PAST WEEK BIG ONE FOR CONTESTANTS SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE

Former Auto Winner Makes High Daily Score; Others Come Close As Best Week of All Closes

All contestants on The Daily Reflector's subscription campaign finished the past week strong. More work was turned in last Saturday than has been received during any other day since the drive for new readers started.

High honors for Saturday went to Miss Lillian Hooker whose excellent turn-in for the day put her at the top of the list for that particular day's work.

Every day for the past several days there has been a new leader. We are not publishing the names of the actual leaders, those who have the most votes in reserve, but we are just giving the public and the contestants themselves some idea of just "Who is Who" according to their daily score.

Since the announcement of this daily high score there have been three different candidates in as many days who have led with high for one particular day. The day that high score was announced Mrs. R. C. Abbe took the honors then Mrs. F. J. Diener and now for Saturday, Miss Lillian Hooker.

Miss Hooker and Mrs. Diener were winners of the autos awarded by The Reflector in our last subscription drive. They will tell you that there are no tricks to winning or any other methods employed other than hard work.

Thursday night, Oct. 8th, will close the First Period of the campaign. After that day there will remain but three weeks of the campaign. Your subscriptions will count for votes if turned in between now and the 8th than any other time during the remainder of the campaign.

Extra votes are given on the first five yearly subscriptions and extra votes are given on five three year subscriptions. Each $25 turned in for subscriptions also earn a certain number of extra votes as shown by your schedule. No other votes will be given at any time other than these. Make your plans accordingly.

The campaign office will be open until 8 o'clock Thursday night for those who want to take advantage of every hour and work late. Every subscription you want to earn the maximum number of votes must be turned in then. If you rely on the mails it must reach the campaign office no later than noon of the next day, Friday the 9th.

The bureau is having many more applications for workers in cotton seed oil mills in the eastern part of the state that it can possibly find workers to fill, it was stated at the bureau today.

Says Air Mail Service Both "A Waste of Time and Money"

Chicago, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The Chicago Tribune today prints a dispatch from New York stating that an experiment it conducted last week showed that the air mail service between Chicago and New York is both a "waste of time and money." The newspaper says letter deposited in air mail boxes took from two to three days enroute as compared to a 24 hour service for letters posted on fast trains.

Two examples were cited. One a letter declared to have been posted here at five p. m. October 1, and delivered in New York October 4 at eight p. m. While the other was a letter posted on October 2 at two p. m. and delivered October 4 at eight a. m.

The air mail service was defended by Charles P. Schell, assistant postmaster here, who said he had received many letters containing enthusiastic praise of the night service between Chicago and New York.

ASK NEGRO MEMBERS OF "Y" FOR SOUTH AFRICAN HOTEL

New York.—Construction of a hotel for native students in South Africa at a cost of $20,000, has been made the subject of an appeal to 32,000 negro members of the American Y. M. C. A. by Max Yergan, an American negro, who pioneered in organizing associations in Bantu Land. The proposed clubhouse would be located at Fort college, Alice, Cape Province.

Officials of the Colored Work Department of the Y. M. C. A. National Council here expect other men to be sent soon to South Africa to aid Yergan, who in his four years there has organized almost single-handed 26 associations throughout the native wilderness and travels a circuit of 3,000 miles to keep them in operation. Yergan's request will be referred to the Conference on Colored Work, which will be held in Washington, D. C., October 21 to 23.

The pioneering movement was conceived and has been supported entirely by Negroes in this country, to bring about "the spiritual, normal and social uplift" of their 5,000,000 South African brothers.

The case at this stage is in the hands of Colonel Joy A. Nugent of the Inspector General's office and the purpose was to furnish the Colonel with copies of prepared charges against him growing out of his San Antonio statement which precipitated the present aviation inquiry.

Before any charges are made Colonel Mitchell will be given an opportunity to make any reply he desires in advance. Colonel Nugent's recommendation as to future proceeding will be made later he has considered what Colonel Mitchell has to say.

Contradicts Mitchell's Charges Concerning Failure PN-9 Flight

Washington, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Colonel William Mitchell's charge that "amateur bungling" by non flying naval officers was responsible for the failure of the Navy's Hawaiian flight, drew a contradiction today before the President's air board from Lieutenant Byron Connell, Pilot of the PN-9, No. 1.

Under questioning by Senator Bingham, of Connecticut, Lieutenant Connell backed up the testimony given last week by Commander John Rogers, leader of the flight declaring that all arrangements were carried out by Rodgers and other flying officers.

Only Four States In Union Have No Tax On Gasoline

Washington, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Nine state legislatures, since the first of the present year, have enacted legislation taxing gasoline in their respective states, so that on July 1, only four states in the union had no tax on gasoline.

This was revealed by figures made public by the bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. On January 1, there were 13 states in the union which did not tax gasoline, but nine of these, since that time, have imposed a gasoline tax.

States having no gasoline tax on July 1 were Illinois, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and New York. North Carolina, the report shows, is one of two states in which the tax is as much as four cents. Arkansas is the other state imposing a four-cent tax. One state—South Carolina, collects a five-cent tax.

EX-SERVICE MEN TO WAGE FIGHT FOR MITCHELL'S PLAN

Veterans of World War Attending Convention in Nebraska, to Fight for Endorsement of Mitchell's Recommendation for Separate Air Service Department

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Veterans of the World War here for the seventh annual convention of the American Legion lined up today for a fight on the endorsement of Colonel William Mitchell's recommendation to Congress for a separate air service department.

Disappointment at the Colonel's inability to attend was assuaged somewhat by announcement that a message from him would be read before the convention. Failure to invite him as a distinguished guest was regarded by his friends as an attempt to keep him from carrying his fight to the floor of the convention. Orders for Colonel Mitchell to appear before the Army Inspector General at Washington prevented his coming to Omaha.

President Coolidge, who is enroute to the convention, will speak here tomorrow. He plans to leave for Washington tomorrow night, arriving there Thursday. Most important of the conferences today was that of the Legion's Americanism Commission, which for the last year has been investigating Communism in this country. A report prepared by the Commission said that Communism in the United States had made rapid progress and that the Legion should continue its opposition to the growth of the movement.

Disclaims Responsibility Report on Prohibition Recently Issued

Washington, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church declared today in a formal statement that the church disclaims any responsibility for the report on prohibition issued recently through the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

The report was not a report of the Federal Council, the statement said, but was issued by its Commission on recess and prepared by a small number of persons and represented only them. The phrasing of this report in many instances, the statement continued, was not "justified by its statistical contents."

While the Methodist Episcopal Church co-operates with the Federal Council for certain specific purposes, the statement added, the Board of Temperance is only authorized to speak for the church on prohibition between sessions of the general conference.

FUNCTIONS HELD TOO EARLY, PRINCE OF WWALES SLEEPS

Buenos Aires, Oct. 5.—(AP)—While cabinet ministers, diplomats, functionaries and thousands of school children anxiously awaited the arrival of the Prince of Wales to attend a school festival arranged in his honor during his visit to Buenos Aires, the heir to the British throne slept profoundly in the magnificent private residence placed at his disposal during his stay here.

Tired out by a ceaseless round of official functions, the Prince refused to leave his bed at the early hour the school feast should have begun, which nevertheless was carried out in his absence.

A similar occurrence took place during a trip made by the royal visitor to a large ranch in the province of Buenos Aires, where a rodeo and horse-breaking exhibition had been prepared in his honor. When the train carrying the Prince arrived at the railway station near the ranch in the early morning the Prince remained in bed, appearing when the show was over.

LABOR BODY MEETS IN ATLANTIC CITY MR. F. EDWARDS DIED YESTERDAY

For y-Fifth Annual Convention Opens With New Hand At Helm for First Time in 25 Years

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 5.—(AP) Representatives of nearly 3,000,000 organized workers assembled today for the formal opening of the 45th annual convention of the American Federation of Labor. A new hand was at the helm for the first time in more than a quarter of a century. William Greene, who was chosen President last winter after the death of Veteran Samuel Gompers, was to preside over the session.

All signs point to harmony, especially after the settlement here last week of the long dispute between the plasterers and brick layers. Sessions will be held daily for probably two weeks. Today's program called for the customary welcoming addresses, the appointments of committees, and the presentation of the executive council report at the afternoon session.

YOUTHFUL SMOKERS GET FACS WHILE THE HOME OFFICE WORRIES

London, Oct. 5.—(AP)—John Bull, like Uncle Sam, is meeting with difficulties in trying to regulate personal habits by legislation. It is not so much drink over here as smoking that is causing the Home Office worry.

There is a law that compels tobacco shops to close every evening at eight. It was enacted during the war to save fuel, lights, etc and release a certain amount of labor for employment more essential to the winning of the war than selling cigarettes and cigars. The law is still in force and there are no indications that it will be repealed.

But it is being evaded. Many tobacco shops, upon closing their doors at night, leave outside a slot machine which delivers cigarettes to anyone who puts in a sixpence or a shilling. There are even penny machines that deliver a couple of "gaspers" to those who insert a huge British copper.

The machine doesn't distinguish between a little boy's coin and one put in by a grown man. And that is what is worrying the Home Office. Children who wouldn't be allowed to purchase cigarettes in shops are procuring them from the machines.

Ramsay MacDonald came next with 231 columns, followed closely by Lloyd George with 210. Premier Stanley Baldwin only spoke 82 columns. Commander J. M. Kenworthy still holds the lead for questions with a total of 571.

Electric Railways Review Announced By Shannahan

Atlantic City, Oct. 5.—(AP)—National electric railway operations thus far in 1925 have resulted in increases in net revenue, although there have been slight decreases in gross revenues over the same period for last year. This statement was made by J. N. Shannahan, president of the American Electric Railway Association preceding the organization's convention here.

Lower operating costs and increased rates of fare were given as the causes for the revenue situation. The loss in general traffic was attributed to uneven business and industrial conditions and an increase in the use of private automobiles.

"Traffic is growing in the large centers, but in smaller cities it is not increasing," Shannahan said. "Heaviest traffic losses have been recorded in New England, due largely to unsatisfactory business conditions in the textile and leather industries."

"Conditions in the district north of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi rivers are more favorable than in any other part of the country. The section east of the Mississippi and south of the Ohio rivers is running second in favorable traffic conditions. Other districts reported traffic losses up to July, but conditions from then on have improved."

"The national revenue fare now is 7.27 cents. Wages are slightly higher, the average being 56 cents per hour. Taxes are up one-half of one per cent over last year. The general situation is fair."

"Bus competition is being eliminated by establishment of reliable bus service by electric railway companies, the number in use having increased 100 per cent in the last year."

PROSECUTION FLEW FLAG OF VICTORY COLE TRIAL TODAY

A Pitched Battle of Wits Results in a Temporary Victory for Prosecution When Testimony of Simmons Was Excluded

Richmond County Court House, Rockingham, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The prosecution of W. B. Cole flew a flag of victory temporarily today after a pitched battle of wits that ultimately will decide one of the most important points in the Cotton Manufacturer's trial for the murder of W. W. Ormond.

Testimony from Rufus Simmons concerning remarks made to him by Ormond about Miss Cole that were not communicated to Cole and that were made some nine months before the killing were excluded while Judge Finley prepares his final decision in the matter.

The defense fought for the testimony in an effort to support its plea of "transitory insanity."

Judge Finley first ruled that the evidence might go to the jury as pending to show the malice of Ormond as interpreted by Cole on similar remarks communicated to him. The state charged the defense with bringing in the questions of Miss Cole's reputation to becloud the jury. Prolonged objection by the state caused Judge Finley to reserve his final decision and to exclude the testimony temporarily.

John W. West, employer of the Hannah Pickett Mills, who drove Ormond's car away from the scene of the shooting, testified for the defense that he did not place a pistol in Ormond's car.

On cross examination West admitted that a week later someone mentioned a pistol and he went to William Scales and told him there was a possibility of his being indicted for perjury if he did not tell everything he might know of it.

West conferred with Walter B. Leath, assistant treasurer of the Hannah Pickett Mill and Walter A. Jenkins, superintendent, the day after the shooting.

"You were a thought runner for Leath and Jenkins in their effort to get evidence for Cole, were you not?"

"Well, yes."

"Didn't Leath tell you to tell these fellows they might be indicted for perjury if they didn't tell all they knew?" Larry Moore directing the cross examination asked the witness.

West had testified that he told Scales he might be indicted for perjury. He answered Mr. Moore's question by saying that Leath had told him they could be indicted.

The defense witnesses were corroborating previous testimony and were testifying concerning late "queer actions" and conversations tending to support Cole's plea of self defense. On cross examination the state brought out the friendly relations between the witness and Cole and charged that every effort was made by the defense to bring in evidence that would aid Cole. The defendant was nervous and during the cross examination of his superintendent, he paid close attention. Jenkins described his observations of Cole but the defense struck a snag when the witness was not allowed to give his opinion on Cole's mental condition.

Richmond County Court House, Rockingham, N. C., Oct. 5.—(AP)—The defense of W. B. Cole shouldered the double burden today of continuing introductions of evidence in support of pleas that the wealthy cotton manufacturer killed W. W. Ormond while insane and in self defense.

The trial was delayed a few minutes while Judge Peter A. McElroy convened and adjourned the regular term of the Richmond County Superior Court.

To establish their contention that Ormond promiscuously slandered Miss Elizabeth Cole, the defense called R. R. Simmons, the state objected and the jury was excused while council argued the admissibility of Simmons' testimony. Harry C. Cogley presented the state's contention that the virtue of Miss Elizabeth Cole is not the issue and that the state repeatedly had declined to question her character. W. B. Cole is being tried (Please Turn to Page Six)

Advertisements are the world's show windows. Through them the merchant and manufacturer show their wares to a much vaster public than would be possible in glass show windows and show cases. Exclusive shops in the cities often have neither show window or show case—all goods being concealed in cabinets or behind curtains—but none strives to do business without newspaper advertising.

To voluntarily deny yourself the privileges and advantages of reading the advertisements is nothing short of blindfolding oneself in the very center of vast treasure house of the things so desired by and essential to humanity.

MAKING LAWS FOR OTHERS

The legislative sponsor of the Michigan law requiring the elapse of five days between the issuance of the marriage license and the wedding ceremony has eloped "across the border" where they issue the license and perform the ceremony all in the same hour.

Returning, he announced that he still believed "in ordinary circumstances a couple should wait five days after applying for a license before being wedded, but ours was not an ordinary case.

In other words, the Michigan legislator means that what is "good for the people" is not good for him and that the lawmaker should be immune from the law he enacts.

There is not a couple in the whole state of Michigan which if suddenly inspired with the desire to get married would not contend, as did Representative Dardin, that their's was not an ordinary case. And Representative Dardin and his bride are not the first to evade this marriage-probation statute.

Legislators who evade or violate laws of their own making make a mockery of law. Can respect for and obedience to law be expected among the rank and file of citizens when both are absent among the lawmakers? The layman can at least vindicate his act by the plea that he opposed the law forbidding it.

The Michigan lawmaker has demonstrated once again that every human tendency to require of others more than of oneself, to condemn in others one's own faults, and to practice one code and preach another.

"I never read the advertisements."

To which the other woman retorts:

Embodied in this advertisement are a moral and a gross inaccuracy. The ad's discrepancy is obvious. It erroneously presumes that there exists a woman who does not read advertisements. The moral of the ad is the ad itself. People should read advertisements because they can not afford to shut their eyes to them.

AUTO RACES TO BE HELD AT CHARLOTTE ARMISTICE DAY

Charlotte, Oct. 3.—Less than six weeks from today the Fall Race of Charlotte Automobile Speedway will be held. On November 11, to be exact, Armistice Day, the leading automobile drivers of the United States will come here for one of the biggest events of its kind to be staged this year.

For weeks officials of the speedway have been busy getting the track in shape and making improvements here and there for the benefit of the patrons. All this, together with the fact that sixteen of the foremost drivers of the country have signed contracts for the race, brings to the fans the fact that the day of the big race is not so far distant.

It was not until recently though that an announcement, which thrilled every automobile race fan, was made. This was the bulletin from the office of Speedway officials which stated that the entry blank of Pete DePaolo, the 1925 champion has been received at headquarters here.

De Paolo's entry leaves only two of the famous race track drivers to be signed. They are: Tommy Milton; and Pete Kreis, both of whom are in Europe at this time. De Paolo was across the pond also, it was thought, and his entry blank was received with surprise by the officials. They knew that Pete, Tommy and Kreis all would enter the Armistice Day speedway classic, but they hardly believed the entry blank would be received until later.

There will be eighteen cars entered in the race, sixteen drivers already having taken the steps necessary to enter their cars. The only two not in are Milton and Kreis. Charlotte's race is recognized by the American Automobile Association as one of the leading sporting events of the year and Milton and Kreis will forward their blanks as soon as they return to America.

FRANK SILVER

There are twenty six numbers in the Frank Silver Revue of 1925 which comes to White's Theatre next Tuesday, October 6. The Silver revue this year has an entirely new creation in scenic and costume investment and electrical effects and has added a bewitching group of Greenwich Village artists models to the general ensemble. Its new book and lyrics have been furnished by Sam Coslow with a new musical score by Silver and Coslow. Wesley Totten who has figured prominently in several of George M. Cohan's musical productions has staged the ensemble numbers and takes the leading part in several of them. One of these numbers was written around the visit of the Prince of Wales in which Totten gives a singing and dancing impersonation of the prince. Totten made his greatest Cohan hit in "Mary" at the Knickerbocker Theatre in New York and on tour. Another brilliantly staged musical costume number is called "Hawaiian Charleston." It has a catchy South Sea Island love song lyric and melody and is led by Helen Kane, Deen Cole is featured in original sketches an dalso leads some of the musical numbers.

Frank Silver himself who has become popularly known as the millionaire composer of "Yes, We Have No Bananas," will do his intimate personal stuff, conducting his New York Hippodrome orchestra fresh from his Hippodrome triumph during the recent Charleston Contest held at that big metropolitan hall of popular musical entertainment. There are several instrumental specialists in the Silver band who are featured in the numbers played by it with Silver himself leading.

EARL PORTSMOUTH DEAN IN COLONY OF WYOMINGS NOBILITY

Sheridan, Wyo.—(AP)—The Eighth Earl of Portsmouth, only recently just plain Oliver Henry Wallop, Jr., pioneer of the Big Horn country, had a title long before his brother, the Seventh Earl, died in London. It was "dean" of the colony of noble English families settled about his ranch. Wallop purposes to retain that title and join with it the dual status of American citizen and British peer. The atmosphere absorbed here for 42 years predominates and if there are no complications, Wallop will go to England long enough for the formal investiture of the title and return to Wyoming. The Earl of Portsmouth came to the Big Horn country when he was 23 years of age. Shortly there followed William Moncrieffe, scion of a Scotch nobleman. He acquired a ranch near the Wallop homestead. It was not long before Malcolm Moncrieffe a brother, came to form the nucleus of the colony. A new bond was forged when Wallop married Miss Marguerite Walker of Frankfort, Ky., and Mrs. Wallop's sister became the bride of Malcolm Moncrieffe. The Moncrieffe and Wallop ranches are the stronghold of the colony today. The Wallop ranch home, however, lacks the picturesqueness of the western ranch house of fiction. It is a semi-rustic dwelling set in a wide expanse of driveways and fronts on a magnificent view of towering canyons and mountains. Malcolm Moncrieffe built a "polo ranch" with a stately English manor set in a grove of trees. It that home were the bedrooms and treasured belongings of a lifetime. A mystery fire, however, razed the home last year while the Moncrieffes were returning from a visit to England. Moncrieffe who is president of the Sheridan County Wool Growers' Association and one of the leading flockmasters of Wyoming, plans to rebuild on the same site. William Moncrieffe finally settled farther north and became the owner of the county's "show place." Later he sold out to Bradford Britton, a wealthy New Yorker, and returned to England.

Other Englishmen have followed the lead of the Big Horn northward and settled in the vicinity of Dayton. One of them, Jack Milward, has turned his property—the I X L ranch—into a "dude ranch." Another, Calver Rudston, has a beautiful ranch along the waters of the Tongue River.

Most of the Brits have become American citizens and have turned their energies to the development of the "old west." The Earl, after becoming a citizen, was elected to the Wyoming legislature on the Republican ticket and served him adopted state for two years.

Paris.—Pierre Wertheimer, owner of Epinard, has been created a Knight of the Legion of Honor. Mr. Wertheimer did not receive this distinction from the Ministry of Agriculture in connection with his breeding of famous race horses, but from the Minister of Aeronautics. He is the president of a company whose motoprs have been instrumental in bringing several aviation records back to France.

FAMOUS NAVY BAND WILL BE HEARD HERE MONDAY, OCT. 19TH

By special permission of the President, the citizens of Greenville will be enabled to hear two concerts this fall by the famous navy band.

Because of its official character and duties, the navy band can not go on tour without the express consent of the Chief Executive. This was accomplished during the summer and negotiations started to bring the organization here. Due to the Kiwanis Club this city was placed on the itinerary. The band will be heard here October 19th under the auspices of the Greenville Kiwanians.

This is a distinct triumph for the Kiwanians, and for the city, as so many requests for appearance of the band were received by W. L. Radcliffe, head of the Radcliffe enterprises, who is handling the tour that scores perforce were refused. Had all requests been complied with, Mr. Radcliffe asserts, this noted musical organization would be kept on tour throughout the winter, were such a thing possible.

While here the band will be led by Lieut. Charles Benter, U. S. N., in person. Lieutenant Benter, probably the youngest band leader in the world to have attained such eminence in his profession, has taken rank in the last few years with such artists as Souza, Santelmann and the late Victor Herbert. He is only 36 years old but has won the commendation of the President of the United States, foreign diplomats and statesmen who by reason of their residence abroad have heard the best musical offerings in the world.

The Navy Band, officially designated by Congress as a permanent fixture in official life of the Capital, has accomplished much in comparatively little time. It is the official band of the Presidential yacht, Mayflower. When President Coolidge went to Swampscott, the band went with him. In this President Coolidge was following the precedent set by President Harding, who had 30 picked musicians from the band, under the leadership of Mr. Benter, accompany him on his Alaska trip. It welcomes visiting dignitaries and plays at the great national meetings of the Red Cross, the Daughters of the American Revolution and other organization. No event held at the Pan-American Union, mecca not only of South and Central American diplomats, but envoys of every great world power, is complete without the attendance of this famous organization.

FRANK SILVER'S "BANANA" BAND IS COMING TO WHITE'S

Introducing the Frank Silver Revue of 1925 coming to White's next Tuesday, Oct. 6., the herald lifts his voice to ask this question:

What is more to be enjoyed in the theatre than a well cast and staged musical revue in the latest type of intimate New York manner? This is just what this year's new edition of the Frank Silver Revue is. It is made up from a theatrical prescription calling for striking scenic, costume and electrical lighting effects that transform the stage into wondrous new fairylands, moving rapidly in a whirl of singing and dancing diversification. Then to this is added an up-to-date jazz band to intersperse the latest popular music hits at appropriate intervals and the compound is complete for the cure of any kind of blues for which the "tired business man" and all other weary souls are wont to seek recreation at the theatre.

In the Frank Silver Revue of 1925 Frank Silver supplies the band with Silver himself leading it in the same inimitable personal style that made the Silver band a riotous sensation during the recent Charleston Contest held at the New York Hippodrome, where Silver and his merry jazzmen are a semi-annual attraction. And don't forget this, the famous "millionaire" composer of

"Yes, We Have No Bananas" has in his New York Hippodrome orchestra several bright young men who do interesting instrumental specialties that unite humor to melody.

CHARLES W. HOYT COMPANY, INC., OPENS SOUTHERN OFFICE

The Charles W. Hoyt Company, Inc., New York advertising agency, opened an office, October 1st, in the Wachovia Bank & Trust Company Building, Winston-Salem, N. C. The office will be in charge of Ernest H. Abernethy. This is the first large national advertising agency to locate an office in the South. Branch offices of this company are also located at Boston and Springfield, Mass. The Hoyt company is one of the largest and most successful advertising agencies in the country and has every form of recognition that is possible for an agency to obtain. It has facilities to render service to all types of concerns, from the smallest to the largest.

The opening of this office is culmination of the many talks Mr. Hoyt had with various Southern manufacturers on his frequent visits through the South. It was pointed out to him that an urgent need existed for an agency in the South that could offer complete advertising and sales service that such an agency could be instrumental in helping Southern concerns grow to national recognition. The establishment of the Southern office at Winston-Salem is for the purpose of supplying this need.

Among the accounts handled by the Charles W. Hoyt Company are: "Lynol" manufactured by Lehn & Fink, and sold all over the world; "Le Pages" Glue, manufactured by Rucica Cement Company, and sold by every drug and hardware store in the United States; "Erector" the toy-like structural steel-made by A. C. Gilbert Company, the largest manufacturer of toys in the United States; Hoffman Vacuum Valves, seen on the ends of over half the steam radiators in America; Ruco brake linings, manufactured by the Russell Manufacturing Co. It is not only such large advertisers as these that this firm serves, but it also serves several scores of smaller manufacturers. The fact that a large manufacturer of glue in Gloucester, Mass., and an Angora Wool manufacturer at Matlock, England, are both customers of the Charles W. Hoyt Company indicate the diversified character of this firm's activities.

The various departments of the Hoyt company are complete in every respect. Close to one hundred people are employed. In addition to executives, this number includes research and statistical men, artists, men and women copy writers, media, engraving and printing experts. Because of the experience of the executives of this agency in sales work with various manufacturers, the plans prepared for manufacturers are built close to actual sales conditions.

Business men in the vicinity are familiar with the Hoyt company, either thru personal contact with Mr. Hoyt while visiting the South, or his associates, or through reading his book "Scientific Sales Management." Mr. Abernethy, as Southern Manager, is not unknown in the South. He was educated at the University of North Carolina, and is the son of the late Dr. H. L. Abernethy of Hickory, N. C. His family is prominently known throughout the Carolinas. Previous to joining the Hoyt Company he was for several years on the Advertising staff of the Philadelphia North American. Since he has been acting as Account Executive in the New York office of the Hoyt company.

FLUCTUATING DOLLAR TO BE BASIS OF WAGE FOR STREET CAR MEN

Philadelphia, Oct.—(AP)—A new wage standard for its employees, based upon the fluctuation in the purchasing price of the dollar and other factors in the cost of living, is being considered by the Mitten management of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company. After a lengthy investigation the transit company officials have reached the conclusion that the present wage standard, based upon the average wage paid to transit company workers in Chicago, Cleveland and Detroit, originally a war-time expedient, is not a satisfactory plan or equitable to the local motormen, conductors and related workers.

The proposed new plan was revealed by Dr. A. A. Mitten, supervisor of industrial relations for the Mitten management headed by Thomas E. Mitten, at a recent hearing before the Pennsylvania Public Service Commis-

For the 1925 tour, the 102nd in the history of the organization, John Robinson has arranged a program that is bubbling over with features and extraordinary numbers. From the Far East, Europe, South America and from practically every country and clime, performers and animals have been imported, and now as always John Robinson will give the best circus performance that money and brains can assemble.

Such noted trainers of the steel arena as Capt. Ricardo, Nellie Roth, Theo Schroeder, Lorraine Wallace, Wink Weaver, Margaret Thompson, Bob Thornton, Dewey Butler, and others will send their charges through remarkable routines. Clown alley will have a contingent of fifty famous fun-makers, boys who know the art of extracting chuckles and grins from young and old. It will be a complete and perfect performance in everyway and John Robinson will offer a real Roman holiday in every respect.

PROSECUTION FLEW FLAG OF VICTORY COLE TRIAL TODAY

(Continued from page 1) for murder, he said, and the woman's virginity is of no consideration. He then attacked the defense plea of insanity.

"Cole testified on oath that he remembered in minutest detail the killing of Ormond. He testified on oath that he is sane today. Now he pleads transitory insanity, which we understand your honor has ruled against. He is sane today and he testified he would kill Ormond today under the same circumstances. How could he be insane?"

Judge Finley interrupted to say that he had allowed this character of testimony to show the effects on Cole's mind; that the court was proceeding with the understanding that Cole's plea was insanity, call it what it will. He has ruled against emotional insanity, moral insanity, and brain storm.

Clyde Hoy also expressed the state's contention that any remark not communicated to Cole could not have effected his mind.

The defense fought for the evidence in support of its plea of "transitory insanity" and based its request for Simmon's testimony on four points.

"That if showed the malice of Ormond; that it would corroborate Fred Bynum, and other witnesses who testified they had communicated slanderous remarks to Cole, that the defense contended in the third place that the evidence would tend to reduce the defense from murder to manslaughter, and lastly, that it would show the recklessness of Ormond."

Regular Terms of Superior Court Open Seventeen Counties

Raleigh, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Judge P. A. McElroy, of Marshall, adjourned the regular term of Richmond county Superior court today, in order that the special term for the trial of W. B. Cole for the murder of W. W. Ormond, with Judge T. B. Finley, presiding, may be concluded.

That was the opinion expressed at the Governor's office. If the special term is completed by Tuesday or Wednesday, Judge McElroy will probably begin the regular term at the conclusion of the special term, it was presided, but not he been appointed Wade H. Phillips, of Lexington, an emergency judge to hold the first week of the regular term of Forsyth, over which Judge Finley would have presided, had not he been appointed to hold the special term in Richmond.

In addition to the regular term set for next week in Richmond county, regular terms of Superior court opened today in 17 counties of the state.

A two weeks term opened in Beaufort county, for the trial of civil cases only. Judge Thomas H. Calvert, of Raleigh, will preside.

In Wilson county, a one-week term, with Judge E. H. Cramer, of Southport, presiding, opened for the trial of civil cases only.

Another civil term, for two weeks, opens in Halifax county. There is a conflict between this term and one in Vance county, and Judge C. C. Lyon was appointed by the Governor as an emergency judge to hold this term, leaving Judge N. A. Sinclair, of Fayetteville, free to hold the one week term for the trial of criminal cases that opens in Vance county tomorrow morning.

Judge W. M. Bond, of Edenton, will preside over the two week's term of civil court which follows the in Craven county. The one week term for the trial of criminal cases in Duplin will be presided over by Judge W. V. Barnhill.

A two week's term opened today in Wake county with Judge G. E. Midyette, presiding. The first week is for the trial of civil cases only, while the second is set aside for the criminal docket.

A one-week term of mixed court opens in Brunswick, with Judge F. A. Daniels, of Goldsboro, presiding. Judge Albion Dunn will preside over the two-week's civil term which opened in Roberson today.

A one-week term of civil court opens in Orange, with Judge H. A. Grady, of Clinton, presiding.

In Forsyth the calendar calls for a two-weeks mixed term. Judge Finley was to have presided over this term but the Governor has appointed Wade H. Phillips of Lexington as emergency judge for the first week of the term, it was stated at the Governor's office. The second week, Judge A. M. Stack, of Monroe, will preside, he having exchanged with Judge Finley, who will hold the second week of court in Wilkes county, if he has completed the special term in Richmond by the first of next week.

Judge Michael Schenck will hold a two-weeks term for civil cases only in Guilford.

Judge J. L. Webb, of Shelby, will hold the three-week's term opening in Mecklenburg today. The first week will be taken up with the trial of criminal cases, while the last two will be devoted to trying the civil docket. Judge T. D. Bryson, of Bryson City, was to have held the Mecklenburg term, but he has exchanged with Judge Webb.

Judge John T. Oglesby will hold the three weeks term opening in Buncombe today, the first week of which will be civil only, the last week being mixed.

A two-week's term in Wilkes will open for the trial of civil cases only. Judge A. M. Stack will preside during the first week, and Judge Finley will hold the last week, if he has completed the special term in Richmond.

Judge W. F. Harding will hold a two-weeks mixed term in Henderson county, beginning today.

Judge T. D. Bryson, of Bryson City, will hold the one-week term opening today in Clay county, for the trial of both criminal and civil cases. Judge J. L. Webb, of Shelby, was to have held this term, but he has exchanged with Judge Bryson, and holds the Mecklenburg term instead.
