AMERICAN LEGION ENDOWMENT FUND CAMPAIGN NOW ON

Drive to Raise Pitt County's Quota of $1078.00 Begins Today and Continues Through Saturday, Memorial Day

The drive is now on to raise Pitt county's quota of the $5,000,000.00 endowment fund. Every part of the American Legion all over the United States has been allotted a pro rata part of this fund.

The endowment fund is no "farce" nor "humbug," it is a fund to be used in caring for the orphans of ex-service men of the past war. There are today 35,000 orphans of the world war veterans who have neither home, food nor means of education.

The drive is now on. Your check is acceptable in any amount. Beginning with today and running through next Saturday when we have the biggest celebration of Memorial Day ever staged in Greenville, we hope to see every person possible so that every one may have a chance to contribute something to this worthy cause.

This is not a call of the Near East Relief, neither of the local organization of any kind but it is a call to the colors as of 1917, a new call, not for the protection of France, but for the protection of the orphans of those who went and gave their lives for the peace and harmony of the world.

Athletics Will Be Continued At Bethel College

Nashville, Tenn., May 26. - The General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church today adopted the report of the committee of Education asking that athletics be continued at Bethel College and denied a memorial from Clarksville Presbytery asking that foot ball be barred as "brutal and dangerous."

Weeks To Undergo Operation Thursday

Bulletin. Boston, May 26. - Secretary of War, John W. Weeks, who came to Boston last Saturday to consult a physician regarding gall bladder trouble from which he has been suffering, will undergo an operation at Phil's House Massachusetts General Hospital next Thursday, it was announced today.

"Faster Than 20th Century"

Gar Wood, well-known Detroit sportsman and motorboat enthusiast, put up a $25,000 wager that his speed-boat, "Baby Gar V," can not only outspeed the Twentieth Century Limited, crack New York Central flyer, from New York to Albany on the Hudson River, but can also beat any other craft, including the "Teaser," which recently made 33 minutes better time than the limited.

PREPARATIONS FOR NEW BATTLE ARE REDOUBLED TODAY

Abd El Krim Hopes to Throw 30,000 Men Against Defending Forces in French Morocco

Paris, May 26. - Abd El Krim, Rifian chieftain, has redoubled his preparations for a new battle in which he hopes to throw at least 30,000 men against Marshal Lyanteyts, defending forces in French Morocco, according to the latest advices.

His most recent move, the French intelligence Service learns, is to order all the natives in the western part of the Spanish Zone to form a Harka of 3,000 or 4,000, the greater part of which will go to the French Zone in the region of Ouezzan, the rest to face the Spaniards.

JAMES A. KEEL IS BADLY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Julian Perkins and Harvey Roberson Suffer Minor Injuries When Automobiles Collide

James A. Keel is in the Pitt Community hospital suffering serious and painful injuries while Julian Perkins and Harvey Roberson, of Stokes, are suffering from minor injuries which they received last night when a Ford Coupe driven by Roberson collided with a touring car driven by Keel near the Teachers College. Both cars were badly damaged.

According to information the two automobiles were enroute to Greenville and in some way as they neared the college they collided. Keel suffered a broken and dislocated shoulder bone and while his head was badly hurt. The extent of his injuries have not yet been ascertained.

Recommends Confab to Discuss Prevention of Chemicals in War

Geneva, May 26. - An international conference to discuss the prevention of limitation of the use of chemicals and disease germs in war was recommended today by the Military Committee of the League of Nations Conference on the Limitation of Traffic in Arms and Munition. The proposal was inspired largely by Germany's announcement yesterday of willingness to sign a convention forbidding the use of poison gas in war.

The resolution said the Chemical bacteriological warfare has been unanimously condemned by civilized worlds. It declared that prohibition of such methods of making war must be incorporated in international war and every possible effort made at the earliest possible moment to adopt an International Convention on the subject.

In the sum of $750 to take care of the rents past due under former order of Cramer, Judge, and for the forthcoming rents and for any damage that the defendant may recover in the final determination of this action, including costs. It was further ordered that said bond be approved by the clerk of the Superior Court and that said bond be filed with the clerk of the Superior Court during the May term 1925 of Superior Court and in event the said plaintiff fails to file said bond then the injunction herein issued be dissolved.

NEGRO SHOT AND KILLED LAST NIGHT

Leonard Weston Enters Room of Fannie Lassiter and is Shot, Death Being Instantaneous

Fannie Lassiter, negroess, on last night shot and killed Leonard Weston. Immediately after the tragedy the woman was arrested and placed in jail.

According to information the man and woman had been living together until about three weeks ago when he left her and went to board elsewhere. On yesterday he went to see her and before leaving, for some purpose, gave her a pistol. Last night after the woman had retired Weston entered the room through a window. He was ordered out and upon refusing to do so, the woman shot, death being instantaneous.

The coroner's jury returned the verdict that Leonard Weston came to his death from pistol shot wounds in the hands of Fannie Lassiter. The woman was remanded to jail.

French Note Replying Germany for Security Pact Almost Finished

Paris, May 26. - The final drafting of the French note to Germany replying to the German suggestions for a security pact will be completed about the end of this week, it was stated, after Great Britain replies to the recent French communication and her suggestions are studied.

As soon as an agreement between England and France is reached the note will be sent to Berlin and negotiations with Germany will commence, whether or not Germany has become a member of the League of Nations, according to the present understanding here.

The apparent hitch between France and England, as to details of the note, is reported to hinge upon the status of Poland and Czechoslovakia. It is understood that France insists that each of these countries be taken into consideration as full pledged negotiators.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY REPEALED ABOUT SEVENTY-FIVE STATUTES INVOLVING APPROPRIATIONS

Raleigh, May 26. - Governor McLean today called attention to the fact that the General Assembly of 1925, which enacted the executive budget law, repealed about seventy-five statutes involving appropriations. Prior to the placing of all departments and institutions on a budgetary basis, the Governor pointed out, numerous independent appropriations were voted which were not taken into account in the general appropriations but which drew heavily on the state's finances.

Governor McLean stated, further, that all unexpended portions of maintenance appropriations will, on July 1, when the executive budget law becomes operative, revert to the general fund of the state.

Rat Extermination Costly

Los Angeles. - The Rodent Extermination Department of Los Angeles, organized late last year, reports that during the first four months of 1925 it cost the city $1.40 for every rat captured, except in the harbor district, where the figure was $7 a head. The total cost to the city during the four months approximated $125,000 for the capture of 40,000 rats.

SHEPHERD TRIAL WITNESSES DOUBLE SENSATION TODAY

Discharge of Juror and Renewed Jury Tampering Charges Bring Double Sensation in Trial of William Shepherd

Chicago, May 25. - The discharge of a juror, breaking the first panel obtained in the trial of William D. Shepherd, charged with the murder and renewed jury tampering charges brought double sensation in Judge Thomas J. Lynch's court today.

W. W. O'Brien and W. S. Stewart defenders of William D. Shepherd, who is on trial for the murder of William N. McClintock, have been put under investigation by State's Attorney Crowe, to determine if there have been any attempts to "fix" prospective jurors.

An inquiry into all cases conducted by Shepherd's lawyers in the past six months was ordered by the prosecutor after receipt of a letter from Robert White, missing witness, which contained charges that he had been forced by defense attorneys to make an affidavit in behalf of Shepherd. White, is claim also by both defense and state as an important witness, wrote from Philadelphia that he had been forced to flee from Chicago for fear of his life. A detective was sent to the Pennsylvania City last night to return White.

The State's Attorney said he would call or questioning on the basis of White's letter, every man who has served on a jury during the last half year in any case defended by Stewart and O'Brien. Mr. Crowe said he was particularly interested in one case in which Stewart accepted the last four jurors tendered without questioning. The attorney's made a similar offer at the Shepherd case, a few days ago.

Attorneys Stewart and O'Brien express resentment as to Mr. Crowe's plans. Today's program for the trial was a continuance of the weary task of getting a jury. Four jurors had been sworn in yesterday and one venireman tentatively passed by both sides.

Disturbance Off N. C. Coast Passes North Eastward

Washington, May 26. - The disturbance that was off the North Carolina Coast Monday morning has passed north eastward to the ocean and the remainder of its trough is centered off Florida, the weather bureau said today. Pressure is low over Southern Plateau regions. During the last 24 hours scattered showers have occurred along the Atlantic Coast and over the Northern Rocky Mountain region. It has been cooler in South Atlantic States and along the East Gulf Coast. Else where changes have been unimportant.

ARCTIC EXPLORERS CONFIDENT ABILITY ROALD AMUNDSEN

Pres. Coolidge Favors Government Relief If Necessary; No News Received From the Expedition

Oslo, Norway, May 26. - A telegram received today by the Shipping Gazette from Spitzbergen said the explorer Amundsen had not returned from his North Pole Flight this morning. Weather conditions were less favorable, it was reported.

New York, May 26. - While tentative plans for relief expeditions are discussed, experienced Arctic Explorers are still confident in the ability of Captain Roald Amundsen, and his five companions, to return safely from their airplane flight to the North Pole.

Amundsen, his American Finance backer, Lincoln Eldsworth, two pilots and two mechanics, left King's Bay, Spitzbergen last Thursday at 5:15 p. m., or 11:15 a. m. Eastern Standard time.

"Nobody in Norway is anxious regarding the fate of Amundsen," Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, famous arctic traveler is quoted by a Copenhagen newspaper as declaring "He is capable of handling himself under difficulties of any kind. There is no reason to feel nervous about him."

Amundsen never thought seriously of returning from the Pole by airplane, in the opinion of Captain George Irvin Black Ellis, a member of the Oxford University Expedition of last year. This authority believes the party reached the pole, abandoned their two planes and are now on their way back on foot. Colonel Koch, a Spanish Explorer, says eight days must elapse before hearing from the expedition, allowing several days for Amundsen to verify his arrival at the pole before attempting the return.

The latest cable dispatch from the North, received through Oslo, says the arctic regions are threatened with storms, which it is thought will compel Captain Amundsen to return immediately if he is able. Snow and frost are forecasted for tomorrow.

Four possible relief expeditions are under discussion. The United States Navy Department with the dirigible Los Angeles and Shenandoah at its disposal, Grettir Algerson, young icelander, who has been preparing at Liverpool, England for a Polar flight in a non rigid airship, Commander Donald MacMillan, who will lead the American Expedition into the Polar regions next month; Haakon H. Hammer, former associate of Amundsen, who says he has an airship in Switzerland, all say they are ready to go in search of the Norwegian on short notice.

Washington, May 26. - Governmental relief for the Amundsen Expedition to the North Pole, is favored by President Coolidge, but he is not certain that the situation has reached the point where such aid would be justified.

Appoints Members of State's Licensing Board for Contractors

Raleigh, May 26. - Governor McLean has appointed the following to comprise the State's Licensing Board for Contractors: R. L. Goode, Charlotte; H. C. Caldwell, Asheville; D. J. Rose, Rocky Mount; U. A. Underwood, Wilmington and C. D. Eigsbee, Durham.

Funeral Services Conducted for Samuel C. Cherry

Samuel L. Cherry, a well-known colored man, died in this city a few days ago. Interment took place on Sunday. Samuel Cherry, 43, was a son of the late A. B. Cherry and Violet Cherry. He was popular with his colored friends and was respected by his white friends. He was a faithful member of the Knights of King Solomon and the Elks Lodge of Arden. The deceased is survived by his wife, one daughter, mother, three sisters, and three brothers.

BUY A POPPY

This week is Poppy Week throughout the nation and next Saturday will be observed as Poppy Day here and the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion will have charge of the sale of the poppies.

Poppy Day is consecrated to the undying memory of heroism, suffering, sacrifice and the supreme love of country which prompts a man to lay down his life. Travelers in France, today, stand silently, with bowed heads and profound reverence, where the white crosses of our war dead form a vast and beautiful empire of this Great Adventure.

And, in honoring them and their deeds, the living, as well as those who sleep beneath the same red poppies which have named a day in history, there will soon blossom, the country over, flaming emblems, the purchase of which places a badge of honor on your own lapel.

Do not turn away from Poppy Day messengers of the type of Charity, which is actually not charity at all, but an expression of reverent love. In your own kindly, thoughtful way, for a mere pittance, you too, can be "in the service" and your heart will beat the faster, your pulse throb with infinite pride, as you realize that in the aggregate, the sum collected will prove how America not only remembers, but establishes a practical memorial to her heroes.

If you could see the poppy fields of France—and, mind you, they bloom with deeper, more brilliant scarlet, because of the blood that drenched their soil, you would read in each graceful petal, all the tragic story over again of the storms that shook civilization to its very foundation, and the fathers, sons, brothers, who went across far seas, because of an ideal.

The poppies to be sold by the members of the Auxiliary here are the handiwork of the patients of Oteen and the proceeds from the sales will be used for the relief of the sufferings of these boys who offered their lives for humanity's sake and returned from the fray broken in body and who are now fighting what is probably their last battle.

Wear a poppy on Poppy Day and let the world know that you have not forgotten the deeds of heroism and that you are carrying on for the relief of the suffering and to accomplish the ideals for which so many made the supreme sacrifice.

SYNOPSIS

Malone, a London newspaper reporter, rejected by the girl he loves because he has no heroic deeds to his credit, appeals to his editor for a dangerous assignment, and is sent to interview the irascible Professor Challenger, who has recently returned from an expedition to South America with an amazing story, which no one believes, of the existence on a great plateau there of many forms of prehistoric life. By way of proof he exhibits to Malone two sketches—one showing the cliffs beneath the plateau, the other a monstrous animal resembling the stegosaurus—which he had found among the possessions of a dead explorer, Maple White; some blurred photographs; and a piece of the wing of a huge flying serpent, or pterodactyl, which he says he shot down. Malone is convinced of the professor's sincerity. At a scientific lecture that night which he invites the reporter to attend Challenger creates an uproar by constantly interrupting the lecturer, denying his assertion that mastodon life is extinct, and challenging the audience to send out an expedition to test the truth of his own theories. There are three volunteers: Professor Summerlee, a scientist, and long a bitter enemy of Challenger's; Malone, still in quest of adventure, and Lord John Roxton, well known sportsman and explorer. After the meeting Malone accompanies Lord John to his rooms to make plans for the trip.

day, and so I have tried to set him down as I first saw him, with his quaint personality and his queer little tricks of speech and of thought. It was only the need of getting in the account of my meeting which drew me at last from his company. I left him seated amid his pink radiance, oiling the lock of his favorite rifle, while he still chuckled to himself at the thought of the adventures which awaited us. It was very clear to me that if dangers lay before us I could not in all England have found a cooler head or a braver spirit with which to share them.

That night, wearied as I was after the wonderful happenings of the day, I sat late with McArdle, the news editor, explaining to him the whole situation, which he thought important enough to bring next morning before the notice of Sir George Beaumont, the chief. It was agreed that I should write home full accounts of my adventures in the shape of successive letters to McArdle, and that these should either be edited for the Gazette as they arrived, or held back to be published later, according to the wishes of Professor Challenger, since we could not yet know what conditions he might attach to those directions which should guide us to the unknown land. In response to a telephone inquiry, we received nothing more definite than a fulmination against the Press, ending up with the remark that if we would notify our boat he would hand us any directions which he might think it proper to give us at the moment of starting. A second question from us failed to elicit any answer at all, save a plaintive wail from his wife to the effect that her husband was in a very violent temper already, and that she hoped we would do nothing to make it worse. A third at-

"By the way," he continued, coming back to his chair, "what do you know of this Professor Challenger?"

"I never saw him till today." "Well, neither did I. It's funny we should both sail under sealed orders from a man we don't know. He seemed an uppish old bird. His brothers of science don't seem too fond of him, either. How came you to take an interest in the affair?"

I told him shortly my experiences of the morning, and he listened intently. Then he drew out a map of South America and laid it on the table.

"I believe every single word he said to you was the truth," said he, earnestly, "and, mind you, I have something to go on when I speak like that. South America is a place I love, and I think, if you take it right through from Darien to Fuego, it's the grandest, richest, most wonderful bit of earth upon this planet. People don't know it yet, and don't realize what it may become. I've been up an' down it from end to end, and had two dry seasons in those very parts, as I told you when I spoke of the war I made on the slave-dealers. Well, when I was up there I heard some yarns of the same kind—traditions of Indians and the like, but with somethin' behind them, no doubt. The more you know of that country, young fellow, the more you would understand that anythin' was possible—anythin'. There are just some narrow waterlanes along which folk travel, and outside that it is all darkness. Now, down here in the Matto Grande—he swept his cigar over a part of the map—"or up in this corner where three countries meet, nothin' would surprise me. As that chap said to-night, there are fifty-thousand miles of water-way runnin' through a forest that is very near the size of Europe. You and I could be as far away from each other as Scotland is from Constantinople, and yet each of us be in the same great Brazilian forest. Man has just made a track here and a scrape there in the maze. Why, the river rises and falls the best part of forty feet, and half the country is a morass that you can't pass over. Why shouldn't somethin' new and wonderful lie in such a country? And why shouldn't we be the men to find it out? Besides," he added, his queer, gaunt face shining with delight, "there's a sportin' risk in every mile of it. I'm like an old golf-ball—I've had all the white paint knocked off me long ago. Life can whack me about now, and it can't leave a mark. But a sportin' risk, young fellow, that's the salt of existence. Then it's worth livin' again. We're all gettin' a deal too soft and dull and comfy. Give me the great waste lands and the wide spaces, with a gun in my fist and somethin' to look for that's worth findin'. I've tried war and steeplechasin' and aeroplanes, but this huntin' of beasts that look like a lobster-supper dream is a brand-new sensation." He chuckled with glee at the prospect.

Perhaps I have dwelt too long upon this new acquaintance, but he is to be my comrade for many a tempt, later in the day, provoked a terrific crash, and a subsequent message from the Central Exchange that Professor Challenger's receiver had been shattered. After that we abandoned all attempt at communication.

And now, my patient readers, I can address you directly no longer. From now onwards (if, indeed, any continuation of this narrative should ever reach you) it can only be through the paper which I represent. In the hands of the editor I leave this account of the events which have led up to one of the most remarkable expeditions of all time, so that if I never return to England there shall be some record as to how the affair came about. I am writing these last lines in the saloon of the Booth liner Francisca, and they will go back by the pilot to the keeping of Mr. McArdle. Let me draw the last picture before I close the notebook—a picture which is the last memory of the old country which I bear away with me. It is a wet, foggy morning in the late spring; a thin, cold rain is falling. Three shining mackintoshes are walking down the quay, making for the gang-plank of the great liner from which the blue-peter is flying. In front of them a porter pushes a trolley piled high with trunks, wraps, and gun-cases. Professor Summerlee, a long, melancholy figure, walks with dragging steps and drooping head, as one who is already profoundly sorry for himself. Lord John Roxton steps briskly, and his thin, eager face beams forth between his hunting-cap and his muffer. As for myself, I am glad to have got the bustling days of preparation and the pangs of leave-taking behind me, and I have no doubt that I show it in my bearing. Suddenly, just as we reach the vessel, there is a shout behind us. It is Professor Challenger, who had promised to see us off. He runs after us, a puffing, red-faced, irascible figure.

HIGH SCHOOLS IN 19 STATES GIVE BIBLE STUDY CREDITS

Philadelphia—The growth of Bible study in the public schools of the United States is on a steady and considerable growth, it was revealed recently in a report by the Rev. W. A. Squire of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education.

Mr. Squire showed that 19 states now officially sanction the crediting in high schools of Bible study done either in conjunction with the school instruction or in churches. The actual increase in this phase of education, he declared, has been approximately 300 percent since 1917. Ten other states allow Bible study credit but without state authority.

The movement, Mr. Squire said, began in North Dakota and Colorado almost simultaneously. Of the states doing Bible study in high schools eight years ago, Indiana has achieved the most notable success. Mr. Squire's survey showed that 44 percent of the Indiana high schools give credit for Bible study done outside the schools and an additional 12 percent credit the Bible classes in their curriculum. Eighteen percent of the enrollment in the schools of that state has availed itself of the opportunity. A majority of the Indiana high school principals, too, according to Mr. Squire, have indorsed the work and its results.

In North Dakota a syllabus based on the Old and the New Testaments with state examinations has been followed. In Colorado the plan is similar except the International Graded Sunday School Lessons are employed as the texts. Credit for Bible study and attendance at Sunday schools is given in the Arkansas high schools in those cases in which the teachers have been adequately prepared and the course of study officially approved.

San Marco Gets Rare Aryt Gem.
Rome—An extremely rare wax portrait in high relief, of Prince Francesco dei Medici, done by the celebrated sixteenth century artist, Benvenuto Cellini, has been presented to the San Marco museum by Giuseppe Vai Geppi, a widely known Florentine collector. The work, considered one of Cellini's masterpieces, is supposed by art students to have been executed between 1568 and 1570. It represents the prince in the age of adolescence, and is well preserved.

WAVE OF STUDENT ECONOMY SWAMPS COLLEGE TAILORS

Oxford, Eng. Notwithstanding the rage among Oxford students for "elephant leg" trousers, which are considerably more loose and roomy than the bloomer effect worn by the United States navy sailors, the boys here are buying fewer clothes than formerly. Three long established tailors firms, one of which had been in business here nearly a half a century, have gone out of business lately because, it was claimed, they could not make a living.

The boys haven't got the money they had in other days to spend for clothes, aver the tailors. The stu-

Says Greenville Girl Very Popular St. Mary's School

Mrs. Malissa Tyson, who has been spending several days with friends and relatives in and near Parrotville, returned home Sunday.

The following letter which has been received by The Reflector from Mr. W. M. Edwards, of Ayden, and who has been spending the past few days at St. Mary's School, Raleigh, will be read with interest by the many friends of Miss Willie Skinner of this city.

"I want to write you a letter this morning as I have a few leisure moments, about what I have seen and heard about Saint Mary's School. I just got home from Raleigh after spending a week-out at Saint Mary's. Saw lots of pretty girls out there, they were beautifully dressed and I thought very tastily. I have some relatives out at Saint Mary's and was invited to spend a week. I stayed in the building, heard and saw for myself. The Seniors were the attraction; 24 girls will graduate on Tuesday, June 2nd, at 11 o'clock. The commencement begins this week. I would like to have stayed but could not. My farm was calling me home. The school has voted Miss Willie Skinner of Greenville the most popular girl ever to attend Saint Mary's. Also brightest mind and most attractive. She is pretty. I saw her myself and admired her.

Mrs. E. B. Davis and little daughter of Kinston, have returned home after spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Taylor on Eighth street. Mr. and Mrs. John McKeithan returned yesterday from a visit in Rutherford. Mr. E. G. Joyner of Wilson was here today. Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Carter and Mrs. J. C. Barnes spent Sunday in Tarboro. Mrs. T. E. Joyner of Farmville was in the city today. Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Edwards are spending several days in Fayetteville. "Baby Window" At Blount - Harvey's Attracts Attention

Blount-Harvey's window is the center of attraction today. It is a "baby window," and is arranged and decorated appropriate to its name. Everything necessary for the baby's wardrobe is placed most attractively. In the center is a baby crib with a baby which moves its legs, arms, head and eyes by electricity. It even lifts its little arms and head and looks around. Standing at the head of the crib is an electrical Stork, keeping guard over the baby while at the end of the crib is a little dog which shakes its head in bewilderment. Mrs. C. S. Whichard decorated the window and is today receiving many praises for the unique arrangement of same.

Robert M. Koenig Found Remedy For Pimply Skin

For years my skin would break out every once in a while—and ointments did very little to help me. I read a doctor's article stating that pimply skin usually comes from the stomach—and bowels not getting rid of the poisons. I tried Carter's Little Liver Pills for a few days—and since that time my skin is smooth and clear. Now I tell my friends the right way of getting rid of a broken out skin—and also of steering clear of upset stomach and sick headache. Carter's are all you claim for them.

Good Health, Good Looks

MRS. J. E. HENDERSON "For about five years I was in very poor health—brought on thru a nervous breakdown," said Mrs. J. E. Henderson, who resides at 423 S. Columbia St., Gastonia, N. C. "I lost in weight, got very thin and almost too weak to get around. I could not sleep or get any rest, had no appetite, was completely worn out and suffered so with my head that I would nearly go mad. I had backaches and pains in my side. I doctored and took medicine but it was Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription that finally restored me to health. It was worth hundreds of dollars to me, for it made me a well woman. I gained back my weight and have enjoyed the very best of health since."

MRS. S. W. SCOTT UNDERGOES OPERATION FOR APPENDICITIS

Mrs. S. W. Scott underwent an operation for appendicitis in the Pitt Community hospital last night. She is getting along as well as can be expected. A speedy recovery is wished for her.

LIFE IN GERMAN ARMY NOT ALTOGETHER HAPPY

Berlin.—There were 100 suicides in the German army a year during 1923 and 1924, and the authorities, investigating causes, lay the blame largely to the long period of enlistment, 12 years, prescribed by the Treaty of Versailles.

Soldiers get despondent at the end of four or five years, it is pointed out, when they are not made non-commissioned officers. Naturally the number of such commissions is limited. Those who are not selected see ahead of them only eight more years of drudgery.

On the other hand, men who serve out the full 12 years are given preference in the allotment of civil service positions, which means that they are practically taken care of for life.

est was said to have been well covered. Sentiment among the more emphatic group of bulls favored buying on sharp recessions. One of the largest of the local operators who has been credited with covering shorts on several bulges of late said at the close that he was bullish on wheat and had been for six weeks. Crop deterioration has created a strong bullish sentiment in wheat, and weather and crop reports are being watched closely.

Lady Says She Took Cardui and Never Saw Such Improvement—Was So Weak Couldn't Stand.

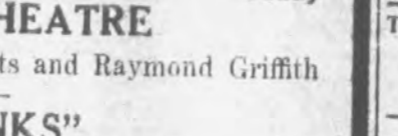

Wethersby, Miss.—Mrs. James M. Hall, of this place, writes that she was "getting weaker all the time" when Cardui, the woman's tonic, was first brought to her attention. After she had taken Cardui a while, she writes that she "never did see such an improvement."

"I suffered all the time and had pains all over," says Mrs. Hall. "I was so weak I could not stand. My skin was cold and flabby. I did not have any color. I had always been a very active woman—used to outdoor exercise, walking and going where I pleased, and to get down, not able to get myself a drink, was indeed a hardship."

"Nothing seemed to help me, till I began on Cardui. The first bottle seemed to strengthen me, and I sent for five more. By the time I had taken these, I was on my feet, going around, doing my work, gained in health and strength."

"I took two more bottles, and I am well and strong. Can work my garden. I haven't had any more sickness."
