

PYTHIANS PLAN TO HOLD CEREMONIAL HERE MAY FOURTH

Committee Appointed Last Night to Outline Plans For The Great Event

25TH ANNIVERSARY OF TAR RIVER LODGE TO ALSO BE OBSERVED

Anniversary and Ceremonial To Be Combined and Greatest of Year Expected

Members of the local order of Knights of Pythians met in session last night and outlined preliminary plans for the D. O. K. K. ceremonial and 25th anniversary of Tar River lodge to be held in Greenville May 4th.

The committee appointed is composed of L. H. Bowling, J. H. Waldrop, D. C. Moore, Jr., finance; B. B. Sugg, L. G. Gosper, W. A. Darden, S. K. Phillips, Roy Batchelor, stunt; W. D. Pruitt, Z. M. Whitehurst, Jr., D. S. Spain, Jr., C. D. Tunstall, barbers; Roy Batchelor, B. S. Warren, J. D. Rogers, W. E. Warren, decorations; G. J. Woodard, H. A. White, E. G. Flanagan, banquet; W. J. Whitchard, Jr., A. B. Ellington, J. R. Brown, publicity; R. W. Gorman, T. J. Moore, location.

The anniversary of the local lodge will be combined with the ceremonial to be put on by Sister Temple of Charlotte. Pythians from all sections of Eastern Carolina are looking forward to one of the greatest occasions in years.

There will be forty of fifty members of the order from Charlotte in attendance, including high officials and other notables. Candidates representing practically every town in this section will be initiated into the mysteries of the organization during the day.

A band will be brought down from Charlotte and this will furnish music for every feature of prominence. D. O. K. K. ceremonials have been held in many towns in North Carolina in past years, but it is expected this one will surpass anything ever before attempted.

Tar river lodge is enthused with the prospect of having such an affair staged within their midst, and plans for the anniversary and ceremonial will be of an elaborate nature.

Each committee appointed last night will be busy from now until members begin to arrive for the ceremonial and by the time it is hoped to have every man completed and ready to give the hundreds of guests the time of their lives.

GRIMESLAND ROAD TO BE GRADED IN NEXT FEW MONTHS

Construction Work on Bethel Road to Also Be Started in Near Future.

Grading of the hard surfaced road from Greenville to Grimesland will begin within the next several days, according to information made public today by the high way commission.

The building of bridges and grading on the Grimesland road will be in charge of J. A. Morrow, contracting concern of Clarksville, Va., which was the lowest bidder. The Bethel road work will be under the supervision of the B. J. Boyles Company of Wilson.

Pitt county will have one of the most complete road systems in the state when work has been completed, and every town of any importance will be connected with the county seat as well as other counties by hard surfaced thoroughfares.

HIGH SCHOOLS TO COMPETE FOR CUP AT CHAPEL HILL

Thousand Debaters from 250 Schools of State to Debate at Chapel Hill

Chapel Hill, March 22.—One thousand debaters in 250 high schools, scattered from the mountains to the sea, will speak on the subject of the League of Nations, next Friday, March 24, the occasion being the annual triangular debates of the High School Debating Union, conducted under the general auspices of the University of North Carolina.

Reports which have reached E. R. Rankin, secretary, indicates that there is great interest in the debates on the part of the schools and the communities. The young debaters have done vast deal of investigating on the subject of the League of Nations.

The University issued a handbook on the subject for their use, and the North Carolina congressmen and senators have cent many speeches and documents from the national capital. The final contest for the Aycock Memorial Cup will be held at the University on April 6 and 7.

All high schools which win both of their triangular debates this week will send their teams to compete in the final contest. The Aycock Cup has been won in the past by Pleasant Garden, Winston-Salem, Wilson twice, Graham, Waynesville, Durham twice, and Asheville.

The annual triangular debating contests were begun in the state ten years ago. They were taken up in the first instance by the Di and Phi literary societies at the suggestion of C. E. McIntosh, of the University class of 1911. Since that time, the movement has become very popular in North Carolina and has spread in a number of other southern states, notably Kentucky, South Carolina, Virginia, Alabama and Mississippi.

ROTARIANS RETURN FROM CONFERENCE AT WINSTON SALEM

Members Gratified at Splendid Showing Made by Pitt County Clubs

FARMVILLE WINS LOVING CUP AND IS PROUD OF IT

Roger Moore Selected as Nominee for District Governor Over Underwood

Members of the Greenville Rotary club who attended the district convention at Winston Salem returned on the special pullmans this morning, reporting a splendid trip and one of the most successful conventions in years.

Although Greenville failed to win another loving cup they were satisfied with what Farmville accomplished along this line. Farmville won the loving cup for largest attendance, Greenville taking second place.

Both of the Pitt county organizations enjoyed greater prominence than the ordinary club because of their record. Greenville is the only city in the world with a Rotary building and Farmville the smallest city having a club. Naturally members of both clubs were proud of their distinctions and entered into activities of the two day convention in an interesting kind of way.

The convention was brought to a close yesterday afternoon and the 1,170 delegates, as shown by registration, departed for their respective homes. The Eastern Carolina delegates left slightly earlier than others, and were among the first to declare the occasion the greatest in history of the organization.

The selection of Roger Moore, of Wilmington, as the nominee for district governor and recommendations of a committee to divide the district and create a new one to be known as the eighth, were among the outstanding features of the convention. Mr. Moore was placed in nomination together with S. B. Underwood, of Raleigh city, schools but formerly of Pitt county, but the latter promptly declined the honor and on motion the unanimous vote was cast for Mr. Moore.

The report of the redistricting which was referred to the international committee for acceptance or rejection, is as follows: District No. 7, in North Carolina—Durham, Fayetteville, Goldsboro, Greenville, Kinston, New Bern, Raleigh, Wilmington, Washington, Wilmington. Prospects in North Carolina—Elizabeth City and Henderson.

In Virginia—Covington, Hot Springs, Danville, Lynchburg, Newport News, Norfolk, Petersburg, Portsmouth, Pulaski, Richmond, Roanoke, Staunton, Charlottesville, Winchester, Harrisonburg, Hampton, Prospects in Virginia—Radford, Lexington, Bedford, Bigstone Gap, South Boston, Suffolk and Fredericksburg.

District No. 8, in North Carolina—Asheville, Charlotte, Gastonia, Greensboro, High Point, Salisbury, Winston-Salem, Mooresville, Statesville, Concord, Hickory, Lexington. Prospects: Reidsville, Thomasville and Monroe. In South Carolina—Anderson, Columbia, Charleston, Florence, Gaffney, Greenville, Greenwood, Newberry, Rock Hill, Spartanburg, Sumter, Orangeburg. Prospects: Georgetown, Chester, Laurens.

The loving cup won by Farmville was presented by former Governor H. R. Rindhalter, being a gift from the Winston Salem club. The committee on attendance contest reported the winner, which was determined by multiplying the percentage of membership in attendance by the mileage travelled. Each of the eighteen members of the club was present, the number of miles traveled being 18304.

The convention was addressed by Miss Elizabeth Eain, of the American Social Hygiene association, who commended the work done by the Rotary club in behalf of boys and girls of the country. The final social feature of the conference was the "seeing Winston Salem tour" yesterday afternoon.

GREENVILLE GIRLS DEFEAT AYDENITES IN SNAPPY CONTEST

Locals Journey Over to Ayden and Win Overwhelming Score of 37 to 13

The girls' basketball team journeyed over to Ayden last night and defeated a similar aggregation of that place by the overwhelming score of 37 to 13. The game was decidedly fast and interesting despite the one-sided score, and those who attended were well awarded.

Greenville gained a lead in first stages of the game, which Ayden found impossible to overcome. Miss Aleen Critcher, captain, and left forward for Greenville, was the outstanding star of the evening, making a total of twenty-seven points. The rest of scoring was done by Misses Pittman and Mays, who made two goals each and Swain who was credited with one goal.

The Greenville club probably showed up to better advantage last night than any game of the season. Every member showed excellent form, and at no time yielded an advantage favorable to their opponents.

Ayden on the other hand exhibited great weakness in gun shooting, and failed absolutely at critical stages. It was this fact that caused them to lose out when chances of scoring were good.

GRIFTON JUNIOR RED CROSS PLANS BIG TIMES SOON

Organization to Pull Off Week-Long Party Next Several Days

One of the chief aims of the Junior Red Cross is to furnish wholesome and self organized amusement for the young people. Mrs. C. E. Gardner, of Grifton, is the member of the Grifton Red Cross who has charge of the Junior Red Cross. It is the wish of the Grifton people to have the Juniors continue their activities during the summer under the Red Cross Club, as described by Miss Maude Lee, chairman.

The Juniors will have their monthly meeting and plan their own monthly entertainment. Yesterday the Juniors had their long talked of Weenie Roast, and hiked along the river road towards Phillip's Creek.

Everyone joined in building the bon fire and the weenies were roasted over the coals. Miss Mary Randolph, sponsor to the Junior Red Cross in Ayden, motored over with four of the junior from there, who represented their Ayden organization. After several game Mrs. Colwin and Miss Randolph delighted all the children by story telling and recitations.

The Grifton Boy Scouts at length put out the "sacred fire," and the Juniors left for home led in a "follow the leader" contest.

PITT COUNTIANS HEADS OCEAN VIEW CHAMBER

Mr. J. B. Latham, a native of Pitt county and son of the late Rev. Josephus Latham, who for several years past has resided in Ocean View, Va., has for the second time been elected president of the Chamber of Commerce of that town. It is gratifying to the home folks to know that the ability of Pitt countians brings them recognition wherever they locate.

The crisp air these cold spring mornings seems to bite worse than in mid-winter.

Banks Make ine Showing. The banks over Pitt county are printing some fine statements of their condition in this paper. They show that our banks are in good condition and have the confidence of the people.

BAPTIST MINISTER DELIVERS ANOTHER SPLENDID SERMON

Rev. Lee McB. White Pleased Church Goers at Baptist Church Revival

FINE CROWD AGAIN IN ATTENDANCE AT REVIVAL LAST NIGHT

Services to be Continued Both Morning and Night During Series

"I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live." John 1:25; were the words of the text selected by Rev. Lee McBride white in the third of the series of evening sermons in the Memorial Baptist church last night. The large auditorium was comfortably filled and Mr. White delivered one of the best sermons of the week.

The musical program consisted of several familiar hymns and a duet by Misses Flossie Morgan and Elenor Bass. The entire sermon was based on the eleventh chapter of John, in which an account of the death of Lazarus is given. Mr. White painted with words a picture of the home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus, stating that although Jesus had no place that he could call home, he always found a welcome at the home of these friends.

He then told of the death of Lazarus, and of the delay of Jesus in coming to Mary and Martha. Jesus delayed His coming so that He could show to the sisters that He had the power to raise the sick even after death. Our prayers are answered by God in His own good time. He knows our wants and will supply us with every necessary thing. He has a rebuke for some as when he rebuked Martha for her lack of faith, and a tear for others, as the tear for Mary when He wept with her. Jesus said "Take Ye Away the Stone."

"Are you a stone in the way of some person who is seeking God?" asked Mr. White. He then pleaded with his hearers to get right with God and show their fellowman that they would not be a stone in their way to everlasting life.

This morning Mr. White preached his third sermon on the first epistle of John, developing his thoughts from the third chapter where is shown the singular love of God in making us His sons. The test of God's love for a sinful world was the giving of His only son to die for us, and in turn the best of our love for God, should be the giving of our lives to Him. The time is fast approaching, declared Mr. White, when man will be required to give not one tenth of this world's goods, but to give until it hurts. This will be a true test of our love for Jesus Christ. He that committeth sin is of the devil. In answering the question, what is sin? Mr. White used the 17th verse of the fourth chapter of James, "Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin."

The time is here now when we should stop excusing our friends and loved ones for their sins, but we should pray with them and help them to nobler and better things. We are the branches and we must bear fruit for God. Services this evening at 8 o'clock. Tomorrow morning Mr. White will preach a sermon on a subject which is being discussed today, "spiritualism" or "can we communicate with the dead?" The public is cordially invited to the services.

AYDEN BOY IN TRAINING WITH BALTIMORE ORIOLES

Edward Brown, Ayden boy, who season before last pitched for Williams in the Eastern Carolina League, is in training with the Baltimore Orioles at Winston Salem. Greenville Rotarians who attended the convention at Winston Salem, had an opportunity of talking with Brown, who said he was coming back down this way this season if he failed to make good with the "big boys." Brown is a southpaw of no little ability and will make a big showing in this league this season, in event he should come.

FIRST TRIANGULAR DEBATE SCHEDULED FOR CITY FRIDAY

Kinston Negative Team to Appear Against Affirmative Team Here

NEGATIVE TEAM OF GREENVILLE TO GO FOR TARBORO SCALP

Edward Wilkinson and Robert Wright to Represent Affirmative Side Here

The first triangular debate of the season will be held at the high school building in this city Friday night at eight o'clock between a negative team from Kinston and a Greenville affirmative. The Greenville negative team will debate at Tarboro the same night, while the Tarboro negative will be in Kinston.

The query to be debated during the evening will be "Resolved, That the United States Should Enter the League of Nations." The Greenville affirmative will be represented by Edward Wilkinson and Robert Wright, and the Kinston negative by J. M. Mewborn, Jr. and Roy Dillabunt. The Greenville negative team which goes to Tarboro will be composed of Miss Mariam Shamhart and Williams Perkins.

Judges selected for the debate here are Attorneys Louis Gaylord and Albion Dunn and Rev. V. P. Scoville. The contest promises to be one of the most interesting staged in this city in sometime, as teams in each town have been well trained and are fully acquainted with the subject. Material for the debates was sent to high schools of the state by different government departments and senators, and it is believed every town will hear arguments superior to anything ever heard before.

Each high school team has been working diligently, and it is probable the clash here with Kinston will be one of the most brilliant in Eastern Carolina. The public is urged to attend in large numbers and get an idea of the kind of coaching which the young speakers have had this year.

DR. BEN EDWARDS TO BEGIN REVIVAL AT CHRIST CHURCH

Series of Revival Services To In Local Church Sunday, April Second

DR. BEN EDWARDS TO BEGIN REVIVAL AT CHRIST CHURCH

Series of Revival Services To In Local Church Sunday, April Second

SONG SERVICES TO BE CONDUCTED BY MR. — MRS. POLLOCK

Minister and Song Leaders Appeared at Last Revival OF Christians Here

Dr. Ben M. Edwards, of Texas, who conducted a series of services at the Christian church here last year, will begin another revival at the local church Sunday, April 2nd, according to an announcement made this morning. Song services will be under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Pollock, who were in Greenville last year with Dr. Edwards. The revival will extend throughout the month of April, according to present plans, and preparations for the services will be conducted on an elaborate plan.

Dr. Edwards at the present time is conducting a revival in Pensacola, Fla., and is meeting with great success. He will be remembered favorably by church members in Greenville who heard him last year. His masterful sermons had a great impression on the public, and resulted in the saving of many souls.

The singing of the Psalms will be remembered also as the song services conducted by them were largely responsible for success of the revival. Mr. and Mrs. Pollock have splendidly trained voices, and singing is conducted by them in a most spirited manner.

Dr. Edwards has been considerable experience as a revival leader, and will no doubt bring many new messages to Greenville this year. He has a forceful delivery and especially magnetic personality that figure large in the success of the services which he has conducted in all parts of the South.

AYDEN RED CROSS IS INTERESTED IN VOCATIONAL WORK

Farmville Children also Taking Much Interest in Work Now in Progress

There has been much interest shown by the students of the Farmville and Ayden High Schools in the Vocational guidance course run by Junior Red Cross in their respective schools. Miss Maude Lee, chairman of Junior work, had a most enthusiastic report from Mildred Bynum, secretary of the Farmville Juniors, telling her of the interest everyone had shown in the numbers of different talks given by persons, prominent in their profession. It is the hope of all interested in and helping with this course that the boys and girls will become more interested in a definite employment, trade or profession for their future.

Tomorrow morning Mr. D. J. Whichard will give a twenty-minute talk in Farmville on "Editor and Author" as a profession. In Ayden, Mr. John Coward will give a twenty-minute talk at the High School on "Merchant as a Profession." These talks have been given every Friday morning in Farmville, and as the Juniors have not been organized as long in Ayden, they are having their talks on Tuesdays and Fridays of each week.

THURSDAY March 23rd 1922

A woman mayor of a far off town in this country has come to the conclusion that bootlegging is like a lingering illness. She might also have said it is a sure death in many instances.

President Harding says he feels like he has been president forty years. And there are some who feel the same way, especially the several thousands out of employment and and those suffering from business depression.

That "building boom" foreseen by the department of commerce won't come any too soon, according to the thousands who have been forced to live in congested quarters the past several months. The boom should do much towards relieving unemployment existing in many parts of the country, and produce a feeling of contentment among those so fortunate to own one of these homes. The future of this country is largely depending upon the home owners, and ever time a house gets up the country is benefited.

That Greenville Rotarians who left yesterday afternoon for the Winston-Salem convention will give a good account of themselves goes without saying. Greenville and Farmville are the most prominent clubs in the country, in that Greenville is the only city so far known to own a Rotary building and Farmville is the smallest town to have a Rotary club. This is an unique distinction and should give Pitt county members more than ordinary prominence at the district convention.

It is gratifying to note that Tarboro is in favor of entering the Eastern Carolina league as this makes it possible for Washington's participation. It would be a matter of genuine regret to all baseball lovers of this section if Washington should fail to get a berth, and for that reason if not other everyone is hoping Tarboro will decide to enter the league when satisfied things will be run according to their idea. This is fair enough. Every town is desirous of playing fair, and if Tarboro can present any way of eliminating contention and disputes everyone will approve the action. What we all want is good baseball, and if Tarboro will come on in they may be assured of receiving the same consideration accorded all towns.

Judge Cramer will be in Pitt county during the next two weeks and we may expect to hear of him in court circles. He is undoubtedly one of the ablest jurists that has ever visited this community and always manages to give a good account of himself. Criminals fear him, and they have a right to. He believes in strict enforcement of the law regardless of person, and this fearless position has had a great effect on that element always ready to disobey or defy the law. Pitt county will be much better off by having had Judge Cramer preside over its court. If he could stay with us all the time the congested dockets would be relieved to a great extent in the near future.

The "Live at Home" campaign got well under way in Pitt county yesterday when speakers carried messages into many communities. The campaign should be of great benefit to the farmer, and if he listens to advice of speakers the future will be brighter than in years. Production of foodstuffs, such as Pitt county farmers has been purchasing from stores in past years, would certainly produce better conditions locally. If the farmer didn't have to buy these things he could save enormous sums of money annually. There is much uncultivated land in the county that could be devoted to such crops and if, instead of producing so much tobacco the farmer should diversify, conditions ought to be much better than ever before. This is a time when an experiment in diversification would no doubt be a paying proposition, and the farmer that gives it a trial will come out at the big end of the horn.

COMMENCEMENT DAY HERE.

Pitt county people should prepare to attend the county school commencement in large numbers here April 3rd, as it is an event in which everyone should be intensely interested. The program is such that it readily attracts a spirit of competition among all school children, and has a tendency of producing great interest in their work.

The literary contest will bring out the best in the school children and inspire them to take more interest in composition throughout the entire school term. The athletic contests will engender a more active interest in physical development, and probably cause each school to more thoroughly prepare itself for the next commencement day exercises.

The coming of Governor Cameron Morrison will also help to make the day of greater value to our people. That he will come prepared to deliver a great message is assured. He is well informed concerning things necessary to the development of our community, and should prove an inspiration to the three thousand school children to be here that day.

The Rotary club is to be congratulated upon the ambitious program. It is one of the most worthy causes the county has taken in many a day, and results should be most favorable and pleasing. The Kiwanis club is also to be commended to that of the Rotarians, Kiwanis members are doing their bit and will be rewarded by the greatness of the day.

Pitt county people are urged to turn out in large numbers and see what the schools are capable of doing in a literary and athletic way. County commencement should be made a yearly occurrence. Through it a better understanding will be established between the various schools, and this in turn should produce a better system. Let's make the day truly one of the greatest in the county's history.

A SERIOUS SITUATION.

The public isn't in sympathy with the miners preparing to walk out on a protracted strike, and it is hoped they will be impressed with the fact before the strike is called. Mine workers have earned handsome wages for the kind of work they do, and it is inconceivable why they should decide to strike because they have been refused a desired increase. Conditions are entirely different from two years ago. Prices for almost all commodities have declined, and everyone is able to buy at greatly reduced prices. Foodstuffs not only have been affected by the change. Clothing and other wearing apparel have dropped in proportion to other things, and the average person can live on much less than formerly.

With such conditions in evidence it cannot be understood why the miners demand increased wages. Is it because of an inordinate desire to satisfy the union heads, or themselves? It cannot be because anyone is suffering from effects of low wages. If anything the miners are enjoying greater prosperity than any other set of workmen, and can offer no excuse for walking out and subjecting the country to such industrial disruption.

It is to be hoped the strike will be considered seriously from every angle before the walkout becomes actuality. The government should demand this, and even go so far as to even intervene in case this becomes necessary.

BACK TO THE OLD DAYS.

I am thankful to our inventors for their marvelous achievements in the physical sciences, but regardless of them I would be willing to turn the clock back.

I'd turn it back to about the time of the Florodora Sextette, who when all sang: "Tell me pretty maiden, are there any more at home like you?" Back when even the theatre linked up girlhood with home life. Back when girls on the stage in knee dresses were considered bold.

I'd turn the clock back to the day when women were virtuous because it was right and men told the truth for the same reason; when a young man could be a dead game sport with a good horse and buggy and a pair of silk sleeve supporters.

Back to the day when even the supreme court judges respected the constitution, when intellectual giants sat in the U. S. Senate and chewed new ground tobacco and considered it high treason to flout the faith of the fathers; back to the time when a copy of "From the Ball Room to Hell" could be bought for a quarter on any R. R. train; back when wages were not very high but a green trading stamp would buy more than a dollar will buy today; when everybody knew the words to the "Star Spangled Banner" and "How Firm a Foundation."

I'd turn the clock back to the time when twelve year old girls knew less about sex matters than their grandmothers did; when women raised more babies and less hell, and lived and died without hearing of such things as the modern trick marriage.

I'd turn the clock to the time when statesmen conducted the country's political affairs, and the preachers were content to tell the sweetest story that ever graced the scrolls of song or poetry.

And when I got the clock turned back to that time, I'd explode a stick of dynamite under it.

SAYS MONEY IS NOT A MEASURE OF OUR SUCCESS

Chicago Banker Asserts That Measure of Achievement Is Better Guide

(By International News).
Chicago.—Success is not to be reckoned wholly in dollars and cents, John J. Mitchell, veteran banker, declared in an interview recently. "Broadly speaking, the measure of a man's success is the proportion in which he has been of value to the world and his fellow men and women during his lifetime," said Mitchell, who is regarded as a highly-successful man. He is chairman of the board of directors of the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank and the Merchants' Loan-Trust group of banks.

Mitchell said that success "measured by the modern yardstick" is generally accepted to mean the amount of money or material wealth that a person accumulates during a lifetime. Most of the articles he had read treated the subject of success from that viewpoint, he stated. "This is not remarkable in view of the times we live in," Mr Mitchell commented. "But I can see that the mere question of making money does not define success in the broadest sense. "Success to any means the greatest achievement possible to him in the line of endeavor for which he is best fitted. Now, some men are not fitted to make money and should they choose that path they probably would meet only a very moderate degree of success, if any."

Mitchell said he would advise young men who might want advice on success to first study themselves and find out the line of work to which they are best fitted. Men succeed best in what they like most to do," the banker continued. "Education, of course, is a big factor—in fact, one of the strongest foundations for success in life. "Once the question of a young man's life work is decided he should take up the work itself and pursue it perseveringly from the beginning. Superficial effort in any direction is bound to meet with failure or at most mediocre success." Mitchell added that a man must be logical "and have himself in hand at all times." Also, he must have self-control, or he will not be able to control others. And, above all, he must not forget that to win success he must work—and work hard.

"LISTEN TO ME" TO PLAY GREENVILLE FRIDAY EVENING

Beautiful Settings and Costumes Feature Plaza Show At White's Theatre

By EVE ALSMAN. If Hades is anything like the picture of it given in the first act of "Listen to Me," presented at the Plaza theater Monday night the region made famous by Dante and Billy Sunday may not be such a bad place after all.

For the entire show, from the first scene on the top of Times Square, overlooking New York city, through Hell, on down to Bon Bon land, was a series of beautiful pictures. Lovely girls in more beautiful than the ordinary costumes, unusual settings and splendid light effect make the pictures possible.

Devils Sweeter Than— The land of devils was more attractive than the kingdom of Bon-Bons, but the North Pole scenes were the most beautiful of all "Queen of the Northern Lights," with Aurora as the central figure and the girls of the company in semi-costumes of white, fur-trimmed, was the loveliest number of the loveliest scene. The sleigh bell ballet as the finale was unusual.

Impersonations of prominent movie stars, with some new jokes was a feature of the first act. Mary Doug and Theda were played by leading members of the cast.

The "Kewpie Kandy Doll" number was clever, with all girls of the chorus dressed in costumes of crepe paper. A little dance by Barbara Bronnell ended the scene.

Billy Read This Review Too. Clever comedy lines were put across by Billy Moore, as Snowball who carried the plot of the comedy. He can dance, has a fair voice, and is a good partner for Billy Murray who helps him with the plot and lines. Barbara Bronnell is a clever little dancer, and Bessie Delmore, as the girl comedian and eccentric dancer, is hard to beat.

But the effect of a series of lovely pictures is the lasting impression the show makes.—St. Petersburg Times.

"Listen to Me" will be presented in this city at White's Theatre, on Friday evening March 24th.

WIFE CHARGES HUSBAND OFFERED HER FOR SALE TO POET FOR ONLY $10,000

(By International News).
Newark, N. J., March 17.—Pretty and petulant Mrs. Emma Popovice encountered a "squall" on the sea of matrimony. And a poet is the cause of it all.
John Popovice, her husband, offered her for sale, she alleges in a petition for separate maintenance filed here. A poet was the prospective buyer.
"John has been cruel to me ever since we were married," declares Mrs. Popovice. "He struck me, pinched me and called me names. I am suing for separate maintenance because he tried to sell me for $10,000."
But John Popovice has his version of the affair.
"I didn't offer her for sale," he asserts. "I told the man he owed me $10,000 for stealing my wife's love away from me. He wrote her love letters and poetry. I have a pocketful of them."
"I'll say that I have been a gentle, loving and forgiving husband."
"That Woman's Slave."
"I was that woman's slave. I washed the clothes and scrubbed the kitchen. In fact, I did all the work of the house. I never let her go out in the rain or snow. Believe me, I was good to that woman. She knows nothing of cooking, so I did the cooking for the family, too."

But Mrs. Popovice said she, too was an excellent cook, though her husband had not manifested any interest in her culinary skill when he was courting her. Popovice, in Hungary, where he was born, she said was content with goulash and other native dishes, which she cooked well, but since he came to America she said, he had pursued strange, exotic and extraordinary forms of foods, and she was unable to satisfy his appetite for them.
Popovice retorted:
"I'm not hard to suit any time, but she cannot cook in Hungarian or any other style. But that isn't the cause of our troubles. The trouble is this poet fellow and his poetry—it was terrible poetry, and the love business was bad, too."

TEXAS DAREDEVIL MAY CLIMB EIFFEL TOWER

Paris, March 18.—Unless William Strother, of Houston, Texas, succeeds in pulling various political and other strings he is likely to find his attempt of scaling the Eiffel Tower about 1,000 feet high, on its outside framework nipped in the bud.
Strother, who came to Paris recently from New York, with a record of hair-raising stunts, believes he can get the necessary permits to scale the Eiffel Tower, providing he undertakes to do it in aid of a French war fund.
The authorities, however, will probably forbid such a stunt, considering it to be far too dangerous. Since a well-known parachutist was killed some years ago the tower guardians have refused to allow any stunts to be performed.
"Bill" Strother is well known in Greenville, having lived here several months. He is a native of this State and his many friends will be interested in his attempt to scale Eiffel Tower.

and not one day younger
As old as one feels is all very well for men. A woman is as old as she looks, but she can always look as young as her figure.
—and not one day younger
With the tremendous strides made in scientific corset designing it is now possible for women to keep their youthful figure lines over a far longer period than formerly. This may be done too without the hardship of rigid diet and severe exercise.
MODART CORSETS
Front Laced
Keeping one's figure today is largely a matter of good corseting—in brief the combination of a properly designed corset and expert fitting.
This latter service is given at its best by the experienced fitters in our corset section who are ably assisted in being able to make their selections from complete lines.
Our fitters find that the selection of the correctly designed Modart Corset in its proper model is more than often a potent factor in bringing back youthful lines.

BETHEL NEWS

(By special correspondent)

Bethel, N. C., Mar. 23.—Allen James Whitehurst, the three-year-old son of John Henry Whitehurst, who lives one and a half miles North of here, died yesterday morning and was buried here today.

The program put forward by the Pitt county chamber of commerce to emphasize the "Live at Home" idea, struck our town on schedule time yesterday. Mr. H. L. Smith, Secretary of the chamber of commerce, of Greenville, was in charge of the program, and after stating the plan of the county wide campaign and the aim and effort the chamber of commerce was putting for the to help the farming interest, introduced Dr. W. P. Shaubart, pastor of the Greenville Christian Church who spoke on the value of cooperative truck growing. Prof. Frank Shearman, of the Department of Agriculture, Raleigh, spoke on the threatening danger of the boll weevil and how to deal with them. The local men to address the audience were Mayor S. M. Jones, M. O. Blount and H. V. Staton. In a game of basket ball played on the local court yesterday between Bethel and Hassels, resulted in a complete walkover for the locals. The score being 38 to 5 in favor of Bethel.

ANOTHER MOVE IS MADE TO CUT DOWN SIZE OF CONGRESS

New York Republican Urges Size of Lower House Be Halved.

Washington.—Another attempt to cut the unwieldy size of the lower house of congress is before the national lawmakers. Representative John Clarke, New York Republican, believes that the 435 members in the house should be reduced to approximately one-half of Rhode Island, South Dakota, Utah that number, and in a bill he has now before the house he would have the reapportionment effective after the March 3 next, when the fourteenth house have been made in the past.

census will have been taken.

But, with the cut in membership, Representative Clarke would give those remaining a boost in salary contingent, however, on frequent responses to roll calls. Any member or delegate who neglects to "sign up" would be penalized $100 for each day's absence, except that presentation of a sworn affidavit from a physician that he or a member of his immediate family was ill, would void the penalty.

The Clarke bill fixes the compensation of the Speaker of the house at $15,000, a raise of $2,500 over present salary schedule. Under its terms members and delegates would receive $12,000 a year compared with the $7,500 now received by them.

Urges Action by States.

The measure would call on the Governors, secretaries of State and attorney-generals of the various states to reapportion congressional districts.

In the rather remote event that congress approves the Clarke legislation States hereafter would have the following representation in the house:

- New York, 22; Pennsylvania, 19; Illinois, 14; Ohio, 12; Texas, 10; Massachusetts and Michigan, 8; Missouri and California, 7; Georgia, Indiana, New Jersey, 6; Alabama, Iowa, Kentucky, Minnesota, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and Wisconsin, 5; Arkansas, Oklahoma, 4; Connecticut, Kansas, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, South Carolina and West Virginia, 3; Colorado, Florida, Nebraska and Washington, 2; Arizona, Delaware, Idaho, Maine, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, 1; New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, reduced to approximately one-half of Vermont and Wyoming, 1 each. Numerous unsuccessful attempts reapportionment effective after the March 3 next, when the fourteenth house have been made in the past.

Says Manning is Wrong.

Parrale, N. C., March 23.—"I have noticed in several of our local papers under dates of March 18th and 19th that Prohibition Officer W. J. Manning has used Mack Little's name in connection with stills captured in Martin county last week," says F. S. Powell. "It is due little, this injustice should be retracted and the public must know that it is absolutely false. I consider it ridiculous and think it Mr. Manning's duty to retract his statement," continues Mr. Powell, which is as follows:

"In Martin county they captured two stills, a horse, a cart, two white men and a negro by the names of Lev. R. L. Taylor, Clarence Leggett, white, and Mack Little, colored. Robert McKell was at the still at the time of the raid, but made his escape. A warrant was immediately issued for his arrest. Taylor and Leggett and Little gave bond at a preliminary hearing during the week, etc."

We do not even know that the statement is true relative to the other two men, since Little's name was used erroneously or intentionally falsely. What we want is service and information that we can depend on from our prohibition officers and their local aids.

ANGLO-AMERICAN ACCORD IS TESTED BY THE RECENT ARMS SLASHES

By GEORGE R. HOLMES, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Washington.—John Bull and your Uncle Samuel, who came out of the recent armament conference standing more nearly shoulder to shoulder than ever before in history, apparently have decided to test out this "hands across the sea" spirit and see if it is genuine.

Elimination of Anglo-American discord, which many international observers hold to be the most important result achieved by the late armament conference, is to be reflected on both sides of the Atlantic by slashing cuts into the armies and navies of Britain and America that go much farther than ordered by the conference.

Singularly enough, the cuts are somewhat similar on both sides. Whether this is a coincidence, a happen-so, or whether it developed out of some of the numerous "conversations" between American and British statesmen in Washington during the last four months is a matter of conjecture. Nevertheless it's true.

The recent recommendation of the Lloyd George government to the House of Commons that the army be demobilized to the extent of 50,000 officers and men finds an almost exact parallel in Washington. The present strength of the American army is 150,000 officers and men. Congressional pruners are planning to cut the American army just that much—eliminate 5,000 officers through the agency of "plucking boards" and cut down the enlisted personnel to around 100,000.

The Lloyd George government recommended to the house of commons that 35,000 officers and men of the British navy be demobilized. This too, fits in almost exactly with congressional plans on this side of the water.

The present strength of the American navy is around 105,000 officers and men. Congress threatens to cut it to 75,000 men, a reduction of 30,000 as against the British cut of $35,000. Congressmen, with an eye to saving money, and an argument next November, assert that with the reduction in the number of ships already agreed to the navy does not need a larger personnel than 75,000.

Just Received Carload Fordson Tractors

LATEST MODEL
Price $395
F. O. B. Detroit

Late Spring cuts no ice with a Fordson. You can prepare your land in just a few days.
If you are behind with your farm, the Fordson Tractor will catch you up.

We have sold over 100 Fordson Tractors in Pitt County and every farmer is satisfied with his purchase. If you want one you have got to get it at once, they will be gone in a few days.

Mr. Farmer: Which Do You Prefer?

A Fordson Tractor plowing 6 to 8 acres per day 8 to 10 inches deep; discing and dragging 20 to 25 acres per day; operating on 20 gallons of kerosene and one quart of oil. It will do your hauling and belt work, costing absolutely nothing when idle. Or a team of mules that will plow one to two acres a day, four inches deep, discing three to four acres a day, drag three to four acres in another day; and take a long time to do your hauling; do no belt work and costing a lot to feed when idle. Take advantage of 37 years of continual experimenting to perfect a tractor that will do your work as it should be done.
