

ONE KILLED WHEN POLITICAL ENMITY RESULTS IN FIGHT

Rough and Tumble Fight Between Editor and Former Judge Results in Death of By-Stander

East Las Vegas, New Mexico, Aug. 22.—Carl C. Magee, Albuquerque editor, today was faced with first degree murder charges in the New Mexican Court, in which he gained national prominence as defendant in the Magee liable and contempt case.

A coroner's jury at the request of the Assistant District Attorney adjourned until later today when Magee was expected to be present with his attorney.

East Las Vegas, New Mexico, Aug. 22.—Political enmity between Carl C. Magee, Albuquerque newspaper editor and David J. Leahy, former district judge in Las Vegas, left death in its wake here today after breaking out in the form of a rough and tumble fight in which Magee drew a revolver and fired suddenly, killing a by-stander John B. Lassiter, and wounded Leahy in the arm.

Leahy, who has said, attacked McGee on seeing him in the hotel lobby last night. The editor had been summoned to the floor by the ex-judge when he whipped out his gun. The first shot snuffed out Lassiter's life as he moved to separate the fighters.

McGee was permitted to remain at his hotel after the shooting but Assistant District Attorney Thomas V. Trudner announced that he would be charged with manslaughter if a coroner's jury today held him responsible for the death.

"I regret more than anything this terrible occurrence and am grief stricken over it," McGee told news paper men after the fight.

Last night's fight and shooting closed another chapter in the exciting career of McGee. In July 1923 he was convicted of libel by a jury in Judge Leahy's court in connection with publishing of editorial attacks on Chief Justice Parker of the New Mexico Superior Court. Sentenced to prison by Judge Leahy, he was pardoned by Governor Hinkle before being taken to the penitentiary.

A year later he was hailed into court by Leahy for editorially criticizing the court while other charges in connection with the libel case were pending. This time he was charged with contempt and sentenced to three months imprisonment. In pronouncing sentence Judge Leahy termed McGee a miscreant. He served one day and night and Governor Hinkle pardoned him again. McGee is credited with having aided in starting the investigation leading to the discovery of the little black sachel of Teapot Dome fame. McGee bought the Albuquerque Morning Journal from Albert Fall in 1920 and in 1924 gave evidence to the oil committee regarding Fall's financial condition. The contempt case was the last clear-up of consequences between McGee and Leahy until last night, but last fall the editor waged a campaign against the judge, who lost in his fight for re-election to the bench.

Chief Buird, of the Gulf Post police, expressed the belief that Anderson and his gang made away with the Ida Q. Rum runners at first were suspected of the theft, but it was later believed that they would have taken a craft equipped with motors.

Sheffield, accused of a series of murderous night invasions of homes, wrote letters recounting the details of these crimes and boasting of his ability to foil the efforts of the law, was presented by the former army officer for murder. Fairmont Market Sells 1,242,710 Lbs. At Average $20.70

(By R. W. McFarland)

Fairmont, N. C., Aug. 22.—The official sales and average for the week ending yesterday on the Fairmont Tobacco Auction Market were: 1,242,710 pounds which sold for $25,729.67; an average of $20.70 per hundred pounds. Monday's average was the best of the week it being $22.57. Wednesday's was the lowest it being $19.39. This variation in average was due to the offerings Monday being superior in quality. History is repeating itself as the farmers tributary to this old established market are following the custom of the East, so it seems, in bringing in their best tobaccos the first day of the week. It may be that having Saturday to "grade" that they have more time to handle it better.

The sales on this market so far for the season are 2,736,978 pounds which sold for $59,119.35; an average of $18.92 for the whole. In this report for the week as well as for the season the "scrap" is included. It seems to be the custom on many markets in this belt to eliminate the scrap in reporting or else merely to guess at things. Like some of the markets I'd down in Georgia for the purpose of "boosting" some particular markets, but this is not fair to the farmer. What he wants and what he is entitled to is facts, not "estimates." I have never yet seen any "estimates" sent out from any market that were not over estimates. They are never under.

The crop of tobacco in this belt is not as good as was expected. While it is a much better crop than last season, yet it is not above normal in its quality. Its got right much weight and this is after all a great help to the man who raises it. We take it that conditions in the whole of the South Carolina Belt this season are similar. Next week we will give a "forecast" for the season's average.

Dies From Wounds Received While Playing With Pistol

Fayetteville, Aug. 22.—David Harrison, 16, is dead at a local hospital today from wounds received yesterday when Raymond Culbreth, a boy friend, fired what he thought was an unloaded pistol at him. The bullet entered the boy's abdomen. The two boys were playing with a pistol Friday afternoon at which time it was unloaded. Later it was loaded by Harrison and placed on a shelf by Culbreth thinking the pistol still harmless, picked it up and fired at Harrison. Culbreth is exonerated from all blame by the parents of the dead boy.

DROP IN GASOLINE PRICES BRINGS JOY MANY MOTORISTS

Wars Between Rival Dealers in the Mid West Causes Gasoline Prices to Take Drop

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Motorists are wearing broad grins and their chariots are chugging along merrily in four sections of the mid west today as wars between rival dealers have brought gasoline prices down.

The merriest is greatest in Decatur, Ill., where prices are the lowest. Three National concerns attempting to drive out independents have trimmed prices from 23 cents a gallon to fifteen and seventeen. Several of the smaller stations have succumbed, others have suspended until the war is over, and others continue to fight.

In Wichita, Kansas, where the fight has raged for months, approximately one half of the stations are selling at 13.8 and 13.9 cents plus the state tax of two cents a gallon. The larger companies' prices are 17.8; 18.8 and 20.8 cents plus the tax, the latter being quotations of the Southern Oil Company, of Indiana, which has remained out of the fight.

Two rivals in Woonsocket started in the price cutting, and the neutrals were compelled to follow suit for a while, and then suspend to let them fight it out. After six days the Lakeside Garage was down to 17 cents and the Texaco representative to 18 cents.

Killed in Attempt Burglarize House

Reidsville, Aug. 22.—Edward Carter, white man, was killed here shortly before eleven o'clock Friday night when caught burglarizing the home of Edward R. Franklin. Carter had removed valuables belonging to Mr. Franklin from under his pillow when he happened to touch Mrs. Franklin's foot, causing her to awaken. Mrs. Franklin was immediately awakened and then Carter is alleged to have begun shooting. Two bullets striking Franklin and one Mrs. Franklin.

Despite his wounds, Franklin grappled with the burglar and finally managed to reach a shot gun. Three times this gun was fired without striking Carter, but the fourth shot went into his chest and caused instant death. Another white man accompanied Carter but fled when the shots started and had not been apprehended today. The wounds Franklin and his wife suffered were not serious.

The next inter city meet will be held in Farmville during November.

The following members of the local Rotary Club were in attendance: Pres. R. H. Wright, Curtis Perkins, J. B. Kittrell, Rev. W. P. Watkins, Jr., D. J. Whetard, Jr., J. H. Rose, John Wilcox, Mayor D. M. Clark.

Prisoner Gives "Leg Ball," Leaves for Parts Unknown

Winston-Salem, Aug. 22.—Contamination spread through the Forsyth county convict camp one morning this week when the guards, in checking up the prisoners, found the leg of Convict No. — chained to the bunk, but the prisoner was nowhere to be found. He had made "leg ball" and departed for parts unknown.

The escaped prisoner was recently convicted, along with a woman, of committing a statutory offense in the City of Winston-Salem. The judge administered a fine in each case, but there was not enough money between the pair to pay two fines, so the "man in the case" did the hero act—the woman paid her fine and went her way—the man was sent to the roads.

It was late in the afternoon when the prisoner reached the camp where he was scheduled to spend a term of thirty days. Night came. The guard shackled the prisoner's leg to the bunk on which he was to sleep and sought more comfortable quarters.

The guard now has in his possession one wooden leg, which he promises to return to the owner if he will apply in person.

Last Chapter in N. C. Greatest Forest Fire Written

Boone, N. C., Aug. 22.—A smoldering mountain, which a few days ago was the beautiful Grandfather, is today sending columns of smoke toward the heavens, and the last chapter in North Carolina's greatest forest fire has been written.

Hardly any blaze is in evidence and slight rain has helped to stop the fire from spreading.

The damage is estimated between two and six million dollars, most of which was lost in standing timber by the United States Government. Miss Florence Boyd, of Lenoir, probably is suffering the greatest individual loss when 100,000 feet of select hardwood lumber owned by her went up in smoke.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT MEDITATION

"The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak."—St. Matthew 26-41.

How kindly and charitably our Lord speaks of the sleeping disciples in the garden of Gethsemane!

We have been in the habit of condemning them. We would not have slept, if we had been given the opportunity of serving Him that moon-lit night—not we!

But Jesus sympathetically makes allowance for their failure to keep watch with him one hour. They were "willink" enough; but they were full of sorrow. Sorrow induces sleep; and "the flesh is weak."

But, are we so different from these first followers of Christ?

How often, during the past week, we rose in the morning with the purpose in our hearts to meet every task and vanquish them: to fulfill every duty that might arise during the day. And now, looking back over the week, we see how we have day after day fallen so far behind what we intended to do. Our Spirit was in advance of the flesh. Will God blame me because I have failed to do those things I had promised myself, and promised Him, to do? Or, can I find refuge in Christ's gentle allowance for the inefficiencies of the body against the eagerness of the spirit?

Then, again, I have been a moral delinquent in the week now closing. I wanted to live a good, clean, upright life; but the battle was unequal. The powers of the flesh overcame the high purpose of the spirit. My inclinations and impulses were good; but passion and appetite and habit and the evil examples of those around me, all conspired to negative my upward flight. I feel I could cry out with the Apostle:—"Oh, wretched man that I am, who shall deliver me from the body of this death?"

Well, Jesus knows it all. And because "He was tempted in all points as we are," He makes allowance for it all. I can ask His forgiveness for the sins of the week knowing that—

"There's a kindness in His Justice,
Which is more than liberty."

Once again, What will Jesus say of all the lost opportunities to speak for Him this week? There were times when we could have recommended Him—and we were dumb; Times when we ought to have borne clear witness to His saving power—and we were afraid of being thought "extreme." Will He hasten to condemn? If He does, who then can be saved? Rather, will He not compassionately say, "The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak," and encourage us to try again in the coming week?

If our Lord is thus full of sympathy and compassion for us in our weakness and failures, ought we not to be gentle, helpful, and full of kindly allowance to others? To the traveler lying wounded by the way-side, let us take the balm and the oil, and leave the acids behind. Let us not judge or condemn another until we know how rough and steep his path has been, and how he may have struggled before he fell. Let us try to be as kind and tolerant and sympathetic as is our Lord.

CAMERA MAGIC FEATURES "BEGGAR ON HORSEBACK"

Cruze-Paramount Picture Made A-Long Mammoth Lines White's Monday and Tuesday.

According to Paramount, picture-goers, who have been crying for something new, something that gets away from the old motion picture formula, something with a little emotion and a flock of laughs, have nothing more to cry about. James Cruze has made "Beggars on Horseback" for the screen—a picture in which there is imagination and originality in every reel.

"Beggars on Horseback" was written by George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly, the playwrighting team that made "Merton of the Movies," "The Ladies" and other big stage and screen successes. As a play, "Beggars on Horseback" broke records for box office receipts in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and many other cities while on tour.

On the screen "Beggars on Horseback" is a production with "camera magic" in every foot of film. It hasn't a single horse or a beggar in it. But it has the type of comedy in which Cruze has thus far excelled and points the way to a new field of screen entertainment.

NEW PARAMOUNT COMEDY THRILLER WHITE'S TODAY

"Contraband" Combination of Fun, Furious Action.

The Alan Crossland-Paramount production, "Contraband," featuring Lois Wilson, Noah Beery, Raymond Hatton and Raymond McKee.

The story, which Jack Cunningham skillfully adapted from the absorbing novel of the same name by Clarence Budington Kelland, combines rip-roaring action, wholesome humor and a rousing romance.

What could be more provocative of thrills and excitement than a beautiful young miss, editor of a small-town newspaper, starting in to solve the mysterious disappearance of a sheriff and finding herself fighting a gang of rum-runners and bootleggers?

And what is funnier than a male beauty contest with its inevitable rivalry, or the romance of a dignified young professor who tries to express his love in words of six syllables?

Add to that villainous deputy-sheriff and a crooked politician who holds a mortgage on the newspaper, and you begin to realize that the picture possesses all the necessary ingredients for an hour of worthwhile entertainment.

"The Most Popular Sin in the World" To Be Subject of Episcopal Rector at Union Service at Court House.

Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock the sixth of the series of union Sunday evening services will be conducted at the "out door" church on the court house lawn, by the Greenville Ministerial Association. The speaker for the evening will be the Rev. James E. W. Cook, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

An unusually large crowd attended the service last Sunday evening, and heard Rev. W. P. Watkins, Jr., the Methodist pastor. Arrangements are being made to care for even a greater congregation tomorrow. This will be the last service before close of the Summer term at the East Carolina Teacher's College, and a special invitation is being extended the students of the college to attend.

Rev. Mr. Cook is considered one of the best speakers in the city, a man who is well thought of by all denominations, and the subject for tomorrow evening is a very timely one. There will be but one more of these services after tomorrow, and the Ministerial Association urges the support of the public to make these services in every way successful.

GERMAN UPHOLDS U-BOAT WAR AND CONDEMNS ALLIED BLOCKADE
Berlin.—Vice Admiral Hollweg deplores the fact that the German submarine war was not started earlier and carried through ruthlessly. For then, he declares in an article in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, all American armaments and munitions would have proved worthless and Hindenburg, and not Wilson, would have won the war.

The admiral speaks of submarine warfare as a "God-given gift" which had been entrusted to Germany in self protection against "the inhuman blockade which, though sanctioned by America was a violation of all precepts of international law." The writer emphatically denies that it was the unrestricted submarine campaign which induced America to enter the war. Those Germans "who still adhere to that opinion, as Count Bernstorff," he refers to as "poor, simple-minded cosmopolitan souls."

RESIDENTS OF UTAH OBJECT TO NICKNAMING ITS PEAKS
Salt Lake City.—Utah residents are aroused over chance and possibly inappropriate names bestowed upon many of the peaks and canyons in the south Utah region which includes Zion National Park, Cedar Breaks state park and Bryce Canyon National Monument. Suggestion has been made that a commission be appointed to take up the matter with the National Geographic Board of the United States.

MR. B. F. WARD DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Parmer, Aug. 21.—Funeral services for Mr. B. F. Ward, who died Wednesday morning at 3:20 o'clock at his home here, were conducted Thursday p. m. by Rev. J. T. Williams, pastor of the Presbyterian church and a very close friend of the family. Interment was made in the family burial ground at the home of Mr. J. L. Ward of Pitt county, Bethel Township. He had been in failing health since the latter part of May.

Mr. B. F. Ward, the last of the L. L. Ward, Sr., family, son of Luke Lafayette Ward and Malah' Leggett was born on the Ward plantation on which he was buried, 72 years ago, last November 9th. When he left there he purchased a farm in another section of the Bethel township. There he lived until 1912, when he purchased his home here, where he and his family have been living since. For a number of years he was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of Bethel.

He leaves to survive him, his wife, Mrs. Julia E. Ward, one son, J. M. Ward of Mt. Airy, eight daughters, Mrs. M. W. Brown, Mrs. W. J. Taylor and Mrs. L. L. Ward, of near Bethel, Mrs. G. C. James, Mrs. Malena' Ward Trainham, Mrs. N. O. Van Gortwick and Miss Bertha Ward of this place, Mrs. J. W. Reddick, of Fountain, twenty-seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

His six sons-in-law were active pallbearers while eight of his grandsons acted as honorary pallbearers. The great number of people present for the funeral and the number of flower designs which were very beautiful, showed the high esteem in which he was held in this community.

FII ISLANDERS HEAR RADIO TALK FROM HELEN KELLER IN CALIFORNIA

Suva, Fiji.—Helen Keller, speaking at KGO broadcasting station at Oakland, Cal., was heard distinctly here on a recent evening. Miss Keller was introduced by her lifelong friend and teacher, Miss Annie M. Sullivan, who taught her to talk, read and write, helping the noted blind and deaf girl to form the basis of her remarkable education.

Miss Keller's voice which she herself was destined not to hear, was heard on this occasion in Australia and New Zealand. Reports of the reception of the Oakland program in those countries have been received here.

BRITON WOULD SAFE GUARD PUBLIC MORALS; BAN ON COURT REPORTS

London.—With the idea of "regulating the publication of reports of judicial proceedings in such manner as to prevent injury to public morals," Lord Darling has introduced a "proceedings bill" in the House of Lords. The bill makes it unlawful to "print, circulate or publish any indecent matter or medical, surgical, or physiological details calculated to injure public morals, in relation to divorce or separation cases."

The penalty is imprisonment not exceeding three months or a fine not exceeding $2,500, or both. The measure does not apply to the publication of matter in separate volume or series of law reports, or in technical publications intended for the legal and medical professions.

AGED SCOTCHMAN FINDS NATIVE LAND STRANGE AFTER 62 YEARS

Belfast.—The saddest man on the liner Cedric which arrived here from Liverpool recently enroute to America was John Neill, an 86-year-old Scot. He left his native Glasgow for the United States in 1863 and fought in the Civil War, and this was his first trip to the land of his nativity. "I did not meet a soul I knew," he said. "Everything was changed and I was like a stranger in a strange land. Now I am going back to Honolulu to spend the remaining days of my life."

Coffee While the market yesterday ruled irregular after prices eased during the morning sessions, shorts apparently were uncertain as to their position and a few covering orders quickly caused a recovery all through the list. Late cables Friday were irregular and as our market is dull both in actuals and futures, the immediate trend is more dependent upon Brazil than local developments. We prefer the accumulation of distant months on signs of weakness at their prevailing discounts.

Sugar Yesterday's market was deadlocked between the heavy selling orders in September on account of first notice day Tuesday while apparently some large short account considered the price low enough to cover.
