Strike Of Anthracite Miners Went Into Effect Today

COMPLETE TIE UP COAL MINES OVER NATION

158,000 Mine Workers Walk Out As Result of Suspension of Work; Lewis Castigates Mine Owners for Lack of Sincerity in Negotiating New Contract

Philadelphia, Sept. 1.—A peaceable, but complete tie-up of the hard coal fields was in effect today as a result of the suspension of work by 158,000 mine workers.

The first shift of the 10,000 maintenance men, who will police the mines throughout the suspension by agreement with the owners, took their assigned places without any hitch.

All through the night the coal trains tolled over the mountain grades outward bound and loaded, while long strings of empty cars went back to the mines for fresh loads.

John L. Lewis, International President of the Union, at his headquarters announced the suspension would be peaceful. He also took occasion to castigate the mine owners for what he called lack of sincerity in their attempts to negotiate a new contract to replace the old one.

Estate of Lawson Placed at $21,300,000

Chicago, Sept. 1.—The estate of the late Victor Frank Lawson, editor and owner of the Chicago Daily News, was placed at $21,300,000, it was learned today when it was filed in the probate court.

13 Year Old Girl Returns Married

Durham, Sept. 1.—(AP) Louise Williams, 13, who disappeared from Durham recently, has returned to her home here as Mrs. Clinton Ivory. The couple were married in Chapel Hill, it is stated, after an unsuccessful attempt to secure marriage license in Greensboro.

PUBLIC LIBRARY TO OPEN NEW QUARTERS NEXT WEDNESDAY

Will Occupy Room On First Floor of the Evans Street School; Hours to Be From 3:30 to 6 O'clock

The Greenville Public Library will open Wednesday afternoon from 3:30 to 6 o'clock in its new quarters, on the first floor of the Evans Street School. The room, in which the library is now located, has been freshly painted, additional book cases made, and it presents a most pleasing appearance.

A special invitation is extended to the people of Greenville to visit the library Wednesday afternoon and inspect the new quarters. If you are not a member of the library join now, and begin using the books.

This is a free library, as there is no charge for membership. Mrs. Jack Hillery and Mrs. Frank Kohler, of Philadelphia, arrived yesterday for a visit to their sister, Mrs. J. H. Boyd, Jr., and to attend the Whichard-Andrews wedding.

SEAPLANE ON ITS WAY TO HAWAII IS FORCED DOWN

PN-9, Number 1 Winding Its Way Westward on Non-Stop Flight While PN-3 is Forced Down

San Francisco, Sept. 1.—With half its voyage to Hawaii accomplished the flag ship of the two sea planes which took off from San Francisco Bay yesterday, was winging its way westward today. The other plane was afloat on the surface of the Pacific Ocean, 300 miles from San Francisco with the destroyer William Jones standing by.

Reports from the Jones were that the plane, the PN 9 No. 3, was in difficulty due to broken oil pressure lines to both of its engines. Communication between the PN 9, No. 1, and the air craft carrier Langley, was established shortly before three o'clock this morning when it was calculated that the flag plane was nearing the half way mark of its flight.

The catastrophe to the PN 9, No. 3 is believed by naval officers in charge to have occurred about 7:30 last night, less than five hours after the take off from San Francisco.

San Francisco, Sept. 1.—The radio silence, which has ensued since the PN 9, No. 1, flag plane of the San Francisco non-stop flight, was sighted off the air plane tender Langley at six o'clock today, is being made a matter of speculation among flight officials here. No fears are being felt for the safety of the big craft, however.

Captain Stanford F. Moses, commander of the project said, "I am not worried by the silence surrounding the PN 9, No. 1. There are several reasons why long periods of time might elapse between the reports of her progress. She may have sighted a storm and in circling it missed one of the station ships.

Prohibition's New Army Takes Field Under Sec. Andrews

Washington, Sept. 1.—Prohibition's revitalized army today took the field under Command of Assistant Secretary Andrews and with orders designated the bootleggers capture a silt main objective.

Admitting that a few vulnerable spots exist in his attacking lines, Mr. Andrews is confident of ultimate success and he intends to continue the fight "so long as it is possible, for me to accomplish anything."

As the field forces are strengthened, there is a corresponding shrinkage in the office here of Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, who was divested of much of his power when Assistant Secretary Andrews took charge of enforcing the dry law.

Mr. Andrews is holding the divisional administrators responsible for enforcement in their areas, and his edict to them was that bootlegging be broken up and sources of supply wiped out. He directed them especially to get at the conspiracy cases are too big for the local police.

Sale of Cotton at Dunn Having Effect On Local Business

Dunn, Sept. 1.—(AP) Sale of cotton on the Dunn market is already having a stimulating effect on local business, and indications are for a splendid fall trade here. Cotton is fast opening in this vicinity, and picking is well under way.

FRIZZELLE TO BE TRIED FOR HIS LIFE HERE WEDNESDAY

Negro to Answer for the Shooting to Death of Dr. H. P. Moseley; First Day's Session Featured by Disposal of a Large Number of Cases

Frank Frizzelle, negro, who on the night of August 20, killed Dr. H. P. Moseley, of Farmville, when he called to pay him a professional visit and who has been in Raleigh for safe keeping since that time was brought to Greenville today and arraigned before Judge Albion Dunn.

Pitt County Court for the trial of criminal cases convened in Greenville yesterday with Judge Albion Dunn, presiding. The grand jury is composed of the following: J. H. Boyd, Jr., foreman; J. S. Conner, P. T. Atkinson, H. J. Fortines, H. H. Manning, G. A. Ward, J. H. Whitehurst, W. J. Cannon, V. C. Fleming, J. Lonnie Tucker, W. S. Galloway, J. L. Mooring, Arthur G. Galloway, Jarvis Mills, W. Harvey Elks, J. C. Dixon, W. S. Brown.

Although half of the morning session was taken up with the Judge's charge to the grand jury and other necessary arrangements, the day was featured by the hearing of a large number of cases. At the night session a divorce case was disposed of. If the record established the first day is indicative of the remaining five days then this will indeed be one of the most successful weeks in the history of Pitt county courts and the docket will, in all probability, be cleared of its one hundred and fifty cases.

The grand jury returned the following true bills: Will Greene and George Young, larceny; Lester Mat-

DR. MILLER WILL PREACH INITIAL SERMON SUNDAY

New Pastor of the Christian Church to Begin Work With Local Congregation Next Week

Dr. Alfred R. H. Miller, of Norfolk, Nebraska, who succeeds Rev. Lee Sadler as pastor of the Eighth Street Christian Church, has advised the chairman of the official board that he with Mrs. Miller will reach Greenville during this week. His first service with the local congregation will be that of next Sunday.

Dr. Miller is recognized as one of the foremost preachers of the Disciples faith, and even during his college years held the pastorate of many big churches of the larger cities. When at the age of just fifteen years, Dr. Miller was known as "The Boy Evangelist," which work he was engaged in each year of the vacation season, until he received his high school diploma.

At the time Dr. Miller accepted the call of the Greenville congregation, he was forced to decline offers of several other churches located in some of the principal cities of other states. The Greenville church feel that they are fortunate in procuring the services of such an able divine, and are putting forth every effort to greet their new pastor with a large congregation at his initial service.

Since the acceptance of the resignation of Rev. Lee Sadler several months ago, Rev. R. B. Phillips, of Macesfield has supplied the local pulpit, and through his earnest efforts for the church he served and the interest he manifested in the religious activities of the city he has won a host of friends in Greenville who will regret to see him leave.

HANEY REITERATES REFUSAL TO RESIGN

Requested by President Coolidge to Resign; President is Hopeful That He Will Reconsider Refusal

Washington, Sept. 1.—Bert E. Haney, of Oregon, commissioner of the Shipping Board, reiterated today his refusal to resign under the circumstances requested by President Coolidge. Mr. Haney said that while he had received no direct word from Swampscoot, he was informed that the President hoped he would reconsider his decision.

Swampscoot, Sept. 1.—President Coolidge is hopeful that Bert E. Haney, of Oregon, will reconsider his refusal to resign as a commissioner of the shipping board.

Although extended comment on Mr. Haney's determination to say in the service despite the President's request for his resignation, was withheld today at White Court, it was stated that Mr. Coolidge believing the commissioner on thinking the matter over will realize the propriety of remaining on the board. It is the view of the President that Mr. Haney has shown that he does not intend to carry out the policy laid down by the Merchant Marine Act, and that until he changes his determination he should not attempt to hold his place as a board member.

LOCAL MARKET BREAKS RECORD OPENING SALES

PRES. COOLIDGE IS CONFRONTED TWO DOMESTIC ISSUES

The Anthracite Situation and the Shipping Board Controversy Overshadows Last Week's Vacation

Swampscoot, Sept. 1.—Two domestic issues confronted the administration today. The Anthracite situation and the shipping board controversy. These overshadowed all other business before the President for the last week of his vacation. Repeatedly it had been indicated that the Federal Government would take no hand in the Wage Scale dispute between hard coal operators and miners. Now that suspension of anthracite operations has become a reality there is no indication that the administration contemplates a move restriction as to it by law other than to do what it can to insure an adequate supply in anthracite consuming territories.

Pending his return to Washington within a week, President Coolidge will keep in touch with developments through the Press and reports from government observers. With regard to the shipping board controversy brought to a head by the President's demand for the resignation of Bert E. Haney, of Oregon, as commissioner, what Mr. Coolidge will do in view of Mr. Haney's refusal to quit is problematical. He may take action to bring about Haney's removal, and await the December session of Congress and submit to the Senate the name of somebody else for Mr. Haney's place on the board.

MR. W. D. WELLS DIED YESTERDAY

Funeral Services Conducted This Morning With Interment Following in Cherry Hill Cemetery

Mr. William D. Wells, 65, died at his home in this city on Monday afternoon following an illness of several months. Funeral services were conducted this morning at 11 o'clock by the Rev. W. P. Watkins with interment following in the Cherry Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Wells was born in Cheraw, S. C., on Dec. 11, 1859, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wells. He moved to Greenville three years ago from Roper where he had been making his home for several years. He was a member of the Methodist church and while living in Belhaven served for fifteen years as superintendent of the Sunday school. During his stay in Greenville he has won a host of friends.

The deceased is survived by his wife, one son, A. G. Wells and one brother, E. S. Wells, Tusculum, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Hooker returned yesterday from Virginia Beach, Va.

Today's Offerings Total Million Pounds; Grades Poor and the Average Price Around 15 Cents; Other Markets Have Large Opening Sales

With the largest opening sales in its history and in the presence of probably the greatest number of visitors here for the occasion the Greenville Tobacco Market began its 1925 season here this morning. With offerings totaling nearly a million pounds consisting of the poorest grades as a whole ever offered on the local market prices ranged from two to sixty cents. No definite figures were available at noon today but conservative observers estimated that approximately 800,000 pounds of the weed would be sold during today and that the average price per pound would be close to fifteen cents. The prices were in keeping with the grades offered and farmers expressed satisfaction at the results.

Shortly before nine o'clock this morning all the tobacco buyers, board of trade members and thousands of visitors gathered in Forbes and Morton's warehouse where the market was to be officially opened. Promptly at nine o'clock Rev. Leland O'Brien, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church, offered prayer after which the market was declared officially open for business and the auctioneer began to cry his initial bids. For the first fifteen minutes all three sets of buyers followed that sale and then the second and third set went to Gorman's Warehouse and the Centre Brick Warehouse where the other two first sales were begun.

A check up at noon on the traffic census being taken today by the local Boy Scouts showed that more than two thousand automobiles, a hundred trucks and three hundred animal drawn vehicles had entered this city since six o'clock this morning. Prior to six o'clock it was estimated that nearly two thousand visitors were already in the city and conservative estimates place the total number of visitors here today at 10,000.

WASHINGTON ESTIMATES 15 CENT AVERAGE

Washington, N. C., Sept. 1.—Offerings on the local market today totaled around 400,000 pounds, which was the largest number of pounds ever offered on an opening sale here. The grades were poor and the average price was estimated to be around 15 cents.

TWO MILLION POUNDS PLACED ON WILSON MARKET

Wilson, Sept. 1.—Two million pounds of tobacco was placed on sale today on the auction warehouse floors here. The quality was only fair and the average prices fifteen cents a pound. The opinion was expressed that the great amount of tobacco offered was responsible for the price being somewhat lower than expected.

KINSTON ESTIMATES 14 CENTS AVERAGE

Kinston, Sept. 1.—More than 1,000,000 pounds of tobacco was offered on the auction warehouse floors of five warehouses here today. The average price was fourteen cents. Lugs and first primings constituted the major portion. The tobacco offered was said to be inferior to last year. The general price was lower than last year. (Please Turn to Page Six)

TO THE POINT

The charge delivered by Judge Albion Dunn to the grand jury here yesterday in opening the present term of criminal court was one of the strongest ever delivered in this city and the warnings sounded not only to the members of the grand jury but to the public at large will be long remembered and if heeded will do much toward remedying conditions to the extent that instead of congested dockets on the criminal calendars of this state the judges will find themselves with much time for idleness.

The laxity of the court in meting out punishment in keeping with the crime was stressed by Judge Dunn in his charge as one of the reasons for the present trend toward lawlessness. If, however, courts throughout the state would follow his suggestion that the punishments be of such a degree of severity as to be an example for those who are criminally inclined a great advancement toward better conditions will have been made. Laxity in the American home as set forth in the charge is another present day evil that must be corrected if the citizens of tomorrow are to be reared with any degree of respect for the laws of the land.

Judge Dunn not only declared for a policy of a full day's work for judges, courts and members of the bar but set out immediately to carry out such a policy by holding three sessions on the first day of the term and disposing of about forty cases. Prior to the opening of court here he declared that it was his intention to clear up the congested docket and the dispatch with which he handled the cases yesterday indicates that he will make good his promise in this respect.

Praise for Judge Dunn from cities where he has held court already had become a source of pride to citizens of this county but seeing him in action here has brought to these citizens more forcibly the realization of his qualities as a competent jurist.

At least kisses come high in Raleigh. Warrants were served on a young couple for engaging in such a pastime while seated in an auto on one of the city's thoroughfares. The young Romeo paid ten dollars to the court as a fine for his part in the affair and the young lady accomplice forfeited a bond of twenty five dollars by her failure to appear in court.

Despite the poor quality of the offerings on the local tobacco market today this section of the state as a whole has a larger and better crop than for several years and with increased prices in keeping with the grades when the better tobaccos are marketed a wave of prosperity is no doubt in store for Eastern North Carolina.

The local troops of Boy Scouts are indeed rendering a great service to this city today in furnishing valuable information as to the traffic over the various highways leading into this city. Never before has there been a definite check on the number of vehicles entering this city in a single day and no doubt the result of today's census will be a revelation to many residents of this city.

With the anthracite miners out on strike and only a ninety days' supply of hard coal apparently available no doubt opportunity will be afforded the extreme southern states to capitalize on their summer climate this winter.

With the increased traffic conditions here it is indicated that parking space on our streets will soon be at a premium.

LAWYERS AT DETROIT TOLD NEWSPAPERS' VALUE PROFESSION

Detroit.—Closer relations between bar associations of the country and the press were urged by Julius Henry Cohen of New York in his address as chairman, opening the conference of bar association delegates today.

"The progress that has been made in the formulation of ethical standards, in the improved machinery and administration of the law, in the raising of standards for admission to the bar, could never have been brought about except through the cooperation of the press," said Mr. Cohen. "But the press is not organized as is the profession of medicine, or even as ours is, though as we have pointed out, our own organization is still in the making. Newspaper publishers are men of business. Newspaper editors are beginning to evolve just now a form of associational activity. The serious attempt made last year to bring about a formal relationship between the two professions was unsuccessful. The two professions are not yet properly organized for formal cooperation. There must be cooperation between the press and the bar, but for some time to come it will be cooperation of a different kind."

Mr. Cohen referred to a committee report to be made which would outline a plan of cooperation between the two professions by closer relationship between the organized bar in each state and the newspapers of that state.

"What the bar is doing in the improvement of justice, for the modernizing of legal institutions for the maintenance of high character qualifications for admission to the bar, and for the disciplining of those who offend, are all matters about which each state bar organization will find the press of its state only too willing to inform the public and to aid in the formation of supporting public opinion," the speaker continued.

"The modern newspaper has so many fields to cover, the changes taking place from day to day are so kaleidoscopic, that no newspaper, no matter how well informed or how well organized, can keep abreast of the activities of the bar associations of the country, unless those activities are brought to its attention. Every state bar association should have a committee whose business it is to see that the press of its state is kept fully informed of associational activities.

"The suggestion recently made by Don C. Seltz of the New York World, that in every bar association there be created a Bureau of Correct Information, is a valuable one. Such a bureau could furnish the press with correct information regarding pending cases, the issues involved and decisions rendered. Conducted by a bar association and speaking in its name, there would be no danger of its improper use. The newspaper could rely upon receiving disinterested information, uncolored by desire to favor one side or another, and free from suspicion of self-exploitation or advertisement.

The existence of such a bureau would in itself prevent error from occurring in the first instance, provide for its correction if it did occur, and avoid its repetition.

"The modern newspaper is keen for news—all news. There is much news—much interesting news in litigated cases, more than the public is aware of. But if the lawyer brings his case to the attention of the press, he is open to charge of self-exploitation. If however, his case be one of real interest or moment, his bar association can, through its own bureau, bring it to the attention of the press. The properties can be observed, yet the public is informed."

Mr. Cohen reviewed the progress made by the legal profession, its relations with the public, the efforts to create and maintain standards of legal education and rules for admission to the bar that will protect the public from incompetent legal advisers.

The entrance of the four heroes of the occasion was the signal for a remarkable demonstration of welcome, the whole audience rising and cheering for some minutes. An acute observer might, however, have detected some signs of dissent amid the applause, and gathered that the proceedings were likely to become more lively than harmonious. It may safely be prophesied, however, that no one could have foreseen the extraordinary turn which they were actually to take.

Of the appearance of the four wanderers little need be said, since their photographs have for some time been appearing in all the papers. They bear few traces of the hardships which they are said to have undergone. Professor Challenger's beard may be more shaggy, Professor Summerlee's features more ascetic, Lord John Roxton's figure more gaunt, and all three may be burned to a darker tint than when they left our shores, but each appeared to be in most excellent health. As to our own representative, the well-known athlete and international Rugby football player, E. D. Malone, he looks trained to a hair, and as he surveyed the crowd a smile of good-humored contentment pervaded his honest but homely face. (All right, Mac, wait till I get you alone!)

When quiet had been restored and the audience resumed their seats after the ovation which they had given to the travelers, the chairman, the Duke of Durham, addressed the meeting. "He would not," he said, "stand for more than a moment before that vast assembly and the treat which lay before them. It was not for him to anticipate what Professor Summerlee, who was the spokesman of the committee, had to say to them, but it was common rumor that their expedition had been crowned by extraordinary success." (Applause.) "Apparently the age of romance was not dead, and there was common ground upon which the wildest imaginings of the novelist could meet the actual scientific investigations of the searcher for truth. He would only add, before he sat down, that he rejoiced—and all of them would rejoice—that these gentlemen had returned safe and sound from their difficult and dangerous task, for it cannot be denied that any disaster to such an expedition would have inflicted a well-nigh irreparable loss to the cause of Zoological science." (Great applause, in which Professor Challenger was observed to join.)

"Professor Summerlee's rising was the signal for another extraordinary outbreak of enthusiasm, which broke out again at intervals throughout his address. That address will not be given in extenso in these columns, for the reason countered by the expedition in their repeated attempts to mount them, and finally described how they succeeded in their desperate endeavors, which cost the lives of their two devoted half-breed servants." (This amazing reading of the affair was the result of Summerlee's endeavor to avoid raising any questionable matter at the meeting.)

"Having conducted his audience in fancy to the summit, and marooned them there by reason of the fall of their bridge, the Professor proceeded to describe both the horrors and the attractions of that remarkable land. Of personal adventures he said little, but laid stress upon the rich harvest reaped by Science in the observations of the wonderful beast, bird, insect, and plant life of the plateau. Particularly rich in the coleoptera and in the lepidoptera, forty-six new species of the one and ninety-four of the other had been secured in the course of a few weeks. It was, however, in the larger animals, and especially in the larger animals supposed to have been long extinct, that the interest of the public was naturally centered. Of these he was able to give a goodly list, but had little doubt that it would be largely extended when the place had been more thoroughly investigated. He and his companions had seen at least a dozen creatures, most of them at a distance, which corresponded with nothing at present known to Science. These would in time be duly classified and examined. He instanced a snake, the cast skin of which, deep purple in color, was fifty-one feet in length, and mentioned a white creature, supposed to be mammalian, which gave forth well-marked phosphorescence in the darkness; also a large black moth, the bite of which was supposed by the Indians to be highly poisonous. Setting aside these entirely new forms of life, the plateau was very rich in known prehistoric forms, dating back in some cases to early Jurassic times. Among these he mentioned the gigantic and grotesque stegosaurus, seen once by Mr. Malone at a drinking-place by the lake, and drawn in the sketchbook of that adventurous American who had first penetrated this unknown world. He described also the iguanodon and the pterodactyl—two of the first of the wonders which they had encountered. He then thrilled the assembly by some account of the terrible carnivorous dinosaurs, which had on more than one occasion pursued members of the party, and which were the most formidable of all the creatures which they had encountered. (The audience passed on to the huge and ferocious bird, the phororhynchus, and to the great elk which still roams upon this upland. It was not, however, until he sketched the mysteries of the central lake that the full interest and enthusiasm of the audience were aroused. One had to pinch himself to be sure that one was awake as one

DREADFUL PAINS
Georgia Lady, Who Had Lost Too Much Weight, Was Advised to Take Cardui and Is Now Well.

Columbus, Ga.—Mrs. George S. Hunter, of this city, writes: "After I married, thirteen months ago, I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides during... My side hurt so bad it nearly killed me. I had to go to bed and stay some times two weeks at a time. I could not work and I just dragged around the house. "I got very thin—I went from 126 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had long been a user of Cardui and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve. "My side hurt less and I began to improve in health... The Cardui acted as a fine tonic and I do not feel like the same person. I am so much better—I am well now. I have gained ten pounds and am still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all. "I wish every suffering woman knew about Cardui." NO-160

STREET FATALITIES IN LONDON INCREASE 41 IN THREE MONTHS

London.—The streets of London are getting more dangerous if the quarterly statement of the number of deaths from accidents issued by the commissioner of police is any criterion. During April, May and June this year 226 people were killed or dried from injuries received in street accidents.

This death-roll is higher by 41 than that for the previous three months. The total number of street accidents during the quarter was 25,342, compared with 17,810 during January, February and March, and a quarterly average during 1924 of 20,744.

RUSSIA CELEBRATES BI-CENTENNIAL OF ITS ACADEMY OF SCIENCE

Moscow.—The Russian Academy of Science at Leningrad is preparing for the forthcoming celebration of its 200th anniversary to take place in September. Organized on an extensive scale, the celebration will last for nearly a fortnight, the first week of which will be devoted to festivities in Leningrad and the second week to festivities in Moscow. Invitations to attend the celebrations have been addressed to representatives of scientific institutions of every country and already 198 foreign scientists of various countries have accepted. The Soviet Government is preparing for them an appropriate welcome and free traveling tickets will await the scientists at the Soviet missions abroad which will be handed to them simultaneously with the granting of visas to enter Russia.

In Leningrad and Moscow the museums are being arranged to furnish a more telling display of all the scientific materials accumulated there during the past two centuries. At the same time there will be an exhibition of the specific activities of the different institutions which form part of the academy.

All institutions of the academy will issue memorial art publications devoted to their past and present activities. Three special large jubilee publications will be issued by the academy including the unpublished works of Academician Liapunoff on mathematics and physics, the Ossetian dictionary of Miller and the works of Academician Shakhmatoff.

Among the exhibits which will be specially arranged in connection with the bicentenary celebrations will be three special exhibits of the Asiatic Museum, devoted to miniatures, literature and autographs. The archives of the academy will hold an exhibition of documents illustrating the history of the academy and the life and labor of its prominent members, beginning with Lomonosoff, "the father of Russian science."

The Russian Academy of Science embraces 46 scientific institutions with 462 members. It has on its list 144 Russian and 160 foreign correspondents.

Nearly all museums belonging to the academy have greatly enlarged since the revolution. The library of the academy includes 4,000,000 books and manuscripts.

Information has been received that a number of American scientists will participate in the celebration. Among those who promised to attend the public lecture from other countries are Prof. Einstein, William Ramsey, Samuel Levy and Mme. Curie.

NO BABIES BORN IN EIGHT MALARIA INFESTED VILLAGES FOR 30 YEARS

Tokyo.—The population of the Ayukyn Islands, which lie between Japan and Formosa, is rapidly dying off, declared S. Sakurai, a health officer of the Okinawa prefecture, who attended the recent health conference in Tokyo. Malaria is blamed principally for the decrease. In eight villages of the Yaeyama group, it was said, not a single baby has been born for the last 30 years.

In Nozoko village, Mr. Sakurai said one sick old woman was the only inhabitant. In 1922 an appropriation of 10,000 yen was made by the government to combat malaria in the island.

Gates County Lays Claim to a Second Luther Burbank

Ahoskie, Sept. 1.—(AP) Gates county now lays claim to a second Luther Burbank in the person of former State Senator Tom Costen, of Gatesville, who is keeping close watch over a grape vine that through some freak of nature, is bearing pecans. The vine, which grows in his garden, has several nuts on it with the outside shells perfectly resembling pecans.

Mr. Costen has restrained his curiosity so far, and has decided to let the nuts grow to maturity, although he is worrying over whether the fruit will have pecan meat or whether it will prove to be grape in pecan's shell.

Takes Her Own Life Account Bad Health

Shelby, Sept. 1.—(AP) In a letter addressed to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Murray, of near Lawndale, Miss Clara Murray, 37, who ended her life a few days ago with a small rifle, explained that she had rather die than live, because her head and eyes troubled her so much. She had been in bad health for a long time, her parents said. The girl in her letter requested that she be buried at Palm Tree, and her wishes were complied with.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY. Miss Kemp House who on Friday, July 29, celebrated her thirteenth birthday was given a surprise party on Friday evening by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. House.

Upon arrival of the guests Mr. and Mrs. A. R. House extended to them a cordial welcome and invited them into the library and music room where conversation and music was enjoyed for a short while.

At 9 o'clock they were taken to the drug store where they were served iced drinks and ice cream. From 9:30 until a late hour the guests enjoyed a hay ride.

The party was greatly enjoyed by both Miss House and her many friends and upon departure the guests wished for Kemp many happy returns of the day.

MR. W. A. VINSON SUFFERS SNAKE BITE

Mr. W. A. Vinson is suffering from a snake bite which he received on Saturday evening while assisting in moving an automobile to the rear of his market. He was bitten on the hand when he attempted to lift the rear wheel from the ground.

His many friends will be glad to learn that he is getting along nicely and was able to be out today.

Ninth Congressional District Carriers Ass'n. Be Held Soon

Gastonia, Sept. 1.—(AP) The annual convention of the Ninth Congressional District Carriers Association will be held on Labor Day, September 7, at Bolling Springs, in Cleveland county. It has been announced here by T. G. Royter, veteran rural free delivery carrier of Gaston county.

An interesting program has been arranged for the mail carriers, who are expected to attend the session 100 percent strong. The program will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning, and will continue through the afternoon. It will include a round table discussion of matters of general interest to carriers, as well as a community picnic dinner.

Those on the program include D. J. Hanarick, postmaster, Rev. J. R. Green, J. D. Huggins, W. J. Allan, W. C. Johnson, Dr. James H. Hendelie, J. H. Quinn, and Walter M. Peace.

Voices Fear That Cattle Industry Be Long Time Recovering Drought

Raleigh, Sept. 1.—(AP) That the cattle industry of Western North Carolina will not recover for several years from the effect of the drought, is the fear voiced by W. A. Graham, commissioner of Agriculture.

The pastures, Mr. Graham, who recently returned from a trip over the mountain section, explains, have died, and farmers are facing the prospect of neither grain nor fodder to feed the cattle. The result is that hundreds of mountain farmers are having to sell their cattle.

The mountain section, Mr. Graham believes, is naturally adapted to dairying and cattle raising, and he deplors the set-back that the cattle industry in the western half of the state is receiving as a result of the drought.

Large Crowds Attend First Ball Gastonia Inter Fraternity Club

Gastonia, Sept. 1.—(AP) The first annual ball of the Gastonia Interfraternity club, composed of members of 20 national college Greek letter orders, was attended by couples from all over the two Carolinas and from parts of Virginia, Georgia, and Florida, here recently. It is believed every college in the South was represented by guests at the affair.

ITALIAN QUEEN AS BABY BEGAN DUTIES OF MOTHER

Rome.—Discussing the duties of a mother with a visitor recently, Queen Helena told her guest that she had always been a mother. "When I was a baby," said the queen, "I mothered my dolls, loving them, bringing them up and educating them as though they were living creatures. As a young girl, I was a mother to my youngest brother. When he was born my mother was seriously ill, and the infant was turned over to me. I did more for him than I did for my own children, because for them I had the aid of nurses."

"Flares" would probably be more correct, for rare is the smartly turned out Coat of this Autumn that does not gayly flaunt at least two flares.

You will like these Coats the minute you see them, but your real surprise and pleasure will come when you try them on. They are so becoming in their dashing-ly rippled lines and soft, alluring fabrics.

CHEAPER BEER URGED BY BRITISH BREWERS AS UNEMPLOYMENT AID

Brighton, Eng.—Cheaper beer has been suggested as one remedy for the unemployment in England that has been bothering successive governments since the war ended.

At the annual meeting of stock holders of a large brewery recently the chairman said that the country was still overburdened with taxation and that the crying demand today was for cheaper beer, which, he contended could only be given by reducing the tax upon that beverage.

The chairman said that there are very few, including members of the government, who realize the number of industries which are dependent upon the brewery trade, and that reduced taxation on beer would not only assist agriculture, but would go some way to meet the unemployment problem.

ACTIVITIES OF COAST GUARD REDUCES SWEDISH RUM ROW

Gothenburg, Sweden.—Sweden's rum running problems are rapidly decreasing, says Count Posse, head of the coast guard service. In previous years there usually were a dozen vessels in rum row on the west coast, while now there are never more than two or three that need watching. The decrease has been proportioned on the east coast.

Count Posse points out that in 1923 the authorities confiscated 150,000 liters of illegally imported liquors, while last year the amount fell off to 90,000 liters. The indications for this year, he said, are that these figures will be cut in half.

This particular work of the coast guard service is expected to become easier when the Helsingfors convention, signed recently by the Swedish government, goes into effect. The convention, which increases the territorial limit of 12 miles has been signed by 12 states.

Robert M. Koenig Found Remedy For Pimply Skin

For years my skin would break out every once in a while—and ointments did very little to help me.

I read a doctor's article stating that pimply skin usually comes from the stomach—and bowels not getting rid of the poisons.

I tried Carter's Little Liver Pills for a few days—and since that time my skin is smooth and clear. Now I tell my friends the right way of getting rid of a broken out skin—and also for them.

of steering clear of upset stomach, and sick headache, Carter's are all your claim for them.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS TO STAGE RACES FOR FLIERS

Tulsa, Okla.—Tulsa is ready to entertain upwards of 3,000 members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at their national encampment here
August 30 to September 4, as well as a large number of women who will be here for the simultaneous meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

An aviation meet will feature the campment. Starting with an "Onto-Tulsa" race, in which various prizes will be awarded fliers arriving from distant points, the air events will continue throughout the six days of the gathering. Both army and commercial airplanes will be entered in several contests. Among them will be a race in which the Missouri National Guard, the Colorado guard and a unit of the reserve officers' flying corps from Kansas City will participate.

Business sessions, held daily, will be interspersed with a varied entertainment program. Included will be a wrestling match between champion Ed ("Strangler") Lewis and Howard Cantowine of Iowa, polo games, a trip to an Indian encampment in a Tulsa suburb, where 300
Indians have promised to pitch a typical Indian village, and several excursions into the Oklahoma oil fields.

A number of teas and receptions have been arranged for the Ladies' Auxiliary.

BEST PLAYING POLO PONIES GET ASSOCIATION MEDALS

Chicago.—Fifty-nine bronze medals have been awarded by the Horse Association of America to the best playing ponies in clubs affiliated with the United States Polo Association, the association announced here today. Twelve went to horses playing with army teams and 47 to horses playing with civilian teams and clubs.

A committee of polo players selects the best playing pony of the season, judging entirely on performance and without attention being paid to breed or type.

Stephen Sanford, of Long Island, was the only man who had two ponies good enough to win medals this year. Five of the winners were developed by Fred Post, Westbury, Long Island; three by W. D. Meadows of San Antonio; three by E. B. Jacobs of Boyce, Virginia, and Frank Small of Hailton, Mass. Col. Jacobs, William Anson of San Angelo, Texas, and Earle Hopping of New York, each selected and trained two of the medal winners.

An analysis showed that Texas furnished more polo ponies. Twenty-one of the 59 were known to be from Texas. Of the 16 on which no information was available, a number probably were from that state. Virginia ranked second with six ponies. Nine other states and Argentine, Canada and England furnished the remaining sixteen.

Because of the need of weight, carrying polo mounts the height limit was abolished several years ago, but no marked increase in size was evident so far as the medal winners were concerned. Thoroughbred blood dominated in the winners, although many traced on the dams side to a quarterhorse, bronco or mustang foundation.

Home Run King Says He Will Apologize To Miller Huggins

New York, Sept. 1.—Babe Ruth, the Yankee home run king, announced today at a conference with Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the team, that he would publicly apologize for his derogatory statement concerning Manager Miller Huggins.

Insisting that he had been treated badly, but less heated than he was when at Washington after being disciplined, Ruth held a conference with Colonel Ruppert and then announced he would make every effort to adjust the situation peacefully.

"I am sorry I said that I would quit the Yankees if Huggins did not, and that I would not play under him any more," said the Babe. "I was hot under the collar when I said that. I still don't think I can do my best under him, but I want to stay with New York. I am willing to meet Huggins half way and play ball for him."

Five Gals. Paint Free

A large paint concern, in furtherance of an advertising and introductory campaign now in progress, offers to give, free of charge, five gallons of its best house paint, any color, to one property owner at each post-office or on each rural route in this county. This concern wants its paint on a house in each locality this season which is the purpose of this remarkable offer. It also wants a local salesman in each county. Persons interested are requested to write the Kero Paint Company, Louisville, Kentucky. (Adv.)

MUSICAL STUDY FOR EPISCOPAL CLERGYMEN URGED AS NECESSITY

New York. — Episcopal Church clergymen are not particularly musical, intimates the report which a joint commission on church music has just completed for reconsideration at the General Convention of the church which will meet in New Orleans October 7 next.

The report asks in effect how can a minister exercise the sole authority for administration of church music in his parish, which church law gives him, when he does not know anything about music? Renewal is made of the recommendation of three years ago that courses in the history and practice—and appreciation—of church music be established in all the theological seminaries. Some progress along these lines has been made, the report adds, but there is still great room for improvement.

TOKYO'S RADIO STATION TO HAVE FEMALE ANNOUNCERS

Tokyo.—The raucousvoiced male radio announcer may become a thing of the past in Japan if the officials of the new Tokyo broadcasting station succeed in setting a new style. In fact, women are to be employed exclusively as announcers in the new broadcasting studio.

They are being chosen by examination, it is said, and only those with excellent enunciation ability will be employed. One of the requirements is that the announcer have the pure Tokyo dialect, so that the station will not be mistaken for the one at Asaka. There is much difference in the speech of the two cities.
