SPECIAL AIR BOARD DISCUSSES NAVAL SIDE OF QUESTION

Patrick Advocates Eventual Creation of a Department of National Defense With Directing Head of All Air Craft Forces

Washington, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The President's special board, having brought to light in opening testimony a sharp difference of opinion in the War Department on the matter of air service organization, turned its attention today to the naval side of the question.

General Patrick's view expressed when he took the stand yesterday, that such a defense organization would ultimately be advisable, was in conflict with the vigorous opposition to such a policy voiced by both acting Secretary Davis and Major General John L. Hines, chief of the staff who preceded him.

His recommendation for this step, Major General Patrick said, was only one of the number of his recommendations which at various times had either been ignored or rejected.

QUESTION AS TO WHETHER AMERICA SEND DELEGATES

President Coolidge Believes Action Congress Necessary If America is to Participate Arms Conference

Geneva, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The question of whether the United States is to be invited to send experts to Geneva to aid in the technical preparation for the League of Nations disarmament conference on the holding of which the leaders of the assembly have reached an accord, and whether Americans will sit on the Commission, still remained unanswered.

It is generally conceded that an invitation will be forwarded to Washington to send experts to Geneva to assist in the preparatory work, but doubt is expressed that the United States will consent to place its representatives under such direct control of the council of the League as the commission will be.

Washington, Sept. 22.—(AP)—American participation in disarmament conferences planned by the League of Nations should only be undertaken if Congress authorizes, in the judgment of President Coolidge.

The President wants to do nothing to discourage efforts for reduction in armament by mutual agreement, but he is not inclined to co-operate in a league of Nations Disarmament conference if there is a possibility that Congress will object.

Consistent Workers Favored to Win Automobiles; Active Workers All Seem Evenly Matched

It's anybody's race! That's the way things look in the Daily Reflector's subscription and prize campaign.

Active workers in the campaign, and they number eight, are pretty evenly matched. Some of course are running a trifle ahead of others but this for the most part is due to the fact that one or two got an early start and gathered in quite a few of the local subscribers before the others really got going good.

Those who got a slow start are now working their way to the very front ranks and if the last campaign that the Reflector conducted is any criterion most of the leading winners will be those who stick everlastingly at it and work right up to the final hour of the campaign.

The last time that the Reflector gave away prizes most of the winners were closely bunched, especially was this true of the second place winner. Second prize at that time was a Ford Coupe, the same as this year, and the winner of that prize was separate by only the difference in votes that a subscription or two would bring.

This Year the Reflector's campaign runs for seven weeks instead of six as it did the last time. It has now been running less than two weeks, with over five more weeks to go. A lot of things can happen during the coming five weeks or more. Those who now are running well toward the top may turn into fall-enders; those who now are holding cellar positions may by their consistent work force their way to the top and be awarded the Hudson Six Coach which sells for $1,335.

It may be that the winner has not yet been nominated. The campaign manager has had the experience of seeing wonderful automobiles and other expensive prizes awarded to worker who started their campaign two or three weeks late.

However, those who have been thinking about entering and earning free for their efforts—a Hudson Coach, Ford Coupe, $250 Living Room Suit, $187 Dining Room Suit, $115 Radio Set, $50 or $30 in cash besides one of many commission checks that will go to non-winners, must send in their names within the next few days. In a few days the list will be closed and the race for leadership and its rich awards will narrow down to the few remaining on the list.

The prizes will be earned by those who clip the most free 50-cent coupons from the paper and gather other votes from their friends by having them subscribe to The Reflector. A year's subscription is $5.00 and earns 6,000 votes, if the subscriber lives out of Greenville the subscription will earn double in votes or 12,000 votes. All subscriptions outside of Greenville count double in votes.

Contestants who have any votes in reserve are urged to publish some of them in the list of standings. You can publish enough of these reserve votes to equal the leader of the last list and then 10,000 additional. Get to the top of the list and stay there.

Mrs. Brown is said to be a finger Dr. Skinner stated this morning print expert and has had experience as could be expected but that she has not been definitely outlined, it is understood that her work will deal largely with women offenders.

ers and newsboys perhaps know better than the subscriber how close is the bond between man and his newspaper because of experience with man's reaction to tardy issue.

The newspaper publisher is just as anxious to deliver his papers on time as the subscriber is on those very infrequent occasions when delivery is delayed. There is a mutual understanding between publisher and subscriber that a whole evening may be ruined by a missed delivery and that a good dinner has gone cold untasted just because a newsboy is off time. It is because of this understanding that the publisher of your newspaper strives day in and day out to give you a good paper in good time.

EXCLUDING SAKLATVALA

The exclusion of Mr. Saklatvala, member of the British parliament and avowed Communist, from the United States by the state department to Secretary Kellogg appeared as a dutiful enforcement of the exclusion clause of the immigration law, to some others a necessary precaution for the safety of the country, to still others a silly act into which the nation was led by politicians.

Congress by statute has forbidden the land of the free and free speech to those having political beliefs contrary to those commonly entertained in this country, and Mr. Saklatvala is so notoriously a communist that Secretary Kellogg could not gracefully shut his eyes to his entrance into the United States. He had to bar or muzzle him and he chose the former.

In spite of the "red" scare given the country by the politicians after the war and although the members of congress do not seem to have fully recovered from that scare, there are great numbers of citizens who do not believe as Mr. Saklatvala and his brother communists do, but who can see no reason to fear them or to ban them from America.

Is not this portion of the exclusion clause an insult to the intelligence of the American people? It constitutes an insinuation that the American people can be talked into any theory, creed or system by every demagogue or mountebank that comes along. Revolutions are incited by economic conditions, not by oratory, but the administration itself will deny that conditions are such here as to warrant the overthrow of the government.

A far more sensible thing for the people's guardians to do would be to permit the communist embassies to broadcast the fallacies of their political system and to open the doors of the bastille to them if their fanaticism inspires them to exhortatory excesses.

Law Makers May Ask Coolidge to Summon Codification Session

Washington, Sept.—(AP)—One of the tangible results that is considered likely to grow out of the twenty-third conference of the Interparliamentary Union here, October 1 to 6, is a request to President Coolidge to call a conference for the codification of international law. This, if materialized, would supplement the work done along these lines at The Hague conferences.

The headquarters of the Union here estimates that about half of the members of both the Senate and House are members of the organization, and many among these are keenly interested in seeing a further step taken in international law codification. Enrollment by a member of Congress is the only requisite for membership in the Union.

The officers of the American group of the Interparliamentary Union, which is acting as host at the conference, are: President, Senator McKelvey, Illinois; vice-president, Representative Montague, Virginia; Temple, Pennsylvania, and Oldfield, Arkansas; treasurer, Representative McSwain, South Carolina. Arthur Deerin Cell of Washington is its executive secretary.

REHEARSALS FOR A "LITTLE BIT OF BROADWAY" PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

The cast to present "A Little Bit of Broadway" is now complete and the rehearsals are being held three times daily, and every thing is being done to make the presentation of this clever and popular production here measure up in every way to its past successes. Those who have witnessed some of the rehearsals already predict a production far exceeding anything ever before presented in Greenville. The cast has been carefully selected. Some old favorites will appear but many new stars have been discovered to appear in the leading roles, dances and choruses. In the leading role of Harry Gordon, a New York Millionaire, will be seen Mr. Jack Marcus the popular manager of White's Theatre. Mr. Marcus has appeared in several professional productions and this will be the first time he has appeared before a Greenville audience. In the comedy role of Paul the manager of the Cabaret will be seen "Ty" Gardner who everyone knows is a top liner as a fun producer. The parts of Archibald Brown, a gay widower from the south who goes to New York to enjoy the sights of the great white way, will be played by Dink James, popular young lawyer who is proving already that he has some genius for dramatics. Miss Margaret Cook has been assigned the role of Penelope Symthe a prim Spinster from the sunny south who as chaperone for the girls on their trip to New York with Archibald is shocked at every thing she sees, her maxim being "now when I young." No better selection could have been made for this part as Miss Cook is a very clever actress and comedienne. Miss Margaret Fleming plays the part of Winnie Cameron, typical modern girl and flirt, and Miss Helen Joyner will be seen as Sybil Baxter, Winnie's more serious minded chum. Mr. Will Bradsher plays the role of Montie Clairbourne in love with the flirtatious Winnie, and Lester Summerell has the part of Donald Elliott who wears his heart on his sleeve and loves every pretty face he sees. J. B. Kittrell is Mutt, the waiter in the Cabaret. Miss Ernestine Forbes is proving to be a very charming leading lady, and is most natural and attractive as Betsy Brown, who is whole heart and fancy free until by chance she meets Harry Gordon in the Cabaret. in the star role of Anita Bara, Miss Hannah Dixon is going to captivate the hearts of the audience as she does all the men in the show. A clever bit of acting and dancing will be furnished by Misses Mary Lee Pittman and Bruce Tucker in the roles of Babette and Nichette, Cabaret Dancing girls. All the solo dances and the dances of the choruses will eclipse anything ever seen here, and the young people are working earnestly and vigorously to master the intricate steps. The show is to be presented Wednesday Sept. 30th at White's Theatre, with a special children's matinee the afternoon of the same day. It is expected that crowded houses will witness both performances. In other cities where the play has been produced after the matinee performance the house was completely sold out and standing room sold.

Chief attention was given to his portraiture work. The exhibition contains also some of the less known work of Riepin as a sculptor, including busts of Leo Tolstoi and other Russian writers. Riepin is known as an "irreconcilable" to the Bolsheviki. He left Russia immediately after the revolution and despite numerous invitations to return, has declined to do so.

STOP THIEF; CRIES BROADWAY

Broadway is threatening to have Hollywood arrested. The charge is larceny.

The last offense, according to Broadway, is the theft by Hollywood of Holmes Herbert. There have been many similar thefts before, according to the allegation, and Broadway finally has determined to attempt a check of the steady drain of its stars into movieland.

Herbert is, or was, a well known Broadway stage star. In fact, he has been on the stage since he was eight years old. Born in Dublin, he made his debut at that age as Paul in "The Octoroon" at the old Sadler Theatre, London.

His rise to a stellar position was as has been the case with many a star on the stage, an accident. While playing in minor role in Barrie's "What Every Woman Knows" the leading man was taken sick. Herbert memorized the lines, or "sides," as they are termed in stage parlance, and assumed the role. And he made good.

His success attracted American stage producers and he was brought to this country. His first American appearance was in support of Billie Burke in Piner's "Mind the Paint, Girl." Then he toured to the Pacific Coast with Blanche Bates and later appeared as leading man with Grace George. Martha Hedfan and other stars.

Then along came Hollywood, and according to Broadway's allegation, Herbert was stolen into pictures. As a specific instance, the charge cites that he is now Corinne Griffith's leading man in her latest First National picture, "Love's Wilderness."

Miss Griffith, as counsel extraordinary, arises to the defense of Hollywood. Her plea is that the public should have the fullest enjoyment from the talents of everybody. And in this case she contends that Herbert is an excellent actor. Broadway, she concludes, could never "give him" to the public as can motion pictures. White's Today.

Registered and First Class Mail Stolen From Station in Toledo

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 22.—(AP)—United States Registered and first class mail of an undetermined value was stolen between 6:15 and 6:20 o'clock this morning from the registered mail room of the Union Station here.

SURVIVORS OF THE SHENANDOAH GIVE THEIR TESTIMONY

in connection with the disaster, remains to be determined.

Lake Hurst, N. J., Sept. 22.—(AP)—A new bit of testimony—that there was an unusual expansion in the gas cells before the air ship broke up—was given today before the Naval court of inquiry investigating the loss of the Shenandoah.

Lieutenant Thomas H. Hendley, communication officer, testified that he was awakened by the pressure of a gas cell on his face and likewise by the unusual angle at which the ship was riding. Previous testimony had been at this time that the Shenandoah was above her pressure height—that is when the inside pressure of gas equalled the outside pressure of the air.

Before Lieutenant Hendley was called Lieutenant Charles E. Bauch, watch officer on duty at the time, declared inspection some time before the accident disclosed that the gas pressure was not excessive. Both Lieutenants Hendley and Bauch as well as Lieutenants Roland G. Mayer, construction officer aboard the ship, agreed with other witnesses that the break had occurred when the ship's nose suddenly was tilted upward during a second rapid ascent.

Stories as told by civilian eye witnesses to the special investigating naval board were summarized by Commander Jacob H. Klein, President of the Board. He said the two most intelligent of these witnesses agreed that the ship broke at the bottom.

Others, Commander Klein insisted said that the craft humped up and broke at the top. The special board was told by some farmers near the scene of the wreck that the wind was the strongest they had ever experienced. Commander Klein said it appeared that the wind was coming from all directions at once.

None of the witnesses saw any lightning near the ship, Commander Klein added, and it was not evident that there was any fire of any kind before, at the time of, or after the craft broke up.

REV. LONNIE R. ENNIS, who is conducting revival services in the Free Will Baptist Church

Dr. Ennis to Preach Tonight on Subject "Living Waters"

Rev. L. R. Ennis, of Goldsboro, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and preached his first sermon at the Free Will Baptist church last night, on the subject "The Revival."

He used as his text the prayer of the Prophet Habakkuk, "O Lord, revive thy work in the midst of the years." The subject dealt with the question, What is a revival? Why are revivals needed? and how can we bring about a revival?

In an able manner the evangelist defined a revival, and then discussed in a most impressive manner, the need of a revival of religion in the world, the nation, the state and the community. He pictured most vividly the state of worldliness existing in the church of today, calling for a revival of love and spirituality.

"How can a revival be brought about," asked the preacher, "First, it must start with you. If you are saying, 'We need a revival for brother so and so because they are not living right, you are starting wrong. You had better start out praying for a revival in your own heart.'"

The speaker declared that three things are absolutely necessary to the bringing about of a revival. All selfishness must be eradicated, for a revival cannot be brought about for selfish purposes. All sin must be confessed. God cannot bless if there is hidden sin. Prayer must be made for all, first however for self, for God will not hear our prayers for others unless our own faith is right.

In closing the service the preacher called upon the congregation to manifest their willingness to "pay the price" for a revival, and a number responded.

The singing under the able leadership of Prof. Hinnant was good. Tonight the song service will be featured by some special selections by Mr. Hinnant.

The evangelist preaches tonight on the subject: "The Rivers of Living Water." The public is most cordially invited to attend these services.

16th annual tour, is looked upon as a national institution. Year after year the big show comes for its annual visit. Each season sees an improvement, until finally it is believed the limit has been reached. Yet the Walter L. Main Shows, which come to Greenville Friday, Sept. 25, always afford a new and novel entertainment. It is true the old time features remain. Yet novelties and European thrills are added each year as fast as they are discovered.

Among the features are the Flying Jordans, the Peerless Potters, gymnasts; the anking troupe of Chinese equilibrista; the Maxwell Trio, acrobats; Arthur Borella, the highest salaried clown in America; the Florence family of riders; the DeLong Sisters, acrobats and nearly 100 other start and features of Continental Europe and Great America.

Organized nearly half a century ago by Walter L. Main, the show is still under the active direction and management of this famous American showman. Two special trains transport the big show from city to city. Nearly 700 men, women and horses are carried; the menagerie is one of the largest ever to be exhibited in this section of the state. The equipment and paraphernalia is valued at $750,000. Ten acres of ground is utilized to house the transient city.

An immense street parade will be seen on the downtown streets at noon on show day. There will be two performances at 2 and 8 p. m., the door opening an hour earlier.

BACK GIVEN OUT?

Then Follow the Advice of This Greenville Resident

Are you dragging along day after day with a dull nagging backache? Do you feel tired, lame and aching? Suffer sharp, torturing pains at every sudden move? Then look to your kidneys! Colds, strains and overwork weaken the kidneys and bring on throbbing backache and knife-like twinges! Don't risk serious kidney disease! Use Doan's Pills—A stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Read what this Greenville resident says:

Mrs. J. J. Jenkins, 315 Cotanch St. Greenville, says: "I had severe pains in my back which almost drove me wild. I had headaches all the time and dizziness was common. Many a time I thought everything was floating around me. My kidneys didn't act right, either. I bought two boxes of Doan's Pills at Horn's Drug Store and the relief they gave me was a blessing."

Dublin.—Irish banks generally praise what they characterize as "the admiral record of legislative achievement" in the Free State and appreciate the more secure conditions under which business is being conducted. They are concerned, however, about the adverse national trade balance, which in 1924, is given as $85,000,000.

CAPT. SIGG, OF WINSTON SALEM, PRAISES KARNAK

"It's Fine — It Beats Anything I Ever Saw — and A Man Don't Have to Be Sick to Be Benefited By It," Says Prominent Man

According to Capt. John P. Sigg, superintendent of the Southern Pabst Bottling Co., and prominent citizen of Winston-Salem, N. C., residing at 20 S. Main St., a person does not have to be really sick in order to experience the beneficial results of Karnak which he declares to be the best tonic and system builder he has ever used. In fact, Capt. Sigg, says it has been his policy to fortify himself against an un-down condition by always getting something to strengthen and build up his system as soon as it begins to show signs of weakening. And what he has to say of Karnak in this regard will be of much interest through out all Carolina.

"I feel that one cannot invest a few dollars to better advantage than in taking a few bottles of Karnak," declares Capt. Sigg. "I have found that when a man reaches his age of sixty-three he generally feels the need of something to keep up his vim, vigor and vitality, and to ward off a general run-down condition into which he might otherwise fall."

"It has been my custom for several years to take a bottle or two of some good tonic for this purpose, and I do not hesitate to say that I have never felt so much good from various other tonics I have ever taken as I have from this new medicine, Karnak."

"In a very short time it just seemed to give me a new appetite, made my food taste good to me, and built me up in strength and energy all over. It's fine—beats anything I ever saw—and I don't hesitate to recommend it to anybody."

Karnak is sold in Greenville by D. S. Warren's, and by leading druggists in every town.

London.—London is full of tourists from practically all countries and most of the overseas visitors never fail to be interested in the stalwart guardsmen on duty at the Horse Guards headquarters in White Hall.

Some stare at them deliberately and one French girl refused to believe one motionless figure was alive. She stood alone and gazed harder, then suddenly joined her English friends looking somewhat flushed. She explained that the soldier was real after all—he had deliberately winked at her.

GREEDY EMPLOYMENT AGENCIES FOR MOVIES TO BE ABOLISHED

Hollywood, Cal.—Elimination of all questionable employment agencies, make-up schools, schools for acting scenario schools and other institutions of like pretensions is aimed at in the recent decision of the Association of Motion Picture Producers to maintain and operate a casting bureau for "extras" and day employees. The bureau will offer its service free.

The establishment of the bureau, the producers say, will abolish agencies which have charged movie workers ten percent and more for securing places in the pictures. The decision of the producers to look after employment "on a basis of absolute fairness" has been approved by the State Labor Commission.

Statistics show that the movie industry annually has more than 22,000 placements of casual labor.

Lady Says Her Back "Hurt Night and Day"—Least Noise Upset Her. Better After Taking Cardui.

Winfield, Texas.—"My back hurt night and day," says Mrs. C. L. Eason, of R. F. D. 1, this place. "I ached and ached until I could hardly go. I felt weak and did not feel like doing anything. My work was a great burden to me. I just hated to do up the dishes, oven. I was no-account and extremely nervous."

"My mother had taken Cardui and she thought it would do me good, so she told me to take it. My husband got me a bottle and I began on it. I began to improve at once. It was such a help that I continued it until after the baby's birth."

"I took eight bottles and I can certainly say that it helped me. It is a fine tonic. It built me up and seemed to strengthen me. I grew less nervous and began to sleep better."

"I can certainly recommend Cardui to expectant mothers, for to me it was a wonderful help. In every way I felt better after taking it and I think it is a splendid medicine."

Cardui is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful drugs. For sale everywhere. NO-162

As long as producing interests continue to sell against their production and the demand for actuals continues slack, the easy condition will doubtless prevail for some time.

Security Market—Market Leaders
There is much more behind the present buoyant security market than mere industrial earnings, railroad car-loadings and merger talk. It is a more profound appreciation of "Progressive America" with its vast natural resources, its gold supply and its international supremacy, both commercial and financial. World leadership in economics, in wealth and in the respect of other nations must by necessity cast a reflection upon that market which gives concrete expression to such prosperity, through the medium of prices for the shares listed on Stock Exchanges.

We hear much of the soundness of market fundamentals. Yet, how insignificant they become as compared with the greatest of all basic influences that determine the trends of markets—the soundness of our own Government. Of all businesses the United States Government is the largest, and if its balance sheet and income statement show prosperity, as they do at the present time, then sufficient impetus is given to commercialism to engender that feeling of progress which is now felt nation-wide.

Europe is our debtor. While lending to Europe, to increase its purchasing power, we are selling to Europe as a result of our generous policy. We command the major part of the world's gold supply. Therefore we have a credit basis upon which to build a most powerful business machine.

And how different is our position today from that which existed in 1924? We were a debtor nation then owing to the old world some 2 billion which we borrowed through the sale of American securities. The balance of trade was against us. Exchange rates showed our apparent helplessness. Our important markets were closed. The South was impoverished; its staple was cotton. Then, what a change.

America became the banker of the world; a purveyor to Europe. A power in the councils of nations. Today we build for the future needs of all humanity and we become supreme—not in the sense of despotic domination but in the role of a great power whose people are unanimous in the opinion of making America the servant of all mankind.
