GENNA'S LAST WORD GIVE POLICE CLUE ON WHICH TO WORK

Violates Gangster Code of Silence and Gasps Name 'Cavalero;' Sam Genna Begs for Protection

Chicago, July 9.—The name "Cavalero" spoken by the dying Tony Genna, and three theories on the motives of his assassination guided police inquiry today into latest upheaval in Chicago Gang Land.

The third member of his family to fall before bullets in six weeks, Tony yielded to entreaties of relatives at his death bed and violated the gangster code of silence to gasp the name and with this clue the police began gathering suspects.

This interrogation of seven men last night was based on belief that rebellion against leaders and distributors against the Genna control of alcohol had caused the shooting, that an infatuated victim of an extortion scheme had struck him down, or that the shooting was another act of reprisal for the murder last November of Dean O'Banion, rival gang leader.

In the plea of Sam Genna, Tony's brother, for police protection, investigators saw grounds for belief that the entire Genna Klan has been marked for death. "Please," begged Sam, "don't send me home. They are after me too. First it's Angelo, then it's Mike. Now it's Tony, and next it will be me."

A police escort was given Sam. He was taken to a secret hiding place. Search was made for Pete Genna, and several days ago for another pistol, Jim, the sixth brother, is supposed to be visiting in Sicily.

Hostages Held by Rifman Released By French Today

HEAD OF BRITISH AIR FORCE WOULD ABOLISH AERIAL WAR

Oxford, Eng.—An attempt is being made to organize an Air Force Officer's Training Corps in Oxford, along the lines of the existing University O. T. C. There are several difficulties to be overcome, among them the university prohibition of flying by undergraduates. The anti-military spirit which characterized the undergraduates who had been through the World War is slowly passing away as a new generation comes into residence and the military training courses are becoming popular again.

Sir Hugh Trenchard, the head of the English Air Force, in a recent speech at Cambridge, informed his hearers that there is no defense against air warfare, that it can aim only to destroy the people and cities and industries of the enemy without preventing the enemy from carrying on a like program of destruction. If he had his way, he said, he would abolish air warfare. This admission from an officer so highly placed has damped the ardor of many aviation enthusiasts.

JUDGE J. W. ROSS KILLED TODAY IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Was Under $25,000 Bond Under Charges of Being Implicated in Failure of Peoples' Bank

Jackson, Tenn., July 9.—Judge Johnson W. Ross, of the Western Tennessee District Federal Court, who yesterday was indicted in connection with the failure of the Peoples' Saving Bank, of Jackson, was today killed in an automobile accident.

Judge Ross was killed when the automobile in which he was riding ran off a bridge about five miles east of Jackson, and turned over in a creek pinning him underneath. It is believed he was killed instantly. At the time he was alone in the car.

Judge Ross was at liberty on bond of $25,000 under charges of being implicated in the failure of a bank which closed its doors recently following discovery of an apparent shortage in its accounts of more than $300,000.

Judge Ross was indicted by the Madison County grand jury on charges of being accessory to embezzlement, forgery, and fraudulent breach of trust. The three other men indicted along with Judge Ross were Thomas B. Carroll, former cashier of the defunct bank, charged with forgery, embezzlement and breach of trust; his son, John M. Carroll, former assistant cashier, charged with aiding and abetting and embezzlement; and William L. Cawthon, timber dealer, charged with forgery.

Heads Had Been Crushed and Throats Slashed; Lived in New York Tenement House

New York, July 9.—Mrs. Margaret Hanco, and her six year old daughter Jennie, were found murdered today in their apartment in an East 34th Street tenement house. Their heads had been crushed in and their throats slashed. Police said that the murderer of the woman and her child used a saw-like instrument, which almost severed their heads. The child's body was found at the threshold of the apartment, indicating that she had attempted to escape her assailant.

The bodies were found by a man who said he was looking for a furnished room.

Elementary Schools of Greenville Placed On Standardized List

Superintendent J. H. Rose this morning received notice from the State Department of Education that both elementary schools of the Greenville School system had been placed on the Standardized list. The Evans Street School was placed in the 1A Group and the Model School was placed in the 1B Group. The difference between the 1A rating and the 1B rating is merely a matter of the size of the school. The thing that counts is that both schools are placed in the 1 Group.

About eighteen months ago, the State Department of Education took upon itself the task of checking up on the work of the elementary schools of the state. This work has been going on under the direction of Miss Susan Fulghum of the State Department. Among the qualifications demanded of Standardized Schools are: a term of not less than 180 days; a library of not less than 700 volumes; required number of maps and globes and other equipment; a system of permanent records; an up-to-date course of study; dictionaries in the hands of the children and on the teachers desks; sets of supplementary readers for all grades; a certain average daily attendance; and most important of all a corps of teachers thorough trained for their work, all of whom shall hold certificates of a class not lower than Primary or Grammar Grade C. All of these requirements the Greenville schools have met.

MISS KIZZIE HARDEE DIED ON WEDNESDAY

Miss Kizzie Hardee, 67, died at the home of her niece, Mrs. D. A. Windham, yesterday at noon, after an illness of several days. Funeral services were conducted from the home this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock by the pastors of the Free Will Baptist and Christian churches. Interment took place in the family burying ground near Cox's Mill.

Mrs. Hardee possessed a lovely christian character and was beloved by a host of friends. Her entire life has been devoted to helping those less fortunate than she, and many days have been spent in nursing the sick of her community. She has been a member of Timothy Christian church since girlhood and was always active in every phase of church work. Her unselfish disposition endeared her to everybody with whom she came in contact.

The deceased will be greatly missed not only in Greenville but throughout Pitt and Lenior counties. She is survived by a large number of relatives. She was an aunt of Mr. Jeff Wilson, Mr. J. D. Wilson, Mrs. D. A. Windham and Mrs. N. A. Hyman of this city. The following nieces and nephews attended the funeral: Mrs. G. L. Blount, Rocky Mount; Mrs. Chas. Grubbs, Grifton; Mrs. Clarence Cox, Jones County; Mrs. N. Williams, Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. Johnny May, Winterville; Z. V. Wilson, Detroit, Mich.; and J. F. Hardee, Craven county.

MINNESOTA STORMS TAKE HEAVY TOLL DEAD AND INJURED

Several Districts Visited By Wind, Rain and Hail; $100,000 Property Damage

Minneapolis, July 9.—Wind, rain and hail took a heavy toll Wednesday in several districts of Minnesota including the twin cities. In Minneapolis four persons were killed, 18 injured and one was reported missing in a terrific wind and rain storm, which struck the Southern part of the city shortly after six p. m. A trail of wreckage representing more than $100,000 property damage was left.

Streets were flooded and for several hours during the evening the streets were blocked by hundreds of uprooted trees.

The Lake Harriet Municipal Pavilion, one of the most popular of the city play grounds, was the scene of the greatest catastrophe of the storm. A section of the building collapsed on 50 persons, killing Mrs. Emma Miller, 85 years old, and her three year old daughter, injuring six other persons and throwing 200 persons in an adjoining room into a panic. Among the smaller buildings destroyed by the wind was the drug store not far from the Lake Harriet Park.

Charlie R. Fiesler, 47, escaped injury when the building crashed, but collapsed outside and died of heart disease a few minutes later. The fourth person killed was Willard J. Ford, 30, who was hurled 50 feet from the cab of a traveling crane at the local machine plant.

RUSSIA EXPERIMENTING TO CUT FOREIGN COTTON

Moscow.—Russia is now making extensive experiments in cotton growing in several districts of the Soviet Union. The use of cotton in the Soviet textile industry is increasing greatly and in insufficiency of Russian-grown cotton makes it necessary to spend large sums of money for the purchase of cotton abroad. At present there are but a few areas in Turkestan and the Trans-Caucasus which cultivate cotton; and attempts are now being made to raise cotton also in the Kuban district where the climate is specially adapted to it.

MINNESOTA STORMS BELIEVES SCOPES DOING MUCH HARM TO THE TEACHERS

W. J. Bryan Says Harm Would Be Indefinitely Increased If Scopes Views of Teachers' Independence Be Estd.

Dayton, Tenn., July 9.—William J. Bryan believes that John T. Scopes defendant in the Tennessee Evolution trial is doing more harm to the teachers of the country than to "any other class."

This harm, he declared today, would be "indefinitely increased if his (Scope's) views as to the independence of the teacher were established."

"If the evolutionists can succeed in establishing the doctrine that a teacher can teach anything that he or she pleases," said Mr. Bryan, "and teachers disregard the wish of their employees, it will become necessary to find out before appointment what the teacher thinks on disputed questions, because the people who employ teachers will be just as certain to prevent teaching what is objectionable to those who employ the teachers, as bankers and business men are to prevent clerks from running the banks contrary to instructions of the employers." Mr. Bryan, who is associated with counsel for the prosecution, expressed the belief that the welfare of teachers is best preserved under the "present system."

Under this system, he said, personal views of the teachers are less free and the control of what is to be taught is left to those who employ the teachers. "That is to the taxpayers and parents acting through Legislature and Boards of Education."

NORTH CAROLINA'S FUTURE

Setting forth Florida's present boom of prosperity as the inevitable result of former investments to cater to the human heart and predicting for North Carolina equal prosperity in the future from its unequalled resources of scenery and climate which afford ideal living conditions Natural Resources, the organ of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development, says:

"Those who have been standing by to witness the collapse of the marvelously manifested prosperity of Florida continue to be disappointed. The reason is that what looks on the surface a gambling impulse is in reality a mass appreciation of neglected opportunity. Twenty years and more ago Flagler invested millions in a future on which Florida is realizing today. He invested in such things as sand and water, sky and climate, beauty and exotic charm. Nominally, he spent his dollars in and on Florida. In reality he used them to cater to the human heart.

"The magic of Florida's recent past is of peculiar concern to North Carolina in that in all the essentials by which it has prospered it is equipped with resources of equal or greater appeal. The genius of Flagler and those who carried out his ideas saw that a land of summer drawing patronage from wintry climes would inevitably develop not only profitable resorts but economic growth and stability. Florida "boomed" with the suddenness of a gold or oil strike only when it came to be realized that the values its tourist business founded had created a self-sustaining economy to which resort returns were so much surplus.

"In Wilmington and its nearby beaches there already is the beginning of a development to challenge in time the greatest of Florida wonders. In the Morehead City-Beaufort area there are equal possibilities, which capital already has begun to exploit. With Asheville as a center, the incomparable mountains of the western counties are filled with an army of visitors drawn from the four quarters of this and other countries. In the most striking seashore areas there is practically every advantage upon which Florida's amazing growth has been based; while in the recesses of the mountains there is a combination of climate and beauty, of business and play, of poetry and industrial opportunity of which the like does not exist.

"It is as well that activity in North Carolina resort development stops short of a "boom." The growth achieved and planned is on a scale and in keeping with the balanced progress of the last five years. But the time has come when it is possible to look to the investment of millions in these North Carolina playgrounds as a necessary incident to plant equipment."

ANOTHER BUBBLE BURSTS

It was no surprise to learn that the visible assets in North Carolina of the defunct Fisheries Products Company brought only $51,450 when put up at public auction. Though sacrificed upon the public auction block, the property sold never represented anywhere in the neighborhood of the millions that Thomas H. Hayes and his associates capitalized it for. Whatever its worth, the property has been sold for scarcely enough to pay the cost of litigation. The stockholders are left out in the cold.

Property capitalized at $1,350,000 was sold for the pitiful sum of $11,000. Sacrificed? Yes, but never in its palmy days was the property worth more than a small percentage of the value placed upon it in the defunct corporation, which was floated upon a sea of imagination to inveigle North Carolina farmers into parting with hard-earned savings. Plausible stories of great wealth in store were told, but failure of vividly described fishing fleets to become realities proved them fanciful.

Beginnings were made, but minor achievements were pictured as deeds of greatness when they ought to have been considered upon their merits. Seasoned fishermen were never beguiled by these stories of wealth to be had by merely dipping into the depths of Old Ocean. Those acquainted with the fishing business knew it was another story of the rainbow and the pot of gold. Still, they were helpless because they were practical men and many there are who like to hear romantic stories of wealth rather than matter of fact stories of concrete achievement.

The bubble burst rudely, and once more it was proven that it is generally best to listen to matter of fact men when investing hard-earned savings, and to leave the business of romance to writers of fairy stories and newspaper feature articles.—News and Observer.

STUDEBAKER
Special Six Coach
$395.00 down and 12 monthly payments of $107.00 each.

Why Call It a Coach?

THEY couldn't understand! "Why call it a coach—why confuse it with cheap closed cars?" asked the dealers at a recent Studebaker meeting. "Surely it would be better to name it the Special Six Coupe."

To be sure, the Special Six Coach is upholstered in fine quality of material—with high-grade carpeting—and heavy decorative door pulls to assist passengers in alighting.

To be sure, it is lacquer finished in two styles—beautiful Studebaker blue or a rich duotone finish of Wyandotte green-gray above and Ponca green-gray below.

And, furthermore, to get a coach as large and roomy you must pay more than $1,000 above the price of this car.

But the fact remains—that it carries the lowest price at which a fine closed car has ever been sold on the world-famous Special Six chassis.

It is a coach—in price alone. But in quality—a fine type of five-passenger coupe.

From the very beginning, the coach has been an effort towards economy on the part of automobile manufacturers. But, unlike other manufacturers, Studebaker has been able to build a coach without sacrifice in essential quality—and offer it to you at an accepted coach price.

The reason for sedan quality at coach price

Studebaker builds all of its own closed bodies—builds finer coaches than have been built before—and builds them at a lower cost—because there is no outside body-maker's profit to be included in the purchase price to you.

This Special Six Coach is built complete—both body and chassis—in Studebaker plants. It is a "one-profit" automobile.

In buying a closed car, do not underestimate the importance of engine and chassis. With extra weight to carry, these units become increasingly vital.

Plus—the Special Six Chassis

This fine coach body is especially designed for and mounted on the Special Six chassis which has contributed to the splendid reputation of Studebaker cars for dependability, endurance and reserve mileage.

Definite records show that many Studebakers have delivered from 125,000 to 200,000 miles of service. Up in the rugged country around Three Rivers, Quebec, there are eight Studebaker cars that have each traveled 100,000 miles or more.

In Stockton, Calif., one Studebaker car has piled up 138,000 miles over steep mountain grades and rough country roads with negligible upkeep—not a single major part has been purchased or repaired by reason of wear or accident.

So do not buy this Special Six Coach with the expectation that you'll have to trade it in at the end of a year or so. Instead, consider this your permanent investment in transportation. At the mileage when other cars are breaking up, this Studebaker Special Six Coach will just be breaking in.

Buy now—no need to delay

You may buy this Studebaker Special Six Coach today—or on any day of the year—with the confident assurance that no act of ours will stigmatize it as a "last year's model."

For Studebaker has discontinued the custom of presenting a new line of cars each year. Instead Studebaker will keep up-to-date all of the time—introducing new improvements and refinements as their merit is proved through practical use.

PAMLICO NEWS

A great crowd of visitors from all parts of eastern North Carolina spent the week-end at Pamlico Beach, and taxed the capacity of the hotel to the limit to take care of them. The holiday crowd began to arrive early Saturday to be in on the delightful barbecue dinner that was the feature during the week.

of the 4th, and by night-time the waters of the bathing beach were alive with bathers who found the cool clear waters of the sound a welcome relief from the oppressive heat.

The Domino Five from Washington furnished the music for the usual Saturday night dance, and around seventy-five couples partook of this pleasing form of amusement. All voted the dance by all odds the best of the season.

For Sunday an endless stream of cars came into the Beach and poured the occupants into bathing suits and into the water. More than a thousand people visited the beach during the day, and nearly two hundred were registered at Pamlico Beach hotel. Notwithstanding the unusual number of guests, the management was able to serve all of them with a minimum of delay.

Fishing continues to be good, and numbers of fishermen from all parts of the state are being attracted by this phase of Pamlico Beach. Greenville, Washington, Williamston, Robersonville, Whitton, Rocky Mount, Belhaven, Amora Tarboro, Bethel
