PROCLAMATION FOR FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCT. 4 - 10

Mayor D. M. Clark Calls Attention to the Occasion and Urges People to Use Precaution

The above dates have been designated as Fire Prevention Week throughout America. And, as the citizens of Greenville are so familiar with the destructiveness of fire, I think that we should take notice of the occasion.

The year 1925 recorded the greatest fire waste ever known in the United States. More than fifteen thousand persons were killed and a vastly larger number crippled by fire, with a property loss of $548,000,000.00. It is well known that carelessness and ignorance of fire hazards go hand in hand as the chief causes of our great National Bonfire.

You will be interested to know, of course, the causes of most of the fires we have. Three-fourths of them come from carelessness, and these are some of the things that cause them:

Defective chimneys and flues, hot ashes and coals, matches and smoking, spontaneous combustion, rubbish, over-heated stoves, sparks on roof.

Burning autumn leaves and dead grass is also dangerous. Always call the Fire Department (telephone number 17) before burning off vacant lots.

Please observe these "Don'ts." "Don't smoke in a garage or filling station." "Don't be careless with your cigar and cigarette stubs." "Don't leave current on electric irons." "Don't store oily rags or waste, used in polishing furniture—burn them!"

If we all use precaution and teach our boys and girls the hazards of fire, it won't be long until the fires will be reduced to a minimum.

Respectfully submitted, D. M. CLARK, Mayor.

Air Board Decides To Attend for One Day Pulitzer Races

Washington, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The President's Air Board decided today to attend for one day, at least, the Pulitzer Air Races to be held at Mitchell Field Long Island on October 8, 9 and 10.

The board today turned its attention from the military aspects of air craft development to the "Commercial possibilities of air transportation and to present rate of progress."

The board in laying out the general course of its inquiry decided that it should include the commercial field of aviation as well as the military and that a study of the air mail service of the Post Office Department was the logical starting point on that side of the investigation.

The board completed its preliminary survey of the military air forces yesterday with the testimony and questioning of naval authorities. The declared views of Secretary Wilbur and three ranking admirals placed the Navy Department squarely in line with the majority view of the War Department in opposing any change in the present organization of the Nation's air defense. The four navy witnesses were unanimous in this view, although differing slightly as to the administration of the personnel in the Navy Air Service.

ALLEGED LEADERS MOB TO BE GIVEN A SPEEDY TRIAL

Solicitor Swain Announces Decision After 20 Men Are Served With Capiases

Asheville, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Speedy trial will be given alleged leaders of the mob that stormed the Buncombe county jail last Saturday night with the intention of lynching Alvin Mansel, negro identified as the assailant of a white woman, Solicitor John E. Swain announced this morning.

This statement was made by the Solicitor after 20 of the 30 men who were indicted by a grand jury yesterday, had been served with capiases. All but three of the alleged members of the mob were held in jail today unable to give the required bond of $2,500 each.

Every cell in the county jail was occupied this morning, and Jailor Ingle will seek permission of the county commissioners to use a portion of the women's ward to take care of the emergency.

Solicitor Swain stated that the trial on cases growing out of the mob is of such extraordinary interest that the public demands they be tried speedily and promptly.

The Mansel case probably will be tried by a special term of Superior Court, which will probably convene for two weeks beginning Monday, November 2. Mr. Swain has asked Governor McLean to call the term and has received a letter from the Executive office that the request will be brought to Mr. McLean's attention at once.

No Clear Line of Procedure Yet Before Naval Court Inquiry

Lakehurst, N. J., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Having exhausted the list of available witnesses able to give direct accounts of the wrecking of the airship, Shenandoah, the Naval court of inquiry was called today with no clear line of procedure before it. Before the inquiry can go much further the court must take time to digest the testimony of more than a score of witnesses who have passed before it in such rapid succession during the two days of the investigation. The cross examination of these witnesses has not yet been held.

Maj. Arthur Reynolds Confederate Veteran Died at Home Today

Bristol, Va., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Major Arthur D. Reynolds, 78, Confederate Veteran, Philanthropist, and one of the pioneers of the prohibition movement in the south, died at his home here today. Major Reynolds was once the nominee of the Prohibition Party for Vice President and was a brother of the late Robert J. Reynolds Tobacco Manufacturer, of Winston-Salem, N. C.

Riffian Chief Offers Reward for Aviators Dead Or Alive

Pirates and Senators Will Probably Be the Pennant Contenders

New York, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Climbing of the National League pennant by a victory on their home field over Philadelphia was possible for the Pittsburgh Pirates today as the result of their triumph yesterday to 4.

While the Senior League leaders were gaining a half game over the Runner-up Giants, the Champion Senators at the American League were moving up a full game on the Athletics as the result of a three to two triumph over the Indians. Washington's lead has been increased to 8 1-2 games and the Senators need to win only three of their remaining eleven games to clinch the American League honors.

Refuses Year's Vacation

Dix W. Noel, wealthy New Jersey lawyer, whose college son confessed slaying a six-year-old girl, offered a "year's vacation" to Mrs. Mae Bradley, of New York, whose apartment sheltered him, only to have his invitation spurned.

Shenandoah Ordered on Fatal Flight Despite Request of Lansdowne

Lakehurst, N. J., Sept. 23.—(AP)—The Shenandoah was ordered on her fatal flight to the west on September 2, despite recommendations of Lieutenant Commander Zachary Lansdowne that the trip be deferred until the second week in September.

This is shown by official document read into the record today of the naval court of inquiry into the disaster by Captain George W. Steele, Jr., Commandant of the Lakehurst Air Station.

After the Navy Department had disapproved his plan for starting at a later period, Commander Lansdowne made no further protest, Captain Steele declared to the court. The correspondence showed that the department was very anxious to have the great air service at state fairs in Ohio, Michigan, Iowa, Indiana, and other western states during the first two weeks in September. Commander Lansdowne reported that since there would not be time to complete preparations at Scottfield, Ill., for the reception of the ship he would suggest that the voyage be deferred until the second week.

The Navy Department disapproved of this plan, fixed the itinerary and Commander Lansdowne undertook to carry out the trip. At first it had been suggested for July, but Commander Lansdowne objected because that would be during the season of thunderstorms in the Middle West and because of this objection the flight was deferred until September.

After describing frequent inspections made of the great airship and particularly of the metal structure Steele told the court that her condition at the time of her departure met with his entire approval. He added that the flight was undertaken by the officers and men in the hopeful spirit of carrying to the people of the country the desirability of that particular type of ship.

Navy Department officials said today a misapprehension evidently had developed in testimony before the Naval Court of Inquiry into the Shenandoah disaster at Lakehurst on the position of Lieutenant Commander Lansdowne in reference to the time for making the flight.

Forecast Season's Production Cotton 13,931,000 Bales

Washington, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The Department of agriculture today forecast this season's production of cotton at 13,931,000 equivalent 500 pound bales or 191,000 bales more than was forecast two weeks ago and about 303,000 bales larger than last year's crop. The earliness of the crop is indicated by exceptionally heavy ginnings, the census bureau reporting 4,325,928 bales having been ginned prior to September 16. To that date a year ago 2,665,793 bales, or 19 1-2 percent of the crop had been ginned while this year's ginnings represent 30.7 of the crop forecast. The condition of the crop on September 16 was 53.8 per cent of normal indicating a yield by acre of about 143 1-2 pounds compared with a condition of 56.2 percent indicating an acreage of 141 1-2 pounds on September 1 this year.

The condition of the crop and production indicated by states follows: Virginia 64 percent condition and 45,000 bales production. North Carolina 43 and 837,000. Georgia 53 and 1,619,000. Florida 75 and 32,000. Missouri 64 and 230,000. Tennessee 60 and 425,000. Alabama 64 and 1,063,000. Mississippi 73 and 1,446,000. Louisiana 70 and 729,000. Texas 42 and 3,873,000. Oklahoma 55 and 1,471,000. Arkansas 64 and 1,637,000. New Mexico 85 and 58,000. Arizona 92 and 94,000. California 90 and 113,000. All other states 75 and 16,000.

About 76,000 bales in addition to California crop are being grown in lower California and Old Mexico.

Negro Charged With Murder in Pasquotank Arrested in Ayden

James Jacobs, negro, was arrested in Ayden yesterday charged with the slaying of a negro painter in Elizabeth City about two years ago. Jacobs was carried back to Elizabeth City today.

When arrested Jacobs denied that he killed the man but said that he knew all about it. His arrest followed the reading of a letter which was written by his brother who is a prisoner in the Pasquotank county jail. In the letter he advised Jacobs to make his get-away as officers were on his track. Before posting the letter the sheriff read it, and notified Sheriff Jackson to arrest the negro who was in Ayden.

THE FRENCH DEBT MISSION ARRIVES NEW YORK TODAY

Caillaux Expresses Confidence That Debt Can Be Settled "Upon the Basis of Peace and Righteousness"

New York, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Joseph Caillaux Finance Minister of Paris and ten colleagues arrived here today on the steamship Paris enroute to Washington to negotiate settlement of the war debt of France. The Paris anchored at Quarantine at six o'clock.

Mr. Caillaux talking to newspaper men expressed confidence that the French war debt to the United States can be settled "upon the basis of peace and righteousness." "I have come, accompanied by eminent members of all political parties in the French Parliament," he said in a prepared statement handed to newspaper men, to bring a settlement of all our debt. There is no instance in history in which France has failed to do so."

The details of his plan is a closely guarded secret which has been reserved for the ears of the Secretary of Treasury Mellon, and the American Commission. The precise sum which he will offer to begin paying at once was the subject of earnest discussion between him and his colleagues on the trip to this country. The minister was receptive to their suggestions but would not mention any of the figures agreed upon.

Mr. Caillaux recalled from the political obscurity, from which his war activities had thrust him, to lead his country out of the wilderness of post war financial problems, reiterated again and again that he expected and hoped to go home with a satisfactory agreement.

Bridge Water, Mass., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Fire started at States Prison Farm today and rapidly swept through buildings where hundreds of prisoners are confined. Aid was summoned from four nearby towns.

Indications were that no lives has been lost. The fire starting in one of the cow barns, it was reported, soon swept through a half dozen structures housing the state farm cattle. Some of these were lost.

MERCHANTS ASS'N. TO STAGE FASHION SHOW NEAR FUTURE

Show to Be Entirely Different From Those Witnessed in Greenville in Past; Date and Hour to Be Announced Later

The local merchants who are members of the Merchants Association are planning a fashion show which they will probably stage next week, the exact date not yet determined. This season's show will be entirely different, not only from a standpoint of styles, but the nature of the exhibit and the methods used in the displaying of the merchandise will be unlike any such occasion ever before witnessed in Greenville.

The exhibit will not be confined to just wearing apparel for men and women, which has been the custom of former years, but the showing will include from the most minute item of the smallest store of the Association to the newest type of automobiles.

Plans will be perfected within the next day or so, at which time publicity will be given as to the date and hour of the exhibit.

OFFICIALS DEFUNCT BANK ARE INDICTED

Officers and Directors Defunct Bank of Norlina Indicted for Violation State Banking Law

Warrenton, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Officers and directors of the Defunct Bank of Norlina today stood indicted for violation of the State Banking laws.

The Warren county grand jury yesterday returned true bills against the officers and directors of the Bank of Norlina which closed its doors March 6 of this year charging them with receiving funds into the bank knowing it was insolvent. The bond of D. L. Gallagher, president, was fixed by Judge Sinclair at $15,000 and that of K. M. Williamson, cashier at $10,000. Bond in the sum of $10,000 each was required of each of five directors as follows: E. G. Hecht, T. T. Hawks, H. M. Terrell, R. S. Register and H. C. Fleming. The bond of J. C. Brauer, another director, was set at $2,500. The cases were set for trial at the term of the court to be held in January.

Only H. M. Terrell had given bond last night at nine o'clock. There could be no service on Register as he disappeared some months ago and has not been heard from since. The remainder of the accused last night were assembled in the custody of Sheriff R. E. Davis in the office of a local attorney and it was expected that most of them or perhaps all would give bond. Most of the accused are well known business men of Norlina. Solicitor R. Hunt Parker stated that the penalty fixed in the event of conviction is $5,000 fine or a maximum of five years in prison or both. When the bank closed last March the directors issued a statement reading in part as follows:

"The board was pleased to learn that all of the active officers of the bank had done their duty as they should and that the present condition of the bank was brought about by the scarcity of money and the incapacity of borrowers to repay their loans at this time due to crop depression." J. G. Ellis and R. T. Watson were appointed receivers. The bank commenced business in January, 1923, with a capital of $30,000.

NEW CONTESTANTS CONTINUE TO ENTER AND SURPRISE

Votes Given On Subscriptions Now at Their Peak; You Can Enter Now and Earn An Automobile

Three new contestants have been added to The Daily Reflector's list of workers in their subscription and prize campaign. The list will be found on another page. Mr. William Stokes, Stokes, Mrs. W. F. Galoway, Grimesland and Miss Thelma Bunting of Bethel are three who have all the promises of a big prize winner if they but make an effort to help themselves.

It will be noticed by referring to the list as published today that there has been a decided reduction in the list of contestants despite the fact that there has been an addition of three new workers. We hope these three will be workers for they have wonderful ground to canvass, territory that has hardly been scratched.

In a few days the list will be reduced to just the active workers. There will be no names appearing who are not interested enough to vote for themselves by securing the free votes to be clipped from the paper and other votes from the paid subscriptions to The Daily Reflector. Several now listed are depending entirely on the support of friends and have not as yet done anything to help their own campaign.

Those who would like to enter are invited now to come in while the most votes are to be had on subscriptions. Later on, 2 weeks from tomorrow night, that period known as the First Period will close and with it will go a decided decrease in votes given on subscriptions. The First Period runs from Sept. 10th to Oct. 8th, both days inclusive.

We wish to call the attention of the contestants and the public to an error in the voting schedule which appears on the back of the subscription books. Each date as noted on this schedule will be pushed ahead one day in order to tally with the announcement of the campaign in The Reflector on Wednesday, Sept. 9th. It was the intention of the paper to start the drive on the 9th but it was a day late starting on the 10th, so instead of closing on Oct. 28th it will close on Oct. 29th, just a day later.

New workers for the Reflector's $2,700 in prizes and commissions are still being solicited. If you have any spare time at all and the ambition to exchange it for rich dividends, you can be the owner on Oct. 29th of a Hudson Coach, from Lang Motor Co., a new Ford Coupe from the Flanagan Buggy Co., $250 Living Room Suit from Quinn-Miller, $87 Dining Room Suit of ten pieces from Quinn-Miller and two cash prizes of $50.00 and $30.

Everyone taking part has nothing to lose for they will be given a cash commission of ten per cent on all subscription money turned in if they fail to earn one of the seven prizes.

The list is still open and will be for several more days. If you want to join this subscription campaign just clip out the Entry Coupon which appears below and send it in to the paper. Then start saving the free 50-vote coupons daily and have your friends save them too. We will furnish you with a receipt book to be used for subscription gathering.

Those who secure the most votes by the above methods will be awarded the prizes in order by the judges at the close. This is not a popularity campaign but a campaign for votes where effort alone will count.

Record Load of Tobacco Brought to Local Market

The largest load of tobacco ever brought to the local market and probably the largest ever placed on any market in eastern North Carolina was brought to Joyner's Warehouse here from Craven county late yesterday. The truck and trailer with the contents weighed slightly more than nineteen thousand pounds. Upon entering the warehouse the load was so heavy that the rear wheels of the truck crashed through the two inch flooring.

Whatever became of the old-fashioned man-about-town whose principal means of livelihood was holding a horse for a quarter?

A Washington motorist who declares he did not drive closer than twenty feet of the president was fined $35 for endangering the life of the Chief Executive by reckless driving. Should his excellency make a tour of the highways of our county the jails would not be large enough to accommodate the offending motorists.

Sampling of confiscated liquors to obtain evidence is blamed by prohibition agents for their blindness and stomach trouble. Apparently it takes a lot of evidence to convince some folks.

FAST AGE; MORE YEARS

Reflecting on the fastness with which time flies, and particularly on the sunset slope of life, there has been plenty of comfort in the last few years in the report of new marks in longevity. Centenarians have become comparatively common and men of 50 are spoken of as young. Now comes an officer of the American Insurance Union with the statement that the span of human life has been lengthened four years in the last quarter century, and that within another generation "the allotted three score years and ten will be a thing of the past." And this in spite of the extra hazards which have come with twentieth century progress!

There need be no surprise in it. The fastness principally is in machinery; instead of suffering from the wear and tear of it, humanity, lolling in the parlor cars or floating palaces setting new speed marks, tends rather to indolence. Advances in the science of guarding health now effect rescues where formerly death was regarded as certain. At no time did manhood ever show greater hardness than in the World War. An increase in longevity is to be expected naturally.

Besides, the people of the future may look back upon our age as slow just as we do upon the period of only a half a century back.

THE GOOD DRIVER

What sort of a chauffeur would Emerson, or Socrates, or the immortal mystics, or Napoleon, or Wordsworth have made? Would any of the philosophers, noted professors and great thinkers have been or be, if now living, safe and sane automobile drivers?

The psychologist answers an emphatic, No! Because the minds of such men are usually preoccupied, a condition popularly known as absent-mindedness, the thinker, the dreamer and the schemer are said to lack that coordination of mind and muscle which is essential in the operation of a motor vehicle.

Under existing traffic conditions and prevailing speeds drivers who divert their minds from the business of driving and their eyes from the road ahead are the cause of many accidents. Modern motoring demands concentration, but the driver who concentrates on subjects foreign to his driving is probably a greater traffic menace than the driver who is incapable of concentration.

Herein many find the most lamentable drawback by motoring. Watching the road and the "other fellow" forbids watching the scenery. Concentration on driving makes conversation difficult and unsatisfactory. There is a stress and strain in driving carefully which prohibits relaxation at the wheel. And many drivers find motoring conducive to thinking and relaxation, if the first law of nature and some hundreds of man-made laws permitted it.

BULL DEMOLISHES PLANE FORCED DOWN IN PASTURE

Soignies, Belgium—An infuriated bull vented its ire upon a disabled airplane recently and when the animal concluded that its job had been done the machine was beyond repair. The airplane carrying eight passengers from Paris to Brussels was forced down by a defective motor and landed in a pasture 15 miles from Brussels.

The bull, aroused by the chugging of the motor, made straight for it, while the pilot and passengers jumped out and made their escape in a mad rush across the field. The animal charged the machine again and again and kept it his work of destruction until the passengers got out of the danger zone.

Hostess at Bridge in Honor of Mrs. J. A. Mooneyham.

Mrs. E. H. Foley, Jr., was hostess on Monday afternoon at bridge in honor of her sister, Mrs. J. A. Mooneyham, of Miami, Fla.

The home was attractively decorated with fall flowers. Mrs. Mooneyham making the top score was presented with a beautiful embroidered towel, while as honoree she was remembered with an attractive slumber pillow. Mrs. Foley presented Mrs. Walter L. Whichard, a recent bride, a piece of flat silver, and Miss Frances Whedbee, bride-elect, a box of imported powder with the powder puff. Miss Sarah Burgett, of Mobile, Ala., house guest of Mrs. W. H. Bradsher was remembered with two hand made handkerchiefs.

After several progressions the hostess served a sweet course.

MRS. R. L. CARR ENTERTAINS

Hostess at Barbecue Luncheon in Honor of Mrs. Walter L. Whichard.

Honoring Mrs. Walter L. Whichard, a recent bride, Mrs. Robert L. Carr delightfully entertained yesterday at her attractive home "Woodside," with a barbecue luncheon, having as honor guest Miss Frances Whedbee, bride-elect.

The porch and reception hall were decorated with fall flowers. Upon arrival the guests were welcomed by the hostess, Mrs. Whichard and Miss Whedbee.

The hostess served barbecue, potato salad, pickles, bread sticks and drinks on individual trays.

Mrs. Whichard and Miss Whedbee were remembered with attractive tea aprons.

About forty guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Carr.

DR. H. P. MOSELEY.

A good citizen, a good physician, a good business man. It is a rare thing that you see combined in the same individual these three striking characteristics. Yet, Dr. H. P. Moseley possessed them and many others to a remarkable degree. He based all of his activities and hopes on the solid rock foundation of the Christian Religion, with an abiding faith in the resurrection as announced by the Prophet Ezekiel and the Apostle Paul; he "wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams." An obedient, dutiful, sympathetic and affectionate son; an appreciative, loving and tender husband, a true friend to his fellow being, a faithful standard bearer of the principles of good citizenship; he lived to serve his fellow man. His motto was service. He delighted in contemplating the highest ideals. A true Anglo-Saxon, "A plumed knight," diligent, painstaking, resourceful servant of the people. He never faltered, he never turned back. Upward and onward were his watchwords.

When not engaged at the bedside he was most likely to be found searching the pages of some recent volume, or tracing out clinical reports, that he might better serve his numerous clientele. His mind was a vast store house of knowledge, general information, medical facts, experiences and reminiscences, overflowing with available resources or stored away for emergencies. His keen interpretation of medical ethics, as promulgated by Hippocrates, his noble sense of fairness and justice to his fellow being made him a favorite, within and without the medical profession.

His natural exuberant good nature was an impressive characteristic bubbling up and overflowing like a brisk cool spring from its rocky environs. We say that his life was cut short, that he came to an exceedingly untimely ending, before having even reached the prime of life. Not so, however, judging from the fullness of the measure of his service, and the priceless heritage that will live on and grow brighter with the passing time. We may well say, "Life's race well run, life's work well done, life's crown we'll wear, now comes rest." Just so long as personal worth, high sense of duty and strength of character are to be regarded as the standards of good citizenship, younger members of the profession and all others may do well to hold up to themselves the bright model of his example, and strive to emulate that which they behold. You may contemplate those higher ideals until all the virtues spread out and display themselves to the delighted vision. Just did the early shepherd astronomers on the Babylonian plains gaze at the stars until they saw them form into clusters and constellations, overpowering as it were the eyes of the beholder with the united dazzling blaze of a thousand lights.

OVER 100 FAMOUS ARTISTS WITH WALTER L. MAIN SHOW

It's the red wagons that's the question of the hour in Greenville at least for the small boys of six, as well as for those of sixty. The billboards, barns and dead walls are announcing with all the fluency of pictorial art the coming of the Walter L. Main Show. And already preparations are being made for the one big holiday event of the year, acknowledged to be better than Christmas and the Fourth of July put together—circus day. About the time the milkman is making his rounds on the morning of Friday, Sept. 25 the first of the two long trains of cars will be coming, slowly pulling into the railroad yards.

Much is promised by Walter L. Main this season. The show has grown and prospered for almost half a century—to be exact 45 years. European agents have sacked the "Old World in a quest of novelties. The question of salary was not considered for the particular novel and hazardous act. There are over 100 artists who take part in the big show program. New acts and faces will tend to eradicate the fallacy that all "shows" are alike. Among the features will be the Flying Jordans; the Maxwell Trio, gymnasts; the Florence family of riders; the DeLong Sisters, acrobats; Arthur Borrelli, the highest salaried clown in the world; Tommy and Betty Waters, dancers on a lofty wire; Ray Glum in a slide for life down a wire from the topmost point in the tent and scores of other high-class features.

An immense street parade will be seen on the downtown streets at noon on show day. There will be upwards of five bands of music and scores of allegorical tableaux. There will be performances at 2 and 8 p. m. The doors opening an hour earlier. Merchants and others are preparing for one of the largest crowds in town on show day in years.

"MARRY ME" IS TRUE TO RURAL TYPES

New-Cruze Comedy Classic Graphic Representation of Small Town Life.

Characterizing, not caricaturing, American rural people was the task performed by James Cruze in filming his latest Paramount production, "Marry Me" for which a small town locale serves as a background.

Cruze, the master of "human humor," has met with unvaried success whenever called to put on the screen a representation of rural American life. The secret, while he declares is not a secret—only common sense, is to show people as they really are.

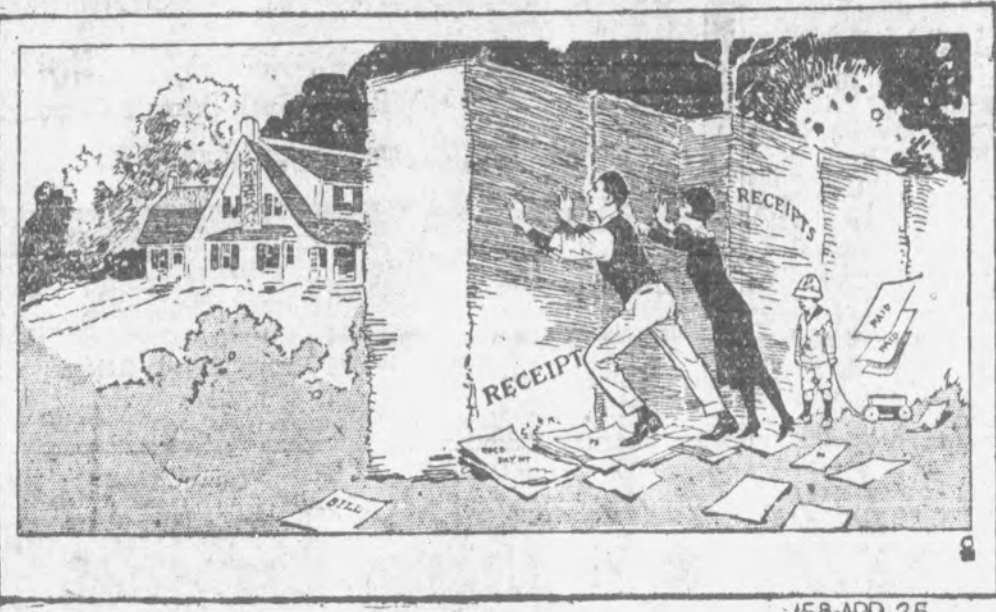

According to the man who made "The Covered Wagon" and dozens of other outstanding photoplays, caricature rural characters would serve to weaken a picture because it would rob it of accuracy and realism. "People in small towns, at least, John Boies complete the quartet of featured favorites.

pointed out Cruze, "and it is surprising how down to the minute their knowledge of outside affairs is. On the other hand, a large percentage of our population in our largest city, New York, is convinced that the world is bounded by the East and Hudson rivers."

Cruze always demands naturalness and in "Marry Me" he exacted it from every member of the company. The result is that the various players interpret their roles with an earnestness, a sincerity and spontaneity that leaves no room for any criticism.

"Marry Me" was adapted from the popular comedy stage play, "The Nest Egg," by Anne Caldwell. It mirrors in delightful style the many humorous complications in which a lovely little school teacher becomes involved when she fools her home town into believing that she is going to be married.

Florence Vidor, whom some one has aptly termed "the patron saint of the screen," plays the part of the romantic school teacher. Edward Everett Horton has the leading male role; and Helen Jerome Eddy and John Boies complete the quartet of featured favorites.

ADVERTISING DID IT.

Wrigley, the chewing gum man, has explained how he built up a business of millions of packages a day. He has done it by sticking to his one line and advertising it. He spends over a million dollars a year in buying newspaper space to tell the world about 5 cent chewing gum. He has educated people to chew gum and to chew Wrigley's. He did not stop shouting as soon as he attracted attention.

He says you must keep it up or the buyers will forget you. Whether yours is a 5 cent or a $50,000 business, keep telling about it.
