MANY BUILDINGS BEING ERECTED IN GREENVILLE

City in Grip of the Greatest Building Boom For Period In Years

The house shortage has been acute in Greenville the past three years, but at the present time relief seems to be in view. Permits issued by the building inspector show the city is experiencing one of the greatest building booms for the same period in years, and the end of the summer should see many families comfortably housed in homes of their own for the cold winter months.

The report of the inspector shows that for the first quarter of the year ending March 31 approximately $104,250 has been expended in forty-five buildings, the majority of which are residences. At the present time there are some thirty or more residences either nearing completion or under construction. Most of these buildings are private homes and will not be for rental purposes.

The houses vacated by the home builders, however, will make the housing situation better than it has been in years, and the coming winter should see conditions greatly improved.

The reduced price of labor and building materials is believed to be largely responsible for the present boom. Many of the homes are being built directly through home building and loan associations while some come through private capital. The demand for homes has been considerably greater than other kinds of buildings, and it was a general desire of renters to become owners of more desirable quarters that they began building on such a large scale.

While the shortage of store buildings has been quite noticeable in past months, the period of depression relieved this situation to no little extent. Buildings of this kind, however, are still being erected in anticipation of a revival of business probably, and the shortage is not likely to recur unless the population continues to increase as in the last two or three years.

A continuance of the boom in home building is expected by those who have watched developments the past few months, and thinly populated districts on the outskirts of Greenville will very soon contain as many homes as other sections.

JAPANESE DIET PASSES THE FIRST PROHIBITION LAW

New Measure Enacted by the House of Peers Affects Minors

By JAMES M'LAIN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Tokio, April 24.—The closing hours of the forty-fifth session of the Japanese Diet brought enactment of the first prohibition law in the "land of cherry blossoms," where heretofore there have been no legal restraint in selling and drinking of intoxicating liquors. The law prohibits the sale of liquor to minors—persons under twenty-one years, or twenty according to the Western method of reckoning. A fine of approximately $5 is to be assessed on those convicted of violating the law.

Passage of the bill by the House of Peers marks the first success of prohibition elements in Japan and ends the fight waged in the Diet for nearly a quarter of a century. Mr. Sho Nemoto, a W. C. T. U. worker, who was educated in the United States, has introduced this bill in the upper house at every session since 1899. A few years ago it obtained a favorable vote in the house of representatives and continued to do so at every session since, but prior to this year the house of peers held aloof (Continued on page two)

SPECIAL MENTION MADE OF ACTORS IN SENIOR PLAY

The Merchant Gentleman Scored Great Hit in Presentation Friday

Special mention should be made of those who contributed to the success of the senior play at East Carolina Teachers College on last Friday evening. Miss May R. B. Muffy assisted Adele Gutman Nathan in the production of the play, not only in managing the music but in selecting the cast and getting them ready for Mrs. Nathan, and in working with her constantly throughout the rehearsals. Miss Nellie Maupin trained the dancers and the four beautiful folk dancers added greatly to the beauty and variety of the play.

Miss Espie Lee, the star, "The Merchant Gentleman" showed marked talent and did wonderful acting. She was on the stage most of the time during the entire play and never once let go her part, Miss Sallie Hinchshaw, as Nicole, the maid with her infectious laugh and sprightly acting, was a favorite of the audience. The philosopher, Miss Carrie Lee Bell, was especially fine.

Miss Fannie Johnston, master of music, with her singers Misses Virginia Rhea, Florence Woodard, Opal Watson, and Myrtle Holt, added greatly to the play. Miss Julia Gatling, master of fencing and Little Mae Dawson, master of dancing, played their parts well. Miss Mamie Hayes, and her valet, Miss Elsie Wilson, made a fine couple of lovers for the beautiful Lucile, Miss Pauline Sanders, and the maid. Miss Katherine Tripp was the handsome lord and Miss Thelma Shamhart a beautiful charming lady of quality. Miss Louise Buffalo, the tailor, and her apprentice, Miss Blanche Harris, made an amusing scene. Misses Ruby Joyner and Carrie Mercer were the attendants of the Merchant.

There were four special dances. In the shepherd dance, "Jean and Jeanette" were Misses Al'ee Fulford, Della Bryan, Louise Whichard, Helen Boone, Mamie Stokes, and Little Lee Blanchard. In the "Pompadour" dance were Misses Challemae Hennessee, Malissa Hicks, Lucy Andrews, Augusta Woodward, Virginia Rhea, and Cyrena Allen. The Turkish attendants and dancers were: Misses Nellie McDonald, Lorence Early, Allen Worthington, Ida Holland, Sallie Jones, Gladys Warren, Lillie Mae Dawson, and Julia Gatling.

Credit is due a number of the class who worked as hard behind the scenes as those who starred in the play. Miss Penelope Wilson was the assistant manager, who was at the beck and call of Mrs. Nathan. Miss Marie Lowry, Gladys Norris and Leah Cooke, assisted by the two college seniors, Misses Gertrude Chamberlain and Virginia Pigford, had

CITIZENS PAY GLOWING TRIBUTE TO G. E. HARRIS

Many Speakers at Memorial Services Yesterday at Four O'clock

Memorial services for Mr. G. E. Harris, prominent business man of this city who died several days ago, were held at the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. The services were of a most touching nature, several members of the congregation speaking in glowing terms of the work of the deceased for the church and humanity.

The services began with prayer by Rev. N. D. Wiggs, pastor of the Free Will Baptist church. Miss Ariene Joyner sang "Abide With Me," after which the pastor, Rev. V. P. Scoville, made a few remarks on the life of the deceased and called on Mr. J. W. Little, who served on the board of Stewards with Mr. Harris for a number of years.

Mr. Little read a memoir in a most touching way. He paid a glowing tribute to the life of the man who meant so much to his family, and in fact, everyone who came in contact with him. He enumerated the splendid traits of character, and the great interest which Mr. Harris always exhibited in others.

Other tributes were paid by J. B. James, W. H. Norris, S. B. Curran, A. B. Ellington, B. W. Moseley and others. Each speaker extolled the life that meant so much to them and the church, and expressed the most profound regret at his death.

Mr. Scoville read a tribute from Mr. D. J. Whichard, who is ill and could not attend the services. This tribute also was of a most touching nature and showed to what extent the life of the deceased had become intertwined with others.

There were others present who lauded the spirit of the departed friend and co-worker, and expressed again that which has been iterated and reiterated so many times since the community realized how deep has been its loss.

TEXAS EVANGELIST DELIVERS CLOSING SERMON AT REVIVAL

Splendid Sermon Featured Services at Christian Church Yesterday

The series of revival services which have been in progress at the Christian church the past three weeks were brought to a close last night with probably one of the most forceful sermons of the series by Dr. Ben M. Edwards, evangelist of Texas. His subject yesterday was "Recognizing Him" and last night he preached on "The Closed Door."

Dr. Edwards' subject yesterday morning was taken from the scripture when Jesus appeared to the fishermen on the Sea of Galilee. He said "God appeared to people of today even nearer than he did to the apostles of old but the people did not recognize Him. Still there are others who recognize and reject Him because of the call and lure of earthly things."

He based his sermon last night on the parable of the ten virgins, five of whom were wise and five foolish. When the foolish virgins appeared at the bridal feast they found the door closed. The same would apply to lots of people of today. He used several forceful illustrations that drove the sermon home with great force.

The church has received about thirty additions as result of the revival, and tonight at eight o'clock a reception will be given at the church for the new members to which all members and friends of the church are cordially invited.

One of the features of last night's services was a duet by Mr. Pollock and Mrs. J. Knott Proctor.

Dr. Edwards and the Pollocks will leave tomorrow morning for Danville, Va., where they will begin a meeting. Dr. Edwards was accompanied by Mrs. Edwards and little daughter, Patricia Brown.

The Farmville Christian church has secured the services of Dr. Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. Pollock for the month of September. The Farmville people were very much impressed with the forceful sermons of Dr. Edwards and nearly every night there were several here to hear him.

PARENT-TEACHERS OF FARMVILLE IN SPLENDID MEETING

Monthly Meeting of Organization Features Many Discussions

The Parent-Teacher Association of Farmville held its monthly meeting in the school auditorium the latter part of last week. There were 152 present and eleven new members were added to the roll.

The sixth and seventh grades delightful entertained the association by presenting the cantata, "The Lone Crown," in a most efficient and pleasing manner. Much credit and praise are due to both pupils and teachers. Misses Cobb and Copeland. Those deserving special mention are Susan Barrett, Dorothy Williams, Mildred Barrett, Nancy Lewis and Lila Dell Flanagan who sang the solo parts.

The accompaniment was played by Estelle Horton of the ninth grade who showed much skill and art in the ease and spirit in which she played and added much to the success of the cantata.

The following committee was appointed to coach the "Womanless Wedding" which is to be given May 5; Chairman Mrs. Ed. Warren Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cox. The proceeds from this will help pay for the stage equipment which has been ordered and will be installed by commencement.

The blue print of the school grounds was shown and explained. The work of beautifying the school grounds will begin as soon as possible. This and the equipping of the school stage have been the aims of the association for this year.

At the conclusion of the business session the sixth and seventh grades served lemonade and sandwiches. This was one of the most enjoyable meetings of the year and by far the largest in attendance.

CLEAN UP WEEK BEGINS IN REAL EARNEST IN CITY

Chamber of Commerce Asks For Co-operation of Citizens During Campaign

Inasmuch as a proclamation has been issued by Mayor D. M. Clark for a general clean-up and paint up campaign, and inasmuch as some is highly essential to the health conditions of the city, to say nothing of the safety of the property, or let there be a concentrated effort during this week to make this the most successful drive of its kind in the history of Greenville.

As a safeguard for the health of Greenville, this campaign should receive the whole-souled support of all the citizens. Every father and mother are interested in the health of their children and in the health of their town. Therefore let all weeds be destroyed; all lawns mowed; and all places of standing water removed. With this done speedily, mosquitoes will be decreased considerably during the present summer.

Beauty can be brought about by putting into good condition every alley, every back yard, the sidewalks, and all vacant lots. Trash and rubbish of every description should be assembled for the trucks that will be mustered for the purpose. Every vacant lot in Greenville should be made like the front of the homes.

Now is the time for you to co-operate 100 per cent in this important undertaking. The trucks will come by your home and vacant lot on Thursday and Friday of this week. Kindly have all trash of every description assembled on the sidewalks ready for the trucks.

HUGE BUSINESS CRASHES AWAKEN GREAT BRITAIN

Only Accountants Preparing Data for Bankruptcies Work to Capacity

(By International News).
London.—The year 1919 marked the high festival of the profiteers, but the year 1922 the "lossteers" are claiming as their very own.

The one big business in this country at the moment is bankruptcy, and the only people working at anything like full pressure are the business accountants who are working overtime on winding up deceased businesses, getting them ready for their examination in bankruptcy.

The financial rot started with the crash of the city Equitable Assurance Company, which involved a sum of about $10,000,000. The insurance world faced that earthquake with fortitude and is gradually recovering from the shock, but in textiles, rubber, oil and dry goods large numbers of once prosperous houses are now in serious difficulties.

Almost every day adds to the list a voluntary liquidations. During the first fortnight in this month eighty already have been reported, and that is twenty times the average in normal times. Since January 1, 1,200 failures of traders have been notified, which is incomparably larger than any other year within the last four generations.

The extent of the liabilities is not such an impressive feature of the failures as the shrinkage of assets. Stocks bought at the top of the market have had to be realized at ruinous sacrifices. Reckless overbuying during the boom, absence of reserves and good will, heavy taxation and decline of trade are some of the reasons for trade failures.

Some of the companies have been very unlucky because, after paying heavy excess profits duty, they have had their losses just too late to obtain rebate. Shipping suffered. One shipping corporation sold all its ships during the boom; the new company a few months ago was wound up, and the original shipping firm, within two years of their sale, was enabled to rebuy its ships at a third of the price at which it sold them.

PLAN HOSPITAL FOR THE INJURED WAR VETERANS

Incapacitated Victims of Shell Shock Will Be Cared For in Hospitals

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Washington, April 24.—Federal hospitalization for all shell-shocked veterans of the World War is the objective of the United States Veterans' Bureau.

Plans to provide adequately for these incapacitated ex-soldiers are now in the hands of Colonel Charles R. Forbes, director of the bureau. They were submitted to him by a conference on neuropsychiatric specialists called into session here to consider the arrangements being made by the government for the care of its disabled veterans who are suffering from nervous diseases and to draft suggestions and proposals for improvements in existing conditions.

On the basis that vocational training for the shell-shocked men would fall unless a system of Federal hospitalization were provided where they could be trained and where individual care and study could be furnished for them, the specialists said that it was of "paramount importance" that this class of veterans be placed in government-operated hospitals.

12,000 Hospital Beds.
It was estimated for officials of the veterans' bureau that 12,000 neuropsychiatric cases would be hospitalized before the peak was reached and recommended that 3,500 beds be provided as soon as possible pending the establishment of special hospitals. The cost of these extra beds was figured at $10,000,000.

Immediately after the armistice it became necessary for the government to place a number of men in contract hospitals, as there were no adequate Federal facilities. Many of these institutions were not equipped to care for the nervous cases which were sent to them, and as a result the men did not get the care and observation to which they were entitled if their mental and physical conditions were to undergo any improvement during the period of their confinement.

Enforcement of the law is another question, for it is difficult to see how the authorities are going to prevent waitresses in restaurants from slipping beer with their customers.

A stable agriculturist can only be brought about by every farmer getting down to brass tacks and determining upon a course to pursue—one that fits his inclination, his location, his soil and his family. If we can ever approach that happy ideal we shall have, partially at least, done away with rapidly fluctuating markets. They come about largely from folks trying to flop from one side to another. Given a group of farmers who do not vary their flocks much from year to year, who keep about the same number of brood sows one year, with another, who feed about the same number of cattle each season and also legumes on one-fourth of the farm's acreage, we won't have much market heaving because the supply will not be materially different. If greedy men would let supply and demand govern, the markets would soon get over their St. Vitus dance.

OPTIMISTS

By all means every civic club member should affiliate with the Chamber of Commerce and actively support the community organization.

"The civic club is not intended to, should not, and does not attempt, to fill the place of the Chamber of Commerce under any circumstances. It is more personal and social in its relationship, whereas the central organization is designed and intended to meet the general needs of the whole community which the civic club cannot undertake to do.

"Every Optimist supports the Chamber of Commerce."—Col. E. Morgan, International Optimist Club.

CIVITANS

"Are you at present giving that support that it deserves?"

"Are you assisting financially by paying your dues promptly?"

"Are you trying to improve the work of your Chamber of Commerce?"

"Are you contributing any new ideas?"

"What can you do in the future for your Chamber of Commerce?"

"Should you not as a Civitan cooperate with your Chamber of Commerce at any and all times, in any and every way possible?"—C. W. Shropshire, President International Association of Civitan Clubs.

Are your children becoming strong because of plenty of fresh eggs.

ADEQUATE INCOME.

An adequate income is necessary, for the successful initiation and prosecution of any line of endeavor—the applies also to the Pitt County Chamber of Commerce. Won't you do your part now?

Are you going to deprive your children of that needed food—milk?

A good garden will lower the cost of living.

Eggs are conceded as one of our greatest foods.

FRENCH REDS' PARADE IS SET FOR MAY DAY

(By International News). Paris, April 24.—French revolutionists and communists will again manifest on May 1.—French Labor Day, this year. Again they have decided to parade the streets of Paris waving red flags and singing revolutionary songs. Their war cries this year will be complete disarmament and no change in the eight-hour day. It is expected that the government will take the usual preventative measures and break up any attempt to parade down the main streets of the city. Already it has been decided that wire gratings surround trees will be taken up and that numerous troops will gather in and around the city. Revolutionists in previous years used the gratings to mob the police. But only slight disturbances are expected on account of the greatly reduced ranks of the communists in the last year.

First to establish the $10.90 price—Usco

THE makers of U. S. Tires made this announcement last November—

"Hereafter the price of the 30x3 1/2 Usco is $10.90."

The lowest price ever quoted on a tire of quality reputation and standard performance.

And now, with the opening of Spring, there seem to be quite a number of "New and Special tires" coming into the market in the $10.90 price range.

Perhaps you are wondering just what there can be either "new" or "special" about these tires.

It can't be the $10.90 price—Usco established that five months ago.

Nor quality reputation and standard performance—for it takes more than one full season for any new tire to demonstrate where it stands in quality and value

PRES. AND MRS. R. H. WRIGHT ENTERTAIN SENIOR CLASS
 President and Mrs. Robert Wright grace a brilliant reception to the Senior class of East Carolina Teachers College on Saturday evening from 8:30 to 10:30. The house was artistically decorated with masses of cut flowers, plants, and vines. Red roses were in profusion in the dining room and the library where the punch was served.
 In the receiving line were President and Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Jarvis, Mr. and Mrs. Underwood, Mrs. Murphy, the mother of Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Beckwith, and Dr. and Mrs. Laughinghouse.
 Members of the faculty assisted Mrs. Wright in receiving. After Master William Wright opened the door for the guests, Misses Wilson and McKinney welcomed them. Miss Goggin at the stairway directed them to the dressing room. Miss Whiteside introduced them to the line. Misses Jenkins and Magnolia Scoville received at the dining room door, and Misses Maupin and Harding directed the guests from the dining room to the library where Mrs. J. L. Fleming, Misses Lewis and Hallie Scoville served punch. From here Miss McCleland directed them to the study where Mr. J. H. Rose and Miss McFadyen had the Seniors register, writing their names with their left hands.

 Refreshments were served by Misses Pearl Wright, Annie Blanch Herring, president of the Freshman College class. Mary Baggett, president of the Junior Normal class, and Robert H. Wright, Jr. Misses Lillian Jordan and Mary Wright had charge of the victrola in the hall.
 Music and story-telling were the special features of the evening's entertainment. Mrs. Knott Proctor sang several beautiful songs. She has a lovely voice. Miss Whiteside told a charming story. Misses Mead and Bertolet played several selections on the piano. Misses Bass, Hennie Long, and Ruth Swinney played violins. Near the close of the evening those who could sing well gathered around the piano and sang song after song.
 Exactly at 10:30 the entire Senior class, true to their training in punctuality, moved in a mass to leave.
 Annual reception given by Mrs. Wright is looked forward to by every senior class as the outstanding social event of their last year in college. The girls of the class of 1922 know that not a one of the preceding classes has ever had so delightful a reception.

CHILD PRODIGY HAS BIG ROLE IN FAMOUS FILM
 Richard Daniels Shines in Picturization of Famous Story by James M. Barrie.
 Though only seven years of age Richard Daniels, who plays the part of Mischaw Drom in Vitagraph's production, "The Little Minister," which will be shown at White's theatre on Monday night, April 24, displays a remarkable understanding of what is required upon the screen.

 Every day he makes a vivid impersonation with his quickness of mind. In the midst of a scene Director Dardomant benius, predict a bright future for little Richard Daniels.
 Alice Calhoun was selected for the stellar role because of her physical fitness and personality. She is the ideal Lady Babbie, and as one watches her work upon the screen it is easy to imagine that James M. Barrie had a girl of this type in mind when he wrote the famous novel.
 David Smith stopped the camera for a retake, but did not get time to instruct little Richard of what was expected of him. But the youth beat the director to it. Looking up quickly, Richard said:
 "I know what's the matter, Mr. Smith. I didn't look up there like you told me to and you've got to take the scene over."
 He had hit the nail on the head, and in the retake was so natural that Director David Smith was forced to commend him upon his work. Although Richard's actions are in keeping with a boy of his age he has a serious mien.

PHONOGRAPH STAR ADA JONES COMING SOON TO GREENVILLE
 An event that all lovers of the phonograph will enjoy and treasure is the coming to high school on Wednesday of America's best known and best liked comedienne. Ada Jones in person with her own company of high class artists. The press and public concede Ada Jones to be in a class by herself and she has never appeared to better advantage. The Paramount Musical and Lyceum Bureau of New York had little hopes of luring this fascinating star away from Broadway where her presence is always in great demand. However they finally persuaded Miss Jones to make the present tour which has been the biggest success of her brilliant career. Ada Jones brings with her a company of first class artists. Miss Jones will come here under auspices of Rotary Club, the proceeds to be applied to the boy's campaign trip.

The public's approval of the unqualified values offered them in the Willys'Knight and Overland Automobiles—the great demand in North Carolina for them—has made it necessary that we bring in this SOLID TRAIN LOAD—which reached Charlotte last Tuesday. The largest single shipment we have ever made in order that the demand may be filled.

The NEW SERIES OVERLAND is the lowest priced—high-grade automobile on the American market today—Just ask the man who owns one.

The NEW SERIES WILLYS-KNIGHT, with the sleeve valve motor is in a class by itself—recognized by the foremost engineers as the most perfect and complete motor ever invented.

The organization standing back of these products assures you a service second to none. We heartily invite your inspection and comparison as to Quality—Value—and service you get in the WILLYS-KNIGHT or OVERLAND AUTOMOBILE.
