POLICE SUCCEED IN ROUNDING UP OTHER ROBBERS

Two Negro Men Captured Following Confession of Southern Midgett

OFFICERS EXPECT TO CAPTURE TWO OTHER MEN STILL

Entire Gang Expected To Be Rounded Up With Considerable Booty

Local authorities have made considerable progress in apprehending the men connected with the series of robberies and attempt to burn the Greenville Laundry Thursday night, and so far Southern Midgett, Washington Simmons and Joe Nelson have been arrested charged with complicity.

Besides rounding up the robbers the officers have succeeded in recovering several articles believed to have been stolen at Grifton, Winterville and Bethel. In fact, it is believed the men compose the gang that has been operating in this vicinity the past several months, and the capture of the last two no doubt will throw more light on the affair.

The success of the officers in rounding up the gang is largely the result of information furnished by Midgett, who was so closely questioned when captured that he confessed everything. He also gave valuable information as to other parties acquainted with activities of the gang, and by forcing the outsiders in service authorities believe they will be able to capture every member and recover much of the goods taken from the towns reporting large hauls.

Telephone messages were received from Belhaven and Ayden this morning, telling of the presence of negroes believed to be wanted in connection with the robberies hereabouts, and not until they have the right men will the officers who left for Ayden this morning return. Chief Jones was confident the two men held at Ayden were actively connected with the gang operating here Thursday night, and believes he may be able of apprehending those participating in crimes in other cities.

Court action will not be taken until all principals have been rounded up. This may occur Monday morning, and if so many facts of value to the officers may be brought out. The confession of Midgett is largely responsible for the round-up so far, but it is believed more valuable information will be brought out before the case against the robbers is completed.

TARBORO TO BUILD LARGER BALL PARK FOR NEXT SEASON

Directors Take Important Action at Meeting During The Week

Tarboro, April 29.—The baseball directors of the Tarboro association held a meeting in the commissioners' room in the court house last Wednesday morning. The directors are C. A. Johnson, Don Gilliam, J. W. Forbes, George Fountain and W. E. Bard'n.

At the meeting it was reported that several players had been signed, but their names will not be given to the public until later on. The old circus ground on Pandola street, just to the north of the town common has been leased and will be used as a baseball park instead of the fair grounds. These grounds will be put in first class shape at once. A large and commodious grandstand will be erected and bleachers will be built to accommodate a large crowd. The grounds will be enclosed with a high canvas fence. All these improvements will be made by the lessees of the grounds and rented by the baseball association.

This selection for the baseball park is a good one. It is close to the town and more accessible. It is the opinion of many that this fact will help to swell the gate receipts greatly. The directors are at work putting the association in working shape so as to begin playing ball June 5.

SIXTH GRADE BOYS WALLOP FIFTH GRADE

A sixth grade baseball team of the Model school Thursday afternoon defeated the fifth grade by the score of 19 to 9. Hearn pitched a remarkably fine game for the sixth graders, allowing only five hits which were kept well scattered. Williams and Forbes did mound duty for the fifth grade, but were unable to prevent hits at critical moments.

PROF. UNDERWOOD SPEAKS TO PUPILS AT LOCAL COLLEGE

Superintendent of the Raleigh Schools in Interesting Discourse Here

S. B. Underwood was a visitor in East Carolina Teachers College on Friday and gave the students a few words of good will and cheer at the assembly hour. He is always greeted with enthusiastic applause whenever he returns to the college, and he always has some good, sensible message for the students given in an inspiring pleasing manner.

Size yourself up, know your job, and give yourself to it, was his advice. One of the most difficult things for a person to do is to size himself up, to appraise himself, and one of the causes of failure is a man's failure in knowing himself and what he can do. He gave as the outstanding characteristic of this college the spirit that indicates that the people here know exactly where they are going and are headed in that direction. He expressed the hope that it would ever be so, but that there would never creep in an attitude of complacency.

VETERAN, 82, TO WALK TO CAPITAL FOR PENSION

(By International News.) Cleveland.—L. N. Kaster, eighty-two veteran of the Civil War, stopped here the other night on his way from the Dayton Soldier's Home to Washington, where he will personally plead for a pension, which, he says, has been denied him unjustly. Kaster is walking the entire distance and is making about twenty-five miles daily.

He says he served throughout the war with Company R. First South Dakota Infantry, but, through some mix-up in the records, has failed to receive a pension.

He hopes to lay his case personally before the President.

FRANCE ON VERGE OF DIRECT BREAK WITH THE BRITISH

Occupation of Rhur District Produces Strained Relations of Nations

UNITED STATES TO SUPPORT BRITAIN, CONGRESSMAN SAYS

Declares France Will Not Be Permitted to Paralyze German Industry

(By International News.) Berlin, April 29.—If Franco goes through with her threat to occupy the Rhur basin after May 31 the impending breach with Great Britain will take place and the United States will unhesitatingly give diplomatic support to England, according to an interview with Congressman Britten of Illinois, printed in Berlin today. "All nations of the world," Britten is quoted as saying "will not allow France to paralyze Germany industrially under the pretense of enforcing provisions of the reparations. In fact, there is little chance of the United States congressman is quoted as saying:

MILES OF LEVEES SAVE HOMES FROM DISASTROUS FLOOD

Mississippi Valley Inhabitants No Longer Fear Raging Waters

(By International News.) Memphis, Tenn.—With flood waters of the Mississippi creeping higher and higher, nearly a million people in the immediate lower Mississippi Valley are without fear of an overflow and flood. They stake everything on the huge earthenworks—the levees—which are designed to prevent just such flood periods as the present.

There are 1,500 miles of levees along the lower Mississippi. On the west side they start above the mouth of the Ohio River and, in an almost unbroken chain, extend to the Gulf of Mexico. On the east bank they start from the high bluffs just south of Memphis, and, save for a gap where the Yazoo River empties into the Mississippi at Vicksburg, continue southward below New Orleans.

At places the Mississippi levees tower fifty feet or more above the level of the land. They are built like the pyramids, with a huge base often more than 300 feet in thickness. Engineers say they will hold the Mississippi River to its main floodway even should the high water get to be two or three feet beyond the record mark of 1913.

A patrol system now is being used to safeguard the embankments. Men, armed heavily, watch them day and night to report the smallest particle of water seeping through.

A fleet of government barges and steamboats is maintained at Memphis for no other purpose than to take care of the great levee system, and in each community there are organizations perfected for such emergencies. Patrolling in the most serious stages of the floods is the most exacting requirement.

The levees along the Lower Mississippi give overflow protection to an area of several million acres of land in Missouri, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana. In this area are flourishing cities, hundreds of small towns and villages and a large number of plantations, upon which live from a handful to several thousand persons. At Scott, Miss., under the very shadow of the Mississippi levees is one plantation of 28,000 acres, with 5,000 employees.

NEW YORK MAN RELEASED IN CHILD-SLAYING CASE

Wassili Guropa, taken into custody following the death of five-year-old Helen Givner in New York, has been exonerated and police have released him. Death of the child at first was believed to have been occasioned by fright from treatment sustained at the hands of a fiendish captor.

SPECIAL MUSIC AT THE METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL

Tomorrow Promises to be the Biggest Day in Many Sundays, Leaders Say

The annual Memorial Sunday school had another memorable service last Sunday morning. The theme of the whole session was the commemoration of the life and the work of its faithful member, the late George Edward Harris. The school began fifteen minutes early, namely 9:30, and after fifteen minutes of song the classes went to their places for instruction. Returning at 10:20 the reports were heard and then began the memorial service. First the Baraca class marched into the main auditorium led by their teacher, Mr. Wright and their president, Mr. Waldrop. The class then gathered within the chancel and in front of the altar rail and faced the assembled school. The class last Sunday without any special effort had 89 present. Supt. Rose then announced that the class would sing the favorite hymn of Mr. Harris, and the hymn which the class always sings so well; namely, "Throw Out the Life Line." This was rendered in an inspiring manner. Then Mr. Wright spoke briefly upon the work of Mr. Harris in that class and in the Sunday school. Following Mr. Wright's talk Miss Arlene Joyner and Mr. Rose sang a duet, "Whispering Hope." Then followed the benediction by Mr. Scoville, the pastor.

The best classes last Sunday were the following: 4-A taught by Miss Mial, all present and all on time.

9-B taught by Mr. Marvin Blount, all present and all on time.

6-B taught by Mr. Rodgers, all present and one new member.

3-A taught by Miss Martha Tyson, only one absent.

The beginners class, section A, had 30 present.

Philathia class No. 1, taught by Mrs. Herring had 45 present. Tomorrow morning there will be special orchestra music by the Sunday school orchestra of seven pieces. The singing will be a feature of the service also.

At 9:15 there will be a meeting of the teachers and officers of the Sunday school, in preparation for children's and Mother's Day which will be observed on the same Sunday this year, namely the second Sunday in May.

Services tomorrow 9:45 till 10:45; no later.

In May Day outbreaks police usually do the crowning.

BROOKS SUCCEEDS DUMAY AS HEAD OF CAROLINA BANKERS

Convention Declines to Endorse Co-operative Marketing, Though Interested

Pinehurst, April 29.—With the election of C. E. Brooks, of Hendersonville, as the new president, the North Carolina Bankers' Association, at its closing session, resolved itself into a love feast while R. D. Douglass, of Greensboro, on behalf of the association, presented A. M. Dumay, retiring president, with a silver service as a token of appreciation.

Dr. John D. Biggs, of Williamston, was promoted to first vice-president, S. A. Hubbard, of Asheville, to second vice president, and T. A. Uzell, of New Bern, who has been treasurer, went in as third vice president. H. G. Kramer, of Elizabeth City, becomes treasurer, while Alan T. Bowler, executive secretary, continues in office under the direction of the executive committee.

Marketing Not Endorsed.

Oliver J. Sands, general manager of the Tobacco Growers' Association, got mentioned in the resolutions of thanks, but there was no endorsement of what he had to say in reference to co-operative marketing. The resolution of thanks included all those who spoke at the convention, the hotel management, Mr. Tufts, the newspapers and all others who had anything to do with the convention.

Mr. Sands was on hand today to do missionary work for the co-operative association, but the bankers hesitated about committing themselves definitely as to their attitude toward the movement, although their interest in it is keen.

JUNIORS WIN OUT IN TOURNAMENT AT TEACHERS COLLEGE

Basketball Game Ends in Favor Of Hard Fighting Junior Class

In the basketball tournament between the Junior and Senior basketball teams of East Carolina Teachers College the Juniors came out champions for the year winning the loving cup presented by the faculty. The final game was played Thursday afternoon. The cup was presented to the president of the Junior class, Miss Mary Baggett, at the assembly hour this morning. President Wright took advantage of the occasion to make a telling talk on the sportsmanlike play. He who plays the game fairly and squarely has learned a great lesson in good citizenship, he said. As he gave the cup over to the Juniors he made a happy pun on the word "spirit," saying that a loving cup was once filled with spirits of another kind, but now it was symbolic of good spirit.

A fine sportsmanlike spirit as characterized the athletic contests in the college this year, and has reflected itself in the spirit of the school, he said.

Miss Mary Baggett accepted the cup in a very gracious manner, expressing the wish that the spirit commended by President Wright would be that of both teams always. The Junior class sang the class song.

GORMAN REPLIES TO STATEMENTS REGARDING SALE

Local Man Disclaims Certain Facts in Articles of Recent Critics

Mr. Editor:

I believe every man has a right to express his opinion, but no man of principal nor few publishers of repute will publish an unsigned article attacking another citizen's repute. Therefore I was surprised when I saw the article in your Thursday's issue which you copied from the Southern Tobacco Journal in which my motive in turning over my warehouse to the Co-operative Marketing association is impugned. It is true my name is not called in this slurring attack, but your readers all know who is meant. The party who wrote the article knows as much about my transaction as he does about the co-operative methods, and, since he makes statements which are false and attempts to slander me, he is no doubt doing the same towards the association in his daily walks.

I agreed to let the association have my warehouse under one of their three methods of obtaining warehouse property, which they offered to the owners of such property, and under one of these contracts all of the warehouses in Greenville could and now can do as I have done.

The amount of salary has not been mentioned by either myself or the association, I have faith in the movement and management, and have put myself in the hands of the association, believing I will be treated fairly.

When H. L. J. states, "I happen to know this man and know he was bitterly opposed to the marketing plan until a few days ago," he again tells what is not true.

I will admit that I was skeptical but defy anyone to say truthfully that they even heard me express myself in any way that could be construed as he stated. I did not see how the association could finance so large a proposition, and I had my doubts as to their ability to dry and dispose of the crop so handled. After making the trips to Richmond and New York where I talked to my friends in the tobacco trade, and then talking to Judge Bingham and Mr. O. J. Sands, these doubts were removed. END OF CENTURY CLUB INTERESTED IN CLEAN UP WEEK

Commends Action of Chamber Of Commerce in Effort To Clean Up City

The members of the End of the Century Club are glad to see that the Chamber of Commerce have the physical condition of our town and county at heart as well as the financial condition.

They urge us all to clean up premises so as to be sure of doing our bit in the big health crusade. Trash and filth afford breeding places for flies and flies are one of our chief germ distributors, especially typhoid and summer diseases more common among children.

Since 1916, the year we established a health department in Pitt county and began to systematically clean up our town in order to protect ourselves against filth and diseases. The records show that typhoid fever alone has decreased from 800 cases in 1916 to 56 cases in 1921.

Malaria has decreased accordingly for when we remove all the old tin cans, boxes and barrels that hold water, we destroy the breeding places of the mosquito and everybody understands how the mosquito spreads malaria.

These are just two of the evils we destroy. Then isn't it necessary for Greenville and Pitt county to clean up?

The proper place to keep overhead expense is underfoot.

Premier Lloyd George warns the country of a new political crisis, as if we could expect anything more of Russia and other countries eternally wrangling over something.

The Republicans are making an effort to scrap civil service regulations, forgetting that they won't be in office all the time. Civil service is as good for one party as another and the Republican had better let it remain as it is if they know what's right.

An eleventh hour decision to change terms on a boat to the Grant centennial caused President Harding to avert serious injury to himself or probable death. It was certainly fortunate he is so used to eleventh hour decisions and while he may have been condemning congress for forcing him to such a habit, he has them to thank now.

President Harding paid a deserving tribute to General Elmer Grant, great leader of northern troops of the civil war and later president of the nation. To mention Grant means also to recall the name of Lee, who occupies as great a place in the hearts of the country as the great northerner. Both established themselves firmly in the heart of the country, and when tribute is paid to one the other necessarily is recalled also.

Pitt county farmers will make an effort to produce one of the best crops of tobacco in years this season, and if the market is normal at all their harvest will be as great as the inflation period. Not that the inflation period is going to return, but because so many forces are now at work in the farmers' interest. The market is guessed, to be sure, but good tobacco is going to demand prices in proportion to the cost of production, that isn't to be doubted in the slightest sense of the word.

The community sing planned for Greenville Mother's Day should receive the support of every institution in an effort to make it one of the greatest occasions of the kind in history of the city. This can be done by united effort, and it is the duty of everyone to get behind present plans and complete them. Community cooperation invariably results from the sing, and there's nothing more in need of this particular time.

The high tariff which members of the Republican party are doing everything possible to put over on the public would be one of the worst things the farmer has had in years. It is something like giving a brass brick in return for one of gold, and if the public doesn't discourage passage of the measure, the interest of the farmer will not be properly preserved. Senate Simmons is about the best friend the farmers have betting for them, and if the tariff is defeated they have him to thank more than anyone else.

The woman's auxiliary of the Pitt county post of the American Legion should be of a great help to the post, and the greater its membership the greater its service will be. The Legion made no mistake in deciding to establish the woman's auxiliary, and the liberty given them eventually will bring splendid returns. Women prove invaluable assets to every organization. They established their ability during the war, and since the time have rapidly gained recognition. That they will prove of great assistance in advancing the cause of the legion is not to be doubted in the least, and the public should stand behind the buddies and sisters in perfecting the organization destined to be one of the greatest and most influential the country has ever known.

Thousands of people attended the county school commencement exercises in Tazewell yesterday, and enjoyed a day which should have proper consideration in every county every year. Greenville gave the county school commencement plan a try out this year also, and found it exactly what was desired in bringing the people together.

The competitive spirit created among the public schools is something to consider also, and each succeeding year should see the schools become more perfect along all branches of education and physical development covered by the commencement program. The experiment was truly wonderful, and other counties owe it to give the plan a tryout if nothing more.

The sale of six million dollars worth of state road bonds looks like there is going to be some road building going on in the near future. Money spent in this direction meets public approval. Good roads are absolutely essential to the development of every state, and the sooner North Carolina is completely connected by a network of hard surfaced thoroughfares the sooner we will experience that industrial supremacy which we are so deserving of. Six millions dollars is a mighty big amount of money to spend when times are tight, but when devoted to such a good cause as good roads everyone will approve it.

ANOTHER PITT COUNTY MAN MAKING GOOD.

Greenville and Pitt county people will be interested in learning that W. F. Evans, former Pitt county man who has been practicing law in Raleigh the past four or five years, has entered the race for solicitor of his district. Mr. Evans has made hundreds of staunch friends since going to Raleigh, and according to information reaching here, stands a pretty fair chance of winning an honor of which he is certainly deserving.

Mr. Evans is a native Pitt countian, and might be termed a self-made man. He was raised in the Odd Fellows orphan home, and when quite a young man returned to Greenville where he conducted a book store for a few years. While conducting the book store he used his spare time in studying law, and was admitted to the bar with high honors.

After becoming a member of the bar Mr. Evans sought political honors, being elected to the senate for two terms. He was active in putting across considerable legislation which he believed to be of benefit to the county, and in this way won many staunch supporters.

There are few men who have taken advantage of limited resources in life and come out as successful as the Pitt countian, and whatever honor may be conferred upon him by the people whom he has faithfully served will not be too great. Pitt county always takes particular pride in the advancement of her sons, and especially of Mr. Evans' type. He has won out over adverse conditions, and this is one of the highest tributes any man could ask for. Pitt county wishes her son great success in his new field of endeavor.

MORTGAGE DEBT ON HOMES.

According to a preliminary report that has just been issued by the Department of Commerce through the Bureau of the Census, the total estimated mortgage debt on owned homes and farms in continental United States, in 1920 was $11,091,000,000 and the total estimated value of these mortgaged homes and farms was $31,708,000,000, the mortgage debt thus representing 34.7 per cent of the total value. It should be noted that the term "owned homes" is used by the Bureau to designate those homes which are occupied by their owners, and similarly, "owned farms" is applied to farms operated by their owners, rented homes and tenant farms not being included in these totals.

The total mortgage debt on owned homes and farm in the United States in 1890, the only previous census in which this information was obtained, was reported as $2,133,000,000 and the total value of these mortgaged homes and farms was reported as $5,687,000,000 the mortgage debt thus representing 37.5 per cent of the total value. The mortgage debt on owned homes and farms increased 415.8 per cent between 1890 and 1920, and the value of these mortgaged homes and farms increased 457.6 per cent. As a result, the ratio of debt to value has increased, being 34.7 per cent in 1920 as against 37.5 per cent in 1890.

The total number of homes not on farms in the United States in 1920 was 17,600,000 of which 7,195,000 or 40.9 per cent were owned by the occupants; and of these owned homes 2,855,000 or 39.7 per cent were mortgaged. Information regarding the value of the home and the amount of mortgage debt was secured from 1,893,000 or 66.3 per cent of these mortgaged homes. The total mortgage debt on the mortgaged homes not on farms in 1920 is estimated as $6,000,000,000 and the total value of such homes as $14,092,000,000, the ratio of debt to value being 22.6 per cent.

The total mortgage debt on owned homes not on farms in the United States in 1890 was reported as $1,

NATION-WIDE MOVIE SURVEY.

For the first time in the history of education as connected with the motion picture, there will be conducted a nation-wide survey of the influence of moving pictures on the average high school student throughout the country.

The National Committee for better films, affiliated with the National board of Review of Motion Pictures co-operating with several prominent educators, broadcasting among some six hundred principals of high schools in cities ranging from five thousand inhabitants and under, to 75,000 and including New York City, a questionnaire on motion pictures to be answered by the students as a lesson in English which are submitted with a view to bringing out a particular point either in favor of or against pictures, has no axe to grind, and seeks solely to discover the likes and dislikes of the younger generation who attend motion pictures, the relation of the pictures they see to their school work or their vocational selections, the number of times they are able to go to motion picture theatres, and the impressions carried away by them, etc.

Lack of definite knowledge regarding the effects of the motion picture upon the school student is one of the reasons advanced by the National committee for the undertaking of this work. Attendance at the movies may have a bearing upon home study and the development of character. There is no accurate information upon the kinds of pictures which make the deepest impression, what types of screen actors are regarded most highly, or what classes of instructional pictures are most favored.

After all, in the general scramble to make pictures fit for the younger generation, no one yet seems to have taken the trouble to consult them as to their likes and dislikes. A survey such as is being undertaken by the national board of Review may reveal the fact that the mind of the young boy or girl imposes upon pictures a much stricter censorship than his elders would ever think of. Giving the child credit for being able to distinguish between right and wrong is something which has heretofore been lacking in all attempts to bring films down to the level of the young mind. Frank answers from these young students should do much to clarify situation.

Those principals of high schools who are interested and have not received a copy of the questionnaire, may obtain it by applying to the national board of Review of Motion Pictures, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York City, N. Y.

The national committee plans to have the results of the survey interpreted and laid before the public by the end of the present school year

Announcement Luncheon.

Today at one o'clock Mrs. J. Luther Tomlinson entertained at a seven course luncheon, in the Grill room of the Cherry Hotel.

During the course of the luncheon after the salad was served a corsage of Russell roses was given each guest in the center of which was the secret two tiny pink hearts tied together with a picture of George Tomlinson on one and a picture of "Lil" Chapman on the other. There was much merriment and excitement after this and with the next course came small pink satin bags of rice and a toast in each to be read to the bride-to-be, while she was showered with rice. The wedding will take place in the early fall.

The Grill room of the hotel was very pretty with its decorations of pink Russell roses and pink candles. The place cards were small pink rose buds and pink baskets filled with salted nuts.

The bride-to-be Miss Chapman, is the daughter of Mr. L. J. Chapman, merchant and farmer of Grifton, N. C. She has been in Wilson the past twelve years where she graduated from Atlantic Christian College and has been teaching piano since. She is a very popular young lady and has many friends in Wilson who will be glad to know she has decided to live here.

Mr. George W. Tomlinson is a very promising attorney of this city and a member of the Kiwanis club. He is a son of Mr. Wm. Henry Tomlinson of Wilson county.

The guests of Mrs. Tomlinson were Miss Chapman, Mrs. S. L. Sadler, Mrs. Ernest Paschal, Miss Mabel Lynch, Miss Harrell, Miss Marianna Daniel, Mrs. Byrd of Smithfield, Miss Tomlinson, Miss Smith, Mrs. Howard S. Hilley and Mrs. W. D. Adams.—Wilson Times.

Wants to Know More About What Candidates Mean by Duty

To the candidates for office in Pitt county, particularly for sheriff: I am a woman voter and in looking over the list of candidates I always wonder which is the cleanest, which one will be the most vigilant and forceful in protecting and upholding our prohibition laws.

I believe every woman in Pitt county would like to have the same information before she decides who is her choice in the election. You state that you will perform your duty as sheriff if elected to this office and we believe you mean this.

Every man, however, has a different conception of duty. Mr. Candidate, will you please let us know what you mean by "your duty."

COLORED PEOPLE TO STAGE BIG MEETING AT KINSTON

There will be a big meeting tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Kinston court house, arranged by the Rev. Jas. E. Holder, colored Episcopal Rector there, when the colored ex-soldiers of the town and county will receive their victory medals and buttons at the hands of Judge Oliver Allen. Commander Liston L. Mallard of the local post of the American Legion will be on the platform and Lawyer R. T. Allen, himself a legionnaire, will deliver the address. A band and a choir of several dozen voices will lead the soldiers in a parade from the colored Episcopal church to the court house, and everything is laid out on an imposing scale. The white legionnaires of Kinston and many other white citizens will be in attendance, and several persons are expected from neighboring counties. Rev. James E. Holder plans to do the same thing for the Greenville and Pitt county colored ex-soldiers at a later date.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR CITIZEN MILITARY CAMP

(By International News)

Denver.—Plans have been completed at Fort Logan, near here, for the citizens' military camp that will be conducted there this Summer.

Three courses will be given for applicants from the Eighth Army Corps area, designated as the Red, White and Blue courses.

Applications for admission to the camp must be received at the Headquarters of the Eighth Army Corps, in Fort Sam Houston, Texas, prior to May 31.

The curriculum of the three courses at the Summer camp provides a course of training for youths of seventeen to twenty-five, advanced training to qualify as specialists and non-commissioned officers in the organized reserves, and training to qualify for officers in the Officers' Reserve Corps.

BOXING BOUTS WILL BE LEGALIZED, SAYS LANDIS

(By International News)

Atlanta.—There will soon be legalized boxing in every State in the Union, under the supervision of a boxing commission similar to the New York body, is the opinion of ex-Judge Kennesaw M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball.

"The politicians are simply afraid of the fanatical reformers," is the reason said to have been given by Judge Landis for present opposition to prize fighting.

His views were presented by Jake Abel, Atlanta boxer, who said he talked with Judge Landis on a recent visit to Florida and found the baseball czar a boxing enthusiast.

AYDEN DEFEATS LOCALS BY SCORE OF 10 TO 4

The Ayden high school baseball club yesterday afternoon defeated Greenville by the score of 10 to 4 at Ayden on a diamond that was in extremely bad condition because of recent rain. Brown started out to do mound duty for Greenville, but was pounded so hard that he was relieved by Satterthwaite after the second frame. Ayden showed decidedly better form than formerly, and took advantage of Greenville's wildness.

RISE OF THE FRANC REDUCES FRENCH BUSINESS DAILY

Reparations Loss and Trade Decline May Come From Buoyant Money

By FRANK R. MASON (International News Correspondent) Paris—"Beware of Economists," warns L. Matin. The rising franc does not necessarily mean that with it will come a return to the good old days of normal business and cheaper prices...

"But what is more serious," warns Stephane Lauzanne in Le Matin, "is that as the franc improves the number of francs we get for reparations diminishes." "When the reparation total was fixed France's share represented 218,000,000 francs. Today, because of the improvement of the franc, it amounts to 180,000,000 francs...

Gorman Replies to Statements Regarding Sale

Continued from page one) moved, for I found that the money could be gotten and that the bulk of the tobacco could be disposed of in the green state.

Gorman's warehouse has led the Greenville market for the past eleven years. I have been maligned, cursed and discussed by those opposed to me, but invariably have witnessed these follow my lead when they saw my success.

We are told co-operation is good for every business and every organization, but if you listen to those opposed to the co-operative movement you are told that it was bad for the farmer. Mr. Spruill, (whose Rocky Mount speech against Co-operative Marketing is now being circulated in printed form) in his speech before the Chamber of Commerce in Greenville this week advised co-operation as the best means of success. If co-operation is good for the warehouses why is it not good for the farmer?

The warehouses of Greenville, Wilson and other markets have organized to work co-operatively against the Co-operative Marketing Plan. Any thinking person knows that if the farmers stick together and pool their crop they can make a success, and that collective selling will get better prices than the auction system.

The opponents are crying big salaries are being paid. They do not tell you that the tobacco farmers of North Carolina paid the warehouses for selling their 1921 crop, (a light crop at that) around two million dollars. That the warehouses in Greenville took around two hundred thousand dollars in charges and that Wilson warehouses collected in charges close to three hundred and fifty thousand dollars. From these figures anyone can readily see that the association can afford to pay good salaries for competent men and then save money.

In my opinion, the tobacco planter has the opportunity of taking the chance of a profit from his tobacco crop, making it a sure profit, if he will only be guided by common horse sense. Anyone who will for a moment think, will readily see that as a body the farmer has strength and power to control the situation.

The directors have selected able, honest and successful business men, who if supported by the farmer, will carry the affairs of the association to success. J. N. GORMAN.

To the Voters of Pitt County:

As a candidate for the office of sheriff of Pitt county I respectfully solicit your votes. I have no fight to make on any other candidates for this high office: I shall present my claims: they will present theirs, you will be the judge.

I ask your consideration for the following reasons:

First: I was born and reared in Pitt county, hence have the good of the county at heart.

Second: I am in the prime of life, am physically strong, and am therefore able to undertake and perform the strenuous duties of this office.

Third: I believe I am mentally able to handle all the clerical work of the office, having been educated in our home institution, East Carolina Teachers College.

Fourth: Although entitled to exemption in the recent world war, I volunteered, entered the Training camp, served in France, and endured all the hardships of army life. If you had a friend or relative in the army during the war you know something of the sacrifices made. I am the only candidate for sheriff that made this sacrifice and though I did no more than my duty, yet I feel that this alone will entitle me to your vote should you find me capable in other respects.

If nominated I shall fill the office to the best of my ability: Your support will be appreciated.

Very Respectfully, R. L. JONES.

HAWK PLAYS STORK. DELIVERING BABY PIG

Belvidere, Ill., April 27 — The strange incident of a hawk playing the role of a stork and depositing a live pig on the farm of H. C. Stanley, of Cherry Valley, was told at the sale of the porker after it had grown to killing size.

A dog on the Stanley farm noticed the hawk flying low over the farm, followed by a flock of crows, the dog frightened the captor, and it dropped its prey. The baby pig was fed with a spoon until it grew strong. At the time it was sold the pig weighed 325 pounds and was the father of thirty pigs.

JAPANESE FAVOR CARDINALS TO WIN WORLD'S SERIES

Nippon Fans, Loyal to "Herb" Hunter, Root For Rickey's Outfit

By JAMES M'LAIN, Tokio, April 26.—The St. Louis Cardinals are favored by a majority of Japanese sport fans to win the next world's baseball series.

The following that the "Show Me" State team has developed in far-off Nippon would surprise not only the other major league teams in America, but Manager Branch Rickey and all of his players—except "Herb" Hunter, the utility man acquired last season by the St. Louis outfit.

Hunter is responsible for the great following developed over here, especially in Tokio, where he is held in high esteem by baseball players and fans alike. He is regarded by both players and fans as the utmost in ball players.

Hunter first came to Japan in 1920 with Gene Doyle, of the Boston Post, and his aggregation of professionals. He left the team here, however, and became connected with the Waseda University as a coach. Last fall he came back and for several months he served not only that university but Keio University as well in developing baseball material from the student ranks. He did a great deal of good, too, and the Waseda team, which attracted so much attention in the United States last Summer, is stronger as the result of his visit.

We'll be Right There.

It was because of what he has done for these teams and the feeling that all who have met him here have for him that the Cardinals have such a large following in the land of cherry blossoms.

"We'll be right there this year," Hunter said to a group who bade him good-bye when he sailed for spring training from Yokohama recently, and the Japanese believe him. Hunter will be back in November with a team of big league players, and after a series here he will take them to the Philippines. Agitation now is being started at Shanghai to get him to stop there for a few games. Hunter is bringing the men himself, and in Tokio he has the whole-hearted support and backing of Wasedo and Keio universities in the enterprise.

The personnel of the team he will bring was not definite when he left here, but Rogers Hornsby, George Kelley, George Burns, Waite Hoyt, Arthur Nehf, Frank Frisch, Harry Heilmann, Herbert Pennock, Earl Smith and Dave Bancroft are among those he named that he hopes to have in his line-up.

This will make three American teams that will visit Japan this year, as Indiana University is due here this spring and Pennsylvania University is coming in the summer, both at the invitation of Waseda University. Hunter will return to Waseda after his team leaves for home and will return here again in the fall of 1923 to prepare the Waseda boys for another tour of America.
