

AMERICAN LEGION WOMEN DISCUSS FUTURE PROBLEMS

Pitt County Auxiliary in Splendid Session Saturday Afternoon

BARTLETT SPEAKS ON NECESSITY OF WOMEN'S ACTIVITY

Reports of Various Committees Show Excellent Progress By Everyone

(Reported for the Reflector)
The meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion, Pitt County Post No. 39, Saturday, April 15th, was largely attended by out of town members as well as Greenville people.

Mrs. J. B. Kittrell, chairman, opened the meeting at three-thirty. Mrs. H. E. Austin led in prayer.

Mr. Smith, secretary of the Pitt county chamber of commerce, introduced Mr. N. G. Bartlett, vice-president and manager of the Eastern Carolina chamber of commerce, and who was the main speaker of the day. He spoke on organization and the great need for the Woman's Auxiliary at the present time, and the necessity of getting good leaders.

Mr. Bartlett said that after the hand stopped playing and the boys got home we were more than apt to stop right there and let things go as they will, instead of doing something to keep the memories of the great boys alive in our minds. It generally falls on the ladies to keep this movement going. It was a lady long time ago after the Civil War that started Memorial Day in the South, a woman in Columbus, Ga. The women fell heir to do these things, as a man forgets as women don't. There were so many that wouldn't do one thing toward war work during our great World War.

Report of Mrs. Chas. O'H. Laughinghouse, the temporary secretary, was read which was very inspiring. And although we are very young in the work yet the members are up and going, for there was packed ten very attractive boxes and sent to the soldiers at Greenville, S. C., to help cheer the boys up for Easter.

Report of the Publicity committee was read and members gave a vote of thanks for the co-operation of the Daily Reflector. Ella R. Renner, Reporter.

Social Committee Report. Miss Veina Martin, had a very delightful treat in store for those present, as punch and cake was served after the meeting. Miss Martin was assisted by Mrs. Spencer.

Last was the election of officers which was voted by ballot. Via.

Executive Committee: Mrs. Garlington of Bethel, Mrs. Morgan, of Farmville and Mrs. Carroll, of Winterville.

Mrs. Chas. O'H. Laughinghouse was elected President, and we all know there won't be any work left undone by Mrs. Laughinghouse as her heart is right with the American Legion.

Vice President, Mrs. H. E. Austin; Secretary, Mrs. J. B. Kittrell; Treasurer, Mrs. E. G. Joyner; Historian, Mrs. Bridgers; Chaplain, Mrs. Wiley Brown; Sergeant-at-Arms, Mrs. W. R. Jones.

Publicity, Ella R. Renner. Social committee, Miss Veina Martin.

The place and time of the next meeting will be determined by the Executive committee.

SEVERAL CASES HEARD IN POLICE COURT TODAY

The following cases were disposed of in this morning's session of police court: Luby Waters, drunk and disorderly conduct, fined $15 and cost of action; John Clark assault with deadly weapon, bound over to the next term of county court; Mark Bonds, drunk and disorderly conduct, fined $10 and cost of action; Heber Johnson drunk and disorderly conduct, fined $10 and cost of action; Allen Jones, trespass, fined $5 and cost of action; Alonzo Harris, charged with being drunk and disorderly, released upon payment of $10 and cost; John Clark, drunk and disorderly, fined $10 and cost.

POTTER'S STORE WRECKED BY FIRE SUNDAY MORNING

Loss Estimated at Approximately $12,000 With $4,000 Insurance

A. L. Potter's store, located on the outskirts of this city, was completely destroyed by fire Sunday morning about three-thirty o'clock, entailing loss to building and stock estimated at approximately $12,000 with only $4,000 insurance. It is believed the fire was started by robbers, but so far the police have been unable to establish this fact.

The fire was discovered by members of the family who live only a short distance from the store, who immediately telephoned the fire department. No general alarm was turned in, but the truck with several members of the department responded to the call hurriedly, and fought the flames effectively with chemicals. The store was on the outside of the fire limit, and hydrants were too far away to bring water into play.

The fire had gained such great headway by the time assistance arrived that efforts to save the building were futile. The fire department confined its effort to preventing other building from being destroyed.

Belief that the building was set afire by robbers resulted from the finding of a box of shirts, in the road a short distance from the store. A fresh automobile track leading to and from Greenville was also found by the police, who immediately searched nearby negro homes without definitely establishing any clue. Some goods were found in one of the houses but Mr. Potter was unable to identify the goods.

Police will continue the search, and bring the culprits to account if possible, it was stated this morning.

CAPITAL WRITERS WILL MEET IN GOLF TOURNEY

Washington.—Newspaper golfers of the capital, representing local and out-of-town papers, are tuning up their sticks preparatory to the annual turnout of the scribes for golfing honors.

Last year President Harding won four prize in the golf tourney of the newspaper men.

On May 25 the correspondents addicted to tees and putting will gather on the greens of a course near Washington, and, by process of elimination, a team to represent the capital city will be chosen to march forth and do battle with newspaper golfers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia. The intercity matches are tentatively scheduled to take place some time in June.

James D. Preston, superintendent of the Senate press gallery, has been selected to form the team of golfing scribes.

EASTER SERVICES AT CHRIST CHURCH GREATLY ENJOYED

Yesterday was one of the Greatest Days Since Beginning Of Services

Yesterday was one of the greatest days of the revival and the revival spirit was in evidence throughout the day, beginning at six o'clock in the morning and the concluding service last night at nine-forty. The eleven o'clock service was one of the most inspiring services of the day as was that at eight o'clock when Dr. Edwards delivered one of the greatest sermons of the entire series. The invitation was extended at all services; with exception of the early morning service and several came forward and pledged higher Christian life. The theme of every service was the "Risen Christ" and large crowd attending entered into the spirit of the day in a particularly interesting way.

Dr. Edwards' sermon last night was considered the most powerful of the entire series. In this sermon he proved that Christ in reality arose and was not taken away by his Disciples, as some think.

The music under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Pollock, was one of the outstanding features of the day's services. Assisted by the splendid choir singers rendered probably the best program of the revival.

The revival will continue a week or ten days longer. Tonight the ordinance of baptism will be administered immediately after the evening services.

PRESIDING ELDER DELIVERS SERMON BEFORE TEACHERS

Rev. J. M. Daniels Delivered Fine Sermon to Students Yesterday

Rev. J. M. Daniel, presiding elder of the Wilmington District preached a strong sermon at East Carolina Teachers' College on Sunday evening.

He took the parable of the ten Virgins as a symbol of men and women meeting the tasks of life and being prepared or unprepared for them. His sermon was peculiarly appropriate for a body of young women who are just ready to enter upon life's work. He spoke especially of the opportunities and obligations resting upon womanhood today.

He said it is great to be young but greater to have the sense of being young; one never grows old in the service of God. The difference between young and old is the outlook—anticipation. He also said that men who do not anticipate happiness seldom find it. The tragedy of the world today is the lack of leaders. The next twenty-five years is to be a critical period of the age from home, church, and society is to be prepared for the tests. Anticipate for anticipations are a great part of life.

The members of the Y. W. C. A. appreciated Mr. Daniel's visit. He made a cross-country journey to Greenville after filling an appointment in Onslow on Sunday morning. He expressed his pleasure in being with us again.

Special Easter music was rendered by the choir with Miss Ruth Swinney playing the violin. Miss Annie Johnston also sang a solo.

Three marriage licenses have been issued by the register of deeds since the report of Saturday afternoon: W. B. Bridgers to Pearl Norville, both of the Fountain community; K. G. Smith to Leora Robye, both of the Ayden community.

Colored—Nathan May to Maggie Mills, both of the Winterville community.

REV. C. H. BASCOM IN SERMON BEFORE KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

Pastor of St. Paul's Church Delivered Powerful Sermon Yesterday

Easter services for members of Bethlehem Commandary, Knights Templar, were conducted at St. Paul's Episcopal church yesterday afternoon by Rev. C. H. Bascom, pastor of the church. The services were of a most inspiring nature and were largely attended by members of the order.

Members of the commandary, in full uniform, marched from the commandary building to the church where they filed in the building immediately preceded by the standard bearer. The services were opened by the song "Onward Christian Soldiers" after which the Lord's prayer was repeated.

The sermon that followed was of a very appropriate nature, dealing entirely with Easter, or the resurrection of the Lord. Mr. Bascom's sermon in its entirety follows:

Psalm 119:105. "Thy Word is a Lamp Unto My Feet and a Light Unto My Path."

Psalm 36:9. "For With Thee is the Fountain of Life and in Thy Light Shall we See Light."

Lord Lift Thou Up the Light of Thy Countenance Upon Us.

St. Matthew 28:9, 10. "And as they went to tell His Disciples, Behold Jesus Met Them, Saying, All Hail, and They Came and Held Him by the Feet, and Worshiped Him and then said Jesus Unto them, Be Not Afraid."

Very early in the morning, on the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary, had hastened to the Sepulcher, where they had seen their beloved Master's body laid on the dark evening of the Crucifixion. With hearts sad and heavy, they had waited as the long hours of the intervening Sabbath wore on, and then the moment the Sabbath rest was ended their preparations were made, and ere the first streaks of light in the eastern sky proclaimed the coming day, they had hurried to the Sepulcher, intent upon performing those loving offices for the dead, the approach of the Sabbath, and the lateness of the burial hour, had made impossible before. But lo the Sepulcher was empty—the body of Jesus was gone. And the Angel of the Resurrection greeted them with the strange, bewildering tidings, "He is not here." He is risen. Go your way, tell His Disciples. And when they had hurried away, filled with astonishment and doubt, hope struggling with fear within their breast Jesus Himself met them, saying, "All Hail."

Can you wonder, my brethren, that as they fall at the Saviour's Feet, clapping them in lowly worshipful of a new-found joy, their hearts are also full of fear? Do you wonder at it? Just think of all they had gone through during the last few days. They had been heart-broken witnesses of their Master's Crucifixion; they had heard that mighty cry with which the Saviour gave up the Ghost, amid rending rocks, and opening graves, and mighty shocks of earthquake. They had seen the lifeless body, torn and mangled, taken down from the cross, after the soldier's spear had made that gaping wound which proved that life had fled, and they had seen it, laid in the tomb. All this had happened but a very short time since, and every terrible detail of that awful time was branded upon their memories; and now the Crucified Lord stands before them in calm majesty; the voice they knew so well, and when in their "lowness of heart to believe" the Master's words, they had never hoped to hear again, speaks to them words of joyous salutation and re-assuring command, "All hail. Be not afraid."

And so the troubled, fearful hearts, are hushed and soothed. After the dark hours of stor and bitter conflict, there comes into their lives, "a great calm."

My brethren, may our risen Master shed abroad in our hearts that same peace and calm today. Easter has come bright with its sudden, startling joy. So bright, after the unearthly gloom of Good Friday, that our eyes (Continued on page three.)

BOY'S CLUB WORK IS GIVEN BOOST AT FARMVILLE TODAY

Chamber Members and Farm Agent Speak at School This Morning

That the club work in Pitt county is going to become a real factor in the community life, in the schools, was demonstrated this morning, when Secretary Smith of the Chamber of Commerce, County Agent Pace and Mr. Bartlett, manager of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce, visited the Bethel school, and presented the advantages of the club work. The entire chapel service was taken up by the speakers and a very careful attention was given to the explanation of the work.

Mr. H. L. Smith, of the Pitt county Chamber of Commerce, made a short speech which he emphasized the need for the boys and girls in the schools, getting into this work. His talk was well received and contained some splendid suggestions. Mr. Smith is quite active at this time, getting the children all over the county to take an interest in this line of work, which the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring, together with the county agent.

Mr. N. G. Bartlett, the newly elected manager of the Eastern North Carolina Chamber of Commerce, was introduced to the school and gave an interesting account of the club work that has been done in Georgia during the past several years. He showed how the boy and girl had been used to teach the parent, what can actually be done, by applying yourself to the task, in the way of raising poultry and hogs and in growing corn. Mr. Bartlett stated that there is a wonderful opportunity in Pitt county to develop some real good demonstrations, through the boys and girls. Mr. Bartlett also stated that in many instances in Georgia the girl had become the mistress of the home flock, after she had demonstrated to her mother that a standard bred hen is worth more than the common mongrels, and in this way, the few hens on the farm have been turned into flocks ranging from 100 hens up to 2,000 hens within eighteen months time. What has been done there can be done in Pitt county.

Mr. Pace the county agent then made a very interesting talk to the students along the line of club work. Mr. Pace gave many illustrations of how boys and girls had become real money makers through the club work. At the close of his talk, an invitation was given for those who wanted to join the various clubs to signify it by holding up their hands. It was estimated that at least thirty hands went up thus signifying that a good club will be formed at Bethel school, and good work may be expected. Another trip will be made to the school as soon as the cards are all in and the club will then be formally organized, with officers and will get down to actual work. Every school in the county should have at least one good live club, of some kind, and from all indications, now, this will be a reality within a very short time.

TWO MEN BADLY CUT BY NEGRO AT CARNIVAL GROUND

Negro's Face Also Beat Into Pulp by Furious Crowd of People

Ed Bright and Morton Mills, white men residing near Greenville, were painfully cut about the body in an affray with a negro man by the name of Wil Barrett at the carnival ground Saturday night about eleven o'clock. The negro was badly beaten by a mob that surrounded the men as soon as the fight began and probably would have been killed had not members of the police department quelled the disturbance a minute or so after it started.

The negro attacked the two men with a pocket knife, cutting Mills about the neck and under the shoulder. Bright was also painfully cut, but not as severely as Mills who caught most of the blows. The negro's face was beat into a pulp by the surging mob which quickly surrounded the party, and was in a semi-conscious state when taken by the police.

The fight is said to have started as result of the negro running into a white woman without apologizing. Mills and Bright, it is alleged, were standing near and saw Barrett as he ran into the woman. They are said to have demanded him to apologize, when he pulled a knife and began a vicious attack upon them.

While Mills is seriously injured, it is believed he will recover. Barrett was released under bond Saturday night for his appearance at the next term of county court.

ACADEMIC CLASS AT TEACHERS' COLLEGE PRESENTS PROGRAM

The first year Academic Class of East Carolina Teachers' College gave a delightful program at the assembly hour on Saturday morning. "Make friends with the stars" was the theme of the program. The 119 Psalm was read by Miss Teenie Mohore, president of the class. Misses Layla Perry, Blanche Sutton, and Mary Norwood explained the location of some of the leading constellations and gave legends. The hymns sung were suggestive of the topic. "Oh Thou Sublime Sweet Evening, Star" was sung by the class.

SKINNER BECOMES ACTIVE MEMBER OF CAROLINA GROWERS

HAS SEEN EXTENSIVE SERVICE IN TOBACCO INDUSTRY OF STATE

Has Been Connected With the Imperial Here for Sixteen Years or More

Mr. W. I. Skinner, formerly head of the Imperial Tobacco company of this city, has accepted a position with the Tobacco Growers Co-operative Marketing association, according to an announcement made public today by R. R. Patterson, general manager of the leaf department of the association of Richmond, Virginia.

Mr. Skinner is one of the best known tobaccoists in this section of the state. Beginning his career as a buyer with the J. M. Meadows at Oxford, N. C., when fifteen years of age, Mr. Skinner was later connected with E. S. Carlton & Company. He later went to Wilson with Richmond, Maury & Company, and sometime after that became connected with the Maxwell Tobacco Company following the death of Mr. Maury and remained with the company until the formation of the Imperial Tobacco Company in 1902.

For sixteen years Mr. Skinner has been branch manager for the Imperial at this place, and is said by Mr. Patterson to be an expert in the bright leaf tobacco business. He will go to the leaf department of the Tobacco Grower's Co-operative Marketing association, it was stated.

Mr. Skinner's change will be received with interest in all parts of the state, as his long connection with the Imperial here has thrown him in constant contact with members of the industry in all parts of the state.

EASTER OBSERVED BY ALL CHURCHES OF CITY SUNDAY

Special Programs Rendered at All Churches During Morning Services

Easter was quietly and appropriately observed in Greenville yesterday with services at all city churches. While the day was rather cloudy and cool large numbers of people attended services both morning and evening while others spent most of the day riding over Pitt county's splendid hard surfaced roads.

Morning services at all the churches were probably more largely attended than any single services in several weeks. Sermons and music were of a mighty appropriate nature, dealing entirely with the resurrection of our Lord which Easter commemorates. Music particularly was inspiring, each and every choir rendering special selections.

Special programs were rendered at the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, Memorial Baptist, Presbyterian, Immanuel Baptist, Eighth Street Christian, St. Paul's Episcopal, Catholic and the Free Will Baptist. Sunday school attendance at each church was also above the average, and the day generally was devoted entirely to an observance of the day.

The day was one of the pleasantest Greenville has seen in years, the entire population appearing to be in accord with the spirit of the occasion. Even the had element of the city seemed to be affected, and the police department had plenty of them for observing Easter also. The splendid program at the churches will be long remembered, as all sermons were of a particularly forceful and inspiring nature and carried to every heart the true spirit of the Resurrection.

It takes a girl with money to keep men awake.

NATION CELEBRATES FIFTIETH ARBOR DAY

The Golden Anniversary of Arbor Day, established 50 years ago in "treeless Nebraska," will be celebrated throughout the United States, April 22, the final day of "Forest Protection Week." Each State heretofore has set its own date for holding tree-planting exercises. This year, however being a notable anniversary of the custom started in Nebraska, President Harding, by proclamation, has asked all the States to observe the occasion on the day celebrated by the pioneer State where the idea originated in Nebraska in 1872 at the prompting of J. Sterling Morton, one-time Secretary of Agriculture. At first the date was April 10th but later the legislature changed it to April 22, Mr. Morton's birthday. More than a million trees were planted in the State on the first Arbor Day, and since then the idea has spread to practically the whole country. Nearly a billion trees have been planted in Nebraska since that day. In the sand-hills region of the State the Forest Service today has under way the greatest tree-planting project ever undertaken in this country. Some 5,000 acres of treeless grass land in the sand-hills have already been successfully reforested to pine by artificial planting.

SHEEP, RATHER THAN HOGS.

A subscriber wants to know which promises the best profit for the future—sheep or hogs. Far be it from me to pose as a prophet, but since he and many others are asking the question, I'll be brave enough to hazard an answer. Of course, some farms are naturally adapted to sheep, and others to hogs; but leaving this out of the question, I think after the present year the mutton and wool producer will beat the pork producer.

For why? You remember the old nursery rhyme, Sheep and a hog, going to the pasture. Sheep says, "hog, can's you go a little faster?" Just now it is the price that urges the hog to go faster, and in the nature of things you may expect an over-production of pork and lard, and a consequent lowering of price, within a year or two. This may not happen, but it is reasonable to expect it. On the other hand, it's reasonable to hope that sheep will be worth the money for a long time to come. If you believe in figures, consider these: On January 1, 1912, there were 52,362,000 sheep on farms in this country; same date 1922, 3,048,000—government estimates.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC IN 1921.

While the total tonnage of freight carried by the railroads in the year 1921 was 25-15 100 per cent. less than the record-breaking tonnage of 1920, the tonnage of products of agriculture increased 1-2-100 per cent., according to a report just compiled by the Interstate Commerce commission.

The total of tons carried for the year was 1,091,617,051, as compared with 2,259,983,278 in 1920. The products of agriculture carried amounted to 222,722,672 tons, as against 220,049,724 the year before. All other of the six general classes of commodities into which freight commodities are divided by the Interstate Commerce commission showed decrease, according to the report, ranging from 6-82 100 per cent. for animals, and products to 32-64 100 per cent. for manufactures and miscellaneous freight.

The tonnage of animals and products in 1921 was 41,754,509 as against 44,858,503 in 1920. Products of mines carried amounted to 878,645,798 tons, as against 1,209,097,673 in 1920, a reduction of 27-33 100 per cent. Products of forests totalled 148,138,456 tons, as against 195,579,878 in 1920, a reduction of 24-26 100 per cent. Manufactures and miscellaneous freight aggregated 833,150,182 tons, as against 494,556,078 in 1920, a decrease of 32-64 100 per cent., while merchandise and less than carload traffic amounted to 67,165,435, as against 89,501,491 in 1920, a decrease of 25-29 100 per cent.

The largest single item in the traffic of the roads for 1921 was bituminous coal, of which 532,762,317 tons were carried. The next largest was anthracite coal, 125,807,944 tons.

"CHEAP" FOODS FOR FOWLS.

Sometimes it is economical to procure cheap foods, such as damaged grains or wheat screenings, when they can be bought at a low price; but it never pays to attempt to keep poultry by the use of damaged or musty food as a constant diet. Fowls are more fastidious in regard to their diet than may be supposed, and they will frequently remain hungry for a long time before they will eat food that is not satisfactory. Even when wholesome corn is given constantly there arrives a time when the hens will take no notice of it if they can get other foods. This is because a varied ration is always better than any one or two foods exclusively. The object in feeding fowls is to procure eggs, and the best food to be had will not be expensive if the hens are laying; but if they are producing no eggs, then any kind of grain is expensive, more especially the kinds that are not relished.

SAVE YOUR STAMPS.

Keep your war savings stamps, is what Low Wallace, Jr., director of savings, treasury department, says to the people who hold such government securities. "Do not allow these savings to pass into the hands of speculators and suffer a loss" he added. "Hold them until they are due and the government will pay their full face value, and the purchasers will get all that the government intended they should receive when they invested their money. When cashing their stamps the people should invest them in the new treasury savings certificates which have taken the place of the war savings stamps as government securities sold in small amounts."

War savings stamps issued in 1918 will mature in January 1, 1923, and will be redeemed at par. The war savings stamps were issued in unit denominations of $5. When purchased the first month in the year they were sold for $4.12, and the sale price increased one cent each month to the end of the year. These stamps have always been redeemable, the redemption value increasing month by month in the same proportion as the purchase price increased. The $5 stamp issued in 1918 is worth $4.63 at the present time. Next January it will be worth $5, a difference of 37 cents. Director Wallace takes occasion to warn holders of these stamps not to sacrifice the profit between present redemption prices and the par value price which the government will pay, even if the scalpers offer more than the government now pays when cashing the stamps. He believes it is far better for the holder of the stamps to tide over any pressing necessity in order to receive the full value of the stamps, as the government intended. One great advantage to the purchaser of the treasury savings certificates, new issue, he says, is that they are not transferable, and the holder cannot sell them to the scalper as they near maturity. "It would appear that the person who is trying to save is beset on all sides," said Director Wallace, "Those who bought war savings stamps were generally people of small means, with limited savings. For the most part they were patriotically inclined, and bought because they wanted to help the government with money in time of war. Many of them of necessity have sold their stamps or redeemed at the places of purchase. Now, those issued in 1918 are approaching the period of their greatest value, and the ready sharper is trying to shave off a part of the savings of these people by offering them a slight increase over the present redemption prices. The government does not offer pro-rata redemption prices for its savings securities. Its policy is to encourage savings; to induce the investor to hold until maturity and then to re-invest. The new issue of savings certificates provides for redemption at any time, paying 3 1-2 per cent interest during the time of investment. But to encourage these investors to make the best of their savings, interest is paid at the rate of 4 1-2 per cent compounded semi-annually if the certificates are held until maturity, which is five years. Another advantage of the new savings certificate is that they are all sold at the same price no matter what time of the year they are purchased. They are sold at all post offices and redeemed at the treasury department by mail."

REV. C. R. BASCOM IN SERMON BEFORE THE KNIGHTS' TEMPLAR

(Continued from page one) can scarcely bear its glorious light. So sudden and so startling that we are almost bewildered by it. Our hearts are too full for many words. We just go on saying within ourselves, "The Lord is risen." He is saying to us this day, "Be not afraid."

such a prudent and well regulated course of discipline as may best conduce to the preservation of your body and mental faculties in their fullest energy, thereby enabling you to exert the talents wherewith God has blessed you as well to His Glory as to the welfare of your fellow creatures.

presence, are ascribed unto the Son and here again we learn from the wisdom of the Son of God and the Son of Man—the golden rule of doing unto others as we would wish to be done by. In this degree we are brought into close contact with the cross the symbol of the Christian faith and the brethren know the sacred lessons taught through the reversed symbol. The double triangle within a circle of God, is a precious emblem in the lodge of Royal Arch Masons denoting the Deity, eternity, omnipresence and perfection of the Great "I Am" and Holiness to the Lord is a necessary qualification of Royal Arch Masons who are taught that in every thing they undertake they should offer up prayer to the Almighty for success.

I have not time this evening to do more than mention, to me the most interesting of all Masonic Degrees, that of the Knights Templar an advanced order that acknowledges and proclaims the doctrines of the incarnation of Jesus Christ, the Son of God and the Atonement made by Him for the Sins of man. Doctrine of the Resurrection and Ascension. In this degree we must confess our faith in God the Father, Son and Holy Ghost we must have received Christian Baptism. Believe into Sanctification and inspiration of the Holy Ghost. We must follow up our Baptism all vows remembering that as we have been signed with the sign of the cross in token that hereafter we should not be ashamed to under His banner against sin, the So must we daily and manfully fight confess the faith of Christ Crucified, world and the devil and continue Christ faithful soldiers and servants unto our lives end. The Knights Templar acknowledges his readiness to protect the cause of Christian at the risk even of his own life. The being of God, the reality of created existence, the communicableness of divine knowledge, and the capacity of men for apprehending spiritual truth are fundamental conditions necessary in the candidate for the several degrees in Masonry. I have this evening spoken of, and brethren these four main truths are the prerequisites of all faith in revealed religion, at the out set separating the Christian believer from the Atheist, the Pantheist, the Sceptical Materialist, Christianity claims to be a divine revelation, or a message of truth from the living God to the children of men, contained, embodied and recorded in the scriptures of the New Testament. It claims further to be the sequel and completion of earlier messages from the same divine author, contained and recorded in like manner in the scriptures of the Old Testament Christian faith in the widest sense of the term, consist in the admission of this double claim. Infidelity in its rejection and denial. The Bible the sacred volume of Holy Writ that lies open in every Masonic Lodge reveals a continual progress in the ceaseless attributes through successive ages from the Patriarchs to the law, from the law to the prophets, from these to the times of the gospel and from these again to a glorious triumph and reign of righteousness till to come.

My dear fellow Craftsmen, Companions of Royal Arch Masonry, Knights Templar of Bethlehem Commandary of all men we should love and honor and obey the revealed, inspired word of God, accept as our rule and chart—and believe in just in proportion as we search it with humble diligence and earnest prayer fresh harmonies of divine truth, new wonders of divine grace and love will disclose themselves to our view. Over 60 generations of the church have studied it unceasingly but this incorruptible manna neither wastes nor corrupts and they have never exhausted their stores of divine wisdom. Over 60 generations of unbelievers have assailed it on every side with winds of false doctrine, but it has only rooted itself the more firmly in the hearts of Christians and in the history of the world.

Brethren, take the Sacred Volume in your hands with reverence, offer a prayer that the Holy spirit may be your interpreter while you read and meditate, loose your shoes from your feet on this Holy Ground and doubtless you will find the promise of the Psalmist fulfilled in your own experience. "They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fatness of Thy house, and Thou wilt make them drink of the river of Thy pleasures, for with thee is the fountain of life and in Thy light we shall see light.

Such a prudent and well regulated course of discipline as may best conduce to the preservation of your body and mental faculties in their fullest energy, thereby enabling you to exert the talents wherewith God has blessed you as well to His Glory as to the welfare of your fellow creatures. Every Mason knows that except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it. The foundation stone, therefore in our religious faith is the Lord—Free Masonry acknowledges man's accountability to God, confesses man's free will and power of choice. Rectitude is one of the first principles—upright lives, well squared actions, sentimental, ancient and honorable is our society, scriptural because the volume of the Sacred Standard of all our professions and the guide of all our actions. Jesus the Lord testifies to the authenticity of the books bearing the name of Moses and declares the Messianic character of the legislation and system of Moses "He wrote of Me". A true belief in Moses leads to belief in Jesus as the Anointed One—Search the scriptures diligently and prayerfully study them. Search the scripture saith Christ for in them ye think ye have eternal life, and they are they who testify of Me.

They Have Selected Threaded Rubber

Why did the makers of the cars listed below select Willard Threaded Rubber Insulation?

- First— because many years of actual service on thousands of cars have proved that Threaded Rubber Insulation outlasts the battery plates and consequently adds to battery value and car value.
- Second—because they know that every piece of Threaded Rubber Insulation is exactly like every other piece—an assurance of uniformity impossible with ordinary insulation.
- Third— because they know that rubber is the most satisfactory insulating material, and that Threaded Rubber Insulation is the most practical form for starting and lighting batteries.

Threaded Rubber Insulation outlasts the plates. Does not carbonize, puncture, crack or warp. No expense for re-insulation. These facts are so well established by years of active use, that the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery is used as standard equipment by the builders of 174 American cars and trucks.

The successful combination of rubber and threads in Threaded Rubber Insulation—found only in the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery—is the why of its more miles of uninterrupted service per dollar.

BRITISH LABOR TO FLAY ARMS MEET AT NEXT SESSION

Capitalism Makes Disarmament Impossible, Says Party Resolution

Nottingham, Eng.—The Washington Conference was taken out of the closet today and held up to riddling criticism when the Independent Labor Party met here in its thirtieth annual convention.

A resolution attacking the Washington conference as a mere sham was introduced by members of the Kirkintiloch branch of the party.

The resolution follows: "That this conference condemns the Washington congress on the limitation of armaments as a sham, in view of the fact that none of the governments represented really wants disarmament. We warn the peoples suffering under the terror and burden of militarism and armaments that disarmament is impossible under capitalism. We therefore recommend the peoples to work for the establishment of socialism as the only possible basis for peace and disarmament."

Other resolutions have been prepared for passage by the convention congratulating the people of Ireland upon their accession to a Free State. The convention is expected to go on record as favoring Free State government for India and Egypt, similar to that already granted Ireland. Restoration of trade with Central Europe and Russia is still another subject which the convention will take up.

NEW CERTIFICATES.

Permit me to call your attention to the new offering of treasury savings certificates which makes it possible for you to purchase a $25.00 certificate for $20.00, a $100.00 certificate for $80.00 and a $1000.00 certificate for $800.00, each maturing five years from date of purchase.

Safety of principal and certainty of income are the requisites of sound investment. The United States government guarantees both to all purchasers of the new issues of treasury savings certificates, series 1922.

The new treasury savings certificates are being sold at a flat discount price instead of changing from month to month as formerly. The interest rate is higher, yielding 4 1/2 per cent compounded semi-annually, if held to maturity, instead of 4 per cent as in previous issues. The limit of holdings possible for any one individual has been raised from $1000.00 to $5000.00.

Keep in mind that you can sell these certificates back to the government at any time prior to maturity at a price in advance of what you pay for them, in which event they yield about 3 1/2 per cent interest, compounded semi-annually. They can not fluctuate in value and are insured against loss and theft.

Other people are taking advantage of the offer in a large way, and I trust that you will take advantage of this opportunity to avail yourself of a similar privilege. Whether you have little or much money, you have an opportunity to invest it where principal and interest are guaranteed by the treasury department of the United States government.

Respectfully,
H. R. MUNFORD, P. M.

FARMVILLE RESIDENCE WRECKED BY FLAMES YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Fire in Farmville yesterday afternoon about one o'clock partially destroyed the residence of J. R. Ayscue, entailing loss estimated at approximately two thousand dollars. The fire caught in the second story, burned through the inside of the building and seriously damaged the furniture. The furniture downstairs, however, was saved by the timely assistance of the neighbors and fire department.

SCORES OFFICERS TRYING TO DELAY FORD'S PROPOSAL

Washington, April 17.—Men of official authority who seek to delay the giving of Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford, are playing with fire, declared James Perry, Georgia railroad commissioner in commenting on the opinion of congressmen of the six months required to enact legislation favorable to Ford.

Seldom has a proposition attracted such public support as the Ford offer, Judge Perry said. He attributed this fact to general belief that labor and farmers of the nation would benefit through his ownership. He declared the report of Senator Morris regarding government operation to be ridiculous.

Completion of Muscle Shoals without further cost to the government is the chief provision of the offer of the Alabama Power Company, according to Thomas Martin, appearing before the senate agricultural committee. He declared the company would pay the government five million dollars cash for an accessory plants, furnish a hundred thousand secondary horsepower free to complete construction work.

Resolution of Respect.
The board of directors of the Greenville Cotton Mills in its regular meeting, realizing the death of the late G. E. Harris, one of its members and desiring to express its appreciation of his character, judgment and service as a member of this board do now resolve:

That whereas, our Heavenly Father, who knoweth and doeth all things in accord with His perfect will, to which we most humbly submit, has seen fit to take from us, our friend and fellow director, who served a number of years in a most helpful manner, in the most trying period of the existence of this company, whose judgment was always sound and dependable, whose loyalty and faithfulness were always a ray of hope in business adversity, for whose Christian character we had the highest respect and for whom personally and socially we had an affectionate regard; Do hereby express our deep sympathy for his bereaved wife and family and tender them our most cordial consideration and express to the public our feeling of loss of such an excellent citizen and Christian and successful business man.

And direct that these resolutions be inserted in the minutes of our meeting, mailed to the bereaved family and a copy of the same be published.

IRISH PEOPLE SOON TO DECIDE THE FUTURE OF THE FREE STATE ISSUE

The Forthcoming Elections Will Be Most Bitterly Contested

By DANIEL O'CONNELL,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Dublin, April. — The Irish people shortly will be called upon to decide at the polls whether they will accept the Irish Free State or line up with Eamonn De Valera and fight on for an Irish Republican. The vote may be taken in May.

Present indications are that the forthcoming elections are going to be most bitterly contested ever held in Ireland, and there are those who are willing to predict that serious disorders may arise during the election period.

Many prominent households are already divided on the question of politics. One instance of this is in the O'Meara family. Two of the O'Meara brothers are now in the United States, but they are working for different ends, one supporting the De Valera cause and the other the cause of Michael Collins.

Collins at High Tide.
According to the present canvass, if the elections were to be held at the present time there would be a country-wide sweep in favor of Michael Collins, but there may be a great change in public sentiment between now and the time of the elections.

During a recent visit in the south and west of Ireland your correspondent was convinced of the strength of the pro-treaty forces. Cork city and county will go in favor of the treaty. Limerick city and county, as well as Waterford, may be expected to return pro-treaty candidates, if the elections are not interfered with. In Tipperary the De Valera forces have great strength, but Kerry and Clare are listed in the Collins columns. Munster province, as a whole, shows a decided tendency toward the Republicans, due in part to the popularity of Austin Stack who is now in the United States on behalf of De Valera.

Mayo for Treaty.
Connaught, with the probable exception of portions of County Mayo, will undoubtedly have a pro-treaty majority, while it is probable that the strength of both parties will be tested to the full extent in Leinster. The Ulster counties which remain out of the Belfast Parliament may be expected to support the Free State.

All of these forecasts are based upon the supposition that the elections will be free and unfettered. There are indications, however, that such will not be the case. There have already been several election agents kidnaped.
