RIGHT OF NEGROES TO RIDE INTER CITY BUSES QUESTIONED

Corporation Commission and Attorney General Refuse to Commit Themselves On Question

Raleigh, May 1.—The Corporation Commission today was facing a question, which, it was stated, was causing much concern in the right of negroes to ride on inter city buses. The question came up with the presentation of a ticket of a negro to a bus driver, who refused the man access to the bus, on the grounds that negroes were not allowed on the vehicle. The man, Berry O'Kelley, prominent and wealthy negro, of Method, insisted on his right to ride and the driver gave in. The Attorney General and members of the Commission have refused to commit themselves on the question until a direct issue is brought to them for decision. The Commission is said to hold a view that its powers end with regulation of the bus lines of the state, and that the right of negroes to ride is a question of operation up to the individual company. However, Commissioner Maxwell has expressed the opinion, unofficially, that a recent decree of Supreme Court is to the effect that buses must carry passengers to the extent of their capacity.

This is interpreted that the color line can not be drawn. Highway Commissioner, Frank Page, who aided in drawing the bus supervisions act, asserts that though the buses are not declared in the act to be common carriers, its relation to that state probably brings them to that state. Common carriers are unable to draw a color line.

On the other hand, Robert O. Sells, Bus Supervisor of the Corporation Provisions, expressed the opinion that buses are not common carriers, and are not obliged to carry negroes. He suggests the opinion of special buses for negro passengers.

LISBON POOR PAY HOMAGE TO WELL-BELOVED ACTRESS

Lisbon, Portugal.—Enormous crowds blocked the streets of the city the other day when Angela Pinto, the popular Portuguese actress, was buried. The slums of Lisbon emptied themselves to come and see "Our Angela" pass by her last resting place. She was the idol of the people, and her remarkable versatility ran from comic opera to tragedy. Her favorite roles were women of the people.

Beggars and poor old women whom the popular actress had aided in her lifetime were seen vainly trying to touch the side of her bier as it was drawn past them in the street.

FILIPINOS CONSIDER MEANS TO KEEP OUT CHINESE

Manila.—Further restriction of Chinese immigration into the Philippine Islands is sought by a committee appointed by the governor general to study the question. It is understood the committee will propose an amendment to the present Chinese immigration law, requiring that all Chinese immigrants claiming to be merchants possess, at the time of entrance, at least $5,000 as initial capital.

RATE OF INCREASE BY BIRTH GREATER IN '24 THAN IN '23

Death Rate Decreased During Period; Highest Birth Rate in Rural Districts of North Carolina

Washington, May 1.—The rate of increase of the nation's population by birth was considerably greater in 1924 than in 1923. While the birth rate increased from 22.3 per thousand in 1923, to 22.5 per thousand in 1924, the death rate decreased during the period from 12.4 to 11.9 per thousand.

A census bureau survey made public today showed the highest birth rate in the country to be 31.9 per thousand in the rural districts of North Carolina, while the lowest rate of 14.9 per thousand in the rural districts of Montana.

The death rate was lower in 1924 than in 1923 in 23 out of 29 states covered by the survey. Infant mortality rates shown to be generally lower in 1924 than in 1923, increases being noted in only three states.

FILM AGENTS IN THE BALKANS VICTIMS OF SHARP PRACTICE

Berlin.—Picture pirates keep American moving picture agents on the jump in the Balkans. There are no copyright laws and treaty provisions which protect American films in Turkey, Rumania and Bulgaria, and consequently these countries are the happy hunting ground for film thieves. A film stolen in transit is copied and the copies sold in the Balkan countries.

As a result of this illicit trade, American producers are now rushing their new films immediately into the markets where there is no protection and selling them before pirates have a chance to get hold of them.

It is not uncommon, according to film agents in Berlin, to discover American films of the most expensive sort showing under another title in the cinemas of Turkey, Bulgaria and Rumania, where the moving picture men snap their fingers at agents who demand rent, and dare them to try to collect in the courts.

SEARCH FOR FORMER CONVICT AND YOUNG GIRL ENDS TODAY

Earl Woodward and Lucille Chatterton, After a Week's Absence, Found in Barn This Morning

Randolph, Vermont, May 1.—A Garman Police Dog early today led three men to a barn of an abandoned farm in South Brookfield, where they found Earl Woodward, a farm hand and former convict, with eleven year old Lucille Chatterton, who left her home in Granville with Woodward a week ago. Woodward was captured without resistance. Lucille cried when she was led away, her rescuers said.

The capture brought to an undramatic end a week's search by armed posses through mountains through which Woodward had been a fugitive since he, with the girl, left the home of her father, where he had been employed, last Friday night.

GOV. UNALTERABLY OPPOSED MOB RULE

McLean Determined There Shall Be No Lynching if He Can Help it

Raleigh, May 1.—Governor McLean is unalterably opposed to mob rule and has expressed a determination that there shall not be a lynching in North Carolina while he is Governor, if he can prevent it. He is emphatic in his advocacy of law and order and firm in his belief in the integrity of the courts. He believes that the courts of justice are places where justice should be meted out and will use all the means at his command as Governor to see that the laws are enforced.

The first test came when the Governor was notified that trouble seemed probable in Moore county, following an alleged attack on a young white girl. He immediately got into touch with the local authorities and at the same time with the Adjutant General. He ordered the Adjutant General to be in readiness to furnish troops, if necessary. However, there developed no immediate need and the alleged criminal was later apprehended and brought to Raleigh at the direction of the Governor.

The Governor already has called several special terms of court for the trial of criminals charged with capital offenses. He has expressed the opinion that speedy trials and swift justice will do much to show the State's disapproval of heinous crimes and, at the same time, act as a barrier against mob rule. He believes in prompt action. He has indicated that his general policy will be to see that courts are available for the trial of cases where swift justice seems necessary. Also, he has intimated that if occasion demands he will not hesitate to use drastic methods to ward off mob rule.

181,910 Pounds of Poultry Sold in State From Mar. 26, Apr. 23

Raleigh, May 1.—From March 26 to April 23, farmers of North Carolina sold through the State Division of Markets 181,910 pounds of poultry for which they received from 23 1/2 to 24 1/2 cents a pound, stated V. W. Lewis, livestock marketing specialist for the Division. "The lot included many an old rusty legged hen that didn't amount to much on the farm," said Mr. Lewis. "The prevailing local market price for these old birds amounted to between 16 and 20 cents a pound and the marketing work, therefore, brought to the farmers an average saving of about five cents per pound which, for the amount handled during the time stated, will return $9,995."

Mr. Lewis stated that the county agents of the State College Extension Service and the teachers of agriculture in the rural high schools did much work in popularizing these shipments and in obtaining the co-operation of farmers. "The agents and teachers," he continued, "worked up local interest and we supplied the selling agency. Nor was the above amount all the poultry sold, as in a number of counties where shipments were made the agents and farmers are carrying on the project without our aid. As an example, on one Monday we sold a car of poultry in Rockingham county and on the following Saturday $3,300 worth of poultry and eggs were sent out by express."

Mr. Lewis stated that more than 4,000 farmers profited by the poultry shipments of the past month and that an additional, thousand would take part in shipments now being arranged. During the week beginning April 26, the marketing people had arranged for cars to be shipped from Union, Richmond, Anson, Scotland, Robeson, Bladen, Cumberland and Hoke counties, reported Mr. Lewis. "Two crews are out from the Division helping in the work," he said, "and 26 cents per dozen is being paid for eggs at the same time the surplus poultry is being received. North Carolina," he concluded, "is just beginning to realize its poultry possibilities."

Nearly 40 Persons Killed When Berlin Express is Derailed

Shneidemeuhl, Prussia, May 1.—The Eydkuhnen Berlin Express was derailed early this morning near the Polish Border and killed between 30 and 40 persons, and two score others were injured. The locomotive and most of the coaches were hurled down a steep grade, and only one sleeping car and one coach remained on the track. The derailment is believed to have been due to the train speeding around a sharp curve.

The negro had been employed as waiter in the dining room of the institution. Judge Dunn was to have presided over court in Wilmington during the week of May 11th, but on account of being assigned to preside over the special term, some one else will take his place in Wilmington.

INTERNATIONAL SWIMMING MEET PLANNED FOR HAWAII NEXT YEAR

Honolulu.—An international swimming meet in Honolulu during an entire week in June, 1926, at which Oriental, Australian, Hawaiian and mainland American swimmers will compete, has been planned by Judge William T. Rawlins, of the United States District Court, and Colonel W. H. Beckman, president of the Illinois Athletic Club, who is visiting here.

Judge Rawlins, known as the father of competitive swimming in Hawaii, suggested the meet and proposed that the Illinois organization assist in reviving the sport of swimming here by sending out a number of its star performers. Colonel Beckman said he would bring the matter to the attention of the Illinois club, and added that he felt sure that the club would follow the suggestion.

IDENTIFICATION OF BODY OF WOMAN BELIEVED FINISHED

Maimed and Burned Body Identified as Mrs. Josephine Desiderio, by Mother and Sam Ross, a Friend

Gary, Ind., May 1.—Identification of the young woman, whose maimed and burned body was found Sunday near Chesterton, as Mrs. Josephine Desiderio, 21, of Gary, Ind., was believed completed today by authorities after Mr. Benard Genero, her mother, and Sam Ross, a friend, were positive in identifying her. Ross, who said he had last seen Mrs. Desiderio Friday in an automobile with another woman and two men, was held for further questioning. He said he and Mrs. Desiderio had lived in the same Gary Hotel for two weeks. The woman was separated from her husband, who is being sought by police. Her mother was traced through a telephone number scrawled on the lining of a vanity case found yesterday near the place where the body was discovered. She was positive that the body was that of her daughter, and named Ross as a friend of the girl. Ross minutely described the clothing the woman was wearing when he last saw her, and his description tallied with a portion of the clothing found about the body. He was taken to the Morgue where he positively identified her, but equally as positively denied any knowledge of her whereabouts since last Friday.

With this mystery apparently solved, authorities sought the connection, if any, between the death of the woman and that of a man identified as James Shelia, of Stockton, Ind., a railroad employee, whose body was found yesterday on the outskirts of Gary. It was recalled that a railroad employee card was found Sunday by the woman's body.

Efforts were made also to develop information given by Mr. and Mrs. Josephine Desiderio, of Crown Point, Ind., who said they saw two men carrying a struggling girl into an automobile while they were motoring last Saturday night, seven miles south of here. They attempted pursuit, they said, but lost sight of the automobile. At the point in Brookfield where the chase was interrupted by rain and darkness last night, the dog was set on the trail and in half an hour had led the way to a barn of a deserted farm, and there in the hay the searchers came upon Woodward and the girl.

Although armed with a rifle and five cartridges left, he submitted quietly without any resistance. Lucille, her rescuers said, weepingly protested, saying she was afraid to go home. Woodward defended his action in taking her away by saying that the child was afraid of her father. Woodward said he had planned to take Lucille to a place in New Hampshire, where she would be properly cared for.

A crowd assembled when news spread that Woodward had been brought in, but there was no threat of violence, nor any special precaution taken to protect the prisoner.

The Attorney General said no charge would be preferred against Woodward until he had been taken to Middlebury. He said that Lucille would be taken to the county seat and placed in custody of the wife of the jailor, until the court decides what disposition is to be made of her.

Gary, Indiana, May 1.—Despite positive identification of the body of the girl found mutilated and burned near here last Sunday as that of Mrs. Josephine Desiderio, William J. Smurdon, a constable, stated this afternoon that he had talked to the young woman on Tuesday, three days after the finding of the body.

SCIENTISTS DECLARE SOLIDS FORM PART BRIGHT CORONA SUN

Washington.—A summarization of scientific knowledge gathered from the sun's eclipse Jan. 24 has led the Bureau of Standards to three main conclusions. These are:

That the sun's corona, which is the scientific term for the radiant mantle of material stretching to great distances from the main orb, is in part composed of solid or liquid material, and not entirely of gas.

That the existence of an element in the sun, provisionally dubbed "coronium," which has never been encountered on the earth's globe, is fairly well established.

That a new method of timing eclipses based on the phenomena of light can be worked out and applied on June 28, 1927, when the next great eclipse of the sun, visible in Europe, is due.

Dr. George K. Burgess, director of the bureau, and his staff of experts who made a variety of investigations during the few moments the sun was veiled, reached these conclusions at a meeting at which they brought their preliminary compilations together. They are continuing comparisons with the findings of other scientists.

Dr. C. C. Kless, who took a spectra observation from the airship Los Angeles, detected again in his photographs the green and red lines which are believed to denote the existence of "coronium." His findings checked accurately with those of previous observers who have sought evidence as to the possible new element.

The conclusions as to the solid and liquid matter in the corona rest largely upon the experiments of Drs. H. T. Stetson and W. W. Coblenz, aimed at establishing the exact temperature of the sun. Dr. Coblenz, using better instruments than his predecessors, found the corona temperature to be 3,000 degrees above absolute zero, in spite of the fact that previous observations have indicated the temperature to be about 6,000 degrees. The difference in the two temperatures gives ground for the inference that the corona is made up in part of dense matter, because if it were all (mean-descent gas, the temperature would be higher.

In measuring the time of the eclipse, or rather the time of duration of the obscuration, I. G. Priest, another bureau expert, sought to give astronomers better data for calculating the movement of the moon. There is a gap in proven data which makes the time of the coming of eclipses uncertain by several seconds, and although this circumstance is philosophically accepted by ordinary humanity, it is annoying to scientists.

The bureau also was concerned in a general attempt to establish the influence exerted upon wireless transmission by the sun's obscuration, but its decisions on that point await the assembling of a very large number of observations.

LIVESTOCK IN GREAT BRITAIN SHOWS MARKED DECREASE

Margate.—Britons will have to rely on foreign imports of meat to a greater extent than ever because of the serious decline of cattle raising in Great Britain. At the annual meetings of the National Federation of Meat Traders' Associations it was stated that since 1916 stock had declined in England from 18,000,000 to 14,800,000 head last year. The decrease in Scotland was about 200,000 head and in Ireland the numbers had fallen from 3,700,000 to 509,000.

The meeting agreed that it was vitally necessary to increase stocks and that the government be asked to investigate the position arising out of the increasing slaughter of immature lambs, pigs and calves in the country.

Senator William E. Borah, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, was notably distinguished in the "non-merchandise triumph" which attended the election of Field Marschal von Hindenburg as President of Germany. James W. Gerard, ambassador to Germany during the Wilson regime, declined the choice of Hindenburg as "a challenge to the rest of the world." Major General James G. Harbord, who recently returned from South America, has been mentioned as possible successor to Secretary of War Weeks who has been ill. Cardinal Hayes of New York called Hindenburg "the one great and beloved country may well fear most" in a charity plea broadcast by radio.

TRACTORS, PLOWS INVADE BIG REACHES OF TEXAS RANCHES

Denison, Tex. — Evidences of the passing on of the picturesque frontier cowboy, and the splitting up of many of the open ranges over which he herded millions of cattle and brought untamed horses to the usefulness of man and the industry, are beginning to appear in the Lone Star state, whose vastness is filled with lore in the business of cattle raising. Cotton and general farming are coming to the front as challengers for honors in the industry for which Texas long has been the most noted, cattle. Not that the beetlers or their prominence as a big state asset are to be supplanted, the business is still and will continue to be a tremendous one, but agriculture, and particularly cotton, are showing many cattlemen the way to new fields of crop and land values.

The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association lost 680 members during the year, a large number having retired from the cattle business, but a gain of 210 members also was noted. Consumption of beef was shown in an association report to have increased slightly. At the conference of the Association of Southern Agricultural Workers it was agreed that cotton farming was more profitable than ranching, and that the Panhandle was passing on.

At this conference it was said that Texas' 1924 yield of 3,500,000 bales of cotton would soon be increased to 6,000,000 bales and that in the near future the state would yield 12,000,000 bales if the state was pressed and the ranchers and farmers were asked to respond. It was added that the Panhandle ranches were being sold to farmers.

Ranchers are now finding it more profitable to dispose of their lands to the farmer, or work them as farms to keep moving.

themselves, and many of them have sold their cattle, disposed of their teams and cow ponies, and bought tractors.

West and northwest Texas, a vast domain of rolling plains where cowboy fiction was famed, are about ready to give up to later devices. Where once the lariat and horseman reined the chaparral, the plow and tractor have appeared in some sections.

FILM STARS LODGE PROTEST AGAINST INVADING PUBLIC

Beverly Hills, Cal.—Motion picture stars who live in this Los Angeles suburb, in common with others of their profession, are not averse to publicity, but when the "rubber-neck" wagons exceeded what is locally regarded as the limit, they promptly called upon the police for help.

The trouble started with the sight-seeing auto buses. The advertising slogan "personally conducted visits to the homes of motion-picture stars" proved a lure, the operators found, that seldom failed to get a load of passengers out of a downtown hotel lobby in Los Angeles.

Arriving in Beverly Hills they parked in front of some film favorite's home, and the chap who was barking through the megaphone would say something like this:

"Here we have the residence of the sheba of the movies. The lady in white sitting on the veranda is her sister. The gentleman sitting on the left is her fourth husband."

All of which was embarrassing and annoying to the objects of attention. The sightseers even got bolder and would venture into the private grounds surrounding the homes.

So the residents got together and confided their troubles to the chief of police. The lumbering buses may still travel the streets of Beverly Hills, but they are met with the order to keep moving.

AMERICAN PASTIMES WINNING Foothold CONSERVATIVE ITALY

Rome. — Serious students of the drama in the United States who occasionally complain loudly of the growing ascendancy of the moving picture, and point to the subordination of the stage to the silver sheet as an indication of America's provinciality and uncouthness in matters of art, have no Italian brethren in arms to check the growth of popularity in Italy of all moving pictures, and especially those from the United States.

The fact is that, while there are few people here who consider the cinema a form of art, the moving picture is carrying everything before it and is rapidly becoming the favorite form of amusement of a large section of the population of the bigger Italian cities.

Rome, or example, with a population under 1,000,000 and burdened by weighty conventions and traditions of dignified rejection of modern fads, already has about 30 movie houses, many of them quite large and all usually filled to the doors. And several weeks ago, the Supercinema, seating 3,500 persons, was added to the list. This house, like several other large ones, shows the best American, German, French and English moving pictures. It is said to be the largest in Europe and it certainly is one of the most beautiful, its builders having apparently been unburdened by the convention of mere ornateness which prevails in many parts of the United States.

And the moving picture has brought with it advertising on an American scale to support the already strong tendency towards Americanization felt in many walks of Roman life. The billboards are plastered with huge posters, and the newspapers filled with display advertising to boost the films.

The radio is coming slowly but surely into its own in popular favor. Jazz just manages to stumble along in the city of the Popes, but the crossword puzzle is having clear sailing.

PASSENGERS MAY SMOKE ON ENGLAND-INDIA AIR LINES

London.—England's giant airship, the R-101, which is to ply between this country and India, is to be constructed of stainless steel, and is to have two separate decks and accommodation for 100 passengers. The use of stainless steel in the framework of the dirigible is considered by experts to be a decided advance in airship construction because of its strength.

Passengers and crew on the R-101 may smoke pipes, cigars or cigarettes during voyages, as the engines will not use gasoline as fuel, but a heavy gas oil instead, and by this system virtually all danger of fire while in the air will be eliminated. Provision for a smoking room has been made in the plans and this compartment will be built along the lines of those upon an ocean liner, only on a somewhat smaller scale, of course. The sleeping quarters will consist of two-bed cabins, also similar to steamship berths.

According to the present plans of the builders, who are working in conjunction with the air ministry, the keel of the ship will be laid down some time in July. The R-101 is to be 720 feet in length and 140 feet in diameter and is expected to begin its flights via the great eastern airway some time in 1926.

PRODUCTS MANUFACTURED IN NORTH CAROLINA IN 1923 VALUED AT $951,911,000

Raleigh, April 30.—Department of Commerce figures, made public here today, place the value of $951,911,000 on products manufactured in North Carolina in 1923. This, says the report of the Department, represents an increase of 41.3 per cent as compared with $665,118,000 in 1921.

"These figures," continues the official report from Washington, "relate to manufacturing establishments whose output during the year was valued at $5,000 or more. The elimination of data for the smaller establishments has only a slight effect on the total."

Further, the report said: "The average number of wage earners employed during 1923, 173,687, exceeded by 27.9 per cent the number reported for 1921, 135,833; and the total wage payments in 1923, $127,544,000, show an increase of 35.3 per cent as compared with $94,235,000 in 1921."

"The cotton goods industry is the leading one in North Carolina, as measured either by number of wage earners or by value of products. In this industry the average number of knit goods, $36,759,413; cigars-cigars $264,218,190; furniture, $40,072,577; car and general construction repairs, steam railroad repair shops, $10,255,311; planing mill products, $16,192,460; chewing and smoking tobacco and snuff, $81,667,820; clay products, other than pottery, $3,980,708; fertilizers $17,431,084; oil, cake and meal, cottonseed, $17,930,296; leather, tanned, curried and finished, $14,358,670; foundry and machine shop products not elsewhere classified, $4,488,627; boxes, wood packing, except cigar boxes, $4,563,430; all other industries, $120,422,920.

"MAY DAY"

May Day used to be a children's holiday. "Of all the glad New Year, mother the maddest merriest day," Tennyson's May Queen described it. More recently Marxists materialists designated May Day as the anniversary of the Revolution in prospect—always in prospect. Some, uneasy of conscience, "saw red" and favored hempen ropes as substitutes for May-pole streamers. It spoiled the day.

A change has come. We have advanced in social legislation. There is a reaction from some evils of industrialism. There is more of a social consciousness. Much of what an earlier generation denounced and damned as "Socialism" is now accepted as a matter of course. The state recognizes responsibility for unfortunates who are unable to care for themselves. Gradually we are discovering that some experiments in public charity once regarded as extreme are nothing of the sort.

Widow's pensions furnish a good example. Granting that the public conscience would not permit children to starve after the death of their fathers, we have discovered that it is better to help mothers to care for their children than to confine the children to orphan asylums. It is cheaper too. We are beginning to wonder whether it may not be better—and in the long run more economical—to pay attention to child health now and save hospital expense later. It might be good business to spend more to provide prevention and less for cure.

May Day this year goes back to its own—and better. It is not merely a children's holiday, "a mad, merry gay" but National Child Health Day.

The President of the United States, all the officials of nation, state and community, will do honor to childhood.

Concentrated thought on child problems is needed.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover says that America's annual doctors' bill is approximately one billion four hundred million dollars. For health work—that is, prevention work—only 60 million dollars.

through federal, state and municipal agencies. In other words, twenty-five times as much is spent for cures as prevention.

A greater sum is spent annually for chewing gum than for safeguarding the health of children. For every 1,000 babies born in 87 middle-sized cities in the United States, 7 mothers give up their lives.

The observance of today as National Child Health Day is part of a national campaign to change these depressing figures.

All such evils require only the intelligent good will of the public to bring about their remedy. May Day is to be a day dedicated to creating more of that good will. Let us have it every year.

MORE CHILDREN BORN ON FARMS THAN IN THE CITIES

New York. — The birth-rate in the farming areas of the United States is 52 per cent greater than in the cities and 24 per cent greater than in the villages, according to a report published by the Institute of Social and Religious Research, of this city, which gives under the title, "A Census Analysis of American Villages," the results of the first tabulation ever made of the United States census data for villages. By villages is meant communities having from 250 to 2,500 inhabitants.

The figures in the report show that as the last census period the average number of children to each 100 married women between 15 and 45 years of age in villages was 157, as compared with 125 in the cities, while in the distinctly farming areas the average number was 159.

The population in the villages is shown by the report to be very different in its composition and characteristics from the population in the strictly farming areas. The analysis shows, for example, that in the country's farm population there are 109 men to every 100 women, while in the villages there are only 95 men to each 100 women.

Backing his criticism on these and other differences, Dr. C. Luther Fry, the author of the report, questions the validity of the census procedure, which makes no distinction between the data for villages and data for the rest of the rural population.

The report states that the census data for 1.75 per cent of the 10,225 villages in the United States having populations between 250 and 2,500 were tabulated and analyzed in the study, and that this sample was carefully selected to include representative villages in the middle Atlantic region, the middle west, the south, and the far west.

According to the report, the villages have a disproportionately large number of old people as compared with the cities and the farming areas. Of the men in the villages, 28.5 per cent are 45 years of age or older; while for the United States as a whole, 21.5 per cent of the men are in that age group. Of the women in the villages, 27.4 per cent are 45 or have passed that age, while this is true of only 20 per cent of the women of the entire country.

In the marital status of villagers, regional differences are marked. In the far west, which is the one area in which the men in villages outnumber the women 15 years or older, 22.6 per cent of the village women 15 years of age and older are single. This compares with 26.7 per cent in the middle Atlantic region, 28.1 per cent in the middle west, and 28.1 per cent in the south.

NOTES ON TARHEELIA

John Hozza Kerr, member of congress from the Second North Carolina district was born in Yanceyville, December 31, 1873. He succeeded Claude Kitchin, deceased, and was first elected at a special election. His district is composed of the counties of Bertie, Edgecombe, Greene, Lenoir, Northampton, Warren and Wilson, and has a population of 233, 111. Before his election to Congress, he was a judge of the Superior Court. He formerly served as solicitor for seven years.

October 12, each year, is observed as "North Carolina Day." The authority for this is found in Chapter 164, Public Laws of 1901. On this date the public schools are expected to devote time to the intensive study of some phase of North Carolina History. The first subject taken up in 1901—was "The Roanoke Island Colonies."

The State Department of Agriculture was provided for in the Constitution. The Legislature, however, is given power to pass regulatory acts governing its administration.

The population of North Carolina remained practically stationary from 1800 to 1870, during which time the Civil War occurred. Many counties showed an actual loss in population.

The most populous congressional district in North Carolina is the Fifth, composed of the counties of Amana, Caswell, Durham, Forsyth, Granville, Guilford, Orange, Person, Rockingham, Stokes and Surry. It extends from the edge of the slope to the coastal plain to the foot of the Blue Ridge and has a population of nearly a half million people. The 1920 census gave it approximately 410,000.

The youngest member of the North Carolina Supreme Court, Walter Parker Stacy, is the Chief Justice. He is 40. His predecessor, Chief Justice William A. Hoke, is 73. J. Elmer Long, of Durham, Lieutenant Governor and president of the North Carolina State Senate, is only 35 years old.

The North Carolina State Board of Health is composed of nine members, five of whom are appointed by the Governor and four are elected by the North Carolina Medical Society.

CODE EXPERTS FORM POOLS SOLVE CROSSWORD PUZZLES

Oxford, Eng. — The crossword puzzle craze reached its zenith last month and is now on the wane, according to Oxford librarians. In Oxford, as elsewhere, it more than doubled the sales of dictionaries, and the demands made upon reference libraries were so great that one librarian threatened to shut up shop altogether.

The explanation given for the failure of popular interest is that the latter puzzles have become so difficult, through the increased experience of their creators, that no ordinary mortal can conveniently solve them. Men who during the war had had difficulty in deciphering the secret and confidential codes of both the enemy and the allies have organized "Pools of Intellect" and settled down seriously to the solution of all possible cross-words.

RADIO PROTESTS MARINERS MAKING RUGGED VANCOUVER

Seattle, Wash.—Radio has brought a notable measure of protection to vessels approaching the rocks of the west coast of Vancouver Island. Last winter not a ship equipped with radio was lost in this graveyard of the Pacific, while in past years the toll has been as high as ten wrecks and numerous deaths of passengers and crew.

The improvement is due to the building of three radio telegraph direction finding stations on and near the island which, by working together with a ship with wireless, can tell the vessel her exact location and guide her safely to port.

The mouth of the Strait of Juan de Fuca is but 15 miles wide, and here tides and winds from all directions meet. Vessels coming to Puget Sound from any point on the Pacific must head straight for the great body of Vancouver Island, 300 miles long, before turning into the strait.

Famous Racers Are En Route to Charlotte

Charlotte, April 30.—The speed wagons of the fifteen or more drivers entered in the Charlotte races here May 11 will be hurried across the continent by express from Fresno, where the drivers participate in the Raisin Day classic on April 30.

It is expected that the pilots will begin to reach Charlotte not later than May 6 and by May 7 they will have their mounts on the boards. The fact that the cars are coming to Charlotte equipped with superchargers makes the drivers anxious to get on the track several days prior to the day of the race. They believe that new records will be established here, and they want to test out the extreme speed of the cars in advance.

Harry Harts drove his car at a speed of 135 miles an hour for a few laps at Culver City. Fred Wagner, veteran racer, writes the Charlotte Speedway management that the drivers will be able to develop this speed on the Charlotte track.

General manager, Camond Baringer, this week gave out a full list of Charlotte entries, which reads like who's who in the racing world here.

Best Cooper, Tommy Milton, Cliff Durant, Fred Cooper, Peter DePaoli, Leon Duray, Harry Harts, Bennett Hill, Reginald Johnson, Jete Krieger, Earl DeVore, Bob McDonogh, Wade Norton, Phil Saffer, (Doc) Williams, E. Spaulding, Jerry Wondrich and Frank Elliott.

Most of these drivers will participate in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes at Indianapolis on May 30.

NOTED ARLINGTON FLAGSTAFF WILL BE GIVEN NEW HOME

Washington.—The great flagstaff that has topped the heights of Arlington, in front of the Curtis-Lee mansion, ever since the national cemetery was established shortly after the Civil War, is to fall before the modern-day conception of harmonious landscape.

The National Fine Arts Commission has ruled that the 100-foot shaft doesn't blend with the beauty of the natural surroundings of the cemetery, and the war department is contracting for its removal. It will be preserved, however, by erecting it on the Fort Myer Reservation a mile or so away.

Total Fire Loss In North Carolina During Mar. $905,277

Raleigh, April 21.—Figures made public today by the State Insurance Department show a total fire loss in North Carolina during March of $905,277, with values at risk $4,898,397. Insurance on the property at risk was $4,557,970. The number of fires was 266. Fire damage in the State during March, 1924, was $406,360, with property at risk worth $2,717,639 and insured for $1,786,291. Fires in March, 1924, totaled 204.

Commissioner Wade attributed the increase in losses to rural industrial fires, which totaled $628,740 last month, while the entire loss in towns and cities, embracing 236 fires, was only $276,537. Of the thirty rural fires, with such an immense damage, Commissioner Wade pointed out, the values at risk were $875,400, with $640,000 insurance. "On the other hand," he added, "with 236 fires in cities and towns, with values over $4,000,000 and insurance over $3,000,000, the loss totaled only $276,537. The loss from twenty-one fire totaled $765,435, leaving for the remaining 245 fires a total loss of $15,842.

Principal losses for the month included the following:

Arctic Romance Shattered

Mrs. HAROLD NOICE and HUSBAND

The Arctic romance of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Noice of two years ago has been shattered. Noice was the leader of the famous Stefansson relief party which went to Wrangel Island in 1923, to find only one member—Ada Bladyade—alive. On a visit to California he met Miss Frances Allison, daughter of the late William Allison, millionaire New Jersey banker. Noice and Miss Allison were married, but their romance was short lived. She is now in Reno, evidently seeking a separation. Noice is living alone in New York.

BRITON OBSERVES SANER TASTE IN WALL COVERINGS

London. — All the jazz arrangements of stripes, circles and triangles in wall paper are rapidly being shuffled into discard, declared Professor Henry G. Dowling speaking recently before the Royal Society of Arts on the history of wall paper as a decoration of the home.

Immediately after the war a vogue set in for futuristic designs of all kinds, the professor explained, and for a time nothing appeared too extravagant in color arrangement or too wild in motif. But that phase of color decoration is beginning to pass and the idea now is for something more sensible.

"Whatever you have in your room, think first of the walls, for it is they which make your house and your home," asserted Professor Dowling. The artistic treatment of wall space, he insisted, was the first factor in the making of a beautiful home, and the rooms would have a kind of make shift, boarding house appearance about them if this factor were neglected.

COTTON WEATHER
Temperatures continue quite cold over the entire belt, especially Miss. Valley. Moderate rainfall reported in Galveston district.
Forecast Friday eastern belt part cloudy, central belt mostly fair, western belt generally fair except east Texas part cloudy.

SUGAR
Futures market has been subject to almost every possible bear argument and present level of prices no doubt discount them. New interests seem to be operating on the long side and around this basis I suggest the purchase of September, December and March. B. N.

New York, May 1.—Cotton futures opened steady:
May 24.03
July 24.13
October 23.71
December 23.95
January 23.63

Moderate demand from spinners. Fair demand from Russia buying by local operators owing to improvement in spot demand absorbed London and continental selling. Indian spots quotations in Liverpool unchanged 11.10.

STOCKS.
New York, May 1.—Stock prices moved irregularly higher at the opening of today's market with demands centering largely in specialties. New 1925 prices were claimed in the first few minutes of trading by Brown Shoe, Glidden Co., and Columbia Gas, while Southern Railway duplicated its 1925 high on initial selling. Utah securities, United States Industrial Alcohol, Montgomery Ward, and General Electric each opened a point or so higher and American Woolen and United States Cast Iron prices also advanced.

COTTON MARKET.
New York, May 1.—The cotton market opened steady today at a decline of three to eight points in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables, reports of further scattering showers in the south west, and rather poor showing in dry goods market. Offerings were light, however, and the market steadied after the call on covering and trade buying promoted by reports of an improving spot demand in Liverpool, and lower temperature over the entire belt.
Before the end of the first hour the general market was one to five points net higher.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE TOWN OF GREENVILLE.

One week from today (May 4th) you will have to make a choice for Mayor. Your present incumbent a young attorney with a good practice with 10 years experience has been honored by you for three terms. The other Candidate J. J. Laughinghouse served one year as a Confederate soldier. After the war followed the passage of the 14 Amendment and the disfranchisement of thirty thousand of North Carolina's votes. The Carpet Baggers, deserters and traitors took charge and under their training made a hell of this South Land.

General Forest of Tennessee organized a Klan. It worked so well that it spread like wild fire through the entire South. I was the first to organize a Klan in the east in Beaufort county. We drove the Carpet Baggers out of the county, silenced the deserters, and traitors, and closed the Union leagues in thirty days. I moved into Pitt county in January 1869 and organized a Klan of 80 Ex-Confederates and duplicated what had been done in Beaufort.

We saved the civilization of our section and blazed the way for White Supremacy in the South, which began in 1870 and was perfected in 1876. The work of the Klan was the greatest boon to the South since Salvation was made free to the human race.
