MAJOR BOWMAN NOT HELD AT REQUEST OF HICKORY OFFICERS

Solicitor Huffman Will Not Take Responsibility For Holding Of Former Officer in Aurora, Ill.

Hickory, Aug. 10.—Major Wade Bowman, reported to have been arrested in Aurora, Ill., on Saturday, is not being held by authority of Hickory officials, it was declared this morning by City Attorney John L. Murphy. Mr. Murphy said that he wired the Aurora police to arrest Bowman early Saturday afternoon, after advising with Solicitor Robert L. Huffman, who directed the arrests. Later Mr. Murphy said Solicitor Huffman would not take the responsibility for holding the former officer and Mr. Murphy wired the Aurora officers not to hold Bowman on any charges coming from Hickory. In the mean time however, John P. Burns, one of the bondsmen for Bowman, was deposited by Sheriff Book, of Catawba county, and started out to Aurora after Major Bowman. Mr. Burns left before Mr. Murphy could advise him that Bowman was not being held. Sheriff Book said he did not have a thing to do with the holding of Bowman. It was pointed out by officials here this morning that releasing Bowman by the Aurora authorities would not mean the charges against him here would not be pressed. Attorney Murphy said that the matter had gone beyond his jurisdiction and that he merely handled it under the direction of Solicitor Huffman. Solicitor Huffman was in court at Morganton this morning and could not be gotten to a telephone.

STATE FEDERATION OF LABOR OPENS ITS ANNUAL CONVENTION

More Than 400 in Attendance At Opening Session Of 19th Annual Convention In Winston-Salem

Winston-Salem, Aug. 10.—With approximately 400 delegates from all parts of the state in attendance, the opening session of the 19th Annual Convention of the North Carolina State Federation of Labor was held here this morning. Charles V. Weaver, President of the Central Labor Union, of Winston-Salem, presided and the meeting was devoted to brief addresses by various officers of the Federation and by citizens of Winston-Salem. An address of welcome was delivered by Henry R. Dwire, editor of the Twin-City Sentinel, the response being made by Charles P. Barringer, of Salisbury, President of the Federation. Following a business session this morning a number of speakers were to address the convention, among them being James Wilson of Cincinnati, 7th Vice-President of the American Federation of Labor; John L. Bradford, International representative of the Carpenters and Joiners' Union, and President Stone, of the Farmers' Union. Police Sergeant Killed Last Night City Of Richmond Richmond, Aug. 10.—Fifty police armed with riot guns stood guard last night at St. Philips Hospital, a negro institute, where Polly Frances, a negro, and Ruth Glenn, negro, lay critically wounded by bullets inflicted during a disturbance in a negro district last night in which Detective Sergeant Lewis Rertucci was shot to death. Their number was reduced at day light, but a strong guard was maintained by authorities who feared a reaction of the slaying of a second sergeant here in less than two weeks.

Have Narrow Escape When Lightning Strikes

Several persons experienced a narrow escape late Saturday afternoon when lightning struck the golf shop at the Greenville Country Club. Mrs. E. Buckheiser, who was standing behind the counter in the shop at the time was badly shocked and Prof. J. H. Rose who was on the other side of the counter and just beneath the flue where the lightning entered the house experienced a miraculous escape. Mrs. L. A. Newnham, who was standing in the doorway of the house at the time the bolt struck was thrown to the ground and Messrs. L. A. Newnham and L. H. Bowling together with several others just outside the door felt the effects of the shock. The bolt of lightning it appears, demolished two trees on the golf course, jumped to the roof of the caddy house, entered through the chimney passed through the side of the house and damaged two more trees outside. All those in and near the house speak of the incident as a close call.

M. O. Blount Loses Pack House And Its Contents By Fire

Mr. M. O. Blount, of Bethel, suffered the loss of a pack house containing six barns of tobacco by fire Friday night. The pack house was located on Mr. Blount's farm in the Alpine section of the county near Bethel. The smell of gasoline about the premises at the time of the fire caused the belief that the fire was of incendiary origin and Saturday morning bloodhounds were carried to the scene but so far no evidence as to the guilty party or parties has been found. The loss is estimated at between $2,500 and $3,000 and was not covered by insurance.

She has been a resident of this city for some time and is survived by her husband, who is engaged in business here, and five children, the youngest being four months old.

Rutherfordton, Aug. 10. Plans for converting the Westminister school property, estimated to be worth $50,000, into an American Legion orphanage will be submitted at the state convention in Fayetteville, by Fred Williams Post No. 75. The proposed orphanage site is about eight miles east of Rutherfordton, near Logan station and the old Britain Presbyterian church.

By birth the former speaker was a member of the Quaker Church at Guilford, N. C., where he was born 89 years ago. While he had regularly attended and supported the local church, he had never become a member.

SEE LITTLE HOPE TO PREVENT HARD COAL STRIKE NOW

Letter Of John W. Lewis Indicates That Further Negotiations For Settlement Useless

Atlantic City, New Jersey, Aug. 10.—Suspension of work by 158,000 men in the hard coal fields September 1, appears more certain today following publication of a reply from John W. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers of America, to the letter recently addressed him by Samuel D. Warriner, chairman of the Anthracite Operators Conference. Mr. Warriner's letter made public Thursday, denied that the operators committee was under instructions to refuse concessions to the miners regardless of the merit or logic of their demand, and expressed hope that "means will be found to compose the differences between us and avoid a suspension of operation." Mr. Lewis, in his reply, said the Warriner letter merely confirmed the previous position taken by the operators scale commission in the conference here. He said, "Mr. Warriner and the negotiators were committed against granting the miners' wage increases and the check off."

PRESIDENT ASKS $20,000,000 CUT APPROPRIATIONS

Indications Are That Army And Navy Will Bear Brunt Of Reduction In Next Year's Budget.

Swampscott, Mass., Aug. 10.—President Coolidge today approved a tentative budget for the next year's appropriation calling for a reduction of $20,000,000 over this year. Director Lord of the Budget, presented the estimates and said they came within the figure directed by Mr. Coolidge in his address at the last business meeting of the government. Although the date was not made public, it is understood that the army and navy will bear a good portion of the cut in next year's appropriation. President Coolidge has declared he believed an adequate defense could be maintained at less expense. The budget, which is for $3,080,000,000, is only tentative, and hearings will be held in the fall before final figures are submitted to Congress. On the basis of a surplus of $250,000,000 in the Treasury on June 30, and an estimated surplus of $20,000,000 for this fiscal year, Director Lord informed the president that he believed tax reductions amounting to at least $300,000,000 would be warranted. While only $20,000,000 will be saved in appropriations next year, Government financial experts estimate the reduction in taxes will be offset by increased returns. Increased appropriations well accounted for by these, will be offset by heavy slashes in the funds to be allowed other government departments. Just what portion the National Defense will carry in the reduction and where the cuts will be made in the military service, had not been disclosed.

TOKYO'S POOR CHILDREN LACK PROPER NUTRITION

Tokyo.—The effects of the great earthquake and fire of 1923 are still being felt by the children of Tokyo. Investigators of the Child Welfare Section of the Tokyo Municipality report that more than 60 percent of the children under seven years of age in these quarters have been found to be unhealthy either because of under nourishment or diseases of various kinds. There is every indication, says the report, that the situation will become worse unless immediate steps are taken to care for those housed in the temporary structures in the poorer sections of the city.

Wilmington To Vote On Advertising Fund

Wilmington, Aug. 10.—City officials are considering the advisability of calling an election in September or October on the question of whether an annual appropriation of $25,000 to advertise the advantages of Wilmington shall be made. Directors of the chamber of commerce are favorable to the movement.

SALARY AND WAGE COMMISSION READY TO MAKE ITS REPORT

Chairman Price States Report Will Be Ready For Gov. McLean When He Returns Sept. 1

Greensboro, Aug. 10.—The long awaited report of the Salary and Wage Commission will be ready for Governor Angus W. McLean upon his return to the state September 1, Julian Price, Chairman of the Commission, stated here this morning. The meeting of the commission scheduled for this week has been postponed until Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, Mr. Price said, when the loose ends will be caught up and the final report handled. The great bulk of the work, however, has been completed, he added.

STEPS FOR FUNDING BELGIUM WAR DEBTS TO U. S. BEGUN TODAY

Several Days Must Elnapse Before Either Commission Presents Definite Plan For Settlement

Washington, Aug. 10.—Preliminary steps to the actual negotiation looking to the funding of Belgium's $480,000,000 war debt to the United States occupied the attention today of the American Belgium Debt Commissions. Calling in their first session, the commission's program included the usual exchange of courtesies between the chairmen, Ambassador D. Cartier, for Belgium and Secretary Mellon, for the United States, and the presentation of an economic statement by the visitors. While the session probably will be continued today, some time must elapse before the actual negotiation stage is reached. Several sessions will be required for the Belgians to present fully the picture of economic and financial conditions in their country and to demonstrate the exact capacity of the country to pay. The economic statement will be studied by the Americans and probably will furnish a basis for discussion before either commission presents a statement on the terms on which it desires its refunding. The American Commission approached the negotiation with a decision to go just as far as possible to meet the terms that Belgium will present, having in mind the fundamental basis must be the capacity of the little kingdom to pay. The Americans also have in mind that whatever agreement is arrived at must have the approval of Congress. Oakland, Calif., Aug. 10.—All means of escape cut off, Charles Henry Swartz, shot himself to death yesterday while police were battering in the door of his apartment to arrest him for killing a man whose charred body was found in the plant of the Pacific Cellulose Company after an explosion had wrecked the building. The victim of the explosion, which occurred in Martinez near here, was at first believed to be Swartz, who was manager of the Chemical Laboratory. Police, however, insisted on further investigation, prompted by the fact that Swartz carried more than $100,000 insurance, some of it being the type which paid double indemnity in case of accidental or violent death. Although Swartz's wife, the family physician and attorney were positive the body was that of the chemist, authorities became convinced that it was that of Warren Barbe, itinerant evangelist, and son of the Rev. John Barbe, of Jersey Shore, Pennsylvania. Swartz's capture was brought about by identification of a newspaper photograph. Charles W. Hayward, proprietor of the Oakland apartment building where Swartz took his life, happened to mention at a dinner party that one of his lodgers was in hiding. The lodger told him his automobile had been wrecked and whiskey found in it. Conversation then turned to the Swartz mystery and some one showed Hayward the photograph, which he recognized, although Swartz had later grown a mustache. Police were notified and soon surrounded the apartment house. In a letter left to his wife Swartz admitted he had slain a man, but said it was in self defense. He said "the man entered the laboratory and demanded work or money. Denied both, Swartz said the stranger attacked him and Swartz was forced to fight to protect himself. "Now I wish to tell you, my dear little girl, I don't know the man, never looked to see how he was dressed and never touched him after that. The only thing I did was to try to burn him, to wipe him out and go, I don't know where." In Swartz's pocket was found a ticket to Barlow, in Southern California, and folded around the ticket was a map of Mexico. He had $572 in his pocket.

FOSTER FATHER DECLARES HE IS A "DAMN FOOL"

Wealthy Realtor Says Adopted Daughter "Doubled Crossed" Him. Will Annul Adoption of Mary Spas

New York, Aug. 10.—While Mary Louise Spas, 21 years old Bohemian actress, was in hiding today, Edward W. Browning, wealthy real estate operator, who asked to adopt her frankly admitted he was a "damn fool." Before entering a conference with District Attorney Newcombe, of Queens County, regarding annulment of Mary's adoption, Browning issued a statement dealing with the girl's assertion that she intended to "punish him." "Mary double crossed me," said Browning. "I have been a damn fool. I have not done anything I need to be ashamed of. I have forestalled Commissioners Byrd and Newcombe by demanding a physical examination of the girl be made." In his statement Browning told of a visit Sunday by a newspaper man, who offered Mary $500 for a series of articles. He added that in the future when he had anything to do with girls, "they will be Americans," and that he was through with philanthropy forever. District Attorney Newcombe declared the girl was making a "revolting" effort to capitalize the notoriety she had obtained. "There is nothing romantic or interesting in the incident," he said. "My examination of this young woman will prove to anyone that she is designing and unscrupulous and that she was seeking only to obtain ease and luxury." "It is the same old story underlying crime, easy money and something for nothing, but this cannot flout common decency and truth, which is the bulwark of the American home, and get away."

NEGRO'S BODY FOUND ON RAILROAD TRACK AT SIMPSON SUNDAY

Authorities Believe Ed. Small Was Murdered And Then Placed On Tracks Before Train

The mangled body of Ed. Small, negro, was found on the Norfolk Southern tracks near Simpson Sunday morning by the crew of the 1:30 eastbound passenger train just after the train had passed over the body. Train officials immediately notified nearby residents of the presence of the body and they in turned notified Coroner S. G. Wilkerson that Small had been killed by the train. It developed, however, from the investigation of the jury under the direction of Coroner Wilkerson that apparently Small had been murdered and his body then placed upon the tracks ahead of the oncoming train and the findings of the jury were that Small came to his death from pistol wounds received at the hand or hands of unknown party or parties. Owing to the badly mangled condition of the body the jury was unable to find the bullet wounds thereon but evidence produced at the inquest brought forth a quarrel between Small and his wife, Hattie Small, early Saturday night, followed by the presence of two unknown negroes, one in possession of a pistol, in the vicinity where the body was found later in the night. Residents near the spot where the body was found and persons at nearby tobacco barns testified to hearing several pistol shots shortly before the arrival of the train. Hattie Small, wife of the deceased, is being held as a material witness.

KLAN EVACUATES WASHINGTON, D. C.

Burning of Monster Fiery Cross Brings Down Two Day Gathering of Klansmen to End

Washington, Aug. 10.—The white robe of the Ku Klux Klan had disappeared from the streets of the National Capital. With the burning of the monster Fiery Cross on the Virginia Hills last night, the two-day gathering of the organization came to a close, and visiting klansmen today were on their way home. The cross, 80 feet high, burned for more than an hour, illuminating the grounds of the Arlington Horse Show, where its concluding ceremonies were held for the three-day's meeting.

URGE PARENTS TO HAVE CHILDREN VACCINATED

The parents of the town are asked to remember that the regulations of the Board of Health of this county require the vaccination of all children before entering school. The opening of school is only about four weeks off. I am, therefore, urging the parents to attend to this right away so that the child may be through with the arm soreness before school opens. J. H. WHO HAS THE RIGHT-OF-WAY

Many motorists believe that the autoist on the main travelled route has the right-of-way at intersections. As far as the letter of the law is concerned, he may have. In the interest of accident prevention it is always wise to be sure that the driver of the other car knows and intends to do what is proper before you exercise your right-of-way. If it is safe and sane to give him half of the road or street, give him half; if it takes more to avoid an accident, give it to him. It is better to give him all the right-of-way — stop still — even back up, than have an accident. In other words, half the road is yours until the other fellow contends for it—then for the sake of safety it is his. Possibly this quotation will serve as an explanation.

"Here's to the memory of Solomon Gay, Whi died disputing the right-of-way. He was right, of course, dead right all along, But he's just as dead as if he'd been wrong."

It is better to be delayed a minute on the highway than for a month in the hospital. To say the same thing in another way, if a "road hog," wants your side of the road, give it to him. No one else except a "road hog" would want it. It is better to be safe than sorry.

It is always in order to warn campers to extinguish fires before breaking camp, to eliminate all possible chances of destruction from this source. Particularly important is this warning to those who expect to travel forest reserves, that the timber may not suffer on this account. A little thought along these lines at the proper time may prevent great destruction and insure the safety of human life.

Doris Kenyon in "A Thief in Paradise"

George Fitzmaurice has produced in "A Thief in Paradise," to be shown at White's Theatre, today, a thrilling, colorful romance that equals the high mark set by "On With the Dance," "To Have and to Hold," "Cyllthera," and other lavish screen plays which he has given to the world.

There are no dull moments in "A Thief in Paradise." It is full of action from the opening title to the final fade-out. It is the story of a man who masquerades as another man, falls in love with one girl and is loved by another—an unscrupulous Eurasian girl who is his accomplice in the impersonation.

One of the unique features of the picture is a polo game played by girls clad in bathing suits. The game marks the beginning of a thrilling chase and a rescue that equals an old-fashioned serial.
"But a Thief in Paradise," is more than a thriller. It has romance and drama of the most intense kind. There is a love story of a man who knows he has no right to claim the girl he loves, and who fights out his supreme battle with himself.

state are going to Pamlico Beach in increasing numbers to enjoy the delightful climate that has been prevailing there. Hot August days have no terrors for those who are staying cool in the delicious breeze from off the sparkling Pamlico waters. Fishing has been extra good for the past week. Many catches of over two hundred fish were reported last week, and the trout are biting in increasing numbers. Two of the largest speckled trout ever seen in that section were caught by guests of the hotel on last Friday.

Miss Lillian Hooker spent the week-end at Pamlico Beach. Messrs W. H. White and Howard Hooker spent the week-end at Pamlico Beach.

It was in the early afternoon that we started upon our journey. The young chief walked at our head as our guide, but refused indignantly to carry any burden. Behind him came the two surviving Indians with our scanty possessions upon their backs. We four white men walked in the rear with rifles loaded and ready. As we started there broke from the thick silent woods behind us a sudden great ululation of the apemen, which may have been a cheer of triumph at our departure or a fear of contempt at our flight. Looking back we saw only the dense screen of trees, but that long-drawn yell told us how many of our enemies lurked among them. We saw no sign of pursuit, however, and soon we had got into more open country and beyond their power.
As I tramped along, the rearmost of the four, I could not help smiling at the appearance of my three companions in front. Was this the luxurious Lord John Roxton who had sat that evening in the Albany amidst his Persian rugs and his pictures in the pink ra-dance of the United States? And was this the imposing Professor who had swelled behind the great desk in his massive study at Emmore Park? And, finally, could this be the anstere and prim figure which had risen before the meeting at the Zoological Institute? No three tramps that one could have met in a Surrey lane could have looked more hopeless and bedraggled. We had, it is true, been only a week or so upon the top of the plateau, but all our spare clothing was in our camp below, and the one week had been a severe one upon us all, though least to me who had not to endure the handling of the apemen. My three friends had all lost their hats, and had now bound handkerchiefs round their heads, their clothes hung in ribbons about them, and their unshaven grimy faces were hardly to be recognized. Both Summerlee and Challenger were limping heavily, while I still dragged my feet from weakness after the shock of the morning, and my neck was as stiff as a board from the murderous grip that held it. We were indeed a sorry crew, and I did not wonder to see our Indian companions glance back at us occasionally with horror and amazement on their faces.

In the late afternoon we reached the margin of the lake, and as we emerged from the bush and saw the sheet of water stretching before us our native friends set up a shrill cry of joy and pointed eagerly in front of them. It was indeed a wonderful sight which lay before us. Sweeping over the glassy surface was a great flotilla of canoes coming straight for the shore upon which we stood. They were some miles off when we first saw them, but they shot forward with great swiftness, and were soon so near that the rowers could distinguish our persons. Instantly a thunderous shout of delight burst from them, and we saw them rise from their seats, waving their paddles and spears madly in the air. Then bending to their work once more, they flew across the intervening water, heaved their boats upon the sloping sand, and rushed up to us, prostrating themselves with loud cries of greeting before the young chief. Finally one of them, an elderly man, with a necklace and bracelet of great lustrous glass beads and the skin of some beautiful mottled amber-colored animal slung over his shoulders, ran forward and embraced most tenderly the youth whom we had saved. He then looked at us and asked some questions, after which he stepped up with much dignity and embraced us also each in turn. Then, at his order, the whole tribe lay down upon the ground before us in homage. Personally I felt shy and uncomfortable at this obsequious adoration, and I read the same feeling in the faces of Roxton and Summerlee, but Challenger expanded like a flower in the sun. "They may be undeveloped types," said he, stroking his beard and looking around at them, "but their deportment in the presence of their superiors might be a lesson to some of our more advanced Europeans. Strange how correct are the instincts of the native man!"

It was clear that the natives had come out upon the water-path, for every man carried his spear, his long bamboo tipped with bone, his bow and arrows, and some sort of club or stone battle-axe slung at his side. Their dark, angry glances at the woods from which we had come, and the frequent repetition of the word "Doda," made it clear enough that this was a serious party, who had set forth to save or to avenge the old chief's son, for such we gathered that the youth must be. A council was now held by the whole tribe squatting in a circle, whilst we sat near on a slab of basalt and watched their proceedings. Two or three warriors spoke, and finally our young friend made a spirited harangue with such eloquent gestures and assurances that we could understand it all as clearly as if we had known his language.
"What is the use of returning," he said, "sooner or later the things must be done. Your comrades have been murdered. What if I have returned safe? These others have been done to death. There is no safety for any of us. We are assembled now and ready. These

GERMAN THEATRICAL STARS

REBEL AGAINST PAY OFFERED

Berlin.—The questions "what is a star in the theatrical profession?" and "who shall determine who are the stars?" are only two points of the many sided controversy between the German Theatrical Association and the performers which has gone into the courts. The association fixed $7 as the maximum salary for "prominent artists" and then was instrumental in naming a special commission to determine what is a "prominent artist?" and who is entitled to the maximum salary?

In the first place those who had been demanding and getting more than $75 for a performance rebelled and in the second place the stars refused to recognize the special commission.

PORTUGAL EXCHANGES

SCIENCE BENEFITS AND IDEAS WITH SPAIN

Lisbon.—The recent congress for the advancement of the sciences is only one of many ways in which Spain and Portugal appear to be showing a desire for closer relations. Many scientists from both countries attended the congress to exchange ideas and give each other the benefit of recent scientific investigations in both countries.

The president of the republic was to have presided at the congress but was prevented from doing so by illness. His place was taken by the president of the cabinet. French and Belgian academies of science also were represented in the congress.

FOREIGN ENVOYS

FIND LIFE TRIDIOUS

BOLSHEVIK CAPITAL

Moscow.—To relieve the tedium of life among the foreign diplomats and newspaper correspondents, the Moscow government has adopted the expedient of giving free theatrical entertainments once a month. Early in June a distinguished gathering of ambassadors, consuls and Soviet commissars were the guests of the Soviet government at a concert given at the State Opera House, which was featured by ballet dances, operatic pieces and vocal solos by Bolshoi Russia's best artists. Theatrical Square, where the ambassadorial automobiles drew up, resembles Times Square, New York, at the busiest theatrical hour. Moscow has not seen so many fine films, since the days of the Czars. The flags of all nations were seen, the French tricolor being especially conspicuous.

Whether because of the complete absence of social life generally or to the high cost of living, the foreign embassies and legations entertain only on rare occasions. Invitations to dinner or to parties from the members of one embassy to another, or to members of the Soviet government, are seldom given. Perhaps nowhere in the world do diplomats lead a more uneventful, uninteresting life than in the Bolsheviki capital. Such social amenities as evening dress suits have almost entirely disappeared, and a silk hat is rarely seen.

It was believed the arrival of Jean Herbet, the new French ambassador, would relieve the dullness that pervades the foreign missions, but the hopes of those who sought greater social activity and gaiety have disappeared. The French ambassador and his wife live modestly at the former house of the Nansen Relief Mission, and already have adopted the quiet, unobtrusive social customs of their colleagues in the diplomatic missions.

On the very infrequent occasions when entertainments are given by the government or by foreign missions, the wives and families of the diplomats are conspicuous by their absence. The fact is that life in the Russian metropolis is so dull, difficult and dear, that foreign ambassadors and ministers prefer to leave the members of their families at home where normal conditions prevail and where they have the customary social and friendly contact with neighbors.

TITLES OF OWNERSHIP FAIL

TO SAFEGUARD CUBAN AUTO

Havana.—Issuance of a title of ownership with each automobile license in Cuba kept the republic practically free of automobile thefts until a short time ago, when several machines disappeared in rapid succession. A general checkup by the police, who stopped machines with regularity demanding that titles be shown, failed to bring the stolen machines into the hands of the authorities.

Then two rural guards found an underground storehouse near here where machines were being dismantled and sold piece by piece to unscrupulous garage owners. Rural guards believe all of the half dozen or more machines, which had disappeared several months ago, were taken to the underground workroom for dismantling as well as many accessories which sneak thieves removed from parked automobiles.

Coffee
 Owing to the reports of further control being exercised by Brazil in the receipt of coffee to ports of shipment and the cooperation of other states with Sao Paulo, it is difficult to predict the immediate trend of prices. We are inclined therefore to favor a trading position for the time being.

Sugar
 In consideration of the firm raw situation, refiners showing disposition to pay 25-8 cents for further August supplies, we believe that the futures market is too low and that prices will work moderately higher.

Cotton Summary
 George B. Terrell, Texas State Commissioner of Agriculture, estimates crop of his state at 3,450,000 bales.

The Government's supplemental cotton crop statement says declines in Texas and Oklahoma crop indication, due to drought, been fairly offset by lessening of weevil menace in Southeast and improvement in Arkansas, Tenn., and Missouri. Reports on date of first open bolls indicate crop a week earlier than last year in Southeast and ten days to two weeks earlier in balance of belt. The August first delta laboratory weevil report says generally weevil infestations decreased somewhat during preceding fifteen days.

Manchester cable reports fairly active cloth trade early in week but slackening of activity later.
