CONFERENCE PLANS FINAL EFFORTS TO SOLVE DEBT ISSUE

Pronouncement By Lloyd George to Feature Settlement of Question

BRITISHER DEMANDS OPEN CONFERENCES AT FIRST SESSIONS

France Plans to Bitterly Oppose Issue in Early Stages, It Is Said

Genoa, April 27. — Under the shadow of a grave pronouncement by Lloyd George regarding the threatening state of European relations the last desperate effort was launched today to solve the Russian debt question which disrupted the Genoa economic conference.

Called to clinch the peace for suffering Europe the conference today had become more notable for warlike pronouncements and crisis than for any definite progress towards peace.

It was learned that Lloyd George is considering demanding that the session of conference beginning Monday be opened with view of giving the world a clear understanding of the responsibility for obstructionist tactics. This move very likely will be bitterly fought by France, as opposition to the measure was very pronounced today.

The convention program, as announced by James F. Meade, secretary-treasurer of the association and president of the Continental National bank, portends a busy two-day session.

Addresses will be given by United States Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, former Secretary of the Treasury, on "Federal Reserve Defense," Fred Gale, vice-president of the Mechanics and Metals National Bank of New York, "Economics and Financial conditions in Europe," Thomas F. Driehar, vice-president Federal and International Banking Company, New Orleans, "Financing Exports Under the Edge Bank Law," Walter Head, president of the Omaha National Omaha, "Live Stock Industry," P. McKinney, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas Texas, "Cotton Industry."

The membership of the organization is 400, restricted to senior officers of bank in the thirty cities where Federal Reserve Banks or their branches are located. Only five members are allowed from one institution. Those having the full quota are the National City Bank and the Guarantee Trust Company, of New York, and the Continental and Commercial National Bank of Chicago, the three largest banks on the North American continent.

SAYS FARMERS TO SELL TOBACCO BY OLD AUCTION PLAN

Greenville Man Denies Sale Of The Warehouses at Vanceboro

(Southern Tobacco Journal.) Greenville, N. C., April 17, 1922. —I am writing just a short letter in regard to the Co-operative Marketing Association. I notice in last week's issue that the Association has taken over the warehouses in most all the small markets. I see the three warehouses in Vanceboro were in the list. Now, I have just returned from a trip down in Craven and talked with all the warehousemen and was informed by them that they had not turned over a single house and under no circumstances could the association get them only by buying them at a good price. Furthermore, the farmers are planning to sell their tobacco at the loose leaf houses. I find only a few have signed up.

I was informed sometime ago by one of the directors that they could get all the houses in Greenville, but seems as if he made a mistake as they only got one and not until the proprietor and his sons were assured of a big job with high salaries. It stands to reason that a man would let them have his house if they will give him management of it and relieve him of any financial responsibility. I happen to know this man and know he was bitterly opposed to the Marketing Plan until a few days ago.

I am proud to know that our old market (Greenville) has stood up for the old system of selling tobacco and I believe in a few years the farmers will see their mistake and will thank the warehousemen, and all tobacco men will be looked upon as the farmers' best friends. We know as one that has had experience that the warehousemen have been the farmers' best friend. Just think of how much money some of them lost trying to help the poor farmer. I am a farmer myself, and frankly state that the warehousemen of my town, speaking of Greenville, have been very good to me in several ways. Hoping to hear from some other good man, such as Mr. Spruill and others that are telling the farmers what is best for them, I will close with best wishes to you.

Yours truly, H. L. J.

HOW LONG WILL CAKE OF ICE LAST IN SUN?

Wooster, Ohio, April 27. —How long will a 300-pound cake of ice last when fully exposed in a comfortably heated room?

The Minglewood Coal & Ice Company, which just opened a new ice manufacturing plant here, placed a 300-pound cake of frozen water in the front window of a downtown business place where the sun beat in upon it.

The last bit of ice disappeared in 56 hours and 50 minutes. Guesses made by passersby ranged from 28 hours to 500 hours.

DECLARES NATION IS FULLY FLOODED BY BAD SECURITIES

Representative Johnson Says Spurious Securities to be Found Everywhere

Washington, April 27.—The statement was made on the floor of the House today by Representative Johnson, Republican, South Dakota, that it "will later be shown by official documents that there are probably hundreds of millions of dollars of duplicate bonds in the United States." Prompt denial of the statement was made by high treasury officials, who declared investigation by Secretary Mellon of the Bureau of Engraving had disclosed there was no truth in reports of the circulation on a large scale of counterfeit government securities.

Challenging the Johnson statement, Representative Wingo, Ark., Democratic member of the House banking committee, declared it was calculated to cause uneasiness in the country and that he did not believe Mr. Johnson ought to make it "unless he can back it up as the truth." Mr. Wingo expressed the belief that an investigation would show that Secretary Mellon in denying "reckless charges" about the existence of duplicate bonds, "did not lie to the people of the country."

As a basis for his charge as to alleged circulation of spurious securities, Mr. Johnson said that J. W. McCarter, assistant register of the treasury during the Wilson administration, "secured information in the course of his duties which convinced him that there had been enormous duplication of government bonds which had been printed by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and had gone through the office of the register of the treasury."

PITT SHRINE CLUB TO GIVE BARBECUE TUESDAY, MAY 2

Knights Templars Also Invited To Attend Dinner at Noon Hour

The Greenville-Pitt Shrine club will give a barbecue dinner in Greenville next Tuesday, May 2, according to an announcement made this morning by President C. L. Porter. Knights Templars as well as members of the club are cordially invited to attend, it was stated, and the day will be one of the greatest in history of the organization.

At this meeting arrangements will be perfected for attending the ceremonial at Kinston, and it is highly important that as many members as possible make it a point to be present, Mr. Porter stated. The ceremonial will be attended from all important clubs in this section of the state, and it is imperative that Greenville be well represented.

The Shrine club was organized at a meeting of Shrine and Knights Templars held here several weeks ago and has made considerable progress since the time. It is the purpose of members, however, to make it one of the best organized clubs in this part of the state, and first efforts in this direction will be made at the barbecue dinner next Tuesday.

CITY OFFICERS MOVING INTO NEW QUARTERS

City officers are moving into the old market building, which has been remodelled and is considered one of the best office buildings in the city today. The building has been partitioned to suit the needs of every department, and the quarters are much more commodious and convenient than the old building. Practically all improvements have been completed with the exception of erecting a rail or so in the office divisions, but this will be done immediately.

The improvements are in keeping with development of the city, and indicate the rapid strides made by each department in the past few years.

WILSON BECOMES ISSUE IN LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Republican Delegates Charge Democrats With Boosting League of Nations

(By International News.) Baltimore, April 27. — Woodrow Wilson became an issue in the convention of the league of women voters here today when Republican delegates charged that Democrats are injecting activities with a movement to stir women voters of the country in a new crusade in behalf of the league of nations and other Wilsonian sentiments.

Republican women charged that the reception to be tendered Wilson in Washington tomorrow is arranged for the purpose to spread the league of nations propaganda. Democratic leaders admitted they hoped to turn the reception into a league of nations demonstration.

PENNSYLVANIA MAY ELECT A DEMOCRAT AS NEXT GOVERNOR

Passing of Penrose Disrupts Powerful Republican Machine

By WALTER C. MERRITT International News Service Staff Correspondent

Pittsburgh.—At the coming election in November Pennsylvania may see a political overturn from its long record of "machine Republicanism" that may outdo Kansas at its best.

It is almost a 50-50 proposition, as it now stands, that the next Governor will be a "machine Republican," a "Bull-Moose Republican" or a "State Grange Chief," who is a Democrat. It will be a fight with unlimited financial backing between the factions seeking the nomination of the primary on May 16.

The Pennsylvania political situation at this time stands unique in the history of American politics. The twenty years of war among the Democrats has been ended and there is now harmony within the ranks. On the other hand, the Republicans are bitterly fighting among themselves.

"Oh that Penrose was only alive," wail four or five factions of the Republican party.

When Boies Penrose was alive he was master of Pennsylvania with an iron hand. When the factions had fought long enough he just flattened them out in short order and there was peace. But when Penrose died the great iron-clad Penrose "machine" also died.

In years past the strongest opposition to the Penrose machine had come from the "Vares" in Philadelphia. They had a powerful organization and controlled part of Philadelphia, at least. They were the Pat McCarrons of Pennsylvania politics.

Since Penrose died "the Vares" are to all intents and purposes in control of the G. O. P. organization in this State and they are moving heaven and earth to make alliances to strengthen their already powerful Philadelphia machine.

But to get back to the Governorship. While the various leaders were fighting about the seat of Senator William E. Crow, State Banking Commissioner John S. Fisher, of Indiana, Pa., hopped into the ring and announced he was a candidate for Governor. He has the backing of Joseph Grundy, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association and of the so-called Oliver organization of Pittsburgh. The Olivers are worth untold millions, Joe Grundy is rich and his Manufacturers' Association has money without end.

GREENVILLE CLUB SWAMPS AYDEN IN YESTERDAY'S GAME

Locals Win on Visit to Ayden By Overwhelming Score Of 17 to 7

The Greenville high school baseball club completed swamped a similar club at Ayden yesterday afternoon by the score of 17 to 7. Ayden at no time threatened to overcome the score which Greenville began piling up in early stages of the game, and found it difficult to hold the heavy sluggers who pounded the ball hard in every inning and even threatened to increase the score.

Barber and Brown featured with the stick for Greenville, each getting a three base hit. Prescott featured for Ayden, pounding out four hits out of as many times at bat. Satterthwaite and Brown pitched a wonderfully effective game for Greenville, especially at critical stages.

The box score of yesterday's contest follows:

ANTI KU KLUX KLAN GROWS STRONGER IN SOUTHWEST STATES

"Knights of Visible Empire" Incorporated in State of Oklahoma

(By International News.) Tulsa, Okla.—In the days of the pioneer in the great southwest they fought prairie fires with fire.

Today, in Texas and Oklahoma, the Ku Klux Klan is face to face with an "anti" organization.

The Knights of the Visible Empire are gathering strength to oppose the white-shrouded host—the knights of the invisible realm. The southwest is splitting into two factions—klan and anti-klan.

With the last few months the Ku Klux Klan has shown its strength. It appears to exist in every community. In the big, modern, fast-growing cities of the Southwest it numbers thousands of its "invisible empire." This has been proved by parades and demonstrations in such cities as Dallas, Fort Worth, Beaumont, Waco, Oklahoma City, Tulsa and other places.

Here, only a few weeks ago, nearly 3,000 hooded figures passed through the streets. The parade was fifteen blocks in length. At its head masked riders bore aloft the emblem of the klan. Overhead an airplane circled, bearing a flaming cross.

All of these demonstrations, except the one at Waco, have been peaceful. And to the credit of the klan are numberless good deeds, in which the klanmen have been angels of mercy, assisting the poor and worthy by acts of charity.

TARIFF ISSUE IS FULL OF DANGERS SIMMONS CHARGES

North Carolina Launches Three Hour Attack Against The Issue

ADMITS MEASURE MAY PASS BUT IS IT WHAT DESIRED?

Senator Declares High Prices Will Be Held More Than Ever Before

Washington, April 27.—Summing up a three-hour attack on the pending tariff bill today in the senate, Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, declared that it was his "deliberate judgment" that the measure was "fraught with more danger to the people of the country and the institutions under which they live than any bill that ever crossed the threshold of this chamber."

The senator said he supposed the measure would be passed not because it met the judgment of the senate, but because a considerable part of the majority of the senate "are willing to forgo their opposition to what they regard as unjust impositions upon the people in order to get concessions for those in whom they the especially interested."

Departing from the text of his address which had been prepared after what he described as a careful study of the bill, the Democratic leader said there should be no deliberate delaying tactics on the minority side, but that there must be full and free discussion "to make clear what this bill, if passed, will mean to the American people."

He declared that the rates in the bill were from 40 to 50 per cent higher than those of the "ill-fated Payne-Aldrich" tariff and were double those in the Underwood law. Statement of the measure, he believed, would result in higher costs of living, increased unemployment and the "further monopolization of American industries."

The senator charged that the rate followed by the finance committee in determining rates together with the super-added rate making powers conferred upon the resident "makes rate fixing almost as much a matter of political and personal patronage as the distribution of federal officers."

After Senator Simmons concluded, Senator King, Democrat, Utah, continued his analysis of the chemical schedule, begun yesterday. He charged that the provision in the bill making it unlawful to import dyes in containers or packages bearing the trade marks of dyes registered in the United States was "a joke" added to the measure in the interest of the "so-called chemical foundation of which practically all dye manufacturers in this country are members."

CASUALTIES FROM ACCIDENTS REDUCED

An important reduction in the number of fatalities and injuries resulting from steam railroad accidents in 1921 is shown by statistics just made public by the Interstate Commerce Commission from monthly reports.

The total number of persons killed in train and train service accidents was 5,257, as compared with 6,495 in 1920. This was a reduction of 14 per cent, as compared with 1920, when less persons were killed in railroad accidents than in any year since 1900. The number injured in 1921 was 43,324, a reduction of 32.1 per cent, as compared with 1920.

While, as the commission points out, these reductions reflect the falling off in traffic, if the number of trespassers be deducted, the reduction in the number of fatalities was 28.2 per cent, and the number of injuries 34.5 per cent less than 1920, and these percentages are considerably greater than the reduction in volume of traffic, which was about 23 per cent. There was also a reduction of 11.7 per cent in the number of persons killed and of 26 per cent in the number injured in industrial and other non-rail accidents.

The only increase shown in the commission's report was in the number of trespassers killed in train and train service accidents. Of the 2,827 persons killed in train and train service accidents 2,481 were trespassers, an increase of 14.3 per cent over 1920, and of the 43,234 injured 2,071 were trespassers, an increase of 29.7 per cent.

Of the 3,100 non-trespassers killed, only 265 were passengers; 658 were trainmen, 458 were other employees, and 1,959 were other persons. Only 100 passengers were killed in train accidents, including 71 in collisions, 22 in derailments and 7 in miscellaneous accidents, while 50 were killed in getting on or off cars, and 51 in miscellaneous train service accidents.

In train accidents, as distinguished from train service accidents, 358 persons were killed and 4,065 were injured.

EMPLOYMENT INCREASES

In the past thirty days employment figures have shown a decided and continued upward trend in all sections of the country. Today's bulletin from the President's Conference on Unemployment, based on figures from the United States Employment Service, states that for every 100 jobs available there are now 100 applicants, as against 200 in January.

In other words, where there was work for only 41 per cent of the seekers three months ago, there are now jobs for 62 per cent. Based on an estimate of 3,500,000 jobless, this means employment for 630,000 individuals.

In January there were 38 applicants placed out of every 100. For the first week in April the number had gone up to 50.

"It does not seem very much," said Arthur Woods, Chairman of the Emergency Committee which charted the figures, "but the gain is distinct and continued. April's first week has improved on March and is decidedly better than January, which gives the Conference much hope that the unemployment situation will continue to brighten through the month and after."

A committee is now hard at work under direction of the Conference, with the idea of alleviating future depressions. It is making a study of the business cycle and seasonal unemployment, and will report on August 20.

Miss Hannah Dixon was this afternoon hostess at a delightful bridge party at her home on Evans street, complimentary to Mrs. Larry James, a recent bride. Upon arrival the guests were given a cordial welcome by the hostess and honoree and invited to the side porch where they were served delicious punch and sandwiches by Misses Ada James and Nancy King.

The reception hall and drawing room in which six tables were arranged for the games were beautifully decorated with brides roses, American beauty roses, smilax and potted plants. The lights were shaded with yellow and pink crepe paper, entwined with smilax, and each light contained a miniature shower of marine and orange blossoms. The score cards and favors were miniature brides and grooms, wedding bells, slippers and other suggestions of an approaching wedding.

Each table contained rosebud cups, filled with salted nuts and small cut-glass nappies filled with candies. The table prizes were miniature corsages of sweet peas and the guest of honor prize was a buffet set.

At the conclusion of the party the guests received decorated with a small cupid was served by the hostess, assisted by Misses Helen Joyner and Anna Long. Each cupid containing a small folder was addressed to some one of the guests present. Upon opening the folder the following announcement was found "John-Josephine." June 14th, '22. This announced the engagement of two of the most popular members of the young social set. The bride elect is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Skinner and is one of Greenville's most beautiful and attractive young ladies. The groom to be is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Flanagan. He possesses a winning personality and is held in highest esteem. He is at present connected with his father in the John Flanagan Buggy Company and has a most promising future.

While enjoying the refreshments little Miss Julia Woodson Gaylord, dressed as cupid, presented the bride elect with a corsage bouquet of roses and valley lilies. Before departing "Little Sister" Laurine Skinner presented each guest with paper roses containing rice, with which the bride elect was showered.

Twenty Years Ago

From Files of Daily Reflector
April 27, 1902.

Twenty years ago yesterday, there occurred a sad death in Greenville when Mr. Theophilus Walton McBryde, foreman of The Reflector, died after an illness of several days from pneumonia. On the 6th of March, not quite two months before, he received a telegram stating that both his father and mother were very sick with pneumonia at the old home near Jonesboro. He left at once to attend them. A few days after reaching home his mother died, and the next day his father joined her. In the meantime his two sisters were taken ill with pneumonia, one sister died and the other hovered between life and death some time before there was a change for the better.

Mr. McBryde returned to Greenville on the 3rd of April, on the 14th he was taken ill with pneumonia and died on the 26th.

The burial took place in Cherry Hill cemetery on Sunday April 27th services being conducted by Rev. J. N. Booth assisted by Rev. H. M. Eure.

SYRIAN'S SLAYER
IS ALLOWED BOND

Sympathy Apparently in Favor of Howard Brown, Who Killed Albert Bashara.
Goldshoro, April 27.—A coroner's inquest was held this morning over the death of Albert Bashara, Syrian clerk, who was shot and killed on the streets of the city yesterday by Howard Brown, a young white boy, who objected to the presence of Bashara in his mother's home.
The jury's verdict was that Bashara had come to his death as the result of a bullet fired from a revolver in the hands of Howard Brown and ordered that Brown be held under a reasonable bond to be fixed by the coroner. Coroner Baker decided upon five thousand dollars and it was stated this afternoon that this would be provided.
There was considerable talk on the streets yesterday and today with reference to the shooting. Sympathy appeared to be largely with Brown. Several citizens, it is said, have offered to stand his bond for him. He is still in jail but will be released this afternoon.

Western Union Moves.
The Western Union Telegraph Company which for many years has been located in the Reflector building has moved across the street to the Proctor hotel building. The business has grown to such an extent in the last few years that the company was forced to secure larger quarters.

Yours for the nomination,

Chronic Catarrhal Gastritis
(Thursday Health Talk No. 19)
(By J. B. Ball D. C.)
Is a chronic inflammation of the stomach followed by disturbed digestion in which there is increased abnormal mucus formation, changes in the character of the gastric juice, weakness in the walls of the stomach thus causing food to be retained within the stomach for an abnormal length of time.
This is caused by a pinching of the nerves where they leave the spinal column leading to the stomach.

There may be repeated attacks of acute indigestion preceding the development of chronic gastritis. There is usually headache, vertigo, insomnia, restlessness, drowsiness and lassitude. After eating there is a feeling of fullness, distress or oppression. Pyrosis or heart burn may also be present.
