail instead of a small lunch basket to appease and satisfy a gnawing and hungry stomach." I am fully aware they cannot compete with me in prices, quality considered. There is a reason: Buy for cash, sell for cash. My running expenses are less. Own my own buildings and storage room. Everything new and fresh—no old stock.

Yours to serve,

W. H. ALLEN

H. A. WHITE

In extending His kingdom in the world. Before closing Mr. White also told of the action his church in Kinston had taken to install a radio station to hear the sermons of Dr. Truett in the meeting he will begin in Raleigh next Wednesday. This awakened keenest interest among his hearers and produced such thinking as resulted in action a little later.

At the conclusion of the speaking a motion was made and unanimously adopted to proceed at once with the organization of a Baptist Men's club. This was done with the election of the following officers:

C. J. Ellen, president
Paul Clodfelter, first vice president
W. T. Lipscomb, Jr., second vice president
J. E. Gorman, general secretary
H. L. Smith, chairman of committee on constitution and by-laws.

It was decided to hold another meeting, a "smoker", Thursday night of next week to receive the report of the committee on constitution and by-laws, and take any other action necessary to complete the organization.

A rising vote of thanks was given the Ladies Aid society for the splendid feast they had served, to the young men for their delightful quartette singing, and to the visitors for their inspiring speeches.

A stanza of "Best be the tie that binds" was sung and the meeting closed with prayer by Mr. White. All left enthusiastic over the good fellowship and pleasure the evening had afforded and the zeal manifested in the organization of the Baptist Men's club.

Radio Outfit Ordered For Memorial Church

Immediately following the men's meeting the deacons of the church held a conference with Mr. White looking to further information relative to the radio outfit ordered for his church in Kinston. It was a matter the deacons were quick to decide upon, and they instructed the pastor to place an order by telegraph today for the radio outfit to be installed in the church as quickly as possible. This is going to be a real innovation not only to the church but also to the people of Greenville and community. It means that our people can sit in the church and distinctly hear the sermons of Dr. Truett, the great preacher, as they are delivered in Raleigh. And it will not stop there, but will remain as a permanency in the church and can be used any time for getting important features from elsewhere.
