

CHAUTAQUA TO APPEAR IN CITY JUNE 12 TO 18TH

Local Guarantors Met and Organized at Interesting Session Yesterday.

DR. W. P. SHAMHART ELECTED CHAIRMAN H. L. SMITH, SECTY

Prof. H. E. Ausin Elected Head of the Publicity Campaign Committee.

Greenville Chautauqua, June 12-18, so announced by Dr. Samuel N. Kent, director of circuit A, of the Swarthmore Chautauqua Association who met the local guarantors yesterday afternoon. The guarantors organized by electing Dr. W. P. Shamhart, chairman, H. L. Smith, secretary J. L. Little, treasurer and the following chairman of committees: J. N. Hart, ticket selling; H. E. Austin, publicity; J. W. Higgs, grounds, H. I. Smith, hospitality; Mrs. R. Williams, Junior Work.

The guarantors are enthusiastic about the program as outlined by Dr. Kent. It promises to be the best yet presented by the Chautauqua association.

There are six features to which to call your special attention:

The program follows:

First—The "Morning Hour" lectures. In response to the popular and continuous demand expressed to us for more lectures, we are this year adding to an already full program four special lectures. These will be given in the afternoon in place of the usual series lectures by the superintendent. But the valuable and popular superintendents' lectures will be assigned to the "Morning Hour," an innovation with us, but a tried and successful institution in Western Chautauqua. At eleven o'clock on the second, third, fourth, and fifth days, the "Morning Hour" lectures. Come out and be at the first, and you'll hear the series.

Second—On the second night, we are presenting Julius Caesar Nayphe in his "Oriental Pageant." You will realize the popularity of his lecture-demonstration when we tell you that, according to the averages of the reports of committees, he scored the highest of any attraction on our American circuit last summer. He is bound to satisfy you with his unusual program. There is nothing else like him on the lecture platform. We might mention in passing that the musical program on the second night is given by the Ernest Gamble Concert Party.

Third—On the third night you will have an opportunity to hear the Dunbar Philharmonic Choir in a magnificent three-part program of vocal music, distinctly high grade but not "high-brow." Trained by Ralph Dunbar, who is known everywhere for his artistically coached organizations, this group will live up to the best of his reputation. Sacred numbers, popular light and grand opera selections, and the opera "Cavalleria Rusticana" in costume.

Fourth—On the fourth night comes the feature lecture of the week, by Brooks Fletcher, the dramatic orator. More than one million people in the United States and Canada have paid to hear Brooks Fletcher again and again. He goes back to the same towns year after year. He fills more return dates than any other present-day orator. His voice, his appearance, his personality, all contribute to his magnetic control over his audience. His lecture will thrill and inspire all who hear it. Be sure you are in his audience.

Fifth—On the fifth night "Turn to the Right." Aren't you delighted? We are. To present this "comedy that will live forever" has been a long unfulfilled ambition. It was difficult to secure the rights to the play. But we finally won out and you are to be congratulated. The cast, directed by John A. Regan, whom many of you will recall as the "quite so" daceon in "Polly of the Circus," will be competent, and the costumes and scenery will insure an artistic production. This play ran 443 nights in New York. It will be in your town only once. Don't let your friends miss it.

MEDICAL SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING IN BEAUFORT COUNTY

Several Matters Considered by Tri-County Members at Washington.

The Tri-County Medical Society, comprising the counties of Pitt, Beaufort and Martin were delightfully entertained at supper in Washington by members of the Beaufort County Medical society last night. Several physicians from Pitt county attended the meeting and were highly gratified at the splendid spirit in evidence.

The meeting was held at the old Elk's Hall, in the Baugham building, supper being served by ladies of the city. The address of welcome was delivered by Lindsay C. Warren, the response being made by Dr. John D. Biggs, of Williamston, former president of the society.

Principal speakers of the evening were Dr. Hugh York of Williamston, Dr. John Nicholson of Washington, Dr. C. J. Ellen of Greenville, Dr. Paul Fitzgerald of Greenville and Dr. G. M. Cooper of Raleigh, member of the state board of health.

Each address contained points of interest and value to members of the society and the evening passed off more pleasantly than any other in months. Physicians from all three counties were in attendance and exhibited more than ordinary interest in the program.

BIBLE CLASS TO ENJOY LONG SAIL DOWN THE RIVER

Men's Class of Christ Church Outline Plans at Luncheon Last Night.

Members of the Young Men's Bible class of the Eighth Street Christian church in semi-monthly session last night enjoyed a delightful luncheon and a program of more than ordinary interest.

About seventy-five members of the class were present, including a number of visitors. Several interesting and timely talks were made, and considerable optimism concerning the future prevailed. Several musical selections were rendered by members of the class.

It was decided that the class should take a sail on Tar river, in the near future, the date to be determined later. Much interest was centered around this event and from all indications it will be the greatest since the class was organized.

NEGRO MAN HELD IN CITY JAIL ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Smithwick Man, 55 Years Old Charged with Criminally Assaulting Daughter

THIRTEEN YEAR OLD GIRL COMPLAINS TO FRIENDS WHO AID HER

Said Father Called Her From Fields to Woods where Assault was Committed

A negro by the name of Smithwick, about 55 years of age, was brought to Greenville yesterday afternoon and lodged in the county jail charged with criminally assaulting his thirteen year old daughter. The charge is one of the most serious that has been brought to the attention of authorities in several months, and the man will be held without bond until the next term of criminal superior court.

Smithwick was arrested by Paciolus authorities following a warrant sworn out by persons to whom the girl is alleged to have complained. The man vigorously denied the charge, declaring that somebody was trying to put something over on him.

It is alleged the girl told authorities that Smithwick called her from a field in which they were working, carried her to a small strip of woodland where the crime is said to have been committed. This statement was reiterated in the presence of several members of her race, it is said, and it was upon this evidence the man was arrested.

The charge of criminal assault in this state carries with it a sentence to the electric chair, providing the bill of indictment is not changed, and the first hearing given Smithwick will be watched with much interest. Colored people of Paciolus are particularly interested in the affair and it is quite likely the court room will be crowded to its capacity when the case comes up for hearing.

SENATOR HOKE SMITH SUPPORTS HENRY FORD

A CALL FOR RELIEF.

That Greenville and Pitt county people will respond liberally to the Near East relief campaign to be waged throughout the state beginning May 23rd cannot be doubted in the least.

They have given generously to all such causes, and simply because times are hard and money tight is no reason to expect they will not give as freely as ever. The thousands of people suffering untold agonies in the Near East section is sufficient appeal to stir even the hardest hearted person to action, and it is easy to believe Pitt county will raise her apportionment of $3,960 within a short time after the drive begins.

The cause is one of the greatest in which the people ever had an opportunity of contributing to and that they will live up to expectation goes without saying.

HELEN YORKE TO GIVE RECITAL AT COLLEGE IN JUNE

Famous Prima Donna of New York to Come Here Under Auspices of Alumnae.

Helen Yorke, a famous prima donna of New York City, will give a song recital at East Carolina Teachers College on the evening of June 5th. This will be one of the greatest attractions ever offered at the college and the outstanding artistic feature of the commencement. She comes under the auspices of the Alumnae Association. The Alumnae recital last year, by Dicie Howell, proved so popular that the Alumnae decided to bring another prima donna this year.

They are exceedingly fortunate in getting Helen Yorke. Her voice is a beautiful coloratura soprano with lyric qualities. She has had a most enthusiastic reception wherever she has sung. The New York papers and those in the New England cities have praised her singing very highly. "Some of her enthusiastic admirers have predicted for her a career as brilliant as that of Galli-Curci or Patti," one paper says. She has sung in Italy, both in Naples and in Rome, appearing in roles in grand opera, and was well received in both cities, and the papers spoke of the great career ahead of her.

Miss Bertolet will play her accompaniments. She has heard Miss Yorke sing and cannot say too much about her wonderful voice and charming personality.

GOVERNMENT TO BUILD HOSPITALS

Bids for Fourteen Institutions to be Asked for in the Next Ninety Days.

Washington, May 17.—The government within the next ninety days will ask for bids from outside contractors for construction of new hospitals for disabled ex-service men, it was stated today.

President Harding's approval of all proposed sites is expected within a few days. Fourteen institutions will be built, it was stated, and sites for seven have already been approved.

MANY CHILDREN RECEIVE AID OF WELFARE BOARD

Monthly Report of Superintendent Futrell Shows Many Needy Cases Cared for

RELIEF WORK AMONG POOR CLASSES GIVEN ADDITIONAL IMPETUS

Board Discusses Proposal of Providing Relief Loan for Needy Persons

The board of Public Welfare met in regular session yesterday afternoon in Superintendent Futrell's office. A very interesting report of the work for the month was heard. It was estimated that 150 persons called at the offices during the month, 500 letters written and 89 official visits made.

The report showed that 17 children had come to the attention of the juvenile court during this month. Some of these children were found in deplorable sanitary conditions and 3 were entirely separated from parents and guardians. The majority of these children were either orphan or half orphan except 3 whose parents were living.

During the month 7 applications were made for poor relief, two cases being approved while the others were referred to other counties or adjusted by private charity.

Fourteen calls were made during the month, not calling for court action or poor relief. Mention is made of a few of them. Work was secured for 3 women, family trouble adjusted in 3 instances, one harelip case operated on at hospital and one very worthy child's eyes operated on. The last case was interesting to the board as this 11 year old girl had never been to school because she could not see, and had not gone to a blind school because she could see well enough to work at home. She will soon be able to see now and ready to begin school when it opens. It was pointed out that 3 urgent cases for operation had been referred to the Welfare office during the month with request for financial assistance. Discussing these cases the board raised the question of providing a Welfare Loan Fund to care for urgent and worthy hospital cases. The idea of providing for such a fund was well received. The class of people eligible for this fund, it was noted, are those who are never able to meet emergencies, but, in many cases, could pay back a part of cost-reclaiming them to health. Plans were discussed looking to creating this fund and in a short time announcement would be made as to the amount necessary and sources of creating such a fund.

Mrs. Campbell Scores Government for Carrying for Drugs of Europe.

New York, May 17.—The fine old American stock is degeneration in southern mountains through lack of education, while America is spending huge sums of money to Americanize the drugs of Europe. Mrs. J. The government doesn't seem interested in saving the only real reservoir of real American stock processes of southern mountaineers, she said.

Mr. Shaffer is one of the best known florists in the country and his connection with the local concern will be received with general interest.

GREENVILLE RUNS AWAY WITH STRONG FARMVILLE TEAM

Locals Nose out 16 to 4 Victory Over Visitors by Hitting the Apple Hard.

By pounding the horseshoe hard at opportune moments Greenville was able to nose out a 16 to 4 victory over Farmville yesterday afternoon at the fair ground. The game was decidedly interesting despite the one sided score and each club, composed of home players and what few league men have arrived, exhibited pretty good form in the field.

Greenville, however, used the wheel more advantageously than did the visitors, and were able to pile up an early lead which at no time was threatened to be overgone. Farmville battled gamely, and pounded the old apple hard at times, but inability to hit with men on bases resulted in their undoing.

Hathway started out on the mound for Greenville and pitched in pretty good form. He was relieved in early stages, however, by Fleming, who was relieved some time later by Brown, the Ayden southpaw who has been in training with the Baltimore Oriole. The big boy was wild as a March hare, however, and the inquisitive fans weren't afforded much of an opportunity to determine his natural ability.

Barrett did the mound work for Farmville and accepted the slaughter with a remarkable amount of nerve and determination. He stuck to the job like a man, and on another day would have certainly fared much better. His relief proved unable to stem the tide of battle as Greenville had on their batting clothes and hit the old pill as if they had been accustomed to it all their lives.

The few league players in evidence showed up in fine form and justified belief that the season will be highly successful.

Moscow, May 17.—Despite the outcome of the conference, at Genoa Russia will carry out all international obligations to which she is committed, Leon Trotsky, soviet war commissioner, declared today in an exclusive interview to the International News.

He said the Russian government is anxious to enter into a commercial agreement with the United States. The plan to have farmers give a record of their acreage when listing their taxes is a good one, and will place the agricultural department in position to give out accurate records of farm work in the state.

President Harding unemployed conference so far has met with little success as it is reported there are 150 men to every 100 jobs in all sections of the country, unless it is in the south.

Closer co-operation between American and European business industry is urged as a means of delivering the two countries from the industrial chaos of past months.

Pitt county farmers realized an appalling loss through the rain and hail storm Sunday, and many probably will not recover from the damage the remainder of the year.

It is gratifying to note the Stutz fire truck recently purchased by the city has arrived. The machine is one of the latest fire fighting equipments placed on the market and will place Greenville in front ranks.

The administration through Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, is taking steps to prevent soaring coal prices, and if they succeed something certainly will be accomplished.

Florida seems to be having some trouble with county officials in the Hillsborough district, several of them having been charged with fraud in connection with shortage of county appropriations.

BEAUFORT FARMERS TURN OUT FOR SPEECHES ON MARKETING

This is a head line for an account of meeting recently held at Washington, N. C. The meeting was addressed by several prominent gentlemen, the Star of the occasion being Major Joyner, we presume a son of the Hon. J. Y. Joyner.

"The Kentucky tobacco was marketed in February so that in these three months the growers see what the co-operative plan is doing. Referring to the association he said it was not dominated by any one.

(A voice - We were promised 60 per cent, what about it?) Major Joyner, your contract does not specify any price but I can assure you that you will get as much as the banker says he can advance no matter whether it is 10 per cent or 60 per cent.

We wonder how many people remember that Mr. J. Y. Joyner said in his reply to the Editor of this Journal, that farmers would receive or that it was almost a certainty that they would receive as much in the advance that would be made, as the entire crop sold for this tobacco year.

Under the old plan of buying the grower had to take just what was offered him. Now the buyer has to pay just what the growers say he shall pay. The growers fix the prices not the buyer, so that it is now come to us.

Now we all know, that under the present system a farmer owns his tobacco and controls it until a sale is made. Under the proposed system the farmer turns his tobacco over to the Co-operative concern for five years - and he (the farmer) has nothing more to say about the sale, etc.

WAIT AND SEE.

AN UNMISTAKABLE FAILURE.

Cordell Hull, chairman of the national Democratic committee, believes a reaction against the present administration is in progress and predicts victory for the Democrats at the next election.

That he is right cannot be disputed. The Republican party has fooled the public as they never did before, and the thousands of people who supported the party in the last campaign cannot expect to stand behind them this time.

Great reforms promised the first shot after the campaign have so far failed to materialize and if they ever do the public will be agreeably surprised.

Refusal of the United States to participate in the Hague meeting for the purpose of appointing a commission to study the Russian problem, has produced considerable gloom at the conference and Lloyd George is probably more pessimistic than ever before. This is to be regretted, and it is hoped the staunch hearted Welchman will stick to his guns.

THE NATIONAL BANK OF GREENVILLE

J. L. Little, Pres. F. G. James, Vice-Pres. F. J. Forbes, Cashier. Chas. James, Asst. Cashier

Comments on Mr. Stone's Alleged Answers to Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade

We notice in the News and Observer, issue of May 15, 1922, Mr. James C. Stone, President and General Manager of the Burley Tobacco Growers Association has purported to answer the questionnaire presented by the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade.

In Mr. Stone's answer he advises that 50 per cent of the burley crop pool has been sold. He also says that the farmers were advanced about 35 per cent of what the tobacco will sell for at the time they finish selling.

We are reliably informed the outside tobacco sold at auction brought $22.66 for 74,162,931 pounds. We have understood that the various speakers from Kentucky claim from 5 to 6c a pound more for their tobacco than the tobacco sold for on the loose leaf floors. Mr. Stone also makes a statement that he is handling tobacco for the pool for a total cost of forty and one mill per 100 pounds actual operating expenses.

Judging from Mr. Stone's own statement figuring the 120,000,000 pounds at 40c per 100 will give him an income of $480,000.00. Does Mr. Stone mean to tell the business men and warehousemen in the state of North Carolina that he has operated these warehouses at this cost when they claim they have bought $7,000,000.00 worth of warehouses in the state of Kentucky, which interest at 6 per cent would be $420,000.00 and additional taxes and insurance which would certainly amount to as much as $2 per 100 or $140,000. The actual cost handling tobacco as per his statement at 40c per 100, or $480,000, plus 1-4 the value of the $7,000,000.00 worth of warehouses would be $1,750,000.00 making a total expense to the farmer of $2,810,000.00 which is to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of 120,000,000 lbs. of burley tobacco pooled by the Tobacco Growers Association, or 10 to 11 per cent of the sale of the tobacco at 22 to 23c per pound the figures that he expects to receive.

Granting they have pooled 120,000,000 pounds of tobacco and they sell this tobacco at a 23c average you will see that it takes about 10 per cent of the cost of the tobacco to pay for the use of the warehouses salaries and other expenses.

Following the present auction system the farmers pay 2 1-2 per cent commission, 10c per 100 for weighing, and an auctioneer's fee of not over 25c per pile. At this rate for tobacco averaging 25c on the warehouse floor the farmer would pay from 3 1-2 to 3 3-4 per cent for selling his tobacco thus saving from 6 to 6 1-2 per cent and the interest on the money by selling his tobacco at auction than by the system used by the Burley Association of the tobacco growers. Do the farmers of Eastern North Carolina want to change the present system to system now used by the Burley Tobacco Growers Association which according to their own statement will cost them from 2 1-2 to three times as much to sell their crop and wait for an unlimited time before receiving their money?

Mr. Stone also tells us he only has about 20 per cent of the common tobacco outside of the greens. We think Mr. Stone should be absolutely fair with you and tell you exactly the amount of green tobacco he has and what he paid the Directors of the association to aircure this tobacco.

Mr. Stone advises the farmers that after they once place their tobacco in the pool the tobacco entirely loses its identity and they are to accept the grade these graders put on this tobacco and the price these salesmen accept for this tobacco regardless of whether or not they want to sell. The proceeds of the sale after the entire pool has been disposed of will be paid to the farmers, less the current expenses, which according to his statement will amount to more than 10 per cent of the actual price of the tobacco - Wilson Tobacco Board of Trade (In the Wilson Times) lucrative positions should not be allowed to go free. Each community in which such men confine their operations should make it a point of silencing them if possible. What the county needs now is less persuasion from each source, and the sooner workmen learn the futility of strikes the earlier the country will recover from past depression.

Every town in the state paid proper tribute to memory of the Confederacy Memorial day, and this goes to show the great cause in which the old soldiers fought was not in vain. The strong, faithful men of the sixties are vanishing with each succeeding year and ere many more years flee by they too will live in memory.

Greenville people will be glad to learn that the Swarthmore Chautauqua will be here the week of June 12th with a program of more interest than ever before. The Chautauqua is fully appreciated by Greenville people because they realize its high standard, especially the lectures. It was thought at one time that other attractions would be more appealing to the public than lectures, but after a year of experiment it was proven to the satisfaction of the directors that good lectures are always appreciated by the more intelligent communities.

GUILTY OR NOT GUILTY?

Immediate removal of Commissioner Haynes because he advocated the lynch law is recommended by Representative Hill in a letter to Secretary Mellon, according to dispatches received yesterday. If such a charge can be proved against the commissioner he deserves to be removed, and the sooner action in this direction is taken the better the public will like it.

It is very singular indeed that a man in his position should have occasion for approving such an outward and dangerous form of lawlessness and if he isn't discouraged it may mean trouble for the country.

Officials, especially those in the position of the prohibition director, should do everything to uphold the law, and should take no definite stand against anything pertaining to it.

board, charged that the Farm Mortgage Banker's association has been trying to discredit the farm loan bank system. Reports harmful to the government institution have been circulated about the country, and Senator Simmons called attention to some things that were being said in North Carolina.

"The Farm Mortgage Banker's association," said Mr. Lobdell, "has been a constant and vicious critic of the farm loan system in all its respects. They first directed their campaign to the farmers in an endeavor to convince them that the system was not beneficial and would not function. When this failed they turned attack in the way of litigation against the constitutionality of the federal farm loan act. Since that litigation failed they have persisted in the role of harrying critic."

The letter that prompted Senator Simmons was written by Lawrence S. Holt, Jr., a manufacturer, of Burlington.

I cut the above from the Greensboro paper, the same being self explanatory. When the federal reserve bank was being formed it was fought as aggressively as the warehouses are now fighting the Co-operative Marketing association and anyone would have expected these banks of the larger cities to have been well informed. These same banks now praise the federal reserve system and say that it has been the salvation of business during the last two years. If the activities of the government, when it seeks to aid the masses are attacked and maligned by those who think their interests will suffer it is well to weigh carefully, and consider the source of, any propaganda against the Co-operative Marketing association. To date the only criticism that I have seen in print is from auctioneers (whose jobs are gone) bookkeepers and warehousemen, who think it to their personal interest to fight the movement. In your Monday's issue a vicious attack and many misrepresentations in an article signed the "Greenville Tobacco Market." Who is the Greenville Tobacco Market? The manufacturers are not expressing themselves as for or against the movement. Several have said that if Co-operative Marketing was a success it would be the best thing that could happen for the farmer.

The opponents tell you to "wait and see," knowing that if the farmer er does this that it will weaken or disrupt the organization. Every planter who stays out makes the organization just that much weaker. They might as well tell you if you had malaria and was offered medicine that would cure you, "to put the medicine on the shelf and wait and see what effect it would have" on you. The planter can see who is lined up against him and if he wishes future success he had best stick together. "In unity there is strength" the opposition realizes this so why not the farmer?"

SANDS ADDRESSES THE WINSTON-SALEM MEETING

Mr. C. J. Sands, Banker of Richmond addressed Winston mass meeting of business men. In his speech Mr. Sands states:

Co-operation tells the story of the prosperity of North Carolina. He gave as his opinion that farmers lose too much in selling their products and the co-operative plan is the only successful solution.

Mr. Sands recited the history of co-operation in Denmark, which has raised that country from poverty to prosperity. There are now 4,000 co-operative selling societies in that country. Co-operative selling has been successful in the peach growing section of this state, $750,000 will be required to finance the marketing of peaches this year. Land around Pinehurst has risen in value from $1 an acre to several hundred. In two counties of Virginia co-operative selling methods handle $19,000,000 worth of truck each year. There are in California 140 successful co-operative selling societies and to these are due much of the agricultural prosperity of the state.

Prosperity.
 Prosperous farmers mean prosperous merchants. The co-operative idea was brought from California to Kentucky where a burley pool was made. This was a success the first year. The association got all the money that was needed. The Tri-State Association is assured all the money it needs. The banks of Lynchburg are behind the idea. The Danville Chamber of Commerce passed strong resolutions favoring the co-operative idea while the president of the chamber of commerce invited officials of the association to visit the city. Of 14,000

co-operative societies in the United States, not one has failed under proper management. Mr. Sands said that the success of the Kentucky pool and the rapid organization of the Tri-State Association raised the price of tobacco in North Carolina and Virginia while the price in South Carolina on the early markets was low. The difference in the prices would have saved South Carolina from much distress.

FARM MORTGAGE BANK ATTACKS LOAN SYSTEM

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING INVESTIGATED BY BEAUFORT COUNTY MAN

As there is considerable interest just now in the Co-operative Marketing plan we have been handed a letter written to Mr. A. M. Dumay, President of the First National Bank of this city, by Mr. Joseph F. Tayloe, a well known commercial traveler of this place, who has apparently been making some inquiries on the subject of the co-operative tobacco market as it is in Kentucky.

Mr. Tayloe's letters are as follows: Lexington, Ky., April 24, 1922.

Dear Mr. Dumay:—I arrived here Saturday and from that moment up until tonight, I have made it my special business to talk to the business men with reference to the success of the co-operative tobacco market. When I say business men I mean the real cream of Lexington. I find them to a unit praising it most highly and saying it is the salvation of the tobacco growers of the State of Kentucky—necessarily if it is to Kentucky it will be to North Carolina. They say further that the growers are thoroughly satisfied and happy over the outcome.

In order that you may see the class of men I talked to, that you may look them up in Bradstreet of Dunn's, viz: Wolf-Wile & Co., J. D. Purcell Co., Gus Hegman, Mitchell, Baker & Smith, B. B. Smith & Co., Lexington Cloak & Suit Co., Pushin Style Shop, Simons (The Fair), Denton-Shipp Todd Co., Inc., Herring, Jenkins Co., Georgetown, Ky. I also had a talk with Mr. Brewer, of Harrodsburg, Ky., who travels this state for J. H. Dunham Co., New York, and he is also a tobacco grower. He says this feeling prevails throughout the burley district. I thought this information would interest you.

With best wishes, I am,
Truly yours,

JOS. F. TAYLOE.
Lexington, Ky., April 25, 1922.

Dear Mr. Dumay:—Today I made Cincinnati, Paris, Winchester and Richmond, Kentucky. I talked to all the best business men with reference to the Co-operative Tobacco Association. They are all of one mind that it is the salvation of the tobacco grower. I write you this information as I think personal contact with those interested is the most reliable source of information.

I have had fine business.
Truly yours,

JOS. F. TAYLOE.

THE OLD NEST.

Wonderful Masterpiece of Rupert Hughes to be Shown Under Auspices of Presbyterian Church.

"The Old Nest, a Rupert Hughes masterpiece, will be shown in this city tomorrow, both in matinee and evening. The picture is being shown under the auspices of the Presbyterian church.

"The Old Nest," is a picture that has been hailed by critics and reviewers as the most satisfying all-American picture that has yet been produced. The theme, that of a mother who sees her six children leave her, one by one, is common to American families. All the poignancy of feeling that these leave-taking arouse in real life have been caught on the screen.

Rupert Hughes is the author of this unusual tale of mother love. He has caught to present a cross-section of a universal theme as applied to an American family. All the joys and sorrows connected with raising a family have been dramatized. Each of the children grow to manhood or womanhood with his own individual interests, then leaves the old nest to follow the call of his desires. Only their mother is left in her loneliness and her memories. But, as in every American family, the young remember the old nest and return to it.

The picture was produced by Goldwyn and was directed by Reginald Barker.

Mary Riden as mother Anton gives one of the most wonderful performances ever seen in pictures. Helene Chadwick, Cullen Landis, Dwight Crittenden,
