Ask for American, French Cooperation Search Amundsen

New York, June 4.—A suggestion for American and French cooperation in a search for the missing Amundsen-Ellsworth Polar flying expedition is made in a dispatch received today from Oslo, the Norwegian capital.

Two Norwegian seaplanes under the command of Lieutenant Lutzow Holm are being shipped to Spitzbergen from which point they will leave for the Arctic tomorrow on a search for the missing explorers. The Norwegian search, which thus far does not appear to have any official backing, is that Lieutenant Holm operates from Spitzbergen to East Greenland; Donald B. McMillan, American Explorer from Etah, to Cape Columbus, and Dr. Gean Charcot, French explorer, along the East Greenland Coast.

Commander McMillan heads the All American expedition, which is leaving Boston for the North this month. Both he and Dr. Charcot previously have expressed their desire to be of aid in search for the Amundsen party.

FUNERAL SERVICES THOMAS MARSHALL CONDUCTED TODAY

Ceremony for the Nation's War Time Vice-President Marked With Simplicity; Floral Offering Beautiful

Indianapolis, Ind., June 4.—Humble as he was in life, so was Thomas R. Marshall today in death. The Scottish Right Masons, of which Mr. Marshall was a member, conducted the funeral ceremonies, attended by members of the order, immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the Marshall family. The casket was then taken to Crown Hill cemetery where it was placed in a vault until Mrs. Marshall determines its final resting place. No pomp or pageantry marked the obsequies, Mrs. Marshall having expressed the wish that the passing be attended by the simplicity so characteristic of her husband. The casket rested during the brief ceremony amid a bank of floral tributes with noted names from all sections of the United States and the world.

POTEAT TO REMAIN AS HEAD OF WAKE FOREST COLLEGE

Re-elected Yesterday Afternoon for Twenty One Consecutive Years by the Trustees

Wake Forest, June 4.—Dr. William L. Poteat will remain as the head of the Wake Forest College. The President, who has been one of the outstanding exponents of evolution for centering their fight, was re-elected yesterday afternoon for 21 consecutive years by the trustees. A report, that the re-election of Dr. Poteat would be vigorously opposed, was disposed of by the action of the board when the re-election was handled practically without discussion. The fight, it was said, if it materializes, will not come up now until the State Baptist Convention, at Charlotte in November.

In addition to re-electing Dr. Poteat, the trustees voted against the recommendation to restrict the freshmen class to 300, which would have held the student body to approximately 700 students. It is expected that the 1925-26 enrollment will reach 1,000. Another important step taken by the trustees was the decision to raise the Standard of the Law School to meet the high requirements laid down by the American Bar Association. The commencement exercises for Wake Forest began last night with the Baccalaureate sermon by Dr. Allyn K. Foster, Student Secretary of the Northern Baptist Convention, and will be concluded on Friday.

STEDMAN SPEAKS CONFEDERATE VETS IN WILSON TODAY

Convention of North Carolina Confederate Veterans Will Adjourn Tomorrow

Wilson, June 4.—Presided over by General William A. Smith, of Ansonville, state commander, and featured by an address by Major Charles M. Stedman, the only Confederate Veteran in the present Congress, the annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans of North Carolina got underway here today. Major Stedman's address was made following the first business session which was attended by nearly 800 veterans from all sections of the state.

Following Major Stedman's address, Major Heath, member of the Legislature from Monroe, made an earnest plea for the increase of the state pension of the Confederate Veterans. Major Heath, who was a leader of a movement in the 1925 General Assembly to obtain an increase in the pension, severely criticized the legislature for its failure to respond to the needs of the Veterans and expressed the hope that some relief might be given the aged soldiers, at a later date. Colonel Fred A. Olds made an address to the soldiers on the flags of the Confederacy. Colonel Olds had with him the four flags used during the War between the states by the Southern forces and explained the origin of each. He was followed by Marion M. Jackson, representing the Stone Mountain Memorial Association, who explained briefly the present status of affairs in carving the great memorial on Stone Mountain and urged the Veterans to support the contract. A barbecue this afternoon was tendered to the Veterans and their wives by the Wilson Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, which had charge of arrangements for entertainment of the Veterans. The annual ball is to be held tonight and the Convention will close tomorrow with the election of officers and selection of a meeting place for 1926.

Judge Albion Dunn Addresses the Rotary Club at Wilmington

Wilmington, June 2.—It was "City Hall and Court House Day" at the Rotary Club luncheon today. The guest list was decidedly distinguished and, divided into divisions, the following were invited, virtually all of whom were present. Judiciary: Judge Albion Dunn and Major W. N. Harris of the superior court, and Judge George Harris of the recorder's court.

County: Chairman Addison Hewlett and his associate commissioners, W. D. Eosher, George Trask, W. E. Yopp and Frank M. Ross and County Auditor J. A. Orrell.

City: Mayor Walter H. Blair and associate commissioners Joseph E. Thompson and James E. J. Wade. Also each of them made short talks, admiring the humorous and the serious in most appealing and attractive propositions. Mayor Blair and his associates, Chairman Hewlett and his associates and Mr. Orrell, each took occasion to invite the closest cooperation of the business men composing the Rotary, reminding the membership that all are taxpayers and citizens and directly interested in the welfare of the county and the city.

Judge Dunn's address was a masterpiece for the occasion. He balanced his remarks with scientific accuracy and, being a trained speaker, was decidedly effective. After a few minutes of the gentlest sort of railleury, he became earnest in his appeal that business men serve on the jury, help to uphold law and order and called attention to the discouraging condition that the penitentiaries and jails are about as numerous populated as the universities and colleges. In closing, he complimented the Rotary club.

"You are a band of about 65 high class business men," he said. "You have a great city here that all Eastern North Carolina wants to succeed. You can accomplish anything you concentrate upon. It would give me as an Eastern North Carolinian cause for much genuine pride as it would give other Eastern Carolinians if we were able to join you in inviting Charlotte, Winston-Salem and other Western North Carolina citizens down here to 'see Wilmington grow.'"

REVIVE THE CURB MARKET

The truck season is here and already some of the farmers are beginning to offer their products to the buying public but so far there has been no provision made for the revival of the curb market for this season and the old method of peddling from house to house has been resorted to.

For the past two years a curb market was operated here and this system of trade between the producer and consumer proved very satisfactory to both. It appears that there is a probability that the curb market will not be in operation here this season because of the fact that some trouble is being experienced in procuring a suitable place in which to locate the market. It is understood that the county farm demonstrator is ready and willing to take over supervision of the curb market as in former years provided it is re-established and it seems that a proposition that means so much to the community should not be allowed to cease to exist. Surely there are several suitable sites for the curb market available and all that is needed is a little co-operation between our citizens in order to effect the market's revival. It is to be hoped that some of the civic organizations will give the matter their attention and see to it that the curb market is revived.

Passing of W. L. Clark

On Thursday May 28, about 11 a. m. the angel of death visited the home of W. L. (Fate) Clark in the town of Grimesland, N. C., and bore his spirit to the great beyond. This well known and beloved man was a son of Jno. Clark of Edgecombe county. He was born Sept. 4, 1856, so he was nearing the 70 mile stone of his eventful life. In his early manhood he moved from Edgecombe to the extreme west portion of Pitt to the community known as the Black Jack section where he has spent the greater portion of his life. In the Black Jack section through his untiring energy and perseverance he came into possession of a good estate that he wisely managed, and upon which he reared a large family, who have reflected his respectability in a very commendable degree. As a husband and father, he was the peer of almost any man that we might mention. He was married four times, his first wife being a Miss Corbett. He married two daughters of the late John S. Dixon of the Black Jack community, Miss Pennie and Tella Dixon, and his last wife who survives him was Miss Beuna Gordon, of Kinston. Thirteen children were born in his home of which ten survive, viz: Amos and Edward L. of Greenville, N. C.; J. H., W. V., G. A. and Lenwood of Grimesland (the latter named being the son of his surviving wife), Nathaniel of Chicod, Mrs. Martha J. Buck, and Mrs. Ann McKinne of Chicod, and Mrs.

Maggie Hudson, of Grimesland. As citizen, neighbor and friend, he was all that these words imply in their fullest measure. But as the sun outshines the other orbits of the heavens, so did the Christian life of our deceased brother eclipse the other noble traits of our distinguished and worthy brother. When a mere boy of 14 summers at old Gam Swamp F. W. B. church he gave his heart to God and was baptized by R. K. Hearn of precious memory. In 1891, he moved his membership to Black Jack church, where it remained till the Lord said, "It is enough come up higher." He served as clerk of this church until very near his demise and was always on the job. He will be missed in the councils of the church and in his denomination at large. The want of his presence will create a loneliness that only the heart can feel but not express, in the home in the church, in his community, in the lodge hall, and wherever the touch of his hand indicated the warmth of his heart, and where his liberal soul cheered the widow and orphan, and his voice gave encouragement to any who passed his way.

The funeral services were conducted in his home church, Black Jack, on Friday evening, May 29. The pastor, Rev. M. C. Prescott being assisted by E. T. Phillips of Ayden, according to the request of the deceased for many years. Impressive funeral dirges were rendered by the choir and congregation, which was immensely large. Tributes of the highest order were spoken by both ministers. The burial rites were conducted by the A. F. and A. M. Lodge of Grimesland of which Bro. Clark had long been an honored and useful member. The honorary pall bearers were: J. H. Brock, W. E. Proctor, Rev. J. J. Lewis, V. A. Jackson, J. O. Proctor, Henry Dixon, J. C., Galloway, J. J. Elks, J. B. Galloway, W. E. Elks, J. L. Williams, Rufus Galloway, Dr. C. M. Jones, G. S. Porter, Dr. John Hudson, T. B. Holliday. Actove pall bearers: J. W. Dixon, L. A. Arnold, H. H. Porter, W. C. Faucett, C. L. Everett, W. S. Galloway. The burial rites of the order were impressively conducted under the direction of J. C. Galloway, Master of the Grimesland Lodge. The floral tributes were charmingly beautiful. The exceedingly large audience was dismissed by the writer.

In the burial ground of the Clarks, Arnolds, Dixons and others, we left the remains of our brother, to await the call at the resurrection morn. Peace to his sleeping dust. May God comfort those who deeply feel their loss.

That has not here an end."

connects with the city of Sao Paulo. Although the road furnishes the minute train service for the suburbs during the rush hours, the size of the crowds has caused a serious transportation problem.

The traffic superintendent issued a regulation a few weeks ago prohibiting the riding on top of passenger cars, but newspaper comment and enforcement is impossible until better service is furnished. The crowds on some trains crawl in through the car windows in the free-for-all stampede for standing room.

Growth of the Rio suburbs is principally due to high rentals, forcing clerks and laborers out of the city.

This movement has been stimulated by the suburban railroad rates, said to be the cheapest in the world. The ticket both ways to one of the villages, located at the end of the suburban zone, a round trip of 80 miles, costs five cents.

Julian's Cotton Letter
There was no feature to the market today except some buying of July by Liverpool. Shorts were buyers in the absence of rain in Texas. The failure of the market to break more on government figures has caused many shorts to cover and should rain come unexpectedly the technical position would likely be found weak. We suggest a trading position as it is purely a weather market.

Grain.
The crop reports coming to hand convince me of the seriousness of the wheat situation. These are from a widespread territory and are most discouraging in tone. They suggest a government winter wheat report of even less than private estimates, due to the fact that considerable deterioration has taken place since the private reports were compiled and because damage from the recent freeze, not then in evidence, is now beginning to show. The spring wheat crop will be benefited by recent rains but it is still so far from maturity and the need of a bumper spring wheat crop to offset the winter wheat shortage is so great that the faintest sign of deterioration in that quarter will cause much apprehension for future supplies. Our conceded small carry-over, plus indicated new crop, leaves us little if any wheat for export. Therefore if we are to be on a domestic basis, it is there any reason which wheat should not advance to a level commensurate with labor, manufactured articles and the general high cost of living? In my opinion the price does not represent anywhere near that level.

Tribune on Grain.
The wheat trade last night was bullish and mostly long on the bad crop reports which one of the oldest crop observers said were the worst he had ever seen. The short interest has been cut down and foreigners who are disinclined to follow advances here may wake up shortly to find the United States has little wheat to spare the coming year.

The twelve international congress opens at Vienna today with more than 200 representatives of the cotton trade, representing 24 countries, present. The United States has sent a large delegation.

The Southern yarn spinners association weekly bulletin considers it probable that no agreement of curtailment will be effective by Southern cotton mills, but already some 7,000, 000 spindles have indicated intention of curtailing operation during the summer. Local cloth markets unsettled by action of raw cotton yesterday, but many selling agents and manufacturers stiffened their prices view, yarn demand slightly improved. Raw silk continued firm.

Liverpool says: Market firmer on local and Manchester buying; spot situation strong; drought in Texas. Spinners moderate purchasers.

Indian spot quotation in Liverpool today was 20 points higher at 10-95d. The Bank of England discount rate remains unchanged at 5 per cent.
