

GREENVILLE BUSINESS MEN PLEDGE TO SUPPORT TOBACCO INDUSTRY UNDER OPEN MARKET PLAN HERE NEXT SEASON

Support Assured at Enthusiastic Meeting Here Last Night

PUBLIC TO BE FULLY ENLIGHTENED AS TO WHAT WILL BE DONE

Industry Will Not Be Turned Over to The Co-operative Forces

At a mass meeting held in the court house last night it was definitely stated that the tobacco warehouses in Greenville would continue to operate for the sale of leaf tobacco as heretofore.

It was, also, stated that the tobacco warehouses would open next season on Tuesday August 8th, and that the opening day would start with triple sales which increases the facilities of this market 33-1-3 per cent as it has operated heretofore with only double sales.

The large re-handling plants located here are better equipped than ever to handle the offerings of the farmers, and every planter can be assured that no stone will be left unturned for the promotion of his welfare.

The business men of Greenville welcome the sale of tobacco here on any plan that the grower thinks best, they are determined that an "open market" shall be maintained for the benefit of those desiring to use it.

SENIOR PLAY WILL BE GREAT EVENT OF THIS SEASON

Girls Bending Every Effort Towards Making it a Splendid Success

The senior class of East Carolina Teachers College are bending every effort towards making their play the best Senior Play that has ever been given in the college.

There have been beautiful romantic plays, spectacular plays, three Shakespearean plays, comedies, costume plays that have brought the past back to life, and operas. They searched long and hard for the play that seemed to be just the very thing for this year, the one that would be fine enough to keep up to the literary standard, that would be humorous, and that would be beautiful and would require attractive costumes.

"The Merchant Gentleman," by Moliere, is the happy choice of the class. It is full of farcical situations, the lines are fine with a lot of wit and fun, and the costumes are rich and magnificent. A few leading characters stand out, and there are enough background characters to make fine effects.

TERRIBLE SITUATION PREVAILS IN IRELAND

London, April 7.—Chaos in Ireland is beyond anything the public can possibly imagine, said a Dublin patch received this morning. Michael Collins is helpless and has few supporters. In fact he is besieged in Dublin. It is anticipated a republic will be proclaimed in Ireland in a few weeks.

A few women can drive cars but the majority sit at the steering wheel and are taken care of by a kind fate. —Jacksonville, Fla., Metropolis.

PRINTER CHIEFS ASK HARDING WHY THEY WERE FIRED

Chiefs of the Government printing office at Washington called at the White House to ask President Harding why he discharged them. Thirty-two men were let out "for the good of the service," the President explained. Senator Caraway, Arkansas Democrat, assailed the President for his action in a speech to the Senate. He asserted that the Chief Executive acted without legal authority in discharging the men. The first man on the left is James W. Wilmeth, deposed director of the Government printing plant.

BARKER DELIVERS INITIAL ADDRESS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Noted Lecturer Pleases Audience; To Speak at School Again Tonight

Dr. Charles Barker the noted lecturer from Grand Rapids Michigan spoke to the high school and general public at the high school auditorium this morning at ten thirty. He spoke for more than an hour and it is a tribute to his ability as a speaker that he held that audience in the hollow of his hand. He had the rapt attention of every boy and girl, large or small in that audience. His address was one of timeliness and frankness with the most vital things of life.

His general theme was "success" and he told the boys and girls that success was based upon the maxims that President Garfield once laid down before a high school audience, namely, a strong arm, a clear brain and a brave heart. He drove home the fact that any boy or girl can develop a strong body although a weakling to start with, using as proof of his statement the life of the late Theodore Roosevelt. In treating the second point he told them what it meant to be educated. He took Huxley's definition of education which states that education is training the mind and the will to do the right thing when it ought to be done whether one wants to do it or not.

His remarks along that line were especially noteworthy causing his audience to respond in no uncertain manner. In dealing with the last essential of success, the brave heart, he stated that full proof of the brave heart shows itself in the ability to say "no" immediately to things that will tend to pull down. He then proceeded to speak very frankly about conditions that exist today among high school boys and girls as regards familiarity between the sexes. His treatment of the subject was of such a high order that it was noticeable that among the whole audience there was not a single boy or girl who did not take what he was saying in the very best possible manner. In fact it was apparent that his remarks went home to the hearts of his listeners. At the conclusion of the lecture a great number of the boys and girls came forward and shook Dr. Barker's hand, and thanked him for what he had said.

Just before the lecture began, Supt. Rose announced that monogram sweaters would be presented to the fifteen boys who had made the football and basketball teams. Coach Duncan called their names and the boys came to the platform. Supt. Rose then called upon Dr. Barker to say a few words to the team which he did in a most effectual manner. The sweaters were then awarded amid rounds of applause from the student body. Following that there was given a cheer for the work that Mr. Duncan had done for the team. The people of the town made it possible to present these sweaters to the team in that they gave the Athletic association enough money to purchase them.

Tonight Dr. Barker will speak at the high school auditorium to the men and older boys.

PROPOSES STRIKE DISEASE

Washington, April 7.—Remedy for the "strike disease" coal industry lies in the creation of a temporary federal commission from which should result permanent facts and findings of the commission with supervisory powers over the industry, John Rophy, miners' leader testified before the house committee today. Rophy said such a commission would compel reorganization of the coal industry, eliminate recurrent strikes and greatly benefit the public.

GREATER INTEREST IS MANIFESTED IN REVIVAL SERVICES

Splendid Crowd Attended Services at the Christian Church Last Night

DR. EDWARDS AGAIN DELIVERED SERMON FILLED WITH TRUTH

No Services Will be Held Saturday Night, But Sunday Will be Full Day

Notwithstanding that there were several other meetings of importance in the city last night an enthusiastic audience greeted Dr. Edwards, the evangelist at the Christian church. The minister took as his text the first verse of the twelfth chapter of Roman. "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God, which is your spiritual service."

The Evangelist said in part: "The author of this verse evidently had in mind the form and custom of the Jewish worship. The people were commanded to bring their sacrifices, consisting of the blood of bulls, goats, and sheep, to the Priest and there upon the altar atonement for sins were made. In many cases the people were willing to give gladly of their substances, and yet with hold the most acceptable gift, the giving of themselves. This question had been raised in the early church and Paul the great Apostle was thru the text of the evening is making a strong plea for the choicest of all gifts, the surrendering of one self the will of Christ. In other words, Paul is urging the early Disciples to present themselves a living sacrifice unto God.

The Evangelist said "it is more difficult to get men to live for a principle than it is to get them to die for that same principle. Men were willing to die upon the battlefield during the great war for principle, righteousness and God, but some of the same fellows turn a deaf ear to that same call when you ask them to live for the same great high principles. Men are willing to die upon the threshold of home for those whom they love to protect them from approaching danger, yet those same men will by their living bring reproach and dishonor, to their own homes. I am not so much concerned about getting a man ready to die as I am concerned about getting him ready to live. I know if he is ready to live he will be ready to die every time. A lot of fellows are greatly concerned about having Jesus with them at the end of the way, but the best way to have the assurance that He will be with you at the end of the way is to have Him with you all the way.

At this point Dr. Edwards told one or two gripping and interesting stories of the heroic service and sacrifice of our lads over seas. One young man who had lost both his legs replied when friends said, "Why, George, you have lost your legs!" "No," Was the reply, "I have not lost them, I gave them; I offered my life, but I only gave my legs."

The congregational singing was better than usual under the leadership of Mr. Pollock. The special message of song was very effective and try, eliminate recurrent strikes and greatly benefit the public. Services begin tonight promptly at 7:45.

MOVE TO RESTRICT GERMAN AIR FORCE NOW UNDER WAY

Treaty Limitation Expires in Few Weeks, So Allies Are on Guard

By FRANK E. MASON, International News Service Staff Correspondent

Paris, April 7.—French and British military and air authorities are holding informal conversations regarding the new steps which they affirm must be taken to prevent Germany from the development of a fleet of airplanes. According to the treaty of Versailles the restrictions placed upon German airplanes and airship building expire May 5, 1922.

"It is certainly not in the least reassuring that on the fifth of May Germany recovers the right to build airships in whatever quantity pleases her so long as it is of aeronautic material classed as commercial, and to export and import the ships and material freely," declares the Echo de Paris, which goes on to demand that immediate steps be taken to prevent this danger occurring.

"The allies have not yet been able to agree, either upon the method of permanent control to be maintained in Germany, nor upon the definitions of commercial and war material, nor upon the technical restrictions to be placed on the building to prevent all possibility of the airplanes ever being converted into war machines. Regulations must be made for all probable or possible industrial progress in this field. The French government should realize the worry which this situation creates and the impatience with which the country awaits decisions which will assure absolute guarantees.

AMERICA RAPIDLY RECOVERING FROM PAST DEPRESSION

Nation Throwing Off Shackles Of Depression of Past Several Months

(By International News). Washington, April 7.—Slowly but surely business in the United States is throwing off the shackles of depression which have engulfed it since the termination of the war.

This was indicated in the March industrial survey made by the United States employment service. Fourteen of the hundred and twenty-eight firms, each employing more five hundred people, had thirty-nine thousand, five hundred and fifty-eight more on their payrolls than on February the twenty-eighth of last year.

The early worm gets the fish hook.

7:45. No service Saturday night. The members and friends of the church are especially urged to help make Sunday services a high water mark in the history of the church. They are asked to help do this by being present at the Bible school at 9:45.

TOWN PURCHASES STUTZ FIRE TRUCK; SEWER DISCUSSED

Powerful Machine Purchased At Meeting of Aldermen Last Night

SEWER EXTENSION IS ALSO CONSIDERED DURING EVENING

Other Matters Pertaining To City's Business Disposed Of At Session

The purchase of a fire truck and discussion of plans for extending the sewerage system in the south and southwestern section of the city were among principal features of the regular monthly meeting of the board of aldermen held at the city hall last night. The meeting was probably the busiest held in months, and resulted in the disposition of a considerable volume of business.

The purchase of a Stutz fire truck was authorized following report of a committee appointed sometime ago to investigate the features of this and other make machines. The Stutz has the reputation of being one of the best machines on the market, and according to the committee's findings, is exactly what Greenville has been in need of.

The Stutz contains a triple combination pump, with capacity of 750 gallons per minute. It carries chemical, hose and ladders. The truck has a speed of from forty to fifty miles an hour. It is probably the most substantially built machine made, it is said, and will stand the most strenuous service.

The truck will arrive here within the next four weeks, it was stated last night, and after that time the local fire company will begin training to get accustomed to it.

The matter of extending the sewer system to south, southwest and southeast Greenville was considered following report of a survey made by H. L. Rivers, architect of this city. The survey was accepted by the board, but whether the sewer will be converted into a septic tank or carried to the main sewers was not determined. The program is one of the most ambitious considered by the board in years and will probably require sometime in definitely completing. Poll holders and registrars for the city primary were appointed, and will be announced at a later date.

Several other matters, including payment of accounts, were taken up during the evening and definitely disposed of.

CHARGES FRAUD AND CORRUPTION IN STATE CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION

Washington, April 7.—Fraud and corruption are so prevalent in elections for the eighth congressional district in North Carolina as to invalidate returns for 1920 and disqualify representative Robert Doughton for membership in the House, according to a minority report filed by Representative Cable, republican, of Ohio, member of the House elections committee. Cable contends James Campbell, republican, is entitled to the seat. The majority committee, however, report in favor of Doughton.

HARDING SCORED BY DEMOCRATS IN PARTISAN ATTACK

Democrats Flay President For Breaking Civil Service Regulations

(By International News). Washington, April 7.—Democratic senators made President Harding the target of a bitter partisan attack in the senate today when they renewed charges that he is personally responsible for alleged infractions of civil service regulations in sweeping Democrats out of office and replacing them with republicans.

Cautious criticisms were made by Senators Harrison, of Mississippi, Stanley of Kentucky and Caraway of Arkansas. Senator Harrison charged the president with plotting and conspiring to withhold from America people reasons for setting aside the civil service regulations that democrats might be thrown out of jobs.

EMPLOYES RETURN TO WORK IN ALABAMA COAL FIELDS TODAY

Birmingham, April 7.—Employees of the Garmey Coal company who responded to the national strike call by the miners' union have returned to work in the operators. Operators say the Alabama production this week will be three hundred thousand tons. The normal production of the mines is about three hundred and twenty-five thousand tons.

Delightful Supper Served by The Young Women of The School

MANY MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE TAKEN UP DURING NIGHT

Principal Address of the Evening Delivered by Professor Wright

Members of the Pitt county post of the American legion in regular monthly meeting last night were delightfully entertained at supper by Prof. R. H. Wright and the Teachers College in the dining room of the college last night. The meeting was largely attended, and proved a fitting observance of the fifth anniversary of America's entrance into the greatest war the world has ever known.

While members were gathering in the dining room a short song service was led by Prof. J. H. Ross. The meeting was called to order by Commander Grady G. Dixon, of Ayden, who called on John B. Carroll of Winterville to return thanks. While supper was being served members responded to an individual roll call, telling what they were and what they were.

After supper Dr. Dixon made a few brief remarks and called on Professor Wright for a word. Dr. Wright extended a hearty welcome in behalf of the school, and made an impressive talk regarding the American legion, what it should stand for and what a commanding factor it should be in the future.

He stated that the war in reality was not over, because the crucial time was not when the armies are facing each other on the battlefield, but when the fight is over and enemies set against each other and the results for which the war was waged and the men gave their lives, we must put our shoulders to the wheel (Continued on page four).

JAPANESE SEEK EQUAL RIGHTS WITH MONKS

"Pure Land" Buddhist Women Demand Reforms in Old Religious Ways

(By International News). Washington, D. C., April 7.—The nuns of Japan have become infected with the doctrine of equal rights for women.

Headed by 2,000 nuns of the Jodo-shu, or "Pure Land Sect" the religious women of the Buddhist faith throughout Japan have launched a campaign for similar treatment to that accorded to monks of the faith, with some additions on account of their sex.

During the present month at the gathering of the Jodo-shu, in Osaka and Kyoto, according to advice just received from Tokio, the nuns will formally present their demands. By most among these is their plea to be allowed to permit their hair to grow instead of shaving the head, as is now demanded by the ritual. Through out Japan Buddhist nuns are obliged to shave the head, to abstain from eating meat and to remain unmarried. Similar obligations were formerly requisite for monks, but of 150 years ago they have been disregarded.

"We are only human beings, and we experience the same feelings and emotions as other persons," says a memorial from the Jodo-shu women. "Why should we be forced to give up our hair and be shorn into the spiritual world, while the men priests are allowed to marry and eat meat and while other women enjoy matrimony?"

Friday, April 7th, 1922

The Harris bill providing for issuance of cotton crop reports passed the senate. It is gratifying to note the body is still capable of passing something.

Mr. Harding is carrying out the public desire for a change. In fact, so carefully is he following out the idea that he is trying to place new men in every government position. This may be his conception, but the boys he is firing have another idea of it.

The senate agricultural committee has approved the bill providing for an appropriation of seven million dollars for improvements at Muscle Shoals. Which means, we suppose, that Mr. Ford's offer has been side-tracked even before the Republican program got well developed.

Trotsky says people outside of Russia have an exaggerated idea of Russia's ill. If they didn't have we wonder how in the world all those starving people over there could have been furnished with food and supplies. Mr. Trotsky had better think his stars the public is capable of getting things exaggerated occasionally.

Parents of the county should make an effort to co-operate with the department of education in its attempt to improve educational conditions. The future is to be largely determined by the training our children receive in school, and the most careful attention should be given the matter. The county body is doing everything possible to improve our system, but can't possibly do so without the earnest co-operation of appreciative people.

The chamber of commerce is planning to begin a clean-up campaign in the near future and in a few days will begin a publicity campaign urging the public to co-operate in every way possible. Such campaigns are vitally necessary to the health and progress of every community, but cannot be made the great success desired unless receiving public attention. Be on the lookout for the date, and do your part in cleaning up the city for the summer months.

Looks like President Harding has started something he can't stop in firing so many members in the department of engraving. Secretary Mellon evidently doesn't like the attention directed to his department and stands ready to offer his resignation the moment the trouble hunters begin prying into his business. The president's effort to "do everything for the good of the country" seems to be overdoing it for the country.

The county commissioners are doing the right thing in reconsidering their refusal to make certain improvements in the sidewalks around the courthouse. These improvements would add much to the looks of the grounds, and increase the value of the property. The building doesn't show up to the best advantage now, but with the lawn rolled down to the pavement and re-turfed its appearance would be decidedly more pleasing.

The Greenville fire department is probably in greater need of improvement than any other department in the state for the size of the town. Our one truck is incapable of fulfilling the demands of a large fire, and the sooner it is replaced by more complete equipment the better property owners will feel about the safety of their belongings. The purchase of modern equipment is very necessary, and the sooner this is done the better off everyone will be.

Greenville extends a cordial welcome to Dr. Barker, who is to lecture here today as a guest of the Rotary Club. The organization was very fortunate in securing the services of such a well known and distinguished orator, and the public should turn out in large numbers. Dr. Barker was personal physician to former President William Howard Taft, who left the White House in the best physical condition of any president in history. This is quite a distinction, and one which the eminent medical student should be proud of.

The senate may be right in believing that no private individual or corporation should get control of Muscle Shoals but will never convince the public that Henry Ford can't do more with the project than all the experts the government can possibly bring together. Mr. Ford is one of the greatest business men the country has ever produced, and if he can't do anything with Muscle Shoals then it's a dead cinch the government hasn't an expert that can. The proposition is a great one, and deserves the best the country has, especially since a million can be provided employment if the plant is properly operated.

Details to scrap the ships condemned by decree of the armament conference held at Washington recently have been completed, according to an announcement made public by officials having the work in charge. And after they have decided the question, they admit industry will be hard hit by destruction of the property. The government should have disposed of the ships in some other way. It's a shame to literally destruct that which millions of dollars were necessary to provide. Appropriations for these ships probably caused the country to be depressed to a greater extent than under ordinary circumstances, and it is nothing but a shame to waste our resources in such fashion.

Edward J. Evans, vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Electric workers, charges Henry Ford with conferring a curse on the working people of America by the use of certain principles in the operation of his great automobile industry. This may be Mr. Evans' feeling about it, but he will have a hard time getting the public to believe Mr. Ford has done anything contrary to sound business. In fact if other manufacturers had as much consideration for the general welfare of their workmen as the Detroit manufacturer industry would be conducted upon a much higher plane. He has many enemies, however, who would gladly disparage his commendable effort. This is the way with all men trying to render service to mankind. They strive to do right, but are eternally handicapped by selfish impulses of narrow-minded, biased individuals, who would be much better off by looking after their own business.

MEMBERS OF AMERICAN LEGION ENTERTAINED BY PROF. R. H. WRIGHT

(Continued from page one.) During this great period of readjustment and turn that wheel in the direction it should go. It is up to the legion and these men who are part of a legion to shape the destinies not only of Greenville and Pitt county, but the entire world. We can't stand still during this period of readjustment, we must either go forward or backwards, he declared. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, after which a report of the various committees were rendered. Following the report of the Legion ward at Oteen a voluntary contribution amounting to $35 was taken. This money will be sent to the ward at Oteen in time for Easter. Anyone desiring to contribute to this fund, it was stated, is urged to get in touch with J. C. Lanier immediately.

It was decided that for a period of sixty days, beginning today, the legion is to put on a membership drive, the slogan to be "every member get a member." Final reports of this campaign will be presented at a second meeting to be held in June when suitable prizes will be awarded to three members of the campaign making the best record.

Charles T. Munford the third, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Munford, Jr., of this city, being ineligible for membership, was unanimously selected as mascot of the Pitt county post. Charles is the only child in Pitt county who is entitled to membership in the legion, as both his parents are members of the organization.

J. C. Lanier tendered his resignation as vice-president of the local post in keeping with the constitution of the national organization which provides that no member seeking political office can hold office in the Legion. J. R. Carroll of Winterville, was unanimously elected as successor to the retiring officer. It was decided that the legion should put on a minstrel of local talent in the near future and committees were appointed to make arrangements for same.

Brief talks and announcements by various members were following by song and moment of prayer for the boys who fell over there. A rising vote of thanks was extended to Professor Wright and the young women who assisted him for the delightful entertainment, after which adjournment was in progress.

JAPS NUNS SEEK EQUAL RIGHTS WITH MONKS

their lot and demanded reforms, but they were silenced, mainly because of their lack of organization, they assert. Now that the movement has spread to other sets of the Buddhist faith, and the fighting spirit of the women has become thoroughly aroused, they believe their attempts will be more successful.

Many other discriminations in favor of male members of the faith are charged by the women. They contend that the general tendency to regard nuns as inferior to monks is unfair inasmuch as all are in the service of Lord Buddha. Nuns, they assert, are not allowed to officiate at funerals, are forbidden to sit in the main part of the temple during Buddhist ceremonies and in short, have been reduced to serving merely as messengers or flunkies for the priests.

Found Seven Rats Dead in Bin Next Morning.

Robert Woodruff says: "My premises were infested with rats. I tried RAT-SNAP on friend's recommendation. Next morning found seven dead rats in bin, two near feed box, three in stall. Found large number since. No smell from dead rats—RAT-SNAP does them up. Best thing I have ever used." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25.

Sold and guaranteed by Warren Drug store, Blount-Harvey Co., both of Greenville, and J. R. Bunting & Sons, of Bethel.
