EASTERN CAROLINA LEAGUE ORGANIZED AT MEETING OF DELEGATES OF CITIES HELD AT KINSTON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Delegates of Greenville, Farmville, New Bern and Kinston Agree on Provisions.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT TO BE HELD IN CITY FRIDAY, MARCH 17th

By-Laws of Last Year to be Re-drafted and Schedule to Be Adopted Later.

Kinston, March 9.—Delegates representing Greenville, New Bern, Farmville and Kinston met here last night and formed the East Carolina Baseball League, adopted a redraft of the by-laws, discussed the probability of having two other towns joining the league to make it a six-cornered outfit, declared for independent ball, and set Friday, March 17 as the date and Greenville the place of meeting to elect officers and adopt a schedule.

The delegates representing New Bern voted for organized ball on roll call and announced that they could not alter this stand without consultation with the directors of the New Bern club, but joined the league subject to ratification of the terms, which is expected to be the outcome.

Plato Collins was made temporary chairman of the meeting last night and J. C. Lanier, Jr., of Greenville secretary. The meeting was harmonious, the various representatives of the four towns speaking out plainly their feeling along the line of sport for the summer.

It was stated at the meeting that Tarboro was interested in the formation of the league, but was unable to send a delegate to the meeting last night. He asked to be informed on action taken and promised definite advice soon as to what that town will do. Washington, through Frank G. Kugler, sent word that the "sports down that way hadn't warmed up yet," but would probably "get the fever" before it's too late. Goldsboro had no representative on the scene and no word came from that town. It is thought that Goldsboro is out and out for professional ball.

Between now and the time for the Greenville meeting, the various towns will effect their organizations and send accredited delegates whose business it will be to name a president of the league, vice-president, and secretary and treasurer. Rumor has it that at least three of the four towns now interested have made up their minds to tender the office of president to a well-known Pitt county physician.

LATEST STYLES IN EVIDENCE AT SPRING SHOWING

Millinery Opening Here Today Largely Attended; Latest Styles Shown in Profusion.

The spring millinery opening conducted by various millinery establishments of the city today were largely attended both morning and afternoon and buying at some of the houses was decided brisk.

The latest creations were on display at Mrs. I. F. Lee's, Bowen's, C. Heber Forbes' and Young's where milliners vied with one another in presenting styles and shapes in profusion.

Many of the ladies attending the opening remarked that Greenville had everything desired in the way of style, shape and quality this season. In fact, many expressed belief that the showing compared favorably with much larger cities where numbers of people go to get the latest.

Greenville establishments evidently endeavored to surpass all former seasons, judging by the showing today, and women who go to larger cities to make their purchases will do so because they want to and not because they can't be supplied at home.

JUDGES ARE NOT TO PAY INCOME TAX ON SALARY

Supreme Court Files Unanimous Opinion in Case of Judge Long.

Raleigh, March 9.—"An undiminished salary is a complete salary in its entirety and not a salary less a tax," declared Associate Justice W. P. Stacy, writing the unanimous opinion of the Supreme Court that the salaries of the judges of the State are not subject to the State's income tax.

The opinion was filed by the court yesterday on the appeal by the Commissioner of Revenue A. D. Watts from the decision of Judge W. A. Davin in Wake court, continuing the injunction secured by Judge B. F. Long, of the fifteenth judicial district, against the commissioner of Revenue restraining him from the collection of the tax. Judge Long brought his action after Commissioner Watts had refused to agree upon the submission of an agreed case.

While no constitutional officer of the state has offered to test the validity of the commissioner's ruling that all state officers are subject to the income tax, and while many of them have already made returns and paid the tax, the opinion of the court is taken to include them also in its scope.

"Does a tax levied on plaintiff's official salary amount to a diminution thereof in derogation of the constitutional provision? If it does, its legality must be conceded; otherwise the injunction should be dissolved."

This is the presentation of the question by Associate Justice Stacy in the court's opinion.

"The case in its ultimate effect and final analysis," he declares, "involves the power to tax the compensation of all the judges in the State. On account of the individual relation of the members of this court to the question, thus broadly stated, we can but regret that it might have been settled in some other way. But the issue is forced and we must meet it. Jurisdiction can neither be renounced nor denied. The plaintiff is entitled, by clear legal right, to invoke our decision in so far as his own salary is concerned, and this is a matter in which no other members of the judiciary can have any direct personal interest."

SOLDIERS BONUS BILL T OPASS HOUSE MAR. 20

Washington, March 9.—The soldiers bonus bill will be passed by the House Monday, March 20th unless plans completed today by members of the Republican party are changed. Under rules of the bill it can be called upon that date and by a two thirds vote be sent along for passage without opportunity for changes.

WASHINGTON MASONS TO HONOR "FATHER OF COUNTRY"

Final plans have been completed for the erection of a grand building, across the Potomac from the national capital, of a magnificent Masonic memorial building. The structure, to be constructed at a cost of nearly $2,000,000, will honor the memory of George Washington. The movement for the erection of the memorial was inaugurated twelve years ago by the Washington-Alexandria Lodge No. 22, F. & M., of which George Washington at one time was master. This photo shows the architect's plans for the memorial.

ANOTHER SPLENDID SERMON FEATURES REVIVAL SERVICES

Dr. Mathias Arain Delivers a Masterful Sermon to Presbyterians in Revival Series.

Mr. Mathias delivered another great message last evening. His theme was "The Necessity of Conversion," and in its development he appealed to Reason, Conscience, Conscience, and the Bible. He drove home with allegory-like blows the truth that the natural man does not love the Lord. His words, His Life or His Service, not only does not love them, but is positively averse to them; and actually loves something else better than he loves them; and shows by thought word and deed that he is a citizen of a Kingdom which is opposed to the Kingdom of God. He drew very clear-cut difference between morality and religion, and made a strong appeal for the Christ-life as the only life which God can approve. He will preach at the Presbyterian church again tonight, and the song service will begin promptly at 7:45 o'clock. Yesterday morning he spoke to the students at the high school, in the value of a purpose in life, and appealed to them to have Christ as the center of their purpose. They showed their deep appreciation of his message by their close attention and their invitation to him to come again. He will address the Training College on Friday evening at 6:45, under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. It is believed that a large audience will greet him tonight at the Presbyterian church. Come and bring a friend.

GENOA CONFERENCE MAY BE POSTPONED INDEFINITELY NOW

Action of United States Causes Great Confusion of Plans of The Italian Government.

(By International News.) Washington, March 9.—The Genoa economic conference may again be postponed or called off entirely as a result of the somewhat curt refusal of the United States to participate, according to views expressed privately in official and diplomatic circles here today.

The tenor of Secretary Hughes' note caused considerable surprise in Washington when it was learned today. Instead of fencing around Secretary Hughes unhesitatingly characterized the session of the conference as a political character in which the United States could not participate.

The message is said to have constituted a little lesson of rebuke. What the outcome of the letter will be could not be determined this morning although it was thought the conference may be called off entirely.

BALL PROMOTERS HERE ANTICIPATE SPLENDID SEASON

Delegates Return From Kinston Enthusiastic With the Prospect Before League.

MEETING TO BE HELD HERE SOON TO RAISE FUNDS FOR THE TEAM

League Representatives to Also Meet Here for 17th Fr. Completion Organization.

Greenville representatives who attended the Eastern Carolina League held in Kinston last night were greatly pleased with sentiment prevalent among delegates from other towns, and said today that the league should feature in even faster ball than last season.

They said it looks like the league will be composed of six towns, namely, Washington, Kinston, New Bern, Farmville, Tarboro and Greenville. There seems to be some doubt about Washington, but it is not believed Washington people will be content to remain on the outside after enjoying participation in the league during the past seasons.

The Greenville club will be organized at a meeting to be held in rooms of the chamber of commerce next week. At this time arrangements for raising funds, hiring players, election of club officers will be taken up, together with other matters necessary to success of the club. Greenville promoters are determined to act earlier than last season so that everything will be in readiness when the first ball is pitched.

Final plans looking to organization of the league will be perfected at a meeting of the various towns to be held here March 17th. Officers will be elected, schedule arranged and the opening date of the league will be decided upon at this meeting. By this time Washington will have definitely decided what action they will take, and it is believed everything will be in readiness for complete organization.

The Greenville promoters feel confident the association will be a greater success this season than ever before, because of the number of teams and the spirit manifested by the various delegates. Unorganized ball is advisable so college men may be played as heretofore. This fact seemed to be clearly realized at the meeting last night, and while organized ball was mentioned, it was quickly discouraged.

The public is urged to watch developments in organization of the local club and be prepared to offer the right kind of support when the canvass begins for funds. No club can expect to compete for high honors financially handicapped, and as Greenville always wants to rank first it is up to the public to support the club as liberally as possible.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO MEET TOMORROW

The Woman's Missionary society of the Immanuel Baptist church will meet Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the church.

MEDICAL SOCIETY TO HOLD MEETING IN CITY TONIGHT

Society to be Entertained by Drs. Skinner and Smith At Christ Church.

The regular monthly meeting of the Pitt county Medical society will be held in the basement of the Christian church in this city tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The society will be entertained by Drs. L. C. Skinner and Joseph Smith at the usual luncheon.

An interesting program has been arranged for the meeting tonight, including addresses by prominent members of this and adjoining counties. The society is composed of both physicians and dentists, and attendance tonight promises to eclipse anything of recent date.

GOVERNOR RUSSELL PREFERS CHARGES IN HOUSE INQUIRY

Chief Executive Fails to Appear, But Sends Lengthy Document to Investigators.

(By International News.)

Jackson, Miss., March 9.—Governor Russell did not appear before the special House committee investigating his charges against fire insurance companies formerly doing business in the state, but instead submitted a long statement, which was considered in executive session.

The statement reviewed alleged activities of companies in obtaining friendly legislation and referred the committee to other sources of information. Towards conclusion of the letter Governor Russell referred to a hundred thousand dollar damage suit brought by Francis Birkhead, former stenographer, charging him with betrayal and pointed out that the suit was brought three years after Miss Birkhead's allegations concerning him were first made. Until insurance companies were outlawed she was unable to find a lawyer to file suit for her.

PRESIDENT HARDING TO REACH FLORIDA DURING AFTERNOON

Enroute with President Harding, March 9.—Greatly refreshed by a round night's slumber President Harding awoke this morning to look out upon familiar scenes as he skirted the coast of South Carolina. He will reach St. Augustine, Fla., about two o'clock this afternoon. Most extraordinary precaution has been taken to guard the president is being taken by railroad officials. A pilot train is running a short distance in advance of the special in effort to prevent any accident.

Y. T. ORMOND DIES WHILE VISITING IN PITT COUNTY TOWN

Prominent Kinston Attorney Died Last Night at Home of His Daughter in Ayden.

WAS MEMBER OF THE EXECUTIVE BOARD OF TRAINING SCHOOL HERE

Served as Member of Board of Trustees of Teachers College Since its Founding.

Mr. Yancey Thomas Ormond, aged 63, prominent citizen of Kinston and member of the bar of that city, who had been suffering from a chronic illness several months, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. L. Turnage, at Ayden, last night about nine o'clock. The funeral was conducted in Kinston this afternoon immediately following the arrival of the 2:20 Coast Line train from Ayden.

Funeral services will be held from Queen street Methodist church by Rev. Charles L. Read, pastor of the church. Interment being made in Maplewood cemetery. Honorary pall bearers will be the entire board of stewards of the Methodist church and Kinston bar, from which the active will be chosen.

Mr. Ormond had been suffering since early in the fall and had been confined to his home several times in the past several months. His condition was reported quite serious yesterday afternoon and death was not unexpected last night.

Mr. Ormond, who was born at Ormondville, Greene county, would have been 64 years of age April 12, 1922. He led a most active life, starting out as a farmer in his home community, which was named after his family. He studied law at Burlington, taking actual examination for the bar some 25 years later. He located in Kinston after beginning the practice of law and engaged in professional practice.

The deceased had been a member of the board of trustees of the Eastern Carolina Teachers College since its founding, in later years becoming chairman of building and executive committees. He evinced active interest in development of this institution and much of his time was spent in planning for greater building activities.

During his life in Kinston Mr. Ormond was elected to the North Carolina senate from his district and served his people faithfully and diligently.

The deceased was a Mason and Pythian and greatly interested in the activities of the two orders. He was a member of the Queen street Methodist church, and had held the position as chairman of the board of stewards several years.

He is survived by a number of cousins and their relatives at Ormondville and was most prominently connected in Eastern Carolina.

BEGIN CONCERTED WARFARE AGAINST LIQUOR SMUGGLING

Commissioner Quietly Lays Plans to Capture Smugglers On South Atlantic.

(By International News.)

Washington, March 9.—Prohibition agents have for weeks been quietly searching the waters of the South Atlantic, laying plans for a general attack on smugglers. Prohibition Commissioner Haynes said this morning.

He declared that unusual facilities will be employed in coping with the smugglers. A lid has been clamped over details of the raid, but it was predicted that plans would go far towards stopping smuggling.

Smuggled whiskey constitutes the chief source of supply of good whiskey, Commissioner Haynes said. If this should be cut off bootlegging force will be dealt a severe blow.

A total of 66,793 canaries were imported into the United States during the past fiscal year.

AMERICA REFUSES TO ATTEND CONFAB PLANNED AT ENOA

London Expresses Keen Disappointment at Action of the American Government.

LOYD GEORGE HOPEFUL AMERICA WILL DECIDE TO ATTEND PARLEY

Evening News Congratulates Position Taken by the United States in Issue.

(By International News.)

London, March 9.—Keen disappointment was expressed in official circles here today over refusal of the United States to participate actively in the International conference to be held at Genoa next month.

The nation's attitude, however, was not unexpected. Lloyd George was hopeful the American government would find it possible to approve some decisions of the conference. Downing street denied any political significance of the meeting.

The Evening News congratulated the United States on its stand, and laid to the Franco-British quarrel at the Washington conference, which, it was said, the United States government resented.

NEW YORK WOMAN TO GIVE RECITAL AT COLLEGE HERE

Interesting Program to be Rendered by Former Pennsylvania Reader.

Miss Katherine Fahnstoeck, of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, but more recently of New York, a dramatic reader of wide reputation, will give a recital in East Carolina Teachers College, on the evening of March 27, under the auspices of the Sidney Lanier Literary Society, for the benefit of the Fleming Portaris Fund.

Miss Mary Bertlot, who is too well known as a pianist in Greenville to need any introduction, will assist her, giving some number on the program and playing her accompaniments.

Miss Fahnstoeck is now giving recitals in New York and comes here at the close of her season's engagements. Whichever she has appeared she has had excellent press notices. She was with the Swarthmore Chautauque last year and was in Greenville with the "Four Artists" and was considered one of the best entertainers on the entire program.

She is a graduate of Swarthmore College and while in college did Chautauque work. Several years ago she had charge of the Junior Chautauque here. Two years ago she spent a day or so visiting in the college and gave dramatic readings at the Junior-Senior reception.

She has been studying under special dramatic teachers in New York since then. She was the winner of a prize for the speech and diction during an "American Speech Festival." This was a great honor for the contest was open to all students of dramatic art in New York City, and David Belasco and David Blapham were among the judges. She has also won the praise and approval of such great actresses as Mrs. Coburne.

JEKYLL-HYDE PREACHER IS TRAPPED AS THIEF

(By International News Service)

Washington, March 9.—William Stimus, a negro, is leading the placid life of an inmate of a local jail after persuading the dual existence of a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde long enough to land him in the clutches of the police. Stimus was a porter during the day and is alleged to have stolen shoes from the shop in which he was employed. At night he was the preacher of the church of Ark, inadvertently preaching against theft.

It developed that Stimus has been selling the stolen shoes to members of his congregation, who expressed profound amazement at his arrest in view of the regularity with which he ported into the United States during the past fiscal year.

Leon Trotsky has launched a campaign for the purpose of making Russia clean. Impossible.

The four power pact will add to the security of all nations affected, according to the way Senator New expresses it. The public would like to see more of it before deciding on this point.

Railroads of the nation have begun a drive to reduce wages, and before they get through the country will be on verge of another strike equally as serious as that threatened by the miners in the anthracite coal fields. It's a pity workmen can't accept changing conditions for the sake of their country. But miners no railroad men haven't been able to do it so far and we can't hope to expect anything better in the future. Certainly not until unemployment becomes more serious, and an extra man stands ready to fill the job of every striker.

The boll weevil may not sound serious to the farmer who has never had any experience with him, but to those who saw thousands of pounds of cotton go to ruin under Mr. Weevils damaging touch his coming has great significance. The grower shouldn't be misled by persons claiming to fully understand the situation and advising them to plant usual acreage. Conditions demand reduced crops of all kind, except food and unless this is in evidence at the end of the season no one can tell what the outcome of the season will be.

Alabama has officially championed Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals. This isn't anything out of the usual of course, as the public has known all the time that they favored ownership by the Detroit manufacturer. That they have the right idea about the issue cannot be denied. Mr. Ford has exhibited unquestionable business qualities in the past, and the public believes he is capable of placing the great water power project on a paying basis if such thing is possible, and it certainly is, if reports of engineers may be counted for anything. It is to be hoped the congressional committee having the proposals in charge will consider the ability of the applicants as much as their offers, as the decision vitally affects the entire south.

A general coal strike in the south appears almost certain at the present time, and when it becomes effective the government should be ready to take charge of the situation. Government control of the mines seems to be about the only solution to the strike, as workmen are going to wrangle with operators just so long as the mines exist. The time for reduction of wages has come, and it is unfair for the miners to demand increased wages when conditions demand opposite action. The situation will be extremely serious unless federal control of the mines becomes an actuality, and next winter will be doubly serious to the American people. Unemployment is serious enough without the bad effects to result from the coal shortage, and it is the duty of the government to take immediate action to prevent such a situation.

It is hoped the fertilizer plant recently taken over by Mr. Harris, local representative of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical company, will be put in operation in the near future, as the manufacture of fertilizer in this community should have a tendency of lowering prices. Former owners probably started out with the best intentions, but deflation hit them and like many other industries the pressure was so strong they couldn't survive. This is history, however, and what we want to do now is to get the plant in operation again so the section realize something from its existence here. A great number of persons now unemployed would find plenty of work if the enterprise should be placed in operation, and industry would be helped considerably. The purchasers are capable of converting the plant into a mammoth industry, and Greenville people should be gratified at the change of hands.

CURED BY ADVERTISING.

Advertising during periods of lessened demand has proved to be one of the chief means of reducing seasonal unemployment, today a most serious handicap to American industry. Hundreds of thousands of men are laid off annually in the various trades because the sale of goods which they produce is limited to certain months.

The President's Conference on Unemployment, in its efforts to formulate plans for reducing nationwide joblessness, has found American resourcefulness already mitigating this evil. Inquiries have brought to light, for example, that one New York company, which does a large business in dried fruits, by advertising to the consumer has lengthened the season for eating its products.

A Cleveland firm manufacturing men's clothing, in which the styles fluctuate by seasons, has kept up continuous production by standardizing its products and advertising inducement to retailers for accepting deliveries over an extended period, instead of only at the opening of the season.

Another Ohio corporation which makes women's clothing has achieved the same results. It makes models according to carefully laid plans, and by advertising has inspired retailers with confidence in its judgment as to the goods and the seasonal demand for them.

A Rochester men's clothing factory fills in dull periods between seasons by making a stock of conservative models, and advertising mid-season sales at prices which cover overhead but leave no profit.

Pennsylvania Manufacturers of glass, formerly a very intermittent industry, have stabilized considerably by lowering prices of goods ordered at certain seasons, and advertising this reduction. Customers have taken advantage of this cut, thus spreading work over the entire year and enabling the makers to keep on their employees.

In Brooklyn a shoe corporation employing thousands now advertise throughout the year instead of only in season, and has induced its customers to co-operate by placing orders when the firm most needs them. They also advertise a staple shoe not subject to seasonal demand, which helps the retailers, as well.

Watts Says Pay Up

Commissioner of Revenue Watts said today that only one week more remains to income taxpayers to make their returns and pay their taxes without penalty or interest. The time expires on Wednesday, March 15th at midnight. After which time a penalty of five per cent, which in no case will be less than one dollar, will accrue and be collected on returns voluntarily made on or before May 15th. The commissioner will grant extensions of time from March 15th to persons, partnerships and corporations whenever they apply for such extensions and show good cause for them. Where extensions are granted interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from March 15th will be due and will be collected in every case.

Make your returns now and save penalty or interest.

Now that Greenville has actually become a participant in the Eastern Carolina league it is the duty of the public to get busy and support the club as liberally as possible. No ball club can put up a proper fight for pennant honors financially handicapped, and if we expect to become a serious contender for honors we must contribute liberally. That other towns are going to raise sufficient money to support their clubs is certain, and it becomes the duty of our people to do as good if not better than others. Farmville, our neighbor, with a population considerably smaller than Greenville, has rallied to the cause in a praiseworthy way. Will Greenville permit Farmville to make a better showing financially. It is to be hoped not. Both teams should make the best showing possible, and it is up to Pitt county people to support them.

Former President Woodrow Wilson seems to have an idea that Senator Borah is right in opposition to the Pacific treaty, and wants to do what he can to help him out. At least, this sentiment was expressed in a letter made public yesterday, and certainly no one will discount facts set forth in that. The Pacific treaty has been a matter of considerable discussion recently, but the public didn't know whether Mr. Wilson favored or disliked it. Now he has come out and expressed himself it is probable opposition will be more concerted than ever, especially among the great number of people believing implicitly in the ability of Wilson as a clear-headed statesman.

ADVERTISE IN REFLECTOR

Greenville and Pitt county people in general should make it their duty to urge tobacco growers to plant carefully this year, remembering the serious situation that confronted them the ending of the past year. There's very little difference from last year and the present, with the exception that conditions today are probably more serious. A large crop this year will mean ruin to the industry, and it is up to every person having the future at heart to try and prevent the farmer from making his own future uncertain and gloomy.

HIGHER CROP PRICES ARE AID TO BUSINESS NEW YORK BANKER FINDS

By CHARLES B. PARMER, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

New York—America is facing a period of prosperity because of rising prices of farm products, improved credit conditions and betterment of the international exchange rates, John McHugh, president of the Mechanics and Metals National Bank, declared today in an exclusive interview given to the International News Service.

In this, the first statement that Mr. McHugh has made to the press, he said that he felt very hopeful about business conditions.

"We have passed many troubles within the past few months," he explained. "We still have adjustments to make, but the future looks bright. Of course, we shall not rush into prosperity immediately, as many persons are inclined to believe. But I think that a period of prosperity is approaching."

"Most Substantial Factor." "The most substantial factor contributing to my opinion is found in the rising prices of farm products, especially of corn and hogs. Rising prices are making the farmer forget his troubles. He is now ready to buy more freely, and this will insure an increased industrial activity and a free movement of products over the railroads, and that will aid the transportation facilities in general."

"After all, prosperity rolls along like a snowball," he illustrated. "It increases in size as it gains momentum."

Mr. McHugh feels that the credit situation has improved greatly and that the banking situation is thoroughly sound. He said that the business interests had safely passed a severe period.

"The recent increased number of business failures is an indication of past conditions, not of present ones," he declared. "The fact that many concerns reached the right time when they could liquidate with the smallest possible loss showed that readjustments were being made safely."

"Those failures really may be taken as a negative promise of improvement in the present and future," he added.

Mr. McHugh sees in the betterment of the international exchange rates a pronounced sign of world improvement.

"That betterment relieves importers of foreign countries from paying the heavy premiums which formerly paralyzed international trade," he continued. "Of course, it gives us a larger field in which to sell and thus aids in increasing our manufactured output. This betterment of exchange naturally indicates that Europe is becoming stabilized. This stabilization is being reflected in American business."

"I am, indeed, very hopeful about our general business conditions. The outlook is good. We shall not jump into prosperity all at once, but we are approaching it gradually."

HOOVER CATCHES FISH BY SINGING TO THEM

Washington, March 9.—Herbert Hoover champion cabinet fisherman. By common consent the President's advisers have elected Hoover as the leading exponent of the art of pulling 'em in with hook and line.

Hoover's knack of catching fish is to sing to 'em. Hoover takes no medals as a trice tenor. At least his associates would rather that he not go on any grand opera circuits.

But when he gets his favorite old pipe going and is settled on the bank of some quiet stream, Hoover can develop an amount of harmony that is fairly astonishing.

Attorney-General Daugherty, one of Hoover's fishing companions, says that Hoover, as a melody producer, has a lot of swell singing folks backed off the boards. And he does it to steady his fishing nerve and fatten his record of catches.

EARL ASTOUNDS ENGLAND WITH A TROUPE OF VILLAGE PIERROTS

(By International News.) London—Dressed in hunting costume, with big top boots and pink-tailed coat, Algernon George de Vere Capell, eighth Earl of Essex, sits at his typewriter and writes stage directions for his own troop of village Pierrots.

Booked up every night until the end of April, the Earl thinks that his company is the finest Britain. All come from the tiny village of Bodenham, in Herefordshire. Some are farmers' daughters, some farm hands. The leading tenor, Bonnie Meek, is, however, leaving the company. He was just fired from his job of a hired man on a farm nearby.

The Earl calls his troupe "The Canaries." "I am the leading comedian," he says. "My flapper" parts suit me nicely.

"Society in the neighborhood disapproves of me; in fact, they laugh at me. But my work amuses the audience, it amuses the company and it amuses me. "So why should I worry?"

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

By direction of Mr. Howard T. Cree, government director of savings, Richmond, Va., I have been requested to announce the sale of the following denominations of Treasury Savings Certificates, $25.00, $100.00 and $100.00 that can be purchased at a flat twenty per cent discount off their maturity value.

This new offering of Treasury Certificates has proven very popular in that they are issued, in various amounts, which enables every person seeking a safe investment to have a chance to purchase a Treasury Certificate. In the Fifth Federal Reserve District for January there was $562,650 invested in Treasury Certificates.

For those seeking investment of funds, nothing is more attractive than these new saving certificates which yield four and one half per cent on purchase price, compounded semi-annually, if held to maturity, five years from the date of issue.

MODERN FARM FOR SALE BY OWNER AT A BIG SACRIFICE!

$15,000.00 ON EASY TERMS—BUILDINGS AND IMPROVEMENTS WORTH OVER $25,000.00

Have other business that requires my attention, therefore this fine 35-acre farm is going to the man who is LUCKY enough to get here. SEE it and ACT QUICK. Reasonable terms can be arranged by right parties. Farm is situated one mile from Washington, N. C., on a main road running straight out Market street. Black land with clay subsoil, well drained, high land and will produce abundantly, any crop grown in this section. Has large galvanized barn with concrete foundations, ample sheds, hog houses and out houses, including tobacco barn, milk house, tool room, pack room, wood house and smoke house and chicken houses and garage, five room tenant house. Large modern eight room dwelling equipped with electric light plant and 550 gallon pressure tank water system, with hot and cold running water in every bedroom, and modern bath room, large airy rooms with rift pine natural finished varnished floors, hard finished walls, etc., electric ceiling lights and wall bracket light in every bedroom, also lavatory with hot and cold running water. Water is also piped to barn, barnyard, chicken yard, pasture, and ten ant houses, also have a frost-proof closet in the yard for farm hands. Sewerage is disposed of by a large double septic tank which is approved by the State Board of Health.

Farm is on a hill and drains into a big canal at the rear. This place is suitable for general farming, tobacco, cotton, corn, etc.. Or being so close to the city would make a fine CHICKEN farm, HOG farm, TRUCK farm or MARKET gardening in connection with some of the above.

Think it over quick and if you want a fine Home Farm close in to the Best Little City in North Carolina, come quick and see it. Don't wait to write. Opportunities like this don't come but once in a lifetime. Will sell for less than the buildings could be replaced for. Come see the owner quick.

JUDGE LANDIS MAY VISIT ROCKY MOUNT WHILE DOWN SOUTH

Rocky Mount, March 9.—If the concerted invitations of Rocky Mount and Wilson are accepted, Judge Kene Landis, baseball's high commissioner, may visit the two Carolina cities on his announced swing through the Southern training camps of the major league clubs.

Tar Heel baseball officials wired Judge Landis several days ago inviting him to include Rocky Mount on his southern itinerary. They pointed out that last year's situation in the Virginia League had not yet been thoroughly investigated although numerous affidavits and all kind of data had been forwarded to the commissioner's office by the Rocky Mount moguls. The telegram to Judge Landis urged that this league investigation be made, as the locals wished an opportunity to prove their contention that Rocky Mount and Wilson were not alone in their violation of the salary limit, and expressed the opinion that Judge Landis would be in a position to render an immediate decision if he were to make a personal inspection of conditions here.

Confidence in Older Concerns.

During the war, many factories and businesses were organized that were given a foothold by the lack of supplies for our military and our inflated industrial needs. These companies are sure to feel the changing conditions severely and doubtless endeavor to sustain their position on the basis of a "price" competition. And this means price without regard to quality. "Many motorists especially," says Mr. J. Knott Proctor of the Greenville Storage Battery Company, who handle Willard Batteries here, "find themselves in a quandary now as to the proper course to pursue when buying automobile equipment. They are tempted by the "cheap" argument but still have confidence in the old established factories who have developed reputations for quality products. This is the case with Willard Batteries, prices of which have always been kept at the lowest possible level consistent with a quality article that has a reputation to maintain."

"The price reduction announced for December 15, is due," says Mr. Proctor, "solely to the lowered costs of materials and operating expenses of the Willard Factory where every possible feature for economical production and elimination of waste is utilized. No one could be expected to produce better products than the older companies like the Willard Company are doing."

MORAL REFORM WAVE SWEEPS MEXICO CITY

(By International News Service.) Mexico City, March 9.—A wave of moral reform that might be likened to the blue law agitation of the United States is sweeping over Mexico City. The latest agitation is for the separation of the sexes in the moving picture theatres. Most of the movies here are quite dark during the performance and the moralists say that there is as much uncensored romance in the balconies and the dusky corners of the orchestra as there is on the screen. Leaders of the moral reform movement predict national decadence and a rapid lowering of the moral standard if the sexes are not separated in the lights turned on.

YOUNGEST GIRL PREACHER HAS NO USE FOR MODERN FLAPPERS

Miami, Okla., March 9.—A slangy world calls her the "flapper preacher" but she is not that at all. Just a slip of a girl is Miss Orietta Stoddard, still in grade school, but already an ordained minister of the gospel. The district conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in recent session at Tulsa admitted her to the ministry and thereby made her the youngest ordained preacher in the United States. She was voted in by acclamation, after having passed every test successfully.

Miss Stoddard has no use for the butterfly life of the modern "flapper" just in her teens. Jazz music's most syncopated moar and whines fail to entice her, for she has given up all social activities including dancing. "Cake-eaters" in flaring bell-bottom trousers, a fashion epidemic now raging in Oklahoma, fail to amuse her, although she is one of the most popular girls in school.

(By International News Service.) Lincoln.—When Lincoln's ex-service men's organizations put their stamp of approval on a jobless veteran the man thus branded is due to run to work—or from it.

The Lincoln plan whereby jobs have been found for a small army of unemployed Veterans of Foreign Wars is drawing inquiries from American Legion posts, welfare organizations, civic associations and city officials throughout the United States.

Originating with H. L. Carpenter and other officers of Richard H. Harris Post No. 131, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the system has been approved by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, business organizations and city fathers.

Plan is Explained. As explained by Captain Carpenter, the plan in brief is: Each applicant found worthy and well qualified is supplied with a blank form petition, which he carries to

New Light on Batteries

"Since all batteries look so much alike on the outside, how am I going to tell which one has the most value inside?"

That is a practical every-day question—and it has a simple every-day answer.

What greater assurance could you possibly have than the following combination of facts:

- 1—Extraordinary quality in the battery itself, as shown by the choice of the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery as standard equipment by the manufacturers of 173 makes of cars and trucks.
- 2—A nation-wide organization to serve you; and—
- 3—A record for quality and service dating back nearly to the beginning of the automobile.
